Welcome To Bowling Green

"A New Look" — that's the accent for the 1977 football season and understandably so.

With a new coach, a new staff, new uniforms, new option-style offense and a new hard-hitting defense, the label fits exceptionally well. Newness also comes in the form of a first time meeting between BGSU and a Big Eight Conference school: Iowa State.

The only question remaining is performance, and on that note we are optimistic.

Much of the success of the 1977 season will hinge on the well established talents and leadership skills of several returning veterans. Another pivotal factor will be the extent to which the hopes for the current outstanding freshman class will be realized. Seven recruits played in this year's Ohio North-South All-Star game.

An MAC championship could be in the offing. The "who's number one" issue may well be settled on Perry Field in encounters with pre-season conference favorite, Western Michigan, and those always troublesome arch-rivals, Toledo and Miami.

While the promise of good football and the exciting Falcon Marching Band are the principal attractions for you today, I hope our visitors will also move freely about our campus absorbing its beauty and learning more about its many features, academic as well as cultural. There's a never ending array of outstanding theatre and music events, lectures, seminars, and exhibits. I would encourage a visit to our special-purpose facilities, particularly the Library and the Educational Memorabilia Center — the Little Red Schoolhouse.

Our University is once again at full capacity enrollment. Each year brings curriculum changes, new degree programs and fresh approaches to teaching. Further, the "new look" extends well beyond the confines of Perry Field. The face of the campus is in the process of undergoing some dramatic changes with the construction of the Musical Arts Classroom Building and Performance Hall and the Recreation Center, which will include aquatic facilities, a large multi-purpose area, and specialized areas for more individualized recreation ranging from archery to racquetball to squash. Sterling Farm (where both are located) will look like a farm no longer.

Ours is a campus which we hope you will visit and enjoy often.

Obrovac Brothers Conclude Seven-Year Run

By DICK REES

What do you do after high school when you’re 6-5, 240 pounds and your favorite pastime is football?

When you have two older brothers on the same college team playing the same position, you do what Mike Obrovac did.

You accept a grant-in-aid from the same school, play the same position and ultimately, as Mike has done, you become the best football player in the family.

Bowling Green has benefited all the while, but when Mike completes his senior season this fall, things just won’t be the same.

After all, the Obrovacs have become synonymous with the BG offensive tackle position ever since the eldest, Nick, enrolled at the University in the fall of 1971. Brother George followed in 1973 and it became a family tradition when Mike did likewise a year later.

“It wasn’t as if I was following them,” Mike recalled, “even though I always looked up to them. I’m an individual just like everyone else, but I just wanted to be on the same team with them, just like a family concept.

“We’ve always been a close-knit group.”

And from the start, that closeness and family concept gave Mike an advantage over his freshmen teammates, this year’s current seniors.

“Before practice even started, Nick was telling me snap counts and what to do on certain plays, and George told me what the coaches were like,” Mike said. “I definitely feel that helped me.”

It must have helped all three that year. Nick won his only letter while starting in his senior season. Playing almost as much, sophomore George and freshman Mike also picked up their first varsity letters.

“It didn’t matter to me who was out there, me or one of my brothers, just so the best person at the time was playing. We weren’t trying to beat one another out (for a starting position) but you have to go out and do your best just like everyone else,” Mike said.

The past two seasons, the still-growing lineman (now 6’7”, 255 pounds) has been a starter while George, now departed, served as the Falcons’ third tackle.

“I came in more inexperienced than they (brothers), but as far as football potential I feel I have become better than they,” Mike said. “But they showed me the ropes.”

Through it all, his mother Vilma and 18-year-old sister Hedy have become faithful supporters, driving from their Canton residence to most Falcon home games.

“It didn’t make my mom travel all over to see us play,” Mike said of his decision to attend BG. “She never said anything, but I sensed that she wanted me to come here (BG). I think she kind of influenced Nick at first and that’s what started the whole thing.”

With three sons in the sport simultaneously, there have been many eventful days for Mrs. Obrovac, whose husband died 15 years ago. Mike remembers one not-so-humorous incident that he now tells with a laugh.

“Nick was a senior at Canton McKinley and he and George were in varsity conditioning, I was on the freshman team. Well, Nick had a job before practice, but he cut his hand and had to go to the hospital to get stitches. Then at conditioning, George had stitches in his knee from an operation and they broke, so he had to go to the hospital. And at our practice, I was goofing around in the locker room and cut my wrist and had to get it stitched up.

“The hospital kept calling my mom all day.”

But that didn’t stop the Obrovacs, which isn’t surprising considering the family’s athletic background.

One of their uncles played football for the University of Southern California in the late 1940’s, and a cousin, Danny Obrovac, was a 6’11 center for the University of Dayton’s basketball team in the mid 1960’s. He later played professionally for two years in the American Basketball Association.

Playing in the pros, or at least getting the chance, has been Mike’s life-long football goal. Now, his final collegiate season is his most important and he knows it.

“That will be fine if I get some honors or if I get a shot in the pros,” he said. “It’s all there for the taking. I’m going to work my hardest and give it my best. It’s just how bad I want it.”

Regardless of whether he makes it, Mike admits he will miss Falcon football. So will mom.

“I kind of think she’ll miss Bowling Green football,” Mike offered. “But she has always followed McKinley and still will. She’s a good fan.”

Knowing her three sons, it’s hard to imagine her any other way.

The Andersons
Coach Denny Stolz

By TONY PULGINE

Former Big Ten Coach-Of-The-Year

Denny Stolz is the man at the controls of this year’s Falcon football team.

Stolz, 43, becomes the 12th head coach in Bowling Green football history after a three-year head coaching career at Michigan State University.

As the head man at MSU, Stolz compiled a 19-13-1 record. During that period, it was the only winning record produced by Big Ten coaches other than Woody Hayes or Bo Schembechler.

Stolz, a graduate of Alma College, started his rebuilding program at Michigan State with a 5-6 record in 1973, and a 4-4 conference mark, which put the Spartans in a four-way tie for fourth place.

In 1974, he directed the Spartans to their best record since 1966 by compiling a 7-4 record and a 4-4 Big Ten mark, for another third-place finish.

His success in the coaching ranks brought him a post-season all-star coaching assignment in January of 1976.

For his efforts, Stolz was named Big Ten Coach-Of-The-Year. The highlight of the season was the 16-13 win over the Ohio State Buckeyes, who were ranked No. 1 in the nation at the time.

The 1975 season found the Spartans compiling a 7-4 record and a 4-4 Big Ten mark, for another third-place finish.

His success in the coaching ranks brought him a post-season all-star coaching assignment in January of 1976.

He directed the North team to a win in the All-American Bowl played in Tampa.

Stolz began his career with the Spartans as an assistant football coach and defensive coordinator under Duffy Daugherty in 1971. In two seasons, his defensive units ranked second and third in the Big Ten in total defense.

Prior to joining the Spartan staff, Stolz was the head coach at Alma College from 1965-1970. Taking over a team that had won but three games in four years, Stolz molded Alma into a Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) power.

During his six-year tenure at Alma, his teams captured three MIAA championships and compiled an 18-game winning streak with two consecutive undefeated seasons in 1967 and 1968.

A native of Lansing, Mich., Stolz started his head coaching career at Haslett High School, where he had an eight-year record of 40-13-3 from 1955-1963. He was the defensive coordinator at Lansing Eastern High School in 1964.

He earned a bachelor’s degree from Alma in 1955, and a master’s degree from Michigan State in 1960. He and his wife, Cena, are the parents of a son, Doak, 17, and daughters, Dawn, 16, and Denise, 9.

The Coaching Staff

CHARLEY BAGGETT, 1975 Michigan State co-captain, will assist the offensive staff with the backfield and work with the development of the younger players on the team. He holds the MSU career total offense record of 4,041 yards set during 1973-75 seasons. The 1975 MSU graduate won All-Big Ten quarterback honors and was State's most valuable player in 1974.

CHARLIE BUTLER was Stolz’s offensive line coach at Michigan State from 1973-75 and will have the same duties at BG. The 1961 graduate of Middle Tennessee will also serve as assistant to the head coach. An offensive guard and linebacker in college, Butler has also coached at Middle Tennessee (1966-71) and Colorado State (1972).

STEVE BECKHOLT was defensive coordinator at Albion (Mich.) College last year when team went 9-0 and led NCAA Division III teams in total defense and scoring defense. The 1971 Michigan State graduate will coach defensive ends and linebackers and serve as defensive coordinator. He was a two-year letterman at linebacker for Western Michigan before transferring to MSU.

RUSS JACQUES starts his third year on the BG staff as defensive secondary coach. His defensive backs ranked eighth in the nation in 1975. The 1967 Bowling Green graduate won five letters in baseball and football. Joined staff after one year as head coach at North Royalton High School.

GARY PINKEL will coach the tight ends and receivers after serving for two years on the coaching staff at Washington State. The 1975 Kent State graduate won all-conference honors at tight end in 1972 and 1973 while gaining All-America honorable mention. He twice led Kent in receiving and was a captain of the 1973 team.

MIKE RASMUSSEN will coach the offensive backs and serve as BG’s offensive coordinator. He joins the staff after serving for two years at the University of Hawaii as offensive coordinator. A 1972 graduate of Michigan State, Rasmussen was the quarterback for the Spartans in 1970 and 1971.

PETE RIESEN starts his second year at BG and will coach the defensive ends. He also is BG’s head wrestling coach. Riesen was head football and wrestling coach at Heidelberg College before coming to BG. His Heidelberg football teams were 30-17 and the undefeated 1972 team won the NCAA Division III national championship. As a head football coach, the 1951 Wittenberg graduate has a record of 118-49-3.

JIM TAUBERT was co-captain and an all-conference first team defensive tackle on the 1974 Michigan State team which upset undefeated Ohio State and finished third in the Big Ten. The 1974 MSU graduate was named the team’s outstanding senior. He will coach the defensive tackles and middle guards. He was assistant football and wrestling coach at Reading (Pa.) High School in 1976.

He would make many college football teams a fine starting quarterback right now. Second row, Craig Cheetwood, Dan Saleet, Tom Saleet, Frank Pasqualone, Dave Dudley and Steve Seibert. Third row, Greg Kampe, Robin Yocum, Jeff Smith, Greg Spann and Jeff Polhemus. Today's Game — Once Over Lightly

Today's opponent, the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga (UTC), is making the most of its first year as a major-college football team and a member of the Southern Conference.

Coached by Joe Morrison, the former N.Y. Giant running back whose son Rick is the MAC's leading pass receiver this season for Ball State, the Mocscasins happen to own a 7-1 record to rank just behind undefeated Texas and Colgate when it comes to won-lost records.

The secret of their success, which also includes a 3-1 league record for second-place in the Southern Conference, lies in an awesome, speed-filled running game that is averaging 301 yards a game to rank fourth nationally.

The Mocs feature one of the fastest running combinations in college football. Using the Houston Veer attack, UTC relies on 185-pound freshman Gwain Durden, who is averaging 6.4 yards a carry (with 747 yards) and 190-pound sophomore Mike Smith, who is reeling off 6.1 yards a play (with 776 yards).

UTC also just happens to have the nation's leading kickoff return man in Tony Ball (33.7 yards per return) and one of the country's finest punters in Greg Cater (42.3 avg.).

This certainly means that Bowling Green will have a tough time gaining yardage in Greg Cater's 49-29 Chattanooga drubbing last season as the Mocs scored 35 points in the second quarter that was sparked by three TD runs by quarterback Tony Merendino (he also returns this season).

Falcon quarterback Mark Miller set a single-game school record of 272 yards in total offense last year against UTC in a losing cause. The Falcon senior is coming off his best performance of the year that included completing 16 of 23 passes for 215 yards and 4 touchdowns. His TD tosses were a single-game BG record and gave him 28 in his career for another Falcon mark. For his efforts, Miller was named the outstanding offensive player of the ABC regionally-televised game at Central Michigan and a $1000 Chevrolet Scholarship was awarded in his name to the University's general scholarship fund.

Miller and 18 other seniors will be recognized with their parents during pre-game ceremonies to highlight Parent's Day activities.

The Falcon seniors and the other members of the team will be meeting their fourth opponent in a row which has lost only one game this season entering its game with BG. In fact, the NCAA announced two weeks ago that BG was playing the 26th toughest schedule in the nation with opponents winning more than 56 per cent of their games this season.

BGSU Researchers Vital To Educational Process

By CLIFTON BOUTELLE
Director, University News Service

The more we learn, the more we want to know, and at Bowling Green State University, research is a vital part of education.

Last year the University received $2.6 million from outside sources for research and development. More than half of that amount came from federal sources.

Because faculty in nearly every academic department are involved in research ranging from energy to the study of how television affects children, the following is only a brief overview of research activities on campus.

The Environmental Studies Center, headed by Dr. William B. Jackson, is studying the environmental impact of the Davis-Besse Nuclear Power Station near Port Clinton; conducting studies associated with the development of rodenticides for use in controlling rats which are immune to common poisons, and testing rats from a number of U.S. cities to learn if rodents found in these metropolitan areas are resistant to certain rodenticides, among other projects.

Biologist Dr. Reginald D. Noble is investigating how sulfur dioxide affects food production in the leaves of trees and plants. The study is the first of its kind.

Chemist Dr. Douglas C. Neckfife is conducting a two-year project aimed at developing a photochemical breakdown process for large-moleculated materials, such as polystyrene. If successful, the process could help solve energy and waste disposal problems.

Dr. Kenneth Kiple of the history department is conducting research in South America and the Caribbean to try to confirm, from a historical perspective, his theory that blacks have different nutritional needs than whites. If the theory is correct, his findings could be used to plan diets to combat nutritional ailments and provide valuable support data for other research on black-related ailments.

Biologist Dr. Garret T. Heberlein is concerned with molecular biology and cancer research. His studies involve inducing tumors into healthy plants in an effort to determine the mechanisms by which bacteria and viruses irreversibly convert normal plant cells to tumor cells.

Sociologists Drs. Arthur G. Neal and H. Theodore Groat are studying how recently married couples plan families as part of their ongoing study of sociological factors affecting human fertility.

Fulbright Fellow Dr. George G. Seifert, an associate professor of education, is spending the year in Sri Lanka where he will help develop testing and evaluation procedures for use in that country's school system.

Dr. John P. Scott, Regents' professor of psychology, is continuing his search for an animal that can be effectively used as a model for research on hyperactivity and aggression in children. Under his direction, the University's Canine Research Center is testing dogs to learn more about genotypic differences in hyperactivity and responses to the stimulant d-amphetamine sulfate.

Sociologists Drs. Peggy C. Giordano and Stephen A. Cernokovich are conducting a two-year study to find the causes of female juvenile delinquency which is rising at an alarming rate.

Dr. Harry W. Hoemann, a psychologist who is continuing his study of how deaf and hearing children learn communication skills, is developing a training program to teach deaf children how to communicate better in formal situations.

Did you like banana splits when you were a kid? If you did, you’ll go for our new banana split for grown-ups. It’s called Bananas Foster. After a fellow named Foster. He actually went hilariously bananas, the first time he tried it.

What’s Bananas Foster really like? It’s hard to describe. Think of it as a fantastic flaming-banana-bonanza.

Office Of Admissions Sponsors Third “Preview Day”

Wendell Jones, associate professor in the College of Musical Arts, discusses opportunities for study in music with a prospective student and his parents.

A “Big Orange” welcome is extended to all visiting high school students, their families and counselors who are participating in today’s third annual “Preview Day” program.

Information on Art to Zoology, housing, financial aid, intercollegiate athletics, social activities, flight instruction, karate and hundreds of other topics filled the Grand Ballroom of the University Union this morning as our guests discussed Bowling Green State University.

The Office of Admissions initiated “Preview Day” in order to provide an opportunity for more personal contact between prospective high school students and our University community. Last fall over 1,500 persons attend “Preview Day,” with an even larger turnout expected at today’s program.

More than 200 BGSU faculty and staff members along with 100 Bowling Green students assisted in providing today’s “personal contact.”

The Office of Admissions extends sincere thanks to our University hosts, and hopes that a meaningful and enjoyable experience was offered to our guests on “Preview Day.”

Over 1500 persons attended last year’s Preview Day which was held in Anderson Arena.

The University of Tennessee At Chattanooga

Near the end of the 19th century, Chattanooga was on the urban frontier. Its citizens were actively engaged in coal production, iron manufacture, lumber trade and railroad construction. These pioneers in industry also knew the value of education and had a deep respect for learning. When the Methodist Episcopal Church began to explore the possibilities of developing a central university in the South, Chattanoogans came forward to unite with the church in the effort.

After the founding of Chattanooga University in 1886, one of the church leaders praised the institution as worth more to the city financially than any of its many manufacturing concerns.

Almost a century later, the bishop's assessment remains applicable to the modern University of Tennessee at Chattanooga which stands as one of the city's greatest assets.

With a student population of 6,500, the University is undergirded by the dual traditions of private and public institutions, retaining the disciplines of traditional liberal education, while expanding its degree programs in professional studies and greatly increasing its initiatives in continuing education and public service.

For 83 years a private school, the University did not become a public institution until 1969. Three years after its founding, the University was consolidated under the name of Grant University with another church-related school, East Tennessee Wesleyan University at Athens. In 1907, the name University of Chattanooga was adopted.

In 1969, the University of Chattanooga and a junior college, Chattanooga City College, merged to become a major campus of the University of Tennessee, one of the oldest land-grant universities in the nation. Pledged to the service and interest of the entire state, The University of Tennessee has emerged as a state-wide system consisting of five primary campuses. The new campus was given the mandate to devote the major portion of its resources to the development of excellence in undergraduate education and in selected areas in graduate studies.

The joining of the three institutions has resulted in a strengthening of the University through a significant expansion of the scope of its curriculum, acquisition of new facilities and increased opportunities for research, public service and physical growth.

Inman Has His Day

By LARRY WEISS

In 1973, the mayor of Hillsdale, Mich. proclaimed Saturday, June 9, as "Jim Inman Day." In the proclamation the mayor noted it should be "a day for the community to honor this gentleman for all he has done for the residents of the area, young and old -- a fine man with an unselfish desire to provide something more for those who would seek recreational opportunities." Perhaps that one section tells a great deal about the life of Jim Inman for people and recreation certainly make his world go round.

Born and raised in Perrysburg, he went to high school there and participated in football, basketball and baseball for four years. The University of Detroit offered him a football scholarship after graduation in 1933 and his freshman year was spent there.

After that first year, he decided to transfer to Bowling Green. His high school coach, Carl Bachman, had been an all-conference football and basketball player at BG and was influential in Jim's transfer. His family also supported the idea and Jim Inman came to Bowling Green in 1934.

In 1934 during Jim's sophomore year, BG went 2-3-2 during Warren Steller's final season as football coach. In the final game Bowling Green played a previously unbeaten, untied Ohio Northern team to a 0-0 tie. "The underdog Falcons gave them all they wanted," Inman recalls. For his performance that season, Jim became the first BG backfield player ever selected first-team, all-conference.

Inman was selected captain of the 1936 team and with only two seniors in the starting lineup, the Falcons went 4-2-3 including a thrilling 13-0 upset win at Wittenberg.

After graduating in 1937, he stayed at BG as a graduate assistant from 1937-39. In 1940 he became District Supervisor of Recreation in charge of 10 counties in northwest Ohio under the sponsorship of the federal government. From 1942-46 he was athletic director, football and basketball coach at Perrysburg High School. His 1943 undefeated football team was the first in the school's history. They were one of only three schools in the state to win ten games.

For the past 31 years, Jim has been employed as Director of Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics for the schools and city of Hillsdale.

On Oct. 22, 1966, he was inducted into the Bowling Green State University Athletic Hall of Fame. It was a thrill for him and was highlighted by the fact two of his former coaches, Carl Bachman and Paul Landis, were inducted into the Hall of Fame the same day.

Hillsdale held "Jim Inman Day" in 1973. Also that year the Hillsdale Exchange Club presented him with their second annual "Book of Golden Deeds" award at a banquet attended by over 500 people. In 1974 he was named "Michigan Athletic Director of the Year." As one of only six such winners, he was honored at the national convention of the American Association for Health Physical Education and Recreation held in Atlantic City.

These awards received by Inman were based on his significant contributions to the Hillsdale schools and community. Among his accomplishments was the development of a physical education program for grades K-12.

As director of recreation for the community, he has developed a program for swimming lessons and recreational swimming. In addition he developed 26 acres into a beautiful new park and swimming beach. He also organized community efforts, funds and materials for tennis courts and ball diamonds.

He has managed Michigan District Basketball Tournaments for more than 25 years, has conducted State Gymnastics Tournaments, and has held offices in various area and state athletic and physical education organizations. He has served a term on the BGSU Alumni Board of Trustees.

In accepting the Exchange Club's "Golden Deeds" award, Inman commented, "Anybody can do what they want if they work hard enough toward that goal and learn to get along with people as they go." It certainly seems like sound philosophy and it has been a successful approach for Jim Inman . . . just ask the people of Hillsdale, Michigan.

Maybe Hillsdale should hold another "Jim Inman Day."

Solidly connected by its “Roots” to a winning tradition and dedicated to excellence in performance, participation and public service, Bowling Green State University’s intercollegiate athletic program continued its growth pattern during the 1976-77 academic year.

Like the ever-growing family tree, the athletic department branched out even more last year. The program doubled in size when 12 women’s sports were merged with the men’s 13-sport program. The merger produced a 25-sport intercollegiate program for varsity teams which is the largest, total-sports program in the Mid-American Conference and one of the largest in the Midwest and the national major-college ranks.

Through the efforts and approval of President Hollis Moore, vice president for public services James Hof and athletic director Richard Young, the department implemented a reorganizational plan which attracted national attention for its unique organizational structure.

The department now includes three main divisions: (1) the 22-sport non-revenue area, (2) the three-sport revenue unit for football, men’s basketball and hockey and (3) the administrative support staff unit.

From a performance and participation standpoint, the results were rewarding as more than 1,000 student-athletes combined their talents to win 55 percent of their 669 contests. It was the 21st consecutive year that the school’s sports programs have had a winning record of better than 50 percent.

From a fiscal standpoint, the $1.4 million budget is divided with the administrative and non-revenue areas primarily funded by the general fees paid by students. The revenue-sports division is funded by gate receipts and income from concessions, parking, guarantees, etc. Additional monies to help pay athletic grants-in-aid and recruiting expenditures are raised from private contributions made to The Falcon Club.

In addition to administration of the intercollegiate program, the athletic department is directly involved with both the educational and public service areas of the University.

The department supervises the University’s 18-hole golf course, the Ice Arena and all of the athletic fields and facilities at the University. Through contact with club teams and an extensive intramural program, the department helped provide services to more than 16,000 participants last year.

Between 75 and 100 other athletic events sponsored by community, state and national organizations were also incorporated into the total public service program with BG’s modern facilities being used for a variety of events and high school tournaments.

The athletic program also embraces the departments of health and physical education and physical education and recreation with service courses open to all students.

Following is a brief look at the recent history and current status of Bowling Green’s 25 varsity teams:

BASEBALL—During Don Purves’ six-year coaching operation, the Falcons have averaged 26 wins a season, reaching a high in 1977 with a 36-18 record. The 1972 team won the MAC championship and ranked 13th in the nation. Playing in one of the best baseball conferences in the nation, catcher Larry Owen was a second-team All-America selection in 1977.

BASKETBALL—The dynamic John Weinert enters his second year of coaching as BG shoots for its fifth, first-division finish in the league in the last six years. The rich basketball tradition includes six NIT appearances, three NCAA championships and, four MAC titles. The last two NCAA champions, Marquette and Indiana, appear on the 1977-78 schedule. The women’s team has finished second three times and fourth twice in six Ohio state championships.

CROSS COUNTRY—Another undefeated season and runner-up in the conference meet in 1976 kept the men’s team rated among the best in the Midwest. BG has 19 winning seasons in 21 years and four, top-10 finishes nationally since 1969. The women’s team placed 21st in its first try at the national championship.

FENCING—The women’s team gained recognition as one of the best in the Midwest this past year with a 10-5 record. The men’s team will improve as it faces its second year of varsity competition.

FIELD HOCKEY—A winning tradition should help the women’s team become a winner again after a couple of hard-luck years.

FOOTBALL—Former Michigan State head coach Denny Stolz takes over the coaching duties and will be looking for the team’s 22nd winning season in the last 23 years. That winning tradition places Bowling Green among the top 25 winningest teams in major-college football. An appearance in the nation’s top 20 (19th) in 1973 and “big-game” victories over Purdue, Syracuse (twice) and Brigham Young highlight the 70’s. Future games are booked with Iowa State, Hawaii, Kentucky, Michigan State, North Carolina, Washington and Baylor.

GOLF—Eleven tournament championships in the last six years and consistent “top five” finishes gives the men’s team one of the best records in the Midwest. Success in the 70’s includes two MAC titles and two “Top 30” finishes in the NCAA in 1972 and 1973, a MAC runner-up trophy in 1977, and the thrill of competition on the University’s own 18-hole golf course. The women’s team recently placed third in the Midwest (1975) and won the state championship in 1974.

GYMNASTICS—One of the fastest-rising BG programs from the standpoint of spectator interest and competitive skill, the women’s team placed second in the last three state championships and was eighth in the Midwest meet last year.

HOCKEY—The Falcons placed fifth in the NCAA championships last year and won the CCHA playoff championship. Coach Ron Mason’s team was ranked in the top 10 nationally for the third straight year. Averaging 20 wins a season in the last six years has attracted capacity crowds to one of the best ice arenas in the nation.

LACROSSE—In the last four years, the men’s team has a 396 record which ranks as one of the best in the nation. Three Midwest championships and a 104-29 record in 12 years of varsity play are on the books. The powerful women’s team claimed the 1975 Midwest crown and are 22-7-2 for the last two years.

SOCCER—In four of the last five years, Bowling Green has been rated one of the four best teams in Ohio. NCAA tournament appearances in 1972 and 1973 highlight the 1970’s.

SWIMMING—The women’s team owns four consecutive state championships and has finished among the top 35 teams at the national meet in two of the last four years. The men’s team continues to shatter school records while preparing to move into a new Olympic-sized swimming pool in two years. A record five straight MAC titles (1956 to 1960) highlights the winning tradition.

SYNCHRONIZED SWIMMING—For more than two decades, the program has been regarded as one of the best in the nation.

TENNIS—The women’s team placed second in the state and ninth in the Midwest in 1977 and boasts a 23-5 record in the last three years. The men’s squad captured its third, first-division finish in the conference in the last four years.

TRACK—The men’s team continued to attract national attention as the two-mile relay team placed second at the Drake and Kansas Relays in 1977. Highlights in the 70’s include Dave Wottle’s Olympic gold medal, Sid Sink’s American record in the steeplechase, and second place in the 1972 NCAA indoor championships. The excellent women’s team won its second straight Ohio championship and the first Mid-American Invitational.

VOLLEYBALL—The women’s team rates among the best in the state and placed fifth in the 1976 state championships.

WRESTLING—With 21 non-losing season in the last 23 years, the Falcons have won three MAC team titles and produced 15 individual champions in the last two decades.
