Qualifications For A Good Teacher

The other day I spoke of three things we will have to do before we can expect to have an adequate supply of teachers.
Today, I want to speak of three things that mark a great teacher.
First, the great teacher never stops studying his subject.
He does not lecture year after year from the same dog-eared and yellow notes.
He is in the best sense of the word a research man, which does not mean, by the way, that he is forever publishing monographe and books in his field. Frankly, when I have an appointment to make I am not all impressed by a long list of research publications by the candidate. I want to see the man and get the feel of his mind, for some of the liveliest minds in the world of scholarship are not forever rushing into print. I am convinced that in-

The Editor's Farewell

Part of the joy and satisfaction of the editor have been realized with the publishing of this issue of the News. Bowling Green has been very kind and patient with us. Bowling Green has been a real home to the students at the college. We desire to thank our citizens for putting up with us as long as they have. Surely the people of this town have been kind and loyal to us.

To the merchants, who have contributed most liberally to the advertising, to the printer for his work, and to the staff, student and faculty body we desire to express our appreciation for making the News a success.

I should feel that my work is not done if I should neglect to say a few minor things concerning the type of paper we have run. In the first place let it be strictly understood that the paper is a faculty student proposition in which each may have an equal share. It has come repeatedly to the attention of the editor that we have been too outspoken on some of our topics. An education does not amount to being able to write a single word. A success-ed, but he goes on trying to do the best under the circumstances.

As a concluding remark. Let us hope that the paper in the years to come will be published so that no feelings will be hurt. This can only be accomplished when people cease to think for themselves. Shall we have a feelingless paper?

Yours for success in the future.

Bob Wyandt

Dear Editor:

I am informed that there is an institution existing in Wood county by the name of Bowling Green State College. In the days gone by I attended an institution by the name of Bowling Green State Normal College. Could it by any chance be the same school?

I suppose the institution is not the same since news has reached us through the grape-vine telegraph that at a recent meet of a National Honorary Society first place in the competition was decided by the toss of a coin. This I suppose is the result of new theories in education and I suppose that grades on term papers, which I understand are settled in the same manner. This might be a method worthy of introduction.

You know I have almost lost account of the institution from which I graduated. On the Wednesday before the fateful Thursday, when I received my diploma, we were entertained with a great banquet and proclamations were made concerning the future of not only ourselves but the Institution as well. I felt that I was to have a definite part to play in helping with the destinies of the Institution, but I guess I was mistaken, for all I ever hear of the Alumni is that there is a dinner and dance in the Spring and Fall. My associates eagerly discuss the news in their latest Alumni News letter, I feeling like "The Man Without a Country".

Honesty though, when you have left the portals of the school behind you desire something definite in the way of participation in the affairs of the school. When a farmer surveys his assets he includes the grain in the bins. It seems to me that one of the strongest assets of a College is the Alumni; it is "grain in the bin" and that it could be fostered by a Quarterly Alumni News Letter.

Lonesome Alumnus.

BASEBALL CHAMPS

With an undefeated football team, a championship basketball team and a championship baseball team Bowling Green winds up her season in major sports. To date the varsity has not lost a conference game and have suffered only three reverses in their schedule. With one more game to play (excluding the alumni) there are all possibilities of a clean sweep of the conference.

Coach Steller started the season with practically a veteran crew. With the old war horse Spengler to lead the twirling staff and as fine a rookie recruit as the college has seen in years in the person of Van Camp, there was little to worry about in the pitching department. Tubby Tennant, with the big mit, received the balls and strikes behind the bat. There has been a consistent struggle between Louie Zeissler and the strong man of the Ferrell twins at first. The season started with Thompson at second who gave way for sleepy Yoder when he became eligible. Cooney at Martens at third proved to be a whirlwind. At short Pretty Boy Perry has been sensational. Last year he played a good game in the field but was weak with the hickory. This year he has delivered in fine style with some lusty home runs to his credit, and played almost errorless ball afield. Left field was properly taken care of by the Potsdamite Hough, a little feller but mighty. The centerfield farm was patrolled by the mighty Sheffer of way out east at Pemberville. Right field has been taken care of by McMillen, Van Camp and Spengler. The subs saw much action and acquitted themselves as the up and coming team. Galanka, Hart, Rettig and the other Ferrel twin (hard to tell 'em apart) have been used consistently.

We congratulate Coach Steller and his team. They have played hard and clean and have won. What more can we ask of an athlete? We hope that as time goes on the teams will be as successful as this one.

The prospects for next years team is excellent. Dutch Jake is the only apparent young man not to return to the pitching staff and Lefty Hough will be lost. These two men are seniors and have proven their worth as varsity men.

FOOTBALL

The football season of 1930 proved to be successful from a Bowling Green standpoint. The championship was voted to Findlay after they had won three games and tied one. The Falcons won two and tied two in the conference.

Outside the conference the Falcons did not lose a game, showing at times a powerful offense and showing in every game a well functioning defense.

The team of 1931 promises to give to the patrons of the Falcons a very capable showing. There were only three seniors on the squad hence a strong number of those men out this year will be back next. Those seniors graduating are Chapman, Lowell and Kennemuth.

Being one of the undefeated teams in Ohio the Varsity B. G. Club provided the eighteen letter men with gold footballs which are very pretty.

The schedule and scores follow:

Bowling Green, 19; Hope 7.

Bowling Green, 19; Detroit City, 7.
BASKETBALL

Bowling Green started the basket ball season by losing a close contest to Western Reserve who had beaten Penn State the previous week. The team returned home the next night to meet Otterbein on the home floor. The Falcons gained the desired edge in an over time period. The next week the Berea men migrated to Bee Gee and the played Falcons off their feet. The Baldwin-Wallace game was an eye opener for the Bee Gee Lads. The boys settled down to work, and defeated Detroit City in two exciting games. The Detroiters had built up quite a reputation for themselves by losing an over time game to Michigan University's B team which was made up of part of the Varsity, and won from Cincinnati by a large score. The Falcons broke even with Northern by losing at Northern and winning at home. This is a meager review of the non-conference games.

Bowling Green lost two games in the conference, one to Findlay at Findlay, and one to Bluffton at Bluffton. The locals cinched the Northwestern title when they journeyed to Defiance and captured the game by a two point margin. The Falcons placed two men on the All-Conference team, "Gill and Hyatt."

At the end of the season Coach Landis gave a dinner at the Woman's club in honor of the champions. A most delightful dinner the team voted Hyatt the most valuable player and honorary captain of the past season (1930-31). The fellows adjourned to the Men's gym for the "Tip-Off" party which was given in honor of the team by the Five Brothers fraternity. And if you should like, see one of the gold basketballs which were presented to the members of the varsity squad by the Varsity club or see Kenyon Golding's Girl Friend.

Next year we are expecting more from the same group of fellows for they will all be back with us again.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Many men answered the call to the road in the fall. Here was a challenge to endurance, but the full squad stuck it out until after the Ypsilanti meet which was won by Ypsilanti, but nevertheless afforded Coach Landis to select men to represent the college in the sport for the season. Wolf, Potter, Cornwell, Minor, Depper, Barnes, and Dennis were the men honored.

The following week B. G. met Bluffton, but were beaten by a close score. The team looked much better in this meet and in the following meet even went much better, and as a result easily took Defiance over. Wolf winning first in 19:38, Cornwell coming in third.

At this time an epidemic of low grades retired three of the Falcon runners. Ryder and Parks were respectively filled in the places left, but were unable to aid the team to more than a third place in the N. W. O. conference. Bluffton won first place.

Lewis Hind has published in England a book of memoirs. He tells a story of George Bellows, the artist, and the late Joseph Pennell. Pennell was teasing Bellows about doing his war pictures in New York and not on the battle fields of France.

"I never heard," answered Bellows promptly, "that Leonardo da Vinci had a private view ticket for 'The Last Supper.'"

W. A. A. NEWS

All the members who attended the W. A. A. banquet enjoyed a good evening among birds and flowers. Miss Hartman presented emblems to those who had earned them this semester. After dinner speeches and songs were enjoyed. Next year we hope to have a greater number attend.

Thelma Dillinger invited the W. A. A. board to spend last week-end at her cottage on the river. Hiking, boating, fishing, swimming, cooking and seating were some of the pastimes. Many a Robinson Crusoe appeared around the islands. The crab hunt was especially enjoyed by three of the members. Those who enjoyed the vacation were Miss Shaw, Miss Hartman, Mary Shears, Helen Moseberger, Betty Beyerman, Marjorie McElhaney, Kathryn Epker, Alyce Dresser, Marion Moon, Edith Carstensen, Leta Wescott, Dorothy Hall, Marie Bedell, Grace Fable and the hostess Miss Thelma Dillinger.

Next fall the first week of school, the W. A. A. is sponsoring another play day to offer an acquaintance party for freshmen and upper classmen. Every girl, whether a W. A. A. member or not is asked to do her best to make everyone feel at home.

1931 TENNIS REVIEW

The tennis team of the college consisting of Wayne Titus, freshman, first man; Donald Limber, junior, second man; Clifton Olds, junior, third man; Donald Lowell, senior, fourth man; John Johnson, freshman, fifth man; Owen Callin, freshman, sixth man have had a very successful season. Out of the ten matches played up to date they have turned in five victories, one tie, three defeats and one match that was unfinished on account of rain. These results make us third in the conference.

If Bowling Green enters the Ohio Conference next year competition will be much harder. On the other hand we lose only one man, Donald Lowell, who will graduate this spring. Having a freshman rule also makes us eligible to enter a team in the Inter-Collegiate Tennis tourney next spring at Columbus. It also puts us in a better position to book bigger colleges. All of these men are expected back next year so watch the tennis team of next year, it won't be their fault if Bluffton wins the conference title for the third time.
The Delhi Fraternity is very happy at this time to announce that Dr. Martin, Dr. Gleason and Prof. Biery have accepted the invitation to become affiliated with us as Honorary Members, and shall enjoy all the privileges of the organization.

Friday evening, May 22nd was a big night for the Brothers, Sisters and Neophytes of Delhi. On the above named date the "Delhi Family" which included Dr. and Mrs. Overman, Prof. and Mrs. Reebs, Dr. Martin, Prof. Biery, the Fraternity representatives of Five Brothers and Commoners and several Alumni journeyed to Otsego Park where the annual Fraternity Picnic was in order. In the early part of the evening several enjoyed games, while other "young men's fancies turn to"—gliding down the Maumee with their lady loves absorbing the many beauties of native found along the Maumee toward twilight.

The evening meal, consisting of eighty-five plates, was prepared and served by the Home Restaurant on a long table in Otsego Hall. Following the repass dancing was enjoyed. The music was furnished by the peppy Shafer's Blue Blowers of which Bro. Linn is a member. The smart, gay, sport outfits of the dancers afforded a colorful spectacle. According to the laws and traditions of the college the music of the last dance drifted over the Maumee at exactly a quarter to twelve in time to return the Delhi Sisters to their respective abodes by midnight.

During the past month the Fraternity has had the honor of entertaining at dinner, Dr. Martin, Dr. Gleason, Prof. and Mrs. Reebs and Prof. Biery. Each of the above named professors favored us with short after dinner speeches.

The last meeting of the year was held at the Frat. House, May 26, followed by a Smoker to which Dr. Martin and Prof. Reebs attended. The election of officers was the main event of the evening and we are glad to announce the officers for the coming year:

President Willard Ault
Vice-President Joe Moran
Treasurer Bob Boyer
Secretary Dave Conyers
Chaplin
Sargent-at-Arms Howard Rust
Alumni Correspondents

Scribe Ed Kirchner

The Delhi Fraternity is very happy at the pleasure of entertaining several alumni who had returned for a visit. Those returning were: Clifford Cox, Ed. Bolman, Donald Armstrong, Hayes Garster, Raymond Current and Robert Alexander. Mr. Armstrong assisted the orchestra in the spring musical production Wednesday night. Mr. Alexander was recently graduated, with honors, from the Coast Guard Academy of New London, Conn. He is home for a short visit with his parents and friends before leaving to take charge of his commission at Mobile, Alabama. The Fraternity wishes him success in his new work.

Graduation, a time of sadness and of joy. Sadness because old friendship ties are broken and a place is left none other can fill as well as they did. Joy, because the student has successfully completed the preparation for his life's work is ready to make his mark in the world.

The Delhi Boys feel confident that they have closed another successful year in the operation of the Frat. House. A great deal of credit is due our Matron Mrs. Davis for her cooperation and undying interest in our welfare. We expect many of the same old gang back next year and look forward to a successful year under the Ault Regime as we enjoyed during the present McArtor Administration.

COMMONERS NEWS

Tuesday evening Oran Wisely of Bowling Green and Franklin Gottfried of Upper Sandusky were given their final degree into the fraternity. Next Tuesday evening, at the final meeting for the year, Wallace Pisil of Bloomdale will be given his last degree.

finite harm has been done to our universities by the over-emphasis we have put on publication by the teachers we appoint. We need men of wide and deep knowledge, and many teachers would be broader and wiser men if they studied and thought more and wrote less.

Second, the great teacher keeps his mind fresh and free.
He must be given the chance every so often to get away from the routine schedule of his work so that he can have time to examine himself, his mind and his methods. He must have time for travel, for leisurely reading. He must have time to peer into all the corners of his field so that he will not become a too narrow specialist. He must have time to dip into some related but different activities. He must have the chance to become wise as well as learned.

Third, the great teacher establishes a personal as well as professional relation with his students.
I confess that I lose interest in a teacher when I discover that he never sees his students save in his class-room and in his office at stated office hours. The great teacher is willing to have his private life broken into by eager students who come into his home at odd hours for informal and unofficial intellectual wrestling bouts. All this is taxing enterprise. But whoever said that the life of the great teacher is an easy life.

Si Brown stood on the corner of the main street in the busy city and gazed with opened-mouthed astonishment at the stream of vehicles moving past. Finally he turned to his companions and said in and awed voice: “Je-rusalem! Hiram, they shore are behind with their hauling, ain’t they?”

"ADVICE"
Advice that may be proffered
Often fills a book.
A million kinds are offered,
But only one gets took.

Many a person makes good because when things go a little badly they “Don’t Choose to Run”.

Man can change his environment but he has to accept his heredity as it is.

NOTE BOOKS
Every college student keeps a note book, and I will admit it would be very difficult to get along without one. Every good student should gather material for present and future use in his notebook. This type of notebook, in which, the student conscientiously places the material he believes to be worth while, and which will help him later as well as now, is a very good investment of time.

The special notebook demanded to fulfill requirements of a course is not always such a good investment. Of course you will not agree with me for you will say, “how could I have pulled my grade if I had not gathered material, by hook or crook, to fill the many pages demanded by my instructor.” Therein the trouble lies. You gathered the material for a voluminous note book, and not for any good it was doing you, except in pulling your grade. These special note books are presented at the close of the term for inspection, by a ruling power. They are taken one by one and marked with great precision and accuracy at times. The first one is fifty pages in length, the first two pages are read; very good material is found in these two pages. The remaining pages are hastily glanced through, as time is limited. This note book demands an A grade. The next book is of ten pages length—to short—the basis for an A grade is fifty pages, therefore a ten page note book equals failure. So on through the list they go, grading by volume, not value.

Perhaps it might be well to get an insight into the methods used in collecting material for the note books, or would that be telling? We will start with these facts; before the student can hand in a worth note book it would be equivalent to permanent use instead of over burdening your note book? Would it be wrong to say your note book is the most useful implement in getting through a college course? I have even heard this remark, “If I lost my note book it would be equivalent to losing my brains.”

My aim, dear reader, is not to discourage the use of note books, but to encourage the use of them in the way they should be used. Let’s all keep note boks; they will prove a valuable aid to us in our college life. But when we are asked to hand them in, let’s not go to our friends, encyclopedias, and note books of yester-years to get our jumbled mass of material. Jumbled volume is never better than good honest material, no matter in what amounts; although I will confess to you, I have known it to work in pulling your grade.

Bill’s Doings
Well this is the last time this year. Now it will be good-bye to Bee Gee until next fall.

You should see the dorm. Everybody is collecting and throwing out the junk which accumulates throughout the year. It looks like spring house-cleaning.

Swimming seems to be quite popular here at Williams. Who’s got a suit I can borrow?

We wish we were either a Senior or a Sophomore. These exams are enough to worry anyone.

It won’t be long now. If old Sol keeps it up we’ll soon be having some sun-burnt noses.

Girls from Williams had box seats at the May Day celebration. We didn’t miss anything either.

Here’s all the luck in the world to all our graduates. May their road be filled with success and happiness.

E. C.

Be Dogmatic
The need of the world today is positive leadership.
Many capable of leadership are too spineless to take definite and positive stands because the style among the so-called intellectuals is to argue all around every issue and avoid a personal conviction. Reformers are lead by people of definite convictions.

Being to yellow to admit of positive convictions is lazy and cowardly. Take a stand you believe right. Be dogmatic but charitable to those not agreeing with you.

Great responsibility is safer in the hands of those who are faithful in small affairs.
