MEMORANDUM

TO: Robert L. Martin
Vice President for Operations

FROM: Walt Montenegro
Personnel Services

SUBJECT: Family and Medical Leave Policy (FMLA)

Attached is a draft copy of a Family and Medical Leave Policy for use at Bowling Green State University for administrative and classified staff. If approved, it will be included in the 1994-1995 edition of the employee handbooks.

The draft policy follows the College and University Personnel Association model and conforms to the provisions of the Federal law as well as the Department of Labor implementing instructions.

Included with the policy are two draft letters - one for requesting FMLA leave and the other for employees whose spouse is also working for the University, two draft medical certification forms - a Department of Labor recommended form and one proposed by CUPA - for consideration. The CUPA form is more detailed and directly addresses the situations regarding FMLA leave. The Department of Labor form is very general in nature but easier to complete by physicians. Lastly a handout on employee rights is included with the policy. Including this with the policy is the best way of insuring employees have a copy of it as it will be placed in the handbook.

Bowling Green State University understands the importance of family issues in today's work force. The University also recognizes that many of its employees have conflicting demands of family obligations and work. Because employees may find it necessary to take leave from their jobs for a temporary period to address certain family responsibilities or their own serious health conditions, and in order to comply with the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA), the University hereby establishes its parental leave and family and medical leave policy.

1. General

a. Covered Leave. The University will grant an eligible employee unpaid leave for up to 12 work weeks during a 12-month period, if the procedures in this policy are followed and leave is requested for the following reasons:

(1) The birth or adoption of a child, or the foster care placement of a child.

(2) To care for a "family member" of the employee if that individual has a serious health condition.

(3) A serious health condition of the employee renders the individual unable to perform his or her job functions.

Employees are limited to a maximum of 12 weeks unpaid leave for any of these purposes. An employee cannot take 12 weeks parental leave and 12 weeks sick leave during the same 12-month period. If the leave is for birth, adoption, or foster care placement, the leave must be completed within 12 months of the date of birth or placement.

b. The 12-Month Period. Available leave will be calculated by determining the amount of time used by an employee for the 12 months prior to each day for which leave is requested under this policy and subtracting that number from the total number of days equal to 12 workweeks. Employees will be advised when requesting leave of the amount of FMLA time they have available.

c. Spousal Exception. If a husband and wife both work for the University, and are eligible for leave, they are only entitled to a combined 12 work weeks of leave taken for birth, adoption, foster care, and to care for a parent. The 12 weeks will be calculated in the same manner as leave for an individual employee.

d. State Law. All of the same procedures will apply to leave under state law that are longer than 12 weeks (medical, disability, maternity). Leave under state law will run concurrently with leave under this policy. The University will comply with both Federal and State law regarding these leaves.

e. Intermittent Leave. An employee taking leave for personal illness or to take care of a sick family member need not take such leave continuously and may take it on an intermittent basis, or by reducing the employee's scheduled work hours, if the employee provides certification from the healthcare provider caring for the employee and/or family member that leave must be taken in that manner. If leave is not taken continuously, it will be deducted from the employee's entitlement to leave, i.e., 12 weeks during a 12-month period, in increments of one hour.

f. Part-Time After Birth, Adoption, or Foster Care Placement. Requests for intermittent or reduced (part-time) leave after the birth, adoption, or foster care placement of a child will be considered on a case-by-case basis. The request should be made through the immediate supervisor to the office of Personnel Services. As a general rule, part-time arrangements or intermittent leave will be granted:

(1) For a maximum of twelve months after birth, adoption, or foster care;

(2) For leave in increments of four hours or one day (such as five four-hour days or three eight-hour days);

(3) Subject to the ability of the employee's immediate supervisor to ensure that work is completed through scheduling changes or job-sharing;

(4) Subject to the immediate supervisor's consent to alter schedule or work longer hours on an emergency basis, such as when other employees are out sick.

The University reserves the right to refuse leave, or to cancel any such arrangement on 30 days notice, if the University concludes that the needs of the business require the employee's presence on a full-time basis.

2. Definitions

a. "Family Member". A family member is defined in FMLA and the policy to include the employee's spouse, son, daughter or parent (but not a parent "in-law"). A "son" or "daughter" is any child under 18 who is the biological child of the employee, who is adopted by the employee, or whom the employee supervises on a day to day basis and for whom the employee is financially responsible. A "son" or "daughter" is also a child over 18 who is incapable of self-care because of a mental or physical disability. A parent is any individual who assumed day to day and financial responsibility for the employee when the employee was a child.
b. "Serious Health Condition". A serious health condition is defined as an illness, injury, impairment or physical or mental condition that involves a period of incapacity or treatment following in-patient care in a hospital, hospice, or residential medical care facility; a period of incapacity requiring more than three days absence from work and continuing treatment by a health care provider; or continuing treatment by a health care provider for a chronic or long-term health condition that is so serious that, if not treated would likely result in incapacity of more than three days; or continuing treatment by or under the supervision of a health care provider of a chronic or long-term condition or disability that is incurable; or pre-natal care.

c. "Health Care Provider". A health care provider is any doctor of medicine or osteopathy, podiatric, optometrist, and nurse practitioner, or nurse midwife performing within the scope of their practice as defined under state law. Christian Science practitioners and Chiropractors are health care providers to the extent defined under regulations issued by the U.S. Department of Labor.

3. Eligibility

a. Minimum Eligibility Requirements.

(1) An employee is eligible if he or she has been employed for at least 12 months (or 52 weeks) by the University, and has worked at least 1,250 hours during the 12-month period prior to the time leave would begin under this policy. Personnel Services will make the determination at the time of the leave request.

(2) Hours are calculated based upon actual hours that the employee worked, including overtime.

(3) Personnel Services will use its record of hours worked for all classified staff. In the case of administrative staff, it will be assumed that any employee employed full-time for seven and one-half months meets the 1,250-hour requirement. Administrative staff who have 12 months prior service, but less than seven and one-half months full-time continuous service at the time leave is requested, must include documentation of hours worked with their request.

b. Work Site Rules. The University will attempt to accommodate all leave requests, regardless of the number of employees at a particular work site. Employees must realize that they are not protected under FMLA if there are fewer than 50 employees within 75 miles of the University's work site. (NOTE: Given the number of employees at both the main campus and the Firelands College campus, this rule does not presently apply to the University.)

c. Leave For Serious Health Conditions. Employees should recognize that this policy and FMLA are only intended to cover serious health conditions—generally those which involve more than three days incapacity from work or school, or chronic long-term, incurable conditions. Employees who wish to take leave to care for family members with non-serious health conditions are not covered by this policy. Employees can use their sick leave, vacation, or personal leave for non-serious health conditions, subject to the requirements of those policies, including scheduling and increments of leave. The granting of unpaid leave for non-serious health conditions is within the discretion of the immediate supervisor and is covered in the employee handbooks.

4. Procedures For Requesting Leave.

a. Requests For Leave.

(1) Procedure. All requests for family or medical leave will be initiated by the employee contacting the immediate supervisor. This will assist the supervisor in working out appropriate schedules. If for any reason the employee does not wish to inform the immediate supervisor of the reason for the leave, or if there are any questions about the supervisor's response, the employee may contact the Office of Personnel Services. In all cases, employees will be asked to complete a "Request for Family or Medical Leave" form, copies of which are included with this policy.

(2) Foreseeable Leaves. If the need for family or medical leave is foreseeable, the employee must provide notice to the immediate supervisor of not less than 30 days. Leave will be denied unless there is a reasonable excuse for the delay. If leave is denied for lack of notice, the employee may designate leave to start after 30 days notice is given. Failure to report to work when FMLA leave has been denied will be treated as an unexecuted absence under the University's attendance policy. Employees will not be paid for any missed days or permitted to substitute paid leave, and may be subject to disciplinary actions.

(3) Scheduling. If the leave is for the planned medical treatment of the employee or a family member, or requires intermittent or reduced schedule leave, employees may be required by their immediate supervisor to arrange a particular schedule or to reschedule appointments or treatments, subject to the consent of the health care provider.
6. Benefits

a. Health Benefits. During the leave, the University will maintain the employee's coverage for health benefits as it existed prior to the start of the leave. If the employee is under the University's health plan, they will be required to continue to pay their portion of the premium normally deducted from the individual's pay check and will pay such amount at the time designated by the Benefits Section within the Office of Personnel Services.

If the employee fails to make the required payments for health insurance within 30 days of the date that such payments are due, health coverage may be discontinued, or at the sole discretion of the University it may be continued. If this is done, the University has the right to recover health premium amounts. The employee will be notified whether coverage will be continued or not. All amounts due the University because of unreimbursed health benefits provided during leave will be deducted from the employee's pay.
b. Other Benefits. Other benefits normally provided to University employees will continue in force as indicated in the employee handbook. The University has the right, upon the employee's return, to refuse to reinstate any benefit or condition of employment that has been discontinued for University employees.

7. Reinstatement

a. General. An employee taking leave under this policy will be returned to the employee's same position or to an equivalent position, at the election of the University unless the employee would have been terminated in the absence of any leave (e.g., layoff, downsizing, or termination of a temporary job). The taking of leave will not result in any loss of benefit or condition of employment accrued prior to the beginning of the leave period.

b. Fitness-For-Duty Examinations. The University will require a fitness-for-duty certification prior to reinstatement for all employees taking leave for a serious health condition or where there is any question regarding the employee's ability to safely perform the job.

The University reserves the right to make additional medical inquiries and/or require follow-up examinations, at its expense, to ensure that employees can safely perform the substantial functions of the job and will conduct these inquiries in accordance with the procedures contained in the American With Disabilities Act.

c. Periodic Reporting. Employees on leave are required to report weekly on their status and intent to return. During the leave, the University also may require that an employee recertify the medical condition that caused the employee to take leave when the University obtains information that casts doubt on the continuing validity of the employee's original certification, when the employee requests an extension of leave, or when circumstances have changed.

d. COBRA. When an employee notifies the University that he or she is not returning from leave, the University will terminate the employee's health benefits at the end of the month following notification, and he or she will no longer have a right to restoration to the same equivalent position. The employee will be entitled to continuation of health benefits only in accordance with the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA). The Benefits Section within Personnel Services will notify employees of their option under this Act.

e. Repayment of Premiums. Employees who return to work will meet with Benefits Section personnel to work out an appropriate repayment schedule for any employee premiums or co-payments made to the University during the leave.

f. Failure To Return To Work. Employees who fail to return to work after the FMLA leave will be treated as having voluntarily terminated their employment. Any balances of pay due (vacation, compensatory time, etc.) will be paid on the next pay date after termination.

a. Administrator. Bowling Green State University is the sole administrator of this policy and, as such, is the exclusive interpreter of its terms. All provisions of this policy will be interpreted consistent with the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993.

b. Changes. The University reserves the right to modify or amend this policy at any time.

c. No Employment Rights. This policy does not create any employment rights to any individual other than specifically stated in the policy.

d. Limitations. Except as otherwise stated this policy is not intended to create any rights greater than that conferred on employees by the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993.

e. State Laws. Where Ohio law and rules provide for more generous terms than those contained in the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993, employees may avail themselves of these provisions instead.

f. Rights and Obligations. Employees and employers have various rights and obligations under the FMLA. For information employees and supervisors may contact the Office of Personnel Services (372-8421).

YOUR RIGHTS
under the
FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT OF 1993

FMLA requires covered employers to provide up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave to "eligible" employees for certain family and medical reasons. Employees are eligible if they have worked for a covered employer for at least one year, and for 1,250 hours over the previous 12 months, and if there are at least 50 employees within 75 miles.

REASONS FOR TAKING LEAVE: Unpaid leave must be granted for any of the following reasons:

- to care for the employee’s child after birth, or placement for adoption or foster care;
- to care for the employee’s spouse, son or daughter, or parent, who has a serious health condition; or
- for a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee’s job.

At the employee’s or employer’s option, certain kinds of paid leave may be substituted for unpaid leave.

ADVANCE NOTICE AND MEDICAL CERTIFICATION: The employee may be required to provide advance leave notice and medical certification. Taking of leave may be denied if requirements are not met.

- The employee ordinarily must provide 30 days advance notice when the leave is "foreseeable."
- An employer may require medical certification to support a request for leave because of a serious health condition, and may require second or third opinions (at the employer’s expense) and a fitness for duty report to return to work.

JOB BENEFITS AND PROTECTION:

- For the duration of FMLA leave, the employer must maintain the employee’s health coverage under any "group health plan."
- Upon return from FMLA leave, most employees must be restored to their original or equivalent positions with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms.
- The use of FMLA leave cannot result in the loss of any employment benefit that accrued prior to the start of an employee’s leave.

UNLAWFUL ACTS BY EMPLOYERS: FMLA makes it unlawful for any employer to:

- interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided under FMLA;
- discharge or discriminate against any person for opposing any practice made unlawful by FMLA or for involvement in any proceeding under or relating to FMLA.

ENFORCEMENT:

- The U.S. Department of Labor is authorized to investigate and resolve complaints of violations.
- An eligible employee may bring a civil action against an employer for violations.

FMLA does not affect any Federal or State law prohibiting discrimination, or supersede any State or local law or collective bargaining agreement which provides greater family or medical leave rights.

    Medical Leave Act (FMLA) Policies

Once again, we are asking for clarity on the status of two ASC Proposals that were originally submitted nearly a year and a half ago. If you recall, we also sought clarification of the status of these same two proposals in memorandums dated May 16, 1995 and December 22, 1995 (see attachments).

Specifically, could you please advise us as to the whether or not the ASC submissions on the Natal (Birth/Adoption) and Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) Policies were ever approved? I have included copies of the two proposals for your reference.

There seemed to be some confusion about the interpretation of the FMLA when two spouses are employed at the University. It appears that at least one other state university, Ohio State, has made FML available to each employee. The following is the Ohio State University policy which was downloaded from the world wide web.

"In the case where spouses, partners or siblings are employed by the University, each spouse, partner and sibling is eligible for up to 12 work weeks of FML, following all leave procedures".

In the interests of collaboration and community, timely reaction to this request would be greatly appreciated so changes to our handbook could be considered at the June meeting of the Board of Trustees. Thank you.

RE: Follow-Up on Two Proposed Handbook Changes from Last Year

The purpose of this correspondence is to seek follow-up on two proposed handbook changes that Administrative Staff Council submitted to Bob Martin last year. Specifically, the status of the Natal (Birth/Adoption) Leave Policy and the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) Policy (see the two attachments) needs to be determined and forwarded to the Board of Trustees.

As you may recall, a number of the Handbook Changes sent by ASC to Ad Council last year were put on hold waiting the outcome of the Mercer Study. However, the above two policies are not covered by the Mercer Study. Yet, to the best of my knowledge, they were never presented to the Board of Trustees. I have also enclosed a copy of a memorandum from Pat Green (Chair of ASC last year) to Bob Martin dated May 16, 1995 seeking clarification of the status of the same two proposed handbook changes back in that time frame.

Anything you could do to expedite the processing of these two proposed handbook changes would be greatly appreciated. Thank you, in advance for your cooperation in this matter.

Re:       Proposed Handbook Changes

Attached are copies of two handbook changes that ASC is waiting for Ad Council to discuss. One concerns a revision to the current maternity leave policy, and the other involves the Family Leave Act. Our proposed parental leave policy changes the length of leave from 6 months to 12 months and would includes all staff members. The proposed change to the FMLA would allow spouses employed at BGSU to each be entitled up to 12 weeks leave.

These are two separate proposed changes that I hope did not get lost in the shuffle. The ASC Executive Committee would like to request that these changes be considered in time for the June 20 Board meeting. Thank you for your consideration.

4. A staff member will notify, in writing, the supervisor and the Office of Personnel Services, prior to the start of the leave, as to the number of days to be taken as sick leave, the number of days to be taken as vacation and number of days to be taken as a leave of absence without pay.

5. Should a staff member decide not to return to the University following leave, the staff member must notify the supervisor, in writing, no less than 30 calendar days preceding the scheduled return to work.

6. Staff members taking leave are guaranteed their positions and job title upon return.

If these proposed changes are adopted, then the section on Paternity/Adoption Leave would be deleted from page 43 of the current handbook.

Adopted ASC 1/19/95
Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) Policy

Bowling Green State University understands the importance of family issues in today's work force. The University also recognizes that more than ever its employees face conflicting demands of family obligations and work. Because employees may find it necessary to take leave from their jobs for a temporary period to address certain family responsibilities or their own serious health conditions, and in order to comply with the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) of 1993, the University has established a parental leave and family and medical leave policy. The University will grant each eligible employee, University employed spouses included, up to 12 weeks within a 12 month period for the following reasons:

1. The birth or adoption of a child, or the foster care placement of a child. *

2. To care for a "family member" of the employee if that individual has a serious health condition.

3. A serious health condition of the employee renders the individual unable to perform his or her job functions.

Accrued sick leave, accrued vacation credit and leave of absence without pay can be used during this period. A staff member may use any or all of the accrued vacation and/or sick leave and personal leave during the family medical leave before going on a leave of absence without pay.

In the event that an extended leave beyond 12 weeks is needed, employees should request a long term leave.

Procedures for FMLA leave will apply also to leave under state law and University policy that are no longer than 12 weeks (medical, disability, maternity, etc.) Leave under state law and University policy will run concurrently with leave under this policy. The University will comply with both federal and state law, as well as University policy regarding these leaves.
A packet of information covering the University's policy, request forms, and required documentation is available in the Office of Personnel Services. A copy of employee rights under the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 is contained at the end of this handbook.

Questions or concerns regarding family or medical leave under this act can be addressed by calling Personnel Services (372-8421)

Minutes of Task Force on Family Medical Leave for February 21, 1997

Present: Benner, Buckenmyer, Footer, Holmes (Chair and Secretary du Jour), Kitchen, Stickler and Whitmire

Absent: Applebaum and Morgan

The Chair distributed minutes for February 14 and the minutes of February 7 were approved. The draft of the FMLP from Norma was discussed, all final revision to it were to be sent to Stickler by noon on Tuesday.

The catastrophic leave policy was discussed at length. Footer informed the committee that the Attorney General's position is that such policies are not legal until enabling legislation is passed, but that several state universities have them. Holmes was concerned about the cost of policies. Benner suggested few people will take this leave, using it as a bridge to disability under STRS or PERS. All agreed that this leave is desirable, but much groundwork is needed before it is recommended to the Board and implemented.

The Chair told a few lawyer jokes, scheduled the meeting for the next Friday at 9:00 am at which time the committee will a) finalize the FMLP and b) make recommendations for changing other related leave policies.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Charles Middleton, Provost and VPAA
Harold Lunde, Chair of Faculty Senate

FROM: Bob Holmes
Chair of the Task Force on FMLP

RE: Report and Recommendations of the Task Force on FMLP

I am enclosing the recommended FMLP for all constituent groups, which passed unanimously at the task force meeting of February 28.

Additionally, the task force has these recommendations to the central administration and for discussion by the three welfare committees of the constituent groups:

a) Catastrophic Leave is needed, but more ground work is necessary to determine the cost, before this task force can recommend it;

b) Domestic partner coverage is needed but more ground work is necessary to determine the cost of health insurance policies before this can be recommended;

c) The administrative staff maternity leave should be increased from 4 to 6 months in order to harmonize it with the classified staff leave;

d) The definition of immediate family member must be consistent in all leave policies for all constituent groups;

e) All maternity or pregnancy leave policies should use language that permits males to use such benefits, i.e. change it to a paternity leave policy;

f) Fee waivers for part-time administrative and classified staff members and their dependents should be developed that are similar to part-time faculty benefits;
g) The fee waivers for administrative and classified staff who have worked full-time at BGSU for ten years and their dependents should be made available indefinitely after retirement;

h) The tenure clock should stop running when a long-term leave is taken;

i) In order to make the sick leave policy for staff more equivalent to the faculty policy, flexible time programs for classified and administrative staffs should be created where feasible.

Two members feel strongly that recommendations f and g dealing with fee-waivers are outside of the scope of this task force's charge.

The Chair now thanks the task force members for developing these recommendations and FMLP in a very short time period and commends their efforts, insights and cooperative spirit which made this complicated task relatively easy and somewhat fun! A special thank you is given to Norma Stickler for her extra effort and contributions to the task force. She was awarded a task force high of two or three stars plus a valentine for her efforts!

FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT POLICY
Bowling Green State University

Bowling Green State University (BGSU) historically has provided its employees a superior range of fringe benefits in recognition of the efforts of its loyal and dedicated work force. The University recognizes the conflicting demands placed on family-life and the work-life of employees where single working parent families exist or where both parents are working. The University desires to provide a working environment that offers solutions to the complex issues confronting employees in their efforts to balance their family and employment commitments. Accordingly, this Family and Medical Leave Policy (FMLP) although mandated by the U.S. Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA) provides BGSU's employees with benefits exceeding the federal law.

Any terms used from the FMLA will be defined in the Act or the U.S. Department of Labor regulations. Where Ohio law and/or BGSU policies provide for more generous terms than that contained in the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993, employees may avail themselves of these provisions instead. This policy summarizes the various employee and employer rights and obligations under the FMLA.

I. The FMLA Policy

The Family and Medical Leave Act provides eligible faculty and staff members up to 12 weeks (480 hours) of leave during any 12 month period for one or more of the following reasons:

A. for the birth of an employee's child or the placement for adoption or foster care of an employee's child or the care of an employee's child, but such leave shall expire one year after the birth or placement of the child;

B. for the care of the employee's family member who has a serious health condition; or

C. for a serious health condition that makes an employee unable to perform the employee's job.
II. Definitions

A. A "family member" is defined to include the employee’s spouse, child, parent, grandparent, brother, sister, mother-in-law, father-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, grandchild, or legal guardian.

B. A “spouse” is defined as a husband or wife as recognized under the laws of the State of Ohio.

C. A “child” is defined as a biological, adopted or foster child, a stepchild, a legal ward, or child of the person who has or had during the employee’s childhood daily responsibility to care for and financially support the employee, who is either under the age of 18 or is incapable of self-care because of a physical or mental disability.

D. A “parent” is defined as a biological, foster, or adoptive parent, a stepparent, a legal guardian, or a person who has or had during the employee’s childhood daily responsibility to care for and financially support the employee.

E. A “serious health condition” is an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves any of the following circumstances:

1. a period of incapacity or treatment connected with inpatient care in a hospital, hospice, or residential medical care facility,

2. any period of incapacity requiring absence of more than three days from work involving continuing treatment by or under the supervision of a health care provider,

3. continuing treatment by a health care provider for a chronic, long-term or incurable health condition that is so serious that, if not treated, would likely result in a period of incapacity of more than three calendar days,

4. conditions relating to pregnancy and childbirth, including prenatal care.

F. A “health care provider” is a person authorized to practice as a health care provider by a state, province, or nation and is performing within the scope of that practice as one of the following:
doctor of medicine, doctor of osteopathy, podiatrist, dentist, clinical psychologist, optometrist, chiropractor (limited to manual manipulation of the spine to correct a subluxation as demonstrated by X-ray), nurse practitioner, nurse midwife, Christian Science practitioner listed with the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts

G. “Intermittent leave” is leave taken in non-consecutive blocks of time rather than for one continuous period of time, and may include leave periods from an hour or more to several weeks.

H. “Reduced schedule” is a reduction in the usual number of working hours per day or week for a period of time for reasons relating to FML.

III. Eligibility

A BGSU employee is eligible for FML if he or she has been employed by the University at least 12 months prior to the date of leave (the 12 months need not be consecutive) and for at least 1,250 hours in the 12 months preceding the leave. Full-time administrative and classified staff and faculty are presumed to have worked 1,250 hours.

If both spouses are employed by the University, they are each entitled, to the extent each is eligible, to 12 weeks of FML.

Leave for birth or placement of a child is available equally to both sexes.

IV. Notice to Employer

In the event of a planned absence, notification must be submitted to the employee’s immediate supervisor, chair, or director at least 30 days in advance of the leave and followed by written documentation in accordance with existing University procedures with regard to leave usage.

If the need for family or medical leave is not foreseeable, verbal notice must be given by the employee to the immediate supervisor, chair, or director as soon as possible, followed by written documentation in accordance with existing University procedures.
V. Certification

A. Obtaining Leave
A request for FML must be substantiated with satisfactory certification from an appropriate health care provider in accordance with existing University leave policies.

The University reserves the right to request a second opinion, at its expense.

If the first and second opinions differ significantly, the University reserves the right to request a third and binding opinion from a jointly-selected health care provider whose fee will be paid by the University.

B. Returning to Work
When there is any question regarding the employee's ability to perform the job after an FML for a health condition, the University may require certification from the health care provider.

VI. Other Provisions

A. Commencement of Leave
An eligible employee is entitled to a total of 12 weeks of approved unpaid FML in a year. The year is measured forward from the first day of any family medical leave.

Leave for the birth or placement of a child must take place within 12 months after the event. Leave may begin prior to the birth or adoption.

B. Intermittent or Reduced Leave
An intermittent or reduced leave schedule is available under the FMLA for the serious health condition of the employee or the employee's immediate family.

C. Concurrency with Other Leaves
Any leave taken for one of the reasons stated in this policy shall be designated as FML and counted toward both the 12 weeks of FML and the appropriate paid or unpaid leave balances available under University policies.
D. Health Benefits
For the duration of the FML, the employee may continue health insurance benefits on the same terms as if the employee were working. The employee is responsible for submitting to the Benefits Office by check or money order that portion of the premium that would ordinarily be deducted from the paycheck. If payments are not made, the University may discontinue health care coverage.

If the employee elects not to return to work upon completion of an approved FML, the employee agrees to reimburse the University for the amount of the University's contribution to health insurance, unless the failure to return to work is beyond the employee's control.

E. Retirement Benefits
Employees on unpaid FML will not accrue STRS or PERS service credit nor vacation or sick leave accumulations for the period of the unpaid leave.

F. Confidentiality
To the extent allowed by law, the University will keep confidential the information relating to the reasons for requests for FML.

G. Restoration of Position
When the FML is completed, the employee will return to the same or an equivalent position with commensurate terms and conditions of employment. The University reserves the right to place the employee in an interim assignment with equivalent pay and benefits that better accommodate the employee's need for leave, or the needs of the students, or the University's operations.

H. Aid to Interpretation
To the extent that this document is incomplete or ambiguous, the language of the Family and Medical Leave Act or the Department of Labor regulations will prevail.

Maternity Leave

1. Staff members who give birth and/or adopt a child are eligible for maternity leave. The customary and usual maternity leave will be six months per pregnancy.

2. The six month maternity leave need not be taken as consecutive days if mutually agreeable to the administrative staff member and the immediate supervisor.

5. Should a staff member decide not to return to the University following maternity leave, the staff member must notify the supervisor, in writing, no less than 30 calendar days preceding the scheduled return to work.

6. Staff members taking maternity leave are guaranteed their positions and job title upon return.
This is a very sensitive topic which also needs careful examination by a separate task force. The first topic to be addressed would be establishing the definition of domestic partners. To our knowledge Ohio State has a policy involving domestic partners. It allows employees to use sick leave to take care of a domestic partner provided there is demonstrated evidence of financial commitment.

Recommendation. A joint task force of all three constituent groups research this issue and make a recommendation to the administration and Board of Trustees next year. It is once again recommended that Donna Wittmer be an ex officio member of this task force in the same capacity.

Administrative Staff Maternity Leave

Administrative staff maternity leave should be increased from 4 to 6 months for consistency with classified staff. In addition, the Natal Birth/Adoption Policy adopted by council in January, 1995 should be adopted to reflect language for both male and female parents with the following changes: wherever natal is used birth/adoption leave should be used and natal dropped.

NATAL (BIRTH/ADOPTION) LEAVE

1. Each staff member is eligible for natal leave up to six months.
2. The six month leave need not be taken as consecutive days if mutually agreeable to the administrative staff member and the immediate supervisor.
3. Accrued sick leave, accrued vacation credit and 1 leave of absence without pay can be used during this six month period. A staff member may use any or all of the accrued vacation credit and/or accrued sick leave or personal leave before going on a leave of absence without pay.
4. A staff member will notify, in writing, the supervisor and the Office of Personnel Services, prior to the start of the leave, as to the number of days to be taken as sick leave, the number of days to be taken as vacation and number of days to be taken as a leave of absence without pay.
5. Should a staff member decide not to return to the University following leave, the staff member must notify the supervisor, in writing, no less than 30 calendar days preceding the scheduled return to work.
6. Staff members taking leave are guaranteed their positions and job titles upon return. If these proposed changes are adopted, then the section on Paternity/Adoption Leave would be deleted from page 85 of the current handbook.

Adopted ASC 1/19/95

Recommendation: Similar leave polices should be developed for classified and faculty to include both parents.

Definition of Family Members

The definitions of immediate family should be consistent for all groups. Currently, classified staff has grandchild as a family member, while the other groups do not.

Recommendation: Grandchild be included in all groups.

Fee Waivers for Part-time Staff
Part-time faculty have only recently received fee waivers for themselves. (September 1996) They are pro-rated as they are for part-time administrative and classified staff. There are no dependent fee waivers for any group.

Concern: Part-time administrative staff have expressed concern over part-time benefits for a number of years.

Recommendation: Part-time employees from all constituent groups form a task force to examine all part-time benefits with equity for all groups.

Dependent Fee Waivers for Retired Administrative and Classified Staff
Currently when faculty retire, if they are awarded emeritus status (most are), they have the same benefits as if they were still full-time including an indefinite time frame for fee waivers for qualified dependents. If they are not emeritus, and go on SPR, they are entitled to fee waivers for the three years they are on SPR. Currently administrative and classified staff have dependent fee waivers for five years after retirement. In the event of the death of the employee, however, the widow(er) and dependents have fee waivers for an unlimited number of years. (All groups)

Recommendation: All groups have indefinite fee waivers for dependents if they have been employed for at least 10 years.

Concern: These fee waivers would be available only to eligible dependents. Eligible must be clearly defined.

Sick Leave for Staff Compared to Faculty

If a faculty member is sick and has a colleague substitute, he/she does not use sick time. If payment is made to a substitute, then sick leave is deducted. This committee thought it unlikely that a classified or administrative staff could find a qualified substitute to perform their jobs when sick. This is clearly a policy that can apply to faculty but not to staff.

Concern: One of the overlapping issues is flex time. While policies exist for all groups regarding flextime, interpretation and use of flex time is not standard. Some offices will not allow any, while others are very accommodating.

Recommendation: The Benefits Office review all flex time policies and make sure the policies are equitable across campus.

Fee Waivers at MCO
Currently only faculty have fee waivers available at MCO.

Recommendation: All staff have fee waivers at MCO.
MATERNITY/PATERNITY/ADOPTION LEAVE

Leave

1. Staff members who give birth, father and/or adopt a child are eligible for leave. The customary and usual leave will be six months per pregnancy, fathering, and/or adoption.

2. The six month leave need not be taken as consecutive days if mutually agreeable to the administrative staff member and the immediate supervisor.

3. Accrued sick leave, accrued vacation credit and a leave of absence without pay can be used during this six month period. A staff member may use any or all of the accrued vacation credit and/or accrued sick leave or personal leave before going on a leave of absence without pay.

THE FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT OF 1993

U.S. DOL

Employment Standards Administration
Wage and Hour Division

Fact Sheet No. 028

THE FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT OF 1993

The U.S. Department of Labor's Employment Standards Administration, Wage and Hour Division, administers and enforces the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) for all private, state and local government employees, and some federal employees. Most Federal and certain congressional employees are also covered by the law and are subject to the jurisdiction of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management or the Congress.

FMLA became effective on August 5, 1993, for most employers. If a collective bargaining agreement (CBA) was in effect on that date, FMLA became effective on the expiration date of the CBA or February 5, 1994, whichever was earlier. FMLA entitles eligible employees to take up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave in a 12-month period for specified family and medical reasons. The employer may elect to use the calendar year, a fixed 12-month leave or fiscal year, or a 12-month period prior to or after the commencement of leave as the 12-month period.

The law contains provisions on employer coverage; employee eligibility for the law’s benefits; entitlement to leave, maintenance of health benefits during leave, and job restoration after leave; notice and certification of the need for FMLA leave; and, protection for employees who request or take FMLA leave. The law also requires employers to keep certain records.

EMPLOYER COVERAGE

FMLA applies to all:

- public agencies, including state, local and federal employers, local education agencies (schools), and

- private-sector employers who employed 50 or more employees in 20 or more workweeks in the current or preceding calendar year and who are engaged in commerce or in any industry or activity affecting commerce — including joint employers and successors of covered employers.

EMPLOYEE ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible for FMLA benefits, an employee must:

✓ (1) work for a covered employer;

✓ (2) have worked for the employer for a total of 12 months;

✓ (3) have worked at least 1,250 hours over the previous 12 months; and ✓ (4) work at a location in the United States or in any territory or possession of the United States where at least 50 employees are employed by the employer within 75 miles.

LEAVE EntITLEMENT
A covered employer must grant an eligible employee up to a total of 12 work-weeks of unpaid leave during any 12-month period for one or more of the following reasons:

- for the birth and care of the newborn child of the employee;
- for placement with the employee of a son or daughter for adoption or foster care;
- to care for an immediate family member (spouse, child, or parent) with a serious health condition; or
- to take medical leave when the employee is unable to work because of a serious health condition.

Spouses employed by the same employer are jointly entitled to a combined total of 12 work-weeks of family leave for the birth and care of the newborn child, for placement of a child for adoption or foster care, and to care for a parent who has a serious health condition.

Leave for birth and care, or placement for adoption or foster care must conclude within 12 months of the birth or placement.

Under some circumstances, employees may take FMLA leave intermittently — which means taking leave in blocks of time, or by reducing their normal weekly or daily work schedule.

- If FMLA leave is for birth and care or placement for adoption or foster care, use of intermittent leave is subject to the employer's approval.
- FMLA leave may be taken intermittently whenever medically necessary to care for a seriously ill family member, or because the employee is seriously ill and unable to work.

Also, subject to certain conditions, employees or employers may choose to use accrued paid leave (such as sick or vacation leave) to cover some or all of the FMLA leave.

The employer is responsible for designating if an employee's use of paid leave counts as FMLA leave based on information from the employee.

"Serious health condition" means an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves either:

- any period of incapacity or treatment connected with inpatient care (i.e., an overnight stay) in a hospital, hospice, or residential medical-care facility, and any period of incapacity or subsequent treatment in connection with such inpatient care; or
- Continuing treatment by a health care provider which includes any period of incapacity (i.e., inability to work, attend school or perform other regular daily activities) due to:

1. A health condition (including treatment therefor, or recovery therefrom) lasting more than three consecutive days, and any subsequent treatment or period of incapacity relating to the same condition, that also includes:
   - treatment two or more times by or under the supervision of a health care provider; or
   - one treatment by a health care provider with a continuing regimen of treatment; or
2. Pregnancy or prenatal care. A visit to the health care provider is not necessary for each absence; or
3. A chronic serious health condition which continues over an extended period of time, requires periodic visits to a health care provider, and may involve occasional episodes of incapacity (e.g., asthma, diabetes). A visit to a health care provider is not necessary for each absence; or
4. A permanent or long-term condition for which treatment may not be effective (e.g., Alzheimer's, a severe stroke, terminal cancer). Only supervision by a health care provider is required, rather than active treatment; or
(5) Any absences to receive multiple treatments for restorative surgery or for a condition which would likely result in a period of incapacity of more than three days if not treated (e.g., chemotherapy or radiation treatments for cancer).

"Health care provider" means:

- doctors of medicine or osteopathy authorized to practice medicine or surgery by the state in which the doctors practice; or
- podiatrists, dentists, clinical psychologists, optometrists and chiropractors (limited to manual manipulation of the spine to correct a subluxation as demonstrated by X-ray to exist) authorized to practice, and performing within the scope of their practice, under state law; or
- nurse practitioners, nurse-midwives and clinical social workers authorized to practice, and performing within the scope of their practice, as defined under state law; or
- Christian Science practitioners listed with the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts; or
- Any health care provider recognized by the employer or the employer's group health plan benefits manager.

MAINTENANCE OF HEALTH BENEFITS

A covered employer is required to maintain group health insurance coverage for an employee on FMLA leave whenever such insurance was provided before the leave was taken and on the same terms as if the employee had continued to work. If applicable, arrangements will need to be made for employees to pay their share of health insurance premiums while on leave.

In some instances, the employer may recover premiums it paid to maintain health coverage for an employee who fails to return to work from FMLA leave.

JOB RESTORATION

Upon return from FMLA leave, an employee must be restored to the employee's original job, or to an equivalent job with equivalent pay, benefits, and other terms and conditions of employment.

In addition, an employee's use of FMLA leave cannot result in the loss of any employment benefit that the employee earned or was entitled to before using FMLA leave, nor be counted against the employee under a "no fault" attendance policy.

Under specified and limited circumstances where restoration to employment will cause substantial and grievous economic injury to its operations, an employer may refuse to reinstate certain highly-paid "key" employees after using FMLA leave during which health coverage was maintained. In order to do so, the employer must:

- notify the employee of his/her status as a "key" employee in response to the employee's notice of intent to take FMLA leave;
- notify the employee as soon as the employer decides it will deny job restoration, and explain the reasons for this decision;
- offer the employee a reasonable opportunity to return to work from FMLA leave after giving this notice; and
- make a final determination as to whether reinstatement will be denied at the end of the leave period if the employee then requests restoration.

A "key" employee is a salaried "eligible" employee who is among the highest paid ten percent of employees within 75 miles of the work site.

NOTICE AND CERTIFICATION

Employees seeking to use FMLA leave are required to provide 30-day advance notice of the need to take FMLA leave when the need is foreseeable and such notice is practicable.

Employers may also require employees to provide:

- medical certification supporting the need for leave due to a serious health condition affecting the employee or an immediate family member;
- second or third medical opinions (at the employer's expense) and periodic recertification; and
- periodic reports during FMLA leave regarding the employee's status and intent to return to work.

When intermittent leave is needed to care for an immediate family member or the employee's own illness, and is for planned medical treatment, the employee must try to schedule treatment so as not to unduly disrupt the employer's operation.

Covered employers must post a notice approved by the Secretary of Labor explaining rights and responsibilities under FMLA. An employer that willfully violates this posting requirement may be subject to a fine of up to $100 for each separate offense.

Also, covered employers must inform employees of their rights and responsibilities under FMLA, including giving specific written information on what is required of the employee and what might happen in certain circumstances, such as if the employee fails to return to work after FMLA leave.

UNLAWFUL ACTS

It is unlawful for any employer to interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided by FMLA. It is also unlawful for an employer to discharge or discriminate against any individual for opposing any practice, or because of involvement in any proceeding, related to FMLA.

ENFORCEMENT

The Wage and Hour Division investigates complaints. If violations cannot be satisfactorily resolved, the U.S. Department of Labor may bring action in court to compel compliance. Individuals may also bring a private civil action against an employer for violations.

OTHER PROVISIONS

Special rules apply to employees of local education agencies. Generally, these rules provide for FMLA leave to be taken in blocks of time when intermittent leave is needed or the leave is required near the end of a school term.

Salaried executive, administrative, and professional employees of covered employers who meet the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) criteria for exemption from minimum wage and overtime under Regulations, 29 CFR Part 541, do not lose their FLSA-exempt status by using any unpaid FMLA leave. This special exception to the "salary basis" requirements for FLSA's exemption extends only to "eligible" employees' use of leave required by FMLA.

The FMLA does not affect any other federal or state law which prohibits discrimination, nor supersedes any state or local law which provides greater family or medical leave protection. Nor does it affect an employer's obligation to provide greater leave rights under a collective bargaining agreement or employment benefit plan. The FMLA also encourages employers to provide more generous leave rights.

FURTHER INFORMATION

The final rule implementing FMLA is contained in the January 6, 1995, Federal Register. For more information, please contact the nearest office of the Wage and Hour Division, listed in most telephone directories under U.S. Government, Department of Labor.
--DISCLAIMER--

The Family and Medical Leave Act ("FMLA") provides certain employees with up to 12 workweeks of unpaid, job-protected leave a year, and requires group health benefits to be maintained during the leave as if employees continued to work instead of taking leave. This Compliance Guide summarizes the FMLA provisions and regulations, and provides answers to the most frequently asked questions. More detail on the FMLA may be found in the regulations (29 CFR Part 225).

Summary

The FMLA became effective August 5, 1993, for most employers and employees. (For those covered by a collective bargaining agreement (CBA) in effect on that date, the FMLA became effective on the expiration of the CBA or February 5, 1994, whichever was earlier.)

This law covers only certain employers; affects only those employees eligible for the protections of the law; involves entitlement to leave, maintenance of health benefits during leave, and job restoration after leave; sets requirements for notice and certification of the need for FMLA leave; and protects employees who request or take FMLA leave. The law also includes certain employer recordkeeping requirements.

Purposes of the FMLA

The FMLA allows employees to balance their work and family life by taking reasonable unpaid leave for certain family and medical reasons. The FMLA seeks to accomplish these purposes in a manner that accommodates the legitimate interests of employers, and minimizes the potential for employment discrimination on the basis of gender, while promoting equal employment opportunity for men and women.

Employer Coverage

FMLA applies to all:

- public agencies, including State, local and Federal employers, and local education agencies (schools); and,
- private sector employers who employ 50 or more employees for at least 20 workweeks in the current or preceding calendar year, including joint employers and successors of covered employers.

For FMLA purposes, most Federal and Congressional employees are under the jurisdiction of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management (OPM) or the Congress.

Employee Eligibility

To be eligible for FMLA leave, an employee must work for a covered employer and:

1. have worked for that employer for at least 12 months; and
2. have worked at least 1,250 hours during the 12 months prior to the start of the FMLA leave; and,
3. Work at a location where at least 50 employees are employed at the location or within 75 miles of the location.

Leave Entitlement

A covered employer must grant an eligible employee up to a total of 12 workweeks of unpaid leave in a 12 month period for one or more of the following reasons:

- for the birth of a son or daughter, and to care for the newborn child;
- for the placement with the employee of a child for adoption or foster care, and to care for the newly placed child;
- to care for an immediate family member (spouse, child, or parent — but not a parent "in-law") with a serious health condition; and
- when the employee is unable to work because of a serious health condition.

Leave to care for a newborn child or for a newly placed child must conclude within 12 months after the birth or placement. (See CFR Section 825.201)

Spouses employed by the same employer may be limited to a combined total of 12 workweeks of family leave for the following reasons:

- birth and care of a child;
- for the placement of a child for adoption or foster care, and to care for the newly placed child; and,
- to care for an employee's parent who has a serious health condition.

Intermittent/Reduced Schedule Leave - The FMLA permits employees to take leave on an intermittent basis or to work a reduced schedule under certain circumstances. (CFR Section 203)

- Intermittent/reduced schedule leave may be taken when medically necessary to care for a seriously ill family member, or because of the employee's serious health condition.
- Intermittent/reduced schedule leave may be taken to care for a newborn or newly placed adopted or foster care child only with the employer's approval.

Only the amount of leave actually taken while on intermittent/reduced schedule leave may be charged as FMLA leave. Employees may not be required to take more FMLA leave than necessary to address the circumstances that cause the need for leave. Employers may account for FMLA leave in the shortest period of time that their payroll systems use, provided it is one hour or less. (See CFR Section 825.205)

Employees needing intermittent/reduced schedule leave for foreseeable medical treatment must work with their employers to schedule the leave so as not to unduly disrupt the employer's operations, subject to the approval of the employee's health care provider. In such cases, the employer may transfer the employee temporarily to an alternative job with equivalent pay and benefits that accommodates recurring periods of leave better than the employee's regular job.

Substitution of Paid Leave - Employees may choose to use, or employers may require the employee to use, accrued paid leave to cover some or all of the FMLA leave taken. Employees may choose, or employers may require, the substitution of accrued paid vacation or personal leave for any of the situations covered by FMLA. The substitution of accrued sick or family leave is limited by the employer's policies governing the use of such leave.

Serious Health Condition - "Serious health condition" means an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves:

- any period of incapacity or treatment connected with inpatient care (i.e., an overnight stay) in a hospital, hospice, or residential medical care facility; or
- a period of incapacity requiring absence of more than three calendar days from work, school, or other regular daily activities that also involves continuing treatment by or under the supervision of) a health care provider; or
- any period of incapacity due to pregnancy, or for prenatal care; or
- any period of incapacity (or treatment therefore) due to a chronic serious health condition (e.g., asthma, diabetes, epilepsy, etc.); or
- a period of incapacity that is permanent or long-term due to a condition for which treatment may not be effective (e.g., Alzheimer's, stroke, terminal diseases, etc.); or
- any absences to receive multiple treatments (including any period of recovery therefrom) by, or on referral by, a health care provider for a condition that likely would result in incapacity of more than three consecutive days if left untreated (e.g., chemotherapy, physical therapy, dialysis, etc.).

Medical Certification - An employer may require that the need for leave for a serious health condition of the employee or the employee's immediate family member be supported by a certification issued by a health care provider. The employer must allow the employee at least 15 calendar days to obtain the medical certification.

An employer may, at its own expense, require the employee to obtain a second medical certification from a health care provider. The employer may choose the health care provider for the second opinion, except that in most cases the employer may not regularly contract with or otherwise regularly use the services of the health care provider. If the opinions of the employee's and the employer's designated health care providers differ, the employer may require the employee to obtain certification from a third health care provider, again at the employer's expense. This third opinion shall be final and binding. The third health care provider must be approved jointly by the employer and the employee. The "Certification of Health Care Provider" (optional form WH-380) may be used to obtain the certifications.

Health Care Provider - Health care providers who may provide certification of a serious health condition include:

- doctors of medicine or osteopathy authorized to practice medicine or surgery (as appropriate) by the State in which the doctor practices;
- podiatrists, dentists, clinical psychologists, optometrists, and chiropractors (limited to treatment consisting of manual manipulation of the spine to correct a subluxation as demonstrated by X-ray to exist) authorized to practice in the State and performing within the scope of their practice under State law;
- nurse practitioners, nurse-midwives, and clinical social workers authorized to practice under State law and performing within the scope of their practice as defined under State law;
- Christian Science practitioners listed with the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts;
- any health care provider recognized by the employer or the employer's group health plan's benefits manager; and,
- a health care provider listed above who practices in a country other than the United States and who is authorized to practice under the laws of that country.

Maintenance of Health Benefits

A covered employer is required to maintain group health insurance coverage, including family coverage, for an employee on FMLA leave on the same terms as if the employee continued to work.

Where appropriate, arrangements will need to be made for employees taking unpaid FMLA leave to pay their share of health insurance premiums. For example, if the group health plan involves co-payments by the employer and the employee, an employee on unpaid FMLA leave must make arrangements to pay his or her normal portion of the insurance premiums to maintain insurance coverage, as must the employer. Such payments may be made under any arrangement voluntarily agreed to by the employer and employee.

An employer's obligation to maintain health benefits under FMLA stops if and when an employee informs the employer of an intent not to return to work at the end of the leave period, or if the employee fails to return to work when the FMLA leave entitlement is exhausted. The employer's obligation also stops if the employee's premium payment is more than 30 days late and the employer has given the employee written notice at least 15 days in advance advising that coverage will cease if payment is not received.

In some circumstances, the employer may recover premiums it paid to maintain health insurance coverage for an employee who fails to return to work from FMLA leave.

Other Benefits - Other benefits, including each payments chosen by the employee instead of group health insurance coverage, need not be maintained during periods of unpaid FMLA leave.

Certain types of earned benefits, such as seniority or paid leave, need not continue to accrue during periods of unpaid FMLA leave provided that such benefits do not accrue for employees on other types of unpaid leave. For other benefits, such as elected life insurance coverage, the employer and the employee may make arrangements to continue benefits during periods of unpaid FMLA leave. An employer may elect to continue such benefits to ensure that the employee will be eligible to be restored to the same benefits upon returning to work. At the conclusion of the leave, the employer may recover only the employee's share of premiums it paid to maintain other "non-health" benefits during unpaid FMLA leave.

Job Restoration

Upon return from FMLA leave, an employee must be restored to his or her original job, or to an "equivalent" job, which means virtually identical to the original job in terms of pay, benefits, and other employment terms and conditions.

In addition, an employee's use of FMLA leave cannot result in the loss of any employment benefit that the employee earned or was entitled to before using (but not necessarily during) FMLA leave.

"Key" Employee Exception - Under limited circumstances where restoration to employment will cause "substantial and grievous economic injury" to its operations, an employer may refuse to reinstate certain highly-paid, salaried "key" employees. In order to do so, the employer must notify the employee in writing of his/her status as a "key" employee (as defined by FMLA), the reasons for denying job restoration, and provide the employee a reasonable opportunity to return to work; after so notifying the employee.

Notice

Employee Notice - Eligible employees seeking to use FMLA leave may be required to provide:

- 30-day advance notice of the need to take FMLA leave when the need is foreseeable;
- notice "as soon as practicable" when the need to take FMLA leave is not foreseeable ("as soon as practicable" generally means at least verbal notice to the employer within one or two business days of learning of the need to take FMLA leave);
- sufficient information for the employer to understand that the employee needs leave for FMLA-qualifying reasons (the employee need not mention FMLA when requesting leave to meet this requirement, but may only explain why the leave is needed); and,
- where the employer was not made aware that an employee was absent for FMLA reasons and the employee wants the leave counted as FMLA leave, timely notice (generally within two business days of returning to work) that leave was taken for an FMLA-qualifying reason.

Employer Notices - Covered employers must take the following steps to provide information to employees about FMLA:

- post a notice approved by the Secretary of Labor (WH Publication 1420) explaining rights and responsibilities under FMLA; include information about employee rights and obligations under FMLA in employee handbooks or other written material, including Collective Bargaining Agreements (CBAs); or if handbooks or other written material do not exist, provide general written guidance about employee rights and obligations under FMLA whenever an employee requests leave (a copy of Fact Sheet No. 28 will fulfill this requirement), and provide a written notice designating the leave as FMLA leave and detailing specific expectations and obligations of an employee who is exercising his/her FMLA entitlements. The employer may use the "Employer Response to Employee Request for Family or Medical Leave" (optional form WH-381) to meet this requirement. This employer notice should be provided to the employee within one or two business days after receiving the employee's notice of need for leave and include the following:

that the leave will be counted against the employee's annual FMLA leave entitlement; any requirements for the employee to furnish medical certification and the consequences of failing to do so;

the employee's right to elect to use accrued paid leave for unpaid FMLA leave and whether the employer will require the use of paid leave, and the conditions related to using paid leave;

any requirement for the employee to make co-premium payments for maintaining group health insurance and the arrangement for making such payments;

any requirement to present a fitness-for-duty certification before being restored to his/her job;

rights to job restoration upon return from leave;

employee's potential liability for reimbursement of health insurance premiums paid by the employer during the leave if the employee fails to return to work after taking FMLA leave; and whether the employee qualifies as a "key" employee and the circumstances under which the employee may not be restored to his or her job following leave.

Unlawful Acts

FMLA makes it unlawful for any employer to interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided by this law. It is also unlawful for an employer to discharge or discriminate against any individual for opposing any practice, or because of involvement in any proceeding, related to FMLA.

Employers cannot use the taking of FMLA leave as a negative factor in employment actions, such as hiring, promotions, or disciplinary actions; nor can FMLA leave be counted under "no fault" attendance policies.

Enforcement

FMLA is enforced by the Wage and Hour Division of the U.S. Department of Labor's Employment Standards Administration. This agency investigates complaints of violations. If violations cannot be satisfactorily resolved, the Department may bring action in court to compel compliance.

An eligible employee may bring a private civil action against an employer for violations. An employee is not required to file a complaint with the Wage and Hour Division prior to bringing such action.

Other Provisions

Some special rules apply to employees of local education agencies. Generally, these rules provide for FMLA leave to be taken in blocks of time when the leave is needed intermittently or when leave is required near the end of a school term (semester).

Several States and other jurisdictions also have family or medical leave laws. If both the Federal law and a State law apply to an employer's operations, an employee is entitled to the most generous benefit provided under either law.

Employers may also provide family and medical leave that is more generous than the FMLA leave requirements.
The FMLA does not modify or affect any Federal or State law which prohibits discrimination.

Questions and Answers

Q: How much leave am I entitled to under FMLA?

If you are an "eligible" employee, you are entitled to 12 weeks of leave for certain family and medical reasons during a 12-month period.

Q: How is the 12-month period calculated under FMLA?

Employers may select one of four options for determining the 12-month period:

- the calendar year;
- any fixed 12-month "leave year" such as a fiscal year, a year required by State law, or a year starting on the employee's "anniversary" date;
- the 12-month period measured forward from the date any employee's first FMLA leave begins; or
- a "rolling" 12-month period measured backward from the date an employee uses FMLA leave.

Q: Does the law guarantee paid time off?

No. The FMLA only requires unpaid leave. However, the law permits an employee to elect, or the employer to require the employee, to use accrued paid leave, such as vacation or sick leave, for some or all of the FMLA leave period. When paid leave is substituted for unpaid FMLA leave, it may be counted against the 12-week FMLA leave entitlement if the employee is properly notified of the designation when the leave begins.

Q: Does workers' compensation leave count against an employee's FMLA leave entitlement?

It can. FMLA leave and workers' compensation leave can run together, provided the reason for the absence is due to a qualifying serious illness or injury and the employer properly notifies the employee in writing that the leave will be counted as FMLA leave.

Q: Can the employer count leave taken due to pregnancy complications against the 12 weeks of FMLA leave for the birth and care of my child?

Yes. An eligible employee is entitled to a total of 12 weeks of FMLA leave in a 12-month period. If the employee has to use some of that leave for another reason, including a difficult pregnancy, it may be counted as part of the 12-week FMLA leave entitlement.

Q: Can the employer count time on maternity leave or pregnancy disability leave as FMLA leave?

Yes. Pregnancy disability leave or maternity leave for the birth of a child would be considered qualifying FMLA leave for a serious health condition and may be counted in the 12 weeks of leave so long as the employer properly notifies the employee in writing of the designation.

Q: If an employer fails to tell employees that the leave is FMLA leave, can the employer count the time they have already been off against the 12 weeks of FMLA leave?

In most situations, the employer cannot count leave as FMLA leave retroactively. Remember, the employee must be notified in writing that an absence is being designated as FMLA leave. If the employer was not aware of the reason for the leave, leave may be designated as FMLA leave retroactively only while the leave is in progress or within two business days of the employee's return to work.
Q: Who is considered an immediate "family member" for purposes of taking FMLA leave?

An employee's spouse, children (son or daughter), and parents are immediate family members for purposes of FMLA. The term "parent" does not include a parent "in-law." The terms son or daughter do not include individuals age 18 or over unless they are "incapable of self-care" because of a mental or physical disability that limits one or more of the "major life activities" as those terms are defined in regulations issued by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) under the Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA).

Q: May I take FMLA leave for visits to a therapist, if my doctor prescribes the therapy?

Yes. FMLA permits you to take leave to receive "continuing treatment by a health care provider," which can include recurring absences for therapy treatments such as those ordered by a doctor for physical therapy after a hospital stay, or for treatment of severe arthritis.

Q: Which employees are eligible to take FMLA leave?

Employees are eligible to take FMLA leave if they have worked for their employer for at least 12 months, and have worked for at least 1,250 hours over the previous 12 months, and work at a location where at least 50 employees are employed by the employer within 75 miles.

Q: Do the 12 months of service with the employer have to be continuous or consecutive?

No. The 12 months do not have to be continuous or consecutive; all time worked for the employer is counted.

Q: Do the 1,250 hours include paid leave time or other absences from work?

No. The 1,250 hours include only those hours actually worked for the employer. Paid leave and unpaid leave, including FMLA leave, are not included.

Q: How do I determine if I have worked 1,250 hours in a 12-month period?

Your individual record of hours worked would be used to determine whether 1,250 hours had been worked in the 12 months prior to the commencement of FMLA leave. As a rule of thumb, the following may be helpful for estimating whether this test for eligibility has been met:

- 24 hours worked in each of the 52 weeks of the year; or
- over 104 hours worked in each of the 12 months of the year; or
- 40 hours worked per week for more than 21 weeks (over seven months) of the year.

Q: Do I have to give my employer my medical records for leave due to a serious health condition?

No. You do not have to provide medical records. The employer may, however, request that, for any leave taken due to a serious health condition, you provide a medical certification confirming that a serious health condition exists.

Q: Can my employer require me to return to work before I exhaust my leave?

Subject to certain limitations, your employer may deny the continuation of FMLA leave due to a serious health condition if you fail to fulfill any obligations to provide supporting medical certification. The employer may not, however, require you to return to work early by offering you a light duty assignment.

Q: Are there any restrictions on how I spend my time while on leave?

Employers with established policies regarding outside employment while on paid or unpaid leave may uniformly apply those policies to employees on FMLA leave. Otherwise, the employer may not restrict your activities. The protections of FMLA will not, however, cover situations where the reason for leave no longer exists, where the employee has not provided required notices or certifications, or where the employee has misrepresented the reason for leave.

Q: Can my employer make inquiries about my leave during my absence?

Yes, but only to you. Your employer may ask you questions to confirm whether the leave needed or being taken qualifies for FMLA purposes, and may require periodic reports on your status and intent to return to work after leave. Also, if the employer wishes to obtain another opinion, you may be required to obtain additional medical certification at the employer’s expense, or recertification during a period of FMLA leave. The employer may have a health care provider representing the employer contact your health care provider, with your permission, to clarify information in the medical certification or to confirm that it was provided by the health care provider. The inquiry may not seek additional information regarding your health condition or that of a family member.

Q: Can my employer refuse to grant me FMLA leave?

If you are an "eligible" employee who has met FMLA’s notice and certification requirements (and you have not exhausted your FMLA leave entitlement for the year), you may not be denied FMLA leave.

Q: Will I lose my job if I take FMLA leave?

Generally, no. It is unlawful for any employer to interfere with or restrain or deny the exercise of any right provided under this law. Employers cannot use the taking of FMLA leave as a negative factor in employment actions, such as hiring, promotions or disciplinary actions; nor can FMLA leave be counted under "no fault" attendance policies. Under limited circumstances, an employer may deny reinstatement to work— but not the use of FMLA leave— to certain highly-paid, salaried ("key") employees.

Q: Are there other circumstances in which my employer can deny me FMLA leave or reinstatement to my job?

In addition to denying reinstatement in certain circumstances to "key" employees, employers are not required to continue FMLA benefits or reinstate employees who would have been laid off or otherwise had their employment terminated had they continued to work during the FMLA leave period as, for example, due to a general layoff.

Employees who give unequivocal notice that they do not intend to return to work: lose their entitlement to FMLA leave.

Employees who are unable to return to work: and have exhausted their 12 weeks of FMLA leave in the designated "12 month period" no longer have FMLA protections of leave or job restoration.

Under certain circumstances, employers who advise employees experiencing a serious health condition that they will require a medical certificate of fitness for duty to return to work: may deny reinstatement to an employee who fails to provide the certification, or may delay reinstatement until the certification is submitted.

Q: Can my employer fire me for complaining about a violation of FMLA?

No. Nor can the employer take any other adverse employment action on this basis. It is unlawful for any employer to discharge or otherwise discriminate against an employee for opposing a practice made unlawful under FMLA.

Q: Does an employer have to pay bonuses to employees who have been on FMLA leave?

The FMLA requires that employees be restored to the same or an equivalent position. If an employee was eligible for a bonus before taking FMLA leave, the employee would be eligible for the bonus upon returning to work. The FMLA leave may not be counted against the employee. For example, if an employer offers a perfect attendance bonus and the employee has not missed any time prior to taking FMLA leave, the employee would still be eligible for the bonus upon returning from FMLA leave.

On the other hand, FMLA does not require that employees on FMLA leave be allowed to accrue benefits or seniority. For example, an employee on FMLA leave might not have sufficient sales to qualify for a bonus. The employer is not required to make any special accommodation for this employee because of FMLA. The employer must, of course, treat an employee who has used FMLA leave at least as well as other employees on paid and unpaid leave (as appropriate) are treated.

The Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) Advisor provides information about employee eligibility under FMLA; including valid reasons for leave; employee/employer notification responsibilities; and employee rights and benefits. This Advisor was developed by the Wage and Hour Division of the Employment Standards Administration.

The Department of Labor (DOL) developed the elaws Advisors to help employees and employers understand their rights and responsibilities under numerous Federal employment laws. Each Advisor includes links to more detailed information that may be useful to the user, such as links to regulatory text, publications and organizations.

The Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) provides certain employees with up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave per year. It also requires that group health benefits be maintained during the leave.

The FMLA is designed to help employees balance their work and family responsibilities by taking reasonable unpaid leave for certain family and medical reasons. It also seeks to accommodate the legitimate interests of employers, and promotes equal employment opportunity for men and women.

The Family & Medical Leave Act:

- covers only certain employers;
- affects only those employees eligible for the protections of the law;
- involves entitlement to leave;
- maintains health benefits during leave;
- restores an employee's job after leave;
- sets requirements for notice and certification of the need for leave;
- protects employees who request or take leave; and
- includes certain employer record keeping requirements.

Related Laws:

A number of states have also enacted family and medical leave laws, some of which provide greater amounts of leave and benefits than those provided by FMLA, and/or provide benefits to employees who are not eligible for FMLA leave. In those situations where an employee is covered by both Federal and State FMLA laws, the employee is entitled to the greater benefit or more generous rights provided under the different parts of each law. Some employees may also be entitled to protections provided by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) which is administered by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).

SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) the number of single-parent households and two-parent households in which the single parent or both parents work is increasing significantly;

(2) it is important for the development of children and the family unit that fathers and mothers be able to participate in early child rearing and the care of family members who have serious health conditions;

(3) the lack of employment policies to accommodate working parents can force individuals to choose between job security and parenting;

(4) there is inadequate job security for employees who have serious health conditions that prevent them from working for temporary periods;

(5) due to the nature of the roles of men and women in our society, the primary responsibility for family caretaking often falls on women, and such responsibility affects the working lives of women more than it affects the working lives of men; and

(6) employment standards that apply to one gender only have serious potential for encouraging employers to discriminate against employees and applicants for employment who are of that gender.

(b) PURPOSES.--It is the purpose of this Act--

(1) to balance the demands of the workplace with the needs of families, to promote the stability and economic security of families, and to promote national interests in preserving family integrity;

(2) to entitle employees to take reasonable leave for medical reasons, for the birth or adoption of a child, and for the care of a child, spouse, or parent who has a serious health condition;

(3) to accomplish the purposes described in paragraphs (1) and (2) in a manner that accommodates the legitimate interests of employers;

(4) to accomplish the purposes described in paragraphs (1) and (2) in a manner that, consistent with the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment, minimizes the potential for employment discrimination on the basis of sex by ensuring generally that leave is available for eligible medical reasons (including maternity-related disability) and for compelling family reasons, on a gender-neutral basis; and

(5) to promote the goal of equal employment opportunity for women and men, pursuant to such clause.

"(e)(1) In any case in which the necessity for leave under subparagraph (A) or (B) of subsection (a)(1) is foreseeable based on an expected birth or placement, the employee shall provide the employing agency with not less than 30 days' notice, before the date the leave is to begin, of the employee's intention to take leave under such subparagraph, except that if the date of the birth or placement requires leave to begin in less than 30 days, the employee shall provide such notice as is practicable.

"(2) In any case in which the necessity for leave under subparagraph (C) or (D) of subsection (a)(1) is foreseeable based on planned medical treatment, the employee--

"(5) in the case of certification for intermittent leave, or leave on a reduced leave schedule, for planned medical treatment, the dates on which such treatment is expected to be given and the duration of such treatment.

"(c)(1) In any case in which the employing agency has reason to doubt the validity of the certification provided under subsection (a) for leave under subparagraph (C) or (D) of section 6322(a)(1), the employing agency may require, at the expense of the agency, that the employee obtain the opinion of a second health care provider designated or approved by the employing agency concerning any information certified under subsection (b) for such leave.

"(2) Any health care provider designated or approved under paragraph (1) shall not be employed on a regular basis by the employing agency.

"(d)(1) In any case in which the second opinion described in subsection (c) differs from the original certification provided under subsection (a), the employing agency may require, at the expense of the agency, that the employee obtain the opinion of a third health care provider designated or approved jointly by the employing agency and the employee concerning the information certified under subsection (b).

"(2) The opinion of the third health care provider concerning the information certified under subsection (b) shall be considered to be final and shall be binding on the employing agency and the employee.

"(b) The taking of leave under section 6382 shall not result in the loss of any employment benefit accrued prior to the date on which the leave commenced.

"(c) Except as otherwise provided by or under law, nothing in this section shall be construed to entitle any restored employee to--

"(1) the accrual of any employment benefits during any period of leave; or

"(2) any right, benefit, or position of employment other than any right, benefit, or position to which the employee would have been entitled had the employee not taken the leave.

"(d) As a condition to restoration under subsection (a) for an employee who takes leave under section 6382(a)(1)(D), the employing agency may have a uniformly applied practice or policy that requires each such employee to receive certification from the health care provider of the employee that the employee is able to resume work.

or its professional equivalent. Either academic units or colleges may develop more precise statements of what is expected under each criterion, but may not add other criteria. All such statements shall be approved by the TENURED FACULTY OF AN appropriate academic unit and OR college tenured-faculties, shall be made available to the probationary faculty members affected, and shall be kept on file in the appropriate administrative offices.

b) Evaluation for Promotion [5th and 6th paragraphs]

The statements listed below are intended to serve as Universitywide criteria for assignment of academic rank. Given the diversity of disciplines within the University, it is expected that there will be exceptions to the application of such criteria based upon the nature of a particular discipline (e.g., units with nonteaching faculty). Units with justifiable discipline-based exceptions may develop PROMOTION POLICIES WITH alternate criteria, which--SUCH ALTERNATE CRITERIA shall be approved by the faculty of the unit, by the appropriate Dean, and by the VPAA; Individual exceptions leading to appointment to a specific rank also require the approval of the Dean and the VPAA.

AN Academic units may develop A PROMOTION POLICY WITH more specific or more rigorous criteria in teaching, service, or scholarly activity, provided that such criteria are equitable and appropriate and provided that they do not conflict with the criteria below and, in a department/school, with the criteria of the college. The probationary period is provided as a period of trial employment to permit members of an academic unit to determine whether an appointment leading to tenure should continue. The candidate for tenure who has adhered to professional standards of ethics, as noted in the Academic Charter, B-II.F, the Ohio Code of Ethics Law, and appropriate professional codes of ethics, shall be granted or denied tenure solely on the basis of the following criteria: teaching effectiveness, scholarly or creative work, service to the University COMMUNITY OR PROFESSION, AND attainment of the terminal degree or its professional equivalent. Either AN academic units-or colleges may develop A TENURE POLICY WITH more precise OR MORE RIGOROUS statements of what is expected under each criterion; TEACHING EFFECTIVENESS, SCHOLARLY OR CREATIVE ACTIVITY, OR SERVICE, but may not add other criteria. All such statements shall be approved by the TENURED FACULTY OF THE appropriate academic unit and college-tenured faculties, shall be made available to the probationary faculty members affected, and shall be kept on file in the appropriate administrative offices.

Proposed Family and Medical Leave Act Policy

No. 55-97 Mr. Latta moved and Mr. Marsh seconded that approval be given to the following Family Medical Leave Act Policy and to inclusion of the policy into the Academic Charter and respective staff handbooks. The motion was approved with no negative votes.
FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT POLICY

Bowling Green State University (BGSU) historically has provided its employees a range of fringe benefits in recognition of the efforts of its loyal and dedicated work force. The University recognizes the conflicting demands placed on family-life and the work-life of employees where single working parent families exist or where both parents are working. The University desires to provide a working environment that offers solutions to the complex issues confronting employees in their efforts to balance their family and employment commitments. Accordingly, this Family and Medical Leave Policy (FMLP) although mandated by the U.S. Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA) provides BGSU's employees with benefits exceeding those required by federal law.

Any terms used from the FMLA will be defined in the Act or the U.S. Department of Labor regulations. Where Ohio law and/or BGSU policies provide for more generous terms than those contained in the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993, employees may avail themselves of these provisions instead. This policy summarizes the various employee and employer rights and obligations under the FMLA.

I. The FMLA Policy

The Family and Medical Leave Act provides eligible faculty and staff members up to 12 weeks (480 hours) of unpaid leave during any 12 month period for one or more of the following reasons:

A. for the birth of an employee's child or the placement for adoption or foster care of an employee's child or the care of an employee's child, but such leave shall expire one year after the birth or placement of the child;

B. for the care of an employee's family member who has a serious health condition; or

C. for a serious health condition that makes an employee unable to perform the employee's job.

II. Definitions

A. A "family member" is defined to include the employee's spouse, child, parent, grandparent, brother, sister, mother-in-law, father-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, grandchild, or legal guardian.

B. A "spouse" is defined as a husband or wife as recognized under the laws of the State of Ohio.

C. A "child" is defined as a biological, adopted or foster child, a stepchild, a legal ward, or child of an employee who has or had during the child's childhood daily responsibility to care for and financially support the child, who is either under the age of 18 or is incapable of self-care because of a physical or mental disability.

D. A "parent" is defined as a biological, foster, or adoptive parent, a stepparent, a legal guardian, or a person who has or had during the employee's childhood daily responsibility to care for and financially support the employee.

E. A "serious health condition" is an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves any of the following circumstances:

1. a period of incapacity or treatment connected with inpatient care in a hospital, hospice, or residential medical care facility,

2. any period of incapacity requiring absence of more than three days from work involving continuing treatment by or under the supervision of a health care provider,
3. continuing treatment by a health care provider for a chronic, long-term or incurable health condition that is so serious that, if not treated, would likely result in a period of incapacity of more than three calendar days,

4. conditions relating to pregnancy and childbirth, including prenatal care.

F. A "health care provider" is a person authorized to practice as a health care provider by a state, province, or nation and is performing within the scope of that practice as one of the following:

- doctor of medicine, doctor of osteopathy, podiatrist, dentist, clinical psychologist, optometrist, chiropractor (limited to manual manipulation of the spine to correct a subluxation as demonstrated by X-ray), nurse practitioner, nurse midwife, Christian Science practitioner listed with the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts.

G. "Intermittent leave" is leave taken in non-consecutive blocks of time rather than for one continuous period of time, and may include leave periods from an hour or more to several weeks.

H. "Reduced schedule" is a reduction in the usual number of working hours per day or week for a period of time for reasons relating to FML.

III. Eligibility

A BGSU employee is eligible for FML if he or she has been employed by the University at least 12 months prior to the date of leave (the 12 months need not be consecutive) and for at least 1,250 hours in the 12 months preceding the leave. Full-time administrative and classified staff and faculty are presumed to have worked 1,250 hours.

If both spouses are employed by the University, they are each entitled, to the extent each is eligible, to 12 weeks of FML. Leave for birth or placement of a child is available equally to both sexes.

IV. Notice to Employer

In the event of a planned leave, the immediate supervisor, followed by written procedures with regard to the need for family or medical time, must be given by the employee if possible, followed by written procedures.

V. Certification

A. Obtaining Leave

A request for FML must be supported by an appropriate health care provider with regard to policies.

The University reserves the right to request a second opinion, at its expense.

If the first and second opinions differ significantly, the University reserves the right to request a third and binding opinion from a jointly-selected health care provider whose fee will be paid by the University.
3. continuing treatment by a health care provider for a chronic, long-term or incurable health condition that is so serious that, if not treated, would likely result in a period of incapacity of more than three calendar days,

4. conditions relating to pregnancy and childbirth, including prenatal care.

F. A "health care provider" is a person authorized to practice as a health care provider by a state, province, or nation and is performing within the scope of that practice as one of the following:

   doctor of medicine, doctor of osteopathy, podiatrist, dentist, clinical psychologist, optometrist, chiropractor (limited to manual manipulation of the spine to correct a subluxation as demonstrated by X-ray), nurse practitioner, nurse midwife, Christian Science practitioner listed with the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts.

G. "Intermittent leave" is leave taken in non-consecutive blocks of time rather than for one continuous period of time, and may include leave periods from an hour or more to several weeks.

H. "Reduced schedule" is a reduction in the usual number of working hours per day or week for a period of time for reasons relating to FML.

III. Eligibility

A BGSU employee is eligible for FML if he or she has been employed by the University at least 12 months prior to the date of leave (the 12 months need not be consecutive) and for at least 1,250 hours in the 12 months preceding the leave. Full-time administrative and classified staff and faculty are presumed to have worked 1,250 hours.

If both spouses are employed by the University, they are each entitled, to the extent each is eligible, to 12 weeks of FML.

Leave for birth or placement of a child is available equally to both sexes.

IV. Notice to Employer

In the event of a planned absence, notification must be submitted to the employee's immediate supervisor, chair, or director at least 30 days in advance of the leave and followed by written documentation in accordance with existing University procedures with regard to leave usage.

If the need for family or medical leave is not foreseeable, verbal notice must be given by the employee to the immediate supervisor, chair, or director as soon as possible, followed by written documentation in accordance with existing University procedures.

V. Certification

A. Obtaining Leave

A request for FML must be substantiated with satisfactory certification from an appropriate health care provider in accordance with existing University leave policies.

The University reserves the right to request a second opinion, at its expense.

If the first and second opinions differ significantly, the University reserves the right to request a third and binding opinion from a jointly-selected health care provider whose fee will be paid by the University.
B. Returning to Work

When there is any question regarding the employee's ability to perform the job after an FML for a health condition, the University may require certification from the health care provider.

VI. Other Provisions

A. Commencement of Leave

An eligible employee is entitled to a total of 12 weeks of approved unpaid FML in a year. The year is measured forward from the first day of any family medical leave.

Leave for the birth, adoption or foster care of a child must take place within 12 months after the event. Leave may begin prior to the birth or adoption.

B. Intermittent or Reduced Leave

An intermittent or reduced leave schedule is available under the FMLA for the serious health condition of the employee or the employee's family.

C. Concurrency with Other Leaves

Any leave taken for one of the reasons stated in this policy shall be designated as FML and counted toward both the 12 weeks of FML and the appropriate paid or unpaid leave balances available under University policies.

D. Health Benefits

For the duration of the FML, the employee may continue health insurance benefits on the same terms as if the employee were working. The employee is responsible for submitting to the Benefits Office by check or money order that portion of the premium that would ordinarily be deducted from the paycheck. If payments are not made, the University may discontinue health care coverage.

If the employee elects not to return to work upon completion of an approved FML, the employee agrees to reimburse the University for the amount of the University's contribution to health insurance, unless the failure to return to work is beyond the employee's control.

E. Retirement Benefit

Employees on unpaid FML will not accrue STRS or PERS service credit nor vacation or sick leave accumulations for the period of the unpaid leave.

F. Confidentiality

To the extent allowed by law, the University will keep confidential the information relating to the reasons for requests for FML.

G. Restoration of Position

When the FML is completed, the employee will return to the same or an equivalent position with commensurate terms and conditions of employment. The University reserves the right to place the employee in an interim assignment with equivalent pay and benefits that better accommodate the employee's need for leave, or the needs of the students, or the University's operations.
H. Aid to Interpretation

To the extent that this document is incomplete or ambiguous, the language of the Family and Medical Leave Act or the Department of Labor regulations will prevail.

Principles and Policies/Procedures of the Performance-Based Merit System for Faculty

No. 56-97 Mr. Latta moved and Mr. Marsh seconded that approval be given to the following Principles and Policies/Procedures of the Performance-Based Merit System for Faculty. The motion was approved with no negative votes.

PRINCIPLES AND POLICIES/PROCEDURES OF THE PERFORMANCE-BASED MERIT SYSTEM FOR FACULTY AT BOWLING GREEN STATE UNIVERSITY

The faculty and administration of Bowling Green State University believe that the following principles must form the foundation for periodic process of faculty review and the equitable distribution of faculty salary increments. The concept of a performance-based merit system for awarding faculty salary increments is endorsed, provided that such a system is fair, equitable, and firmly grounded on these principles. In this policy, "merit" is defined as a salary increment that is allotted for the performance of duties that meets or exceeds department or academic unit expectations. The rationale for this definition is provided by the following principles:

1. An effective merit system should promote faculty recruitment and retention; adequately reward conscientious performance of normal duties and responsibilities; and provide incentives that encourage distinguished, innovative and creative achievements to meet unusual challenges and opportunities when they arise.

2. A salary system should be designed to promote internal equity (based upon salary comparisons within the University, college or department) as well as external equity (based upon salary comparisons among individuals from similar universities, colleges or departments). Internal salary equity promotes performance, whereas external salary equity promotes retention.

3. A performance-based merit system should be based on a collegial peer review process that places primary responsibility on the collegiate department or academic unit and that requires careful evaluation of performance utilizing the collective best judgment of faculty.

4. The merit system should engender the type, quantity, and quality of performance that contributes to the achievement of university, college and department missions and goals. The merit system also needs to recognize that there are often multiple paths that may be taken in support of missions and goals.

5. The department or academic unit approved allocations of effort and evaluative criteria should be reflected in its merit review process. That process must ensure that faculty who have unit-approved individual variations of effort are reviewed and rewarded proportionately to their own approved percentage of effort distributions.

6. The merit system needs to establish a clear connection between faculty performance and reward. A department or academic unit must clearly identify the normal expectations and performance standards for teaching, research/creative activity, and service that are expected of all faculty in the department or unit. Through this process, the department/unit must identify indicators of performances that fail below standard expectations for merit as well for those types of achievements that surpass the standard expectations of the department/unit.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Charles Middleton, Provost and VPAA
   Harold Lunde, Chair of Faculty Senate

FROM: Bob Holmes
   Chair of the Task Force on FMLP

RE: Report and Recommendations of the Task Force on FMLP

March 13, 1997

I am enclosing the recommended FMLP for all constituent groups, which passed unanimously at the task force meeting of February 28.

Additionally, the task force has these recommendations to the central administration and for discussion by the three welfare committees of the constituent groups:

a) Catastrophic Leave is needed, but more ground work is necessary to determine the cost, before this task force can recommend it;

b) Domestic partner coverage is needed but more ground work is necessary to determine the cost of health insurance policies before this can be recommended;

c) The administrative staff maternity leave should be increased from 4 to 6 months in order to harmonize it with the classified staff leave;

d) The definition of immediate family member must be consistent in all leave policies for all constituent groups;

e) All maternity or pregnancy leave policies should use language that permits males to use such benefits, i.e. change it to a paternity leave policy;

f) Fee waivers for part-time administrative and classified staff members and their dependents should be developed that are similar to part-time faculty benefits;
g) The fee waivers for administrative and classified staff who have worked fulltime at BGSU for ten years and their dependents should be made available indefinitely after retirement;

h) The tenure clock should stop running when a long-term leave is taken;

i) In order to make the sick leave policy for staff more equivalent to the faculty policy, flexible time programs for classified and administrative staffs should be created where feasible.

Two members feel strongly that recommendations f and g dealing with fee-waivers are outside of the scope of this task force's charge.

The Chair now thanks the task force members for developing these recommendations and FMLP in a very short time period and commends their efforts, insights and cooperative spirit which made this complicated task relatively easy and somewhat fun! A special thank you is given to Norma Stickler for her extra effort and contributions to the task force. She was awarded a task force high of two or three stars plus a valentine for her efforts!

FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT (FMLA) POLICY

Bowling Green State University understands the importance of family issues in today's workforce. The University also recognizes that more of its employees than ever face conflicting demands of family obligations and work. Because employees may find it necessary to take leave from their jobs for a temporary period to address certain family responsibilities or their own serious health conditions, and in order to comply with the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA), the University hereby establishes its parental leave and family and medical leave policy (hereafter referred to as FMLA leave).

1. General

a. Covered Leave. The University will grant an eligible employee unpaid FMLA leave for up to 12 work weeks during a 12-month period, if the procedures in this policy are followed and leave is requested for the following reasons:

   1. The birth or adoption of a child, or the foster care placement of a child.
   2. To care for a "family member" of the employee if that individual has a serious health condition.
   3. A serious health condition of the employee renders the individual unable to perform his or her job functions.

   Employees are limited to a maximum of 12 weeks unpaid FMLA leave for any of these purposes. An employee cannot take 12 weeks parental leave and 12 weeks sick leave during the same 12-month period. If the FMLA leave is for birth, adoption, or foster care placement, the leave must be completed within 12 months of the date of birth or placement.

b. The 12-Month Period. Available leave will be calculated by determining the amount of FMLA leave used by an employee for the 12 months prior to each day for which FMLA leave is requested under this policy and subtracting that number from the total number of days equal to 12 work weeks. Employees will be advised when requesting leave of the amount of FMLA time they have available.

c. Spousal Exception. If a husband and wife both work for the University, and are eligible for FMLA leave, they are entitled to a combined 12 work weeks of leave taken for birth, adoption, foster care, and to care for a parent. The 12 weeks will be calculated in the same manner as leave for an individual employee.

d. State Law and University Policy. All of the same procedures will apply to leaves under state law and University policy that are longer than 12 weeks (medical, disability, maternity). Leave under state law will run concurrently with leave under this policy. The University will comply with both federal and state law, as well as University policy regarding these leaves.

e. Intermittent Leave. An employee taking leave for personal illness or to take care of a sick family member need not take such leave continuously and may take it on an intermittent basis, or by reducing the employee's scheduled work hours, if the employee
3. Eligibility
   a. Minimum Eligibility Requirements.
      (1) An employee is eligible if he or she has been employed for at least 12 months (or 52 weeks) by the University, and has worked at least 1,250 hours during the 12-month period prior to the time leave would begin under this policy. Personnel Services will make the determination at the time of the leave request.
      (2) Hours are calculated based upon actual hours that the employee worked, including overtime.
      (3) Personnel Services will use its records of hours worked for all classified staff. In the case of administrative staff, it will be assumed that any employee employed full-time for seven and one-half months meets the 1,250-hours requirement. Administrative staff who have 12 months prior service, but less than seven and one-half months full-time continuous service at the time leave is requested, must include documentation of hours worked with their request.
   b. Work Site Rules. The University will attempt to accommodate all FMLA leave requests, regardless of the number of employees at a particular work site. Employees must realize that they are not protected under FMLA if there are fewer than 50 employees within 75 miles of the University's work site. (Note: Given the number of employees at both the main campus and at the Firelands College campus, this rule does not presently apply to the University.)
   c. Leave For Serious Health Conditions. Employees should recognize that this policy and FMLA are only intended to cover serious health conditions -- generally those which involve more than three days incapacity from work or school, or chronic long-term, incurable conditions. Employees who wish to take leave to care for family members with non-serious health conditions are not covered by this policy. Employees can use their sick leave, vacation or personal leave for non-serious health conditions, subject to the requirements of those policies, including scheduling and increments of leave. The granting of unpaid leave for non-serious health conditions is within the discretion of the immediate supervisor and the Executive Director of Personnel Services and is covered in the employee handbooks.

4. Procedures For Requesting Leave.
   a. Requests For Leave.
      (1) Procedure. All requests for family or medical leave will be initiated by the employee contacting the immediate supervisor. This will assist the supervisor in working out appropriate schedules. If for any reason the employee does not wish to inform the immediate supervisor of the reason for the leave, or if there are any questions about the supervisor's response, the employee may contact the Office of Personnel Services. In all cases, employees will be asked to complete a "Request For Family or Medical Leave" form, copies of which are included with this policy.
      (2) Foreseeable Leaves. If the need for family or medical leave is foreseeable, the employee must provide notice to the immediate supervisor of not less than 30 days. Leave will be denied unless there is a reasonable excuse for the delay. If leave is denied for lack of notice, the employee may designate leave to start after 30 days notice is given.
d. Confidentially The University will keep confidential all information relating to requests for family or medical leave. This information will be used only to make decisions in regard to the provisions of this policy. Supervisors must submit all records to Personnel Services and should not retain any copies in their files. The University will follow the confidentiality rules of the Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) for all FMLA-related information.

5. Substitution Of Sick Leave, Personal Leave, Compensatory Time and Vacation Time.

a. Substitution Options. Employees may elect to substitute accrued but unused sick leave, personal leave, compensatory time or vacation time under this policy, but are not required to do so. In the case of an employee's illness or serious health condition (including childbirth), the employee is required to exhaust sick and/or personal leave before using compensatory time or vacation leave. In determining whether leave has been accrued or earned, the University will apply the present provisions of the respective policies, including any restrictions.

b. Unpaid Leave. Unless an employee substitutes leave, the FMLA leave will be unpaid.

6. Benefits.

a. Health Benefits. During the leave the University will maintain the employee's coverage for health benefits as it existed prior to the start of the leave. If the employee is under the University's health plan he/she will be required to continue to pay their portion of the premium normally deducted from the individual's pay check and will pay such costs to the Benefits/Insurance Office.

If the employee fails to make the required payments for health insurance within thirty (30) days of the date that such payments are due, health coverage may be discontinued; or at the sole discretion of the University it may be continued. If this is done, the University has the right to recover health premium amounts. The employee will be notified whether coverage will be continued or not. All amounts due the University because of unreimbursed health benefits provided during leave will be deducted from the employee's pay.

b. Other Benefits. Other benefits normally provided to University employees will continue in force as indicated in the employee handbook.

7. Reinstatement

General. An employee taking FMLA leave under this policy will be returned to the employee's same position or to an equivalent position, at the election of the University unless the employee would have been terminated in the absence of any leave (e.g., layoff, down-sizing or termination of a temporary job). The taking of FMLA leave will not result in any loss of benefits or conditions of employment accrued prior to the beginning of the leave period.

b. Fitness-For-Duty Examinations. The University will require a fitness-for-duty certification prior to reinstatement for all employees taking FMLA leave for a serious health condition or where there is any question regarding the employee's ability to safely perform the job.

YOUR RIGHTS
under the
FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT OF 1993

FMLA requires covered employers to provide up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave to "eligible" employees for certain family and medical reasons. Employees are eligible if they have worked for a covered employer for at least one year, and for 1,250 hours over the previous 12 months, and if there are at least 50 employees within 75 miles.

REASONS FOR TAKING LEAVE: Unpaid leave must be granted for any of the following reasons:

► to care for the employee's child after birth, or placement for adoption or foster care;
► to care for the employee's spouse, son or daughter, or parent, who has a serious health condition; or
► for a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee's job.

At the employee's or employer's option, certain kinds of paid leave may be substituted for unpaid leave.

ADVANCE NOTICE AND MEDICAL CERTIFICATION: The employee may be required to provide advance leave notice and medical certification. Taking of leave may be denied if requirements are not met.

► The employee ordinarily must provide 30 days advance notice when the leave is "foreseeable."
► An employer may require medical certification to support a request for leave because of a serious health condition, and may require second or third opinions (at the employer's expense) and a fitness for duty report to return to work.

JOB BENEFITS AND PROTECTION:

► For the duration of FMLA leave, the employer must maintain the employee's health coverage under any group health plan.
► Upon return from FMLA leave, most employees must be restored to their original or equivalent positions with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms.
► The use of FMLA leave cannot result in the loss of any employment benefit that accrued prior to the start of an employee's leave.

UNLAWFUL ACTS BY EMPLOYERS: FMLA makes it unlawful for any employer to:

► interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided under FMLA;
► discharge or discriminate against any person for opposing any practice made unlawful by FMLA or for involvement in any proceeding under or relating to FMLA.

ENFORCEMENT:

► The U.S. Department of Labor is authorized to investigate and resolve complaints of violations.
► An eligible employee may bring a civil action against an employer for violations.

FMLA does not affect any Federal or State law prohibiting discrimination, or supersede any State or local law or collective bargaining agreement which provides greater family or medical leave rights.

[PR Doc. 63-13028 Filed 6-3-93; 8:45 am]
Here are the provisions of the law signed by President Clinton requiring larger employers to give workers unpaid leave for a family or medical emergency.

- Employers that have 50 or more employees within a 75-mile radius will be covered by the law, which applies to non-profit and governmental agencies as well as business.

- Employers will be required to offer workers as much as 12 weeks of unpaid leave after childbirth or adoption, to care for a seriously ill child, spouse or parent, or in case of an employee's own serious illness.

- Employers will have to continue health care coverage during the leave.

- Employers will have to guarantee employees will return to either the same job or a comparable position.

- Employers can exempt "key" employees - defined as their highest paid 10% of the workforce and whose leave would cause economic harm to the employer.

- Employers can exempt employees who haven't worked at least one year and who haven't worked at least 1,250 hours, or 25 hours a week, in the previous 12 months.

- A doctor's certification must be obtained to verify a serious illness. Employer may require a second medical opinion.

- A qualifying condition is defined as the need for continuing care and the inability to perform one's job, or the need to care for an ill family member.

- Employers can substitute an employee's accrued paid leave for any part of the 12-week period of family leave.

- Employees will be required to provide 30 days' notice for foreseeable leaves for birth, adoption or planned medical treatment.

- Employers will be permitted to require an employee taking intermittent leave for planned medical treatments to transfer temporarily to an equivalent alternative position. Medical certification for such leave must include the expected dates for medical treatment and the planned duration of the treatments.
