

Visions in Leisure and Business

Volume 3 | Number 1

Article 5

1984

Contributions Summary

Visions Editors

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/visions>

How does access to this work benefit you? Let us know!

Recommended Citation

Visions Editors (1984) "Contributions Summary," Visions in Leisure and Business: Vol. 3: No. 1, Article 5.
Available at: <https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/visions/vol3/iss1/5>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Journals at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Visions in Leisure and Business by an authorized editor of ScholarWorks@BGSU.

SUMMARY

The future of leisure services, from both the public and private perspectives, depend upon one another. This symbiotic relationship has not been well-defined and the role of each must be designed to complement one another to provide for the needs of the consumer. Leisure is a potential significant change agent within a society because of its personal appeal. Unless there is an organized effort to design a comprehensive system, it will not reach its maximum potential to benefit the society.