

Mar 26th, 1:30 PM - Mar 27th, 3:30 PM

2015 Graduate Communication Association Conference Poster

Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/gca_conf

Bowling Green State University, "2015 Graduate Communication Association Conference Poster" (2015).
Graduate Communication Association Conference. 1.
https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/gca_conf/GCA2015/01/1

This Event is brought to you for free and open access by the Conferences and Events at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Graduate Communication Association Conference by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@BGSU.

Bowling Green State University
Graduate Communication Association

presents

The 4th Annual
Graduate Student Research Conference:
“Identities, Social Movements, and Social Justice in a Globalized World”

March 26-27, 2015

The Graduate Communication Association (GCA) is an organization of communication scholars whose interdisciplinary study examines all facets related to the signs and symbols people use when they come together. This year’s theme invites a critical investigation of exigent issues. Attendees will enjoy presentations from multiple perspectives including critical and cultural studies, media studies, gender, race, sexuality, popular culture, politics, education, sociology, and/or psychology.

Keynote: Dr. Elizabeth Lozano of Loyola University
“I am the leader, you are the leader”: Nonviolent resistance in a Colombian “peace community”
2-3:30, Friday, March 27, BTSU 308

Workshop with Dr. Elizabeth Lozano

Bearing Witness: Ethics, nonviolence, and fieldwork as a holistic endeavor

1:30-3:30, Thursday, March 26, BTSU 315

RSVP to Brett Labbe (blabbe@bgsu.edu)

For full schedule of panels: <http://bit.ly/GCACON15>

Email questions to:

Chad Nelson (chadmn@bgsu.edu)
or Brett Labbe (blabbe@bgsu.edu)

BGSU School of Media & Communication Graduate Program

March 26, 2015 ·

The 4th Annual Graduate Communication Association Graduate Student Research Conference is today and tomorrow!

WORKSHOP (Today, 1:30-3:30PM, BTSU 315)

Our keynote speaker Dr. Elizabeth Lozano of Loyola University will be conducting a workshop entitled "Bearing Witness: Ethics, Nonviolence, and Fieldwork as a Holistic Endeavor".

GCA CONFERENCE PANELS (Friday, 10:00-2:00PM, BTSU 314 & 315)

For conference panel times and details please see attached program schedule or visit: http://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/gca_conf/GCA2015/

LUNCH (Friday, 12:30-1:00PM, BTSU 318)

GCA welcomes all students and faculty to pizza, soda, and coffee in BTSU 318.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS (Friday, 2:00-3:30, BTSU 308)

Please join us for our Keynote Address from Dr. Elizabeth Lozano entitled "I Am the Leader, You are the Leader": Nonviolent Resistance in a Columbian "Peace Community". Dr. Lozano's area of expertise is media studies and cultural studies. At Loyola, she is program director for the Latin American Studies Program, a member of the steering committees of the International Studies and the Women's Studies. She previously served as the advisor for Beta Rho, the Loyola chapter of Lambda Pi Eta, National Communication Association.