LITEROARY SOCIETIES REORGANIZE

The Emersons elected the following officers for the first semester, 1921-22: President, Dallas MacGregor; vice president, Joe Herman; secretary, Margaret Schumacher; treasurer, Orville Rabedding; sergeant-at-arms, Clement Veler; critic, Howard Ham; chairman of program committee, Esther Brown; publicist, Carlotta Miles; cheer leader, Mary Pore; and faculty adviser, Prof. Charles F. Rebes.

The Emersons met in Room 401 at 7:30 on Tuesday, October 18, in a business session. The new officers for the first semester, 1921-22, were installed by the last year's president, Kenton Moore, by having them subscribe to the Emerson oath of fidelity. Following this the new president took charge and about 50 applicants were elected to membership by unanimous vote. These new members were immediately received after repeating the oath. Additional officers were elected as follows: Reporter, Ruth Todd; stenographer, Lake Williams; members of the Inter-Society Council, Orville Rabedding and Phyllis Pettibone. It is agreed that this will be a great year for the Emerson society.

The Wilsonians held their first meeting the same time as the Emersons but due to lack of a quorum postponed it until later, at which time the following officers were elected for the first semester, 1921-22: President, Franklin Bliche; vice president, Doodly Bain; secretary, Miriam Long; treasurer, Morris Blatline; and faculty adviser, Prof. Calvin J. Bierce. The other officers are to be elected later.

On October 4 the Wilsonians gave a reception to all students and faculty. The first part of the program was held in the auditorium. Those taking part were last year's members: President Ivan Lake, Mildred McComb, Ethel Cupp, Prof. Bierce, and new president, Doolen Bain. The program in the auditorium with the students went to the gymnasium. P. F. Bayerman led in the grand march and about 70 officers and Dainty refreshments were served to the 200 present.

The Wilsonians met in Room 315 at 7:30 on Tuesday, October 18, 1921, in a business session. The following additional officers were elected: Critic, Vesta Fry, reporter, Muriel Ferguson; treasurer, Mary Loomis; executive attorney, Ralph A. Schaller; sergeant-at-arms Charles Delano Fox; cheer leader, Kermit Burkett; and faculty adviser, Prof. Calvin J. Bierce. This was followed by a hearty song by the society. The evening ended with some important announcements which will be given in a later issue.

COLLEGE LUNCHEON

Friends, graduates, former students, and present students of the college are cordially invited to attend the college luncheon, which will be given at the Laselle and Koch dining room, Friday noon, Oct. 28. This is being held in conjunction with the Northwestern Teachers Meeting which will be held in Toledo, Oct. 28 and 29. Tickets for the luncheon will be sold at the college office at 9 cents each. Tickets must be purchased before Oct. 26. Notice of this luncheon appears on the official program of the Northwestern Teachers Meeting. Return cards have been mailed to several hundred graduates and former students. It is impossible to reach all by this method; therefore, all those who receive cards are requested to extend an invitation to form students and in these various ways all should be reached. The dinner is being given under the auspices of the college and all former or present students, friends and others are cordially invited to be present. An informal program will be given, and some important announcements will be given.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE

A tryout for the team which shall represent the college in the intercollegiate debate will be held on Friday, October 21, at 4 P.M. As yet no college has been secured for this debate but the coach, Prof. Carmichael has arranged a series of debate meetings in view and is making efforts to secure one. The only opponent for this college. A number of veteran debaters are in college. Those with two years' experience at intercollegiate debating are R. Schaller, H. Ham and K. Moore. These men had a part in the defeat of Hildasdale College and Kent Normal. Those with one year's experience are C. Richardson, I. Lake, M. Lane, Isaac Belle Dell, Miriam Long and Ethel Capp.

The tryout consisted of five-minute speeches from notes only. Enthusiasm, earnestness and forcefulness were called for in their delivery. The contestants had a choice of three questions: 1. Resolved, that the Adjusted Compensation Bill in favor of the veterans of the World War should be passed immediately. 2. Resolved, that all strikes on the national railroads should be prohibited by the Federal government. 3. Resolved, that strikes are a menace to civilization. The members of the teams have not been officially announced, but the debaters will be named in the near future.

The quartette first appeared at the chapel of the year and sang a group of songs much to the pleasure and delight of the assembly.

Mr. Overman—What is trigonometry?

Howar—It's a man that's been mar-ried three times.
ATHLETICS

B. G. N. C.—151; FINDLAY—0

Bee Gee had a field day, quiet again, but nevertheless enthusiastic on Saturday afternoon, October 15, at the Ridge street grounds of the Normal College. Ohio and Findlay college. This is the largest score in college football in the northwestern part of Ohio.

No team was completely wrecked and helplessly beaten. The young professors scored just one minute and forty-three seconds after the kickoff, eighty yards to a touchdown was one of the features of the game. Skibbie Raberding and McMann all made substantial gains through the weak "Orange and Black" line. Every gain was made possible by perfect teamwork and interference. Findlay made no first downs.

In the second half the home boys used the pass to a good advantage. Bachman accomplished an unusual feat of kicking 19 points from the line: a field goal, 19 points from the line, and 9 points on extra kicks. Findlay made no gain was made possible by perfect teamwork and interference. Findlay—0. B. G. N. C—161.

Coach Krieger is to be commended for the manner in which he has handled his men. The happiest crew of joy makers that ever followed the football team to the field has been behind the B. G. N. C. line to lose it on a fumble once and on downs the next time. Raberding was forced out in the second quarter because of sickness and the team might have been different. Throughout the game the ball see-sawed back and forth although the professors carried more ground than did Kent. Twice did B. G. N. C. charge the ball to the 15-yard line to lose it on a fumble once and on downs the next time.

Raberding for the championship, at Toledo. This is working at present on a line-up and summaries:

Bowling Green—7. Findlay—0

Bachman - L.E. Hall - A.D. Suter
Yorkin - C. Denison - B. C. Smith
McMann - R.E. Root - Skibbie
Wittmer - R.E. Root - Rice
Bachman - R.E. Damann - Conkey
March - R.H. Kemp - Conkey

Touchdown—Raberding. Field goal—Bachman.
Referee—Kitter, Fort Wayne. Umpire—Bachman. Forward passing was extremely difficult as the jerseys were so similar.

KENT—BOWLING GREEN

About five hundred people witnessed the closest and quietest game ever played by the Normal College when Kent Normal was defeated by the B. G. N. C. to 0 on October 1. Serious sickness in a neighboring house prevented any rooting by the students. Kent out played "Orange and Brown" but could make no gains through the Normal's line. Almost every yard made by the sister school came from some sort of freak formation.

Throughout the game the ball see-sawed back and forth and throughout the game the professors carried more ground than did Kent. Twice did B. G. N. C. charge the ball to the 15-yard line to lose it on a fumble once and on downs the next time.

MUSIC FESTIVAL CONCERT

On October 12 the Bowling Green Music Festival Association presented Mrs. Dorothy Miller Duckworth, pianist, and Mr. Merrill C. McEwen, violinist, in a joint concert for the benefit of the May Festival. Mr. McEwen was accompanied by Pro Tunnicliffe. Both of the musicians were warmly applauded by the several hundred present and responded with an encore. Mr. McEwen is from our own Dr. Tunnicliffe in the Music Department.

DRAMATICS

The Dramatics class has for its object the study and presentation of New York worthy achievements in its field of literature. The first performance will be given on November 17, a production by Herm and The New- ly Married Couple by Bjornson will be given. These comedies are by masters of the drama; they abound in humorous situations and a fine dialogue. Other presentations will be given later in the year.
