Flood of F's will bury office for two weeks

The Registrar's office will be forced to remain open over the scheduled spring vacation in order to handle the enormous number of F's which are pouring in for mid-term estimates, John W. Bunn, registrar, announced this morning.

Instead of the normal seven to eight percent of midterm F's which are usually expected, the percentage has soared to an unpredictable high. Only F's are required to be turned into the registrar's office at mid-term.

The president and deans of the colleges are trying to determine the cause of this unprecedented academic slump. A valid cause suggested is that this decline might be due to the increase in male enrollment and the obvious (?) fact that spring is here.

Students may request their F's and other grades from their instructors upon their return from vacation, April 14 and 15. It has also been suggested that those students expecting F's take their books home over vacation so that the scholastic rating will not be jeopardized come the termination of the semester.

Poaceae chances mighty slim with snow and chomping boids

Pledges sing 'let it snow'

by John Dyer

With the first dawn of Spring at Bowling Green the pledge masters cracked their whip-like voices at busy pledges who dutifully scurried around planting grass seed.

This burst of energy was soon turned into wasted motion as a cold blast from Canada changed the minds of the warm zepthers and they turned tail for Florida. The winter sparrows returned and soon all that remained of the labor was a few slightly chewed seeds which even the birds knew would never grow.

Falling snow gently covered the broken blades from the cruel blasts of the winds and the heavy footed tromping of not so nimble coeds and male-eds.

A week later the warming winds returned, fighting all the way with buffeting gales from the Ides of March. Gradually the ground grew soggy and little green spots appeared in corners where their ancestors were missed by Lil' Abner and his buddies in search of a comfortable nook.

Send out call for water boy

Residents of the apartments and North dorm, do you have rusty pipes? Is your faucet a drip? Well don't just sit and gripe or cuss. You can do something about it. Just leave a written notice of the repairs needed at the office in North dorm and you will receive a call from the maintenance men on the double-quick.

Pie Kaps invade B. G. for weak gab confab

by Blanche Spangler

All students are requested to go home as soon as possible to make way for the first post-war national convention of Pie Kappa Delta, to begin next week. A few Bee Gee scholars, sent ahead as fifth-columnists will remain to share the take.

In order that everything may be in readiness for the mobs expected all closets must be emptied of unattractive clothes, all presentable things brushed and made ready for use, a good store of food left in the top drawer of each dresser, a tooth brush on each desk, and a pair of dice in each study corner.

If you have a car, bicycle, or roller skates you are ordered to leave them here for the convenience of the takers. If they're still here when you come back, something went wrong.

Be sure to remove any books that you haven't hocked already. There must be plenty of room for bull sessions around sandwich toasters and hot plates which should be ready for use after gab hours.

Any clothes left in the men's gym will be treated in the usual fashion and "returned" in fine shape.

So leave for Easter, kiddies, feeling that all will go as well in your absence as it does when you're here.

Just to make sure that everything goes off according to schedule all water will be turned off at noon today.

Brains meat

Cap and Gown will meet Wednesday at 4 in Dean Wilder's office.

Boy! This should really make the grass grow

Pledges removed their earmuffs and went back to the task and again the robins followed behind pecking at the strays. This time nature really turned on the healing powers and the "mud holes and sand traps" disappeared.

Signs dating back to the first alarm of the return of Spring returned to their original positions athwart well traveled paths and portages. Every tree carried a reminder of the evil look in store for the "Dirty Dalton" who dared to tread where only the winged belonged. KFPF, the Kommittee for the Fosterment of the Poaceae Family, turned out in a body to hex the wrong-doer and placate the injured fronds.

But evidently the gods were displeased with Bowling on the Green. No sooner had the students been lulled into the springtime feeling of pleasure and joy, when overnight gray clouds and chilling winds returned and it was as if a dream had passed. Spots of white mocked the gaily painted signs which swayed in the Arctic wind and the atmosphere chilled the very protoplasm of the chlorophyll. It was not yet time for the songs and joy—it was only April Fool's Day.

in other words, if ya don't like it . . .

Getting a paper out is sometimes fun, but it is never a picnic.
If we print jokes, people say we are silly.
If we don't, they say we are too serious.
If we clip things from other papers, we are too lazy to write them ourselves.
If we don't we are too fond of our own stuff.
If we print contributions, the paper is filled with junk.
If we don't, we don't appreciate true genius.
Now, like as not, someone will say we swiped this from some other paper.
Well, we did!

Every story in this issue of the Bee Gee Noose has some basis in fact—but not much. Odd?

Dopey b.t.o.'s jitter at ate

by Jane Carlton

Drooping over their coffee, early morning Nest visitants look like they are still in the "land under the covers."

Feebly holding their cups, the fog-eyed breakfast goes down the stimulating liquid to vitalize their spirits. Yawns and sighs fill in between sips and few words are spoken.

But then the greatest stimulus of all suddenly breaks forth—the hottest number on the juke box, "Feet Too Big For De Bed." Two wide-eyed rhythm makers step lively with the latest jitterbug creation.

The clock moves up a notch—and then another. Five minutes to eight. Booths vacate as students stumble out the door headed for class. Outside the world is wide awake.

Then the eight o'clock lecture begins in a hot and stuffy room. Back to the "land under the covers!"

C & LE runs to and fro to carry recess crowds

As a surprise came the announcement that Easter holidays would begin on Thursday, April 3, adding an extra day to the week long vacation. Classes will resume on Monday morning, April 14, at 7 a.m.

Vacation will officially begin after the student's last class on Thursday so that there will be a strain on transportation facilities all the afternoon. Cincinnati and Lake Erie busses leaving Bee Gee during the afternoon are as follows:

Northbound	Southbound
11:40	11:51
1:27	2:32
2:51	4:05
3:54	5:36
7:29	6:54

In addition to the regular schedule stated above extra busses may be added beginning at 5 p.m. going both north and south.

The usual trains will leave Bee Gee at 12:47 p.m. for Toledo and at 3:43 for Columbus on the New York Central. In order to help get the influx of students home as soon as possible all trains leaving the Union Station in Toledo will wait for these busses and trains which might possibly make connections with Bee Gee. The schedule of trains leaving Toledo is as follows:

Westbound	Eastbound
12:23	3:10
1:40	4:25
3:08	7:40
6:26
