HISTORY OF BEE GEE

Note—This is the first real attempt ever made to record the complete history of Bowling Green State College. Much has been lost already because no records were kept and the Bee Gee News is now trying to pick up and compile the events as correctly as possible.

The chances are that there are many persons now living, who can help in furnishing facts concerning the early history of the college. The authors would be most grateful to anyone who will contribute to this history from their share of facts concerning the early history of the college. Such communications should be addressed to Ivan E. Lake, care of Sentinel Tribune, B. G. O. or Robert Wyandt, Editor Bee Gee News, State College, B. G. O.

In running down the details of the long campaign for the establishment of a state supported institution for the training of teachers in northwestern Ohio, one is very apt to miss numerous incidents which took place during the fruitless early years of effort on the part of many from this section of the state.

Just when the first efforts were made for gaining such a seat of knowledge, or rather two such seats of knowledge, in northern Ohio is a matter of question. It is understood that early efforts dated back as far as 1900 but were met with such organized opposition from backers of Ohio State, Ohio University and Miami, that little or nothing was heard of those valiant attempts by representatives of northern Ohio in the two houses of the legislature.

With each session of the Ohio General Assembly there was a renewed effort made, but all met with the same stubborn resistance apparently, and each bill introduced died in some committee without ever being reported back. Rep. F. F. Riegle, (R), of Bowling Green, was one of the early pioneers in the fight for such a school.

One of those early efforts was made by Senator Richard A. Beaty, (D), of Wood county, who introduced a bill for a normal school to be located in Bowling Green. The date of that move was Jan. 7, 1908 but no record has been noted here that explains what became of the late statesmen's effort to place a monument to education in his home town. At least, it never was put to a vote in the legislature.

Not discouraged, the leaders of the movement gained the interest of politicians in northeastern Ohio and in the next legislature on Jan. 24, 1910, Rep. J. H. Lowry, of Napoleon, presented a bill "creating a commission to buy sites for two state normal schools" to be located in northern Ohio.

After strenuous efforts on the part of northern Ohio interests the Committee on Schools met on Feb. 19, 1910 and recommended the passage of the Lowry Bill.

GOLD MASK

After several months layoff the Gold Mask is once more getting back to work with plans being completed for two of the most difficult plays that the organization has ever attempted.

The first production will be presented early in April and will be followed by another play sometime in May.

Unless something unforeseen develops the first of these plays will be the far-farmed and most successful dramatic-mystery production "Interference".

The next one will be the even better-known, smashing hit "Journey's End".

A marvelous cast has been secured for "Interference" featuring Clement Premo in the role taken by Powell in the talkies. Carleton C. Jones will play Sir John Marlay, and Gertrude Fries will appear in the leading feminine role as his wife. The rest of the cast will be made up of the most reliable of Gold Mask student and drama class students.

Among them will be Leonard Linscomb, Franklin Skibbie, B. C. Dewese, Ivan Lake, Wilson Egbert, Robert Sheffer, Ruth Premo, Helen DeVerne, and Helen Walrath.

Five Sister News

The Five Sisters Sorority held a meeting Tuesday evening, Feb. 10, at Shatzel Hall. At this meeting the pledges received their first degree initiation. This group of pledges is the first to receive the new form of first degree which went into effect at that time.

The sorority is making extensive plans for the Five Sister convention which is to be held on the week-end of Feb. 13-15. A meeting will be held on Saturday afternoon at which time the pledges will receive their second degree. On Saturday evening there will be a dinner at the Woman's Club. The Valentine Dance which is being held at the college gym will furnish entertainment on Saturday evening. A great many alumnae are expected to return for this convention and a very enjoyable time is anticipated for all those who are present.

Home Economics News

The club had a most interesting meeting Wednesday night, Feb. 11, when Miss Henderson talked to us on the subject, "The Place of Home Economics Clubs in Schools". This was especially helpful to the students who will soon be in the teaching field.

Announcement was made of the Ohio Home Economics Student Club meeting in Columbus in April, and plans were started to send delegates. Committees were appointed for our Annual Spring Party which is to be held May 16. Vera Switzer, Laeta Lindeman and Marian McElhaney were the hostesses.

The regular meeting of the Kindergarten Primary Association was held at seven o'clock, Jan. 21 in Shatzel Annex. The special feature of this meeting was a talk on foreign children given by Miss Hayward. We enjoyed the talk, and the pictures which accompanied it, very much. The group participated in some singing and the program ended. Watch for the notice on the bulletin board for the next meeting.

Las Amigas Sorority

The Las Amigas sorority started the social whirl of formal activities at Bowling Green State College this season by presenting its annual formal winter dance Saturday, Jan. 10. Syd Friedlander and his Royal Knights of Harmony furnished a program of delightful dancing orchestrations.

Chaperones were Mrs. Maude Sharp, Dean of Women; Prof. Chas. F. Reeds, Delta Fraternity Advisor, and Mrs. Reeds; Dr. C. C. Kohl, Five Brother Fraternity Advisor, and Mrs. Kohl; Dean Clyde His- song, Commoner's Fraternity Advisor, and Mrs. Hisong, and the Las Amigas advisors, Miss Janet Bowers and Miss Edna Hedrick. Representatives of Three Kay, Seven Sister, Skol, and Five Sister Sororities were guests of Las Amigas.

Miss Margaret Burkland, Las Amigas president, and Mr. Howard Booth, of Lorain, led the grand march to the accompaniment of a revue of popular college songs. As the couples marched past the clock, the gentlemen were presented with favors.

Punch and wafers were served throughout the entire evening to the large crowd of dancers that the party brought together.

Right

"Ma, is it right to say that you 'water a horse' when you give him a drink?"

"Yes, son."

"Well, then, I'm going to milk the cat."
The intramural basketball of the college is creating a lot of interest throughout the student body. With the beginning of the new semester many players were changed to different teams, and now both leagues will continue play until late next month when the champions of each league will meet to decide the college championship.

Bluffton Trims Falcons

The fighting Beavers that represent the Bluffton college in the Northwestern conference circle gave a good account of themselves when they battered the Bowling Green Falcons 24 to 31 trimming. It was a typical Bowling Green vs Bluffton tilt, which was hard fought and cleanly played from start to finish.

Bluffton jumped into the early lead with a field goal and a number of foul shots, then the Falcons put forth a little more effort and overcame the lead and forged ahead to hold a 10 to 7 advantage at the half.

As the last period opened Hartzler and Risser got their eyes on the basket and rang up a number of shots that gave Bluffton a good lead. With the count 18 to 23 against them the Falcons staged a comeback that put them into the lead 24 to 23. The Beavers were not defeated and as long as there was any time to play they fought hard. The result was that the Falcons failed to score again and the home team won by a final score of 31 to 29.

Perry played a great floor game but was forced to retire late in the game when he went out on personals. "Red" Stevenson went into the game and played well, collecting four points in the short time he was in. Gill again played his stellar game at center, guarding and floor work being outstanding. Yoder was off form and the Falcons were hard hit in the scoring department. Swearingen, with three field goals and a like number of charity goals led the B. G. team in scoring. Hyatt was a capable leader and had his team fighting during the entire game.

Hartzler, Risser and Droesch were the big guns in the Bluffton offense while Leatherman distinguished himself as a guard.

The Falcons are now resting in second place in the Northwestern conference basketball race. The Bluffton team downed the Bee Gee boys 31 to 24, and then the Orange and Brown handed the Findlay college a 29 to 20 trimming to even matters with the Hancock county outfit. Many things can happen in the next few games, the league leading Defiance team has two tough opponents to face and both games are away from home. On Tuesday night Defiance travels to Findlay while Bee Gee will entertain Toledo on the home floor. Then on Friday evening while the Falcons are resting, the Bluffton team will tackle Defiance on the Bluffton floor. The following week the conference schedule will end with Bowling Green at Defiance and Findlay at Bluffton, and the conference championship might be won at either place, because Findlay, Bluffton and Bee Gee each have a chance.

Falcons 29, Findlay 20

The Bowling Green College moved into second place in the conference standing by defeating the Orange and Black team of Findlay by a score of 29 to 20. A great crowd was on hand when referee Rettig tossed the first ball up at center. Many Findlay followers were on hand pulling for their team to defeat the Falcons, but Coach Landis' boys played a great game and turned their opponents back.

The game opened with Yoder registering a pair of field goals for the Falcons. The rushing Findlay team played desperately to overcome the lead. Both teams fouled frequently. Vermillion broke away from his guard to cage the only field goal for Findlay the first half. Gill and Swearingen collected points for the Bee Gee boys before the half ended 15 to 9 for Bowling Green.

Findlay was handicapped a great deal when Hutton was banished from the game for unfair play. This Findlay player has accounted for many points this year and his loss was no doubt felt. Bricker replaced Hutton and played a hard clean game.

The Bowling Green team came back the second half to put the game on ice. Field goals by Perry and Yoder set the college followers to cheering. Findlay then opened up an attack that threw a scare into the local camp.

A “Soph” insisted upon a raise-his grade and a comp to boot. The raise was not forgotten, but Prof. saw he got “the boot.”

Rules for saying "Good night" at Shatzel: Lead him up to the door where the light is bright. Grab both his hands, give the boy a come-to-me look saying kinda soft and low "You have given me a lovely evening, do call again." Release grips on wrists at same time, rush for the door.

"My son", said the father, "It is a four year's loaf."

The men at the house were pleased to have the men of the Saxophone section of the Valencian Orchestra as their guests at dinner on Jan. 23, when the orchestra furnished music for the Junior Senior Formal. After the dance the orchestra entertained the fraternity men and their friends at Fetzer's Grill. Our pledge, Al Linn, was a former Sousaphone player with this organization.
