STADIUM INFORMATION

Food Town Super Markets

- General admission ticket prices for the 1982 Bowling Green football season have been revised. Reserved chair seats for single games remain $7.00, individual reserved bench seats on the east side of the stadium remain $6.00, and BGSU student general admission seats are still $2.00, but other price categories have been revised. Any group of 15 or more may now purchase reserved bench seats on the east side of the stadium for $3.50 each. Also, a group of 15 or more BGSU students may purchase reserved bench seats on the east side for $2.00. In addition to the chair seats, there are three general admission price ranges on the west side. Adult general admission is $3.50; youth (high school age and younger) general admission is $2.50; and BGSU student general admission is $2.00. A general admission ticket for the new 5,000-plus end zone seats in both the north and south end zones costs $2.50.
- We request your cooperation in observing the rules and traditions of this University and of the state law which makes it illegal to bring or consume alcoholic beverages of any kind at an athletic event.
- Rest rooms are located on both the east and west sides of the stadium and can be found between ramps 2 and 4, 6 and 8, and 3 plus 5 and 7.
- Telephones are conveniently located in the stadium next to all the rest room facilities.
- If anyone is in need of emergency medical attention, contact the ambulance crew in the northeast corner of the stadium.

Welcome alumni!

It has been only four months since I began my duties as president of Bowling Green State University, but already I have been able to understand the great attraction that this University has for its students, staff, faculty and alumni. There is a certain spirit here — something that you, as alumni, help create — that makes Bowling Green an exciting place in which young people can learn and mature.

Since last spring I have talked to many alumni and they all seem to exhibit the same trait — a tremendous pride in Bowling Green. Our graduates can, and do, play an extremely vital role in this University — in what it is and what it can become. In fact, our reputation for academic excellence ultimately will depend not only upon our research and teaching efforts, but upon the performance and reputation attained by our graduates, and upon their support for their Alma Mater.

As Bowling Green faces the challenge of attracting students from a diminishing college-age population, we are going to call upon our alumni for assistance in our recruiting efforts — perhaps asking you to identify top high school students who may be interested in receiving the same educational opportunities you had as a student at Bowling Green.

In the meantime, please enjoy your visit. For some of you the physical changes in the campus are quite noticeable. Even more important are many of the exciting developments in the academic area that have brought recognition of the University’s excellence from a variety of sources, including Phi Beta Kappa, which recently authorized establishment of a chapter on the campus.

I expect to visit several alumni chapters during the next year to meet and talk with many of you.

Thank you for your continuing interest in Bowling Green. Come back to see us often.

Doyt L. Perry Field

This is the seventeenth year that the Falcons have played their football games in Doyt L. Perry Stadium. Built in 1966 for approximately $2.8 million, it now has a seating capacity of 30,000 with the addition of the seats in the end zone over the past summer.

The field is named in honor of the man who coached the Falcons to a 77-10-5 record from 1955-64. Perry remained as Bowling Green's athletic director for six years after stepping down as football coach. Now retired, Perry is still a nine month resident of Bowling Green, and is one of the Falcons' staunchest boosters.

The east side of the stadium includes dressing rooms, the equipment and training rooms, and most of the athletic department offices. On the west side are the maintenance area, storage rooms, handball courts, the track offices, the Falcon Club office and the Falcon Clubhouse. Sitting atop the press box on the west side is the Stadium Club. Now in its third year of operation, the Stadium Club has 106 theatre-type seats, and is one of the finest facilities of its kind in the midwest.

Bowling Green won the first game ever played in Perry Field, blanking Dayton, 13-0, on October 1, 1966. Coming into this season, the Falcons have a 44-33-2 record in games played here.

- HOME OF THE FIGHTING FALCONS -
By Allan Chamberlin

The Falcons were unable to ruin the festivities at Miami's Homecoming last weekend, but they did ruin a Homecoming last year, and you can bet Northern Illinois remembers it. The Falcons went into DeKalb winless last season but came away with a 17-10 victory over NIU, damping the Huskies' Homecoming.

It will be a hungry, well-rested NIU squad that will try to reverse that decision today on Bowling Green's 61st Homecoming celebration. Due to a scheduling mix-up, the Huskies did not play last week, so they have had an extra week to prepare for the Falcons.

BG's disappointing 17-12 loss at Miami on regional television last Saturday took the Falcons' destiny out of their hands, but one Miami loss to anyone in the next six weeks could return the Falcons to the top of the Mid-American Conference standings.

Miami leads the MAC with a 3-0 record in league play. BG and Toledo are tied for second at 2-1. Since everyone in the MAC except Miami already has a league loss, the Redskins are assured of the MAC Championship and the berth in the California Bowl that goes with it if they win the rest of their league games. However, should the Redskins lose a game, they are at a distinct disadvantage since they play one less league game than the rest of the contenders.

One Miami loss would leave the Redskins at 7-1 in league games for the year. Should the Falcons rebound from last week's disappointing defeat with five straight victories, they would win the league title and California Bowl berth if Miami loses one or more games.

For now, the Falcons must just hope that Miami stumbles and concentrate on rebounding from the loss to Miami. Today's opponent, Northern Illinois, comes into the game hungry and well rested. The Huskies enter today's game with a 1-3 overall record and a 1-2 mark in league play. The NIU defense has played well for the most part, but a lack of offense, particularly a passing game, has hindered the Huskies.

In their first four games, the Huskies have managed just five touchdowns, and three of them came in NIU's victory over Kent State. The NIU defense has played well in three of the four games, the win over Kent State and losses to Toledo (9-3) and Ball State (14-7).

Both the NIU offense and defense had their problems when the Huskies lost to Northwestern, 31-6, on September 25, a game that broke Northwestern's longest-in-the-nation losing streak.

An injury to quarterback Rick Bridges has hurt the NIU offense. A gifted athlete who can run or pass, Bridges is expected to be available for some duty today after missing the last two games with a pulled hamstring. Helping to pick up the slack has been junior tailback Pete Roth. He leads the MAC in rushing with an average of 119.0 yards per game.

The Falcon offense has moved the ball well all year, but turnovers and costly penalties have hurt BG in the last two weeks. BG outgained Miami 318-216 in total offense last week, and had 21 first downs to 12 for Miami, yet ended up on the short end of the score. The reason was simple, turnovers. Seven of them. Five pass interceptions certainly hurt, but it was a fumble that turned the game around. The Falcons had dominated the second quarter, cutting Miami's lead to 7-6, and after holding Miami on the first possession of the third quarter, the Falcons took over on their own 48-yard line.

BG quickly drove to a first down on the Miami 15, but a fumble on the next play by Lamont Wagner stopped the drive. One Miami first down and a long punt pinned the Falcons deep in their own territory. On second down, a deflected pass landed in the arms of a surprised Miami tackle who strolled into the end zone. Moments earlier the Falcons had seemed to be on the verge of taking the lead and control of the game. Instead, they trailed, 14-6, and never recovered.

Despite the five interceptions, freshman quarterback Brian McClure put on a passing show. He set a pair of BGSU records by completing 29 of 41 passes for 312 yards and a touchdown. Greg Taylor caught 10 passes including a 37-yarder for a touchdown, and Shawn Potts and Chip Otten caught eight passes each.

The Falcon defense was superb against Miami. The Redskins had averaged 343 yards and 29.3 points coming into the game. The Falcon defense limited Miami to 218 yards and 10 points. Linebackers Mark Eman and Terry Gyetvai took part in 19 and 18 tackles, respectively. Also playing strong games for the Falcons were freshman end Troy Dawson, tackle Stu Tolle and end Larry Stratton.

Huskies Try To Ruin BG’s Homecoming

TEAMMATES

Old Milwaukee brings you two great players. Old Milwaukee, the beer that tastes as great as its name. And Old Milwaukee Light, the beer that got the taste of light right. Any way you play it, that's one great team.
As he enters his sixth season at Bowling Green, former Big 10 Coach of the Year Denny Stolz feels his program has turned the corner and that Bowling Green is headed back toward the top of the Mid-American Conference. Last season, the Falcons won five games in a row late in the season to climb to fourth place in the MAC, BG's best finish since 1975.

Stolz brings a 22-33-1 record into the 1982 season. Overall, he has a 75-62-1 record in 14 years of collegiate coaching at Alma College, Michigan State and Bowling Green. He rejuvenated the football programs at Alma College and Michigan State by producing unbeaten seasons at Alma in 1967 and 1968, and the best record in eight years at Michigan State in 1974 when he led the Spartans to 7-3-1 record in his second year there.

A native of Lansing, MI, Stolz grew up in Mason, MI, and like his three brothers, worked his way through Alma College to earn a bachelor's degree in 1955. He played quarterback for the Scots, and upon graduation became head football coach at Haslett (MI) High School, where he was 40-13-3 in nine years for a winning percentage of .732. Stolz then spent one year as defensive coordinator at Lansing Eastern High School before being named head coach at Alma prior to the 1965 season.

Taking over a program that had produced only three wins in four years, Stolz soon led his alma mater to 8-0 records for two consecutive years, and was named Michigan Coach of the Year in 1967. By the time he left Alma in 1971, Stolz had compiled a 34-16 record and led the school to two outright Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association Championships, and one co-championship.

His next stop was Michigan State, where Stolz served for two years as defensive coordinator for Duffy Daugherty before being named the Spartans head coach in 1973. Again, Stolz turned around a foundering program. Within two years, Michigan State had climbed to 7-3-1 overall and 6-1-1 in the Big 10 for its best finish since the 1966 team went unbeaten. The Spartans finished twelfth in the Associated Press poll and eighteenth in the United Press International rankings, and Stolz was named Big 10 Coach of the Year. The highlight of the season was a 16-13 upset of number one ranked Ohio State.

Michigan State finished 7-4 in the next year, beating Notre Dame 10-3 at South Bend. Stolz resigned from Michigan State in March, 1976, with a 19-13-1 record, the only winning record in the Big 10 outside of Ohio State or Michigan during the preceding three years.

“The two most memorable games of my career have to be, first and foremost, the win over Ohio State,” Stolz says. “ABC still considers it one of the top 10 games ever telecast. The second one would be the win over Notre Dame, especially since the game was played at Notre Dame.”

Stolz is the district chairman of the American Football Coaches Association All-America Selection Committee. He heads the District 5 committee that also includes Earle Bruce of Ohio State and Hayden Fry of Iowa. Stolz is also a member of the United Press International Board of Coaches that ranks the Top 20 in the nation during the season. Stolz is also on the selection committee for the Lombardi Award which is presented annually to College Football’s Most Outstanding Lineman.

While at Michigan State, Stolz coached the North to a victory in the All-American Bowl at Tampa, FL. He has lectured across the nation at football clinics, and on December 15, 1976, became the 12th head coach in the 63-year history of Bowling Green State University football.

Born September 12, 1934, Denny and his wife, Cena, have a son, Doak, 22, and two daughters, Dawn, 21, and Denise, 15.

Jefferson Award To Go
To MAC’s Top Player

The Downtown Athletic Club of Toledo has created The Jefferson Trophy which will be awarded annually to the most outstanding player in the Mid-American Conference. The first awards dinner will be held December 2, 1982, in Jefferson Square in Toledo at the Downtown Athletic Club facility. Former Pittsburgh Steeler standout Rocky Bleier will present the award to the 1982 recipient.

Each of the 10 Mid-American Conference head coaches and two local news media people will select the winner of the award. Each school will nominate one player for the award, and all 10 players will be honored at the banquet. From the proceeds of the banquet, awards will be presented to the college and player along with a scholarship fund to the winning player’s university.

Because of the fact that Toledo is known as the “Glass Capital of the World,” the Athletic Club obtained the assistance of a glass sculpturer to help in the development of a unique glass design for the awards presentation.

Tickets for the awards banquet can be purchased by contacting Bill Buehrer at the Downtown Athletic Club at 255-8748.

In the fall of 1970, Dr. Hollis A. Moore, the newly-selected president, unveiled his plans for a “decade of distinction” at Bowling Green State University. He talked about a decade of physical and academic growth. He foreseen a decade of faculty dedication to teaching and research. And he began making plans to build upon the strengths of the University and to offer programs and services which would be international in scope.

Now 12 years later, Dr. Moore has passed away, but many of his visions have become reality.

A building program resulted in the renovation of numerous older structures and the construction of several new ones. Among the most impressive of the University’s more than 100 buildings are the Student Recreation Center, which was completed in 1979, and the Moore Musical Arts Center, also built in 1979 and named after Dr. Moore and his wife.

The newest building project is a $7.2 million Physical Sciences Laboratory which will house the physics, astronomy and chemistry departments, and include a 120-seat planetarium. Ground was broken for the building last spring with a scheduled completion of the fall of 1983.

The academic programs at the University were also renovated and expanded. Three new colleges were developed during the 1970s. The College of Health and Community Services was started in 1973 to help meet the health care needs of a growing northwest Ohio. The School of Music was expanded into the College of Musical Arts, and the Graduate School became the Graduate College.

These new colleges joined the colleges of Education, Business Administration, Arts and Sciences, and the Firelands College to offer the University’s more than 16,000 undergraduate and graduate students nearly 250 degree programs.

And the students are as diverse as the coursework. They come from 85 of Ohio’s 88 counties, all fifty states and more than 45 foreign countries. They bring to the University diverse backgrounds and ideas, and they help create an exciting atmosphere for intellectual and cultural exchange.

This exchange is encouraged and directed by the more than 750 full-time faculty members. These men and women are experts in their fields of study, and many are on the cutting edge of scientific research and discovery. During the past few years, faculty members have annually received more than $1 million from outside agencies and foundations to conduct research. This research is exploring many of the pressing political, economic and environmental concerns of our times. For example, faculty are now studying insect chromosomes in the hopes of finding a cure for cancer in humans, the effects of air pollution and acid rain on crops, the changing texture of the American family, and the growing rate of juvenile delinquency.

The hub for this intellectual activity is the University’s nine-story Library. The Library houses a collection of more than 650,000 volumes, 335,000 government documents, more than a million microfilms, and 5,000 periodicals. The Library is also the home of an impressive music collection of more than 175,000 recordings and audiotapes.

Non-traditional students have also been of concern to the University. Regional and campus centers for students returning to school, or for persons holding a full-time job while pursuing a degree, were established and supported.

The University has also become a center for entertainment and cultural programming. Internationally-known performers regularly visit the campus, and the University’s music, theater, art and other programs offer an almost continuous schedule of programs.

Now, as Bowling Green begins planning for its 75th anniversary celebration in 1985, the University is facing several serious problems — inflation, potential decreases in state and federal support, and the possibility of declining enrollments. But the University will face these problems from a position of strength, having developed vital and exciting programs which are administered by people who have a dedication to learning and excellence.

Andre Young Overcomes Obstacles To Become Star

By Steve Shutt

Football coaches at the start of the 1982 season predicted that this would be the year of the upset. They cited an NCAA ruling in 1978 that has since been repealed and reinstated that allowed the redshirting of freshman athletes. That makes 1982 the “Year of the Fifth Year Senior”. One of the players who benefited from that rule is Bowling Green’s defensive tackle Andre Young.

While many coaches in the college ranks used the rule to redshirt entire freshman classes, Young was forced to redshirt following a knee injury early in his freshman season. Ligament damage suffered during the first day of practice in pads wiped out the 1978 season for the 6’2", 220 pound Young who hails from Akron Garfield High School.

“It took me a year before they (the doctors) would even consider me ready to play,” said Young, “and even to this day I still have some troubles with it (the knee).” Indeed, Young’s good leg measures about a quarter of an inch larger than his damaged knee.

But recovering from that injury would not have been possible without the help of a number of friends and relatives.

Raised by his grandmother, Andre still credits her “for making me the person I am today.” “All my grandmother had was social security and welfare and it was hard to make ends meet,” said the soft spoken Young. “She has a heart condition and she couldn’t work. She’s 60 years old, has raised ten kids of her own, and I was living with her and my younger brother and my uncle. And now she’s raising one of my cousins.”

Andre, whose parents were divorced when he was quite young, also credits his godfather for helping him recover from his knee surgery and making him the player he is today.

“He would run me to death,” said Young. “He would make me run up hills, lift weights, eat the right foods. Basically, he dedicated his time to me. He allowed me to come back.”

Andre also used the time following his knee surgery to find Christ.

“I don’t go on the field and play for Andre Young or Bowling Green, I’m out there playing for Christ because he gave me the talent I have and he allows me to use it,” said Andre.

“Now, when I play, I tape a little Gideon’s Bible underneath my shoulder pads, my left shoulder pad because it’s close to my heart. And when I get down in the trenches, I know that Bible helps out,” said Young.

Young’s career has indeed sparkled since his operation. Possibly his finest game of his career was played here at Doyt Perry Field two weeks ago when BG defeated Western Michigan to maintain its 3-0 record. Young, during one Western drive, had two quarterback sacks and stopped another runner in the backfield for losses totaling 20 yards. For his effort, Young was named BG’s Defensive Player of the Week, and also the Ohio Company’s Player of the Game. At press time, Young led the Falcon defense in tackles for losses with eight totaling 42 yards.

That Young even wound up playing for Bowling Green came as a surprise.

“At first I wasn’t even thinking about Bowling Green,” related Young. “I made the all-district team as a senior in high school and Bo Schembechler spoke at our banquet and then asked me if I was considering Michigan. I said ‘Wow-yeah’. Then Tom Reed, who was recruiting my area (Akron) for Michigan was supposed to arrange for me to visit.

After talking with Coach Schembechler about Michigan, there was no other school for me.

“So I kept waiting for Michigan to call and they didn’t so I had to decide between Kent State and Bowling Green. The day I signed my letter of intent, Coach Reed called me and said he was the coach at Miami and he had stopped recruiting me for Michigan because he wanted me at Miami.”

Then at a Thanksgiving Day game in Akron two years ago, Young ran into Reed. That was the same year the Wolverines went to the Rose Bowl.

“Coach Reed told me if he hadn’t taken the Miami job, we’d both be in Pasadena,” laughed Young.

But in 1982, Young clearly has his sights set on a Mid-American Conference football championship.

“A lot of people expect a championship,” said Young, “and we know we have the talent and personnel to win it.”

Even the sound of the door closing is by design.

Our doors speak well of the rest of our car. But their tight, solid sound is no accident.

Before we begin building the car, we engineer the best way to assemble it. Piece by piece.

Doors, trunk and hood fit the body with close tolerances all around. We align hinges and latches to work freely.

Window glass is held snug. And runs in the window channels smoothly. Triple rubber door seals help reduce outside sounds and wind noise. We’ve improved the insulation throughout the car.

The Honda Accord 4-Door Sedan is not only quieter, it’s also roomier and more comfortable. You’ll find it rides and handles better.

And while its many luxurious features are impressive, they are standard equipment. Like cruise control and variable-assist power steering, to name but two.

Honda’s simple philosophy of building cars that work the way they were designed to work has made Honda number one in owner loyalty among all leading import cars*

It has helped Honda cars retain a high resale value, among the best in the automotive industry.

You can fully appreciate how a Honda is made the next time you’re in a Honda showroom.

After you kick the tires, listen to the doors.

Falcon Club Raises Funds Needed For Athletics

By Steve Shutt

The Falcon Club, Bowling Green State University’s fund raising arm of the athletic department, is now in its eighteenth year of operation. Under the leadership of Jim Harris, the University’s Director of Athletic Development, the Falcon Club has grown from raising $3,000 in 1964 to nearly $150,000 in 1981.

“The Falcon Club started 18 years ago with a group of people sitting in the University Union who decided that they wanted to do something extra for the coaches,” said Harris. “So they raised some money and gave it to the athletic director for him to use.”

The Falcon Club of today bears little resemblance to the organization of the mid 1960’s. Today the club includes post-game parties, newsletters, membership certificates, and recognition in BGSU publications. A complete listing of Falcon Club benefits are listed on page 33 of this program.

“When the Falcon Club began, there was some emphasis on giving but not like there is today,” continued Harris. Indeed, last year’s Falcon Club fund drive encompassed over 400 people. Falcon Clubbers are now found nationwide, in 44 of the 50 states.

“We are approaching the one million mark in total dollars donated to the program,” said Harris. In 1981, there were 1300 Falcon Clubbers who donated $150,000. There was also $35,000 donated in Gifts-in-Kind and the Falcon Club holds $500,000 through wills, trusts and bequests.

The Falcon Club in 1982 operates under the direction of an Advisory Board. Elections were held recently with Wendell Booth being named Advisory Board president. Earl Rupright is the vice-president and other Advisory Board members include: Helen Sharp, Jon Treece, Bob Beattie, Phil Ricketts, Tom Glick, Lois Howe and Ray Whittaker. At Large members are Don Dunn, Lee Genuit, Verlin Lee, Sandie Middleton and Jim Navarre.

The Falcon Club’s philosophy is to provide the extra dollars necessary to support the athletic department in grant-in-aids, assist in all phases of recruiting, and helping to provide the safest and best equipment to protect the student-athlete.

The Falcon Club also emphasizes social gatherings with golf outings, barbecues, luncheons prior to each home football game and selected hockey and basketball games, and “Meet the Team” nights.

One of the more popular Falcon Club attractions is Monday Night Football, held each Monday night during the Falcon football season. Head Coach Denny Stolz shows the game films from the previous Saturday’s action and that is, or was until the NFL strike, followed with the Monday night NFL game.

Home for the Falcon Club is the Falcon Clubhouse, located in the west side of the stadium. A former weight room, the Clubhouse was redecorated with a bar, and tables and chairs, all donated to the Falcon Club.

“Without the support of volunteers and the active support of the Falcon Club, the monetary support would not be at Bowling Green,” said Harris, a University alumnus.

Harris stressed that Falcon Clubbers do not need to be alumni of the University. “In fact, 54% of the members are not BGSU alumni,” said Harris.

The Falcon Club contributes money to all 19 BGSU sports. Sixty-five percent of the undesignated Falcon Club gifts are turned over to the University to provide financial assistance in funding athletic grants-in-aid. Twenty-five percent of the undesignated gifts are used for helping to recruit prospective student-athletes. And the remaining ten percent supports the athletic equipment and facilities budget, helping Bowling Green to maintain its athletic physical plant as one of the best in the Mid-American Conference.

For more information on the Falcon Club, or to join, simply clip out the coupon on page 33 of the program and mail to the Falcon Club, University Stadium, BGSU, Bowling Green, Ohio 43403.

As a fifth year senior, Young also carries the leadership that is expected for a player of his maturity.

“The coaches have told me to be a leader, to try and replace Craig Valentine (last year’s captain), who was an exceptional leader, not only in the way he carried himself but through his actions on the field. I feel I am different from Craig. I’m not one to talk, talk, talk. I try to be a leader through what I do on the field.”

Defensive coordinator Jim Heacock also feels that Young’s fifth year standing is an aid to the defensive tackle.

“From a maturity standpoint, he has benefited because he didn’t get a lot out of his freshman year,” said Heacock. “His sophomore year he was moved to linebacker and the change from a down position to an up position hurt him. His junior year we moved him back down and now he is used to his position.

“Andre is aware, confident, and plays with a great deal of reaction,” Heacock said.

“His strength is his quickness,” continued Heacock. “Andre’s not that big but he moves with such speed that it intensifies his blow delivery. He gets off the ball quickly and he has good, hard impact when he delivers the blow.”

Though Young admits that he thought his football career may have ended with his knee surgery, he and Heacock both feel he may get a shot at professional football.

“I’m sure they (professional scouts) are looking at him and his great acceleration,” said Heacock. “As a defensive football player, he’ll have a shot at it though he’ll probably have to play an outside linebacker position. If he has a good year, I think they’ll give him a shot.”

“As a kid I fantasized about playing high school football and I never really thought of playing past that,” said Young. “Then when I saw my high school teammates getting college scholarships, I said there’s no reason why I can’t play in college either. Then after the knee surgery, my thoughts of playing pro were gone. Then after a good year last year, the coaches said I have the tools to play in the pros.”

And in the end, it is through Christ that Andre Young owes the most.

“When I go out on the field, I say a little prayer and everything is in the Lord’s hands. Because of Christ, I’m playing now. After I was hurt, my career could have ended but He allowed me to come back.”

And He will allow Andre Young to continue.

The Bowling Green Athletic Department depends on the Falcon Club to raise more than $100,000 annually. Sixty-five percent of the undesignated Falcon Club gifts are turned over to the University to provide financial assistance in funding athletic grants-in-aid. Twenty-five percent of the undesignated gifts are used for helping to recruit prospective student-athletes. The remaining 10 percent supports the athletic equipment and facilities budget, helping Bowling Green to maintain its athletic physical plant as one of the best in the Mid-American Conference.

Membership in the Falcon Club offers the Bowling Green athletic booster an invitation to luncheons, post-game parties, preferred parking at the football, basketball and hockey games, golf outings, and many other social activities.

Please take time to study the information below, and if you would like further information, call the Falcon Club offices which are located right here in the west side of the stadium. Director of Athletic Development Jim Harris and secretary Jan Kiehl are there to serve you.

50-50 Drawing

One of the most popular money-raising techniques employed by the Falcon Club is the 50-50 drawing at each football, basketball and hockey game. All Falcon fans are invited to participate in today's 50-50 drawing.

Tickets are $1.00 each and may be purchased on either side of the stadium from Falcon Club members. The winner of the drawing will be announced during the third quarter, and will take home half the money that was taken in today. The other half goes to the grant-in-aid fund to support all varsity sports at Bowling Green.

JOIN THE FALCON CLUB

Dear Falcon Fan:

We share with you an enthusiastic desire for winning athletics at Bowling Green. In order to sustain a winning program, however, we must meet the financial challenges of athletic excellence.

Falcon Club membership offers you an opportunity to get behind our teams and coaches. Falcon Club donations have been the salvation of our program, and to win in 1982 will require a supreme Falcon Club effort.

I am interested in learning more about the Falcon Club and its activities.

Welcome Back Alumni Band

The Bowling Green State University Alumni Band will take the field for the seventh consecutive year during the pre-game show of the Falcon Marching Band. It is indeed a pleasure to welcome back to campus this group of loyal BG supporters for one more trip across the field to "Forward Falcons."

The Alumni Band was initially organized in 1974 by a group of Band Alumni who felt that there were many alums ready and willing to participate in such an organization. After two years of planning by the Organizing Committee, the band made its first appearance at the Homecoming game of 1976. The group met with instant success, and the groundwork was laid for the future.

The present organization exceeds 100, according to the current president, Mr. Charles Miller, Director of Bands at Clyde High School. Many hours are spent locating alumni and inviting them to participate in the homecoming activities. The time is well spent as each year more and more alums converge on Bowling Green for a truly enjoyable experience.

The Alumni Band was chosen to musically relive the early 70's with a performance of the Blood, Sweat and Tears hit You've Made Me So Very Happy. The combined bands will be conducted by David Glasmire. Professor Glasmire, professor of trombone, has served BGSU since 1950. After serving eight years as a part time faculty and public school music teacher in Bowling Green, he was appointed in 1958 to full time faculty status. In addition to his duties as trombone professor, he has served the University Bands since 1951 in a variety of capacities — announcer, assistant director and in 1965-66 Acting Director of Bands.

Today's Band Program

DANCE, DANCE, DANCE! Throughout our history, dance has played a major role in America’s social life. After opening our halftime show with the Latin Aztec Fire, we are joined by eight “flappers” from the University Performing Dancers, under the direction of Professor Olivia Rivers and Deborah Tell, and the Footloose Falcons, Doug Michaels, president; for a good old foot-stompin', hand-clappin' time. Our percussion section is next featured in BGSU alum Mike Varner's Unsquare Dance. One of the most famous dances from Broadway, the Bottle Dance, sets the stage for our twirlers and the Falcon Flag Corps. We dedicate our final selection to the Alumni Band, who will surely know the intended meaning. From “Chorus Line,” the song, What I Did For Love.

Success can be measured by degrees.

Very few things are forever. Diamonds and a college degree are two of them.

A college degree represents success not only for the individual, but also for Bowling Green State University. Your success is shared by us and during the past 70 years we have shared in nearly 74,000 success stories.

We’re proud of our graduates and all that they have done and are doing.

A salute to the graduates of Bowling Green State University from your Alumni Association.
MAC Champion Returns To California Bowl

The second annual California Bowl, pitting the Mid-American Conference Champion against the Pacific Coast Athletic Association (PCAA) Champion, will be held on Saturday, December 18, in Fresno, California.

The renewal of the California Bowl will have a hard time matching the excitement of last year's inaugural event. Heavily-favored San Jose State, the PCAA Champion, rallied to overtake MAC Champion Toledo in the game's final minute, but Toledo came right back to win the game, 27-25, on a field goal in the final seconds.

This year's spectacle again will be televised throughout the nation by the Mizlou Television Network and it will also be aired on ESPN. Last year's game was witnessed by a television audience of over 5 million people.

The California Bowl, sponsored by the Greater San Joaquin Valley Sports Association, is played in Fresno State's new 30,000 seat stadium. The "closed end" bowl agreement between the MAC and the PCAA is one of only two such bowl pacts linking participants from specific conferences. The other is the Rose Bowl.

The football game caps a spectacular week of cultural and sporting activities that are designed to include people from all over the San Joaquin Valley as well as areas served by the MAC and the PCAA. Valley Children's Hospital in Fresno is a direct beneficiary of the California Bowl.

San Jose is one of the seven football-playing members of the PCAA. The others are Cal State Long Beach who Bowling Green will play in Anaheim Stadium this November 20, Cal State Fullerton, Fresno State, Pacific, Utah State, and the newest member of the PCAA, Nevada-Las Vegas.

This year's game will be the third meeting between Bowling Green and Long Beach. The 49ers won both of the previous games with last minute rallies, edging the Falcons, 29-28 in Anaheim, and 23-21 here at Perry Field two years ago.

Falcon Flashback: Victories and Championships

By Allan Chamberlin

Bowling Green football and victory. The Falcons and success. Those terms go together. OK, the Falcons have not had a winning season since 1976, but its says here that the final record in 1982 will put that ignominious streak to an end. The problems associated with a staff changeover, a vastly improved Mid-American Conference from top to bottom and a tougher non-conference schedule have all been factors in the Falcons’ sub-.500 record in the late 1970’s. Hopefully, that is all behind us now as the Falcons’ strive for the MAC Championship this season, and have the solid foundation necessary for a highly-competitive team in the foreseeable future.

Past and future successes are important to the Falcon football program, but the purpose of this article is to relive some of the memorable moments in Falcon football history. The author of this article is fairly new to the Falcon scene, but a study of the record books and conversations with such people as Don Cunningham, Don Nehlen, Glenn Sharp, and of course, Doyt Perry bring the past into a clear perspective.

Bowling Green football was established in 1919. In the first 35 years of the program, there was some success such as the 1921 team captained by Gus Skibbie that lost just once in five games; the undefeated 1928 and 1930 teams coached by Warren Steller, and the 8-0-1 team of 1948 under the direction of Coach Bob Whittaker. Yet at the end of the 1954 season, Bowling Green had a composite football record of 137-105-37. That record is nothing to sneeze at, but since then, the Falcons are 174-88-10. The turning point? That's easy; the arrival of Doyt Perry.

“Doyt is the guy who made the program go at Bowling Green,” Don Nehlen says. A Falcon quarterback under Perry and BG’s Coach from 1968 to 1976 when the Falcons had eight winning seasons in nine years, Nehlen is effusive in his praise for Perry. “Doyt is one of the greatest men I’ve ever known. He came in and gave Bowling Green a touch of class, and taught us how to win. I can’t say enough good things about the man.”

Perry arrived in the spring of 1955 after the Falcons had suffered through back-to-back 1-8 and 2-7 seasons. The rest, they say, is history. The 1955 Falcons went 7-1-1 with only a 6-6 tie with Kent State and a 7-0 loss to Miami marring the record. The Falcons won their first MAC Championship in 1956. Over the next 10 years, the Falcons won or shared the MAC Championship six times.

In 10 years of coaching the Falcons, Perry compiled a 77-10-5 record. Making that record even more remarkable is the fact that Perry’s teams were just 3-5-2 against Miami and 6-3-1 against Ohio University. That means that they were 68-2-2 against everybody else.

Any former athlete or coach has games that stand out most vividly in his memories. Doyt Perry is no different. “We had so many games with Miami and Ohio University that went down to the wire, it is hard to single one out,” Perry says. Indeed, eight of the 10 games between BGSU and Miami during Perry’s years of coaching were decided by less than 10 points, and every BG-OU game from 1959-62 was decided by less than a touchdown.

With so many close games with Miami and OU, Perry’s most vivid memories are against other opponents. “My first year we beat Toledo 39-0,” Perry relates. “They had beaten us badly (38-7) the year before, and we were natural rivals. I wanted to win that game very badly, and what made it so satisfying was the way we beat them.”

Perry also recalls the Falcons’ 30-8 drilling of Delaware in 1959. “They were ranked number one in the country in the small college poll coming into the game, and we beat them so handily, that it vaulted us to the top of the rankings.”

That big win over Delaware raised BG’s record to 8-0. A victory at Ohio University on the final game of the season was needed to give the Falcons the small college national championship. “They had us 9-0 at the half,” Sharp, the Falcons’ equipment manager from 1957 to 1980 recalls. “As we walked off the field at halftime, their fans were giving us a hard time. I remember Joe Spilewski yelling to their fans, ‘hey, you better memorize that score.’ We came back to win the game in the second half, the winning touchdown coming on an interception return by Jerry Colaner in the fourth quarter.”

Sharp and Perry vividly recall the 1963 BG-Toledo game. “We didn’t have that great a season in ‘63,” Perry says, “and in that game we were behind Toledo 20-0 on our own field at the half before we came back to win.”

Sharp relates more of the details of that comeback victory. “There was about a minute left (1:31 to be exact), and Jerry Ward threw a 37 yard touchdown pass to Jim Goings for the winning touchdown. That was a bomb for Doyt, 37 yards.”

Both Sharp and Perry recall who the unfortunate Toledo defender was on the winning TD pass, a guy named Dan Simrell, who is now the Rockets’ head coach.

Perry stepped down as BG’s coach after the 1964 season. In three years under Bob Gibson, the Falcons continued their tradition of success with records of 7-2, 6-3, and 6-4. In 1968, Nehlen took over as the Falcons’ head coach.

Though the Falcons did not win a MAC Championship under Nehlen, they had eight winning records in nine years, were perennial contenders and had an overall record of 53-35-4. Having led West Virginia to a 9-3 record last year and a victory over Florida in the Peach Bowl, and getting the Mountaineers a top-20 ranking this season, Nehlen does not have to defend his record, yet in a telephone interview last week, he emphasized how he felt about his terms at Bowling Green.

“What some people fail to realize is that while we did not win a MAC Championship while I was there, first Toledo and then Miami dominated the league. Nobody beat Toledo for awhile there, and not many beat Miami after that.”

Nehlen has many fond memories of his days at Bowling Green. “As a coach you tend to remember the tough losses more than the wins,” Nehlen says. “I’ll never forget a couple of those Miami games. On the other hand, I will never forget that win over Purdue in 1972. It was the greatest feeling I’ve ever had. It was the highlight of my football career.”

“I consider that win over Purdue bigger than when we (West Virginia) beat Florida in the Peach Bowl last year,” Nehlen continues. “Our victory over Oklahoma last month might have been bigger than one over Purdue, but I’m not even sure of that.”

Nehlen also recalls fondly a couple of victories over Syracuse and the season-opening victory at Brigham Young in 1975.
