Monitor Newsletter January 11, 1982
Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: http://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor

Recommended Citation
http://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor/88

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the University Publications at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Monitor by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@BGSU.
Faculty, staff and students are reminded that the decision to cancel classes in the event of severe weather rests with the University provost. The provost will communicate any decision to cancel classes to faculty, staff and students through the Office of Public Relations which will notify Campus Fact Line (D72-2445), WBGU-FM 88.1, WFOB, WDHO, WSPD, WCWA, WLON-FM and WFIN. WBGU-TV (Ch. 57) and the three Toledo television stations, Ch. 11, 13 and 24, later will be notified.

Every effort will be made to notify these media by 7 a.m. the day of any closing. If an afternoon storm necessitates the cancellation of evening classes, the above mentioned will be informed.

Though classes may be canceled, employees should not assume that work schedules, and also are canceled. Unless a specific announcement is made canceling work schedules, all University employees are expected to report to their job assignments.

If classes are canceled, there are many functions that must be continued, such as serving meals, providing heat and light for University buildings, maintaining services in the Health Center, removing snow from parking areas and sidewalks and other essential duties.

The holiday schedule for the remainder of the calendar year 1982 is as follows:

Jan. 18 (Monday) – Martin Luther King Day
May 31 (Monday) – Memorial Day
July 4 (Monday) – Independence Day
Sept. 6 (Monday) – Labor Day
Nov. 11 (Thursday) – Veteran's Day
Nov. 25 (Thursday) – Thanksgiving Day
Dec. 25 (Friday) – Reassignment of President’s Day (floating holiday)
Dec. 24 (Friday) – Christmas Day*
Dec. 31 (Friday) – New Year's Day, 1983*

*It should be noted that holidays which occur on a Sunday are observed the following Monday. Holidays which occur on a Saturday are observed the preceding Friday.

The holiday schedule is subject to change in order to ensure that it corresponds with the academic calendar or with state, federal or University policies and regulations.

Classes canceled, offices to close for King Day

Monday, Jan. 18, is Martin Luther King Day, a holiday for University employees. Classes will not meet on that day, and University offices will be closed.

Only those activities deemed absolutely essential by area supervisors will continue during the holiday period. The policy regarding holiday payment for classified employees is contained in Section 1, Personnel Procedure Memorandum No. 11.

The holiday schedule for the Three faculty retire at fall quarter's end

Three faculty, whose combined service to the University totals 67 years, have retired, effective the end of fall quarter.

Edgar Daniels, English, Edwin Bomeli, accounting, and management and financial information systems, and Robert Joynt, special education, will continue to teach, however, under the University’s supplemental retirement program.

Dr. Daniels, who has moved to California, joined the faculty in 1953 as an instructor of English and later chaired that department.

A specialist in 17th century literature, Dr. Daniels also gained a reputation as an expert on amateur and experimental films and was a feature editor of “Filmmakers Newsletter,” a national publication devoted to independent films.

Dr. Bomeli, who most recently was director of graduate studies in the College of Business Administration, was named to the faculty in 1966.

During his tenure at Bowling Green, Dr. Bomeli developed several international contacts and was the external examiner at the University of Ghana, West Africa, from 1971-73 and 1977-81. He has written articles on

Dr. Joynt has been at Bowling Green since 1967. Prior to that time he was a special education teacher and school psychologist in Mt. Clemens, Mich., for nearly 10 years. At Bowling Green he has taught at both the graduate and undergraduate levels, and his responsibilities have included the supervision of student teachers and field experience participants.

Last year he produced a series of video tapes and cassettes on “Child Growth and Development from a Christian Perspective.”

He has been the faculty adviser for the Campus Crusade for Christ and the Charismatic Christian Fellowship and also is known as a collector and repairer of clocks.

Also retiring during fall quarter was Marion A. Snyder, auditor, who joined the staff in 1959. Prior to that time he was employed at Libbey-Owens-Ford.

Hiring freeze modified; select replacements begin

Interim President Ferrari has announced that the University hiring freeze, in effect since July 1, 1981, has been modified to provide opportunities for selective replacement of faculty and staff.

The provost, vice presidents, deans and vice provosts will be asked to identify those vacant positions which are deemed to be of critical and urgent importance for the maintenance of essential University services. Replacements for current or future vacancies will be authorized by the provost or area vice president on a priority basis.

The savings realized from the hiring freeze have aided in achieving a balanced 1981-82 budget as prescribed by the Board of Trustees.

Equal opportunity office has temporary staff change

Temporary changes in assignment, effective immediately for two administrative personnel within the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance, have been announced by Myron Chenault, associate vice president for legal, staff and contract relations.

Beverly Mullins, director of EOC, has been reassigned to direct full-time the contract staff classification study initiated by Provost Ferrari two years ago.

Chenault said her current half-time commitment as coordinator of that project will be increased for the next six months and possibly longer to enable the study to come to a more rapid completion.

During that time, her office will be in the provost’s area, 235 McFall Center, and she may be reached at 372-0262.

In Mullins’ absence, Suzanne Crawford, director of the Center for Continued Learning, has been named acting director of the Office of Equal Opportunity Compliance. Crawford has moved to that office in 705 Administration Building and may be reached at 372-0495.

Bowling Green State University
January 11, 1982

Vol. V, No. 15
Grants

Robert Gaun, psychology, $3,000 from the American Psychological Association, Inc. to develop the "Psychological Assessment Laboratory." The laboratory has been approved to a six-year term as editor, beginning Jan. 1, 1982.

William B. Jackson, environmental research, $3,400 from CSIC Americas, Inc. to continue his evaluation of the environmental impacts of the proposed Cedar Point nuclear power plant. Dr. Jackson received an additional $1,600 from the National Science Foundation this fall to continue his research with the environmental monitoring instrumentation.

He also received $13,800 from Eli Lilly to support his work on the Tertiary Rodenticide, dlfenacoum.

Beryl Smith, financial aid and student employment, $11,950 to fund Work-Study aids to eligible students at the "Monroe" for the fall 1981-82 package. He also received $21,316 from the Ohio Board of Regents for the improvement of the quality of instruction in the University's portion of the Ohio Instructional Grant Program, which is aimed at stimulating student learning and improving low and moderate income families.

Duane Tucker, WOGT-TV, $124,900 from the U.S. Dept. of Commerce, National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) for the purchase of two videocassette recorders which will improve production and technical quality of post-production editing, as well as improve the quality of video recordings produced by the program. His unit will increase station capacity to utilize the increasing amount of programming made possible from WOGT-TV's three satellite receivers and the Ohio Educational Television Network.

Doris I. Williams, home economics, $500 from the Defiance Head Start Program to support a demonstration project for Child Development Associate credentialing.

Recognitions

Two compositions by Burton Beerman, music history, will be performed next year. "Indian Music and Latin America: Series Quartet" with voice will be performed at the University of Cincinnati, and "Dorothy" will be performed at the Electra Opera Festival in Hamilton, N.Y.

Amiru R. Chowdhury, technology, has been named 'Outstanding Student Chapter Faculty Adviser' by the Society for Instrument and Control Engineers.

Bowling Green's chapter of SME also has been named 'Outstanding Student Chapter' for the year 1981-82 academic year. Only five SME chapters nationally were selected to receive the award, which was based on a detailed study prepared by the chapters. The SME chapter at Bowling Green was judged "outstanding" in advancing the technology profession and students.

Patricia Erickson, home economics, was recognized with a plaque for her service with the Future Homemakers of America, the University Relates Organizations at the 1981 convention of SME and ASABE.

She was commended for her activities on the state, regional and local levels of the organizations.

Janet L. Fitzner, interior designer, has been elected to represent the Michigan Chapter of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters Engineers.

Mark S. Kelly, music education, received the Edwin Franko Goldman Award from the American School Band Directors' Association at its annual convention in Indianapolis. The Goldman Award, the highest given by ASBDA, recognizes "outstanding contribution to the advancement of school bands."

Barry E. Kopets, music education, was guest conductor of the Putnam Symphony Orchestra and the University Symphony Orchestra during the 1980-81 season.

Barbara Lockard, music performance studies, was recently elected vice president of the Board of Directors of the National Opera Association. Dr. Lockard has been a member of the Board of Directors for the past 12 years and chair of the annual N.O.A. conventions since its inception in 1975.

Virginia Marks, Edward Marks and Herbert Spenner, music performance studies, were featured performers at the Ohio Music Teachers Association fall conference Nov. 13 at the University.

Sandra Peckard, dean, education, has been appointed by the American Association of University Women to a "Council for Teacher Education to the Task Force on the Status of Women in Education.

The group will study critical changes affecting the roles of educators and the implications of the education community and the public, and expectations and regard teacher education by themselves.

Donn F. Rumeny, history, will chair the meetings of the Committee on Quantitative and Historical Issues in the 1984 annual meeting of the American Historical Association, San Francisco, Calif.

John Sampson, music performance studies, has been invited to perform in a featured performance at the 7th Western Saxophone Congress to be held in Nuremberg, Germany, in July. The University will perform a guest recital at the 6th International Saxophone Symposium sponsored by the National Youth Orchestra in Washington, D.C. in that recital he will be accompanied by Jerry Lee, John Lydon, Stradlin, music history.

Harry Towner, physical education, was selected to be appointed to the Public Affairs/Legislative Committee of the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance.

Publications

Robert Yonker, educational foundations and biochemistry, "Community Assisted Relaxation Training on Blood Pressure and Salivary Stress Hormones: Parameters in Patients with Essential Hypertension," an article in the Journal of Chronic Fatigue and Self-Regulation, vol. 6, No. 3.

The article was co-authored by Angela V. McCrady, Thomas H. Fine and Marilyn R. Kuepper of the School of Medicine at Ohio at Toledo and S.Y. Tan of the Kaiser Foundation Hospital, Hawaii.

Presentations

Virginia Marks, music performance studies, presented "The Towson Piano Teaching Techniques," for the Towson Piano Teaching Institute at the Toledo Museum of Art in October.

She also performed for Kenyon College's artist series.

Michael Marsden and Jack Nechaba, popular culture, gave presentations on "The Images of the Midwest City in American Film and Television" at a conference, "Midwest Cities: Culture and Crisis" sponsored by the Urban Affairs Center of the University of Toledo Nov. 21.

John G. Meierman, political science, presented a paper, "Environmental Mechanizations in Egyptian Agriculture," at the 8th Annual Social Studies Association conference Nov. 4-7 in Kansas City. The paper is part of Dr. Meierman's research in Egypt during the summer of 1981 made possible by a Faculty Research Award from the University.

Dean Puro, sociology, presented a paper on "Factors Contributing to the Student Experience of Involvement in Age-Group Swimming" at the annual meetings of the North American Society for the Sociology of Sport Nov. 1-2 in Fort Worth, Texas.

At the same-meeting, Eldon Snyder, sociology, presented a paper on a "Social Interaction Analysis of Athletics in Higher Education." Dr. Snyder also participated in a panel on educational implications of athletics.

Elmer Speer, sociology, presented a paper on "Correlates of Participation in Adult Sport Recreational Sports" and participated in a session on economic implications of athletics.

Sharon J. Rogers and Janet Dömmer, library, presented a paper, "The Library's Role in Maintaining Clinical Teaching and Learning in Extended Degree Programs," at the National American Library Association's second annual conference on external degree programs Nov. 5-7 in Baltimore.

Joe Sharp, conferences and arrangements, led two sessions, "Strategic Planning: Large and Small - How to Do Them," at the 39th annual ACUHO Conference Services Workshop in Los Angeles. The sessions on large groups was co-led by Bill Haynes of Texas Tech.

Ervin Shibli, political science, presented a paper, "The Bureaucratic Framework for Electric Power Siting," at the Edison Electric Institute Symposium on Electric Energy Oct. 19. Dr. Shibli was selected from more than 300 scholars to address the symposium.

David R. Spence, will have a paper on "John Simper and the Industrialization of the Potomac Valley" presented at the Industrialization and Development and Diversification in the Chesapeake Colonial Era, the 9th annual meeting of the American Historical Association Dec. 31, 1982 in Los Angeles.

Andrea Szondyki, music history and theory, presented an invited paper, "Barrik and the 29th Symphonic International Bartholdy Symposium and CIM Cantata Festival," at the College of Music at the University of Southern California. Jan 28-30 in Los Angeles.

Barbara E. Woerner of the Medical College of Ohio, presented a paper, "Assisted Reproductive Techniques in the Female: Intrauterine Implantation," at the 96th annual meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Obstetrics and Gynecology Nov. 21, in Chicago.

Additional Information is available from the women's studies program office, 317 West Hall (272-2962).

Women's studies program offers prize

The women's studies program has announced the first $1,000 Women's Studies Alumni Award and the first $500 Student Writing Award. The two prize-winning essays will be published in a manuscript illustrating the lives, roles, achievements and status of women in society.

Essays, research papers, critiques or personal experiences may be entered in the competition, which is limited to current University undergraduates and graduates.

Entries, which may range in length from 300 to 8,700 words, will be judged by University faculty and students. Only previously unpublished manuscripts will be considered.

Deadline for entry is Thursday, April 1.

Additional Information is available from the women's studies program office, 317 West Hall (272-2962).

‘Figaro’ to open opera season

A touring production in March of Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro" will premiere on campus with two shows to be staged this season by the College of Musical Arts, John McReynolds, music director, has announced.

The production will be presented at 8 p.m. March 5 and at 3 p.m. March 7 at Kobacker Hall in the Musical Arts Center. The performances must be presented at 3 p.m. March 14 at the Palace Theater in Lorain under the sponsorship of the Firelands Friends of Music.

Benjamin Britten's 20th century opera "The Rape of Lucretia" will be presented April 30 and May 1, and three one-act operas will be staged May 19 and 20 at Kobacker Hall, McReynolds said.

The final opera presentation of the year will be "The Great Gatsby" from the "The True Story of the Three Little Pigs" by faculty composer Wallace XXO. The Opera June 3 at Kobacker Hall, McKinnon, who holds a one-year appointment as director of the College of Musical Arts Ensemble and a frequent guest conductor for the College of Musical Arts, has announced.

The production will be presented at 8 p.m. March 5 and at 3 p.m. March 7 at Kobacker Hall in the Musical Arts Center. The performances must be presented at 3 p.m. March 14 at the Palace Theater in Lorain under the sponsorship of the Firelands Friends of Music.

Ticket information for the opera productions will be available by calling the Office of University Arts Center box office at 372-0711.
Three administrative appointments within the College of Education have been announced by Sandra Packard, dean of the college.

Ronald Russell, former chair of the home economics department, has been named associate dean for academic programs. Donald J. Chase, assistant dean for administration, has been promoted to associate dean, and Steven Russell, special assistant to the dean, has been appointed special assistant to the dean.

The appointments were effective Jan. 1.

Dr. Ronald Russell has chaired the home economics department since 1975, when he moved to Bowling Green from Texas Tech University where he was associate chair of the home and family department in the College of Home Economics. He succeeded R. "Dick" Horton, who has returned to full-time teaching in the School of Technology.

Dr. Russell earned his bachelor's degree at Florida Southern College and master's and doctoral degrees at Pennsylvania State University. At Bowling Green, he has been responsible for planning and supervising the college's academic programs and has represented the department on several college committees. He also will monitor college responses to state and national standards, accreditation and certification requirements and perform the dean in her absence.

Dr. Chase is a 1978 graduate of Ohio State University and holds master's and doctoral degrees from Michigan State University. He joined the faculty in 1971 and has been assistant director of the student teaching office, assistant to the dean and assistant dean.

He will be responsible for administering all field experience programs for teacher-education students, establishing cooperative agreements with area schools and monitoring college resources and budgets.

Dr. Chase is a graduate of Ohio State University and holds master's and doctoral degrees from Michigan State University. He joined the faculty in 1971 and has been assistant director of the student teaching office, assistant to the dean and assistant dean.

He will be responsible for administering all field experience programs for teacher-education students, establishing cooperative agreements with area schools and monitoring college resources and budgets.

Steven Russell's half-time post as assistant to the dean has been restructured into three part-time appointments in an effort to increase external support for College of Education activities. Dr. Packard said.

He will assist college faculty in developing proposals and writing applications for externally funded grants and will also help with software programs for college alumni and emeriti faculty. He will coordinate special programs to enhance external relations of the college and will be the college liaison with the Office of Research Services.

Dr. Russell has been successful in obtaining several major grants at other universities. He was a member of the faculty since 1980, he is a graduate of Bowling Green and earned a master's degree from the University of Toledo and a Ph.D. from the University of Michigan.

Inflation is not the sole factor involved in the rising cost of library books.

A recent decision by the United States Supreme Court that inventories may not be depreciated has affected the cost and availability of published materials.

The Supreme Court case was brought by the Internal Revenue Service against the Thor Power Tool Company in an effort to prevent companies from depreciating the value of published materials for tax purposes.

Current regulations, which have been in effect since 1947, allow companies to depreciate state that inventories may not be depreciated until they are destroyed. These regulations were not thought to be very effective in reducing the company's tax problems. The court held that the regulations are not being enforced to the thor decision. A Thor attorney was quoted as saying that publishers are not asked to pay taxes on their inventories and by deprecating the value of the inventory to show a paper "loss" were actually able to pay fewer taxes.

In February, 1981 the Supreme Court ruled that inventories may not be depreciated and are taxable. The thor decision was applied to all types of businesses and was made retroactive to 1975.

Publishers have protested the thor decision and legislation has been introduced in Congress several times which would exclude from the decision. To date, however, no exceptions have been made.

Publishers must pay taxes on books they may never sell.

One result of the court ruling is that Octagon Books destroyed 11,000 volumes, including "Baudelaire: the Critic" and "The Tennessee Williamsman: 1840-1890." Plenum Publishers destroyed 33,500 books last year.

Economically, the effect of this decision has been an increase in the price of books. One vendor has noted that prices have increased 20 percent during 1980-81. The average price of academic books through June, 1981 has been estimated at $24.21.

Publishers are now requiring that a number of volumes in a printing and are forced to order to continue earlier profits. Books of interest to academic institutions will be in a relatively high demand and they have started to raise prices.

More important to scholars than the economic impact of the thor decision is its social and intellectual implications. As publishers destroy books, many valuable titles will be in short supply. As publishers plan for the publication of new books, the price is certain to be higher than normal to cover costs and generate profits on smaller numbers of books. Fewer manuscripts may actually be accepted for publication. All of these changes may be difficult to cope with from the public's right to know and the scholar's access to a wide variety of ideas and information.

The University Library is attempting to counter the effects of the thor decision with its book approval system. Through this system, the library receives books from 5,000 publishers without paying any taxes. The speed with which the Library is able to obtain these new books is significantly increased because the new regulations many books will be out of print within six months. More popular titles may be unavailable within three months.

Faculty members may examine books which the Library receives on the approval plan and may request books which are valuable for their teaching and research. Books not accepted are returned to the approval plan vendor.

The Student Recreation Center will offer a series of special programs for members during the winter quarter. Registration for these programs, which range from learn-to-swim classes for children, to tennis to the popular noon exercise program T.O.N.E., begins today (Jan. 1) and continues through Jan. 22.

Hours for sign-up are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays in the Rec Center office, which will also be open 9-11:45 a.m. on Saturdays.

Winter quarter memberships and the new Limited Fitness Ticket (LIFT) designed for early risers and noon-time exercisers, are also being sold now in the Rec Center office.

Full-memberships, which are $31 per member per quarter and $15.50 per spouse, will be valid through March 28. The LIFT ticket, sold for $15 per quarter, is good weekdays only, 7-9 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., and is not valid during quarter breaks.

LIFT tickets carry no provision for spouse discount or family plan membership.

Family plan hours for those holding full memberships have been extended for winter quarter, when they will be 4-8 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The center will be open during winter quarter from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday; 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. to midnight Sunday.

Following is a schedule of winter quarter programs. A complete listing is available in the Rec Center office.

LEARN TO SWIM PROGRAM
(Jan. 23-March 5)
Cost: $5

Two seminars for faculty interested in learning about pre-retirement planning and pre-retirement financial planning are scheduled Jan. 29 and Feb. 25 in the Miami Alumni Center. Jointly sponsored by the Faculty Development Center and the Miami Alumni and Development, the seminars will be conducted by Lester Conrey, president of the Cremmo Insurance and Finance at Arizona State University. Dr. Conrey, a retired professor in pre-retirement planning, has traveled throughout the country presenting retirement seminars and working with industry and universities while field testing and designing materials for use in his presentations.

A comprehensive packet of materials will be provided at no charge to each participant in the

Rec Center sports full winter quarter schedule

Waterbabies (3-12 months)-Saturday, 9:30-10 a.m.
Goldfish (12-24 months)-Saturday, 10 a.m.-11:15 a.m. -—Packets to Pre-beginners (5-11 months)—Saturday, 10:30-11:45 a.m. Beginners—Saturday, 10:30-11:45 a.m. Intermediates—Saturday, 10:30-11:45 a.m.
Swimmers—Saturday, 10:30-11:30 a.m.
Adults—Thursday, 7-8 p.m.
Swimminis—Thursday, 8-9:30 p.m.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS
"Sasaprice"—3-4 p.m. Thursdays, Jan. 26-March 4, Free.
Dance Clinic—noon-1 p.m. Thursdays, Jan. 30-February 27, 5, Dorm and Run Lift Program—6:30-8 p.m. Thursdays and Tuesdays, Jan. 26-March 4, $5.
Aerobics—9:30-10:30 a.m. Mondays and Wednesdays Jan. 25-March 5, $4.50 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, Jan. 26-March 4, $5.
T.O.N.E.—noon-1 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, Jan. 26-March 11, $3 per 10-week course, $4.50 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays, Jan. 15-March 3, $7 per 10-week course, $10.50 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays, Jan. 26-March 4, $5.
One-day clinics in squash, racquetball and weight training are also scheduled throughout the quarter for a $2 fee. Check the Rec Center office for dates and times.

Sign-up also begins today for facultystaff non racquetball and squash leagues, which will begin round robin play on Jan. 25.

Pre-retirement seminars set
Jan. 29 and 30 for faculty

The Jan. 29 seminar, scheduled from 2:55 p.m. is designed for faculty with a number of years available to the Miami Alumni Center.

Jointly sponsored by the Faculty Development Center and the Miami Alumni and Development, the seminars will be conducted by Lester Conrey, president of the Cremmo Insurance and Finance at Arizona State University. Dr. Conrey, a retired professor in pre-retirement planning, has traveled throughout the country presenting retirement seminars and working with industry and universities while field testing and designing materials for use in his presentations.

A comprehensive packet of materials will be provided at no charge to each participant in the

The seminars.

The Jan. 30 seminar, scheduled from 2:55 p.m., is designed for faculty with a number of years available to the Miami Alumni Center.

Reservations for the seminars, which will be limited to 35 participants each and are being offered at no cost to the participants, should be made by Jan. 15 by contacting the Faculty Development Center. Confirmation will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

For further information, contact the Faculty Development Center (372-2651).

Education dean names 3 to administrative positions

From the Library... Publishers burn over Supreme Court ruling

Monitor is published every week for teachers and students of Bowling Green State University.

The eine editions are for the next issue, Jan. 18, 5 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 12.

Change of address and other notices

Monitor
Administration Building
Bowling Green State University
Bowling Green, Ohio 43403

Construction of the University's outdoor "lit trail" is well underway, but weather conditions have prohibited its completion. The trail is being constructed adjacent to the ice Arena with $10,000 contributed from private sources.
More than 1,000 usable toys and canned goods were collected for distribution to needy families in Wood County at the annual "Sharing Night" held Dec. 19 at the Bowling Green vs. Tri-State University basketball game. This is the third year the athletic department has sponsored the event. The items collected were distributed by the Bowling Green City Police.

News in Review

Water break meant no break for some on New Year's weekend

A broken water main that flooded the tunnel system in the Conklin Hall-Library area caused several buildings to be without hot and electricity created a sort New Year's holiday for several University personnel. The break occurred Wednesday (Dec. 30) in a newly-installed water line, spilling 50,000 gallons of water into the tunnel and covering steam, condensate and compressed air piping as well as telephone cables and primary power conduits. Electrical and heat were cut off in several buildings when the water penetrated high-voltage lines. Keith Pogan, technical support services, and other University personnel including Chuck Coddington, Earl Rupright, Bob Hayward and Gilbert Pecel spent their holidays supervising the repair effort, which were performed by the contractors. University custodians completed the clean-up job in Conklin, Harshman and Kreischer halls about 2:30 p.m. Sunday, just as students were returning from the holiday break. When the rest of the campus reported back to work Monday morning, few were aware of the mechanical problems that resulted in the short holiday for several of the staff.

Select postal rates increase today

Postal rates for third-class and second-class mail have been increased, effective today (Jan. 11). Third-class bulk rates have been raised from 3.875 cents per piece to 5.9 cents per piece. Second-class value postage has been raised from 15.6 to 27 cents per pound. Library rate is now 32 cents for materials weighing one or more pounds. Additional, rounds, up to seven, will cost 11 cents each. Pounds over seven will cost seven cents each.

The second-class rate is available for scheduled publications only. Information about changes in that rate and questions about other rate hikes should be directed to Jim Clemens in the University Post Office (372-2310).

CPR training to be offered

The Personnel Steering Committee is planning to sponsor a cardio-pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) training program during winter quarter. Offered by Blue Cross of Northwestern Ohio, the program requires a total of eight hours of practical training divided into two four-hour sessions. Because the maximum class size is 15, PSC members are surveying potential interest before making final arrangements for a course.

Anyone interested in CPR training and able to attend two four-hour sessions should contact Karol Heckman in personnel support services, 372-2265, or later than Jan. 22. Specific dates for CPR training will be announced later depending upon the level of interest.

Steering committee seeks staff input

Classified employees who wish to submit topics for discussion by the Personnel Steering Committee are urged to contact a member of the Interests and Concerns Subcommittee: Bev Copple, technical support service, 327-2305; Charlotte Statens, Campus Safety and Security (372-2340), or Annette Ecker, writing lab (372-2221). The Personnel Steering Committee will meet Wednesday (Jan. 13) in the Capital Room of the Union. Classified employees are welcome to attend the open session from 3-4 p.m.

Errors noted in telephone directory

Two errors in telephone numbers have been noted in the 1981-82 University Telephone Directory. Faculty and staff are asked to make the following corrections in their directories:

- Alumni Center, Information Desk – 372-2701
- Recreation Center, Intramurals (Indoor Coed) – 372-2447

Summer steam shutdown announced

Because of the conversion next fall to the steam system and the resulting early starting date for classes, the annual repair and maintenance of the heating plant is also being scheduled earlier. Shutdown of the heating facility has been set for Aug. 21-23. There will be no steam during that three-day period.

Notice of the shutdown is being published at this early date to avoid scheduling conflicts later in the year. Reminders of the scheduled maintenance will be published again as the time for shutdown nears.

Datebook

Exhibits
"Mixed Media Drawing," an invitational exhibition, through Jan. 12, Fine Arts Gallery, School of Art. Gallery hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 2-5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

Paintings and drawings by Italian artist Leonardo Bruni, Jan. 2-Feb. 26, McFarlin Center Gallery. Gallery hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 2-5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

Tuesday, Jan. 12
Faculty Senate, 2:30 p.m., McFarlin Center Assembly Room.

Wednesday, Jan. 13
Personnel Steering Committee, open session, 2 p.m. KAB 106. All classified employees are welcome.

Basketball vs. Kent State, 8 p.m., Athletic Center.

Brass Quintet, 8 p.m., north building.

Thursday, Jan. 14
Festival Series, Nathaniel Rosen, cello, 8 p.m., Kobacker Hall, Moore Musical Arts Center. A limited number of orchestral pit seats remain for this Festival Series performance. Call 372-0171 for ticket information.

"To Be or Not To Be," UAO Film Series, 8 p.m., Gish Film Theater, Hanner Hall.

Friday, Jan. 15
Martin Luther King Memorial Service, in chapel, 11 a.m. Hosted by the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences. Prout Chapel.

Basketball vs. Ferris State, 7:30 p.m., ice Arena.

"Chapter Two," UAO Film Series, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m., 310 Math Science Center. Admission $1 with University ID.

Saturday, Jan. 16
Basketball vs. Ferris State, 7:30 p.m., ice Arena.

"Chapter Two," UAO Film Series, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m., 310 Math Science Center. Admission $1 with University ID.

Graduate Trumpet Ensemble, 8 p.m., Bryan Recital Hall, Moore Musical Arts Center. Free.

Sunday, Jan. 17
University Youth Orchestra, 3 p.m., Kobacker Hall, Moore Musical Arts Center. Free.

University, MCO co-sponsor seminars

A half dozen leading researchers will be guest speakers during a series of seminars on the causal and treatment of learning disabilities in children, sponsored by Bowling Green and the Medical College of Ohio at Toledo. Funded by a grant from the MacArthur Foundation of Chicago, the series will begin Tuesday (Jan. 12) at the Medical College.

H. John van Duyne, special education is director of the program, which has been designed to bring together, from a wide variety of disciplines together to share their knowledge of effective interdisciplinary research on learning disabilities.

Potriller, chief, division of pediatric neurology at MCO, is co-director of the seminars.

The ultimate goal of the series, according to Dr. van Duyne, is to initiate collaborative research which will lead to more effective treatments and educational procedures used in the education of children with learning disabilities.

Faculty and staff interested in registering for the seminar program can contact Dr. van Duyne at 372-0151 or sign up at the first session which will begin at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 12 at Health Education Building at MCO.