Welcome to Doyt Perry Field

Something for everyone — that's the theme for Bowling Green football in 1979. There is no finer family entertainment than college football on a Saturday afternoon. In addition to exciting MAC action, the Falcon Athletic Department has put together a series of pre-game and halftime shows and special promotions which we feel will appeal to fans of all ages.

Starting with the gala Shrine parade on September 8 and Band Day on September 22, throughout the season there will be sky divers, gifts and surprises for the youngsters, an automobile show, Homecoming activities and much, much more. Add to this one of the country's finest marching bands, tailgate parties and a football team with one of the most explosive offenses in the nation, and you've got a great day of entertainment.

A warm welcome to all of our fans and our special guests from Eastern Michigan, Central Michigan, Toledo, Miami and Southern Mississippi. We hope you thoroughly enjoy your day on the Bowling Green campus. And after the game, take the time to stroll the campus and visit its many outstanding buildings and facilities.

When the day is complete, we hope you will agree that it was an exciting visit. We hope to see you at many future Falcon athletic events.

For the first time since 1971, Bowling Green will find itself facing a Mid-American Conference opponent in its opening day game and third-year coach Denny Stolz is keeping his fingers crossed that the results will be the same as they were eight years ago. In that tilt, the Falcons traveled to Ohio University and came away with a hard-fought 20-19 victory over the Bobcats.

Today's matchup between BG and Eastern Michigan will be the 15th meeting between the two schools and both schools will be trying to bounce back from losing seasons. The Hurons, under first-year coach Mike Stock, fell to 3-7 after posting an 8-3 record the previous season, while BG was 4-7 following a 4-2 start.

Both squads boast a number of key returnees from clubs of a year ago. Eastern welcomed back 35 lettermen and Bowling Green returned 38 from the Mid-American Conference's top offensive club.

The two met last year in Ypsilanti in mid-September. The BG came away with a 43-6 win over the Hurons thanks in part to an outstanding effort by quarterback Mike Wright. The Wellesville native completed just nine of 14 passes for 114 yards, but three of the tosses were good for touchdowns and his 12 carries netted 76 yards and another Falcon tally. The Falcon offense gained 470 yards in the game and led 36-0 at the half and 43-0 after three quarters before a late Eastern touchdown made the final score 43-6.

However, Stock's 1979 defense should be much stronger than a year ago thanks to the return of such key performers as linebacker Ray Welch, defensive back Buster Johnson and tackle Kevin Wilkinson. The latter was 4-7 following a 4-2 start at linebacker.

Callesen has moved to end this year and Bowling Green will find itself facing a Mid-American Conference's top defensive unit and the changes gave that group quite a lift in spring drills and enthusiasm hasn't been better going into a season opener in Stolz's three seasons.

On the defense, Mike Callesen is back to lead that group with help from senior John Fitzpatrick and junior Todd Gates. All had good 1978 seasons and will be better this fall. Callesen has moved to end this year after three years at linebacker.

The Falcons will be away at Iowa State next Saturday afternoon, but return two weeks from today against perennial MAC power Central Michigan University. The game will also be Band Day at BGSU with hundreds of bandsmen on hand from throughout the state of Ohio.

Head Coach
Denny Stolz

Denny Stolz is in his third year at Bowling Green State University following successful coaching stints at Alma College and Michigan State University.

A former Big Ten Coach-of-the-Year, he has amassed a 72-43-1 record as a collegiate head coach for a winning percentage of .591. That percentage could improve this season as Stolz’ original recruits begin to mature in their third year in the program.

Before coming to Bowling Green, Stolz was the head coach at Michigan State from 1973-75. During his three year tenure, he led the Spartans to a 19-13-1 record which was the only winning record produced among Big Ten coaches other than Woody Hayes and Bo Schembechler.

His first club posted a 5-6 record in 1973, but a year later, he directed the Spartans to a 7-3-1 mark for the best effort at State since the 1966 season. The team was 6-1-1 in conference play and only a tie with Illinois kept it out of the title picture. His efforts earned him coaching plaudits from the Big Ten and the Spartans finished 12th in the AP poll and 18th in the UPI ratings. A 16-13 win over Ohio State highlighted the campaign as the Buckeyes were ranked number one at the time.

A year later, Stolz led State to a 7-4 record and a third place finish in the Big Ten. One of the team’s big wins was a 10-3 decision over Notre Dame.

His coaching success earned him a spot as head coach of the North team in the 1976 All-American Bowl in Tampa and he directed his team to a win over the South team.

Stolz began his coaching career with the Spartans as an assistant to Duffy Daugherty in 1971. As defensive coordinator, his units ranked second and third in the league in total defense.

Prior to joining Daugherty, Stolz was head coach at Alma College in Michigan from 1965-70. Taking over a team that had won just three games in four years, he molded Alma into a Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) power. During his six years as head coach, his teams won three MIAA titles, compiled an 18-game win streak and posted back-to-back unbeaten seasons in 1967 and 1968.

A 1955 graduate of Alma and a native of Lansing, Mich., Stolz got his start in coaching at Haslett High School where he had a nine-year record of 40-13-3 from 1955-63. He also spent a year as defensive coordinator at Lansing Eastern High School in 1964.

Denny and his wife, Cena, are the parents of a son, Doak, 19, and daughters, Dawn, 18, and Denise, 11.
Senior Spotlight

Beaber Likes Falcons' Improved Attitude
By Kevin McDermott

The way Tom Beaber looks at it, the 1979 season should be the start of something good for Falcon football.

"I think Coach Stolz is building a strong program here," Tom said. "All of his recruiting years have been excellent. It's eventually going to be a program that can compete on a national level," he said with a positive nod.

Looking at the season, the senior center from Whetstone High School in Columbus feels this is the year to do it.

"If this program is going to get off the ground, it's going to be this year," said Tom. "Team-wise we'll be a good team. We have a good attitude, the best I've seen," he continued. "This is the first time since I've been here that we've formed a winning attitude."

Tom reflected on last year's team, briefly; enough to contrast the differences with this year's team.

"Last year we started good," he explained, but we didn't have the experience and we faded out later in the year. This year we have experience, depth and a great attitude. If we get untracked early," he predicted, "we'll be tough."

After being recruited by Iowa State and Kentucky, Tom chose Bowling Green because "it was close to home and I was impressed with the winning program," he said admitting to another important factor. That having to do with his enjoying a challenge.

"I had faith in Bowling Green," he said. "The two other schools really interested in me were looking for smaller schools to schedule and Bowling Green was looking for bigger schools."

Tom's strong feelings toward football is proven by his desire to go into coaching. A social studies major, he points toward his position as a Falcon coach in the future.

"Being associated with the people, players and coaches has been the best part for me," he said. "I want to go into coaching. I've seen Coach Stolz's program for three years and I believe in the way the coaches go about it. It's a proven program, and it will be a winning program."

Beaber figures to be right in the middle of the starting center position this fall following two years in a reserve capacity behind Joe Studer. However, when injuries shelved Studer in the fall of 1977, Beaber stepped in and started games against Hawaii and Cal State-Long Beach and did a solid job in his initial starts. With two years experience under his belt, the Falcon coaches are hopeful that he can step in and fill the void left by the graduation of Studer.

Revealing a coach's approach, Tom made a final analysis about the 1979 Falcon squad.

"The players have better attitudes toward football now more than ever before," he started, "We're capable of the big plays, and I think that's important for a team. We're young but experienced, we know each other now and how everybody plays." He paused momentarily. "We have to hold onto the ball to succeed." Then he quietly let out a comment as if not to disturb anyone. "I think we'll surprise a lot of people."

Groth Looks For Improved Year
By Kevin McDermott

For Doug Groth and the Falcons, the key to the 1979 football season is consistency in the defense and the kicking game. No one understands that better than the senior punter from Chagrin Falls.

"Being inconsistent was definitely my problem last year," admitted Doug, who averaged 34.4 yards-per-kick last year as well as playing backup quarterback. According to Doug, however, things are definitely going to change this year.

"I had some problems last year but that's all behind me now," he said. "There's no doubt I can be more consistent this year. I feel a lot of responsibility and obligation to perform at a high level."

Going into this season, football is looking brighter than ever before, says Doug.

"The freshmen seem to fit in real well and everybody's working hard," he said. "We're working as hard as we've ever worked since I've been here and the attitude is real good." He reflected on the morale.

"It could be a situation where things are going down, because we've had a couple of bad seasons in a row. Instead," Doug said, "things are on the upswing. Everything's looking good."

As for being a quarterback in Bowling Green the past four years, breaking in hasn't been that easy. In fact, it's been nearly impossible.

"I've played behind one All-American (Mark Miller) and another that's going to be one (Mike Wright) and I have no regrets," admitted Doug. "I would love to play quarterback, but playing behind Mike says it all. I have no complaints. There aren't too many quarterback like Mike Wright in the MAC or anywhere else for that matter."

Besides Mike Wright, Doug also has a big brother reputation to follow. Jeff, who graduated last year, is now playing for the Miami Dolphins. He's the all-time leading receiver in BG history. Doug looks at it humorously.

"When I first came here as a freshman," he said, "I thought I was going to have to follow in his footsteps, but I found out he takes big steps."

As for his future, Doug, a communications major, hopes to get a crack at professional baseball. He's been a two sport man at BG for the past three years. As a Falcon pitcher last year, he carved out a 1.99 ERA to go along with a 3-2 record. It's all up to him.

"My ultimate goal is pro baseball," he said, "and I'll go as far as my ability can take me."

Looking at the upcoming football season, Doug, being one of only a handful of seniors, had this to say.

"Of the seniors that are left, we feel like we have something to prove to the coaches and the MAC. We can compete on a high level and we're determined to do the best we can and do it well," he said. "But it's not going to be just the seniors. It's got to be a team effort," he said looking forward to the season.

THE FIRST CHEVY OF THE '80s. CITATION. OUR MOST SUCCESSFUL NEW CAR EVER.

Ever since its introduction, people have been flooding Chevy showrooms across the country to see the 1980 Chevy Citation. And according to Retail Delivery Reports, 33,765 units were sold in its first three weeks, more than any new entry Chevrolet has ever introduced.

MID-SIZE ROOM FOR 5.

Citation's engine is mounted sideways, so the passenger compartment can be bigger. In fact, in EPA interior dimensions, Citation is classified as a mid-size car. With the back seat folded down there's room enough for two adults in front and 30 bags of groceries in back.

O TO 50 IN 9 SECONDS FLAT WITH THE AVAILABLE V6.

In engineering tests, Citation goes from 0 to 50 in 9 seconds flat. That's with available 2.8 Liter V6 engine and automatic transmission. California figures not available. (Citation is equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. See your dealer for details.)

EASY ON GAS. 24 EPA ESTIMATED MPG. 36 HIGHWAY ESTIMATE.

That's with Citation's standard 2.5 Liter 4-cylinder engine and manual transmission. (Manual transmission currently not available in California. Calif. estimates lower.)

Citation's standard 4-speed transmission is made to conserve gas. It's an overdrive. And at cruising speeds the 4th gear lets the engine run slower than with a conventional transmission, helping to get impressive fuel economy.

IMPRESSIVE LONG-RANGE CRUISING ESTIMATES, TOO.

And Citation's long-range cruising estimates are just as impressive. 336 miles based on EPA estimated MPG (city) mileage figures, and 532 miles based on estimated highway MPG. Range figures obtained by multiplying Citation's 14-gallon fuel tank capacity rating by the EPA mileage estimates.

REMEMBER: Compare the circled estimated MPG to the estimated MPG of other cars. You may get different mileage and range depending on your speed, trip length and weather. Your actual city mileage and range will be less in heavy city traffic. Your actual mileage will probably be less than the highway estimate.

YOU'VE GOT TO DRIVE IT TO BELIEVE IT.

When you drive Citation you'll see what all the excitement is about. The way it feels. The way it maneuvers. The way it rides. And Citation's front wheel drive puts approximately 65% of its weight over the "driving wheels" to give you impressive traction on wet or snowy roads.

IT'S A WHOLE NEW KIND OF COMPACT CAR.

There's still a lot about Citation that we haven't mentioned. Like slip stream design to cut down on wind resistance and wind noise. The hidden cargo area in all hatchback models, so what's inside is protected from view. A dual diagonal braking system. And much, much more. That's why we encourage you to see your Chevy dealer and test drive the 1980 Chevy Citation today. This could be the car you've had in mind.

1980 CHEVY CITATION

Failure to wear required equipment
At Honda we have never believed in making lots of different types of cars. But 1979 is a different kind of year for Honda. We’ve introduced two new cars. The Accord 4-Door Sedan and the Honda Prelude. You might say we’ve opened things up a bit. Literally.

Our new Prelude boasts a power-operated, tinted glass moonroof as standard equipment. The moonroof comes with a manual sunshade, like the window shade on a jetliner.

Not only does our new Accord sedan have four doors, it has a nice, big trunk as well. It also has a lever that allows you to release the lid from the driver’s seat.

So if you’re thinking about buying a new car, take a close look at our new Hondas. And open the door to simplicity.

Pregame humor Holtz' best tension-easer

Many football coaches become extremely upset over any unforeseen happening that affects their squad's timetable prior to an important game. An exception is Lou Holtz of University of Arkansas. He seems to thrive on surprises.

In the Arkansas dressing room before the scheduled kickoff of its 1978 Orange Bowl game against Oklahoma, coach Holtz was keenly mindful of the fact that he had been told, officially, to have his team in the tunnel to take the field at precisely 40 seconds after 8:14 p.m.

"I timed my pregame talk to fit the situation," Holtz recalls. "I climaxed it by telling our players how underrated they were, that here was the golden opportunity to go out and gain the respect of people throughout the nation. But suddenly there appeared on the scene the Orange Bowl committeeman assigned to us, a very nice man, Judge Peter B. Fay of the United States Fifth District Court. Quickly, Judge Fay informed me that the Rose Bowl game on NBC was running late and our game, also on NBC, would be delayed at least eight minutes, and maybe 10 or 15 minutes.

"What to do with this unexpected extra time? I told my players that my repertoire of jokes was wearing mighty thin, and I wanted some volunteers to take the floor and tell their favorite jokes. But I said the jokes had to be short ones.

"Well, that's what we did to kill time, and some of their stories were terrible. But the main thing was that the boys were loose and in a good mood when we did take the field."

Holtz' final joke, reportedly, was to advise his squad that the last 11 players out of the dressing room had to start against Oklahoma.

Arkansas recovered two Oklahoma fumbles in the first quarter and trounced the heavily favored Sooners, 31-6, although playing without its trounced the heavily favored Sooners, fumbles in the quarter and first four months after that night.

"I couldn't believe the pregame dressing room scene," Judge Fay related afterward. "Lou even asked if I had a joke to tell. I passed, but there was a remarkable coincidence I experienced about four months after that night.

"The judges of the Fifth Circuit were holding a meeting in New Orleans along with the State Bar Association presidents from six states, and some guests. Our principal speaker was Vice-President Walter Mondale, and we were operating with the secret service on a split-second schedule much like those NBC-TV people had done at the Orange Bowl.

"As I was presiding at the morning sessions at which Mondale was to appear, it was my assignment to introduce him. He was due to enter the room exactly at 11:49. I planned the program accordingly, giving the preliminary speakers just enough time to be through a minute or so before Mondale arrived.

"During the middle of the last speech, a member of the vice-president's advance party got word to me that Mondale would be 18 minutes late and that none of the 1,200 people present were to leave the room.

"Well, I announced to them what the situation was and asked their indulgence and patience. I was in a heck of a situation, and I wanted him to come up here and tell a story. The minute the game is over, I want you players who are on the field to form a semicircle. (He drew a semicircle on the blackboard.) Then, I want you players who are on the bench to rush the top or the bottom of the Southeastern Conference, as long as your boys play fair and get wholesome exercise. The reason I'm writing this in crayon is that they won't let me have anything sharp here."

The late Rex Enright, as University of South Carolina head coach in 1955, his last season, faced his squad before the Virginia game after having lost four in a row. "Boys, we are going to try something new," he said. "The minute the game is over, I want you players who are on the field to form this semicircle. (He drew a semicircle on the blackboard.) Then, I want you players who are on the bench to rush over and close the circle. (He completed the circle with his crayon.) I'll be in the middle of the circle and we'll all run like hell for the dressing room."

It isn't known how much the gag helped, but South Carolina broke its losing streak.

The National Football Foundation's
College Football Hall of Fame

The College Football Hall of Fame's first year of operation was a scrapbook year. Its broad appeal captured the enthusiasm and support of all who visited the shrine, from the 2,200 dignitaries and guests who attended the August 3, 1978, dedication, to the many notables from both inside and outside the football community who have enjoyed the sights and sounds of the building, to the thousands of other individuals who have reveled in the history and excitement of the museum.

The reason for this wide acclaim is that this is the most advanced sports museum in the world. It includes computerized games and quizzes, four theaters with continuously running films, a futuristic Hall of Fame gallery, a 1/8 mile long Time Tunnel and an opportunity to kick a field goal and hear a crowd roar.

The College Football Hall of Fame is located at Kings Island, a 1600-acre family entertainment center situated on Interstate-71, just 20 miles north of Cincinnati. The Hall of Fame is open daily except Christmas. Operating hours are from 9:00 am to 7:00 pm from Memorial Day to Labor Day and 10:00 am to 5:00 pm the rest of the year.

Army's legendary Coach and Hall of Famer Colonel Earl "Red" Blaik was the keynote speaker when the Hall of Fame was dedicated in August, 1978. He spoke to the crowd of more than 2,200 dignitaries and guests on behalf of all Hall of Famers.

The All-Star Kicker is a prime example of the visitor-participation that makes up the Hall of Fame. There are cheers if you make the field goal, boos if you miss.

The central stair gallery provides access to all other exhibit areas. Hanging memorabilia reflect the tone of the entire Hall of Fame building.

A glass-enclosed sculpture of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame logo is the highlight of the Hall of Fame Room. It stands as a tribute to all 467 enshrined Hall of Famers.

Former President Gerald Ford, 1972 winner of the National Football Foundation's highest award, The Gold Medal, listens to a recording of his biography in the Hall of Fame Gold Medal Room.

Dan Devine, Notre Dame Head Football Coach, proudly displays his scorecard from the computer strategy quiz. Devine played the game at its most difficult level, "Coach," and scored 100.
