GENERAL INFORMATION

Published for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, O., W. Harold Anderson, Director.

LOST AND FOUND ARTICLES—Anyone finding lost articles should take them to the office of Athletic Director Harold Anderson in the Men's Gym. Persons seeking lost property may inquire there after the game.

DRINKING—The drinking of intoxicating liquor will not be tolerated in the stadium. Violation of this rule will result in ejection of those guilty from the grounds.

COMFORT STATIONS—Because of conversion of the stadium's interior facilities for men's housing, those seeking comfort stations must go to the Men's Gym. The ladies' room is in the front corridor of the main floor. The men's room is in the rear of the building on the ground floor.

This program is made possible through a cooperative arrangement with the businessmen of Bowling Green and others who advertise in it. We appreciate it and hope that you will show your appreciation also by your patronage to them.

Football Program Committee: Ivan E. Lake, '23, chairman; E. J. Kreischer, B.G.U.; Marsh M. Sherer and Don E. Goebel, Downtown Coaches Ass'n.
Hello Morningside

Out of the west comes Morningside College of Sioux City, Iowa today to attempt to do what seven previous 1948 foes have been unable to do: defeat the Falcons of Bowling Green State University. Bowling Green is one of the nation's 23 colleges fortunately listed as having an unbeaten-untied team.

Coach George Allen, formerly connected with the U. of Michigan Jayvee, and his assistant, Bill Pritula, an All-Big Nine lineman with Crisler's Rose Bowl team, bring the Maroons with an Iowa version of the Michigan Single Wing system and the Beegee record is expected to meet a worthy threat. Greetings Morningside! We welcome you to our campus.

Next Week's Game

The final game of the season is slated to be played on the Bowling Gridiron next Saturday and against one of the toughest ball clubs in the middlewest. The John Carroll Blue Streaks will come as favorites to knock the Falcons off the lofty perch that they hold in Ohio and a whale of a battle is expected.

The Streaks have an enviable record for the season and the fact that they defeated Toledo 46 to 28 and battled Baldwin-Wallace to a 19-19 tie indicates clearly that the contest next week should be one no person will want to miss.

Bowling Green's prideworthy university
B. G. Frosh Doing Well

The Falcon Freshman team is attempting to emulate the varsity today in an invasion of the Kent State University campus. Coach Fred Marsh and his aides are pleased with the progress that the Falcon nestlings, or Eyases, have made and it is believed that next year's varsity will be bolstered considerably by many of the members of this year's Frosh crop.

The Eyases won from Toledo's Frosh 13-0 and then from Michigan Normal's papooses 25-7 before dropping to Ohio U's Bobkittens 12 to 7. The BG Frosh finish with a game at Ohio Wesleyan next Friday.

BOWLING GREEN USES THE "GRID-EYE"

Bowling Green was one of the first universities in the nation to adopt the use of the "Grid-Eye," a true precise instrument designed to determine the location of the ball with split-hair accuracy. It speeds play because it is now unnecessary to carry the chain out onto the field to measure a first down. It is done through the power scope which is as accurate as a surveyor’s transit.

The "Grid-Eye" is not complicated to understand. There is a vertical hair-line in the forward lens of the instrument which is mounted on the top of "the box," a stick indicating the downs. Within the instrument there is a precision mirror which sights straight down the sidelines (not across the field). When the image of the sideline stripe appears straight up and down in the mirror and is centered upon the vertical hair-line in the front lens of the instrument, the "Grid-Eye" then is sighted at a perfect right angle to the sideline and straight across the field.

On sighting for a "first down" then, if the tip of the ball or any part of it touches the hairline sight within the scope, it is a first down.

With this instrument the ball may be placed with absolute accuracy when brought back to the spot of a previous down, upon an incompletely pass or for any other reason, the referee being told by the official on the "Grid-Eye" where to place the ball and within five seconds.

It also enables the men carrying the chain to locate the spot of the first down in an exchange of the ball with unfailing accuracy, answering those critics who ridicule the idea of being so hair-line in having the chain brought out for measurement of the yardage gained to see if a first down has been gained when the chain probably was spotted from six inches to a foot or more away from the true spot of the ball when the team first got the pigskin several plays earlier.

With this instrument, the "Grid-Eye," it would be unnecessary to have lines across the field at five yard intervals. At their best these lines, as laid out by use of lime, are bound to be inaccurate because of their width. The "Grid-Eye" measures to the fraction of an inch.

The "box," indicates the downs in four colors, i.e. green for 1st down, white for 2nd down, yellow for 3rd down and red for 4th down.
