President's Office
Western Washington University
Bellingham, WA 98225

Dear President Olscamp:

Over the past few years, many of Bowling Green's contract staff have frequently felt and expressed the need for a recognized representative group which could assess and express its needs and concerns. Recently, a meeting was held to explore this possibility. Near its conclusion, we were asked to communicate with you regarding the proceedings of the meeting. Probably the most significant decision reached was that we needed to elect an ad hoc steering committee to investigate and propose an ongoing, permanent organizational structure. The motion to form this committee was passed unanimously and read:

Recognizing the need to establish a representative group to serve as an advocate of contract staff interests and concerns, we move that an ad hoc committee be established to explore and propose an ongoing organizational structure through which this purpose can be fulfilled.

We are hoping that this committee can begin its tasks by mid-July and be finished by mid-September. We are sure that its members would like very much to meet with you at some convenient time this summer. Of course, we all look forward to meeting and working with you in the future. If you would like any further information, please let any one of us know; and we will be pleased to be of assistance.

Sincerely,

administrative staff membership at least 30 days prior to the meeting at which the amendment is to be considered.
Dear President Olscamp,

We are appreciative of the opportunity to review the changes you wish to make in the Academic Charter. While we wish that the permanent Administrative Staff Council were in session in order to respond to the changes, this is not the case. As a Steering Committee, we have taken it upon ourselves to reply because of your interest in completing this task.

Our comments are based upon the assumption that your revisions in the Charter are made to make the Charter a more expeditious document. A major element of the proposed change has been the separation of governance and employment issues. Employment issues henceforth will be dealt with in handbooks. Other revisions such as the inclusion of Academic Council within Faculty Senate are made. Many of these changes will produce a more effective document and we applaud your initiative.

Our first question has to do with the division of the University administration into two groups: the administration and the administrative staff. While this division may help to give the fledgling A.S.C. an identity, we do not think this separation is appropriate.

The emphasis in the development of the Administrative Staff Council has not been the intrusion of administrative staff into governance structures. The emphasis, rather, has been on professional growth opportunities, policy review and the provision of a forum. Several discussions on governance possibilities, such as the development of the Council within a University Senate setting, and/or a representative to the Board of Trustees, were discussed and voted down. (This is not to say that the Administrative Staff Council will not or should not become involved in governance issues.)

However, we believe the separation of the administration into two groups within the Academic Charter may be divisive for these reasons:
1. It does not promote collegiality within the university. We tend to think of ourselves as part of the University administration.

2. Second, it places administrative staff somewhere between the University administration and classified staff. It is inconsistent with the professional image of the administrative staff.

3. The criteria for being included in the University administration is very unclear. How was this division made? Is it consistent? Were positions defined by function, faculty status, or because they happen to sit in a certain office? We also fail to see other groups being separated out. Should classified staff be dealt with as supervision and non-supervision? Should students be dealt with as graduates and undergraduates? In a document of this import, we fail to see the need to do such, especially when the change seems to go against the grain of your reasons for revising the Charter.

On the other hand, if you feel the division is very appropriate and in the best interests of the University we would like some clarification on how the division was arrived at. If separation is to be the case, we would suggest that the University Administration be referred to as the Central Administration and include only the President and the Vice Presidents, that is, Cabinet-level positions. Also, if it is your intention to keep this separation, we will continue to review the Charter. If the Administration Staff are to be separated out as part of the University governance structure, there are several places in the Charter that we would prefer they be inserted in a systematic fashion.

Thank you for understanding our concern.

RE: Administrative Staff Charter

October 11, 1982

Attached please find a copy of the Administrative Staff charter. After reviewing comments made at the general membership meeting on September 30, 1982, as well as those written comments submitted to the Administrative Staff Steering Committee, it is the opinion of the Administrative Staff Steering Committee that the charter be forwarded to you at this time for your vote of acceptance or rejection.

The Administrative Staff Steering Committee has reviewed and combined both the written and verbal comments that have been submitted by the membership. In addition, the Steering Committee has solicited comments on the proposed charter from many individuals within the campus community—specifically, Dr. Ron Stoner, Chair of the Faculty Senate; Dr. Paul Olscamp, University President; and members of the Senate Executive Committee.

While each of you might suggest further revision to this document, it is the Steering Committee's opinion that the document can serve as the foundation for the Administrative Staff Council. It provides a method of election for the Council as well as future revisions to the charter. It is our opinion that "time is of the essence" and a council must be elected to deal with the many important issues facing contract staff employees at Bowling Green State University. The Administrative Staff Steering Committee is unanimous in urging you to vote your acceptance of this document. Once the document has been accepted, then the process of nomination and election of officers can begin.

Please sign and return the enclosed ballot to Mr. Joseph Martini, Office of the Bursar, by October 20, 1982. I am hopeful that you will give this matter your immediate attention so that an idea that has budded may reach fruition in the near future.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ELECTION BALLOT
ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF COUNCIL

The election ballot for administrative staff council is enclosed. For this election you are asked to vote within your own area only. The ballot includes the names of all people who were nominated and who agreed to have their names listed.

According to the Charter approved by the administrative staff membership, each area will be represented on the Council by ten percent of the total staff members in that area. The Charter states that members will serve three year terms with one-third being elected each year. For this initial election it was necessary, therefore, to establish a procedure to accommodate terms of three years, two years, and one year. The Steering Committee has devised the following plan to assure equal distribution of terms of office.
