

10-26-1981

Monitor Newsletter October 26, 1981

Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor>

How does access to this work benefit you? Let us know!

---

Recommended Citation

Bowling Green State University, "Monitor Newsletter October 26, 1981" (1981). Monitor. 79.
<https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor/79>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the University Publications at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Monitor by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@BGSU.

Monitor

Vol. V, No. 6

Bowling Green State University

October 26, 1981

Cultural complex

Foreign students give campus new dimension

The best way to learn about other cultures is to get to know the people produced by those cultures, says L. Edward Shuck, international programs.

And the Bowling Green community has an excellent opportunity to increase its international understanding because the University this fall has enrolled a record 298 foreign students from 57 countries.

The extent to which Americans can learn about other cultures from a book or in the classroom is limited, Dr. Shuck said. With that in mind, the international programs office attempts to sponsor events that will enable students, faculty and staff to meet the international students who "have so much to offer us."

As usual, the country with the greatest representation is Canada, with 37 students. There are 22 students from the Republic of China and 19 from Nigeria. For the first time ever, Bowling Green has six students from the People's Republic of China.

Most of the international students are enrolled in the College of Business Administration.

Dr. Shuck said the reasons international students are attending American universities are as varied as the students themselves.

Generally, he said, foreign students want a greater understanding of the United States as a major cultural entity; need techniques they can't get at home, such as business and physics; and want a different approach to education.

Many leaders of other countries have received part of their education in the United States or at major European universities, Dr. Shuck noted.

In turn, the international students make "a tremendous contribution to our cultural complex at Bowling Green," he added.

Dr. Shuck is also working with foreign universities interested in developing exchange programs. Bowling Green currently has direct exchanges with universities in Germany, Korea and Japan and Dr.

Shuck is hoping to add the University of Bath in England to the exchange program.

To facilitate contact between foreign students and the rest of the University population, international coffee hours are held Tuesdays and Thursdays in the International Student Lounge in the basement of Williams Hall.

Also, the World Student Organization, open to both Americans and non-Americans, sponsors events such as Latin American Night and International Week in the spring.

Program makes English less foreign to international students

International students who enroll at Bowling Green may find themselves in mathematics, sociology, biological sciences, history or any other course typical of the University's graduate or undergraduate programs.

The classes, of course, are all taught in English; the texts are printed in English, and the students in those classes are expected to recite in English.

In fact, according to Dr. Wallace Pretzer, who directs the University's English as a Foreign Language program, it is the international students' fluency in English which really determines how successful they will be at Bowling Green.

The University exercises some careful controls to ensure that those students have a minimal amount of frustration with the language.

Bowling Green's EFL program, which Dr. Pretzer and James Kenkel, English, oversee, is defined as "semi-intensive." Undergraduates are expected to be proficient in English at the intermediate to advanced levels when they enroll at Bowling Green, and graduate students must have high-intermediate to advanced levels of proficiency when they are admitted.

Those levels are pre-determined by standardized tests of English grammar, vocabulary, reading comprehension, writing and listening which are required of all foreign students seeking admission to Bowling Green.

Once on campus, every international student whose native language is not English is tested again for placement in one of the University's English courses.

Undergraduates, depending upon their levels of proficiency, can be placed in English 100, an eight-hour course taught by Dr. Kenkel specifically for foreign students and including instruction in speaking/listening, reading and writing; a special section of English 110 taught for foreign students by Dr. Kenkel, or in the standard English 111 and 112 courses for all freshmen.

Graduate students are enrolled in English 500, taught by Dr. Pretzer. Although they cannot count the course credits toward degree requirements, they are expected to complete the EFL program in accordance with the Graduate College English policy.

Dr. Pretzer added that they are retained in the program until they show "adequacy in English relevant to their field of study." That adequacy, he said, is determined in part by a set of national standards.

Dr. Pretzer and Dr. Kenkel prepare an English proficiency report for the advisers of each international student. Students who have lower levels of proficiency are generally encouraged not to take a full academic load for credit until they have improved their language skills.

With record numbers of international students on campus this fall, Dr. Pretzer noted that the work load in the EFL program is beginning to increase. Prior to 1979, some 50-60 students were tested for English proficiency each fall.

In each of the last two years, however, about 100 students took the tests, with more than 60 placed this fall in one of the special EFL courses.

New mats add spring to gymnasts' routines

John White and Charles Simpson, health, physical education and recreation, live by the principle that "necessity is the mother of invention."

Faced with inadequate budgets, they spent much of last summer constructing special equipment for use by students in the gymnastic classes and members of the gymnastic team.

The two are near completion of their latest project: a 40-square-foot gymnastic mat, several platform mats and a training pit, all located in Eppler Complex North.

Supplies used in the construction of the equipment have been purchased with money from the athletic fund which supports the gymnastic team, but the 200 hours of labor which Drs. White and Simpson have contributed to-date have been free.

"We're professionals. We feel that is what we should do," Dr. White said, and Dr. Simpson added that without their free labor, the equipment would not have been obtained.

In addition, they both feel that what has been built at Bowling Green is far superior to anything which could have been purchased.

The large exercise mat has more cushion and spring than any which is commercially made because Drs. Simpson and White want them safe for the sophisticated and dangerous routines which University gymnasts perform. The mat's commercial counterpart sells for about $12,000; Bowling Green's version cost slightly more than $3,000.

Drs. Simpson and White also have constructed a training pit with runway which is used for anything that involves dismounting (such as vaulting, uneven parallel bars and rings) or tumbling. The pit allows gymnasts to practice routines which might otherwise be too dangerous to attempt, according to Dr. White. And Dr. Simpson added that he thinks Bowling Green is the only college in the country with such a pit.

Dr. White also made several platform mats which have been placed around the base of the gymnastic equipment for safety.

Interim President Ferrari commended both faculty members for their work at the Oct. 9 meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Charles Simpson and John White, health, physical education and recreation, donated some 200 hours of their time to construct gymnastics equipment in the Eppler Complex this summer. Several platform mats are among the equipment which the two have made.

Staff share concerns with state representative

Whether the state's civil service employees will get a raise, when that raise might come and how much it would be are questions that have not yet been answered by the state legislature.

But Rep. Robert Brown of Perrysburg told members of the Personnel Steering Committee Friday (Oct. 16) that he is fairly confident some kind of raise will come.

Brown was invited to the campus by the steering committee to answer questions about pending legislation dealing with classified employees' wages and benefits.

He detailed parts of Amended House Bill 694, a state appropriations bill which has passed the House of Representatives.

That bill calls for a 75 cent-an-hour or 10 percent hourly wage increase, whichever is higher, to take effect for civil service workers whenever a budget bill is approved for the state. It also specifies a 40 cent-an-hour, or five percent increase, whichever is greater, to take effect July 1, 1982.

Also included in that legislation is removal of the present $9.06 per hour ceiling for overtime compensation and a provision which would allow employees with 10 years in the state system to collect a cash payment for 50 percent of unused, accrued sick leave upon their retirement.

Michael Moore, the University's legislative liaison, said, however, that the Senate Finance Committee has set aside its considerations of Amended H.B. 694 in favor of legislation which would cost the state less money. And no one knows when the two legislative branches will reach an agreement on a bill which will give the state a permanent budget for the next two years (1981-83).

Meanwhile, Brown said, the state's classified employees must wait for any salary increases, since they are tied directly to the budget bill.

He noted, however, that he knows of no legislator who is opposed to salary increases for state employees, who have not had a cost of living wage increase for three years. The problem, he said, is finding the money to grant the much-needed raises.

"Partisan politics enter it all," he said. "Politicians all like to spend money, but they also all hate to ask the taxpayer for it."

He also noted that any wage increase approved by the state legislature might be funded by the state at a level of only about 65 percent. The University would have to find the remaining dollars to fund any increase.

Brown's presentation taped for viewing

On Friday, Oct. 16, the Personnel Steering Committee met with State Representative Robert Brown to discuss pending legislation concerning a pay raise for classified employees.

The session with Rep. Brown was videotaped for viewing by interested classified staff. The one-hour videotape may be seen the following times and places:

Wednesday, Oct. 28-	3:30-4:30 p.m. 111 South Hall
Thursday, Oct. 29-	2:30-3:30 p.m. 111 South Hall
Friday, Oct. 30-	11 a.m. to noon 400 Moseley 1:30-2:30 p.m. 105 South Hall 3-4 p.m. 105 South Hall

Committee to guide letter writing effort

Classified employees interested in writing personal letters to their Ohio legislators can get some assistance from members of the Personnel Steering Committee.

Information sessions are scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 28, noon-12:30 p.m. in the Taft Room of the Union, and Thursday, Oct. 29, 4:30-5 p.m., also in the Taft Room.

Names and addresses of state senators and representatives and tips on how to write an effective letter will be available at these sessions.

Truman award nominations due

Applications are now being accepted for students interested in applying for a Harry S. Truman Scholarship, awarded annually to rising juniors who have outstanding potential for leadership in government.

The scholarship covers tuition, fees, books, and room and board to a maximum of $5,000 annually.

Faculty who know of interested, qualified students should contact Steven Ludd, political science. Self-nominations are accepted. The deadline for applying is Nov. 20.

Monitor

Monitor is published every Monday for faculty, contract and classified staff of Bowling Green State University. Deadline for submission of material for the next issue, Nov. 2, is 5 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 27.

Editor: Linda Swaisgood
Editorial Assistants: Karen Elder, Sarah Bissland
Change of address and other notices should be sent to:
Monitor
806 Administration Building
Bowling Green State University
Bowling Green, Ohio 43403

Rep. Robert Brown (center) of Perrysburg met Oct. 16 with members of the Personnel Steering Committee to answer questions about pending legislation which will affect classified employees. Charlotte Starnes, Campus Safety and Security, and Richard Leady, technical support services, were among the committee members who questioned Brown.

Trustees OK sexual harassment policy

The Board of Trustees approved the following University policy on sexual harassment at its meeting Oct. 9:

SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY FOR BOWLING GREEN STATE UNIVERSITY

Policy Statement

It is the policy of Bowling Green State University that sexual harassment will not be condoned. This policy applies equally to faculty, contract and classified staff, and students and is in keeping with the spirit and intent of guidelines on discrimination because of sex.

Policy Guidelines and Procedures

I. Definition

Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when:

- submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or academic pursuits,
- submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment or academic decisions affecting such individual, or
- such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's employment or academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or educational environment.

II. Regulations

- It is a violation of University policy for any member of the faculty, contract and classified staff, or student body to engage in sexual harassment, as defined in Section I.
- It is a violation of University policy to retaliate against anyone bring forth an honestly perceived complaint of sexual harassment.

III. Responsibilities

- On a university-wide basis, the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance is responsible for the coordination and implementation of Bowling Green State University's sexual harassment policy. This office will serve as the resource with regard to all matters of this nature.
- Each dean, director, department chair, and administrative head of an operational unit is responsible for the dissemination and implementation of this policy within his or her area of responsibility. Persons at this level are also responsible for referring reported incidents of sexual harassment to the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance.
- It is expected that each faculty member, contract staff member, and classified staff member will ensure adherence to this policy within his or her area of responsibility. Such efforts are largely a matter of faith.
- It is the responsibility of all members of the University community to discourage sexual harassment, report such incidents, and cooperate in any investigation which might result.

IV. Grievance Procedures

The procedures outlined below are designed to provide sufficient flexibility in which to deal with the wide range of incidents which fall under the term "sexual harassment." They are intended to be responsible for the particular situation at hand and will be as formal or informal as the allegations under review indicate.

A. Procedure for the Complainant

- Any individual who believes that he or she has been sexually harassed should contact the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance. Staff in this office will initially discuss the matter with the complainant to ascertain, as fully as possible, the validity of the charges and the scope of the problem. At this time, it will be determined if there is a basis for investigation.
- Initial discussions with staff in the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance would not make reference to the name of any accused person unless the complainant is ready to file a formal complaint and proceed with an investigation.
- Before the Office can begin its investigation, the allegations must be submitted, in writing, to the Director of Equal Opportunity Compliance. Until this occurs, the matter will not be discussed with anyone other than the complainant.
- An investigation will be conducted by a staff person in the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance only if the complainant has filed a formal, written complaint.
- The role of the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance in the processing of the complaint will include, but is not limited to, the following:
  - consultation with the complainant,
  - discussion with appropriate persons suggested by the complainant who may have knowledge of the situation and can be of assistance in establishing the facts of the complaint,
  - preparing a complete investigative report of the complaint. This report will include recommendations for resolution. It will be submitted, in writing, to the Provost for appropriate administrative action. A copy will also be sent to the complainant and the respondent.
- If the complainant is not satisfied with the action taken by the Provost, he or she may appeal, in writing, to the President of the University. The appeal must be filed within seven (7) calendar days of notification of the Provost's decision. The President will review the appeal and respond, in writing, to all parties - respondent, complainant, Director of Equal Opportunity Compliance, and the Provost - concerning his or her disposition of the appeal. This must be done within ten (10) calendar days after receiving the appeal.

B. Procedure for the Respondent

- Investigations regarding alleged instance of sexual harassment will be conducted by staff in the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance only if a formal, written complaint has been filed with the Director of Equal Opportunity Compliance.
- The role of the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance in the processing of the complaint will include, but is not limited to, the following:
  - consultation with the respondent,
  - discussion with appropriate persons suggested by the respondent who may have knowledge of the situation and can be of assistance in establishing the facts of the complaint,
  - preparing a complete investigative report of the complaint. This report will include recommendations for resolution. It will be submitted, in writing, to the Provost for appropriate administrative action. A copy will also be sent to the complainant and the respondent.
- If the respondent is not satisfied with the action taken by the Provost, he or she may appeal, in writing, to the President of the University. The appeal must be filed within seven (7) calendar days of the notification of the Provost's decision. The President will review the appeal and respond, in writing, to all parties - respondent, complainant, Director of Equal Opportunity Compliance, and the Provost - concerning his or her disposition of the appeal. This must be done within ten (10) calendar days after the appeal.

C. Principles

In investigating complaints of sexual harassment, the following principles will be adhered to:

- Each complaint will be handled on an individual, case-by-case basis, taking a look at the record as a whole and at the totality of circumstances.
- The investigation will be conducted as fairly and expeditiously as possible.
- In investigating complaints of sexual harassment, confidentiality will be accorded the utmost respect for both the complainant and the respondent.
- An individual bringing forth an honestly perceived complaint of sexual harassment will not suffer any type of retaliation regardless of the outcome of the complaint.
- The complaint will be resolved in a manner which is consistent with this policy and also fair and equitable to all parties concerned.

Faculty & Staff

Grants

Michael Fitzpatrick, WBGU-TV, $10,000 from the Northwest Ohio Educational Television Foundation to continue the "News Six" series which broadcasts news stories reported and written by area sixth graders.

Melvin Hyman, speech communication, $66,000 from the U.S. Office of Education to train graduate students in speech, hearing, language, pathology and audiology for work with the severely handicapped and those in early childhood years.

William B. Jackson, environmental research and services, $28,800 from the UN Food and Agricultural Organization as fellowships for four Kenyan students who will study vertebrate pest management. Also $16,675 from Eli Lilly and company to study experimental rodenticides.

Sally Kilmer, home economics, $3,045 from Lima-Allen Head Start for consultative and instructional services in the preparation for Child Development Associate credentialing.

Ann-Marie Lancaster and David Chilson, computer science, $200 from Owens-Corning Fiberglas as a supplement to cover coding and analysis of a CSR dimension selection questionnaire.

A.I. Milliron, management support services, $100,000 from the Toledo Area CETA Consortium for a food service and hospitality training program targeted toward CETA-certified adults.

The project aims to develop individuals for placement in the hospitality and food service industry. Training includes a three-week base development program for attitude adjustment and getting ready for the world of work and a 27-week combination of on-the-job training and classroom instruction.

Ron C. Woodruff, biological sciences, $166,810 from the National Institute of Environmental Health Science to continue for the third year a program to test 23 environmental chemicals and mixtures for mutagenicity in Drosophila.

Recognitions

Burton Beerman, music composition and history, had three works performed recently: "Concerto I" at Baylor University; "Dance for Celeste" at the 11th annual Electronic Music Plus Festival at Colgate University, and "Moment 1981" at the AKI Festival in Cleveland.

Frances Burnett, music performance studies, performed this summer for the 50th anniversary celebration of the Accademia Musicale Chigiana in Siena, Italy.

She also has recently received a touring grant from the Ohio Arts Council.

Leslie Chamberlin, educational administration and supervision, has been elected president-elect of the University's chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, honorary fraternity in education, for 1981-82.

Emil Dansker, journalism, has been elected president of the Ohio Journalism Educators Association.

Rex Eikum, music performance studies, sang the lead tenor role for the American premiere performance of Amilcare Ponchielli's grand opera, "I Lituani" (The Lithuanians) in June in Chicago.

Edward D. Fiscus, special education, has been elected to a three-year term as at-large representative to the executive board of the Ohio School Psychologists Association.

Marilyn F. Griewank, art, won the Crafts First Prize in the Canton Art Institute's All Ohio Show 1981 with her entry "Living Proof." The entry was stolen before the exhibition opened to the public.

Robert M. Gulon, psychology, was elected president of the division of measurements and evaluation and awarded the James McKean Cattell Award for excellence in research design by the division of industrial and organizational psychology at the 89th annual convention of the American Psychological Association in Los Angeles.

Dr. Gulon has also been named editor of the "Journal of Applied Psychology," a journal of the American Psychological Association, for 1983-88.

Sally Kilmer, home economics, has been elected treasurer of the National Association for the Education of Young Children.

Kelly Martino, music education, will be a guest conductor of the Mid-West Directors Orchestra at the Mid-West National Band and Orchestra Clinic Dec. 15 in Chicago.

James F. McKenzie, health, physical education and recreation, has been named vice president-elect of the health division of the Ohio Association of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance.

Les A. Meserve, biological sciences, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Electron Microscopy Society of Northwestern Ohio at its annual symposium Oct. 9.

Sandra Packard, education, has been appointed to the National Advisory Council to the National Commission on Higher Education Issues of the American Council of Education.

The advisory council includes leaders in higher education from around the country who are asked to comment on and provide input for the commission, which is developing a set of recommendations on the issue of quality in higher education.

Herbert Spencer, music performance studies, adjudicated the seventh International Horn Competition held in Williamsburg, Va., in August, and was one of the performing artists at the International Horn Society Workshop in Potsdam, N.Y. in June. He will be traveling to Brussels, Belgium, in November to teach at the Antwerp Royal Conservatory and present a chamber music concert with the Flemish String Quartet.

Doris Williams, home economics, has been appointed to the Commission on Early Childhood Teacher Education Guidelines of the National Association for the Education of Young Children. Commission members will hear comments and suggestions on the subject of teacher education guidelines for early childhood during the 1981 NAEYC Annual Conference Nov. 6-8 in Detroit.

Publications

Elizabeth R. Allgeier, psychology, is the co-editor of "Gender Roles and Sexual Behavior: The Changing Boundaries," to be published by Mayfield Publishing Co. A chapter in the book, "Sink or Swing? The Lifestyles of Single Adults," was written by graduate assistant Diane Phillips.

Pamela J. Benoit, speech communication, "The Weltanschauung Philosophy of Science: Toulmin and Kuhn," in the "Ohio Speech Journal," vol. 19. Also, "The Use of Argument by Preschool Children: The Emergent Production of Rules for Winning Arguments," in "Dimensions of Argument: Proceedings of the Second Summer Conference on Argument."

William L. Benoit, speech communication, "The Role of Argumentative Analysis in Individual Events" and "An Empirical Investigation of Argumentative Strategies Employed in Supreme Court Opinions" in "Dimensions of Argument: Proceedings of the Second Summer Conference on Argument." Dr. Benoit also co-authored with graduate student John Sprowl "Selecting Evidence: An Instructional Technique" in Vol. 19 of "Ohio Speech Journal."

John C. Cavanaugh, psychology, "Early developmental theories: A brief review of attempts to organize developmental data prior to 1925," an article in the "Journal of the History of the Behavioral Sciences," Vol. 17.

Dr. Cavanaugh has also co-authored the following articles: "Picture cues and exhaustive search facilitate very young children's memory for location," in "Developmental Psychology," Vol. 17; "Semantic and contextual cuing of preschool children's recall," in "Child Development," Vol. 52; "Forgetting and use of memory aids in 20- and 70-year olds' everyday life," in "International Journal of Aging and Human Development" currently in press; "Metamemory: A critical analysis," in "Child Development," Vol. 53, and "Metacognition and intelligence theory," a chapter in "Intelligence and Learning."

Emil Dansker, journalism, co-authored with free lance writer John C. Cooper an article on the 40th anniversary of Civil Air Patrol to be published in "Marathon World."

Jerry Hartwell, instructional media, "Individualizing Machinery Operation Instruction with Filmstrips," in the September issue of "Voc Ed," journal of the American Vocational Association.

Harry W. Hoemann and graduate assistant Janis Briga, psychology, "Hearing Impairment," a chapter in "Handbook of Special Education," and "Psychosocial Aspects of Deafness," a chapter in "Mental Health and Deafness." Dr. Hoemann wrote a chapter, "Sign Languages and the Deaf Community," and co-edited "Linguagem de Sinais do Brasil" to be published in Porto Alegre, Brazil. He also co-authored with Bruce Ross "Children's Concepts of Chance and Probability," a chapter in "Children's Logical and Mathematical Cognition."

Laurence J. Jankowski, journalism, "Education for Entry," an article in the September, 1981 issue of "Communicator," published by the Radio/Television News Directors Association.

Joseph Mancuso, geology, and Ron Seavoy, history, "Precambrian coal or anthracolite: a source of graphite in high-grade schists and gneisses," an article in the June-July, 1981 issue of the Bulletin of the Society of Economic Geologists.

James F. McKenzie, health, physical education and recreation, authored six chapters and is the editor of "School Health Services and School Environment" which is used as the text for HED 409. Other health, physical education and recreation faculty members who contributed to the text are Robert Livengood and I. Clay Williams.

James R. Ostas, economics, "Savings and Loan Demand for Federal Home Loan Bank Advances," in the forthcoming issue of the "Housing Finance Review."

Ronald E. Seavoy, history, "Slope Stability of the Ifugao Rice Terraces: Banaue, Philippines," in the "Philippine Geographical Journal," Vol. 34, 1980.

Sri Lankan officer to tour University

The chief academic and administrative officer of the University of Sri Jayawardenepura in Sri Lanka will be on campus Oct. 28-30, visiting University administrators, consulting with faculty and observing classes in his academic specialty.

Dr. K. Jinadasa Perera, a linguist and expert on Buddhist philosophy and culture, is visiting Bowling Green as part of a world tour which will take him to universities throughout the United States and in several other countries.

Ronald Stoner, physics and astronomy, who spent the 1980-81 academic year as a Fulbright professor at the University of Sri Jayawardenepura, is coordinating Dr. Perera's local visit.

Russians to visit journalism class

Two Russian citizens will give their perspective on the Russian press to students in Laurence Jankowski's introduction to mass communication class at 4:30 p.m. today in 115 Education Building. The presentation will be open to the public.

Sergei Karaganov, a junior research fellow at Russia's Institute of USA and Canada Studies, and Valentina Homchenko, a factory works committee member from Minsk, have been brought to the United States by the Inter-Faith Justice Committee of Toledo. Dr. Jankowski is on the welcoming committee of that organization.

Karaganov and Homchenko will be in the area for a week but will be at the University only today.

Grant, fellowship deadlines set

Following is a list of upcoming grant and fellowship deadlines, as announced by the Research Services Office. Further information is available in that office, McFall Center, 372-2481.

- 11/15/81 - Rome Prize Fellowships
- 11/15/81 - Department of Justice Visiting Fellowships
- 11/15/81 - Japan Foundation Fellowships
- 11/30/81 - BGSU Faculty Research Committee Associateships and Grants
- 12/1/81 - ACLS East European Study Grants
- 12/11/81 - NSF Mathematical Sciences Postdoctoral Research Fellowships
- 12/15/81 - ACLS Grants-In-Aid
- 12/30/81 - ACLS Fellowships for Studies in Modern Society and Values
- 1/1/82 - Business and Professional Women's Fellowships
- 1/15/82 - National Research Council Associateships
- 1/15/81 - Smithsonian Institution Research Fellowships

Edwards chairs reactivated Foundation Advisory Board

Richard Edwards, executive vice president, has been named by Interim President Ferrari to chair a reactivated Advisory Board to the BGSU Foundation.

The purpose of the board, as prescribed in the bylaws of the Foundation, is to advise the president and members of the Foundation on the needs and goals of the University which are related to private sector fund-raising efforts.

Dr. Ferrari said the need for a "strong and active Advisory Board is self evident, especially in light of plans to proceed with a feasibility study as a first step in the planning of a major fund-raising campaign to coincide with the University's 75th anniversary in 1985."

He anticipates that the committee of advisers will also serve as a sounding board for the Office of Alumni and Development in terms of policies and program initiatives.

"One of its most important functions will be to serve as a communication link with the BGSU Foundation, the administration and the faculty," he said.

Edwards, who is now responsible for directing the day-to-day activities of the alumni and development office since the announced retirement of James Hof, will be joined on the board by faculty and administrators, including:

Harvey Donley, accounting and management information systems; Dwight Burlingame, Library; Garrett Heberlein, Graduate College; Richard Horton, education; Harold Lunde, management; Virginia Marks, music performance studies; Charles Means, educational development; Edward Morgan, health and community services; Douglas Neckers, chemistry; Ronald Russell, home economics; Maurice Sevigny, art; Denise Trauth, speech communication, and Ralph Wolfe, English.

Jerry Updegraff and Larry Weiss of the alumni and development staff are ex-officio members of the board.

Dr. Ferrari announced his plans to reactivate the Foundation Advisory Board in his opening day address to faculty and staff Sept. 21.

News in Review

Theater program recredited

The theater program in the School of Speech Communication has been recredited for five years by the National Association of Schools of Theatre.

NAST is the only accrediting association of college and university theater programs in the country and is dedicated to maintaining and enhancing the quality of theater arts programs in higher education, according to Allen S. White, director of the School of Speech Communication.

Dr. White said the reaccreditation was awarded after a rigorous review process which included a two-day visit to the campus last May by a NAST evaluation team.

While on campus, the team evaluators talked with faculty, students and administrators, visited classes, observed production work and toured the theater facilities.

Prior to the team's arrival, theater faculty prepared a report for their consideration.

The reaccreditation was granted by the NAST Board of Directors based upon recommendations from the evaluators.

Preview Day to draw 1,500

An estimated 1,500 visitors are expected on campus Saturday (Oct. 31) for the University's annual Preview Day, hosted by the Office of Admissions with support from the Office of Alumni and Development.

The event is designed to provide high school students and their parents with information about virtually every program Bowling Green has to offer.

Those attending this year will be able to see 70 display booths representing every academic program on campus, all set up in the Union's Grand Ballroom. Faculty and students from academic departments and student organizations also will be on hand to answer questions, and campus tours will be conducted throughout the morning.

Preview Day activities in the Grand Ballroom are scheduled to conclude at noon, and in the afternoon participants are being offered complimentary tickets to the football game between the Falcons and Kent State's Golden Flashes. Tickets can still be obtained from the admissions office through Friday.

Some Preview Day participants also will remain on campus for the alumni association's annual Parents Day Show featuring Victor Borge at 8 p.m. in Anderson Arena.

Speech team earns third place finish

The University's individual events forensic team began the year on the right foot Oct. 16-17 when it earned 12 individual awards and a third place team finish at a tournament sponsored by Ohio State University.

Eastern Michigan and Miami universities finished ahead of Bowling Green.

The University's team was led by Daniel Donnellon, a junior from Cincinnati, who was first in the category of speaking to inform, and Denise Bostdorff, a senior from Bowling Green, who was first in the category of sales.

Bostdorff, last year's national champion in the category of rhetorical criticism, also captured a second place award for extemporaneous speaking and a fourth place award for impromptu speaking.

William Benoit, speech communication, is director of the forensic program at the University.

Surplus items can be sold

It's fall housecleaning time at the University.

Departments and offices with items no longer used can declare those materials "surplus" and put them up for sale by calling inventory management at 372-2121.

Oct. 27 is the deadline for making arrangements to surrender items for the annual November surplus auction, which will be announced in the next issue of MONITOR.

Departmental viewing of surplus items will be Wednesday, Nov. 4, from 10 a.m. to noon and 12:30-2 p.m. at the University's white storage building, located east of WBGU-TV.

Rec Center open to all employees

Fall quarter memberships to the Student Recreation Center can still be purchased at the Rec Center office, and with 10 weeks still remaining in this quarter's membership privileges, the membership is still a bargain.

All faculty, contract and classified staff (full- and part-time, permanent and temporary) are eligible to purchase the memberships at $31 per member per quarter and $15.50 per spouse. Children of members may enroll at no additional charge.

Special programs with a family emphasis are being planned during the remainder of the quarter.

Further information about those programs and other activities is available by contacting the Rec Center office, 372-2711, weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Oil firms support geology programs

The geology department is the recipient of two recent gifts from the petroleum industry for the support of departmental programs.

A gift of $2,000 from Texaco is the second installment of a $4,000 grant announced last year.

The Marathon Oil Co. also has contributed $1,000 to the department for the second consecutive year.

Money from both grants will be used for student field trips and to support student research.

In addition, Marathon Oil has granted the department $500 to support its visiting lecturer program.

Bloodmobile to visit Nov. 9-12

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be on campus Nov. 9-12, stationed in the Grand Ballroom of the Union from 10 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. daily.

Appointments for the four-day visit will be scheduled from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 3, 4 and 5. Interested donors should phone 372-2775.

Insurance changes due this month

October is the annual "open period" for full-time University employees to enroll or make changes in the Blue Cross-Blue Shield plan.

All full-time employees who are not enrolled as subscribers may apply during this month. Those full-time employees presently enrolled under a single contract who wish family coverage also may make that change during October.

All changes and new applications become effective Dec. 1, 1981.

Applications or changes can be made by contacting Russell Meister, Insurance Office, Room 10, Shatzel Hall, 372-2112 or 372-2113.

Jazz Symposium begins Tuesday

Andrew White, one of the most versatile artists on the jazz scene today, and Rufus Reid, who has established himself as one of the finest bassists in the jazz world, will be the featured artists at the 1981 Jazz Symposium to be held on campus for two weeks, beginning Tuesday, Oct. 27.

White, a saxophonist, oboist, electric bassist, author and composer, will be on campus throughout the symposium.

Reid, who has appeared with such artists as Eddie Harris, the Thad Jones and Mel Lewis Jazz Orchestra, Nancy Wilson, Dexter Gordon and George Shearing, will be on campus Nov. 2-6.

The symposium, an educational program designed to give music students an opportunity to hear and talk with leading jazz musicians, will include lectures, master classes, small group sessions and concerts. All events will be held at the Moore Musical Arts Center and are free and open to the public.

Fred Hamilton, music composition and history and director of the jazz minor program in the College of Musical Arts, is coordinating the program. Following is a schedule of major events:

Saxophone master class, presented by White, 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 27, Bryan Recital Hall;

"John Coltrane: The Man and His Music," a lecture by White, 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 29, Bryan Recital Hall;

"The Evolution of Bass Style," a lecture by Reid, 1:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 2, Bryan Recital Hall;

Bass master class, presented by Reid, 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 4, Bryan Recital Hall;

White and Reid in concert with the University's Jazz Lab Band, 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, Nov. 3, Kobacker Hall;

White and Reid with Hamilton and Randy Gellsple, 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 5, Kobacker Hall.

Jazz Symposium '81 is being sponsored by the University's Minority Faculty Program.

Datebook

Exhibits

Paintings by Toledo artists Greg Jones, Chris Werkman and Neil Frankenhauser, through Nov. 8, Fine Arts Gallery, School of Art. Gallery hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 2-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Campus Life at BGSU, a pictorial essay featuring photographs taken by the Office of Public Relations, through mid-November, first floor lobby, Miletic Alumni Center. Gallery hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Monday, Oct. 26

Poetry reading by Kenneth Letko, graduate student, 9:10 p.m., Commuter Center Lounge, Moseley Hall. Free.

Volleyball vs. Cleveland State, 7 p.m., Anderson Arena.

Tuesday, Oct. 27

Soccer vs. Cleveland State, 3 p.m., Cochran Field.

Cosmos: Blues for a Red Planet. Carl Sagan reviews scientific thought about Mars, from the canals of Percival Lowell to the trenches dug by Viking landers. 8 p.m., WBGU-TV, Channel 57.

Wednesday, Oct. 28

Venti da Camera, 8 p.m., Bryan Recital Hall, Moore Musical Arts Center. Free.

Financial planning seminar sponsored by the Office of Development and Alumni Affairs, 7 p.m., Miletic Alumni Center. Reservations required. For information call 372-2701.

Volleyball vs. Kent State, 7 p.m., Anderson Arena.

A debate on State Issue I, the proposed amendment to alter the state workers' compensation program, 8 p.m., Community Suite, Union.

Speaking for the proposed amendment will be Thomas Hardy, executive vice president of the Ohio Independent Insurance Agents Association. Speaking against the amendment will be Penny McCabe, a Toledo attorney who works for the Bureau of Workers' Compensation. Questions will follow the debate.

Thursday, Oct. 29

Freshman Follies, 8 p.m., Joe E. Brown Theater, University Hall. Admission is 50 cents.

UAO Movie: "The Apartment," 8 p.m., Gish Theater, Hanna Hall. Free.

Friday, Oct. 30

James B. Hall, novelist, short story writer and poet, will read from his work and discuss creative writing, 1 p.m., 200 University Hall.

Beverly Whipple, assistant professor of nursing and human sexuality at Gloucester County College in New Jersey, will speak on "New Research Concerning Female Orgasm and Ejaculation," 2:30 p.m., Room 115, Education Building. Free.

Freshman Follies, 8 p.m., Joe E. Brown Theater, University Hall. Admission is 50 cents.

Field Hockey, BG Invitational, time to be announced, field west of stadium.

Hockey vs. Michigan State, 7:30 p.m., Ice Arena.

UAO Movie: "The Howling," 7:30 p.m., 9:30 p.m. and midnight, 210 Math-Science. Admission $1 with University ID.

Saturday, Oct. 31

Freshman Follies, 8 p.m., Joe E. Brown Theater, University Hall. Admission is 50 cents.

Parents Day Program: Victor Borge, pianist and comedian, 8 p.m., Anderson Arena, Memorial Hall. For updated ticket information, call 372-2701.

Football vs. Kent State, 1:30 p.m., Doyt Perry Stadium.

Women's Cross Country, BG Open, 11 a.m., golf course.

Field Hockey, BG Invitational, time to be announced, field west of stadium.

Soundstage: Victor Borge - Comedy in Music, 9:30 p.m., WBGU-TV, Channel 57.

UAO Movie: "The Howling," 7:30 p.m., 9:30 p.m., and midnight, 210 Math-Science. Admission $1 with University ID.

Sunday, Nov. 1

Collegiate Chorale and Collegiates, 8 p.m., Kobacker Hall, Moore Musical Arts Center. Free.

Monday, Nov. 2

Soviet Emigre Orchestra, 8 p.m., Kobacker Hall, Moore Musical Arts Center. Tickets are $9.50, $8 and $6.50 for adults; $8, $6.50 and $5 for students. For ticket reservations call 372-0171. The box office is open weekdays 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Poetry reading by Larry Smith, English, Firelands, 9:10 p.m., Commuter Center Lounge, Moseley Hall. Free.

Employment Opportunities

CLASSIFIED EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

NEW VACANCIES

Posting Expiration Date: Monday, Nov. 2

11-2-1 Word Processing Specialist 2
Pay Range 26
Library
Permanent part-time
(11-month position)

FACULTY VACANCIES

5-6-A Director of EM Facility
Biological Sciences (2-2332)
Feb. 1, 1982

10-12-B President
Send vita to Frazier Reams Jr.,
Chairman
Presidential Search and Screening Committee
Box 828
Bowling Green, Ohio 43402
Oct. 30, 1981

10-19-C Assistant/Associate Professor
(Anticipated)
Psychology
Dec. 31, 1981

10-19-D Visiting Assistant Professor
(Anticipated)
Chemistry
Nov. 1, 1981

10-19-E Assistant/Associate Professor
Geology
Extended to Dec. 1, 1981

10-19-F Assistant/Associate Professor
(Anticipated)
Computer Science
Dec. 15, 1981