The Bee Gee News as the representative of the student body wishes to take this opportunity to express its appreciation of having the use of the Library in the evenings this year.

Anyone who visits the library in the evening will find it a very busy place with hundreds of students busy with reference reading and other outside work. It is now possible for those who work part time or those with heavy schedules to get their work out without much inconvenience, and they are surely taking advantage of it. Those organizations, members of the faculty and student body who made this possible deserve our highest commendation. Surely no one can be disappointed with the outpouring of students who are utilizing the "after supper" hours for study. The uptown streets and the old familiar loafing places are almost deserted and the theatres likewise suffer but the students are reaping the benefit. After all we come here to work and should do so just as conscientiously as though we were engaged in any other kind of business. A business man could not work at his business for an hour and then go up town, then back to work, etc, and ever make a success.

Neither can we as students engage in our work in such a half-hearted manner.

Those who used to come to college to have a good time are now turning there faces in another direction and the student body as a whole is a very earnest and conscientious group who have higher goals to achieve.

The use of the library evenings is helping them to make the most of their opportunities, and we feel sure they are not letting those opportunities go by.

A Freshman Girl's Impression of B. G. S. C.

We were properly thrilled on registration day by the superiority of the faculty, the wisdom of the Seniors, the sagacity of the Juniors, and the importance of the Sophomores. Then we, the conceited little High School Seniors of last May, came in and were promptly squelched by the all-knowing upper classmen. Before we were even acquainted with any front doors, they ordered us to take the side entrances and suffer other such indignities as vocalizing the college song.

We have been blossoming forth in the new autumn colors of orange and brown lately, but none of the upper-classmen have followed the trend of the fashions.

We do hope, however, that within four years we will have accumulated the distinguishing qualities of the Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors.

At present we, the poor Frosh, feel that we are Gulliver and the cruel Sophomores are the Lilliputians.

The Freshmen's View of College (Boys)

We came the first day feeling lonely and wholly out of place. We stumbled through registration with the aid of the teachers, and went home with empty pockets wondering what it was all about.

Our first classes were not so bad. We knew nothing about them but the teachers were all very kind and helpful. By the end of the first week we began to think we had an interest in Bowling Green. No one questioned us and we came and went as we pleased. Life was very nice then. The first week end we went home and painted a flowery picture of college life and of what nice fellows everyone was up there.

The time soon arrived when a small piece of paper, posted on the bulletin board, took all the joy out of life for us. The caps made us feel as though everyone looked at us, and that wasn't so pleasant. The real misery came when the upper classmen saw our caps and called us by the name "Freshie". We thought we were as good as any of them, but with the aid of a paddle they soon convinced us we were in the wrong. Many of us who never before considered ourselves singers, developed our voices to such an extent that we were called upon to sing several times each day.

On our next journey home we were very quiet about our life here. Of course we did not change the picture to our folks but the names we fitted in our minds to the upper classmen would not do to publish. None of the upper classmen ever heard the names for we were getting our education slowly.

The story President Williams painted for our benefit in chapel did not now correspond to some of our ideas. Surely he did not watch us get our licks with the paddle or see us lined up in rows holding our ankles at the request of upper classmen. We hope to see it as he does someday in the future. We are taking the rough stuff manfully and in the proper spirit without grumbling but the comment has been heard "Oh you Sophomores, wait till the bag rush."

We are convinced we aren't a very large factor in college life but we will all do our best and someday you will hear from us. Our eyes are turned east toward the highest goal that can be reached in a scholastic, athletic, and social way through hard work. This year we will pay tribute to our superiors, boost all activities of the school and try to make our presence felt in a very constructive way.

We were much impressed with the fine, well equipped college buildings. The teaching staff is honored by us all, and they may be assured of our hearty cooperation at all times. We are finding the fellows we associate with are all real fellows and we are going to work to attain the high standards set by them.

We the freshman class do here pledge our best for our College.

Coming Home

You are already home, but you know it's going to be a "big" week end in Bee Gee when you can greet the old students once more. Everybody is looking forward to November 8 and 9. That will be one week end when Bee Gee collects suitcases. Every real Bee Gee student that used to be here is coming home. All real Bee Gee folks in school are staying home.

It is scarcely worth while to tell you the events of the program, but if you are a bit skeptical,

Bright Future Offered by the Arts Course

With the many opportunities that are brought into our midst by the addition of the Arts Course we can see many possibilities in store for our college. The extension of the school, itself is assurance of an appreciable increase in its enrollment. Surely, the number of students pursuing the teachers' training will not decrease without a decrease in demand for teachers, which is not the case at present. We can highly evaluate this new field for the cultural development which is its inherent quality. It is simply good reasoning to conclude that the greater the number of students available the better will be the selection of leaders we can make.

Hand in hand with the cultural aspects will be found the finer and more beneficial social activities. Our present social organizations are developed to their limits, because very few students are not included in one or another society. Our present plans for development are bringing our social organizations to higher levels and to standards of college societies of national recognition. We thrill at the thought of uniting with such organizations, because it should be the universal manifestation of our abilities and our standards as an institution of higher education.

The increase in our athletic activities bids fair to be substantially bettered, for an arts course will bring to our doors as many, if not more, men than women students. For this we can say, the bigger the group the better will be the choice of people who shall represent us.

It appears that our friends in stations of life farther along than ours have measured our needs and have felt for us more than we have for ourselves, because it was by their great urge that this new course has been made possible. The constant increase in enrollment for fifteen years from some three hundred to nearly one thousand students has proved the stability and the soundness of the institution. It is for us that this has been done!

Northern Ohio, it appears, has not shared equally with the Southern part in the advantages of State educational systems up to this time. Miami University, at Oxford, and Ohio University, at Athens, have offered arts courses for some time. Kent State at Kent, and Bowling Green have not had these advantages.

As a student body let us take this opportunity to express our gratitude to President Williams, to the Board of Trustees, and to the State legislators who have brought this new tree of education to be placed in our own dooryard.

Krause: (Seriously) Can you get pinched riding 6 in the front seat?

"Eddie": I don't know. 'Tis rather crowded.

The class was on one of its numerous field trips when a farmer was observed filling a basket with corn from a wagon.

Prof.: The man is now preparing to feed the pigs. Come on class.

Coach Landis has a large number of runners working out each day in preparation for the conference meet. Last year the meet was won by Toledo and the local Harriers are out to bring the championship home this year. In the first meet of the season Ypsilanti defeated the Falcon runners. But even in defeat the coach was well satisfied with the showing of the team. Three of the boys finished ahead of the conference record time which helps to brighten the prospects of a championship this year.

The addition of "Joey" Ryder will strengthen the team and his former experience, will no doubt help the new men in the long grind.

Ryder was hurt last fall and unable to run in any of the meets, but he is working hard each night and will probably be in tip top shape when they take their marks against Toledo U, Oct. 26.

Woodring has developed into a valuable man and will be hard to beat.

Hostetter is a small man but a hard runner. "Johnnie" came home in good time in the Ypsilanti meet and is expected to be out there in the conference meet.

Rozelle, Parks, Wolf and Linsenmayer are being watched each night by Coach Landis and he is well satisfied with the running of these men.

Toledo are depending on their veteran team copping the conference meet but if the Falcon Harriers run true to form the boys will bring home the honors.

Many high school teams in this section of the state are coached by former Bee Gee men and on several occasions, former team mates are found battling each other. McDaniels, coach at Mt. Balnchard and Shelton directing the team at Van Buren met at Mt. Blanchard and "Macs" boys won by a 14 to 0 count. Shelton had won four games without being scored on and his team is still picked to win the Hancock county title.

The Conference Schedule

Oct. 18—Findlay, Home.
 Oct. 26—Toledo U. There.
 Nov. 2—Defiance, There.
 Nov. 9—Bluffton, Home.

The Falcons met two non-conference foes to pry off the lid of the 1929 season. Baldwin-Wallace opened the season on the Bee Gee field Sept. 28, and the following week the local warriors journeyed to Ypsilanti where a morning game was played.

The loss of the first two games was not looked upon as a discouraging start, because it gave the coaches a chance to see what the new comers would do under fire. The local followers who watched the team work out each evening know that Coach Steller and Landis will have a strong aggregation on the field when the conference season opens Oct. 18 with Findlay.

The defeat at the hands of the Baldwin-Wallace team was an up-set to dopesters, but the Berea crew has sent the dope bucket splashing the past two weeks—beating the strong Case team 6 to 0 and then trimming Capitol by a one sided score. The conference team will line-up about equal this season and the title will probably be decided in the final game. Toledo U opened the conference season at Findlay and won 7 to 0. The two teams fought on even terms after the Toledo team shoved over a touchdown the first quarter.

Defiance and Bluffton will fight it out this week in their first conference game. Next week the Falcons will journey to Toledo and the following week the Defiance college will celebrate Home-coming with Bee Gee furnishing the opposition on the gridiron.

Baldwin-Wallace

The Falcons lost the first game of the season to the strong Baldwin-Wallace team on the home field by a score of 18 to 0. The team had only two weeks preparation for the opening tilt and the many new members added to the squad made it difficult to pick the team. Chapman acted as captain and put plenty of fight in his team mates. Treece's kicking was a big factor of the local team.

Baldwin-Wallace scored in the first quarter. After the Falcon team held them on the four yard line and Treece kicked what was thought to be out of danger but the visitors returned the kick for a touchdown. The try for extra point failed. The Baldwin Wallace team marched down the field for another touchdown before the home team was within scoring distance. The boys carried the ball to the five yard line and lost it on downs. The half ended 12 to 0.

The Bee Gee team put up a good game and deserve credit for fighting hard. The boys came back strong the second half but were unable to score against the Berea team. The visitors scored again the second half but were unable to add the extra point. The game ended 18 to 0.

Ypsilanti

The team left at an early hour in the morning, the game at Ypsilanti being played a 10 o'clock.

Ypsilanti has a fine new stadium and athletic field. The football field is used for games only and was in fine shape for the game.

The Falcons put up a bold fight the first two quarters and held the home

SEVEN SISTERS

Thursday evening, Oct. 10, the Seven Sister Sorority gathered together to enjoy an out-door meal, but due to the inclemency of the weather the gathering was held inside.

The tables were tastefully decorated in burnt orange and blue and a delicious lunch was served. After the lunch a social hour was enjoyed. Those attending were Marian Culbert, Althea Benner, Mildred Immel, Ethel Cook, Beryl Thorson, Dora Doyle, Marian Sanzenbacker, Kathryn House, Pauline Spiller, Elizabeth Walters, Jean Robertson, Martha Goeth, Clara Gillan, Cletus Eckel, Esther Hayhurst and the faculty advisors, Miss Nielsen and Miss Tressel.

FIVE SISTER NEWS

With 22 active members on the campus, the Five Sisters Sorority is looking forward to the best year in its history. Two pledges of last year were received with the beautiful and impressive ritual of the sorority at the meeting Oct. 3. The new sisters are Helen Oxley and Edith Pope.

The president, Eleanor Davis, has already appointed several committee chairman for coming activities. Ellen Stover and Marie Menz are in charge of the copying and publishing of the Five Sister song. Genevieve Keil is chairman of the Rushing activities. The parties being planned are the most elaborate and original that the sorority has ever given.

Geraldine Scott has charge of arrangements for the annual Homecoming dinner. About sixty active and alumni members are expected at this party which will be a formal eight o'clock dinner, Nov. 9, at the Woman's club.

Marva Hough of the Physical Education department has accepted an invitation to assist Marian Hall as faculty sponsor to the sorority.

Phi Sigma Mu Dinner

Phi Sigma Mu, the Public School Music Club sponsored a formal dinner for the Music Department at the Woman's Building, Wednesday, Oct. 9.

Mr. M. C. McEwen presided as toastmaster, and Mrs. Irene C. Mooers a member of the faculty and Miss Kathryn House, president of Phi Sigma Mu responded with delightful talks.

Informal singing, stunts, and dancing were enjoyed after the dinner.

YE OLD FIVE BROTHERS

Ye Old Five Brothers Fraternity are busy to the last man launching forth on a campaign that we hope will end in one of the most successful years of its history. There are twenty-three active members in school and are all working hard living up to the motto "College First-Five Brothers Second."

The Five Brothers are making plans for an extensive Homecoming Program to climax at the Annual Banquet at the Commercial Bank following the Homecoming Dance. Preparations are being made to welcome all old "Brothers" at the House and Saturday night at the "feed."

Ye Old Five Five Brothers wish to take this opportunity to announce the pledging of two new men: Clifford Amassa "Red" Stevenson, Bowling Green, and Bernard Bricker, Convoy, O. These men will be given their final degrees at Homecoming along with Dean Burget, a present pledge.

The "Annual Fall Smoker" held at the House, Monday, Sept. 30, was well attended and everybody enjoyed a good time at cards, music, specialty numbers and eats. A lunch was served at 10 P. M. consisting of coffee, sandwiches, potato chips, baked beans, ice cream and wafers. The attendance made a "Houseful" numbering 67.

The fraternity is at present looking over a group of likely men in view of pledging a group of new men. The new grade ruling put into effect last year holds pledging new men off until an estimate of their work at Bowling Green is secured.

SKOL NEWS

The Skol Sorority had its first social gathering Tuesday, Oct. 1, when the pledges entertained the members at a theatre party. After the show the members were served a lunch by the members elect and the remainder of the evening was spent informally. Helen Kitson, an alumni was a guest.

On the following Tuesday the pledges were admitted to membership, the service being held at the home of Miss McCain, 315 Summit St. The new members are Maxine Ogle, Jean Shocker, Mary Pauken, Vera Switzer, Corinne Keeler, Alice Kay Fels, Thelma Deehr and Clara Krause.

The members who have returned this year are Elena Percy, Thelma Hergert, "Dot" Derby, Virginia Clarke, Corinne Burkett, Grace Brown, "Bette" Lutz, Elva Morgan, Jean Miller and Miss McCain, our faculty advisor.

Plans are now being made for homecoming and every effort is being put forth to make SKOL a bigger and better organization this year.

THE DELHI STAG PARTY

Altho "a thing of beauty and a joy forever" all women were forgotten at the He-Man Stag Party given the night of October 1 in the Mens' Gym. Beside the brothers, nearly 25 guests were present, including Profs. Carmichael, Reeb, and Stellar.

Games, stunts, and music, by the "slow-motion" quartet furnished a large part of the evening's WOW.

At a late hour cider, (wat wuz cider), doughnuts, apples and nicotine were served, and the party split.

Emerson Literary Society

Emerson Literary Society held its organization meeting on October 2. Leonard Linsenmayer, as temporary chairman, explained to the large group present the aims and ideals of the society. This is Emerson's fifteenth year, let's make it the biggest.

The Emerson meeting on the sixteenth of October, was devoted to the election of officers and a program. Leonard Linsenmayer received the office of president. Ruth Milkey was elected vice president; Isabelle Wagner received the office of secretary, and Geraldine Scott was chosen treasurer. The program centered about the theme, "Autumn." Each of the four numbers took up a definite phase of autumn:

Autumn's Nature—James Wensel.

Autumn in Poetry—Isabelle Wagner.

Autumn's Historical Events—Wilson Egbert.

Autumn in Myths and Legends—Esther Hayhurst.

In addition to the election of officers and the rendition of a program, a group of young people were voted into the society. The society was asked to help this year's Homecoming by aiding in the sale of "Homecoming badges." Let's get behind this annual Homecoming and give it a boost. The success or failure of this festival lies in the hands of the college organizations. Let's go, Emerson.

W. A. A. NEWS

The Women's Athletic Association started the year off with a bang! The evening of September 18 was a scene of great revelry. New candidates for membership were initiated. A business meeting took place at the beginning of the evening. The oath was taken by the new members, after which new and old members adjourned to the gym. A great time was had by all. Dancing, games, and the crunching of all day suckers were the diversions of the rest of the evening.

League of Women Voters

The League of Women Voters which was organized late last year will assume its active functioning this year. The chapter will be reorganized entirely since all the officers of last year's organization were graduated. Shirley Overmeyer, president during 1928-29 appointed a committee with Geraldine Scott as chairman to assume the responsibility of the league's reorganization this fall. Miss Laura Heston, faculty sponser, is already arranging for a speaker from Columbus for the first meeting.

All girls and women faculty members are invited to become members of the league. The purpose of the organization is to keep women voters informed on the local and national political affairs. It is affiliated with the State and National Voters League. Everyone interested is cordially invited to be present at the first meeting, which will be within a few weeks. The announcement will be on the bulletin board.

CHAPEL

On September 17, the first Chapel Service was held. President Williams welcomed the new students with a few well-chosen remarks. He urged them to perform the duties diligently and impressed upon the new students and the old, the value of "making good" in college. The College String Quartet, composed of Messrs. McEwen, Capen, Armstrong and Baron, ably played and was enthusiastically received. Miss Kathryn House's solo was appreciated by the students. Pres. William's splendid address featured the second chapel service.

On October 1, the students enjoyed an exceptionally fine Chapel Service. Dr. Charles A. Paynes of the Northern Pacific Railroad, brought to Bowling Green through the efforts of Prof. Holt, gave an illustrated lecture on Alaska. Dr. Payne's wide knowledge, his intense sincerity, his ease of description, together with his charming personality, made his lecture one of the rare treats that the students of Bowling Green enjoyed. His lecture will be remembered for some time to come. The students will regret to learn that Dr. Payne, passed away in Davenport, Iowa on Sunday, October 13. His lecture at Bowling Green was one of the last of a lifetime filled with splendid achievement.

At the next Chapel Service on October 8, Dr. Frederic L. Losey, of New York City, lectured. Dr. Losey is an eminent authority on Shakespeare. He spoke on "The Degeneration of Character, as Illustrated in the Play 'Macbeth' ". His suggestions on the proper method of reading Shakespeare and his witty and interesting comments on "Macbeth" held the student's attention as few speakers can. The students appreciated having two eminent speakers such as Dr. Losey and Dr. Payne, at the Chapel Service. May there be more such services!

On October 15, the Rev. George Winter, pastor of the Church of Christ, spoke on "Bigger and Better Men." Rev. Winter's comments a keen appreciation of both the humorous and the serious sides of life. His speech was well received. At the close of the Chapel Service, the students indulged in a little pep session in preparation for the Bee Gee-Findlay game.

College Paper

This is a college paper. It contains college news. It is not written by one person. One person did not even collect all these items together.

This paper is the work of several college students and, by no means, is limited to those on the staff. If you have something to say that is worth putting before the student body let's hear thru the Bee Gee News.

Let's every body get together and make it a real college paper. You should be familiar with the Bee Gee News "box" in the Main Hall by this time. When you get an inspiration "write it up" and drop it in the box. Every item will be duly considered. It would help too, if the articles were signed.

Library Notes

In going over the records it was found that on the average, over 200 students sign in and out of the Library every nite.

team to two touchdowns.

The last half the Ypsi team run wild and run up a total of 34 points. A pass from Treece to Switzer netted a touchdown, the first of the season for the Falcon team. Treece added the extra point via dropkick. The game ended 34 to 7.

After the game the coaches took the team to Ann Arbor where they witnessed the Michigan-Michigan State game. It was a good game and the boys learned a lot of football during the afternoon. Michigan won 18 to 0.

Dear Alumni and Former Students:

Greetings from home:

Aren't you getting just a bit homesick to see the "old gang" once more and see what's happening at Bee Gee College? Yes, indeed you are! Now's the best chance in the world to do something about that queer feeling folks call homesickness. Have you heard that Bee Gee home coming is November 8 and 9? Put on your hat and grab your coat and come home!

All of us who are here do not need to invite you home, we just have the door wide open and we know you will come. You know the Alma Mater grows larger every year and that means that it will be more difficult to single out old friends each year.

Come while the past is still easy to recall! Come and find a group who used to struggle along with professors and yell for the team at the same time you did and sit down for a few hours of "Do you remember".

This is your college, it is your homecoming! We need not urge you to come. We know that you will come and add to this finest Bee Gee family.

RECEPTION HELD

The annual Faculty Reception was held Thursday evening, September 19th, in the Men's gym. Dancing was the diversion of the evening Leo Lake's Orchestra played. Refreshments were served during the intermissions. A large number attended. We hope "Prexy" and the other member of the Faculty didn't suffer too much from sore arms in the next day or so.

Y. W. and Y. M. DANCE

The joint Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. party was held Friday evening, October 11, at 8:30. A special effort was made to make the occasion a real "mixer", with as few wallflowers and passive onlookers as possible. Circle dances and tag dances helped to accomplish this result. The friendly informality of the affair, good dance music, and a plentiful supply of punch and wafers were sufficient reasons for everyone's having a good time. Let's have more parties like this.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

A very interesting social calendar has been provided for the students this semester. The parties already held have been very successful and a good time has been in store for all who attended. The parties scheduled up to this time for the remainder of the semester are as follows:

- Oct. 18—Girl's Prom.
- Oct. 30—Hallowe'en Party.
- Nov. 2—Tea Dance, Shatzel Hall.
- Nov. 9—Homecoming Party.
- Nov. 15—Freshman Party.
- Nov. 16—Dean Dorm Party.
- Nov. 22—Kick-off Party.
- Nov. 23—Graduating Soph's Party.
- Dec. 7—Book and Motor Party.
- Dec. 14—Penny Fair.
- Dec. 19—Christmas Program.
- Jan. 18—Junior-Senior Formal.
- Jan. 25—Inter-Sorority Dance.

Bee Gee State College is growing. Let's prove it too the "Grads" when they come back, November 8-9.

The Players

Chapman, all Ohio Guard last season, has been shifted to end and the big boy has the same punch that gave him the recognition a year ago.

Thorout, last year end, now plays a guard position. "Jack" has played a lot of football and his constant punch in the opening game shows he is at home in the new position.

Stevenson at center is the same old "Red", and although handicapped with a lame shoulder is playing a great game.

Treece is again found in the backfield and his punting is far ahead of last year. The way he placed his kicks in the opening game showed the local followers that he is capable of booting the ball.

"Don" Lowell is another veteran backfield man and although his work in the opening game was not so brilliant, big things are expected of him this year.

Goldner who played several games last year is back in school and may be used at a tackle or guard position.

Evans, probably termed as a "has been" by some of the followers will see plenty of action before the season ends. George won a letter as a tackle on the squad a few years ago and his experience helps lots.

Traub, a new man at tackle hails from Lorain and his early season work won him a position in the first game.

Travis, a Napoleon athlete, is playing tackle and is making a valuable man in the Bee Gee line.

Sheffer, who played in a few games last year is another lineman that should see plenty of service before the season ends.

De Walt at end is not a new man to Bowling Green. His play with the Bobcats last season was outstanding, and the same punch is getting him to the front with the Falcons.

Freppel, another Napoleon boy is fast and can call the signals like a veteran. "Freddie" will make a valuable back and will probably be used a lot at quarter.

THE PLAYERS

Young, is the third Napoleon lad now wearing a Bee Gee uniform. He was a valuable man on the Nap high team and his power should gain many yards for the Falcons.

Perry, a Columbus boy will no doubt get his share of playing this season. Harry can call the plays and the way he returns kicks is a big help to the team.

Ault, who played with the second stringers last season was out for the center position this year. His tackling and defensive play soon won him a guard position where he will be used a lot.

Bortel, another Bowling Green High man is no small boy, and the way he gets by others and keeps them from getting through him will help the Bee Gee line.

Crawford, a last year man, will see plenty of action at the end position this season. "Judge" can tackle with the best of 'em and his getting down under punts helps his team.

There are many other new faces who are working hard each night and anxious to get a chance at college football. Many nights the coaches have three teams running signals and ready for scrimmage. Among the new men are Garber, Hyatt, Lind, Madaras, Hart, Switzer Ryan, Stevenson, Ostrander, Croll, Poe, Mohr, Thompson, Doyle, Kennemuth, Mignin, Hartschub, Brooks, Gordon, Dennis, Garrison, Delo, Lewis and Mainz.

Coaches Stellar and Landis have had plenty of help from "Max Leitman, a star player the past three years. Leitman will finish his college work this semester.

Bee Gee 23, Findlay 0

That's the result of the first conference football game played on the local field. The Falcons started to march down the field on the first play and did not let up until they had the game safely tucked away.

"Hallie" Treece was elected to captain the team against the Orange and Black of Findlay. His playing was outstanding and the way he injected the fighting spirit into his team mates was a big factor in the Bee Gee victory.

In less than ten minutes after the kick off the local backs had scored thirteen points. Marching steadily down the field without losing the ball the team soon found themselves within scoring distance, then "Mutt" Young was called to carry the ball over and Treece added the extra point when he kicked goal. Every man on the team was doing his share in the scoring, the blocking was outstanding and many times Lowell, Treece, Young or Perry would get off to long runs due to the teams perfect blocking. The second touchdown was scored soon after the first, when a long pass from Treece to Chapman put the ball well into Findlay's territory.

The Falcons completed many forward passes which large gains resulted in this form of attack. The local team made 21 first downs while Findlay made but one.

When Treece's drop kick, from the 30 yard line went between the goal posts the team came to life and soon scored another touchdown. It was at this point of the game that Coach Steller and Landis gave the reserve strength a chance.
