Dear Falcon Football Fans:

I understand that this is "the year of the sophomore." I hope so.

I like what that term says about an athletic program as well as about a total university. It means first of all that ceremony, custom and seniority are not as important as being able to do a job. It seems to imply a kind of "open opportunity" which gives each person who has enough desire an opportunity to be successful. And it means a special spirit, occasionally a super-effort, even some flair.

I suppose "the sophomore year" also means that there are at least two more years following this one which stand to get better. I hope this is true, for there is much we need to accomplish in this university, both within the athletic program and elsewhere, and we will need more than just this year — or even the next two — to accomplish them.

Intercollegiate athletics have been an important part of the Bowling Green scene almost from the beginning days of the University. Traditions have been established, and a reputation for excellence and for variety and scope in our sports programs have been the result. It is evident that this year's football team and coaches intend to revive our reputation — not ride on it.

In the years immediately ahead all aspects of University programs — athletics included — will be called on to justify their value to the total enterprise and to provide a kind of accountability in terms of educational contribution as well as cost. This calls for leadership of the athletic programs of an uncommon sort. I believe we have such leadership here at Bowling Green, and I am particularly confident when I listen to Dick Young, our athletic director, as he explains his philosophy of how the athletic program fits into the total educational picture. His ideas have implications for teaching, for scholarship policies, and for our general outlook toward students and their reciprocal responsibilities with the University.

Intercollegiate athletics are an opportunity for the University to display excellence far beyond the commonplace — just as we give visibility to special talent through fine arts, journalism, honorary and elsewhere.

Apparently a good season of football is ahead for us at Bowling Green. Maybe even a memorable one.

BOWLING GREEN, O. — “After that opener, I can’t wait to see the second act.”

This was the sentiment expressed by a Bowling Green State University football fan after watching the rejuvenated Falcons blast off the 1971 launching pad with a 20-19 upset of a good Ohio University team last Saturday.

That second act will be on tap today when BG opens its home season against East Carolina of the Southern Conference in a 1:30 p.m. Band Day battle in Perry Field.

Although any win against a Bill Hess coached team is a big one, Falcon boss Don Nehlen was even more pleased about the way his sophomore-dominated squad went about their business while moving to the top of the heap in the Mid-American Conference race.

By Bob Moyers

Despite the presence of eight sophomores in the starting lineup (five on offense), the Falcons rolled up 418 yards in total offense, a far cry from last year's anemic two-yards-and-a-cloud-of-dust variety. The output marked only the second time in the last 10 games that the BG offense had passed the 400 barrier.

The Falcons also ran over, around and through the Bobcats for 256 yards rushing to account for BG's best rushing effort in 24 games.

Fleetest Falcon was heralded sophomore tailback Paul "E. C." Miles who romped for 115 yards in 27 carries. In his last 24 games in high school and college, the Paulding speedster has broken the century mark 23 times.

However, BG's opening day belonged to third-string quarterback Reid Lampart who was pressed into starting duty when both Don Plussquellic and Joe Babics came down with injuries before the game. The Newton Falls sophomore looked like a veteran in connecting on 13 of 20 passes for 162 yards and a touchdown.

Nehlen's biggest problem this week will be getting his players down from cloud nine and convincing them that East Carolina is a team to be reckoned with even though the Pirates stand 0-2 after losses to last year's MAC king Toledo (45-0) and Southern Conference titalist William & Mary (28-10).

"East Carolina probably has the finest set of running backs we will see this season," states Nehlen. "Billy Wallace and Les Strayhorn compare favorably with the best runners in the MAC and that supersoph Carlester Crumpier (6-5, 215) is just a step behind them.

"They also have a pass-oriented pro-style offense with all-Pro Sonny Randle as their coach. And their defense was the best in the league last season," indicated Nehlen.

However, East Carolina will have to contend with a BG team which needed only one game to mature from an untested, unknown quantity into a contender for the MAC championship.

As Nehlen puts it: "Last week we came of age, this week we find out how old we are."

SECURITY BLANKET AIDS PLUSQUELLIC

By Bob Moyers

The rug is back.

This means good news for the Bowling Green football team and senior quarterback Don Plusquellic.

Plusquellic’s “security blanket” first appeared in 1966 when he was a senior at Akron Kenmore High School. The rug was part of a backyard contraption designed to improve his passing. The device consisted of a polka-dot painted rug stretched across a bedspring which hung between two poles.

Well, the rug paid dividends in 1966 when Plusquellic won first-team AP all-Ohio honors and passed for a mile of yardage to lead his team to runner-up honors in the Akron city championship.

Plusquellic’s rug then turned into a magic carpet which carried him to the University of Pittsburgh on an athletic scholarship. A troublesome knee injury and some disenchantment turned him into a transfer student and he arrived at BG in 1968. Injuries and the talented right arm of Vern Wireman kept him on the bench until the Ohio University game last November when he drew his first starting assignment.

It was not his day as the Bobcats battered Bowling Green, 34-7, on their way to a second-place tie in the Mid-American Conference race.

Plusquellic won’t get his second career start today because he isn’t fully recovered from a shoulder injury which kept him out of the opener against Ohio.

Aiding his effort this season will be confidence gained from a summer of throwing at his “rug” although the 1971 model has matured into a net. “Because of having to work a three-to-12 shift, I couldn’t find many players to practice throwing with this summer. So I decided to bring the rug out of retirement,” said the Falcon tri-captain.

In limited varsity action at BG, the Falcon quarterback has completed 21 of 48 passes for 226 yards. Backfield coach Ron Chismar calls him “a super gentleman with a fine arm who could make his senior year a great one with hard work and a MAC championship.”

That MAC championship is Plusquellic’s goal as a helmsman on a sophomore-dominated team which will start 10 first-year players against East Carolina.

“I’ve never played on a championship team. I would have traded half of those TD passes (20) at Kenmore for that city championship trophy. I couldn’t eat after we lost the title game at Akron East,” he said.

Besides his playing ability, Plusquellic is recognized for his leadership and academic success in the classroom. He made the all-MAC academic team last season and his B average should be enough to start towards a career as a lawyer.

If he can’t make it in law, he could at least find work as a part-time rug cleaner.
SIZING UP OUR SEISMOGRAPH

Suddenly a door slams in Overman Hall, Falcon Halfback Paul Miles runs to paydirt, in California, a tremor rocks Los Angeles.

The Bowling Green State University seismological observatory in Overman Hall records it all.

The equipment, valued at nearly $40,000, is sensitive enough to pick up ground motion caused by the tramping of 14,000 pairs of feet when students change classes, or, more importantly, to record earthquakes occurring anywhere in the world.

In the case of the Los Angeles quake last February, the observatory picked up the vibrations just four-and-a-half minutes after the actual disturbance began.

The students who operate the observatory, of course, have learned to tell the difference between human movements and those of mother nature by reading the squiggly lines registered by the seismograph's electronic signal on photographic paper.

The observatory, was established in 1963 with a seismometer donated to the geology department by the University of Michigan. Today, the observatory boasts of six seismometers — three to measure the earth's surface waves and three to measure body waves. Two of the units measure vertical movement; two measure east-west horizontal movement; and the other two measure north-south horizontal movement.

Ground motion is detected through an eight-foot block of cement, anchored in the bedrock below Overman Hall, where the equipment is located.

"The seismometer, to detect earth tremors, should be in contact with bedrock," Dr. Edmund Pawlowicz, the observatory director, explained. "We are fortunate to be located in an area where bedrock is close to the surface."

When ground motion is detected, each seismometer transmits electronic signals to galvanometers, which measure the intensity and direction of the movement, and converts the electronic signals to light beams. The light creates squiggly lines on photographic paper mounted on recording drums.

Because the resulting seismogram is recorded on photographic paper, the equipment is housed in a dark room.

The student operators are responsible for changing the photo paper on all six drums every 24 hours. They develop the paper and analyze the readings, separating the genuine tremors from man-made movements.

Most of those working in the observatory are learning about seismographs in a special workshop conducted by Dr. Pawlowicz. While the University does not offer a formal seismology course, the workshop, combined with experience gained by working in the observatory, gives students good background in the field.

The observatory is not solely for student use however. Dr. Pawlowicz views its primary function as a service for other universities and for state, national and international agencies.

Post cards reporting the detection of ground motion are sent to the World-Wide Seismographic Net and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Agency.

Bowling Green's observatory, designated by the call letters BGO, is one of about 500 stations throughout the world reporting information to NOAA. Students check the accuracy of their preliminary calculations by consulting weekly NOAA bulletins, which publish a compilation of data filed by member stations.

Reports of seismic activity are also sent to a number of universities requesting the service including the University of Michigan and Ohio State University. Both schools offer courses in seismology but Ohio State does not have a seismological observatory.

Bowling Green is one of the only three universities in Ohio to operate seismographic equipment. The others are John Carroll and Xavier Universities.
CHEER, CHEER, CHEER FOR MAN'S LIBERATION

In case you hadn't noticed, something new has been added to the cheering squad this year. Seven men have joined the girls as part of an effort to revitalize the routines. The cheerleaders are trying several innovations this year to promote support for the teams. Those of you who recognize cheerleaders only as individuals with boundless energy and voices to match who perform gymnastic feats on the sidelines during the games only see half of the picture. We thought it would be interesting to present a behind-the-scenes look at the preparation required to present a polished effort at every game.

This year's squad was selected last year at the beginning of third quarter after extensive tryouts. Captain of the squad is senior, Sandy Brachlow, a math major who has been a cheerleader since seventh grade. Other members include: Connie Harris, Rae Lynn Koppert, Sharon Follett, Netha Browning, Marcia Keith, Chris Mohler, Randy Edwards, Randy Breit, Ed Watkins, Tom Kennard, Terry Vivian, Danny McManus, and Bob Koeth.

Sometimes routines have to be changed to adjust to the injured. The cheerleaders have adopted one of the trainers for their own use, and, just like the team, they try to get back in the lineup as soon as possible. It goes without saying that laryngitis is an occupational hazard, but it's usually gone by the next game, so it is rarely considered a problem.

The cheerleaders are responsible for all home games and most away games during football and basketball season. In addition, they are also in charge of pep rallies and publicity for games. So, why would anyone want to be a cheerleader?

"All the pain, misery, and time are definitely worth it," says Sandy. "I like to think of cheering as being behind the team. If they catch even some of the noise, it may psych them up a little. I guess we're all there because we think it's for a positive good. Besides, we enjoy it. When the game is good, you can see 14 people shift from one end of the field to the other."

The cheerleaders are enthusiastic about the season. The challenge for this year is to get the spectators to respond. "We want the team to know someone is behind them. When a game is exciting, it carries the fans. If it isn't, people tend to be apathetic," says Sandy. "But we aren't going to give up." They have several new ideas which they plan to use to promote interest in football. They are bringing back flash cards, organizing pep rallies, and promoting a program in which each residence hall adopts a player a week.

"We're all hoping for a good year," says Sandy. "I'm really very optimistic about the season. Even if we lose, I just hope that everyone did their best. I can recall only two times that I was really disappointed that Bowling Green lost. Both were close games. One was the loss to Ohio University by one point and the second was the defeat by the University of Toledo in the last two seconds of the game which prevented us from going to the Tangerine Bowl. I just felt that the end of the world was here."

In spite of the disappointments, criticisms, and sprained ankles, Sandy and the three other seniors on the squad agree that they will miss cheerleading next year. There have been many good times and some unforgettable moments, too.

BOWLING GREEN HIGH SCHOOL

BAND DAYS PAST

By Rick Brechmacher

Bowling Green State University is proud to welcome 49 high school bands to the festivities of this Sixth Annual Band Day. Since the fall of 1966 and the opening of Doyt L. Perry Field, Band Day has grown into a popular event for the bandsmen involved and the spectators who witness this yearly happening.

The Falcon bandsmen enjoy preparing for and participating in the Band Day activities, since many of the university musicians made their first appearance on the BG gridiron as participants in the Band Day programs. Let us turn the clocks back and revisit past Band Days at Bowling Green.

Band Day 1967 saw a sharp increase in participants as 24 bands joined the Falcons for the colorful display. The 2,200 bandsmen and 150 twirlers came under the leadership of Director Clifford Hite from Findlay.

The Third Annual Band Day was bigger than the first two as 37 bands numbering 2,825 bandmen and 283 twirlers combined their talents for the exciting musical show.

Jon Piersol came to Bowling Green in the fall of 1969 to join Mark Kelly as directors of the Falcon Marching Band and he was made guest of honor for the Fourth Annual Band Day. Under his direction, 31 bands numbering 2,219 bandmen and 217 twirlers joined the Falcons in a colorful spectacle.

Band Day reached its first half-decade in 1970 when the largest assembly in Band Day history covered the 100-yard stage. Forty-three bands, totaling 3,284 performers created a massive pre-game pageant under the leadership of Mr. Emil W. Puffenberger from Canal Fulton.

FALCON SPORTS NETWORK!

Now, the latest in sports.
Brought to you by Marathon.

Marathon is proud to sponsor some of the most exciting athletic events in the country. Like Notre Dame football and Indiana and Kentucky basketball. And the minor league hockey action of the Toledo Hornets, Flint Generals, Ft. Wayne Komets and Dayton Gems.

We're heavy in the majors, too, bringing the Detroit fans the play-by-play of their Lions, Pistons, and Red Wings; the Cincinnati fans their Reds, Royals and Bengals; and in Indiana we bring fans the basketball action of the Indiana Pacers. Not to mention non-team events. Like auto racing, UGA Golf and ski reports. We'd like to see you get out and support your favorite teams often. But when you can't, catch the action on radio or TV. Brought to you by one of the best sports in your neighborhood — your local Marathon dealer. He offers guaranteed Marathon petroleum products and automotive services, or your money back. And that's a very sporting offer.

Founded in 1907 as East Carolina Teachers Training School, ECU has grown from an enrollment of 123 in 1909 to 9,997 in 1971. Students come from 97 different counties in North Carolina, 40 states and 15 foreign countries. Coeds outnumber the male students 5,094 to 4,703.

ECU leads the South in the preparation of teachers. In 1920 the school was authorized to offer four-year teacher education degrees and to grant the bachelor of arts degree. A year later by an act of the General Assembly, the school name was changed to East Carolina Teachers College. The president at this time was Dr. Robert H. Wright, who headed East Carolina from the date of the first class in 1909 until his death in 1934. Under his leadership the school had grown to an enrollment of over 1,000 and was now offering a masters of arts degree.

During the period from 1934 to 1960 the school continued to grow, though not as spectacularly in terms of enrollment. A curriculum leading to a bachelor of science degree was authorized in 1941 as the college expanded to meet needs for occupations other than teaching. By 1951 undergraduate majors were offered in 17 areas and graduate programs in 10 areas. It was in that year that an act of General Assembly changed the name to East Carolina College.

It was also during this period that intercollegiate athletics found a place in the East Carolina way of life. The first football team was fielded in 1932 under Coach Kenneth Beatty, though Pirate fans would just as soon forget that inaugural season since the team lost all five games and didn’t score a point.

A major turning point for East Carolina came in 1960 when Dr. Leo W. Jenkins was inaugurated as the school’s sixth president. Under the guiding hand of this dynamic man, East Carolina College became East Carolina University (in 1967) and enrollment more than doubled in a 10-year period.

Today undergraduate majors are offered in 26 fields and graduate programs in 21 areas. Besides the College of Arts and Sciences and the Graduate School, there are seven professional schools: Allied Health Professions, Art, Business, Education, Home Economics, Music and Nursing, and the College of Education.

PRESIDENT JENKINS ON ATHLETICS

"At the time in our national life when we hear incessant demands for relevancy especially from our youth, it is instructive, I think, to recall the educational philosophy of the ancient Greeks who stressed excellence in the development of both the mind and body. I firmly believe this old admonition is quite applicable to modern times, for it underscores the goal of excellence toward which we strive in all our activities at East Carolina University. Most certainly it applies to my vigorous and wholehearted support of the university’s athletic programs.

I believe that once a university has committed itself to a quality athletic program (meaning quality coaching, facilities, equipment, and schedules) it should support it as strongly as any other worthy educational activity. It is wrong and, in fact, morally indefensible for an institution to accept participation in a quality intercollegiate athletic program and then either fail to support it or else give it a kind of grudging acceptance. Quite frankly, the best thing a university can do in such a case is to withdraw from competition. I find it especially deplorable to see situations in which institutions have made commitments to high caliber athletic competition and then have failed to provide adequate support for programs that would enable them to compete satisfactorily. This destroys school morale and coves a public image that is at once undignified and overly pretentious.

It make no more sense to maintain a mediocre athletic program than it does to establish and support token departments of business, education, art, and so on. It is not enough simply to create and be involved. The follow-through, the growth, and continuing commitment are of even greater importance. So I say let our means be truly competitive and our athletic goals excellence and success in the American tradition.

Virtually no one has or ever will question the legitimacy of excellence as a goal in university academic programs. On the other hand, to some a university becomes suspect if its athletic programs are successful, i.e. its teams win consistently. This curious historic ambivalence seems foolish and nonsensical to me. If competitive athletic programs are educationally desirable and therefore defensible, then students who participate in them should do so in the conviction that such activity is legitimate, dignified, and of value to themselves and to the institution they represent.

Apologists for college athletics have often suggested that winning or losing athletic contests is unimportant since the greatest educational value in competitive athletics is “How one plays the game.” Granted that there are indeed proper and improper ways to compete in all phases of intercollegiate sports, I cannot accept the view that it makes no difference whether one wins or loses. Winning is vitally important because it is the ultimate vindication of striving and effort and pain. It whets desire and the ambition to exceed personal and team goals already achieved. Losing a contest has value only if individuals or teams conclude that their failure owed to lack of spirit, discipline, determination, and the will to succeed. Repeated failures, it seems to me, destroy the greatest values to be derived from athletic competition. There is then really no substitute for winning; there should be concern about the means, but the victory should be the unfaltering aim in all competitive athletic programs.

I am in no way suggesting that in order to achieve excellence in athletics, educational institutions must compromise academic standards. It is a fact that today’s quality athlete has to be an exceptional person. And he does not seek pampering nor does he ask for special consideration despite such obstacles as long trips and lengthy practice sessions. Whenever everything is considered, the talented college athlete on today’s campus is entitled to as much recognition and respect as those students who achieve prominence in music, art, debate, or other activities.

No doubt about it — the vigorous support of athletic programs is legitimate educational enterprise."

In St. Louis, the professional football Cardinals are known affectionately as the "Big Red". In his scarlet-and-white home uniform, offensive tackle Bob Reynolds fits that description perfectly.

Robert Louis Reynolds has always been a big, BIG man. As a youngster, he towered over his parents, classmates and coaches. As a Bowling Green State University football star, he devastated enemy lines with his size and strength. As a member of the St. Louis Cardinals, he is one of the Big Red's "biggest". And as a generous, warm-hearted human being, he stands head and shoulders above many in his profession.

Professional football success came relatively easy for Reynolds, as he hit the "big time" in a starting role as a rookie. The Cardinals drafted him as a second-round choice fresh out of BGSU in 1963. He has been a starter at left offensive tackle ever since.

Teaming with right-side tackle Ernie McMillan, Reynolds is feared as one of the NFC's top blockers, especially when it comes to protecting the passer. His peers have acknowledged his skill by selecting him for Pro Bowl honors on three straight occasions.

As he enters his ninth pro season, Reynolds is mature and steady. He is now 32 years old, stands 6-5, weighs 265 pounds, and shows no signs of slowing down.

As big as he is physically and in pro reputation, Reynolds maintains a quiet dignity and deep concern for his fellow man. In fact, many observers feel that Bob Reynolds' heart is his biggest attribute.

"Bob is deeply concerned with problems of the inner city and its ghetto residents", states Cardinals' PR man Joe Rhein. "He frequently takes on speaking assignments and no-pay volunteer work that other players turn down. He's especially concerned with the youth of our city, and works with kids a great deal in the off-season." Reynolds' concern for urban problems has promoted him to further a college education that began 12 years ago at Bowling Green State University. He is currently working on his master's degree at St. Louis University, and is nearing completion. His topic of study: Urban Affairs.

Although Reynolds credits his coach for Falcon grid success in the early 1960's, the big tackle himself played a significant role.

Falcon fans are sure to remember No. 76 as a crashing, aggressive blocker who opened holes for Perry's potent ground attack. During Reynolds' three varsity seasons, the Falcons posted a record of 23 wins, 4 losses and 1 tie, and annexed a pair of MAC championships.

Reynolds also earned his share of individual honors as a Falcon. He was named to the all-MAC unit on two occasions, and played in the College All-Star Game and All-American Bowl in 1962.

Bowling Green is duly proud of Bob Reynolds, one of the "big" names in professional football and Falcon sports annals.

A BIG man he is, in more ways than one.
Ed. Note: Ever wonder what would happen if you asked the sons and daughters of football coaches to write or draw about anything dealing with football or their father? Well, anything can happen as evidenced by the following creations.

by Ann Baer

"THE LIFE OF A COACH'S DAUGHTER"

The life of a coach's daughter is indescribable. It's hilarious, entertaining, and most of all exciting. It has its bad moments though, since Dad isn't home much. I get to see him more on the field than I do at home.

It is especially funny when we go out to eat. My dad has this thing for drawing football plays on his placemat. You wouldn't believe the looks we get from the waitress. They can get pretty embarrassing at times.

Hoping our team wins isn't just a lot of team spirit it's a way of life for us. When they win we can be assured of a glorious weekend. I won't even mention what goes on when they lose.

Everything connected with coaching doesn't happen on the field. A lot of it goes on at home. For example there is no such thing as a coach with an unlisted phone number. I remember a time when I had to call a player and tell him what to do for his football injury. It wasn't easy since I could hardly pronounce his name let alone understand what I had to tell him.

Being a coach's daughter isn't as easy as you may think it is, but I wouldn't give it up for the world. My dad is a football coach and I'm proud of him.

MY DAD, THE FOOTBALL COACH

My Dad coaches pass offense, And he enjoys his job although it's tense. He has to leave us now and then To recruit for our team some other men. When he comes home from his many trips He knows we've missed him because our enthusiasm drips. Football takes a lot of his time But we understand and try to be kind. We all love this life of sort Because football is our favorite sport.

Ed. Note: Don Cunningham, assistant athletic director and business manager, served as BGSU sports information director from 1946 to 1964. His knowledge of Falcon athletics over the years makes him qualified to select and comment on five of BG’s greatest football games during its 52-year history on the eve of the Mid-American Conference’s 25th anniversary.

There is an old adage in football that games are often won or lost by inches — a first down made or missed by just the tip of the ball, a punt stopping on the one foot line instead of going into the end zone. But in looking over some of the interesting games in Bowling Green’s 52-year gridiron history, the time clock has often been a determining factor so that the adage might well read that games are often won or lost by seconds.

You have to look back to the Toledo skirmish here in October, 1969, to have an excellent example of a thriller-diller that was won in the final two seconds. Toledo's Ken Crots kicked a 37-yard field goal that just slid over the cross bar to turn a 26-24 BG win into a 27-26 Rocket victory. This all came about after the Falcons went behind 17-0 in the first half but Vern Wireman pitched touchdowns to Bob Zimpfer, Steve Lanning and Fred Mathews in the second half to move ahead with only 49 seconds left. Rocket quarterback Chuck Ealey brought the Rockets up the field for Crots' successful attempt. BG Coach Don Nehlen called it a nightmare. Toledo Coach Frank Lauterbur said, "it was the greatest thing in 20 years of coaching." Toledo Blade reporter Jim Taylor said, "who wrote the script?"

Bowling Green has been on the winning end of a number of thrillers in which the old Longines timepiece played a role. Ohio University and the Falcons were battling for the Mid-American championship on a bleak 1961 November day. The Bobcats went ahead in the third quarter, converting a BG fumble into a touchdown but Vern McKee missed the point. BG countered with a 76-yard drive with Don Lisbon, later of the San Francisco 49ers, going the final yard. Asa Elsea kicked a perfect point for a 7-6 advantage. Bob Jencks booted a 52-yard field goal for the Redskins.

Even with all this wide-open play, the game came down to the final seconds for the deciding play. Redskin quarterback Ernie Kellermann, now of the Cleveland Browns, brought the Tribe back from certain defeat late in the fourth quarter, hitting five passes and running once for 11 yards. The end sweep for the conversion sent the game into a 24-all tie with 90 seconds left. Coach Doyt Perry went for a win but a Tony Ruggerio pass was intercepted. Kellermann had the Redskins on the BG 16 with 32 seconds left. The BG defense held and Jencks fell back for what 14,983 fans thought would be an easy field goal and Miami victory. Kellermann knelt to hold for Jencks but the ball got away from him. He finally retrieved it and threw a wobbly pass that fell harmlessly to the turf and the contest ended a deadlock.

Back in 1941, the BEE GEE NEWS labeled the Kent game "a Frank Merritwell finish". A cold Kent homecoming crowd was filling out of the stadium happy for a 6-6 tie. But Bob Whitaker’s Falcons had other ideas. In 90 seconds the Falcons moved to the Kent 13-yard line as Chuck Buckenmyer, very successful Napoleon high school coach, took an Eddie Wellner pass. Wellner tossed his second pass of the day to big Wayne Bordner just inside the endzone and the clock had run out on a 12-6 BG win.

Long-time follower of BG sports, Ivan E. Lake, always thought the 1948 Homecoming game with Baldwin Wallace in University Stadium with a record 7,205 fans on hand was BG’s top thriller on that field.

It was a real passing dual between B-W's Tommy Phillips and Max Minnich of BG, with Minnich coming forth in the final half with touchdown tosses of 47, 46 and 5 yards to all-Ohio end Vern Dunham. Dunham made one of the finest catches in BG history for the winning touchdown in the final second to give the Falcons a 33-28 victory that helped to pave the way for an undefeated season.
Scorched by intense heat and soaked with high-octane airplane fuel, a small patch of ground on a West Virginia hillside is reluctant to grow vegetation. The wounds of tragedy do not heal easily...

And so it is with the football programs at Marshall University and Wichita State University. September 25-Sep 25:1,000 miles, and never rivals in athletics—although the WSU Wheat Shockers once won a basketball game, 36-33, from the Thundering Herd—Marshall and Wichita State became sister widows in mourning last fall.

On October 2, 1970, the sports world was stunned by the tragic news that an alleged carry-on member of the Wichita State football team, coaches, athletic staff members and boosters, had crashed in rough Rocky Mountain country near Wichita, Colorado mining town named Silver Plume, killing 31 of the 42 persons on board.

Among the dead were 15 starters, Coach Ben Wilson and A. C. (Bert) Katzenmeyer, director of athletics. The sports world and the nation mourned, but the depths of its grief would be far more reaching.

Similar Tragedy

On November 14, 43 days later, on a dark hillside in northwestern West Virginia, a similar air crash occurred, an even more tragic one, for it claimed 75 lives. Marshall University’s varsity football program was all but decimated.

The Wichita team was on its way to Logan, Utah, for a game with Utah State, when one of the two team aircraft suddenly lost altitude, crashed in timber and burned. The second plane carrying 23 players and other staff members landed safely at Logan.

Wichita officials canceled the Utah game, and plans were set in motion for a special memorial fund was established, and plans were set in motion for a benefit television program from the Wichita campus—the “Night of Stars.”

Almost immediately following the crash of the State plane, a special memorial fund was established, and plans were set in motion for a benefit television program from the Wichita campus—the “Night of Stars.”

Fund Totals

At last count, the Wichita Fund exceeded $604,000. Including the Marshall share from the “Night of Stars,” the Marshall Memorial Fund has surpassed $300,000.

Human needs, not the rebuilding of two football programs, will benefit from the funds, according to H. R. Reidenbaugh, director of development at Marshall. Reidenbaugh also said separate annuities have been arranged for children orphaned by the crash, through age 18, for an additional $8,000 each when they reach 18. It is hoped each youngster will use the money for a college education, but there are no restrictions.

Another portion of the Wichita Fund is being used to establish a memorial scholarship in the name of each athlete who died, to be awarded to a graduate of that individual’s high school.

Wichita State also had to replace $200,000 worth of equipment, and some contributions were earmarked especially for that purpose.

Propects on the football field

While most of the Marshall Fund money will be paid out to meet these needs, some contributions were made with specific notations. Some collections will finance construction of a Memorial Monument to be placed on the campus, naming all those who lost their lives.

Human Needs Paramount

But, the human needs are paramount. The Marshall crash orphaned 24 children, survivors of the eight sets of parents who were among the boosters traveling with the team. And, it left 35 children with but one parent, survivors of other victims who included married couples, administrators, ad

ALMA MATER

Alma Mater hear us,
As we praise thy name
Make us worthy sons and daughters
Adding to thy fame.

Time will treat you kindly
Years from now you'll be
Ever dearer in our hearts,
Our University.

From your halls of ivy
To the campus scene,
Chimes ring out with gladness
For our dear Bowling Green.

When all is just a mem'ry
Of the by-gone days,
Hear our hymn dear Alma Mater
As thy name we praise.
There's a basketball renaissance in the planning stages for the Falcons with first-year coach Pat Haley determined to rebuild the Falcons into a cage power similar to the Nate Thurmond-Howard Komives championship teams of the early 1960's on which he was a starting guard.

The 30-year-old coach immediately went out and recruited what could develop into the best freshman team in BG history. But unless the NCAA grants instant eligibility for freshmen, the likes of 6-9 Bill Howard and 6-8 Cornelius Cash from Dayton Dunbar's state runner-ups; 30-point-plus all-Ohio guards in Jeff Montgomery and Dick Selgo, and 6-4 Ohio hurdle king Ron Weber of Rossford will have to wait until 1972-73 to help the varsity.

"Haley's Comets" will be a running, gunning collection of shooters who had better put the ball in the hoop because rebounding figures to be the main problem on a team whose center will be 6-5 or less. Key returnees among the seven junior lettermen (who were 12-2 and 7-0 in MAC play as freshmen) are 6-5 forward Dalynn Booms, 5-10 Al Russ and 6-2 Tom Babik. Center Tim Perrine, another junior, will be eligible again after sitting out last season.

Other lettermen include 6-6 Le Henson, 6-6 Tom Scott, 6-4 Jeff Booms, 5-10 Al Russ and 6-2 Tom Babik. Center Tim Perrine, another junior, will be eligible again after sitting out last season.

To borrow an historical phrase, Bowling Green's hockey team hopes "to speak softly and carry a big stick" as the Falcons enter their third year of varsity play and designs on a "top 10" national ranking and gaining a berth in the NCAA tournament.

Although Coach Jack Vivian admits his team could still be a year away from making a definite bid for the national championship, the BG icers will be loaded with veterans with 16 returning lettermen, including the top six scorers, on hand to face a murderous schedule that includes two holiday tournaments (Cleveland & Flint) and such top-flight opponents as Michigan State, RPI and Lake Superior State.

An added incentive will be the formation of the Central Collegiate Hockey Association which will find St. Louis, Ohio State, Ohio University and Bowling Green battling for the league title and post-season tournament championship.

Heading the list of returnees from last year's 18-12-1 team which rang up a 13-game winning streak and dumped such powers as Notre Dame and Clarkson are versatile junior Gord McCosh who can play anywhere; senior defenseman Glenn Shirton, a bonified All-American candidate if he stays healthy; and "super-soph" centers Gerry Bradbury and Mike Bartley.

Bradbury, a sixth-round draft choice of the L.A. Kings in 1970, set a single-season point record of 52 markers last season with 19 goals and 33 assists. His speedy linemate, "Bronc" Bartley, did the same in goal production with 22 that included a pair of hat tricks. McCosh, who slammed home 14 goals and 26 assists before being sidelined with a neck injury with 11 games to play, is another high scorer who can play both defense and offense with the best.

Shirton will again head up the defense which will be strengthened by the presence of outstanding freshman recruits.

Other Falcons to watch include "Minute-Man" Pete Badour who scored a goal in the first minute of play four times last season; defense- man Chuck Gyles, who ranked fifth with 7 goals and 28 assists, and dependable Brian Williams at wing.

Senior Paul Galaski, who turned into a stone wall in the second half of the season as a netminder, returns to goal along with Terry Miskolczi, who probably has the best gloved hand of any tender in the nation.

Time really passes. When you’re doing something you really enjoy and are fortunate enough to work with so many fine individuals, you just don’t realize how fast the years pass. What I’m trying to say, I guess, is that it hardly seems possible the Mid-American Conference has reached its Silver Anniversary milestone.

All the same, every minute of this period has been most rewarding and gratifying to me personally for I am one of the football referees fortunate enough to have been accorded the opportunity and privilege to serve the MAC since its inception in the winter of 1946-47.

During these 25 years, I have come into contact with scores of excellent coaches, players and officials. Names which readily come to mind include Woody Hayes, Johnny Pont, Ara Parseghian, Frank Lauterbur, Johnny Gill, Bo Schembechler, Don Peden, Dutch Trautwein, Kermit Blosser, Trev Rees, Doyt Perry, Harold “Andy” Anderson, Tony Hinkle, Johnny Brickels, Herb Royer, Carroll Widdoes and Bill Hess among the coaches.

Also, many exceptional players too numerous to mention and a long list of fine officials. At the risk of missing someone, these would include Jim Beiersdorfer, Dan Teahan, Russ Finsfeterwal, Joel Burghalter, Carlisle Dollings, Lowell Wrigley, Fred Swearingen, Harry Kessel, Bob Baur, Ralph Vandenberg, Al Sabato, Fritz Graf, Paul Tripinski, Don Hamilton Jr., Don Wedge, Jim Langhurst, Russ Rupp, Bob Daganhardt, Bud Shopbell, Don Elsass, Bob Whetstone, Sam Devine, Gus Skibbie, John Hogan, Carl Brubaker, Del Groezinger, Chalmer Hixson, George Ellis, Ernie Roush, Howard Wirtz, Frank Baird, Harold Rolph, Jack Rhodes, Ray Dodez, Pete Lanigan; Frank Luzar and Bob Hepler.

Many officials who got their start in the MAC have reached the heights of this much-maligned and often misunderstood avocation by “graduating” to the professional leagues. The MAC has been such a great preparatory media, in fact, that some of its officiating alumni have worked in professional playoff games, league championship games and yes, even the Super Bowl!

I would be remiss if I failed to mention here that many of these achievements did not come about by chance. Officiating associations were responsible for some of the progress detailed above but, insofar as the Mid-American Conference is concerned, a great deal of credit belongs to Dr. Reese, Robert C. James and now Fred Jacoby — the fine gentlemen who have given the Conference exceptional guidance during their regimes as Commissioners.

An official really is a wonderful creature. You can criticize him but you can’t intimidate him. You can question his judgment but not his honesty. He is fair play personified. He is a hard-working, alert, determined individual who keeps sportsmanship uppermost in his mind. He doesn’t run, ruin or rule the game; rather, he is a much-maligned, misunderstood individual determined to make his own small yet significant contribution to the American way of life through service to athletics.

The 1970-71 athletic year at Bowling Green State University certainly had its moments. Both to remember... and to forget.

Likewise, the 1971-72 season will also have many exciting events. Again, both to remember... and to forget.

Just in case you might want to remember and forget some of those moments, the following list of “happenings” should whet the appetite of all Falcon sport fans.

SID SINK... seven-time track & cross country All-American falling in the cinders during the mile run at the MAC track championships... then coming back an hour later to win the three-mile from Western Michigan’s Jeromie Liebenberg with a final lap burst of speed in the meet-record time of 13:36.3... A month later at the NCAA championships in Seattle, Sink would run the fastest steeplechase ever run by a collegian (8:30.9) in defending his national championship in a race which somehow got lost in the shuffle of television coverage supplied by ABC’s Wide World of Sports... Fortunately CBS tuned in next week at the AAU meet when Sink set his sensational American record of 8:26.4 in the steeplechase.

THE REVOLVING DOOR POLICY... Doyt L. Perry Day on Nov. 14 produced tears in the eyes of a great man on the eve of his “retirement” as Falcon athletic director... Perry retired in December and Bob Bell, the man from UCLA, replaced him in January... Three months later, Bell left the University and Dick Young jumped from his seat on the bench as BGSU baseball coach into the athletic director’s chair... Doors also opened for Bob Dudley, “dean” of assistant football coaches, who stepped up to become an administrative assistant to the athletic director and supervisor of the golf course; Pat Haley, the “fifth” man on the Howard Komives-Nate Thurmond teams, who replaced Bob Conibear as head basketball coach, and Don Purvis, ex-N.Y. Yankee farmhand, who became head baseball coach shortly after his Aquinas College Tommies scored a 13-8 win over Bowling Green.

JOY OF VICTORY AND THE AGONY OF DEFEAT... Phil Villapiano, AP honorable mention All-American and now Oakland Raider property, forcing his fourth Western Michigan fumble and receiving a humble compliment from the Bronco P. A. announcer who explained: “Causing the fumble again was Villapiano. Thank God he’s a senior.”... Happiness Is Homecoming: BG 44, Kent State 0... Reserve quarterback Don Plusquellec’s gallant generalship of a last-minute drive vs. Miami which failed only because of Tim Raybuck’s last-second knockdown of a pass intended for Gary Schaefer in the end zone... Stu “The Shoe” Shestina’s 38-yard field goal with 64 seconds left to beat Marshall, 26-24, seven days before the tragic air crash which brought sadness and death to the college football scene... For The Future: Freshman Footballers go 4-0, Rip Toledo, 69-12... Cross Country team runs winning streak to 15 with 10-0 undefeated season... Dave Wottle, forced out of two miles of the MAC cross country championships with a leg injury, would run no more for the next nine months... Without Wottle, harriers run well to finish eighth in the NCAA championships with Sink placing eighth in individual competition... Soccer team extends nationally-ranked Michigan State into overtime before bowing, 4-2, after last-second goal in first overtime period... For second year in row, Dayton Flyers score identical 72-70 win over Falcon basketballers on basket by John Bitter (of all people) with one second left... Then there was the night that Miami (MAC champs and NCAA tournament team) came to town and left a 78-68 loser... Marquette (ranked second in the nation at the time) also came to town and departed with a 96-74 win which didn’t even come close to telling how good they were... The icemen (hockey team) cometh on strong with 7-4 victory over nationally-ranked Clarkson and pair of wins over Notre Dame... Icers just miss cracking top ten teams... With six freshman starters, wrestlers go 11-6 with 22-14 shocker of Western Michigan rating top billing... Freestyle relay victory in final event passes swimmers to 57-56 upset victory over powerful Ashland... Golfers take 10-team Falcon Invitational championship in driving wind and rain as no swinger breaks 80 on BG course... Lacrosse-men led Syracuse (ranked 17th in nation), 7-6, with minute to play... lose out, 8-7, on pair of goals in final 46 seconds... The “big” game for Midwest championship went to Denison by 7-2 count... Stickmen still finish ranked 23rd in nation as John Brzendine wins All-American honors... Baseball team loses three, one-run games to Miami... Team drops 10 one-run affairs in first 20 starts... Doug Bair tosses one-hitter at Western Michigan in 3-0 win... Bair strikes out 21 batters in 4-3 win over TU... Cincinnati (NCAA tournament team) falls twice in doubleheader by 5-2 and 8-1 counts... Tennis finds junior Bill Oudsem taking conference title at second singles... Whittaker Track scene of Central Collegiate Championships... In final home race, Sink becomes first runner since Jesse Owens to win six CCC titles as he takes steeplechase and three-mile runs to win most valuable performer laurels for second time in three years... Summer activity is highlighted by Falcon athletic department softball team which wins Bowling Green American League championship... but that’s another story. finished fourth in the MAC race with an 8-6 record. Twelve of the defeats were by one run. The Falcons will have a new coach in 1972. Don Purvis, a 1960 graduate of BG and a former N.Y. Yankee farmhand, has replaced Dick Young as coach. All-MAC second-baseman Rod Allen and MVP shortstop Gary Haas head up a group of 11 returning lettermen. For additional information contact the baseball office (372-2401).

BASKETBALL — Pat Haley, '63, will enter his first season as head coach with seven junior lettermen returning from last year's 7-18 team which finished sixth in the MAC with a 2-8 mark. For openers, Haley went out and recruited what is regarded as one of the nation's top 25 freshman teams. For additional information, contact the basketball office (372-2401). John Heft and Ivory Suesberry are assistant coaches.

CROSS COUNTRY — Sid Sink will be the only runner not returning from the 1970 team which posted a 4-5-1 record, but placed fifth in the MAC with a 2-8 mark. For openers, Haley went out and recruited what is regarded as one of the nation's top 25 freshman teams. For additional information, contact the basketball office (372-2401). John Heft and Ivory Suesberry are assistant coaches.

FOOTBALL — A game where you watch the figures on sweaters, instead of in them. Without it, you wouldn't have to be reading this program.

GOLF — BG's 1971 golf team fashioned an 11-3 record and repeated as MAC champs. The Falcons also were champions of the 29-team Notre Dame Invitational and All-Ohio meets and were second in the Central Collegiates. BG placed eighth in the NCAA championships. For information, contact coach Mel Brodt (372-2401) or assistant coach Lloyd Crable (372-2401).

HOCKEY — The Falcons expect to shoot for a rank among the nation's top 10 teams during the 1971-72 season after rolling up an 18-12-1 record and winning the Mideastern Collegiate Hockey Association Championship last season. The six leading scorers are back headed by sophomores Gerry Bradbury and Mike Bartley and junior Gord McCosh. For information, contact Coach Jack Vivian (372-2964).

INDOOR TRACK — Bowling Green's track team fashioned an 8-3 record to again rank as one of the best teams in the Midwest. For information, contact coach Mel Brodt (372-2401) or assistant coach Lloyd Crable (372-2401).

LACROSSE — in 1971, the lacrosse team fashioned an 8-3 record to again rank as one of the best teams in the Midwest. For information, contact coach Mel Brodt (372-2401) or assistant coach Lloyd Crable (372-2401).

Soccer — Coach Mickey Cochrane (372-2401) will have 13 returning lettermen on hand this fall from last year's squad which posted a 4-5-1 record. As usual the Falcons will play the best teams in the Midwest.

SWIMMING — Coach Tom Stubbs (372-2673) will have 12 lettermen returning from last year's 6-7 team which placed fifth in the MAC championships. Sophomore sprinter Steve Breithaupt should be one of the league's best this season.

TENNIS — There were no seniors of BG's 1971 net squad which had an 8-9 season and placed fifth in the MAC meet. Senior Bill Oudsema won the MAC second singles title and Junior Tom Lightvoet was second at first singles. For information, contact coach Bob Gill (372-2876).

TRACK — Bowling Green's 1971 track team had another banner outdoor season behind All-American Sid Sink. The Falcons had 6-3 dual-meet record; placed sixth in the 46-team USTFF meet; fifth in the 50-team Central Collegiate meet; fifth in the MAC meet, and first in the Wayne State Invitational. Junior All-American Dave Wottle will head up the 1972 team. For information, contact coach Mel Brodt (372-2401) or assistant coach Lloyd Crable (372-2401).

WRESTLING — The freshmen who led the Falcons to an 11-6 season and fifth place in the MAC championships will be sophomores in 1971-72. Most valuable performer Dave Wolfe (190) heads up what should be an excellent team. For information, contact Coach Bruce Bellard (372-2876).
