Jerry Fields is alive and well in Bowling Green State University's backfield, along with Issac Wright.

Playing his first full game for the Falcons since the first quarter at Dayton on September 27, Fields ground out 85 yards in 19 carries last Saturday against Kent State to bring back BGSU's rushing game. Against Toledo the week before, the Falcons had to rely on the arm of quarterback Vern Wireman since the rushing game was in negative figures (-13).

But Saturday, Fields, a 5-11, 210-pound sophomore from Youngstown South, literally socked-it-to Kent State. He combined with Alliance's Issac Wright as each gained 85 yards against the Golden Flashes.

It was the first game at fullback for the 200-pound sophomore Wright.

"We felt that we had our two best backs at one position, so we decided to switch Issac from tailback to fullback," head coach Don Nehlen said.

In all, BGSU gained 223 yards on the ground, and added another 99 yards in the air. This balanced attack will undoubtedly give Falcon foes an additional headache or two.

In carrying 19 times, Fields was stopped once for a loss. On another play he burst through the Kent State line from the Kent 20-yard line and carried the ball and three Golden Flash players with him to the one-yard stripe.

Of the 72 offensive plays Bowling Green displayed Saturday, 52 were by rushing. Previously, Bowling Green had thought of its running attack only in the sense of keeping the foe honest toward the passing game.

But now, the Falcons can be feared both on the ground and in the air.

Against Kent State, the Falcons stopped the nation's leading rusher, Don Nottingham. Nottingham was allowed just 50 yards in 20 carries. A lot of the credit of halting Kent's powerful running game has to go to BG's All-America candidate Joe Green.

Armstrong . . . Moonman and Musician

"He's One of Us"

In keeping with the theme of Homecoming—"A Century of American Frontiers"—the Falcon Marching Band presents a show honoring Neil Armstrong and the historic flight of Apollo 11.

The Falcon band through formations and music will re-create the launch of Apollo 11, the flight and landing of the LEM ("the Eagle has landed"), the first steps on the moon, and the unfurling of the Stars and Stripes.

For another glimpse of Neil Armstrong the following is quoted from an article in Conchord (Copyrighted 1969 by Con Corporation).

When Neil Armstrong stepped out on the moon's surface, the world thrilled at mankind's greatest adventure. And musicians said: "He's one of us."

Musicians form a close brotherhood, but they also believe in music for everyone, including men who explore space. So does Neil Armstrong. Though flying has been his lifelong passion, Armstrong is also devoted to music. As a teenager, he worked and saved to pay for flying lessons and still eked out enough extra money to buy a baritone horn. He earned his pilot's license at 18, even before he had his driver's license; and he was the leader of a musical combo as well as a faithful member of the school band.

Armstrong's love for music began when he was a small child. He joined the Upper Sandusky, Ohio, school band when he was an eighth grader, and chose to play baritone horn.

"I asked him why he chose such a big horn," his mother recalls. "He was such a little fellow and it seemed to be more than he could carry. But he said he liked the tone. So of course we didn't discourage him. Perhaps the school band needed a baritone player.

"I never had to remind him to practice. He just naturally set aside time for that."

The family had moved to Wapakoneta, Ohio, by the time Armstrong entered high school. He played in the school band, of course, but also for Boy Scouts and church events. For sheer fun, he formed the "Mississippi Moonshiners," a jazz band that performed at school dances and assembly intermissions.

"Neil was a very good musician," says Jerre Maxon, the trombonist of the group. "He had a strong driving afterbeat, you know, and really kept us going. He sure loved music. He said music contributed to 'thought control,' and he always tried to improve his playing.

"There were only six boys in the Wapakoneta 45-piece band and we had a lot of fun. After the football game, when we went downtown to parade, Neil would turn his cap around and march backwards, just for laughs. Sometimes we would trade off instruments. I suppose we drove the band director crazy—but those were good times."

But with the exception of these episodes with the band and the "Moonshiners," Maxon remembers Armstrong as a quiet, reserved young man, who said little. "I think one of the hardest parts of the moon mission for Neil will be the public speaking," Maxon comments.

"He wanted his own instrument," reports Neil's father, Stephen. "In those days, our family had few luxuries. Neil worked at Neumeister's Bakery cleaning the bread mixer until he had raised enough money to buy a Conn baritone horn."

"Neil got his love of music from his mother. She played piano and taught Neil to play piano, too. Sometimes, in the evening, Neil with his baritone, his brother Dean and his cornet, and his sister June with her violin would gather around Viola at the piano, and they would play. What a good time they had!"

Don Nehlen wrapped up his first season as Bowling Green State University’s head football coach after the 1968 campaign and by anyone’s standards it was highly successful.

The Falcons compiled a 6-3-1 overall record and finished in a third place tie in the Mid-American Conference with a 3-2-1 slate. In the conference, Bowling Green tripped Western Michigan, Kent State and Marshall while tying Toledo.

Nehlen, who quarterbacked Bowling Green’s Falcons from 1955-57 and landed a second team All-Mid American Conference berth during his senior year, replaced Bob Gibson as BGSU’s head coach before the 1968 campaign.

Before taking over as head coach, Nehlen served as Bowling Green’s defensive coordinator for three years and turned in a fine record. In three seasons, his defensive squads yielded only 361 points in 28 games for an average of slightly under 13 points a game. His teams recorded six shutouts.

During his years as a player at Bowling Green, Nehlen played under Bowling Green’s current Athletic Director Doyt L. Perry. Perry said “Nehlen was a quarterback on my first team at Bowling Green. His enthusiasm, spirit and energy were contagious at that time and they have continued throughout his coaching career. I am confident that Don will make a fine football coach for Bowling Green.”

Nehlen is Bowling Green’s 11th head football coach in the Falcons 51-year intercollegiate history. He is only the second, Doyt Perry being the first, Bowling Green player to return to his alma mater as head coach.

In his three seasons as Bowling Green’s signal caller, Nehlen took to the air 163 times and completed 80 for 1,173 yards and 11 touchdowns. He also scored six touchdowns for a total of 36 points while rushing 132 times for 271 yards.

During his entire coaching career, Nehlen has had nothing but success. After graduating from Bowling Green in June of 1956, Nehlen became the reserve football coach at Mansfield Senior High School.

From 1959-1962, Nehlen was the head football coach at Canton South High School where his teams recorded a 24-11-2 record. Nehlen won two titles and tied for another in the Stark County Class AA League in four years.

In 1963, Nehlen was at the University of Cincinnati as backfield coach. In 1964, he returned to the high school ranks as the head coach at Canton McKinley High School. That year, his squad compiled a 9-1 record and finished second in the state. His overall high school record was 33-12-2 and his teams won 24 of their last 27 games.

Nehlen graduated from Canton Lincoln High School in 1954 where he lettered for two years as a quarterback and landed All-City and All-County honors. He also earned a total of seven letters in basketball and baseball and was voted as the Outstanding Athlete in Lincoln’s 1954 graduating class.

Nehlen, age 33, received his Bachelor of Science in Education degree from Bowling Green in 1958 and then earned a Masters Degree at Kent State University in 1963.

He married the former Merry Ann Chopson in 1958 and has two children, Danny and Vicky.

Chrysler weather has arrived. Falling leaves take off on the wind—and our 1970 Chrysler Corporation lineup takes the field.

For a starter, Plymouth 1970 makes it with the Rapid Transit System: The fabulous Barracuda Series, Valiant Duster 340. And the imperturbable Plymouth GTX.

Or you could be Dodge material. Find out with a run in the cars with the bumblebee stripe: The Challenger, Charger 500, Dart Swinger 340, Coronet Super Bee.

The loaded lineup. Performance on wheels, waiting for the moment you take over.

And while you're thinking about it—relax, sit back and enjoy the game.
Things go better with Coke.

His Record Speaks:

THUS FAR IN '69

Utah State—17 tackles, 11 assists; was on ball 34 times.
Dayton—10 tackles, five assists.
Western Michigan—Six tackles and 18 assists, and one fumble recovery.
Toledo—18 tackles, nine assists, 1 blocked punt, 2 blocked passes and 1 recovered fumble.
Kent State—Seven tackles, 14 assists.

Out of 133 chances at the ballcarrier this year, Joe has missed tackles just six times. Unanimous first string All Mid-American Conference pick last year; second team choice as a sophomore.
Joe Green, No. 61, was pitted against the nation's leading rusher at Kent State last week.

And after it was all over, Kent's Don Nottingham had carried the ball 20 times for just 50 yards. His national leadership was in jeopardy.

Although Green may not have been in all the tackles, just his presence drives opposing coaches to make adjustments.

Some have found they can not run away from him (he moves to guard against sweeps exceptionally well), so they attempt to double-team him. A little subtraction brings the conclusion that when Green is double-teamed, some other Falcon defender is "free" for the attack.

Joe Green makes opposing players think about his reception awaiting at the line of scrimmage. Undoubtedly, Don Nottingham was thinking about Joe Green before last Saturday's game, and he probably was thinking about him during the game.

And most likely, after the nation's leading rusher gains just 50 yards on 20 carries, he probably was thinking of Green after the game.

All because of the tactics of an All-American candidate.

Miami Noted As ‘Cradle of Coaches’

The second oldest state institution of higher learning west of the Allegheny Mountains, Miami University is known as the Mother of Fraternities, the birthplace of the McGuffey Reader and the home of the Cradle of Coaches.

Founded on February 17, 1809, Miami University is located in Oxford, a picturesque town approximately 50 miles southwest of Dayton. The population of Oxford is just over 6,500, while Miami’s enrollment this year is about 11,500.

For many years known as “The Yale of the West,” Miami began to lose that name after 1888, when Ella McSurely, a professor’s daughter, became the University’s first coed. And in the same year, Miami played a 0-0 tie with the University of Cincinnati in the school’s first intercollegiate football game. Miami first played Dayton in football in 1921 and the two schools have played a total of 33 games since.

Shortly after the University opened its doors, William Holmes McGuffey, in the 1930s, wrote the readers and spellers which were to play such an important role in the education of the West.

Beta Theta Pi, the first fraternity founded west of the Alleghenies, was established at Miami in 1839. With the founding of Phi Delta Theta in 1848 and Sigma Chi in 1855, Miami contributed the social organizations known throughout the fraternity world as the Miami Triad.

In this the 100th anniversary year of collegiate football, Miami is proud of its reputation as the “Cradle of Coaches.” Currently Miami has 51 graduates coaching seven intercollegiate sports.

Miami has nine head football coaches in the collegiate ranks in the United States and two in Canada—more than any other school in the country. These coaches include Dayton’s John McVay; John Pont, Indiana; Bill Mallory, Miami; Bo Schembechler, Michigan; Doc Urich, Northern Illinois; Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame; Jim Root, New Hampshire; Paul Dietzel, South Carolina; Carmen Cozza, Yale; Tom Mooney, McGill, and Nobby Wirkowski, York.

Even the professional ranks can boast of nine Miamians, including three head football coaches in the American Football League. The head coaches include Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals; Weeb Ewbank, World Champion New York Jets, and Clive Rush, Boston Patriots. Assistant football coaches include Howard Brinker and Fritz Heisler with the Cleveland Browns; Bill Arnsparger, Baltimore Colts; Ed Biles, New Orleans Saints, and Bruce Beatty, Boston Patriots. The ninth professional is Walter (Smokey) Alston, the dean of baseball managers in his 16th season with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Miami has been the training grounds for five football “Coach of the Year” recipients. Winners of the coveted award include Paul Brown at Ohio State in 1942; Earl H. (Red) Blaik, Army, 1946; Paul Dietzel, LSU, 1955; Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame, 1964, and John Pont, Indiana, 1967.

Break your beard in right.

Right now your beard is in the formative stage. You can shave it with a razor blade like your father does. And each time you do your beard will grow back a little more difficult. Until one day shaving's no longer a chore. It's an agony.

Look no further than your father's face for proof.

But fortunately, you're catching your beard at an early age. You can break it in to be just as shaveable 10 and 20 years from now as it is today.

With a Remington® shaver.

And if you think the kind of shave we're selling won't be close enough for you, you're wrong.

Our new blades are sharper than anything that's been in an electric shaver before. And there's a dial that lets you adjust them for your skin and beard.

What's more, you can dial a Remington electric shaver into a sideburn trimmer.

Admittedly, it costs more to buy our electric shaver than a razor and some blades.

But it's a good investment.

These next few years will determine how you and your beard will get along for the rest of your lives.® Sperry Rand® ©1969 S. R.
