Wood County, Ohio: Project [Homeless] Connect

INTRODUCTION

Homelessness has been defined by Patton (1987) as a state in which the individual does not have stable dwelling or home and if they slept in:

- Limited or no shelter for any amount of time
- Homeless shelter where they were charged minimal fee or no fee at all
- Low-priced hotel or motel with the actual or intended length of stay of 45 days or fewer
- Stayed with family or friends for short period of time
- Other unique situations where the actual or intended length of stay was 45 days or fewer.

Each year in January, a comprehensive point-in-time data is collected across America in communities to count the number of individuals and families experiencing homelessness. In January 2012, 633,782 individuals were identified as homeless. Approximately 37.8% of these were families with children comprising of 77,157 households and 239,403 people. Roughly, 15.8% of these homeless individuals were reported to be chronically homeless (State of Homelessness in America, 2013). In early 1980's it was estimated that nearly 250,000 to 3,000,000 people were homeless (Hombs & Snyder, 1982; U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, 1984). These statistics indicate that since the 1980s there has been a significant increase in the homeless population in the United States.

Demographic trends suggest that until 2013, the percentage of homeless persons has been increasing consistently. Since 2007, Ohio has experienced a 24.1% (2713) increase in the homeless population. From 2011 to 2012, there was a 7.3% increase in the homeless population in Ohio. Among the five states identified as having the largest increase in percentages of homeless persons, Ohio was among one of them (U.S. Department of Housing and Development, 2012). In 2013, there were 12,325 homeless people in Ohio and of these, approximately 1658 were chronically homeless. This observation was a 12% decrease in the number of homeless persons between 2012 and 2013, yet there was 57% increase in veterans joining the homeless population between 2012-2013 (Coalition on Homelessness and Housing in Ohio, 2013). In Toledo/Lucas County, there were 900 individuals reported as homeless (Coalition on Homelessness and Housing in Ohio, 2013). Taken together, these statistics suggest that there are significant numbers of homeless people nationwide.

Initially, when the issue of homelessness was recognized, it was perceived as an urban issue. Existence of homelessness in rural America was recognized much later (Fitchen, 1992). It is important to talk about this difference in urban and rural homelessness because the dynamics of urban and rural homelessness are a little dissimilar and hence, the social service agencies have to consider these factors in terms of making services available and services utilization. For instance, over the years, as average incomes diminished in rural areas, demand for affordable housing increased but the supply of affordable housing has not been consistent with the demand. Furthermore, adding to this caveat availability of low-income housing in marginal employment opportunity areas, and the areas where public transportation is not available, sets the vicious cycle of unemployment, poverty, and homelessness in motion (Fitchen, 1992).

Homelessness is a complex and dynamic issue, which is affected by social factors like addiction, mental illness, and familial causes as well as structural factors like poor economic conditions, absence of employment opportunities, inadequate low cost housing, and deficient mental health services (Mago, Morden, & Fritz, et. al., 2013). To combat this dynamic and complex issue of homelessness, the response also needs to be dynamic and complex. The services need to target both social and structural factors and services need to be tailored to individual needs.

Project Homeless Connect (PHC) is designed to provide immediate goods and services to homeless individuals and those nearing homelessness. PHC provides basic needs and critical services in one day at one location. Along with providing valuable and necessary services to help alleviate homelessness, an additional positive outcome for service providers is the opportunity to network with different agency members, and reinforce relationships, collaborations and partnerships. It originated in San Francisco and was later adopted and revised by the U.S. Interagency Council on Homelessness (USICH) to decrease homelessness in major American cities (Knetch & Martinez, 2009). PHC was created following the premises of the former President George W. Bush Administration's policy of compassionate conservatism and the "armies of compassion" model, which "sought to rebuild public-private relationships to address social problems and avoid increasing government spending" (Knetch & Martinez, 2009, p. 522). More than 170 cities in the United States, Canada, and Australia have adopted the PHC project.

On October 15, 2014, Wood County, Ohio held its second Project Connect event at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Bowling Green, Ohio. Planning for PC began in April of 2014. Tracy Knappins of the Bowling Green Salvation Army and Susan Wren of the WSOS Community Action Commission were Co-Chairs of the Steering Committee. County Commissioner Doris Herringshaw served as Honorary Chair for the second time. Ten sub-committees comprised the Steering Committee covering the following areas:

1. Publicity, chaired by Tricia Peters and co-chair Brittani Burnat
2. Logistics, chaired by Don Neifer and co-chair Mary Dewitt
3. Volunteers, chaired by Esther Nagel and co-chairs Michelle Grigore and Joy Sidwell
4. Intake/Social Workers, chaired by Shannon Fisher
5. Transportation, chaired by Sandy Milligan and co-chair Bruce Jeffers
6. Administration, chaired by Dr. Melissa W. Burek and co-chair Dr. Mamta Ojha
7. Health and Wellness, chaired by Judy Kellermeier and co-chair Ben Batey
8. Housing/Education/Social Service Providers, chaired by Kathy Mull
9. Food, co-chaired by Cindy Tyrrell and Jane Schimpf
10. Personal Care and Tangible Goods, chaired by Deanna Lamb and co-chairs Robert Grogan and Jo Tutolo

GOALS

There were five primary goals for the second annual event:

1. Serve 200-300 individuals and families who are in need of supportive services
2. Host 40 to 50 service providers; services include: hot meal, clothing, haircuts, medical care, dental care, mental health services, substance abuse services, IDs, housing, legal information, employment services, and information to access services
3. Recruit 350 volunteers with a focus on hosts and hot meal delivery
4. Gaining additional quantifiable data for people at risk or experiencing homelessness
5. Increase community awareness, provider membership, and program coordination for the Continuum of Care Wood County

Each of the above-noted goals was fulfilled or exceeded expectations, respectively with the exception of goal number 3. To illustrate:

1. 298 adults and children attended PC.
2. 53 providers were present.
3. 227 individuals served as volunteers during the planning stages and on the day of the event. The recruitment fell short by 123 volunteers.
4. Data were gathered through intake forms at the event on 196 guests. In addition, 163 guests completed all data collection forms designed for the event (i.e., intake, welcome sheet, services at-a-glance, and exit surveys).
5. The successful execution of the second PC event in Wood County on October 15, 2014 was contingent upon having numerous providers in one location. This was accomplished, thereby further expanding the reach and awareness of the mission of the Continuum of Care of Woody County (formerly known as the Home Aid of Wood County). Additional evidence in support of this goal involved all parties to the event:
 - a. 89% of guests reported receiving the services and provisions for which they came.
 - b. 91% (a slight increase from last year's figure of 88%) of volunteers gained knowledge of where to turn to for help should they or someone they know become at risk for homelessness and 100% would volunteer again for PC.
 - c. 33% of providers reported their idea of what homelessness is and who might be involved changed as a result of PC and 100% of providers would attend PC in the future.

EVENT PROMOTION

The event was promoted via posters and flyers displayed across Wood County and distributed to schools. Information about the event was also announced in various press releases and on Facebook and the Continuum of Care of Wood County's, formerly known as Home Aid, website. VOLUNTEERS (N = 127)

The results presented below are based on data collected from 127 surveys completed by volunteers after the PC event.

- 205 Volunteers
 - 30 volunteers signed up and trained on site
 - Majority of the volunteers were Hosts followed by Food Services and Greeters
- Each served average of 4.12 hours
- 91% reported being adequately trained to perform their duties
- 97% reported their experience as a volunteer very much so or mostly met their expectations
- Volunteer experience prior to PC
 - 42% A lot
 - 34% Some
 - 24% A little
- Percentages reporting a change in perspective on essential services that may be lacking for the disadvantaged or at risk of experiencing homelessness
 - 49% Very much
 - 36% Somewhat
 - 7% A little
 - 8% Not at all
- 91% of volunteers responded affirmatively that they have gained knowledge of where to turn for help, should they or someone they know be in needs of essential services or at risk of experiencing homelessness
- 100% would volunteer at PC again
- 90% thought the event was well-organized

- 85% reported receiving an appropriate level of assistance to carry out their duties
- 78% agreed they had plenty to do

PROVIDERS (N = 51)

The results presented below are based on data collected from 51 surveys completed by providers at the PC event.

- $15,819 Gifts in Kind by Providers
 - 100% reported that the PC event met their expectations
 - One provider noted, I expected to take away much more than I gave. It was a joy to help those in need and see how happy a small gesture could mean to them.
 - 100% would attend PC again
 - 92% thought the event was well-organized
 - 88% reported receiving an appropriate level of support
 - 63% agreed they had plenty to do
 - 33% reported their idea of what homelessness is and who might be involved changed
 - It is important to remember that you can't always tell if someone is homeless, they may look fine, but could be suffering, wrote one provider.
 - Positive comments noted about the PC event opportunity
 - Good community outreach
 - I learned so much about what social services are here in Wood County
 - I like to help people and make them feel better
 - Loved the volunteer helpers, made it so much easier
 - Service providers under one roof, system to move clients through, wonderful volunteers, point-of-service delivery, great location.
 - Collaborations with other providers; opportunities to provide variety of services in one location; ability to connect with guests/ increase awareness of homelessness for volunteers and service providers

PC PROCESS: DAY OF EVENT

As occurred in 2013, guests entered the main door of St. Mark's Lutheran Church where the PC event was held. However, in 2014, guests were immediately paired with a PC Host Volunteer who handed the guests a "Welcome Packet" that included information on what to expect at the event, a form that authorized persons associated with PC to share protected personal information and a photo/media release, and a form where guests could indicate which services they would like to connect while at PC. This latter form is what the guests were instructed to complete while waiting for intake. At intake, guests met with a PC Intake Volunteer for about 10-15 minutes to complete a needs assessment and screening form. The purpose of the intake form was to help PC representatives understand guests' immediate needs so they could focus on these as they went through PC. Intake Volunteers were instructed to identify three priority services, but guests could visit any provider they wished. New to PC 2014, Intake Volunteers highlighted these priority areas on a "Services At-A-Glance" sheet that listed the providers available under specific headings that best described the providers' services offered that day.

At any time over the course of the event, guests could eat a hot meal. After the guests connected to the providers and services, guests could visit the tangible good areas of the church and pick out clothes and coats, books, personal care items, and a tote bag of groceries.

REPORT METHODOLOGY

In 2013, Bowling Green State University researchers, Melissa W. Burek, Adam Watkins, and Mamta Ojha, hereinafter BGSU Research Team, developed two data collection instruments (see Appendix) to gather information on guest demographics, living situations, income sources, guest needs, and requests for services to connect with while in attendance at PHC. These forms were utilized again this year in order to capture reliable comparisons between the two years. These two forms were (1) Request for Services and Appointment form, also called the “Welcome form”, which was slightly modified based on results from 2013. This form was completed by guests while they were waiting to enter the intake area with the assistance of their Host Volunteers and (2) Needs Assessment and Screening Intake form, which was completed by an Intake Volunteer with individual guests. Responses collected from three other survey instruments that had been used at other PHCs to gather feedback on the event from guests, volunteers, and providers were also analyzed (see Appendix). The Services At-A-Glance form was new in 2014 and was developed based on recommendations that came out of last year’s written report and verbal communication with the 2013 Project Homeless Connect Steering Committee. The purpose of this form was to help the Host Volunteers better match guests with the three priority services and locating other services that were of interest to their guests.

As was done in 2013, in order to ensure the data collected from guests could be matched from entry to exit, each PC guest was given a set of unique identification labels with a PC guest number that were placed on the above-noted guest instruments. In order to confidentially track the characteristics of guests connecting with specific agencies and services, guests were directed to place a label on designated sheets as they visited providers. After the event, all completed data collection instruments were given to the BGSU Research Team for data entry and analyses. Results for 2014 are reported on PC as a collective whole and then for each provider that had at least one guest connection. It is important to note that not all respondents attending PC completed all three forms and if guests did not go through intake, they likely did not have the identification labels in hand to give to providers.

At the end of the event, we collected responses from 221 guest intake forms (including pre-registered guests who came through PC). Last year, 145 intake forms were completed. Complete packets (i.e., Intake, Welcome Forms, Services At-A-Glance, and Exit Survey) were available for analysis on 163 guests whereas in 2013, there were 145. There were 20 Welcome, 15 Services At-A-Glance, and 26 Exit forms with no guest number matches to any other forms. There were 127 Volunteer Exit and 51 Provider Exit forms completed in 2014. This report presents findings based on the most complete data we were able to collate across the various instruments disseminated at the PC event. Results are reported according to group membership of guests, volunteers, and providers.

RESULTS: GUESTS

Findings from Request for Services and Appointment Form

As stated in the previous section, three primary data collection instruments were administered to guests over the course of the event. The first survey was a Request for Services and Appointment Form (RSAF), also known as the Welcome form (see Appendix). Guests were asked to indicate with an “X” if they wanted to connect to eight general services and their subcategories that were present at the event. In addition, there were three questions on the form that asked guests about other services that were not available that day but were still of interest to them, how they found out about PHC, and how they traveled to the event. Table 1 indicates the raw number of guests who indicated they wished to connect to a particular service in 2013 and 2014.

Since the event also strives to meet the needs of guests in the future, question two on the RSAF asked respondents to indicate what other services of interest to them, but were not available at the date of the event. Stress management and smoking cessation/quit smoking programs or services were the top two requests. Table 2 below displays the results from question two. The responses from one question on the RSAF and one question on the Exit Survey were combined to capture the total picture as to how guests found out about PC. The majority of respondents indicated that the top three ways by which guests found about PC were (1) Social Media/Facebook; (2) News; and (3) Referrals from other agencies or service providers. Table 3 presents the distribution of these and other promotion types for the event.

Table 1 presents the services the guests were wishing to connect with while at PC. There are several services that were in high demand in 2013, but not as popular among guest requests in 2014. There were also three services that increased in popularity in 2014. To illustrate, 39 guests wished to connect with health coverage services in 2013, but only 10 guests wished to connect in 2014. In that same regard, fewer guests wished to connect with medical/healthcare services as well as prescription drug services in 2013 compared to 2014. The number of guests wanting WIC also decreased by six guests. Compared to 2013 the number of guests wishing to connect with resources for school-aged children in 2014 declined from 19 to nine respectively. Guests wishing to connect with developmental disabilities services decreased from roughly 4% in 2013 to almost 1% in 2014. Guests were also less interested in connecting with housing and affordable rental services and car services in 2014 than in 2013. The services that were in higher demand in 2014 compared to 2013 were tangible services such as clothing, food assistance, and haircuts.

The results for Table 3 are important to the future of Project Connect, because the findings demonstrate effective and non-effective ways of advertising this event to the community. The two most noteworthy changes were observed in the areas of agency reference and posters/signage. In 2014, 16 more guests were referred by an agency than in 2013. In 2013, 51 guests were able to inform themselves of this event by seeing a poster or signage around the community, but in 2014 only 26 guests were able to locate a poster or signage. This information will be crucial for the continuation of Project Connect.

The majority of the guests used their own personal vehicle to travel to the Project Connect events in 2013 and 2014. The next most common mode of transportation was a family or friend providing a ride followed by walking. There was a PC sponsored shuttle with scheduled pick ups and drop offs from a number of locations around Bowling Green, Ohio to the event.

However, few guests indicated they used the service in either year. Table 4 includes the totals for the modes of transportation taken by guests.

Findings from the Intake Form

The second instrument was the Intake Form, which is a needs assessment and screening form that was designed to help the PC volunteers best understand guests' needs and assist them at the event. A similar version of this form was used in 2013. The form was completed by the Intake Volunteers in an interview format with the guests. The trained Intake Volunteers identified each guest's three priority services on the "Services At-A-Glance" form (see Appendix). This at-a-glance form was used by the Volunteer Host as he/she escorted the guest around the event after the intake process. We were able to collect and report findings on 196 guests from the Intake Form in 2014, which is an increase of 51 compared to the number of completed intake forms in 2013. Table 5 presents descriptives of guests in 2013 and 2014.

In 2013, there were a higher number of guests aged 18-34 compared to 2014 and relative to the other age categories. The percentages of guests across the age ranges were more evenly distributed in 2014. The percentage of White/Non-Hispanic guests served increased by almost 14% from 2013 to 2014, while the percent of Other/Non-Hispanic guests served decreased from 2013 to 2014. More guests in 2014 reported holding Social Security cards and birth certificates in 2014 compared to 2013. There was a decrease in the percentage of guests possessing a state identification card/driver's license in 2014 by 11%, however.

Table 6 presents the residency struggles some guests were having. The percentage of non-homeless guests increased in 2014 to 85.5% from 68% in 2013. The percent of first time homeless guests decreased from 23.1% in 2013 to 9.3% in 2014. The factors that affected the guests from keeping their houses in 2014 significantly decreased in the areas of physical disability and financial obligations. The two areas that significantly increased in 2014 from 2013, in regards to the primary reasons reported for becoming homeless or facing eviction were abusive situation/domestic violence and financial challenges. In 2013, 5% of guests reported that an abusive situation/ domestic violence was the primary reason for homelessness or eviction, while in 2014, 13% of guests reported same. Increasing by 10% from 2013 to 2014, financial obligations were the primary reason for homelessness or eviction. Table 6 also shows that 2014 guests reported staying in their residency longer than those attending in 2013. Although it seems more guests had homes that they were living in for longer than 3 months, the percentage of guests who spent the previous night in an emergency shelter climbed from .9% in 2013 to 4.5% in 2014.

Regarding income and benefit assistance of guests, a general trend observed across the data collected from the three guest surveys is that lack of employment or being underemployed is a common characteristic of the guests who visited the PC event in 2014, which was a similar finding in 2013. Twenty-two percent of guests' income source was from a job in 2014, down slightly from 26% in 2013. The primary source of income (see Table 7) for 44% of guests in 2014 came from Social Security Disability Benefits followed by nearly Social Security Retirement Benefits. Table 7 displays the income and benefit assistance the guests received. Other benefits that were reported as being a source of financial assistance by guests in 2014 were government medical assistance and Section 8 Housing. In 2013, 7.4% of guests were receiving Social Security retirement benefits, while in 2014 the percent rose to 13.8. The percentage of guests receiving government medical assistance increased by over 15% from 2013 to 2014. Section 8 housing was also being utilized by 14.3% of guests in 2014 compared to 7.7% of guests in 2013.

Findings from the Exit Interview

The final data collection instrument for guests was the Exit Interview. This document was a short questionnaire that could either be completed by the guest or in a brief interview format with the Host Volunteer asking the guest the questions. As indicated earlier, one of the questions asked guests to indicate how they heard about the PC event. Results from this question were combined with data collected on a similar question on the Request for Services and Appointment Form. The remaining questions on the Exit Interview asked guests to note their main reasons for attending PC and to provide feedback on the event. Of the 175 persons completing the exit forms, 30% of guests attended last year's Project Homeless Connect event in October 2013. The remaining were new in 2014. Table 8 and Figure 1 present the results of the Exit Interview.

The percentages in Table 8 provide further evidence that more guests were attending Project Connect in 2014 for tangible goods compared to 2013. In 2014, only 20% of guests attended PC for housing, compared to the 30.5% that attended in 2013. The purpose of receiving clothes/coat nearly quadrupled from 2013 to 2014 (14.5% to 50.3%, respectively). The need for dental care doubled from 2013 to 2014, and the need for a haircut rose from 3.1% in 2013 to 26.3% in 2014. In 2014, 89% of the guests who completed an Exit Interview indicated receiving the services for which they came compared to slightly over 93% in 2013. Most of the guests, 90%, in 2014 were very satisfied with what the services and programs provided at PC and the event overall. Figures 1 through 4 present guest satisfaction and helpfulness ratings of PC 2014.

There were three main aspects of PC 2014 that guests found most helpful. First, the volunteer hosts and the people assisting at PC were noted most often followed by tangible goods, especially haircuts, food, clothes/coats, IDs, and birth certificates. Rounding out the top three, guests also reported that the information and assistance provided by the providers and volunteers were most helpful. Nine guests responded to the question that everything was helpful or "All of it." There were also quite a few guests reporting that the medical and related services such as dental, flu shots, and massages were helpful.

Two questions on the Guests' Exit Survey inquired as to how the organizers of PC could serve them better and what guests would like to see at the next event. Some guests noted everything was fine the way it was at the event, but quite a sizeable number of guests reported specifics as to how the PC event could be enhanced. The responses to these open-ended items overlapped a great deal and coming up most frequently were the following suggestions for improvements:

- More dental appointments available on day of event
- More help with clothing, particularly more coats and boots
- More stylists for haircuts
- More food assistance
- Provide medical services such as eye care and eye glasses repair, foot care, glucose checks, and veterinary care for pets
- Options for immediate, emergency housing
- Tax help, especially with state and city delinquency issues

- Activities and services for children
- Places to sit while waiting in line
- A tote or bag to carry information and items obtained from the providers at the event

RESULTS: VOLUNTEERS

Similar to the 2013 Project Homeless Connect event, there were many types of volunteers at PC 2014. Over 200 individuals volunteered as Host Volunteers, Greeters, Intake Volunteers, Guest Coordinators, Floaters, Dining Area Hosts, Food Bussers, Food Service Runners, Food Servers, Food Prep Assistants, Exit Coordinator, and Clean-up Crew. Over 80% of the volunteers served as Hosts. At the end of a volunteer's shift, he/she was asked to provide feedback in a self-report survey that was designed and used by PCs across the country with some minor modifications from the BGSU Research Team. The following paragraphs present the combined quantitative and qualitative findings from the 127 completed surveys. One hundred percent of the volunteers had at least some experience volunteering prior PC 2014.

As displayed in Figure 5, the majority of volunteers (91%, compared to 85% last year) reported that they were adequately trained to perform their duties. While this figure is a slight improvement over last year, some volunteers provided some constructive comments regarding areas that could be improved:

- More training for volunteers is needed
- A tour of the event would be helpful to locate the services and providers at the facility
- Receiving information on the services available prior to the event would be beneficial
- Recommend showing the same forms during training as will be used on the day of the event

Comments regarding increased training should be noted as a sizable proportion of this year's volunteers did not have as much experience volunteering for community events/services before PC. Nearly 60% only had some experience or a little prior with nearly a quarter falling into the little experience category. Fortunately, the volunteer experience was a positive one for the volunteers as nearly all reported that their experience met or exceeded their expectations (97%). This figure is slightly lower than last year's 100% response for the same question. There were two comments by volunteer respondents that captured the heart of the PC event:

- "Thank you organizers of the project. It is a massive undertaking and I can't imagine how much preparation it must have taken. It saves people so much time and worry to have everything here all at once. The guest I helped was going to be homeless in 3 weeks, and he [received] multiple sources of income support today. He doesn't have a car and rarely leaves his house, so he probably would not have made these connections without your help. So Thanks!"
- "Everyone was extremely kind and helpful. So grateful for the experience. My guest was assisted completed and we visited 19 resources."

Figure 6: Volunteers' Response to "Did PCWC change your perspective on essential services, in effect, those services which may be lacking for the disadvantaged or at risk of experiencing homelessness?"

One of the five goals for PC was to increase community awareness, provider membership, and program coordination for the Continuum of Care Wood County. Without a doubt, increasing community awareness was accomplished. Ninety-one percent of PC 2014 volunteers responded that they gained knowledge of where to turn to help should they or someone they know be in need of essential services or be at risk of experiencing homelessness. This was a slight increase from 2013 where 88% reported similarly. Relatedly, nearly half of the volunteers indicated that their perspective on essential services, or those services which may be lacking for the disadvantaged or at risk of experiencing homelessness changed. Figure 6 provides additional visual detail for the differences across response categories for this question. Volunteers also noted several organizations and services that made a significant impact on them the day of the Project event:

- Hair
- Dental
- Legal services
- Salvation Army
- Wood County Health Department
- The Fringe
- Wood County Area Ministries
- Job and Family Services
- WSOS
- Flu shots
- Library
- Breast screenings
- St. Timothy's Clothesline
- Toledo Area Ministries
- No Wrong Door
- Job programs
- GED services
- Read for Literacy
- Bags of food
- Hot meal
- Birth certificate
- "All services encountered were willing to help and respectful of the people served."

Similar to what was asked of guests, volunteers responded to an open-ended question as to what could be improved for a future PC event. In addition to what was discussed above regarding training needing improvement, volunteers also reported that improvements could be made in the following areas:

- More on Training
 - Mock walk-through training as opposed to lecture format; role playing as volunteer taking a guest through during training
 - Training should be based more on who all the providers are and less on homelessness
 - Couriers should have a different color t-shirt
 - More detailed directions for hosts prior to event day
- Providers
 - More dental services (similar to 2013)
 - More haircuts (similar to 2013)
 - More winter clothing, socks, underwear and personal care services (maybe Penta Career Center could send some of their students for basic cuts and trims).
 - Providers should wear t-shirts – hard to tell who is a provider versus a guest.
 - Several providers left before the event was over; they should stay the whole time.
- Efficiency and Event Processes
 - Couriers should have a different color t-shirt.
 - Promptly refill food items when running low
 - Details need to be better worked out before the morning rush (e.g., maps, where hosts and seating are, self-guiding process)
 - Clarity is needed of how guests would be matched with hosts. Maybe assign numbers or wait in a line.
 - Little more organization in the kitchen

- More direction as to where to drop off the completed guest forms
- Wait times at some of the providers was problematic
- Need more hosts for busy morning shifts
- Need more space, more seating for those waiting in line, some have trouble standing
- Signage/Paperwork
 - A little more detail on some of the providers if they have restrictions on which demographics they serve (e.g., one apartment provider was only for persons 62 and older)
 - More advertising for the event
 - The map system for locating various services needs to be improved
 - Place maps on clipboard as was stated at training
 - Several people did not know volunteers had to register ahead of time
 - The website to volunteer is user-unfriendly
 - Confidentiality paperwork could be signed at training to alleviate some backups during volunteer check-in and pre-printed name tags distributed at training might also help
- Equipment
 - Utilize paper products and plastic utensils or at least have on hand for when dinnerware ran low
 - Tote bags should be provided for guests' paperwork and other materials they pick up at the event
 - Be aware of extension cords, need to tape down.

While there are still areas in need of improvement, most notably in training, volunteers again reported excitement about having the event repeated in 2015 and noted they were

"Learning about the perspective of someone receiving services is really important. Love this event!" – Volunteer willing to volunteer for next year's event. A few volunteers even noted they would like to see the event happen more than once a year. One hundred percent of the 2014 respondents, just like in 2013, expressed their willingness to volunteer at Project Homeless Connect Wood County again next year. Table 9 below illustrates respondents' level of agreement with three aspects of PC 2014.

Table 9. Volunteer Responses to Aspects of PC.

Statement	Strongly Agree	Agree	Neutral	Disagree	Strongly Disagree
It is a well-organized event.	63%	35.3%	.02%	0%	0%

RESULTS: PROVIDERS

Providers were also asked to complete an evaluation survey on WCPC. Similar to the volunteer survey, the instrument used to collect provider feedback was developed and has been used at many WCPC events across the country. In its second year of this organized effort 51 providers completed the self-report survey. Of the providers who completed the survey 92% of them reported that it was a well organized event and 90% of them reported that they received appropriate level of support. Majority of the providers also noted that they had plenty to do during WCPC, 2014 event. Furthermore, 100% of the respondents felt that the WCPC event met their expectations as they were given opportunities to help potential clients access their services. Some providers reported that they “were able to provide assistance to several people” and there was a “good community outreach”. Many providers thought that “it was a great event”, was “well organized” and provided opportunity to “connect with the community as well as other agencies throughout the county”. Many providers reported that they talked about available services to guests and provided them with referrals and other important information. Some providers recognized that it was an opportunity for them to get their name out in the community about the services they provided. Other providers reported positive nature of the event with personal guides and volunteer support, food and transportation and appreciative clients with whom they were able to meet. Almost without exception, providers felt that lots of needs were met at the WCPC event, particularly in terms of connecting individuals and families to much-needed resources. Agency personnel reported that it was great to work with many individuals and families in a convenient one-stop format with many of the needed resources available on site. Furthermore, 100% of the providers reported that they would attend WCPC event next year. Agency workers also reported that a total of $15,819.00 worth of services were provided at WCPC event.

Some of the providers, who reported that WCPC event did not meet their expectations, stated that there should be training for service providers as well and also more information about registration. Few service providers recognized need for more planning. For instance one particular agency needed internet to provide services and at the starting of the event the space they were assigned did not have internet access, which was soon rectified, and service provision from their booth was started shortly.

As would be expected, more providers (67%) compared to volunteers reported that WCPC had not changed their ideas about what homelessness is and who is involved. Most reported “extensive previous work with homeless populations” as the reason for being somewhat familiar with the issue of homelessness and the needs in Wood County. One individual reported that “having been a social worker for fifteen years I feel pretty knowledgeable” and many respondents shared similar sentiments. Most of the service providers are knowledgeable about the issue of homelessness and recognize that there are many faces of homelessness, as one provider shared the sentiment that “I realize there are more homeless people in the community than I am aware of, even though you may not see them on the streets” and many of them share the opinion that “homelessness can affect anyone”. Some of the common themes for services providers who reported that as a result of this event their idea about what homelessness is and who might be involved changed stated that they learned about literal versus no-literal homelessness and also specified that they have participated in trainings and other events like WCPC but there is always something new that comes across as a learning experience.

Across the board, providers were elated to be able to do something to give back to their community and to see so many other available resources. A content analysis of comments by providers was done to determine common themes that emerged about positive aspects of WCPC, which are presented in table 10.

In addition to the positive aspects, providers also offered suggestions for areas where improvement is needed. There were six main headings that captured the content of providers’ comments under improvements for Project Connect 2014. Below are the six areas with specific recommendations:

1. Efficiency/Processing

- Better sign-in process to ensure better assistance.
- Providers had difficulty in finding information about how to register.
- Put table numbers on maps and signs
- Provide transportation in county on that day for guests to reach the event site.
- Orientation for providers.

- Need to be prepared to provide services to more people next year.
- Need more support to provide better services.
- Restroom maintenance to be checked hourly next time.
- 2. Volunteer Hosts
 - Volunteer/host training to especially include sensitivity to client needs.
 - More information/training about behavioral issues and services needed.
 - Training should also include what to expect at the event and information about restrooms and availability of food.
- 3. Marketing and Outreach
 - More media coverage.
 - More PR in advance.
 - Social media marketing.
- 4. Space
 - Separate eating area for workers.
 - Better flow of services.
- 5. Scope of Services
 - Some services were under-utilized and under-visited
- 6. Communication
 - Better explanation to providers of services offered.
 - All the services available not on the list.
 - Make sure people know about each provider.
 - More information about parking.
 - Let us know one week in advance that we have been accepted.
 - Recruit providers for next year by including a registration form in the exit form.

As the BGSU Team had done last year, the remainder of this report presents descriptives specific to each provider from whom we were able to collect PC client number labels in 2014. This information can be utilized not only for future PC and similar event planning in general, but it can also provide insight to the providers as to the types of clients in Wood County who might be in need of their services.

2013 to 2014 COMPARISONS

In consideration of the findings, most notably the responses to the open-ended questions on the various surveys distributed, five major recommendations in 2013 were made to further enhance PHC. What follows is a list of those recommendations and how, and if, they were incorporated in 2014.

1. Process Attendees More Efficiently

- a. Into Intake. Respondents provided negative feedback about extended time spent waiting at intake, and volunteers reported that some guests left without services due to the wait. Some suggestions to remedy this difficulty were to intake more clients in each group, to provide for attendees while waiting, to explain services offered at the event while folks are waiting, to staff intake with additional volunteers in the early morning, to speed up the actual intake process, and to offer a meal during the wait for intake screening.
- b. Throughout the Event. Guests, volunteers, and providers commented that other changes that could be made to make the event more efficient for all attendees would include grouping services better by central themes, dedicating one specific place for exit interviewing, having enough hosts for the amount of attendees at the event, making the event more accessible for folks in wheelchairs, stationing food and clothing toward the beginning of the event and having a place for them to secure what they have received, and supplying attendees with writing supplies. A shortage of host volunteers meant that guests had to navigate by themselves. Providers felt that additional space was needed for private consultations for confidential services such as mental health, alcohol/drug issues, and reentry, and that this information should be provided to attendees more discretely.

Recommendations incorporated and changes made in 2014. As a result of the challenges experienced at intake in 2013 several recommendations were incorporated and changes in process were made, which were as follows:

- Guests could pre-register for the event.
- More intake workers and volunteers were recruited for morning and afternoon shift.
- Guests were paired with a host as soon as they walked in.
- Guests could go for their meal if there was a wait time involved at intake.
- Volunteers were also supporting intake in their operation. Two volunteers were tracking and calling guest numbers when Intake worker was available which allowed for smooth transitioning from registration to Intake.
- Similar services were placed by central themes. One specific place for exit interviews was designated.
- Food and clothing was placed toward the beginning of the event and a place for guests was made available to secure what they received. Writing supplies were also made available for attendees to write down their notes.
- Agencies, which requested privacy for maintaining client confidentiality, were provided such spots.
- Providers were moved to different areas in the building and also the providers were spread out more.
- Signs were posted for each provider and a map of the layout was posted on walls.

- Qualtrics was also used to register service providers, volunteers, and guests.

2. Offer More Providers/Provisions

In 2013, guests and volunteers remarked that more employment services and job resources, more gas cards or vouchers, more housing services for specific sub-populations, immediate housing assistance, and more time to visit providers, more health-care related services, more comprehensive health screenings, more pregnancy information, more dental and vision services, more space for vision screenings, more health insurance education materials, increases in food and groceries, gift cards for when items become depleted, clothing for men, and showers and laundry services were needed. Volunteers also felt that more Christian spiritual help should be made available, that major providers needed more than one person at their tables, that a directory of resource providers and their contact info would be helpful, and that a lost and found area was needed. Providers also would have liked more referrals for their services.

Recommendations incorporated and changes made in 2014.

- There were more agencies that participated at the event this year as compared to last year hence overall increasing the type of services and resources available at the event this year.
- The common sentiment shared by service providers was that they need to make sure that they have increased capacity to serve more people on that day next year.

3. Assign More Volunteers Hosts and Provide Them with Additional Training

Participants in all three PHC 2013 roles stated that they would like to see more host volunteers at the next PHC event. While they wished to see more total volunteers, respondents wished to see fewer volunteer roles, better organization of the job roles, and more hands-on training. Particularly guests, volunteers, and providers felt that hosts should know the event navigation better and should know the service providers and their services better. For their part, hosts also complained that there was not a breakdown of service providers and their services on the clipboards they were given. Providers remarked that hosts should know guest names and introduce them; they also believed that some services were underutilized because hosts and intake workers were unfamiliar with the services provided by specific agencies. Some providers also mentioned that there should be a guide specifying what each agency does since they had "many guests who visited who would not qualify for services."

Volunteers expressed a desire for clearer communication on what to do with intake forms and exit surveys, and requested that changes be made to make the orientation more active. There seemed to be confusion surrounding exit surveys, who was to guide the attendees in completing them, and where they were supposed to go when they were completed.

Recommendations incorporated and changes made in 2014.

- A keen effort was made to recruit more volunteers and train them prior to the event.
- Training power point and material regarding the event, process, administration, and functioning from sign-in to exit was made available prior to the event.
- Training sessions for volunteers were started a couple of weeks prior to the event and were also held on the day of the event for those who could not complete it earlier.

- A separate "Services At-A-Glance" sheet was prepared which helped volunteers to determine all the agencies present at the event and also the services provided by them and were placed on a clipboard.
- All the workers present at the event wore a nametag, which differentiated in its look by the role that they were playing at the event.
- Paired a host with their guest from the very beginning this made it smoother flow for all.
- Added a host responsibility sheet to the clipboards along with a larger map and rearranged volunteer center to make it more user friendly.
- One signature pad was made available for all volunteers to sign-off on liability, agreements and confidentiality releases.

4. Better Marketing, Communication, and Signage

- Marketing Preceding the Event. Several individuals in all PHC roles commented on communicating with the public and other providers about the PHC event. Many remarked that the "Project Homeless Connect" was a misnomer marketed as a homeless event, but actually served just as many, if not more, at-risk and nearly homeless individuals. A few commented that since the event was geared to low-income individuals, and not just the homeless, it should be clearly marked as such by being called "Project Connect." There was some concern among providers that subpopulations were under-considered, such as the elderly, veterans, or the Latino population. Several guests and providers desired more email updates and reminders, and a few remarked that they found out about the event by accident.
- Communication/Paperwork at the Event. During the event, volunteers and providers felt that better communication was needed between members of the steering committee (e.g., via walkie-talkies). Some felt that a list of providers by their service areas would have been a helpful addition to the intake sheet or on the accompanying checklist. Some felt that the intake paperwork was redundant, hard to fill out, and confusing. Walk-in providers were concerned that they were not listed and perhaps a dry-erase board on an easel could add last minute service providers. Guests also remarked that it would be helpful if housing providers were listed by whether or not children were permitted.
- Signage at the Event. Volunteers and Providers were concerned about event signage. Some felt that guests had no way of knowing that some service agencies provided multiple services unless the signage conveyed that message. Providers also felt that the private rooms that were on the second floor were unknown to many of the PHC visitors. Many felt that the signs throughout the table-top areas should have been bigger for folks with poor vision. Several also felt that wall poster boards in each area containing a large site map would help this issue.

Recommendations incorporated and changes made in 2014.

- To be more inclusive the second year around this organized effort was called "Wood County Project Connect".
 - Agencies working with diverse populations like the Latino community, and veterans were also invited to be on the steering committee.
 - A PowerPoint detailing the agencies present, services provided by them at the event was made which was playing throughout the event.
 - "Services At-A-Glance" documents were also prepared, which were helpful for guests, providers, and volunteers.

- Maps of service vendors and their location at the event were posted on walls and proper signage of agencies was also done.
- Forms, survey questionnaires, and PowerPoint were amended.

5. Parking/Shuttle

Parking was a common concern among guests, volunteers, and providers. Several suggested that volunteers and vendors should park elsewhere and be shuttled in order to allow more spaces at the facility for guests as many of them drove and/or had rides. Also, transportation volunteers should be placed at entrances and exits in each parking lot to ensure cars belong to guests and select vendors only. Next year, more vans/drivers available for "on the spot" rides, signs at shuttle stops that list a phone number for folks to call when they want to appear at PHC instead of predetermined stop times, and paperwork that clearly indicates specific location of van pickup stops if at obscure locations (e.g. Walmart Lube Center) would be additions that would improve the parking and shuttle services for the Project Homeless Connect event.

Recommendations incorporated and changes made in 2014.

- Volunteers, service providers, and other workers who participated in WCPC parked at a site away from the event location and a shuttle was arranged to transport them both ways.
- Taxi vouchers were also provided to the guests who needed transportation to get back.

STEERING COMMITTEE INPUT

In 2014, the Project Connect Steering Committee members participated in a self-driven focus group on the effectiveness, efficiencies, and recommendations for PC 2015. What follows below is the BGSU Team's report of what the items discussed during that meeting. We agree with the recommendations and suggestions for improvement offered by this year's Steering Committee and hope to see many of these changes incorporated.

Report on Wood County Project Connect Steering Committee Meeting

On October 30th 2014 Project Connect Wood County steering committee met at 8:00 A.M. to discuss and ascertain PC 2014 event organization, achievements, challenges and future directions. More specifically committees were asked about:

- The improvements they made in organizing 2014 event.
- If the improvements that were made helped the committee to function better.
- Whether Project Connect should be continued in 2015?
- Changes recommended for next year's event.

Logistics committee reported that they moved providers to different areas in the building and also the providers were spread out more. Signs were posted for each provider and a map of the layout was posted on walls. These improvements lead to better circulation of guests and volunteers and the traffic flowed more smoothly. This year, volunteers and providers were asked not to park their vehicles at the event site, which reduced the parking lot congestion, as there was more space available for guests to park. There was also more space for some service providers to park their mobile vans, which they needed to provide services, such as the dental clinic.

Volunteer Management Committee recruited approximately 200 volunteers. As compared to last year more volunteers were added and more tasks were delegated. The volunteer application was also placed on the Wood County Public Library website, and a new courier position was created.

A shortened and condensed orientation for volunteers was created which concentrated on getting guests to providers and learning the building layout. More orientation sessions were organized thereby keeping the groups smaller.

The pairing of a host with guest from the very beginning made it smoother flow for all. A host responsibility sheet was added to the clipboards along with a larger map and rearranged volunteer center to make it more user friendly. For example, there was one signature pad for all volunteers to sign-off on liability agreements and confidentiality releases.

Suggestions for next year are as follows:

- Create a new Gmail account with the current name
- Use a new website for volunteer registration; add confidentiality, liability and other releases
- Ask for more people to distribute volunteer recruitment information
- Delegate even more to committee members (Chair)
- Contact the Islamic Center at least 6 weeks out to get them involved
- Increased communication with all committees to ensure we are all on the same page
- Send volunteer reminders out earlier than a week before the event
- Complete the shortened orientation sessions at least a week ahead of the event
- Add a Guest oriented self-guided sheet for the clipboard for those without Hosts; ensure all Guests go through Intake before receiving services, even just clothing and food
- Shuttle for volunteers starts earlier; volunteer check in begins by 6:45 a.m.; add two people to walk-in orientation; hand out map of venue to hosts as they arrive/check in
- ID Couriers with a hat/vest for better visibility; dot on nametag was hard to see
- Add walkie-talkies at entry to improve communications

Administration Committee: Improvements were made by amending guest forms, survey questionnaires, and a more detailed PowerPoint. For this year's event, they also created a "Services At-A-Glance" provider list with information about the services offered by each agency participating at the event. The browser-based survey platform Qualtrics was also used to register service providers and volunteers. One of the challenges identified in using Qualtrics to collect this data was that it depended on one person to export the information and share it with others. In the future, if we could devise a system in which more people can have access to this it would improve coordination for various committees.

For future events, the committee made a few recommendations: (1) Improve the exit survey questionnaire, as it would facilitate better data evaluation; (2) Consider having access to computers at the event to enter data at intake; (3) Need for training for service so that they would be more familiar with the process and also to train them to add guest stickers after providing services to the guests instead of putting a check mark on their sheets. This is an important piece of information to be collected from an evaluation stance, as check marks alone cannot be tied back to guests' information for analyses. It was also suggested if we could have a competition to see which provider has the most guest stickers at the end of the day to encourage participation in the process. Jane Rosser, Director of Service Learning at BGSU, noted that BGSU has a new volunteer portal that could be used for Project Connect next year for volunteer recruitment.

Intake/ Social Workers Committee: Having an active Co-Chair in Intake/ Social Workers committee this year really helped share the workload. Guests were preregistered for the first time in 2014. There were two booths: one for the guests who needed to be registered and the other one for preregistered guests. This helped in making the process move more swiftly and smoothly and greatly attenuated long lines and wait times at registration and intake. It was recommended that PC do more advertisement about preregistration next year so that the wait time is shortened even more and that information about guests can be given to service providers. A call to 2-1-1 was arranged for guests so that they could pre-register but sometimes volunteers also called and there was some confusion regarding who could register using that phone number. For next year, clear instructions need to go out to the community so that there is no misunderstanding.

Intake added seven more workers in the morning shift and started 20 minutes earlier and these adjustments also helped move guests through Intake more quickly and were a huge improvement over last year. Guests were paired with Hosts to help them navigate through the event. Pairing guests with Hosts at start kept many guests from leaving due to having to wait for Intake. Another improvement was the PowerPoint created by the Administration committee that was used to train Intake workers on the providers and their services. Having two volunteers tracking and calling guest numbers when an Intake Volunteer was available was an improvement this year and allowed for smoother transitioning from registration to Intake. For next year it was recommended that the final version of forms are ready for Intake to utilize before the first training for Intake workers.

Health and Wellness Committee reported that as a result of Wood County Health Department staff changes, the co-chair position from this committee was eliminated this year, which made things tough. However, she was able to contact all 2013 health and wellness providers and also added some new ones. Some of the providers did not fill out the form and the chair called them over the phone and filled it out for them. This year, 21 dental patients were served at the event, which was approximately 57% more as compared to last year, which was a real accomplishment. Providing birth certificates, which was being done for the first time at PC was a huge success. They had means to provide 41 birth certificates at the event but as this capacity was exhausted, a waiting list was created for follow-up. For next year, need to plan for providing more birth certificates. Similarly, photo identification, which was provided for the first time at PC, was also a great success. There were a total of 31 ID cards provided that day and it was recognized that there might be a need to provide this service on a monthly basis.

Housing/Education/Social Service Providers Committee had great success in recruiting last years' service providers and adding new ones. They followed up with providers to get the forms returned. Since space is limited at St. Mark's maybe we should target the providers with the services in most demand for 2015. This year, until the last few days, providers were being added, which makes it challenging for many committees and hence it was recommended that maybe adding a Provider cut-off date for 2015 and sticking with it will help. Last minute additions also get lost. The Information Table was a good addition this year. It was very busy and also handed out transportation vouchers. Suggestions for next year were made to help providers fill out their forms and have a central intake for forms, at check-in have maps and packets pre-assembled, and be sure to reinforce the use of guest stickers on their sheets. Prepopulating these guest label form with the provider name at the top is recommended as well as prepopulating provider registration forms from previous years' information to save time and then just ask if there are any updates with new service providers.

Food committee reported that there was plenty of food and great volunteers in food service. Many of these volunteers were experienced in that area and it helped greatly. Unfortunately, the dishwasher soap ran out by lunchtime and because it is a special commercial size, it is not available in all the stores. Next year they need to check supply ahead of time. There were 30 meals made for kids and only 6 were used in the nursery. Overall, in 2014 more people were served as compared to last year.

Personal Care committee was surprised the 150 kits that they had prepared went so quickly. They were gone by 11:30 a.m. and they recommended that we need more kits for next year. Although an October 1 deadline was given for donations, so many of the items came in after the deadline. A recommendation was made to make this deadline earlier for next year's event. More personal care items and coats were needed. The beautician from "Dying to be Pretty" wants to manage the haircutting room next year and make sure it is well staffed.

Conclusion

In general, the 2014 PC Steering Committee members agreed that there should be a Project Connect in 2015. There are unmet needs and 70% of this year's Guests were new. Some overall suggestions during the discussion included: (1) Adding an area for guests to sit and fill out their exit survey and (2) May need to include a tagline for "Project Connect" about homelessness or connection with services so the event reaches the broader population. St. Mark's was noted to be perfect location for this event, but there may be a need to limit providers given the confines of the available space.

BGSU RESEARCH TEAM FINAL RECOMMENDATIONS

Taking the input from the providers, guests, volunteers, and Steering Committee members together as a whole, there were five primary areas where improvement for Project Connect 2015 is recommended:

1. Enhance and Extend Volunteer Host and Intake Worker Training

Even given all of the revised processes and the addition of the "Services At-A-Glance" sheet, Host Volunteers noted numerous times the need for training. Mock walk-throughs, more on who the providers are and what they do, and more detailed directions prior to event day should be the focus for revising training efforts for PC 2015. One suggestion is to create and make available pre-recorded web presentations where volunteers can learn about the providers and their services prior to the event.

Intake worker training on data collection forms is highly recommended. Data on the primary at-risk target population of those at-risk for homelessness were not fully captured as only some Intake Volunteers completed those questions on the intake forms. Perhaps if volunteers knew how the information gathered is used and why it is all important would be beneficial.

2. T-Shirts for All Involved Parties except Guests

In 2013, providers and volunteers wore t-shirts to differentiate themselves from guests for better service provision. This year, to save money, which is important, the decision for providers to not wear a specific color t-shirt led to confusion for guests, hosts, and providers alike. The PC 2015 Steering Committee should reconsider presenting and requiring providers to wear event day t-shirts as well.

3. Advertising for the Event

Compared to PHC 2013, advertising and signage for PC 2014 was more limited. The Publicity Committee should work very closely with the Co-Chairs of the Steering Committee to work with media outlets and Wood County agencies early and often about the upcoming event. A consistent message about the event, who the target audience is, and what is offered should be developed and audio, video, and print materials should harness this message and display it frequently, especially the two months leading up to the event. Suggest working with students and faculty in the BGSU Marketing Department located at 234 Business Administration Building under the leadership of Dr. Bostel at mbostel@bgsu.edu. There is also a BGSU chapter of the American Marketing Association led and run by students who would be a great asset to consider.

4. Specifically for Guests

A good number of guests and Volunteer Hosts commented on how it was difficult to carry all of the paperwork and other items collected throughout the PC. Tote bags or similar holding parcel is recommended. More efforts should be considered on how guests physically travel through the event with their coats, wares, and collected items as well as creating more comfortable waiting spaces outside of providers where there are long waits. One way to deal with long waits is to train hosts to take their guests to another provider that either Intake identified or the guest noted as wanting to visit on the Welcome form (i.e., the first form guests fill out on the services with which they wish to connect). Chairs or benches for disabled guests would also be helpful.

5. Offer More Tangible Goods, Services, and Provisions

This recommendation was also made in 2013 and while there were considerably more offerings in 2014, guests and volunteers both noted the need to have more haircut and dental slots, as well as offering other medical services (e.g., vision, eye glass repair, glucose checks), and more coats, winter clothing, and personal care services. Efforts should be made by the PC 2015 Steering Committee to contact local career centers and colleges such as Penta, Owens, and similar for assistance in some of these areas. Extending the provider reach beyond the immediate Bowling Green area to other qualified entities to provide more tangible goods and services is recommended.

Salvation Army

Throughout the PC event, the Salvation Army provided information about limited rent, utility, and transportation assistance, and gave clients the ability to make appointments for follow-ups. The Salvation Army also provided Holiday Assistance Applications for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The Bowling Green branch of the Salvation Army offers help to find rental or public housing, can help pay for a rental property or mortgage down payment, and can help with utility disconnect and reconnection. The Salvation Army in Bowling Green has one apartment to provide shelter for families in need. The Bowling Green Salvation Army can be contacted by calling (419) 352-5918 or by going to 1045 N. Main St., Bowling Green, OH, 43402.

The North Baltimore branch of the Salvation Army requires that individuals meet the family criteria to obtain rental monetary assistance. They also offer help with rent payments, utility disconnection and reconnection, and making payments for prescription medication once a year. This branch also runs a few food assistance programs such as: Soup Kitchen and Food Pantry. The Soup Kitchen is free for the individual attending and is held from 5-6:30 p.m. during the last week of every month. The Food Pantry is also free for the individuals attending and walk-ins are welcome. This service is also offered once a month and there are specific requirements, including the presentation of a photo ID and that the individual/family must be under 200% of the federal poverty level. The North Baltimore Salvation Army can be contacted by calling (419) 257-9064 or by going in person to 123 East Broadway, North Baltimore, OH, 45872.

Wood County WIC

On the day of the PC event, Wood County WIC provided basic program information, nutrition education, and WIC applications. WIC is a Special Supplemental Nutrition Program (SNAP) for Women, Infants, and Children, which focuses on the needs of pregnant and breast feeding low-income women and children. WIC is a short-term program; a participant will “graduate” at the end of one or more certification periods. These certification periods consist of the length of time that an individual is eligible to receive benefits. Most participants are eligible for six months to a year. While an individual is eligible, WIC provides supplemental foods, healthcare referrals, nutrition education, and breastfeeding promotion and support to low-income pregnant, breastfeeding, and postpartum women. WIC also provides formula for infants and basic foods for children up to the age of five who are found to be at nutritional risk. Wood County WIC is located at 1840 E. Gypsy Lane Rd., in Bowling Green, OH, and can be contacted by phone (419) 352-8402. The facility is open Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. (except for legal holidays).

OTHER PROVIDERS PRESENT AT PC*

There were several agencies and organizations present at PC that either did not have guests visit them or did not return a form with client number labels to us. We would be remiss if we did not provide some information about these providers and their contribution to the inaugural PC in Wood County. Fortunately, there were far fewer providers in 2014 compared to 2014 that fell in this category.

Neighborhood Health Association

At PC, Neighborhood Health Association provided to attendees healthcare navigation and enrollment assistance for Medicaid and Affordable Care Act. They are located at 313 Jefferson Avenue, Toledo, OH 43604. Phone number is 419-720-7883 and website is <http://www.nhainc.org/>.

Toledo Area Ministries

At PC the Toledo Area Ministries provided pre-screening and application assistance to enroll in food assistance/SNAP. They are located at 3043 Monroe Street, Toledo, Ohio. They can be reached by phone at (419)-242-7401. You can view their website for more information at <http://www.tamohio.org/j25/>.

WSOS – Veterans Program

At PC, WSOS – Veterans Program provided assistance to veterans for housing needs. For information contact Robert Stevens at SSVF Lucas, Seneca & Wood County, 1500 N. Superior St., Suite 303. Toledo, OH 43604. 419-729-8035 or visit the website at www.wsos.org.

Buckeye Health Plan

Buckeye Health Plan is a Managed Care Plan that provides health care services to Ohio residents eligible for these services are aged, blind or disabled, covered Families and Children (including Healthy Start and Healthy Families), and adult extension Medicaid benefits. For more information, go to <http://www.buckeyehealthplan.com/>.

APPENDIX

1. Welcome Form
2. Intake Form
3. Services-At-A-Glance
4. Guest, Volunteer, and Provider Exit Surveys

Welcome to Project Connect!

While you are waiting, please review the following information and complete sections one and two before intake.

What to expect today here at Project Connect (PC):

Today's PC event runs from 9am to 3pm, and a hot meal will be available all day.

You will see numerous organizations offering direct services in a one-stop-shop format. Many of the services available today include:

- Housing providers
- Employment specialists
- Medical care
- Mental health care
- Benefits specialists
- Eye care
- Haircuts
- Transportation assistance
- Food
- Clothing
- And more

How to get the most out of your visit today:

1. First, you will be paired with a PC Host Volunteer.
 - The Host will be your guide for the event today and will join you as you travel throughout the building; hosts will not join you during personal/private appointments.
 - While you visit service providers, you will likely schedule follow-up/offsite appointments. Your PC Host will help you record these appointments in a calendar.
2. Your next step is INTAKE, where you will meet with a PC volunteer for about 10-15 minutes and you'll complete a needs assessment & screening form.
 - The intake form will help us understand your needs in order to best assist you today.
 - INTAKE will identify three priority services during your visit at PC today.
 - Please be sure to complete the Request for Services & Appointment Form (section two) attached. The Intake Volunteer will complete section one with you.
3. Afterwards, you are welcome to stay as long as you wish.
 - Some stay for an hour, others for a few hours and visit several service providers.
 - The time spent here today is totally up to you.
4. As you exit PC, please complete the Exit Survey.
 - The survey will help us learn about your experiences and your suggestions as we plan for future PC events here in Wood County, Ohio. Thank you!
