Welcome To Bowling Green

It is a great pleasure to welcome all "Falcon Fans" to this 1978 football season. And the welcome mat is also out for our visitors — Grand Valley State, Kent State, Central Michigan, Ball State and Ohio University.

Saturday afternoon in America means just one thing — exciting, colorful intercollegiate football. This season at Bowling Green should provide a stadium full of thrills. With a quarterback, Mike Wright, who is a threat to either run or throw, and one of the finest receivers in the country in Jeff Groth, the Falcons should put plenty of points up on the board. The defense will be young and aggressive.

The Mid-American Conference is known for its balance. With six new head coaches in the league, the championship appears to be up for grabs. And as is most often the case, the MAC Championship will probably be decided on the last day of conference play.

Add to this the music of a great Falcon Marching Band, some special promotions for fans of all ages, Freddy Falcon and the cheerleaders, and you have the ingredients for five outstanding Saturday afternoons.

Come to the game early and join the many fans who are rapidly making "tailgating" a tradition at Bowling Green. After the game take the time to stroll the campus and observe its beauty, including the two newest facilities, the Student Recreation Center and the School of Musical Arts Center.

After the day is complete, we hope you will agree that one of the best ways to spend a fall afternoon is on the campus of Bowling Green State University.

Falcons' Kip Young Gives Tigers' Pitching A Shot In The Arm

by Steve Shutt

Just a little more than three years ago, Kip Young was pitching for Bowling Green State University from the mound in Warren E. Steller Field.

This past summer, Kip Young was pitching for the Detroit Tigers from the mound in Tiger Stadium and other stadia across the country.

In that short span, Kip has gone from college star to a professional pitcher with a future that couldn't be brighter.

While at Bowling Green, Young compiled a 37-6 record, a mark that may never be equaled. He also holds career records for earned run average (2.10), innings (296), and strikeouts (232). He compiled yearly records of 5-2, 10-1, 11-1, and 11-2. As a sophomore, Young was fifth in the nation with a 1.01 ERA and he was a second team All-Mid-American Conference pick.

Kip was picked for the All-MAC team All-Mid-American Conference pick. Young was Detroit's 23rd draft pick in the June 1976 draft and he spent time at the Tiger's Lakeland farm club before being promoted to Evansville (AAA) at the start of the spring. Kip pitched his way to an 11-3 mark in the American Association before being called up by the Tigers on July 20 of this past summer.

In his first appearance, a late inning relief stint, Young was credited with the loss on an unearned run. But, according to Kip, the fact that he won or lost that July 20 of this past summer.

Young was Detroit's 23rd draft pick in the June 1976 draft and he spent time at the Tiger's Lakeland farm club before being promoted to Evansville (AAA) at the start of the spring. Kip pitched his way to an 11-3 mark in the American Association before being called up by the Tigers on July 20 of this past summer.

In his first appearance, a late inning relief stint, Young was credited with the loss on an unearned run. But, according to Kip, the fact that he won or lost that first game is of little importance.

"The first time I pitched was more to take off the pressure than anything else," said Young. "I was in there to get my feet wet and get a few innings of experience before my first start."

On his reaction to being called up, Kip said, "It's difficult to exactly describe your emotions. I was 11-3 at Evansville at the time and I wasn't too surprised. I was very excited and pleased because it was something I had been shooting for a long time."

During his first summer of pitching in Detroit, Kip Young became something of a phenomenon. Following each of his first three starts, which he won, the crowd would remain in the stands chanting 'We Want Kip' until the rookie pitcher would appear for an encore. It was a scene reminiscent of the days of Mark Fidrych.

"The crowd couldn't have been any better," said Young. "They really made me feel welcome and also gave me a great deal of confidence."

The highlight of the summer came when Kip made his first trip to New York City and pitched against the Yankees. "I'd never been to New York," said Young, "and everything about it was great. The atmosphere of the city and playing in Yankee Stadium was great. Even though we lost, 4-2, it was a great feeling."

The transition from AAA level baseball to the majors was a big change for Kip, but he was not unprepared for it. "One of the biggest changes is in control. You have to have good control. And another change is that it is very important to know the hitter's strengths and weaknesses. But I was pretty well prepared because I had pitched a few innings during spring training and I had a year of Triple A ball behind me so I had an idea of what to expect."

"I more or less use three or four pitches and it depends on which ones are working as to the pitches I'll throw in a game. I rely a lot on my change or breaking pitches, but I have to see which ones are working best before each game. Then I'll go with my two best pitches whether it's the fastball and the curve or the curve and the change or whatever. But you have to have control."

Kip finished his first major league season with a 6-7 record and a 2.81 ERA. "I was pleased by my performance," said Young. "I hope I can pitch as well next year. I'd like to be able to keep my ERA down and average eight innings a game and have a lot better record."

As for the Tigers, Young is hoping for a big year in 1979 from the American League East squad. "We'll definitely be contenders because we have a good ball club," said Kip. "Not just a good club, but a good young club. On the other hand, so do Boston and New York and they're the teams we have to beat. But I think we'll be a better team next year — at least I hope we are."

"But as far as winning the pennant, that's something you just can't say. Now if we were in the other division, that would be another story."

Presently Kip is living in Winchester, Ohio with his wife and working on his father's farm. He manages to stay in shape by playing basketball two or three nights a week. But his routine does not include any throwing.

"Right now I'm resting my arm totally, not throwing at all. I'll exercise it a little bit later, in December and January, I threw a lot of innings between Evansville and Detroit this summer and the arm needs to be rested."

Young came to Bowling Green in the fall of 1972 as a baseball recruit of coach Don Purvis. "Coach Purvis recruited me and the main reason I came to Bowling Green was because I liked him as a person. I heard a lot about the school and its good sports program and the good education it offered.

"My four years at Bowling Green helped me a great deal in getting drafted and getting into baseball. And Coach Purvis did a lot for me. He helped me out a lot and I have to give him a lot of credit."

For Kip Young it has been a tremendous year, starting in Lakeland during spring training and concluding in Detroit with Kip reaching his goal of pitching in the majors. But the story is just beginning because Young has a great future ahead of him and you can be sure the people of Detroit are glad Kip Young is a Tiger.

The Andersons
Coach Denny Stolz

Denny Stolz, who helped revitalize the football program at Alma College and Michigan State, is currently in his second year as head coach at Bowling Green.

The former Big Ten Coach-of-the-Year has compiled a solid 58-36-1 record as head coach on the college level for a winning percentage of .617. Although the Falcons recorded a 5-7 mark in 1977, a pair of sound recruiting campaigns promise to brighten the outlook for the Falcons for this season and the future.

Before joining the Falcon staff, Stolz had served as head coach at Michigan State from 1973-75. He led the Spartans to an impressive 19-13-1 record which was the only winning record produced among Big Ten coaches other than Woody Hayes and Bo Schembechler.

Stolz started his rebuilding program at Michigan State with a 5-6 record in 1973, but a year later he directed the Spartans to a 7-3-1 mark for the best record at MSU since 1966. The team was 6-1-1 in conference play and only a tie with Illinois kept it out of the title picture. His efforts earned him coaching plaudits from the Big Ten and the Spartans finished in 12th place in the AP poll and 18th in the UPI ratings. A 16-13 win over Ohio State highlighted the campaign as the Buckeyes were ranked number one at the time.

A year later, Stolz led State to a 7-4 record and a third place Big Ten finish. Highlight of the 1975 season was a 10-3 upset of Notre Dame.

His coaching success earned him a spot as head coach of the North team in the 1976 All-American Bowl in Tampa, and he directed his team to a win over a South squad.

Stolz began his coaching career with the Spartans as an assistant to Duffy Daugherty in 1971. As defensive coordinator, his units ranked second and third in the league in total defense.

Prior to joining Daugherty, Stolz was head coach at Alma College from 1965-70. Taking over a team that had won just three games in four years, he molded Alma into a Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) power. During his six-year tenure, his teams won three MIAA titles, compiled an 18-game win streak and were unbeaten in 1967 and 1968.

A graduate of Alma and a native of Lansing, Mich., Stolz got his start in coaching at Haslett High School where he had a nine-year record of 40-13-3 from 1955 to 1965. He also spent a year as defensive coordinator at Lansing Eastern High School in 1964.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Alma in 1955 and a master's from MSU in 1960. He and his wife, Cena, are the parents of a son, Doak, 18, and daughters, Dawn, 17, and Denise, 10.

Gause Bounces Back To Become A Contributor

One of the more amazing stories on the Falcon football squad this fall is that of fullback Jim Gause. Two years ago, Gause was a promising junior fullback for Bowling Green. Then the bottom fell out. Gause was out of school because of grades and working in a tire factory back home in Chillicothe, Ohio.

"The thing I realized most while I was gone was just how much I missed football," said Jim. "You don't appreciate what you have until you lose it and then have to work to get it back."

"I didn't even know if the coaches would take me back," continued Gause. "I only had one year left and coaches like to build teams with younger players."

But Denny Stolz and his staff were willing to take a chance and Jim credits his family as being one of the major driving forces behind his return to football.

"I learned a lot about football from Coach (Mike) Rasmussen," continued Gause. "A lot of coaches teach discipline but he was teaching me more than discipline. I can't explain it. He was teaching me football and how to do it right. He stressed do it right or don't do it at all."

The change in position hasn't hurt Jim at all because he is such a versatile athlete. "I like playing football so much I'll play anywhere," said Jim. "As far as playing linebacker, I'm still a little green and I don't know all the tactics to be an outstanding linebacker, but I'm learning."

"When I was playing fullback I felt really comfortable. I was at a point where I was doing things that surprised even myself," said Jim.

Despite playing his first season at linebacker, Gause has been a solid contributor on the Falcon defense, having garnered over 80 tackles in the team's first 10 games. He had 14 tackles against Toledo and a dozen in games against Villanova and Central Michigan.

"Jim has been a fine addition to our defense this season," commented Falcon coach Denny Stolz. "He worked hard to get himself back in school this year and even if he doesn't play well, he can be proud of himself. He's made of something special.

Jim's love for football is not just a passing fad and a career in the professional ranks is one of his goals."

"Playing pro ball is definitely on my agenda for the future," said Gause. "I've talked to a few scouts but there's not a whole lot they can do right now. If I don't get drafted, I definitely plan on trying to make it as a free agent. I'll play anywhere they put me, just so I can play.

As for the '78 Falcons, Gause feels that there is more talent on the team than they have been exhibiting.

"Our team is good offensively and defensively," said Gause. "But we're just not playing as well as we should. The Miami game was a really tough one that we should have won and that kind of hurt us. The intensity fell off a little bit, but now it's coming back and I hope we'll be playing better."

Looking back at the games gone by, Holmes feels he has an explanation for the Falcon collapse. "Late in the season all the teams have scouted us really well whereas during the first few games we could do anything we wanted and they wouldn't know what was coming. Now they all know what we're going to do and the teams are much stronger."

And looking ahead to today's game with Ohio University, Ed said, "We can't play like we did against Central Michigan or Ball State if we want to win. But our offense is going to come around and score some points and the defense won't give up 30 points again."

After football comes a career in recreation for Holmes. "My major is physical education and recreation and I'd like to work at some large recreation facility or resort or in a commercial recreation department," said Holmes.

Today's Visitors—Ohio University

Hopefully, this year's Bowling Green's football team won't suffer the same fate that the last three BG teams did in their season finales. The Falcons not only will be trying to put the skids on a four-game regular-season losing streak, but they will also be trying to gain their first win in a season finale since the 1973 season against Northern Illinois.

A 21-21 tie with San Diego State in 1974 interrupted the streak, but since that time, Bowling Green has lost games to Texas, Arlington, Tennessee-Chattanooga and Cal State-Long Beach. In fact since 1969, BG has won just two games and tied one in season finales.

Ohio University is also on a losing streak of its own and the Bobcats will be trying to bounce back after dropping back-to-back games to Miami and Cincinnati in season finales.

FALCON NOTES — Today's Junior Bowl Falcon is David Loy of Ash Street in West sen. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Loy. Today's game will also include the drawing for the big winner in the Falcon-of-the-Week contest and some lucky boygirl will win a trip for their parents and themselves to Iowa State next fall.... The Falcon Athletic Department would also like to welcome all Boy Scouts in attendance today from around Northwest Ohio. Today is also Student Appreciation Day and $2,000 worth of prizes will be given away at halftime of the game in the contest sponsored by the BG News and the Falcon Athletic Department.

d* Denotes Letters Won
America has driven it to the top.

In just two short years over a million people have bought and enjoyed The New Chevrolet Caprice and Impala. Pretty darn impressive. Of course, one reason for the success of The New Chevrolet is that it’s simply a very beautiful car. And we suggest the ’79 version is even more beautiful.

But then we know it takes more than beauty to become the most popular car in America. It takes roominess. It takes some very impressive standard features. It takes a smooth, comfortable ride. And more.

The New Chevrolet for 1979. Pleasing to the eye. Pleasing in lots of other ways, too. It’s no wonder America’s driven it to the top.

See your Chevrolet dealer.

You’re invited to visit the Chevrolet “Locker Room” exhibit at the National Football Foundation’s new College Football Hall of Fame at King’s Island (25 miles north of Cincinnati). This unique museum lets you participate in the fascinating history of college football. Don’t miss it.
You decide...pizza or steak, a great play either way.

After the game, you'll want something great. Good Italian food or that all-American favorite, steak. Whatever your goal, just walk across the street. Ponderosa or Pizza Inn. No matter which, you win.

New BGSU Recreation Center To Open In January

The $9.35 million Recreation Center will open whole new avenues of opportunities for students, according to Dr. Richard Eakin, vice provost for student affairs and the man responsible for the well-being of the University's more than 16,000 students when they are not in the classroom.

"A residential university, like Bowling Green, must be able to provide students a social life, cultural life and recreational life in addition to the educational offering," Dr. Eakin said.

The Recreation Center, scheduled to open in January, will be a huge step forward in providing students with new opportunities in recreation as well as social and cultural outlets.

The building itself will be one of the finest indoor facilities of its kind in the state of Ohio. Designed by Thomas T. K. Zung of Cleveland, who was also the architect for the Alumni Center, the massive 185,000 square foot building has a very open design with one activity flowing into another.

The basic structure is formed by two rectangular buildings touching at right angles with two pie-shaped areas in between. The westernmost building houses the Olympic-sized (50 meters long) Samuel M. Cooper Pool. The pool's 25-yard width will permit meets to be held at one end while other activities could possibly continue at the other end. The pool features underwater viewing windows, has one, three, five and seven-and-a-half meter diving stations and a 17-foot depth. The pool area has seating for 1,300 spectators.

Dr. Eakin said the pool will be used by both the men's and women's intercollegiate swim teams, which will be the only intercollegiate use of the facility. "The top priority for this building is student recreation, but from the beginning it's been understood that the swim teams will be the only intercollegiate activity in the Center," Dr. Eakin said.

In September, 1977, the Board of Trustees named the pool in honor of Dr. Samuel M. Cooper, former swimming coach and chairman of the health and physical education department.

The east rectangular building will house the sports center, a huge, multi-purpose area that will accommodate four basketball courts or four tennis courts or combinations of volleyball and badminton courts. The sports center is rimmed by an elevated 190-yard banked running track.

Under the sports center are 14 handball or racquetball courts and three squash courts. The courts are two stories high and have openings along the back wall for viewing. Two of the handball/racquetball courts and one squash court have glass side walls.

Other features in the lower portion of the building include a golf room which will have four driving nets and a combination archery/golf studio that can accommodate seven targets or three golf-driving nets. The studio will also have an astroturf putting surface.

A 42 by 84-foot room is available for dancing or for combative arts such as wrestling, karate or boxing.

A 48 by 104-foot area above and at the east end of the building housing the Cooper Pool can be used as a singles tennis court, a volleyball court or as a tennis-hitting wall. A movable partition separates the room from the main pool area and during large swim meets, extra seating is provided in the room that overlooks the pool.

In addition to intercollegiate swim meets the pool will be used for instruction in health and physical education classes and for recreational swimming. Also, if they can be fit into the schedule, various swim meets, sponsored by outside groups, will be scheduled.

Two meets have already been set for the Cooper Pool next winter and spring, including the Northwest Ohio High School Women's Districts and the Women's State Intercollegiate Swim Meet.

In the pie-shaped section forming the rear of the building is the club swimming pool, which is 50 by 25-feet in size and will be used primarily for recreation. The pool is specially designed and equipped to accommodate handicapped persons. A three-tier sun deck is being built outside the entrance doors to the club pool which is on the lower level. The pool is expected to be popular with groups wanting to have swimming parties.

The pie-shaped area in front of the building contains the activities center, which will be available for students wanting to participate in pick-up basketball games, table tennis and other activities. Groups such as the Pommerettes can use the space to practice their routines.

The activities center is adjacent to the main entrance which features a huge status board that gives a quick rundown on the availability of courts and other facilities. The status board will be updated every half-hour. The entrance area is decorated with rough, sawed wood wains that have observation windows overlooking the pool and into the sports center.

A circular stairway leads from the main entrance area to a mezzanine which also overlooks the main pool as well as the activities center. Students can participate in a variety of machine games such as bumper pool, pool, football, air hockey, pinball and shuffleboard. There will also be vending machines for snacks.

The building has two exercise rooms, one for men, the other for women, which will contain a wide range of weight and exercise equipment. Also, there will be two locker rooms, each with 800 lockers, and saunas.

In addition to office space, there will be a pro shop where Center users can purchase various types of equipment and clothing.

R. J. (Ben) McGuire, the Director of Recreation at Bowling Green, checks progress on the university's new $9.35 million recreation center. The structure is scheduled to open for student use in January. McGuire will be in charge of the center.

Ohio University is the oldest of 13 state—assisted universities in Ohio. Founded in 1804, the history of the university goes back even further to the Ordinance of 1787. This historical document provided for settlement of the Northwest Territory and set aside certain land revenues to assure that in the newly-opened lands "schools and the means of education (would) forever be encouraged."

Within the Mid-American Conference Ohio University is the only remaining charter member. In the National College Athletic Association's proposal for a new football division, Ohio University is in Division I, the so-called "Super Division."

A primary attraction of Ohio University is its 500-acre residential campus. The 120 classroom and residential buildings, mostly red brick and of Georgian architecture, are in groupings appropriately called "greens." The locale of the university is in the hilly forested southeastern section of the state and the Hocking River flows along the edge of the campus.

Athletic facilities line the south side of the campus and include the football stadium, the 13,000 seat Convocation Center (home of the Bobcats), a baseball diamond, and ice rink, and all-purpose physical education facility, soccer field, a new all-weather track, natatorium, a nine-hole golf course, 25 lighted tennis courts and five lighted practice fields.

The University provides a wide range of cultural activities for not only the University community but for all of southeastern Ohio. On a given day you may choose among several diverse possibilities. All of the lecturers, poets, singers, dancers, films and theater or music groups appearing on campus are available within walking distance of the residence halls. Many events are free, though some do have nominal charges.

There are 12 state parks and thousands of acres of state and national forest within easy driving distance of the campus. The parks have facilities for swimming, boating, camping, hiking, picnicking and fishing. When you need to get away, it's possible to walk for hours in the woods without running across dwellings, cars or other people. But if you really need a taste of city life now and then, Columbus and Cincinnati are within reasonable driving distance.
ATHLETIC SECRETARIES: Playing a vital role in the day-to-day activities of the Bowling Green athletic department are the staff secretaries. The group includes (L-R) — Becky Meek, Opal Adams, Ann Jones, Jan Kiehl, Lou-Ann Terhune, Ann Baer and Sandy Graf.

STADIUM MAINTENANCE TEAM: The men responsible for keeping the stadium and surrounding athletic plant in great shape is the athletic fields and facilities crew under the direction of Ken Schoeni, administrative assistant. The group includes (L-R) — Jerry Hiser, Dan Malone, Jerry Jimison, Schoeni, Norm Jimison, Butch Patton and Bud Sawyer. Missing are Curly Foster and Dick Layman.

Dear Falcon Fan:

We share with you an enthusiastic desire for winning athletics at Bowling Green. In order to sustain a winning program, however, we must meet the financial challenges of athletic excellence. Falcon Club membership offers you an opportunity to get behind our teams and coaches. Falcon Club donations have been the salvation of our program, and to win in 1978 will require a supreme Falcon Club effort.

I am interested in learning more about the Falcon Club and its activities.

Falcon Athletes Have Another Impressive Year

Bowling Green continued to display a well-rounded sports program on the state, regional and national level in 1977-78 with some outstanding efforts by many of the Falcons' men’s and women’s teams.

Boasting the largest total sports program in the Mid-American Conference and one of the most extensive in the nation (24 sports), Bowling Green compiled its third best overall season ever in 1977-78 with a winning percentage of .606. Only a .630 mark in 1975-76 and a .618 ledger in 1973-74 bettered last year’s effort.

Highlight of the 1977-78 sports year was the hockey team’s third place finish in the NCAA playoffs in Providence, R.I. Coach Ron Mason’s skaters captured the CCHA regular-season and playoff crowns and then bested Colorado College in the CCHA Midwest Regional Championship.

In addition to the hockey team’s performance, the BG men’s golf team, by winning the MAC, earned a trip to the NCAA Tournament at the University of Oregon and various members of the other men’s and women’s teams earned trips to national championship.

Championships garnered by Bowling Green teams during the campaign were by the men’s golf team (MAC), the women’s swimming team (state title) and women’s track (state title). Runner-up performances were achieved by the men’s cross country team and the women’s tennis team.

Three Wichita championships and an 118-33 record in 13 years of varsity play are on the books. The powerful women’s swimming team (state title) and women’s track (state title) were also highlighted thanks to such figures as Olympic gold medalist Marquette, Loyola and Duquesne. The women’s team has finished second three times and fourth twice in seven Ohio state championships, and enters the new season under coach Kathy Bole.

CROSS-COUNTRY — Coach Mel Brodt’s squads have racked up an impressive 110-35 mark during his 18 years at the helm and the BG women are annually in the best in the Midwest. BG has had 20 winning seasons in 22 years and four top-10 finishes nationally since 1969. The women’s teams continue to shine with a ninth place finish in last year’s AIAW meet and a sixth place finish in the Midwest Championships.

FIELD HOCKEY — Under new coach Pat Brett and with an increased emphasis the team should start reaping the benefits this season after a couple of hard-luck seasons. The 1977 squad held four opponents scoreless and limited four others to a single tally.

FOOTBALL — Don Stottlemyre will be in his second year as the Falcon’s head coach with some solid returnees and an exceptional freshman class as he looks to lead the Falcons to their 22nd winning season in the last 24 years. That winning tradition placed the Falcons in the nation’s top 25 winningest teams in major-college football. An appearance in the nation’s top 20 (19th) in 1973 and “big-game” victories over Purdue, Syracuse (twice) and Brigham Young highlight the ’70’s. Future games are booked with Iowa State, Kentucky, Michigan State, Baylor, Washington, North Carolina, Oregon State, Arizona and Brigham Young.

GOLF — Twelve tournament championships in the last seven years and consistent “top five” finishes gives the men’s teams one of the best records in the Midwest. The 1977 team captured the MAC title for the third time in the 70’s and ranked sixth in the NCAA’s. The men have cracked the nation’s top 30 on three occasions thanks in part to being able to prep on the University’s own 18-hole course. The men’s team has been a consistent contender in most tournaments in the Midwest and won the state title in 1974.

GYMNASTICS — One of the fastest rising BG programs from the standpoint of spectator interest and competitive skill, the women’s team placed second in the last four state championships and was seventh in the Midwest meet last year while rolling up a fine 14-1 slate.

HOCKEY — Just a varsity sport at BG for nine years, the Falcons have quickly become one of the nation’s top college teams. The skaters were third in the 1978 NCAA Championships after finishing fifth in 1977. Coach Ron Mason’s team has been ranked in the top ten the last four seasons, the Falcons have compiled an outstanding 191-110-12 record in the nine seasons of their existence. Capacity crowds at the 3,000 seat BGSU Ice Arena are a common sight.

LACROSSE — In the last five years, the men’s team has a 51-10 record which ranks as one of the best in the nation. Three Midwest championships and an 118-33 record in 13 years of varsity play are on the books. The powerful women’s team claimed the 1975 Midwest crown and is 27-11-4 for the last three years.

SOCCER — In four of the last six years, BG has been ranked as one of the four top teams in Ohio. NCAA tournament appearances in 1972 and 1973 highlight the 70’s.

SWIMMING — With a new Olympic-sized swimming pool near completion on campus, BG’s swimming fortunes should be able to move into the new facility.

Tennis — One of the fastest rising BG programs from the standpoint of spectator interest and competitive skill, the women’s team placed second in the last four state championships and was seventh in the Midwest meet last year while rolling up a fine 14-1 slate.

VOLLEYBALL — Consistently one of the best teams in the state, the women’s team captured the MAC title in 1977 with an impressive 27-7 record.

WRESTLING — With 21 non-losing seasons in the last 24 years, the Falcons have garnered three MAC titles and produced 15 individual champions in the last two decades.

Cut out the entry blank below with your guess of how many empty cans of Marathon’s Ultra-D™ oil are in the Plymouth Horizon parked at the end of the stadium. Either enter your guess in the boxes located under the stadium, register at Al Smith Chrysler Plymouth, 921 N. Main Street, or mail to WKIQ 93 FM, 143 E. Wooster St, Bowling Green, Ohio 43402 before midnight November 14, 1978. You need not attend a Falcon game or be present for the half time announcements of the winner during the November 18, 1978 football game, Bowling Green State University versus Ohio University. The correct or closest entry (without going over) received by mail or dropped in an official entry box will be declared the winner. Said winner shall receive the use of a 1979 Plymouth Horizon. This Horizon will be theirs for a period of twelve months (not to exceed 20,000 miles). This car does not include insurance, gas, oil, service charges or repair. You must be 18 years of age or older and have a valid driver’s license. When returned the car will be subject to a market value appraisal. In the event of a tie, a drawing will be held and all results are final. Employees of WKIQ, Al Smith Chrysler-Plymouth and Marathon Oil and their immediate families are not eligible.

ELIMINATE WINTER TIRE CHANGEOVER

Steel Belted Radial
The Tire You've Seen Advertised on TV

Here's the tire you need for almost any road or almost any weather. Steel-belted radial tires give you a great grip on snow and ice. They provide extra traction by using the steel belts that are unique to Goodyear radial construction. You get a divided or asymmetrical tread that runs off road by road to keep the tire on the road. Tiempo—the tire that runs it all.
