Bowling Green's newest fan of intercollegiate athletics assumed his duties as the seventh president of BGSU on July 1... The 47-year-old Tennessean succeeds Dr. William T. Jerome, who has been BGSU's president since 1963... Dr. Moore comes to campus after a five year term as vice president of academic affairs at George Peabody College in Nashville... He is a 1946 graduate of Baylor University and received his doctorate from the University of Texas in 1953... The new president's publications include a number of articles for various journals... He is listed in Who's Who in America... He and his wife, Marian, are the parents of two sons... His interest in Falcon athletes was evident when he made sure that he was included on the team's opening road trip to Utah State this fall while still in his first day "on the job" at Bowling Green.

"We will have to find replacements for 35 points of our offense in Penix and McLemore who were both all-league first team choices. We have a sound senior nucleus to work with in Center Jim Connally, one of the most underrated players in the MAC; Forward Rich Walker, a multi-talented individual who is among the top players in the MAC and who has the potential for even higher honors; and Guard Bob Quayle. I felt last year we had the best 'team' of freshmen in the MAC (12-2 on the season and 7-0 in MAC play) and I feel that we could have the best sophomores in the league this season. Dalynn Badenhop has the tools to be a fine college basketball player and Al Russ is an excellent playmaker in the backcourt. If our sophomores come along as expected, we expect to be a contender for our conference championship."

Campus Hotline
by Teri Sharp

"Those were the days." Many Bowling Green State University students have heard their fathers say those exact words as he reminisced about his own college days, and "Those Were The Days," is the theme of Dad’s Day 1970.

In honor of all the days visiting the campus this weekend, the “good old days” will be recalled in campus decorations and entertainment planned this evening.

The Union Activities Organization Dad’s Day Variety Show will feature talented Bowling Green students in some 25 acts. The show includes a wide array of music, dance and comedy routines. Scheduled for 8 p.m., the entertainment will be presented in the Grand Ballroom of the University Union. Admission is free.

Curtain time for Joseph Heller’s play, "We Bombed In New Haven," is 8 p.m. in the Main Auditorium of University Hall. The play written by the author of "Catch 22," mixes satire, comedy and tragedy in an attack of the roles people play in society. The action centers on a group of men who are sent out to "bomb" certain strategic locations.

The theatre production is being presented by the speech department. Tickets, 25c for students and $1.50 for adults, will be on sale in the theatre ticket office beginning at 7 p.m. this evening.

The Broadway musical hit "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off," begins at 8 p.m. in Recital Hall at the School of Music. The student production is being sponsored by the Student Activities Office.

The Sanctuary will be open this evening from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. providing entertainment for those who enjoy folk music. (Don’t let the name fool you, the Sanctuary is a coffee house located in Kohl Hall.) Admission is free.
Return Of Perry's Boys

was 1930. Those were the good old days. At least this is what the Bowling Green football players of 1930 will tell you today as they hold a special reunion to relive that wonderful year on the gridiron.

The 1930 Falcons under Coach Warren Steller put themselves into the record books that year with a 6-0-2 campaign. The undefeated season stands as one of five posted in 51 years of BG football.

Quarterbacking that team was Doyt Perry, who apparently called the right signals back in 1930 just as he has in recent years as the Falcons’ athletic director.

Just so you won’t miss out on any reunion talk, here are some comments “The Key” made about the 1930 team: will be honored at today’s game while watching their sons in action against Marshall. Three dads should take an extra bow. Tackle Fred Sturt has seven brothers and one sister in his family. End Bill Montrie has three brothers and five sisters. And Halfback Wayne Ducharme lists three brothers and five sisters.

FALCON FATHERS

KICKOFF RETURNS

are becoming things of frustration for the Falcons’ Bill Pittman even though the 162-pound sophomore ranks among the top three return artists in the nation. Against Western Michigan, his 98-yard effort went into the books as 73 yards when a clip was called. Then last week against Miami, he was gone again except for a shirt-pulling tackle by the last Redskin defender, Dick Adams, who ironically was leading the nation in kickoff returns at the time.

Perhaps the third time will be the charm.

THE MARSHALL SERIES

finds Bowling Green with 14 wins in 16 games. The series started in 1954 with a Marshall victory (26-19). The Herd also came through last season with a 21-16 upset which ended a 27-game winless streak for the Huntington, W. Va., team.

FORMER HIGH SCHOOL TEAMMATES

rank one-two in scoring for Marshall this season. Quarterback Ted Shoebridge leads the Herd scoring with 30 points and soccer-style kicker, Marcelo Lajterman, is next with 20 points. The two players attended Lyndhurst, N. J.; High School.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE

Bowling Green 69, Toledo 12 in football! Well, that was the score recently when the freshmen teams of the two rivals met. For a close-up look at this year’s Falcon freshmen, see the story on Page 30 of today’s program.

DID YOU KNOW DEPARTMENT

Defensive Halfback Bill Deming never lost a football game from seventh grade through high school while living in Sandusky . . . Fullback Jerry Fields had a 99-yard touchdown run at Youngstown South . . . Tailback Julius Livas was the quarterback in the same backfield with Fields . . . Bill Pittman has a 6-2, 220-pound twin brother . . . Fullback Ed Plater is a baseball letterman at Bowling Green.

THE ALL-OHIO CHAMPIONSHIPS

in cross country became the property of the Bowling Green harriers for the first time last Saturday as the Falcons took four of the top seven places. Earlier this fall, the defending Mid-American Conference champions defeated 28 other teams in the Notre Dame Invitational.
Villapiano: Italian For Roadblock

If Bowling Green Defensive End Phil Villapiano was transformed into a highway sign, it would probably read: “Danger, roadblock ahead. Please take alternate route.”

This is what’s happening this season as Falcon opponents continue to seek all possible escape routes leading away from a direct confrontation with the Oakhurst, N. J., senior, who is rated one of the finest defensive players in the nation.

“It’s hard to believe how much our opponents keep running away from Phil this season,” states Bowling Green Coach Don Nehlen. “We have been forced to almost over-shift on our left side to counter their game plans.”

The anti-Villapiano movement will probably still be in effect today when Marshall comes to town looking for its second straight win over the Falcons after shocking BG last season with a 21-16 victory.

With Bowling Green coming off a heart-breaking 7-3 loss to Miami, Villapiano and his defensive mates have only given up one touchdown in the last 11 quarters of action.

Villapiano’s 1970 record of devastation reveals 56 tackles in the few times the opponents have run his way. He has been caught in the enemy backfield 13 times throwing runners for losses totaling 82 yards.

The head-hunting senior’s best game this season came against Western Michigan when he forced four fumbles and had 10 solo tackles. His play earned him Mid-American Defensive Player-Of-The-Week honors.

Professional football looms in the future for the Falcon star. As one scout put it: “It’s a pleasure watching the guy play football like that. He’s got the mental toughness that we’re looking for.”

Needless to say, when Villapiano plays football, he plays it rough. “I just love to be in the midst of the action. There’s something inside that makes me play with more aggressiveness than others. Football is a violent sport. And to play it well, you have to play that way.”

Villapiano’s reckless abandon on the football field is well known. Both Toledo and Kent State double teamed him. In fact, TU End Steve Bowman won his team’s weekly “offensive player” award for his work as part of the double team against Villapiano.

For obvious reasons, his favorite player is Dick Butkus. “He likes to play the game as it should be played. Besides, I’m going to have to make it with the pros as a linebacker and Butkus certainly is the best around.”

Playing linebacker is nothing new for Villapiano. At Ocean Township High School, he won all-state honors as a linebacker while also running the ball at tailback. His running ability (4.6 for the 40) reveals why he started one game at tailback for the Falcons as a junior.

Villapiano comes from a football family. His father is athletic director at Asbury Park High School and was an All-Indiana halfback at DePauw University. “My mom is our king fan. She hasn’t missed many games over the years,” says the Falcon tri-captain.

Another Villapiano is also at Bowling Green. Phil’s brother John is a starting linebacker and leading tackler on the undefeated freshman team which defeated Toledo, 69-12, in its last game with the younger Villapiano turning in a 45-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass.

When Nehlen was asked to compare the two Villapiano’s, he commented: “There’s no need for comparison. Both of them are wild men on the football field. Phil has learned how to temper his wildness to a fine degree. I just wish they were twins.”
A Man's Dream

Pop Goes The Culture

by Anne Crawford

A walk through Bowling Green’s Center for the Study of Popular Culture is like blowing the dust off an old attic. It is filled with mementoes of bygone days.

Vintage Sears and Roebuck Catalogues and turn-of-the-century copies of Ladies Home Journal are shelved with Ellery Queen mysteries, Zane Grey westerns, copies of Playboy and Variety, and a variety of comic books.

Sheet music of the twenties and portraits of silent movie greats line the walls.

Recently opened in its quarters in the University Library, the Center for the Study of Popular Culture is unique in the United States. Created and developed by Dr. Ray B. Browne, professor of English at Bowling Green, the Center is designed to make education more relevant to today’s mobile, changing student-society.

Although Browne began planning the Center three years ago, the concept of a popular culture center originated in his undergraduate days. He wanted to concentrate on the study of popular culture, but the closest curriculum he could find was American Studies (he received his Ph.D. from UCLA). To fulfill a need for information about today’s culture, he started the now successful Journal of Popular Culture. From this, the Center for the Study of Popular Culture developed.

Browne is aware that popular culture is a vague term, and he prefers to use the term “cultural ecology” to describe the activities of the Center.

“Popular culture can best be described as those elements of life which are not primarily intellectual or creative and which in transmission—mainly through the mass media—have been largely stripped of their purely intellectual or purely creative context,” he says.

As one of the nation’s top publishers and experts in popular culture, Browne views the Center as “a solution to fill the growing gap between life on the campuses and life in the outside world”.

Browne also sees the collection as a means of tracing the development of today’s culture and today’s world. It is interesting to note that much of what is being done in our space program closely resembles the science fiction escapades of Buck Rodgers and Captain Video which were popular several years ago.

Already valued at a quarter of a million dollars, the Center’s collection includes 35,000 records, 20,000 books, and hundreds of radio tapes, copies of sheet music, underground newspapers, picture postcards, and photograph albums. Although some of the articles are over 100 years old, most are from the early twentieth century.

The Center for the Study of Popular Culture is concerned with collecting all items of popular culture, but primarily those things which other historical societies or libraries would not be likely to save. This storehouse of folklore houses Ellery Queen mysteries rather than the works of Shakespeare.

Donations to the Center have come in from all parts of the country. More than half of the popular culture archives has been donated by individual contributors. Radio stations from Ohio and several states have given hundreds of records. Among the rarest of these are two Ku Klux Klan recordings made during the 1920’s on the KKK label. Another prized item is a collector’s set of song books and music sheets published in the 1920’s donated by country-western singer Jimmy Rodgers.

The largest single contribution came from Bill Randall, a Cleveland radio personality, whose private collection contains 20,000 items relating to current American folklore. This includes 9,000 phonograph recordings, 3,000 books, a complete set of National Geographic periodicals from 1927 to 1966, and all of the Sears and Roebuck Catalogues since 1888 on microfilm. Browne has also found junk shops to be a good source of Americana.

In an era where the University has been portrayed as an “ivory tower” environment, the Center for the Study of Popular Culture is a brisk breeze of fresh air offering a new approach to preparing students for life.

“In its own small way,” Browne says, “I think the Center may make a contribution toward this end.”

Praying — Waiting — Yelling — Winning (44-0)
By Anne Crawford

Autumn. The days are growing shorter. As the picnics move inside, menus change. Cool weather, football games, and raking leaves create appetites that are satisfied with warm, hearty meals rather than light, cool summer fare.

Good, nourishing meals do not have to be complicated to prepare. The wives of the football coaches at Bowling Green entertain frequently during the season, yet they are often pressed for time. They depend on dishes which are easy to prepare. The following are some of their favorite fall recipes.

Barbecue Sandwiches

2 or 3 pound chuck roast
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons vinegar
2 teaspoons sugar
1 cup catsup
salt and pepper

Place roast in a dutch oven, cover with water, and cook until tender. Remove roast to cool. Reserve one cup beef stock. Combine beef stock, Worcestershire sauce, vinegar, sugar, catsup in sauce pan. Add salt and pepper to taste. Slice meat thin and add to sauce. Simmer. This recipe serves ten to twelve.

—Merry Ann Nehlen

Loaf Sandwich

2/3 cup canned milk
1 1/2 cups chopped onion
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 cups grated American cheese
1 loaf French bread

Slice French bread in half lengthwise. Combine all other ingredients and spread mixture on each half loaf. Use heavy duty foil to form a shell around the crust. Bake on a cookie sheet in a 350 degree oven for 25 minutes. During the last five minutes, place strips of cheese on the sandwich for garnish. Serves six to eight.

Pumpkin Cake

1 1/2 cups oil
2 cups granulated sugar
4 eggs
2 cups pumpkin (1 small can)
3 cups flour
2 tablespoons baking powder
2 teaspoons baking soda
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped walnuts (optional)

Cream oil, sugar, and eggs for five minutes. Combine the dry ingredients and add alternately in fourths with the pumpkin. Beat the mixture well and bake in an ungreased 10 inch by 16 inch by 1 inch jellyroll pan at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes. Cool the cake thoroughly. This recipe makes three layers if desired. The cake serves about 20.

—Wendy Uzelac

Chinese Beef Curry

1 1/2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 medium Spanish onion, sliced in rings
2-3 teaspoons curry powder
1 1/2 pounds lean round steak
1/2 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
1 fresh tomato, peeled and diced
1 large clove garlic, minced
2 teaspoons salt

Heat oil in heavy skillet and saute onion over medium heat, just until tender. Then stir in curry powder and cook 1 minute. To this, add beef cubes and the next five ingredients in the order listed. Continue cooking until beef cubes are slightly browned. Then add enough boiling water to barely cover the beef. Simmer the mixture gently about 1 1/2 hours or until beef is extremely tender. Thicken with 2 tablespoons of water and 2 tablespoons of cornstarch mixture and serve with cooked rice. This recipe makes about four servings.

—Faith Jackson

Baked Lasagna

1 pound lasagna
1 pound lean ground beef
1 pound ricotta cheese (or cottage cheese)
1/2 pound mozzarella cheese, shredded
1/2 cup grated parmesan
1 1/2 pound jar or three cups spaghetti sauce

Cook lasagna as directed with 1 teaspoon cooking oil added to the water to keep the lasagna from sticking together. Then brown the meat and add it to the spaghetti sauce. Grease a 9 inch by 13 inch baking dish and cover the bottom of it with a thin layer of the sauce mixture. Add a layer of lasagna and top with ricotta, mozzarella, and sauce. Repeat the layers, ending with a layer of lasagna, sauce, and parmesan. Bake the mixture at 400 degrees for 20 minutes. Let it stand a few minutes before cutting into.
squares and serving hot. This is good served with a salad and garlic bread. This recipe serves six to eight. It may be frozen in two smaller dishes until needed.

—ANN RUEHL

CHICKEN-RICE DELIGHT

If you like to experiment with recipes, try this one. It lends itself to many variations—

3 cups uncooked rice
16 pieces of chicken (breasts and legs)
2 cans cream of chicken soup
1 can cream of mushroom soup salt

Line a deep rectangular pan or roaster with foil. Leave enough foil so you can fold it over and seal the mixture. Cover the bottom of the pan with uncooked rice, minute or long grained. Combine a can of cream of chicken soup with one can of water and pour over the layer of rice. Add a layer of chicken and season with salt, pepper, parsley, or any other seasoning you like. Over this mixture pour 1 can of cream of chicken soup mixed with 1 can of water and 1 can of cream of mushroom soup mixed with 1 can of water. Seal the foil tightly over the chicken. Place in a 375 degree oven and bake for 2 hours. You may cook it longer at a lower temperature if you wish. This is easy to make for a crowd and has an additional advantage in that it can be prepared the night before and stored in the refrigerator unbaked until the next day. This recipe serves eight and is delicious with fresh homemade bread.

The main campus of Marshall University is located in the city of Huntington, West Virginia. A second campus, University Heights, is four miles to the east and contains housing for married students. Branch colleges are located at Logan and Williamson.

The University was established in 1837 as Marshall Academy, named for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court John Marshall. Marshall is 26 years older than the State of West Virginia, which supports the institution.

Progress is the key at Marshall. The 185 acre University Heights campus is being developed into a second academic campus. A twin towers dormitory housing 1000 students was opened last year. A new University Student Center and Telecommunications Center are scheduled for completion later this year.

Athletically, Marshall's facilities are being developed to match or surpass those of similar sized universities. The one million dollar renovation of Fairfield Stadium is nearly complete. The Thundering Herd joined the elite this season, with the installation of "Astroturf." 6,500 additional seats were added along with a new scoreboard. Plans also call for installation of an NCAA all weather track. Marshall players find additional encouragement through the presence of "Marco", a baby buffalo donated to the University.

Academically, Marshall has 31 departments in five divisions: Arts and Sciences, Teachers College, College of Applied Science, Graduate School and Division of Adult Education. Master's degrees are offered in 26 departments.

The setting is the same, so is the location, but "the old Marshall ballyard" has a brand new look this fall. Artificial turf has come to Huntington, making the Thundering Herd one of only 45 colleges and universities in the nation playing on its own Astro-Turf.

The days of the old "downhill lie", as the passers and receivers used to refer to field position, are over.

Through a special appropriation of the West Virginia Board of Regents totaling over $1,000,000.00, Fairfield Stadium has been rehabilitated with artificial turf, additional seating, and new dressing rooms and concession stands. The playing surface was excavated to a depth of 10 feet, leveled, graveled, asphalted and turfed during the summer months. The new dressing room building, 100 feet long is presently under construction and expected to be completed sometime during the season. The three additional bleacher sections which will increase Fairfield's capacity to 16,500 should be in place by season's end. An additional bleacher section will be added to the south end of the stadium totaling 1,330 additional seats. An additional section will be added to the east stands totaling 2,581 additional seats. Another bleacher section will be added on the west side of the field accommodating another 2,581 fans. These two additional sideline bleacher sections will go directly in front of and below the existing bleacher sections.

The monumental undertaking, which involved the removal of some 5,000 truckloads of dirt during the excavation process caused almost as much excitement among Marshall followers as the season itself. Hordes of the faithful visited the site daily as the Schurman Construction Company engineers and workers did "their thing" in a race against time. That they succeeded by opening game is a tribute to the efficiency and management of the overall project.

The field is also equipped with a new scoreboard and although construction must necessarily continue while the season is in progress, the spanking new emerald green appearance presented by the "carpet" gladden the hearts of the Marshall followers and more important, the team itself.

The first bulldozer stuck its nose into the ground on May 14th, marking the first step toward upgrading university athletic facilities. Other projects are either in the planning stages or under construction at this time, including additional tennis courts and an all-weather track. Everyone connected with the University is hopeful that Fairfield Stadium, 1970, symbolizes the dawn of a new era for Marshall athletics.

Undefeated Season In Focus

The secret is out!

Bowling Green has one heck of an exciting freshman football team this fall. Just ask Kent State and Toledo.

Kent said ouch when the fledgling Falcons scored five first-half touchdowns in their opener while on their way to a 33-7 romp which snapped a nine-game losing streak.

Then it was "Holy Toledo" as the frosh exploded for 10 touchdowns and a 69-12 dazzler which ranks as one of the all-time high scores run up by Falcons on the gridiron.

Two additional games remain on the path to an undefeated season. The frosh will travel to Western Michigan on Friday, Nov. 6, before finishing the year at home against Miami on Friday, Nov. 13, at 3 p.m.

A bevy of backs and the astute coaching of "Rookie" Ron Chismar look like the major ingredients of the Falcons' winning recipe.

Chismar is straight out of the high school ranks after a 37-13 record at Canton McKinley against Ohio's best clubs. His last two Bulldog teams had 9-1 seasons and the winning formula has followed him to Bowling Green.

Making Chismar's job a happy one are a carload of runners who have carved out over 700 yards rushing in two games. Top darter of the ground corps looks like Paul Miles of Paulding who was northwest Ohio Class A Player Of The Year in 1969. The 190-pound tailback ripped off 146 yards in 15 carries against Toledo.

Other top-rated backs included Bill Centa of Cleveland St. Joseph's who carved out four touchdowns against Toledo; Quarterback Joe Babics of Canton McKinley; Fullback Phil Polak from Parma, who is the brother of ex-Falcon Dave Polak, and Wingback Rich Hans of Lorain.

Rick Newman of Fairview Park has glue for hands and wings for feet. He's also 6-1 and 190-pounds of talented pass receiver.

Two names stand out in the line-up. John Villapiano of Oakhurst, N. J., plays linebacker with the same recklessness that his brother Phil uses on the varsity at defensive end. Another name familiar to local fans is Tom Hall, ex-fullback for Bowling Green High School, who is playing at defensive tackle. Both men have already experienced the "lineman's dream" of returning an intercepted pass for a touchdown this season.

Tailback Paul Miles, Paulding

Men Behind The Scenes

Look Sharp, Be Sharp

by JIM KRONE

When former Falcon athletes return to Bowling Green to renew old acquaintances, their first visit is often to “Sharpie’s place”—more technically known as the Falcon equipment room.

The room itself is neat, pleasant, and orderly. It features rows of shelves and bins for equipment storage, a workshop area for equipment repair, a makeshift “lounge” area with freshly-perked coffee always available, and a generally spotless and cheerful atmosphere.

But these traits alone are not the reason for the room’s popularity. The main reason, rather, is the man who runs the place and provides a certain spark of athletic friendship among athletes, coaches and casual visitors.

That man is Glenn Sharp, Bowling Green’s athletic equipment supervisor. “Sharpie” is a 15-year veteran of the Falcon athletic staff, and has organized one of the finest equipment operations in the country.

The keys to his success are toughness (he’s a staunch enforcer of his equipment rules and procedure), organization (“a place for everything and everything in its place”), and personality.

The latter trait is probably his “strong suit”, and is reflected in the hundreds of friendships he’s made over the years, both with current and graduated athletes.

Sharp’s long hours of work and hectic schedule demand more sacrifice than most men would make. He is more often than not the first man to arrive at the stadium on days of game or practice, and the last to depart. His responsibilities include maintenance, storage and distribution of Falcon athletic equipment, laundry of uniforms and practice gear, the ordering and selection of new equipment, equipment transfer at road games, and a multitude of other tasks.

It is quite obvious, however, that Glenn Sharp takes pride in his work and enjoys his personal association with the Falcon staff and athletes.

“From my travels and visits to other athletic departments, I can honestly say that our staff and overall program at BG is one of the finest anywhere,” Sharp states. “I’ve been working with young men for 30 years,” he continues, “and I have great personal satisfaction in seeing our athletes mature here. Then when they come back to visit after graduation, it’s even more rewarding.”

Sharp is also seeing two of his own young men mature. His oldest son, Jim, is a starting center at Wisconsin State University, and his youngest son, Joe, plays on Bowling Green Junior High’s eighth grade team. The women in Sharp’s household are his wife, Helen, and daughter Janice.

Sharp is duly proud of his equipment staff, and applauds their dedication and enthusiasm. He has a full-time assistant in Don Woods, along with football student assistants Jim Ruehl, Jr., Mark Cusac and Ed Copeland.

Glenn Sharp is indeed the reason that Bowling Green’s equipment room is something special. His hospitality and friendliness have made “Sharpie’s place” synonymous with Falcon athletic tradition.

If your team is winning

Read this.

If event things don't go the way you want them to when you're using Marathon petroleum products and automotive services, you'll get your money back.

Incidentally, maybe you'd better stop at a Marathon station after the game. No sense ruining a beautiful trip home by running out of gas.
Fall Sports On Parade

Besides infecting the varsity football team, FALCON FEVER will be spreading this fall to the soccer and cross country front where excitement is running high for banner seasons.

Mickey “Ohio Coach Of The Year” Cochrane has 11 lettermen and five starters back from last year’s high-powered soccer team which zipped to the best record (7-5) in the school’s history. The Falcons also ranked ninth in the Midwest and have their sights set on gaining a bid to the NCAA post-season tournament.

Center Forward Wolfgang Petrasko, All-Midwest last season, spearheads the offense for the booters. Jim Pschirrer and Bob Gofus head up a defense which could be one of the best in Ohio if Al Sandberg can come on strong to replace three-year letterman Gary Kovacs in the goal.

Top game on a toughie schedule will be a home date on Oct. 28 with 1968 NCAA runner-up, Michigan State.

BG cross country and championships should run hand in hand if the Falcons live up to their potential. Coach Mel Brodt is in the unusual position of having everyone back from last year’s team which surprised even itself by winning the Mid-American Conference championship a year ahead of schedule.

Sensational Senior Sid Sink will be shooting for an unprecedented third straight individual MAC crown. The two-time All-American in cross country also has the NCAA first-place ribbon in mind after setting a record while winning the NCAA steeplechase last June. Adding punch to the lineup will be Junior Dave Wottle, 1970 NCAA runner-up in the mile, who placed fifth in the MAC as a sophomore even though he had never run cross country in high school.

Also seeking prime time in the fall will be a potentially-powerful freshman football team under Coach Ron Chismar, who comes to Falcon Country after a great high school career at Canton McKinley. Two 3 p.m. home dates for the frosh are Oct. 9 with Kent State and Nov. 15 with Miami.
Winning has been termed "a wonderful state of mind." Trying to accentuate the winning tradition which has saturated Bowling Green's winter sports over the last two decades will be the exciting basketball, hockey, wrestling and swimming teams who have high hopes for the 1970-71 season.

Basketball Coach Bob Conibear will have three starters back from last year's MAC second-place quintet which rolled home with a 15-9 mark. Adding spice to the coming cage season will be the "Seven Sophomores" who rated as the best "team" among the MAC freshmen with a 12-2 mark last season.

Hockey burst upon the BG varsity scene like a blizzard last winter. The icers of Coach Jack Vivian got off to a cool start before burning up the ice in the last month for a 9-0-4 mark to notch a 13-12-5 mark in their first year of varsity action. Bruce Blyth returns as the team's top scorer and Defenseman Glynn Shirton plays with the recklessness of a Bobby Orr.

Center Jim Connolly

Winning is a habit on the mats where the Falcon wrestlers have now pinned down 16 straight non-losing seasons under Coach Bruce Bellard. Nine lettermen, including Junior Dick Munz who was third in the MAC at 142 pounds last season, should make 17 another winning number.

Trying to break out of a two-season losing slump will be the objective of Coach Tom Stubbs' swimming team. The winning tradition will be on the side of the tankers since only four losing seasons have been put on the books in the last 24 years. Butterflyer Dick Ball and Wayne Rose in the individual medley head up nine returning lettermen.

INSIST ON . . .

CAIN'S

POTATO CHIPS – TASTY SNACKS
This spring at Bowling Green, a young man's fancy should turn to thoughts of lacrosse, track, baseball, golf and tennis.

Why not? After all the Falcon lacrosse team ranked sixth in the nation last season and went undefeated. The BG track scene found Sid Sink, Dave Wottle, Rich Breeze and Steve Danforth combining to run the third fastest collegiate time in history for the four-mile relay. Baseball supplied Doug "No-Hit" Bair who pitched his gem against Miami. Golf cashed in with a lot of birdies and near misses at holes in one. And tennis produced considerable "love" games.

The 1971 spring season promises even more thrills. All-American Austin Brizendine will be on hand in lacrosse as the Falcons take dead aim on improving their national ranking. The four-mile relay team will be after the world record along with doing its bit for the track team which will be seeking its second straight undefeated season.

Bair and Academic All-American Bruce Rasor are back in baseball where the Falcons will try to get back on the winning track after a pair of 16-19 seasons. Coach John Piper's golf team returns intact and will add a couple of hot-shooting freshmen stars. Tennis finds four lettermen on hand, including Sophomore Tom Lightvoet who teamed with Dennis Cavanaugh to win the MAC first doubles title in 1970.
Most cars just change.
This one changes your driving.

It’s a Camaro.
Driving one is like nothing you’ve ever done before. Unless, of course, you’ve driven one before. It gives you a whole new outlook toward what a car should be. And how a road should feel.

For ’71, we didn’t change it very much. Just get behind the wheel of one and you’ll see why.
But be prepared. It might change you.

In athletics, as in everything it undertakes, Bowling Green State University seeks to excel. For over 50 years Bowling Green has sponsored a fine intercollegiate athletic program, and for the past seven years the Falcon Club has made an important contribution to the success of this program.

Falcon Clubbers are friends and alumni of Bowling Green who believe in the values of intercollegiate athletics and are interested in keeping the Falcons on top. Their goals are to promote Falcon teams and athletes whenever and wherever the opportunity arises.

This year's Falcon Club challenge has never been greater, and YOUR HELP is needed to carry on Bowling Green's fine athletic tradition. For further information, write The Falcon Club, Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio, 43403.

We hope you will join our efforts to keep Bowling Green in the championship class.
