HAIL THE NEW COACH

COACH WHITTAKER

Described in the press of Ohio as the "Coach of the Year" Robert H. Whittaker in the present season has won himself a solid place in this community and on this campus by his splendid work with the Bowling Green State University gridders. Coach Whittaker has demonstrated already that his success as a high school coach at Sandusky was not just mere luck but that it came of a sound coaching philosophy, materially aided by an insistence upon fundamentals mixed with a goodly share of psychology.

He was a star at Miami university where he was a team mate of Ohio State's new coach Paul Brown and his 11 years of service at Sandusky show many long strings of victories and 5 undefeated elevens.

Coming to Bowling Green he found a few veterans from last year's team which had a rather ordinary season but found a splendid group of sophomores ready to do his bidding.

The Falcons started slowly, getting a 14-14 tie with Wooster and then losing a hard-luck game to Akron 8-0 but since then they have been playing winning ball and today are riding on the crest of a 5-game winning streak, Miami (9-0), Michigan Normal (20-6), Heidelberg (39-6), Kent State (12-6) and Wittenberg (13-0).

Today's game with Findlay closes the conference season and the team draws the curtain on the schedule next Thursday in a Thanksgiving Day game against Wayne University of Detroit. The game will start at 11:00 a.m.
One of Bowling Green State University's earliest rivals, Findlay college comes to this campus again today for a traditional game with the Falcons to close the Ohio Conference season. It will be the 14th renewal of an athletic rivalry which has always been interesting.

Bowling Green has had much the better of the argument, winning seven games while the Oilers have copped two and have fought the Falcons to deadlocks in four others.

Findlay is directed this year by a new head coach, Lee Graves, a graduate of Purdue, and they are riding on the crest of a three-game winning streak as they trot out onto the field to face the Falcons, who also are playing under the direction of a new coach, Bob Whittaker, of Miami. Bee Gee has won five straight.

Much hinges on the outcome of the game for Bowling Green. A victory over the Oilers will clinch Bowling Green's claim to a share of the Ohio Conference title. Case already is at the top and has finished its conference season. Ohio Northern is undefeated, but like Bee Gee, tied once. They face Heidelberg at Tiffin today. A victory for the Princes would eliminate the Bears from the title picture.

Similarly, a victory for Findlay would wreck the Falcon title claims. Nor would it be the first time that Findlay has done such a thing. Back in 1926 a fighting crew from Findlay came to B. G. and came back in the second half to defeat a title contender 7 to 6 in a Northwestern Ohio Conference game.

Bowling Green's record against Findlay has not been so good since the two schools joined the Ohio Conference. They have played four games, the first three resulting in 6-6, 6-6 and 7-7 ties, only last year's 14 to 7 victory giving the Falcons the edge.

Every game played between the two schools has been a thriller, even including the uneven 1921 fracas. Being such close neighbors, the teams naturally play more spirited football than they do against most of their other foes. Today's game is expected to be another thriller.

BOWLING GREEN'S GROWTH

Friends of Bowling Green State University are invited to drop in at the recently dedicated union building, affectionately named the “Falcon's Nest”, after the game and inspect this structure, built to resemble a log cabin and providing a rendezvous for the students between classes or during the evenings.

Construction has been continuing on the campus, by permission of the Federal Government, which recently clamped down on all construction during the period of the national emergency. The Skol Residence Hall was occupied for the first time last month and now under construction is the new Health Service Building in the dormitory circle, where the campus physician and nurses will have offices and a 30-bed hospital is to be available sometime during the second semester.

Bids were opened during the Homecoming festivities and awarded on two new sorority residence halls for the Three Kays and the Seven Sisters and they will be ready for those sororities before next September.

It is not likely that there will be further building on the campus until the national emergency is over, but it is most interesting to note that in the era just ending Bowling Green State University has made phenomenal advancement in the physical plant and a resultant growth in enrollment.

The economic practices of Dr. H. B. Williams when he was president, stored up a considerable sum of money which provided the University's share of many PWA projects and WPA programs. Thus under those two administrative organizations and in cooperation in relieving the depression, the University saw buildings pop up like mushrooms while many sister institutions, less fortunately provided with surplus funds, were unable to take advantage of the Federal program.

The new stage and remodeled auditorium and the Recreation Hall formed one project to become one of the finest college theatres in the entire country. The fine athletic stadium, a rebuilt running track, a new baseball field and innumerable other campus projects were completed.

Kohl Hall, the dormitory for men, was a much needed addition as was the fine new Women's Physical Education Building.

One of the show places of the campus is the new Natatorium, which is fully equipped for competition, has both high and low diving boards and has an arrangement of bleachers on each side of the pool for spectators.

The more recent new Five Sister and Skol residence halls and the other structures which are under way complete a splendid layout for the University.

Bowling Green's progress has been noted far and wide through the past few years and under the guidance of President Frank J. Prout the future of the institution is expected to show continued growth and development.

PLAYING IT SAFE

"With the ball inside your own thirty yard line, kick on third down."

This is one of the sound principles of football strategy. It doesn't pay to take the unnecessary chance of a fumble or a blocked kick, deep in your own territory.

When you look for a bank to entrust with your money, you want an institution that is run on sound principles of banking practice that have been established over the years.

You want a bank that will be safe, not spectacular.
