Falcons Face Arch Rivals

Add wingback Fred Mathews, who is still the Falcons leading receiver with 15 receptions for 143 yards, to the passing attack and it becomes clear that Bowling Green knows what to do in the aerial department.

When it comes to passing, the Falcons better know what to do because things look just average in the rushing department. However, when Toledo University rolls into Bowling Green's Doyt L. Perry Field today, the Falcons will have a couple of pluses in the rushing area.

First of all, fullback Jerry Fields, who missed one-half of the Dayton game and all of the Western Michigan contest, will be returning to action. So, Fields and Issac Wright will be the fullbacks.

At tailback, Roger Murray saw his first action of the year against Western Michigan and he gained 51 yards in 16 carries for a 3.2 average. Murray will see more action against the Rockets and can be expected to alternate at the tailback slot with Jim Meeker.

Fields' return and the addition of Murray should help the Falcons' running game and take some pressure off of Wireman, who has now completed 34 of 62 passes for 416 yards and four TDs this season.

Looking back on the game, Bowling Green's head coach Don Nehlen stated, "we played well defensively but only very average offensively against Western Michigan. We had a chance to put the game out of reach in the first quarter when we recovered two Western fumbles but we couldn't do it."

After the Western action, Wireman won Bowling Green's "Mr. Back" nomination while Zimpfer was the "Mr. Block" winner. Defensively, middle guard Joe Green was "Mr. Tackle" while halfback Honester Davidson was "Mr. Interception."

Before last Saturday's action, Davidson ranked third in the nation in pass interceptions and he didn't hurt himself against Western Michigan as he picked off another one and returned it 23 yards. For the year, he now has four interceptions for 86 yards.

In the injury department, linebackers Dave Polak and Bob Simmons could see action against Toledo, but defensive tackle Dave Roese will still be sidelined.

Bowling Green State University's passing combination of Vern Wireman to Bob Zimpfer worked very well last Saturday and Toledo University's Rockets can expect to see more of the same today. Wireman and Zimpfer were chiefly responsible for the Falcons 21-10 victory over Western Michigan Saturday that gave the Bowling Green 11 a 2-1 overall record and a 1-0 slate in the Mid-American Conference.

Wireman clicked on 15 of 21 passes for 153 yards and two touchdowns. Zimpfer was on the receiving end of nine of those aerials for 123 yards and both TDs.

Service Groups Aid Falcon Marching Band

Tau Beta Sigma, the honorary service sorority for outstanding college bandwomen, was founded at Stillwater, Oklahoma, in 1946.

The purpose of Tau Beta Sigma is to support the band by giving of our time and services. The Alpha Xi Chapter, founded here at Bowling Green in 1952, helps to promote spirit in the band along with our brother fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi.

Our chapter has supported the Bowling Green Symphonic Band, by selling their recently cut album in the Music Building. Last spring, we held a pre-caucus convention here at B.G. for all the women in our district who were interested in attending the National Convention held this summer in Stillwater, Oklahoma.

We have approximately 28 active members in our chapter and are anticipating a large pledge class this year. The women of Tau Beta Sigma, are continually striving for the betterment of the bands here at Bowling Green State University.

Mark Kelly . . . In Action

Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary service fraternity for college bandsmen, was created in 1919 at Oklahoma State University. In 1949, Beta Kappa Chapter was organized at Bowling Green to serve the Falcon bands.

The goal of the local chapter is to promote interest in Marching, Symphonic and Concert Bands and to build respect for their activities and achievements. Duties of the local brotherhood include handling social functions for the bands, sponsoring the Bowling Green Jazz Lab Band and fostering, in general, a working spirit among all bandsmen.

Kappa Kappa Psi selects for membership only those men who show a sincere and intent desire to work for the good of the bands. Beta Kappa Chapter has, in recent years, been one of the largest and most active chapters in the Midwest and continues to strive for the highest in Bowling Green Band activities.

Don Nehlen wrapped up his first season as Bowling Green State University's head football coach after the 1968 campaign and by anyone's standards it was highly successful.

The Falcons compiled a 6-3-1 overall record and finished in a third place tie in the Mid-American Conference with a 3-2-1 slate. In the conference, Bowling Green tripped Western Michigan, Kent State and Marshall while tying Toledo.

Nehlen, who quarterbacked Bowling Green's Falcons from 1955-57 and landed a second team All-Mid American Conference berth during his senior year, replaced Bob Gibson as BGSU's head coach before the 1968 campaign.

Before taking over as head coach, Nehlen served as Bowling Green's defensive coordinator for three years and turned in a fine record. In three seasons, his defensive squads yielded only 361 points in 28 games for an average of slightly under 13 points a game. His teams recorded six shutouts.

During his years as a player at Bowling Green, Nehlen played under Bowling Green's current Athletic Director Doyt L. Perry. Perry said "Nehlen was a quarterback on my first team at Bowling Green. His enthusiasm, spirit and energy were contagious at that time and they have continued throughout his coaching career. I am confident that Don will make a fine football coach for Bowling Green."

Nehlen is Bowling Green's 11th head football coach in the Falcons 51-year intercollegiate history. He is only the second, Doyt Perry being the first, Bowling Green player to return to his alma mater as head coach.

In his three seasons as Bowling Green's signal caller, Nehlen took to the air 163 times and completed 80 for 1,173 yards and 11 touchdowns. He also scored six touchdowns for a total of 36 points while rushing 132 times for 271 yards.

During his entire coaching career, Nehlen has had nothing but success. After graduating from Bowling Green in June of 1958, Nehlen became the reserve football coach at Mansfield Senior High School.

From 1959-1962, Nehlen was the head football coach at Canton South High School where his teams recorded a 24-11-2 record. Nehlen won two titles and tied for another in the Stark County Class AA League in four years.

In 1963, Nehlen was at the University of Cincinnati as backfield coach. In 1964, he returned to the high school ranks as the head coach at Canton McKinley High School. That year, his squad compiled a 9-1 record and finished second in the state. His overall high school record was 33-12-2 and his teams won 24 of their last 27 games.

Nehlen graduated from Canton Lincoln High School in 1954 where he lettered for two years as a quarterback and landed All-City and All-County honors. He also earned a total of seven letters in basketball and baseball and was voted as the Outstanding Athlete in Lincoln's 1954 graduating class.

Nehlen, age 33, received his Bachelor of Science in Education degree from Bowling Green in 1958 and then earned a Masters Degree at Kent State University in 1965.

He married the former Merry Ann Chopson in 1958 and has two children, Danny and Vicky.

This fall . . . the most exciting sports coverage of the Fabulous Falcons is on the Falcon Sports Network. Radio's Terry Shaw and television's Tom Willett have combined their broadcasts to bring you live action of Bowling Green football both home and away and the television replay of all home games. Then comes basketball, hockey, and baseball. This year, the most exciting voices of sport are on the Falcon Sports Network.
The tradition of “Dad’s Day” at Bowling Green State University still lives after 22 years of Falcon football. Initiated in 1947 by the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, “Dad’s Day” has grown in leaps and bounds as fraternities, sororities and several downtown merchants take part in the event.

The original “Dad’s Day” was started in 1942, but was abandoned during World War II, only to be brought back by the ATO’s in 1947. The Falcons played Iowa State in that one, downing the visiting squad, 19-7.

Carl Bloker, father of Wayne Bloker, was the first “Dad of the Year.”

Old Alpha Rings Out

The Alpha Tau Omega Victory bell, "Old Alpha", is one of the many lasting traditions which have been added to Bowling Green State University in the last decade.

"Old Alpha" has been rung by ATO members following every Falcon touchdown and conversion since the opening game of the 1961 season. Ringing up 1578 points in the last 77 games. "Old Alpha" has witnessed the Falcon gridders compile an impressive 57-18-2 record.

In the short span of eight years, the bell has traveled over 32,710 miles. In 1961 "Old Alpha" followed the Falcons to the Mercy Bowl, in Los Angeles, California. The 1962 season provided ATO's with the opportunity to escort the bell to Texas to compete against West Texas State. "Old Alpha" then returned in 1964 and 1965 to witness the Falcons play North Texas State and West Texas once again. In 1966, "Old Alpha" traveled to Tampa, Florida for the season opener and concluded the 1966 schedule in Philadelphia, Pa. for the final contest against Temple.

This year's bell chairman, Steve Lentz, estimates that travel expenses and repairs on the bell will cost the fraternity about $500.00. The necessary funds for transporting the 1250 pound victory bell are derived from various sources, including numerous student organizations on campus. For financing the longer trips, the fraternity relies heavily on the generosity of local merchants.

Barbara’s Busy Year

COLLEGE FOOTBALL’S CENTENNIAL QUEEN

College football’s Centennial Queen Barbara Specht, a junior at Texas Technological College, has spent a busy year since she was selected by the nation’s college football fans and crowned at last year’s Shrine East-West Game. She has traveled extensively to promote the Centennial and to talk of the values and traditions of college football and on the activities planned for the 100th Anniversary season. Here’s a photo report on highlights of her year. At upper left she posed with star entertainers Art Linkletter and Dennis Morgan at the NCAA Honors Luncheon; at top right she visited the United Nations during a New York tour; in the middle, she visited Army’s spring football practice and chatted with Cadets Tom Wheelock, a 1968 defensive star, and 1969 Captain Lynn Moore; at bottom left, Queen Barbara paused at Rockefeller Center during a visit with New York media to examine the helmet worn by Bennie Oosterbaan, Michigan’s Hall of Fame end, in 1923-27; at the bottom right, her reign started just moments before this picture was taken, when she was crowned at the Shrine game; here she poses with Princesses Kathy Loghry, Oregon State University, left, and Brenda Shrum, University of Delaware, and Shrine greeter Tiny Clews. Queen Barbara will continue her activities through the 1969 season.
APART from the Knute Rockne, Red Granges, Centre 6 Harvard 0's, Tom Harmons and O.J. Simpsons, college football's most remembered moments generally coincide with visions of cloven hoofs and varlets in striped shirts.

All hail, gentlemen, the goat. Poor old goat, fumbled on the goal line in the Wisconsin game, remember? His kid's all right ... he can't help it if his old man pulled a boner.

Enter now the referee. College football teams are named after Wolverines, Wildcats, Longhorns and even Tigers. But a referee wears a garment bearing the insignia of a skunk. (Chorus of boos from crowd.)

We are told that human nature kindly endows us with the tendency to suppress unpleasant memories and recall more vividly the happier experiences. Unfortunately for the individuals involved, this particular information does not apply to intercollegiate football.

Time and wry grins have proven that blunders sometimes outline heroes. Men, being men, can forgive a mistake but they rarely forget it. Who can (or will) forget California's Wrong-Way Roy Riegels, running 69 1/2 yards to his own six-inch line in the 1929 Rose Bowl to set up a Georgia Tech victory?

Five Downs Decisive

And who doesn't remember Referee William H. (Red) Friesell, Jr., who gave Cornell five downs to score the winning touchdown over Dartmouth in 1940?

Or Alabama fullback Tommy Lewis, yielding to frustration and leaping from his seat on the sidelines to tackle Rice's Dick Moegle as he raced toward the Tide's end zone in the 1954 Cotton Bowl?

And, more recently, Kansas' repeated 12-man defensive formations in last New Year's night's Orange Bowl, which, when finally detected, gave Penn State a second, successful opportunity to score a two-point conversion that meant victory?

The Jayhawks remember. While Penn State was gearing up its last offensive thrust in the final quarter, Kansas was sending in its defensive goal line team. And, through a misunderstanding among Jayhawks on the field—two came in, one went out—college football collected one of its better boo-boos.

Game films show that during the last 80 seconds, Kansas, ahead 14-7, conducted a brilliant goal-line stand by using 12 men against Penn State's 11. Twice the 12-man defense threw back Penn State runners. Then the Lions' quarterback managed to score on a broken play. It was not until the two-point conversion try (which Kansas also squashed) that an official, Foster Grose, noticed there were several white-shirted Kansas players on the field—like a dozen or so. After deflecting the joyful Jayhawks with news of the penalty, Grose stepped off 1 1/2 yards to Kansas' 1 1/2. This time Penn State, no longer outnumbered, scored on a sweep and won, 15-14.

The overpopulation of Jayhawks probably ranks as the most prominent bowl boner since Riegels' wrong-way run. (Alabama was already out of the game when Lewis made his impromptu tackle.)

"Stop, Stop"

Riegels' flight to perverse fame began when he picked up a Tech fumble on the first bounce and started to run with it (which today's rules would not allow), turning toward the enemy's goal line. He took a few steps, spun to avoid being tackled and, eureka, an open field lay before him.

A center on the verge of scoring a touchdown in the Rose Bowl, Riegels streaked downfield toward his own end zone, grinning. Behind him teammate Benny Lom, shouting, "Stop, stop!" screamed Lom. "You're running the wrong way!"

At the 10-yard line, Lom caught him, but Riegels shook him off. At the three, Lom grabbed him again and this time held on. Riegels finally realized something was wrong and turned around. A wave of gleeful Georgia Tech players knocked him down.

There was no score at the time and a good punt might have saved Riegels some shame. The ensuing punt, however, was blocked, producing a safety that gave Tech its eventful 8-7 victory margin.

Outcome Reversed

Referee Friesell's faux pas did not create such lasting damage. Although Walter Scholl's touchdown pass to Bill Murphy on the fifth down was the last play of the game and gave Cornell a momentary 7-3 win over Dartmouth, it didn't stick.

The Eastern Intercollegiate Football Association observed that since Cornell should have lost possession of the ball on Dartmouth's five-yard line a few seconds before the game ended, Dartmouth should be declared the winner.

Cornell readily agreed in a wire from President Edmund E. Day. The decision marked one of the few times in intercollegiate football's history that a game's outcome was reversed after its completion.

Tommy Lewis' tackle also was of an innocuous nature. Moegle was awarded a 95-yard touchdown run as Rice won easily. The incident only served to focus unwanted attention on Lewis, wherever he went.

It was not the first time a runner had been tackled from the bench, nor the last, but the memory of Tommy Lewis lives on. "I got more than 500 letters from people," he said, "some good, lots bad."

There have been less-publicized boners in college football, many of more importance. There was, for example, that day in 1960 when Louisiana State University quarterback Jimmy Field got up off the ground and discovered that his wrist band was gone.

All it contained was a complete outline of the LSU plays. Field told his coach, Paul Dietzel, and Dietzel reported the loss to the referee. At the end of the half-time intermission, the official brought the missing wrist band to the LSU dressing room.

"Where did you find it?" asked Dietzel, obviously relieved. "In the Florida dressing room," replied the referee.

Florida shut out LSU in the second half and won, 13-10.

Toledo University Enters New Era

The University of Toledo, founded in 1872 as the result of a gift of land from Jesup W. Scott and municipally supported since 1884, entered a new era on July 1, 1967. On that date the University was converted from municipal to state status and henceforth will receive full support as one of Ohio's state universities.

A $2,850,000 bond issue approved by Toledo voters in 1928 led to the purchase of the present West Bancroft Street campus and the construction of the oldest buildings on campus, University Hall and the Field House, which were first occupied in 1931. During the 1930s Scott, Tucker, Mackinnon and Libbey Halls were built. Then followed the University Library and Law Building, the Army Reserve-ROTC Training Center, and Dowd, Nash and White Halls—dormitories.

The University began receiving capital funds from two statewide bond issues which were approved by Ohio voters in 1963 and 1965. A total of $12 million—$6 million from each issue—was allocated to the University. The monies have been and are being expended as part of a program of construction which began in 1959.

In that year the Student Union Building (built without benefit of tax funds) was completed, and in 1960 the Engineering-Science Building was opened. In 1964 the Snyder Memorial Building, the first structure ever financed entirely by a private donor, was completed. Carter Hall West (1964) and Carter Hall East (1965) followed. Both are mens dormitories and have raised residence facilities for students to 1,100. The Ritter Observatory and Planetarium were completed in 1966, and the Biology-Chemistry Building, a $4.5-million structure built with money from the state bond issues, opened last fall.

Currently being completed with funds obtained from the bond issues are the University's Community and Technical College, a Health Education Building, and an addition to the Engineering-Science Building. A six building complex costing some $7 million and located in Scott Park, the original gift of land by Jesup W. Scott in 1872, will comprise the Community and Technical College. The Health Education Building is to be located near Glass Bowl Stadium and cost $1.25 million. Also under construction is the first phase of a $3.5 million addition to the Student Union Building. It will be built with non-tax funds.

Plans for a new College of Law complex and a 600-bed high-rise dormitory have been approved for construction soon. The law facility will cost nearly $4-million and consist of four levels with nearly 100,000 square feet of space. The new dorm will be coeducational, located just west of the Glass Bowl and consist of 14 floors. It is estimated to cost $4.5-million.

In addition to its 206-acre campus, the University has a 47-acre Arboretum at Sylvania Avenue and Corey Road, Sylvania Ohio, and an 83-acre site near Reynolds Road and the Ohio Turnpike.

Five colleges—Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, Engineering, and Pharmacy—offer baccalaureate degrees. The University Community and Technical College offers two-year Associate Degrees (as does the College of Business Administration), and the College of Law offers the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence. The Graduate School offers masters' degrees in the areas of liberal arts, the sciences, education, engineering and business administration, and the doctorate in education, physics, mathematics, engineering science, psychology, history, biology, and chemistry.

The University operated on the two semester plan with summer sessions and at night through its Evening Sessions division until the past academic year when, along with all other state universities, it began operation on the quarter system. Non-credit and liberal education programs are offered through the Division of Adult and Continuing Education.

Enrollment at The University of Toledo in September, 1969 is estimated to be 14,100 full-time and part-time students. The University draws its students from 35 states and 42 foreign countries.

Football fans in four states, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Pennsylvania, will be able to listen to the 1969 football Falcons. Paced by WFOB's seven-station network, Bowling Green State University football will be aired by nine Ohio radio stations that can be heard throughout a four-state area.

This season, WFOB's network will include WONW, Defiance, WBCO, Bucyrus, WNOB, Newbury, WFRO, Fremont, WTOD, Toledo, and WERT, Van Wert. WAWR, Bowling Green, and WBGU, the Bowling Green State University station, will also be airing the Falcons' 1969 games.

Veteran broadcaster Dave Carr will be in front of the mike for the WFOB network while Terry Shaw will be handling the play-by-play work for WBGU. Terry Waltz will be the main voice of WAWR.

The University's television, WBGU, will be increasing the Falcons' coverage by taping Saturday's home games and then replaying them on Sunday evening. Tom Willett will be the voice of the Falcons for WBGU-TV.

POTATO CHIPS—TASTY SNACKS
Sue Smith, Sue Schaefer and Heidi Westland are shown modeling a collection of 1969 campus fashions that can be found at the Clothes Rack. Kathy Baumann is on the right.
Robert Stout is invading what has traditionally been an all-woman's world at Bowling Green State University. He's the first man ever to join the teaching staff of the Home Economics Department.

Mr. Stout, an ordained Lutheran minister who is working on his doctoral degree in student personnel administration, will instruct two courses in “Foundations For Marriage and Family Relations.” He will be the only man among 25 women in the department.

One might say Mr. Stout will be wearing a couple of different hats this school year. In addition to teaching, he plans to continue preaching whenever needed on Sunday mornings and maintain his status as a full-time student as he writes his doctoral dissertation.

“I feel I have the best of two worlds,” he said. “I’m in the pulpit on weekends and out where the action is during the week.”

Mr. Stout’s experience, as well as his education, qualifies him for his new job. The fact that he is a student-teacher-pastor as well as a husband and father of three contributes to his qualifications.

A native of Fremont, Mt. Stout received his bachelor’s degree in education and his master’s in guidance counseling from Bowling Green. After teaching and counseling for a few years, he returned to the classroom to earn his bachelor of divinity from Hamma Divinity School at Springfield.

His ministry work took him to California and Texas where he also taught college courses and became active in community affairs. In Waco, Texas, he was instrumental in organizing a marriage and family counseling service and served as chairman of the Clergy Committee of Alcohol Studies and a member of the Planned Parenthood Board, Lutheran Student Association at Texas A & M and Mental Health Association.

Last fall Mr. Stout and his family returned to Bowling Green where he and his wife started their married life, and he well remembers those days.

“Before we were married, I remember hitchhiking to see my girl friend in Tiffin every Friday night,” he recalled. “I also remember arriving back in Bowling Green the wee hours of Monday morning to go to class.”

Later that year he was married. All this, he feels adds in his understanding of married couples.

Last school year Mr. Stout worked as a researcher for the Anderson Center as part of his one-year service fellowship. This year, however, he wanted to try his hand at teaching . . . and, since his special field was part of the home economics curriculum, he decided to invade the “no man’s land.”

Mr. Stout doesn’t plan any revolutionary changes in teaching the course. However, he does hope to create a casual classroom atmosphere where students will feel free to discuss any topic.

“My goal is to make the course relevant to the students,” he explained. “We attend college for four years and attend school 16 years before that. Yet we walk blind into marriage without any preparation. We all go into marriage as rank amateurs.”

One of Mr. Stout’s female teaching associates, Mrs. Ernest Hamilton, is enthusiastic about the male addition to the staff and hopes that a team teaching arrangement can be worked out.

“I’m always pointing out the psychological differences between the sexes to my students,” she said. “If they could see a man and woman instructor discuss different topics, it would be easier for them to see and understand the different viewpoints based on the fact that one comes from a man and the other from a woman.”

The hiring of Mr. Stout in the home economics department may only be the beginning. Who knows? Within a few years male chefs may be teaching the cooking classes and men may be instructing home economics majors clothing construction and tailoring.

Break your beard in right.

Right now your beard is in the formative stage. You can shave it with a razor blade like your father does. And each time you do your beard will grow back a little more difficult. Until one day shaving's no longer a chore. It's an agony.

Look no further than your father's face for proof.

But fortunately, you're catching your beard at an early age. You can break it in to be just as shaveable 10 and 20 years from now as it is today.

With a REMINGTON® shaver.

And if you think the kind of shave we're selling won't be close enough for you, you're wrong.

Our new blades are sharper than anything that's been in an electric shaver before. And there's a dial that lets you adjust them for your skin and beard.

What's more, you can dial a REMINGTON electric shaver into a sideburn trimmer.

Admittedly, it costs more to buy our electric shaver than a razor and some blades. But it's a good investment.

These next few years will determine how you and your beard will get along for the rest of your lives.

Bowling Green's Intramural Sports

"If you really want to know a man, play a game with him."

The physical fitness of all Americans, whether young or old, is a matter of great national importance. So, too, is the importance of catching early in life the stimulation of competition on the playing fields as well as in the classrooms.

The intramural sports program at Bowling Green provides the opportunity for students to achieve physical development through a variety of active sports, games, and other recreational activities. These activities also seek to provide mental stimulus as well as good fellowship and a lasting sense of sportsmanship.

To complement the academic life of the student with a well-directed and rigorous program of recreation has always been an important objective of this university. Therefore, I urge you to select a sport or activity and participate to the best of your ability. The program is voluntary but the benefits may well be life-long.
