THANKSGIVING

It's a mighty good thing that once a year we have a day set aside, the very name of which should draw our attention away from our troubles. Since we have three hundred and sixty-four other days in which to fret and grumble, let's keep this one day free from fault finding.

Sometimes when you're feeling blue and downcast just write down your reasons or reasons for feeling discouraged. Then opposite them make a list of the things you have for which to feel thankful. Think what a list they make! Do you remember the song about, "Count your blessings, name them one by one"? Well, if we would all do this more often we'd realize that we're not so badly treated after all.

So as the Thanksgiving time approaches let's be thankful, not only for the vacation which we all welcome and the good dinners which we hope to enjoy, but also for the too many favors and luxuries which we calmly and unthinkingly accept. Let's think of this day as a time to GIVE THANKS.

AN IDEA

Upon achieving seemingly impossible victories one wonders how it ever happened, and how he ever did it without any apparent aid. Sometimes it is an unkind thrust of an enemy or the confidence of a friend that spurs you on. At other times there seems to be a greater source of power.

Probably the Pilgrims, upon completing preparations for the coming winter, made a similar deduction. Therefore, in recognition of the source of their power a day was set aside for thanksgiving.

Time often acts as an eraser disfiguring and removing traditions, memories, and the significance of events. Perhaps this coming holiday, symbolical of Pilgrim's faith, has suffered just a little from the ravages of time. In order to renew the true thanksgiving spirit, may we make this Thanksgiving day not just a holiday but the preservation of an idea.

PEP MEETING NOV. 2

No greater rally in the history of B. G. has ever occurred than the one held in the Auditorium, Friday morning, Nov. 2 from 11:30 to 12:00.

As the students assembled, the band on the stage, played “Hail, Hail, the Gang’s All Here.” And such Pep!

Then immediately followed our College song. And did we sing it?

After a lively “Band Rah” we had a real speech by Coach Landis.

Coach says, “I wonder why they always ask the coach how the game is coming out? We don’t know and if we did we wouldn’t tell you. The team is going to work and work hard but they can’t do all of it. The rest is up to YOU. When your team comes out on the field ‘Yell and yell for all you are worth’. Defiance beat Toledo U, 14-0. You can plainly see we have a stiff fight.

You can employ psychology in cheering just the same as in anything else. Watch yourself! Be sports of course—but when the opposing team comes on the field don’t cheer. Let them keep still while they come. But when your team comes out ‘Yell and Yell for all you are worth’. Do you see the point? Your team knows you are back of them and the opposing team knows you are back of B. G. Right there you have a big start toward victory. Your team is going to fight hard and harder yet because you are backing them. Now, you can cheer, I know and the reason for that is that you have cheer leaders who can make you cheer. Be on your toes, be in your places and back your team. How? Cheer!

After a hearty “Landis Rah” and ‘Steller Rah’ our cheer leader, Glen Pore led us in some real peppy cheers and the band played for us again.

Bowling Green is manifesting more College Spirit than ever before and we are proud of our Alma Mater.

Mr. Beatty (soliciting for Bee Gee News)—“We would be glad to hear of the death of any of the alumni. Just send the word to me.”

TOLEDO CLUB NEWS

The Toledo Club held its first meeting, Tuesday evening, September 18, in Shatzel Hall. Fifty Toledo girls were present.

The meeting took the form of a get-acquainted party. Each girl introduced herself to the group, telling what high school she graduated from and giving her impression of Bowling Green.

After the short business meeting, dancing and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

The club held an initiation and spread at Shatzel Hall, Tuesday, Oct. 2. Thirty new members experienced the thrills of initiation.

The fine spread which closed the meeting was appreciated by the old members as well as the new ones.

The first activity of the Toledo club this year was an initiation and spread. Even the effects of the former did not impair the appetites. About twenty eight new members were taken in.

The club sponsored the annual Halloween dance of the college. By many, this was claimed to have been the most successful dance of its kind given at the college.

Tuesday night, November 6th, all met back of Williams Hall for a roast. After the eats had all disappeared, all resorted to songs around the bonfire to keep up their spirits. Then followed a short serenade given first at Shatzel, then at Williams. Toledo Rah! Toledo Rah! Rah Rah Toledo! and the gang broke up.

The November 6 meeting, was held in the form of a roast. A peanut hunt was the main feature of the evening. A prize was awarded to the possessor of the greatest number of peanuts.

The remainder of the evening was spent in singing songs to the accompaniment of ukuleles.

All the girls are looking forward to another meeting of this kind.

SKOL HOMECO'ING NEWS

On Saturday November third at eleven thirty A. M. one could see Skols coming from all parts of town to the Woman's Club to attend the luncheon in honor of their alumnae. There were about forty five present, including Miss McCain, the advisor, active members, alumnae and pledges.

The places were marked with orange and brown chrysanthemums, college colors, and down the center of the table were laid black and gold ribbons, the Skol colors. During the luncheon the pledges were introduced to the alumnae. Esther March, of the alumnae gave an extemporaneous talk.

The pledges were so disappointed because the parade was at first given up that members asked them to parade around the circle by themselves. Then all the Skols met at the game again in a section reserved for them. They are absolutely willing to take the blame for all the noise and cheers in the north stand. Did they yell? And how!

The Skol Sorority had a very impressive pledge service on the eve of October the thirtieth, at the home of its sponsor, Miss Rhea McCain. After receiving the pledge pin, each pledge was presented with a corsage of yellow mums tied with black and gold ribbons. Each pledge was asked to wear her corsage until the last flower had faded. After the service there were delightful refreshments served by Miss McCain.

Those pledged were: the Misses Dorothy Derby, Thelma Hergert, Jeannette Miller and Mary Powers of Toledo; Grace Brown of Waterville; Elva Morgan of Lorain, Virginia Clarke of Canton, and Corrine Burkett, Rowson Town.

The Skol Sorority began its rush season with a luncheon held at the Vanity Fair Tea Shop in Toledo. In the afternoon, members and rushees were entertained at a theatre party.

The spirit of wanderlust siezed all and members and rushees again met at a gypsy roast. The wandering band met at

ERIE COUNTY CLUB

The Erie County club of B. G. N. C. held its first meeting of the year Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 6:30 p. m. At this meeting it was planned to have a bigger and better banquet in Sandusky this year during Christmas vacation. Also a party to be given the first of October for the many new members of the club this year, was decided upon.

The officers of the club for this year are: Esther Crecelius, president; Helen Marske, vice president, and Ruth Milky, secretary-treasurer. The social committee appointed by the president are Charlene Donaldson, Freda Wahl, and Elizabeth Michelson.

Gertrude Brod, who made a trip to Europe this summer, is again advisoress of the club. In the near future, she is going to tell us all about her trip abroad.

With its many new members and returned old ones, the Erie county club expects to do much this forthcoming year.

October 2, 1928, at 7:30 p. m., the Erie County Club held their initiation party for this year in the Administration building gym.

The new members from Erie county were forced to eat worms a' la macaroni, were paddled generously, were told to blow at a ring in a bowl to move it and found to their consternation that a bowl of flour had been substituted for the ring and bowl. One freshman who refused to tell her name was baptized with a dust pan full of water. It is needless to say her name now since it is changed is one of those which shares in the limelight of fame around the school.

Eats finished the evening's entertainment, and everyone left with glad hearts and joyful menus, even the freshmen who were probably happy to think it was over.

FIVE SISTER NEWS

October 23rd marked the formal pledging of the Five Sister Sorority. Thirteen girls were pledged: Genevieve Kiel, Marian McMahon, Maxine Powell, of Bowling Green; Lois Smith of Bradner; Dorothy Lindsey of Perrysburg; Kathrynn Slerist, Adelaide Childs, of Fremont; Dorothy Serrick of Defiance; Charlott Wolcott, Margaret Moorhead of Toledo; Marie Menz of South Amherst, Ellen Stover of Oakwood; Isabelle Gunn of Maumee. Their first public appearance was made in the Homecoming parade. Arrayed in red sweaters, white shirts and the sorority emblem, they showed the Alumni that the Five Sisters are a very active group on the campus.

At the Homecoming banquet held at the Woman's Club on the evening of November third, there were fifty present, including alumni, actives and pledges, ten times the number which organized the sorority. Needless to say, the conversation centered around "what my thirty nine and your forty one little dears do and say."

The Five Sisters have chosen Miss Marian Dee Hall for their advisor. Miss Hall was with us several years ago, and we are very glad to have her back again.

Peter—"Oh! By the way I received a photograph from my friend in Scotland."

Chet—"You did! What does it look like?"

Pete—"I can't say. I haven't had it developed yet."

SKOL HOMECOMING NEWS

Williams Hall and tramped off, lunches thrown over their shoulders and appetites steadily growing. When they reached their camp ground they roasted and devoured all food available. Several of the more talented gypsies, Jean and Olive Lutz helped to make more merriment with their tales. As the members began to glow, one of the fellow gypsies, Anne Hayne led the band in singing while she strummed her banjo. The voices rang in the night air while camp was broken up and the merrymakers wended their way to a new site. The rendezvous was ended.
SEVEN SISTER NOTES

Besides giving the alumnae the chance to renew old acquaintances Homecoming also provided them with the opportunity to make new ones. Over the week-end the following pledges were introduced to the Seven Sisters alumnae: Kathryn Cleary, North Baltimore, Mildred Freyman, Bowling Green, Martha Goeth, Oak Harbor, Beryl Thorson, Fremont and Dorothy Webster, Bellefontaine.

On Saturday evening thirty five pledges, actives and alumnae, spent a most enjoyable dinner hour at the Woman's Club. Old members back for the occasion were: Margaret Bemis, Lillian Benson, Helen Brown, Nettie Crass, Marie Dock, Dora Doyle, Helen Durholdt, Frances Meagley Fox, Charlotte Gaeth, Lillian Kennedy, Jessie Lillicotch, Lucille McLelland, Leontine Morrison, Mildred Moseberger, Marcella Noonan, Harriett Retzloff, Bernice Savage and Edith Sheahan.

The Orchestra of Life

(Inspired by Rev. Gilbert in Chapel October 9, 1928)

One may play a cello,
Or one may play a harp,
But why must some poor fellow
Always play the second part?

Now, first violin is not so bad,
And piano playing sure is grand
But why, no matter what be had,
Must some poor guy be second-hand?

In this great life of our today,
We all cannot be satisfied
But everyone will get to play—
Even after he has died.

So cheer up, friend o' mine,
If it IS just second-part for you,
Our happiness wel'll surely find—
For I'm a second fiddler, too!

Members of Phi Sigma Mu fraternity and music faculty met Wednesday eve-
Commoners’ Fraternity Notes

The fraternity held its first meeting of the year, Tuesday evening, Sept. 18 and elected officers for the coming year. They are: Donald Armstrong as Grand Chieftian, Hays Garster, Vice Grand Chieftian; Ellsworth Capen, secretary, and Marvin George, treasurer. Members present were: Donald Armstrong, Hays Garster, Marvin George, Ellsworth Capen, Stanley Myers, John Hough, Howard George, Frank Campbell, Hollas Dindot and faculty advisor, Zaugg.

The next meeting was held the following Tuesday and plans for the year were discussed, with special attention being given to the work of securing pledges. Mr. Hissong, faculty advisor, after a year’s absence made his appearance at this second meeting. Members apparently were enthusiastic about their work and they all look forward to a profitable year.

At midnight, Saturday evening, November 3, the Commoners’ held their third annual Homecoming banquet at Muir’s Collegian Lunch. A good number of alumni were present among whom were: Paul Mong, Farmer Nixon, Arnold Fausz, Wm Miller, Ira Smith, Raymond Shultz, and Bill Cox.

Each of the alumni, as well as the active members who were present: Donald Armstrong, Hayes Garster, John Hough, Marvin George, Ellsworth Capen, Frank Campbell, Howard George, and Hollas Dindot, gave short talks which were enthusiastically received. Of course, the pledges played their part as speechmakers also. Pledges present were: Arthur Craft, Donald Lusk, Francis Babione, Sidney Baron, George Hilgeneck, Leonard Linsenmayer, Countnye Wilcox, and Archie Myers. The success of this annual meeting was largely due to the careful guidance of the president, Donald Armstrong. Professors Zaugg and Hissong contributed to the life of the party by their especially witty remarks and taunts.

DELHI FRATERNITY

The Delhi has been one of the most active college organizations during the past two years and all prospects point towards success for this year. There are twenty-two active Delhi men in school this year and all are bosting for a bigger and better Delhi.

The following are officers for the year Arthur Kuder, president; Harold Treece, vice president; Otis Dermer, secretary; Edwin Digby, treasurer; Clyde Kenne-muth, sergerant-at-arms; and Paul Reed chaplain. Prof. Taylor has again consented to act as faculty advisor.

Many of our meetings this year have been given over to the discussion of new neophytes. We are pleased to announce the pledging of the following men: Willard Ault, Stanley Huntington, and Howard Poe, all of Van Buren, David Wilson and Howard Goldner, of North Balti more, Glenn Pore of Arcadia, Edward Clark of Toledo, Carl Mesnard, of Whitehouse, Paul Croll of Tontogany, Byron Kennedy of Zanesfield, Wilfred McArtor of Canton, Eugene Riley of Willshire, Lewis House of Rawson and George Garrow of Morenci. These men were formally pledged on Oct. 31, and will be slowly admitted to the secrets of the society.

DELHI BANQUET

The homecoming festivities were fittingly brought to a close by the Delhi men, at their annual midnight banquet, held at the College Inn. Sixty men, including alumni and neophytes were present to enjoy the following menu: fruit cocktail, cream of tomato soup, T-bone steak, french fried potatoes, cream ed peas, pie a-la-mode, and coffee. Following the last course, the president called upon several men for short talks. Among those who responded were: Professors Taylor and Carmichael, Mr. Ed. Russell and Mr. Shatzer. All neophytes then made themselves known, and displayed their various samples of what they thought a good paddle should be. After a rousing cheer lead by Neophyte Pore, the banquet broke up to wait for another homecoming to arrive.
OHIO NORTHERN GAME

The College football team opened the 1928 season successfully by defeating Ohio Northern at Ada by the score of 7 to 0. Defeating an Ohio Conference team by this score shows the strength of our team for this year. Benny Pencheff gave some pretty exhibitions of open field running.

BLUFFTON GAME

The falcons continued their winning streak by defeating Bluffton 6 to 0. The game was very evenly played, both teams however, showing very ragged playing by streaks. Treece spelled defeat for the Beavers, when he received a beautiful lateral pass and rushed over the line for a touchdown. Chapman at tackle, played a stellar game. Chet seemed to be right where the ball was on every play. The services of Max Leitman were lost for the last part of the game, when the ligaments of his shoulder were torn loose.

TOLEDO GAME

Playing before a large crowd of students, the Falcons won their first home game by defeating Toledo University by a 14 to 0 score. The game was very exciting, T. U. nearly scoring on several occasions. The absence of Max Leitman from the line-up was severely felt. The passing attacks, and fine plunging by Duke Carroll were features of the game.

DEFIANCE GAME

With the large Homecoming crowd cheering them on, the College team played a fine game against the Defiance team. The Falcons seemingly had their opponents beaten 12 to 6, but late in the game Defiance uncorked a long pass which was good for a touchdown. Their attempted pass for point after touchdown failed and the game ended a tie.

12-12. Chapman was the outstanding player for B. G., breaking up play after play for Defiance. Pencheff and Carrol made some fine gains.

DETROIT GAME

Playing before an immense cheering section from Bowling Green, consisting of ten people, the Falcons defeated Detroit, 20-0, scoring a touchdown in each quarter except the first. The muddy condition of the field was a serious handicap to our team. Don Lowell at quarterback ran the team in fine shape. The passing attack was the best of any game the B. G. boys have played this year. Treece seemed to be able to control his passes perfectly with Filiere and Swearingen receiving them. Carroll did some fine line plunging. In the latter part of the game nearly all of the reserves were sent in and they were able to score the final touchdown of the game. If Pencheff and Leitman would have been in the game, it is hard to predict what would have happened to Detroit.

FINDLAY GAME

Bowling Green college established an undisputed claim to the championship of the Northwest conference by their decisive 19-0 victory over Findlay college. The Falcons were masters of the situation at all times and the game was never in doubt.

Early in the first quarter the Falcons started a direct march down the field, making six first downs in succession. Carrol plunged over the line for a touchdown. Treece missed his drop kick. In the second quarter Carrol and Lowell carried the ball successively to the 17 yard line. Lowell then cut loose with a pretty end run which was good for a touchdown. The try for extra point was good. During the third quarter rain drove nearly all spectators from the stands and the field became a large mud puddle.
Penalties during this quarter ruined a chance to score.

In the latter part of the fourth quarter Sweringen caught one of Findlay's kicks and ran it back 32 yards. Leitman was then put into the fracas and Macs carried the ball over for the final touch.

Lowell at quarterback played a whale of a game and ran the team in fine style. Chapman was again the outstanding linesman.

Y. M. C. A.

A certain amount of religious activity should be a part of every one's college education. The local Y. M. C. A. tries to supply this need to the men of the college. The following officers are trying to put the Y. M. C. A. across for this year: Edwin Digby, president; Clifford Olds, vice president; Arthur Kuder, recorder, and Myron Case, treasurer. The faculty advisors for the year are: Dr. Kohl, Professor Swartz, and Professor Powell.

Our meeting so far this year have been full of pep, yet not lacking of the Christian spirit. An average of thirty men have been to every meeting.

The next meeting, Nov. 22, will be conducted as a stag party for all the men of the college. A lively time is promised for all who attend. Come out and see what the Y. M. C. A. is doing. There will be games, eats, and a good lively speaker. Let's make it a real meeting.

The Y. W. C. A. of Bowling Green State Normal College is a very active organization. It tries to cope with and settle some of the vital problems which face every college girl. The order to do this, it has in the past weeks obtained the help of various members of the faculty. These faculty members speak on some subject close to the hearts of the Y. W. C. A. members. Recently, the organization has heard from Dr. Williamson and Dr. Todd.

One of the most important meetings of the Y. W. C. A. will be held before Christmas vacation when the candle service will be enacted. This Christmas party always attracts a large number of students.

He took me out to see the stars
That astronomic bore.
He said there were two moons on Mars.
While Jupiter had four.

I thought, of course, he'd whisper soon
What fourfold bliss t'would be
To wander 'neath that fourfold moon
On Jupiter with me.

And when he spoke of Saturn's ring
I was convinced he'd say
That was the very sort of thing
To offer me some day.

But on a tangent, off he went
On double stars.
Now, that was most suggestive
So absorbed and quite content I sat
Then murmured "How very queer
And stupid altogether
For stars to be so very near
And yet not come together"

At that he smiled and turned his head.
I thought he caught the notion.
He merely bowed goodnight and said
"Their safety lay in motion."

The Emerson Literary Society

One of the most active organizations of the college is the Emerson Literary Society. Under the direction of Professor Swartz, the faculty advisor and Beryl Bishop, the president, much is accomplished at its meetings this year.

This society affords one not only an opportunity for becoming acquainted and having good times, but also for learning vitally interesting and useful knowledge. At every meeting, parliamentary drill directed by Professor Swartz is carried on. Then, an interesting program, given by members of the club, is presented. Altogether, everyone enjoys himself immensely, while at the same time he is learning and grasping new experiences.

There are two outstanding social gatherings of the club during the year: a taffy-null and a roast. During these occasions everyone has such a time as he will remember after his career in college is terminated. On the whole, the Emerson Literary Society is one which would benefit and broaden any school and any student of that school.
ABOUT THE KEY, WHY—?

The Staff is fully convinced that in spite of some of the handicaps it has had and is still having to overcome, the 1929 Key will be quite the most successful project that has made its appearance on the campus in the history of the college.

Some novel features is being added to each section of the year book. The artwork which is to be used throughout, the opening section and the view section are particularly original and will add much to the attractiveness and artistic appearance of the annual.

The goal set by the Staff of seven hundred and fifty Keys has not been realized as yet but the subscriptions will probably go over that mark by time for the next payment. Positively no subscriptions will be accepted after December twenty-first so students and faculty who have not yet signed up for a book are urged to do so at once.

The Staff appreciates the spirit exhibited thus far by both the faculty and the student body but it solicits especial cooperation in the matter of having pictures taken. The 1928 Key had a motto of “A Key for Everyone and Everyone in the Key” and the 1929 Key must not fall below the standard set up last year.

STAG PARTY

The annual stag party, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. was held in the Men’s Gym, Nov. 22. Nearly one hundred men were present to enjoy the evenings entertainment. Mr. Paul Barrett, a businessman of Findlay, and formerly head of the Findlay Y. M. C. A. was the speaker. He gave, in a very informal way, one of the most inspirational talks ever heard at the college. It was a real he-man talk, given by a man who believe in putting into pratice, christian principles.

Following this came the social part of the evening under the direction of Coach Steller and Landis,several very interesting games and contests were conducted. Much excitement was created in some of the games.

After an hour of this exercise came the first and also the last call for eats. Apples, doughnuts, and cider were consumed in enormous quantities, by the hungry crowd.

After all the appetites had been satisfied the men gathered around the piano, for a half hour of singing. You would be surprised at the way some of our college fellows can sing. The final song was “Show Me The Way to Go Home” after which the party broke up.

The party was certainly a success and we hope to have more of them during the remainder of the year. The Y. M. C. A. certainly deserves credit for sponsoring meetings of this kind.

FORENSIC ACTIVITIES

At a meeting held in the College, a few weeks ago, composed of present and former debaters, a local forensic organization was effected limited to those who are no wmembers of the National Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta Forensic Society, and to those who are eligible to such membership. Pi Kappa Delta is a national organization which offers membership only to those who are successful in oratory, debate and instruction. It has something like 130 chapters in outstanding Colleges and universities of the United States and in international in scope. Its standards of membership are very high. There are four degrees of efficiency: Fraternity, Efficiency, Honor, and Special Distinction. To the highest degree, on must have participated in debates, or must have been on seven winning teams. Two former students hold this high honor: Rev. G. M. Wilson, and Robert Wyandt, both of Sylvania. Professor J. W. Carmichael, debate coach, holds the same degree in Instruction. Other members of the organization are: Vernon Sprague, Paul Woodring, Robert W. Tripp, Howard George, Lester Hanna. Several former debaters are applying for membership. Membership in the National Capter has greatly stimulated interest in bedate and oratory, and by far the largest number of students ever trying out for debate make up this year’s squad.

Besides debate, orators will be sent to at least three different state oratorical contests.

The question for debate this year is that selected by Pi Kappa Delta: Resolved, That a substitute should be found for the jury system. Students who wish to join the squad should report at once to Professor Carmichael. About a dozen practice debates have already been held on the question. Debates are being arranged with a number of colleges in the Ohio conference.

OXFORD DEBATE

Since the inception of debating at the State Teachers College, in 1919, two debates have been held with teams visiting the United States from other countries. The first of these debates was held in 1925, with Cambridge University, England. During the following year we entertained the University of Sidney, Australia, team. Both of these discussions drew large audiences, and proved to be of especial interest to the College and to the community.

On December 6, a Bowling Green team will discuss the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations, with a picked team from Oxford University, England. Oxford is one of the very old universities of Europe. It was founded by Henry III, in 1348. There is a matter of 662 years in the ages of these institutions of learning. It will be an event of great interest, therefore, to see how well our team handles the situation.

The visiting Oxonians are Mr. C. S. Malcolm Brereton, ex-president of the Oxford Debate Union, Mr. Alan T. Lennox-Boyd, and Mr. Dingle M. Foot, present president of the Union. These men are skilled debaters. They have been debating the Eastern colleges and will soon move into the Middle West.

Bowling Green's team will consist of: Mr. Robert W. Tripp, Mr. Lester Hanna, and Mr. Howard George, members of the Sophomore class, and Mr. Nelson Rozelle, who is completing his B. S. course in Education, after a year's study at Ohio State. These men have already shown skill in debate, and much is expected of them in the coming contest. The first three mentioned are members of the Pi Kappa Delta Forensic Society, and Mr. Rozelle is a member of Sigma Rho. Members of the National Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, who have formed a local debate club, will have charge of the debate.

Reserved seat tickets will be on sale in the Lower Hall of the Administration Building on December 4. They will also be on sale at Lincoln and Dirlams Drug Store. Student and Faculty reservations will be 25 cents. Presentation of Activity Car'ds will be necessary in order to secure tickets. Tickets to those outside the College will be 50 cents. A special price of 35 cents will be made to high school students of the county.

Coaches of the local team are: Dr. C. C. Kohl, Professor John Schwarz and Professor J. W. Carmichael.

FINDLAY CLUB

On Monday evening, November 19, a group of girls whose homes are in Findlay met at Williams Hall to organize a Findlay Club. Miss Hall was named faculty advisor and the officers elected are as follows: Margaret Roller, president; Mary Doyle, vice-president; Edith Crosser, secretary; Beatrice Wood, treasurer; Elizabeth Bristoll, pianist; Bernice Cooper, chief scribe and Frances Fiegel, reporter.

A FACT!

A perfect state of bliss is his,
But he rides to a fall;
The biggest ignoramus is
The man who knows it all.

Prof. Moseley: "What is a caterpillar?"
Chet.: "An upholstered worn."
Prof. Moseley: "Well, what's a worm?"
Chet.: "A caterpillar that's been playing strip poker."

She: What's that smell in the library?
He: That is the dead silence they keep in there.
