The Cover

Although hundreds pass the campus daily, it is very doubtful if any of them ever noticed the Administration Building from this angle. The fence in the foreground is a section of the large iron gates which frame the entrance to the campus from West Wooster Street. Bowling Green State College is proud of the wonderful group of buildings that have been constructed about this central structure. There is no better physical plant for the size of the college in the country.

THE OFFICIAL PROGRAM

Is published and distributed at home games by the Department of Publicity of the College-Community Organization. Revenues from the Official Football Program are used to publish this program and are utilized for no other purposes. The Department of Publicity expresses its appreciation of the wholehearted co-operation of everyone who helped to make this program possible.

Greetings

A football game with Capital University is always a strong attraction in itself, but on this occasion, this event is combined with our Annual Homecoming exercises. We extend cordial greetings to Coach Bernlohr and the members of his team. Our athletic relations with Capital have always been pleasant, notwithstanding the fact that the scores have usually been against us. We anticipate an entertaining performance today and expect the game to be characterized by hard playing and fine sportsmanship on the part of both teams. The score may be decisive or indecisive, but the major concern is that the exhibition be an example of adherence to the rules of the game and of gentlemanly conduct throughout. In such a victory every man on both teams may have an honorable part.

To the alumni and former students who are here to help us celebrate another Homecoming, we wish to express our appreciation of your loyalty and cooperation.

H. B. Williams
Greetings

About thirty years ago I lived in Woodville, not far from Bowling Green. In those days I played on the baseball team and sometimes was drafted to act as umpire in contests between Woodville and Bowling Green. This was an assignment which sometimes endangered one’s health.

It is gratifying to know that athletic relations between Capital University and Bowling Green are so pleasant and interesting. It brings me back to former days. If both teams and their adherents will show the same earnestness and devotion for their respective representatives, this day should be a most delightful one for all those who have followed their teams.

Heartiest greetings go out from Capital University to Bowling Green.

Otto Mees
In choosing the Capital University football team as our homecoming rivals, we make them our honor guests at our most important athletic event.

We wish this football meeting to mark the resumption of a keen and sportsmanlike rivalry, and we sincerely hope that the deeds fit the occasion, that much that happens is remembered, and that all is worth remembering.

Warren E. Steller,
Athletic Director
Bowling Green

Past records show that Capital U. has been more than a worthy opponent for Bowling Green. In all our athletic relationships Capital has shown a fine spirit of sportsmanship and a keen spirit of rivalry. May this same spirit prevail in future contests, whether in victory or in defeat.

Paul E. Landis,

The Department of Physical Education

Since the establishment of the major and minor courses in physical education for men, the department has shown a gradual increase until it now has become one of the largest departments in the institution. Men are attracted into this field because it offers them an opportunity to help build healthy boys and girls in the schools.

The local course is carefully planned to give the coach and physical director a thorough knowledge of health, gymnasium drills, playground supervision and athletics and provides, at the same time, a good opportunity to minor in some other subject. Scores of Bowling Green State College graduates are coaching in high schools in Ohio today.

Ford Murray - Quarter-Back

Willard Schaller - Center

Floyd Tippen - Fullback

Darrell Lowell - Fullback

Fred Whipple - Tackle

Paul Schwartz - End
Athletic relations between Bowling Green and Capital although limited in the past have always been pleasant. It is our hope that the play in today’s contest will be hard but clean and that the finest type of sportsmanship between players will prevail.

William F. Bernlohr,
Athletic Director
Capital

I have been looking forward to this game ever since I met Coach Steller at the coaching school held at Northwestern University, this past summer. I feel that our team is definitely on the up-grade and look for a good battle today.

Ted Hieronymus,
Line Coach, Capital

Things That I Can Never Forget

By Ivan E. Lake

Every Homecoming brings memories . . . the one most prominent is the 1925 Homecoming when Vaughn Gill’s pass to Bus Berry defeated Bluffton 6 to 0 on a grid covered with two inches of water . . . poured for two days before the tilt and all of the time during it. A dozen fans watched from the stands the other homecomers viewed it from the Ad and Science buildings.

Posty Knecht’s only touchdown was a sight for sore eyes . . . Muns Bachman’s romp from the kickoff to score standing up in that 151 to 0 victory over Findlay in 1921 . . . He kicked 19 out of 22 field goals that day . . . Gus Skibbie’s great play at end on the 1922 team . . . Dutch Hesrick’s beautiful headwork and passes that year . . .

Our first football victory in 1920 at Kent . . . Bobby Bistline’s heady work at end . . . also the outstanding work of Bob Younkin at center. . . Our worst drubbing in history at Ypsilanti that year, 68-0 . . . Winning the Northwest Conference title in 1925 and only scoring 8 points during the entire season in the league . . .

The kicking of Hally Treece was the greatest the college ever had . . . The guard play of Chet Chapman may never be excelled here . . . The line plunging of Duke Carroll will be hard to beat . . . Doyt Perry’s handling of punts in that first Mt. Union game was marvelous . . .

This doesn’t begin to touch football and not a word has been said of the other sports.

Yes, there are lots of memories in Bee Gee, even if it is a very young institution.

Home again! Today Bowling Green observes her twelfth annual reunion day. For the first time the alumni will see their team in action in the homecoming as an Ohio Conference member. The road has been rough this year but it is early to say that the Falcons will not be able to compete on even terms with foes in the organization.

Young as the college is, it is growing constantly. The enrollment is not quite as large as it was last year but the decrease came in the two-year course with practically the same enrollment in the degree courses which is a sign of encouragement to those who have supported the college loyally through the past year.

Northwestern Ohio can look upon the local campus with pride. No other physical plant is any better. The campus of 105 acres abounds with beautiful, well constructed and equipped, modern school buildings. There are nine buildings on the campus as follows: Administration, Practical Arts, Science, Physical Education, Library, Training School, Williams Hall (dorm), Shatzel Hall (dorm) and the Heating plant. The outlay is estimated at over $2,225,000.

The institution is organized into two coordinate units, a College of Liberal Arts and a College of Education.

Since it's beginning in 1914, Bowling Green State college has been an institution of opportunity for students who have been unable to go to colleges or universities where expenses are high. It is estimated that the average expenditure of the Bowling Green student need not be more than $250 per year. Even this low cost can be materially reduced by students preparing their own meals and there are plenty of rooms available with kitchen privileges for those who desire to do so.

Bowling Green always welcomes visitors and her students are always glad to greet the grads. Students and Alumni together can do much to boost the college by talking to their friends about it’s advantages.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

If all of the promising Freshmen athletes in B. G. State this year are able to pass the scholarship hurdles, the Falcons of 1934 should present one of the most powerful outfits that the orange and brown has ever known.

Jim Inman, 199 pound fullback, of Perrysburg, looks very good. He passes accurately, kicks fairly well and is a plunging fool. He won his Freshman numerals at De-Loite University last year. Ross Bateson of Singsun hits the line and Eugene Riffle, Pennson, appears to have plenty of ability waiting to be developed. Cliff Conrad, Maumee halfback, is fast, clever and a keen thinker who may develop into a heady quarterback. One boy with a fine high school reputation who has not been out for the team is Otto Myers, of Wauseon, said to be one of the cleverest quarterbacks that that school ever produced.

The best line prospect is John Ihnat, of Lakeside, 190 pound tackle, who hasn't been stopped by the varsity yet in a scrimmage. Two good ends are in the making of Paul Smith and Richard Collins, a pair of local high school products.

The rest of the squad is green but talented. Ample testimony to this fact is found in the report that the Frosh have beaten the college varsity regularly this fall during scrimmage sessions.

HISTORY OF
By An Alumnus '23

Fifteen years of football and today Bowling Green State College is a member of the Ohio Conference!

It seems that we always talked Ohio Conference from the time football started, yes; talked it like one speaks of something that seems far out of their reach.

What a motley crew: that first grid squad which reported to Ray Ladd in the fall of 1919. With only a couple dozen men in school and many of them capable of athletics, it was a brave group of little fellows who faced a three game schedule—unsuccessfully—as far as victory was concerned but who cared about that. We didn't expect to win but we gave our opponents a lot of trouble. John Stitt of Western Reserve was the coach of the team, taking over the control from the volunteering Mr. Ladd, and he did a very good job. F. G. Beyerman, now an insurance man in Bowling Green, was then the Athletic Director.

1920 brought B. G. big rough Walter Jean, of eidelberg to coach and after four defeats a glorious victory was won over Kent State 7 to 0 at Kent and was the gang tickled.

Next year the Falcons scored their greatest victory, a 151 to durbbing handed Findlay, scoring a touchdown every minute and a quarter. Earl Krieger, Ohio U graduate, was coach that season.

In 1922 Allen Snyder, of Wooster, was Bowling Green's coach and he led the Falcons to victory when it seemed that a terrible season was ahead. That fall we held our first Homecoming with a big parade of floats and a game at the Fair Grounds (City Park).

From way out in Nebraska a new coach was brought to B. G. by the name of R. B. McCandless in 1923 and the Falcons suffered an off season trying to master a new style of attack.

Since then Warren E. Steller, a graduate of Oberlin has been at the helm and his ten successful years here have been crowned with glory and constant advancement. In 1925 Paul E. Landis was named to assist him with the result that the two have co-operated in producing winning teams thru most of the following seasons.

The Falcons were always chief title contenders in the Northwest Conference and thru the thirteen years of membership, Bowling Green won five titles, more than any other school gained.

During the early years B. G. was just a weakling and had to take defeats regularly but later the worm turned and the Falcons were always feared by opponents in the league.

Small squads made it necessary to scrimmage one side of the varsity line against the other during the week. Lack of an athletic field made it necessary to use a very rocky location back of the Science building for practice and it wasn’t until 1923 that the present athletic field was provided. Games at home before then were played on the high school field behind the old Ridge Street school building.

In 1931 decision to bar Freshmen from intercollegiate athletics here was made. The going became pretty tough, but it was learned that Bowling Green was ready to seek Ohio Conference membership so application was made and last year the probationary period took place. Last spring when the Ohio Conference voted, the decision to admit Bowling Green was most enthusiastic.

This year has not been as successful as the majority of previous seasons have been but alumni and friends of the college must remember that the Falcons are green and cannot be expected to produce a world-beater their first year in the “big time.”

What Bowling Green needs more than anything else right now is the complete and whole-hearted support of every alumni. The graduated Varsity B. G. men should unite in one purpose and that purpose should be to influence men to come to Bowling Green. The necessity of a larger male student body is obvious to the most grads but there is a slow increase being noted at the present time and the future is bound to see much improvement.

Bowling Green State college is destined to become the strongest and largest educational institution in Northwestern Ohio. It is certain to assume the leadership in this section that Ohio University and Miami have taken in their respective sections.

But such achievement takes time. Whether that time is decreased or not will depend entirely upon the cooperation of the alumni.

ONE THIRTY-FOUR EAST WOOSTER ST., BOWLING GREEN, OHIO
The football season, rapidly drawing to a close, brings basketball fans to the realization that it won't be long until the indoor sport will preside on the local campus.

A fine large and especially promising squad is expected to report when Coach Paul E. Landis issues his first call for candidates. Eight lettermen are in school ready for duty and the Freshman squad of last year produced a number of men who look very good for varsity material.

Among the veterans of last year's squad to report are Thurl Shupe of Canton, Ford Murray of Napoleon, Orla and Wilbur Thomas of Lima, John Johnson of Napoleon, John Hartman of Napoleon, Leroy Phillips of Stryker, Willard Schaller of Maumee, Paul Shafer of Upper Sandusky, Arthur Barnes of Deshler, and Henry Fearnside of Rudolph, Bob Lewis, of Rossford, a veteran of two years ago is also in school and may report.

From last year's Frosh squad the most promising players expected to report are Richard Wallace of Bowling Green, Kenneth Weber of Archbold, Burdell Stipe of West Unity, Fred Whipple of Findlay and Elmer Baden of Ridgeville.
