Doyt L. Perry Field

This is the eighteenth year that the Falcons have played their football games in Doyt L. Perry Stadium. Built in 1966 for approximately $2.8 million, it now has a seating capacity of 30,300 with the addition of the end zone seats in 1982.

The field is named in honor of the man who coached the Falcons to a 77-10-5 record from 1955-64. Perry remained as Bowling Green’s athletic director for six years after stepping down as football coach. Now retired, Perry is still a nine month resident of Bowling Green, and is one of the Falcons’ staunchest boosters.

The east side of the stadium includes dressing rooms, the equipment and training rooms, and most of the athletic department offices. On the west side are the maintenance area, storage rooms, handball courts, the track offices, the Falcon Club office and the Falcon Clubhouse. Sitting atop the press box on the west side is the Stadium Club. Now in its fourth year of operation, the Stadium Club has 106 theatre-type seats, and is one of the finest facilities of its kind in the midwest.

Bowling Green won the first game ever played in Perry Field, blanking Dayton, 13-0, on October 1, 1966. Coming into this season, the Falcons have a 49-33-2 record in games played here.

Falcons Still Chasing Title

By Steve Shutt

Bowling Green and Central Michigan are both football teams in desperate need of a win today in order to remain in contention for the Mid-American Conference football title.

The Falcons, 4-3 overall and 3-2 in the MAC, are the defending MAC Champions and must finish their season with four straight wins in order to finish 7-2 and at least have a shot at the title.

The Chippewas, 5-2 overall and 4-1 in the MAC, are in third place in the MAC after dropping a 12-7 decision to Miami last Saturday.

The Chippewas, perennially one of the top teams in the MAC, offer a tailback oriented offense featuring the talents of Curtis Adams. Adams, the MAC Offensive Player of the Year last season as he needs just two attempts to break the MAC record for passing attempts in a season, offers a tandem with four touchdowns each.

Bowling Green continues to be one of the nation's dominant offensive teams. Ranked third in the nation in passing offense, quarterback Brian McClure is guiding the Falcons to over 300 yards per game through the air. In the process, McClure is almost singlehandedly rewriting the BGSU passing record book. He has set and reset numerous single game records, and has now eclipsed most season passing records with four games left to be played.

Central Michigan has gone through tight ends this year like Elizabeth Taylor has gone through husbands. Three tight ends have been sidelined already and the fourth stringer, Glenn Sievert, will get the call today. If he should leave the game, then linebacker-offensive guard-tight end Bob Roese may see some action.

The kicking game is also a concern to Central as placekicker Ron Conlin has missed the last three games with a leg injury. The kicking chores will be handled today by either Gioacchino Ciraulo or Dave Flower.

The Falcons are coming off of a strange game against Northern Illinois that saw them build a 20-0 lead at halftime before losing 24-23. The Falcons could do no wrong in the first half as both the offense and defense played possibly its best football of the year. The second half was a complete turnaround as Northern came roaring back and won the game on a Vince Scott field goal with less than three minutes remaining in the game.

The Falcons will be at less than full strength today with two of their top three scorers out of action. Tailback Andre Jackson has not played since Bowling Green beat Miami September 24 and Greg Meehan was sidelined for the season after a knee injury two weeks ago at Western Michigan. Gethad Yussef leads the Falcons in scoring but Meehan and Jackson were tied for second with four touchdowns each.

Bowling Green continues to be one of the nation's dominant offensive teams. Ranked third in the nation in passing offense, quarterback Brian McClure is guiding the Falcons to over 300 yards per game through the air. In the process, McClure is almost singlehandedly rewriting the BGSU passing record book. He has set and reset numerous single game records, and has now eclipsed most season passing records with four games left to be played. McClure holds BGSU records for passing attempts, completions and passing yards in a single game and in a season. He also has set MAC records in the three single game categories and holds the MAC season completion record. Undoubtedly, McClure will break the MAC record for passing attempts in a season as he needs just two attempts to tie the old mark.

Youssef has also contributed his share towards several new records. The junior from Toledo is having a fine year, hitting on 13 of 16 field goals and all 14 extra points. Yussef has tied the BG record for field goals in a season and is a sure bet to break that record yet this year. Yussef has also hit his last six field goals in a row and has a streak of 34 straight PAT's, dating back to last year.

Youssef now trails BG career FG leader John Spengler by two. Yussef has 31 career three-pointers while Spengler kicked 33 of his four-year career.

Head Coach Denny Stolz

Denny Stolz has held three head college coaching positions, and now after guiding the Falcons to the 1982 Mid-American Conference Championship and earning MAC Coach of the Year honors, he has now won coach of the year honors at each of the three schools.

Entering his seventh year at Bowling Green, Stolz has a 29-38-1 record at Bowling Green, and an overall collegiate record of 82-67-1 in 15 years at Alma College, Michigan State and Bowling Green.

Stolz rejuvenated the football programs at Alma and Michigan State before coming to Bowling Green. His teams were undefeated in back-to-back seasons at Alma in 1967 and 1968. The 7-3-1 record his 1974 Michigan State team compiled was the best in seven years in East Lansing, and earned Stolz Big Ten Coach of the Year honors.

There were some lean times in Stolz' early years at Bowling Green, but the corner was turned in 1980. That season the Falcons were only 4-7 overall, but six of the seven losses were by four points or less. BG was in contention for the MAC Championship until the next-to-last game of the season, and wound up with a 4-4 mark in conference games. In 1981, the Falcons overcame an 0-4-1 start to win five consecutive games, ending up with a 5-5-1 overall record and a fourth place finish in the MAC with a 5-3-1 league record.

Last season, Stolz guided the Falcons to a 7-5 overall record and a 7-2 mark in league games. BG won the MAC title by two full games, and represented the MAC in California Bowl II. BG played well in the California Bowl, but dropped a heartbreaking, 29-28, decision to heavily-favored Fresno State when FSC scored a touchdown with 11 seconds left in the game.

A native of Lansing, MI, Stolz grew up in Mason, MI, and like his three brothers worked his way through Alma College to earn a bachelor's degree in 1955. He played quarterback for the Scots, and upon graduation became head football coach at Haslett (MI) High School, where he was 40-13-3 in nine years for a winning percentage of .741. Stolz then spent one year as defensive coordinator at Lansing Eastern High School before being named head coach at Alma prior to the 1965 season.

Taking over a program that had produced only three wins in four years, Stolz soon led his alma mater to 8-0 records for two consecutive years, and was named Michigan Coach of the Year in 1967. By the time he left Alma in 1971, Stolz had compiled a 34-16 record and led the school to two outright Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association championships, and one co-championship.

His next stop was Michigan State, where Stolz served for two years as defensive coordinator for Duffy Daugherty before being named the Spartans' head coach in 1973. Again, Stolz turned around a struggling program. Within two years, Michigan State had climbed to 7-3-1 overall and 6-1-1 in the Big 10 for its best finish since the 1966 team went unbeaten. The Spartans finished 12th in the Associated Press poll and eighteenth in the United Press International rankings, and Stolz was named Big 10 Coach of the Year.

Michigan State finished 7-4 the next year, beating Notre Dame 10-3 at South Bend. Stolz resigned from Michigan State in March, 1976, with a 19-13-1 record, the only winning record in the Big 10 outside of Ohio State or Michigan during the preceding three years.

While at Michigan State, Stolz coached the North to a victory in the All-American Bowl at Tampa, FL. He has lectured across the nation at football clinics, and on December 15, 1976, became the 12th head coach in the 63-year history of Bowling Green State University football.

Born September 12, 1934, Denny and his wife, Cena, have a son, Doak, 23, and two daughters, Dawn, 22 and Denise, 16.

A letter from the president

An alarming threat to the future of higher education

Election Day, November 8, 1983, will be an important decision day for higher education in Ohio and Bowling Green State University.

The voters of Ohio will decide whether or not the State's recently enacted income tax plan should stay in place or be repealed. I refer to "Issue 3," which will appear on the ballot as a companion to "Issue 2," the proposed three-fifths legislative majority vote rule for all future revenue measures.

As President of Bowling Green State University, I believe I have a responsibility to inform all University constituents (students, parents, alumni, friends, faculty and staff) about any issue, such as "Issue 3," which could seriously affect the financial well-being of Ohio higher education and BGSU.

Basic to any consideration of "Issue 3" from a higher education perspective is the relationship between the University's two primary sources of income for instructional purposes, i.e., the amount of state subsidy per student on the one hand and the level of tuition on the other.

Historically, Ohio has been a low subsidy state and a high tuition state. Currently it ranks 46th among the 50 states in per capita State support for higher education and 6th in its level of tuition. Students attending public colleges and universities in Ohio have recently paid as much as 47 percent of the total cost of instruction while the average student cost share nationally is approximately 30 percent.

The student/state ratio has been strained during the past three years by the State's economic woes. Since 1980, revenue shortfalls in Ohio have forced cuts in higher education appropriations of 27 percent or more than $9 million for BGSU. The loss of State support necessitated tuition increases which averaged 16 percent for each of the past three years, which is a $461 increase in tuition since 1981 for BGSU students.

In short, Bowling Green and the other public colleges and universities in Ohio have been caught up in an unhappy and troublesome pattern of fiscal instability earmarked by cuts and more cuts from the State...

Jefferson Award To Go To MAC’s Top Player

The Downtown Athletic Club of Toledo has created The Jefferson Trophy, an award given annually to the most outstanding player in the Mid-American Conference. Last year’s winner was Ray Bentley, a linebacker from Central Michigan, who went on to star with the Michigan Panthers, the United States Football League champions in 1983.

This year’s awards dinner will be held December 1, 1983, in Jefferson Square in Toledo at the Downtown Athletic Club facility.

Each of the ten Mid-American Conference head coaches and two local news media people will select the winner of the award. Each school will nominate one player for the award, and all ten players will be honored at the banquet. From the proceeds of the banquet, awards will be presented to the college and player along with a scholarship fund to the winning player’s university.

Because of the fact that Toledo is known as the “Glass Capital of the World,” the Athletic Club obtained the assistance of a glass sculpturer to help in the development of a unique glass design for the awards presentation.

Tickets for the awards banquet can be purchased by contacting Bill Buehrer at the Downtown Athletic Club at 255-8748.

Bowling Green State University

Through its five undergraduate colleges, Bowling Green State University offers more than 150 degree programs in the traditional arts and sciences, as well as business, education, music and the growing field of health and community services. In addition, the Graduate College has 50 master's degrees and nine doctoral degree programs.

About 15,000 students are enrolled at Bowling Green. More than half of the undergraduates live in campus residence halls and most of the remainder within a couple of miles of the University.

For this closely-knit community of students, the University encourages and supports a large number of extra-curricular activities — including academic, cultural and social programs. On any given day, these events may include a concert, lecture, panel discussion, theater or dance performance, film, mixer or other social get-together. The University also has a strong fraternity and sorority system and the campus is home to more than 200 clubs and organizations. Sports are also a major part of Bowling Green, and the University offers an extensive varsity and club program for both men and women.

Another dimension of this residential University is its recreational facilities. At the hub is the Student Recreation Center, which houses basketball, volleyball, racquetball and tennis courts, two swimming pools, weight rooms, a running track, a golf and archery range and numerous all-purpose activity areas.

At Bowling Green, students learn as much outside the classroom as they do in it. It is a concept to which the University is committed, making certain that learning is a non-stop activity and that at the end of four years, the University graduates an intelligent, mature and well-rounded individual.

This out-of-class learning is enhanced by the diverse backgrounds, ideas and beliefs of our students. Bowling Green students come from nearly all of Ohio's 88 counties, all 50 states and more than 60 foreign countries. This mix of students helps to create an exciting atmosphere for intellectual and cultural exchange.

This exchange is encouraged and directed by more than 700 full-time faculty members. These men and women are experts in their fields of study, and many are on the cutting edge of scientific research and discovery. During the past several years, faculty members have annually received approximately $4 million from outside agencies and foundations to conduct research.

At the center of this intellectual activity is the University's nine story Jerome Library, housing a collection of more than 700,000 books, 1.2 million pieces of microfilm, and 4,700 subscriptions to magazines, journals and other periodicals. The library is also home to 175,000 sound recordings, 375,000 government documents and a Popular Culture Library which supports the studies of the University's nationally known Popular Culture Program.

While most of the University's programs are geared to the residential student, Bowling Green has a commitment to the non-traditional student. Many courses, especially graduate courses, are offered at night to enable persons to continue their education while working full-time.

In addition to courses on the main campus, the University's Firelands College campus, located in Huron, Ohio, offers 17 two-year associate degree programs, as well as courses which fulfill the first two years of a bachelor degree requirement. Firelands College enrolls about 1,200 students.

As with everything, the cost of attending Bowling Green is on the rise, but the University offers a wide range of financial aid programs (including scholarships and loans) to assist a student and his or her parents with the cost of a college education. There are also a variety of student employment opportunities available on the campus.

For the student who lives in on-campus housing, Bowling Green is much like a mini-city. With a cafeteria in each housing complex, laundry facilities down the hall, classes on a wide variety of subjects only a short walk away, a non-stop schedule of activities, a bookstore which sells everything from the latest magazines to toiletries, Bowling Green is truly its own city—a city alive with activity, a city alive with learning.

Falcon Club Supports BGSU Athletics

The Bowling Green Athletic Department depends on the Falcon Club to raise more than $100,000 annually. Sixty-five percent of the undesignated Falcon Club gifts are turned over to the University to provide financial assistance in funding athletic grants-in-aid. Twenty-five percent of the undesignated gifts are used for helping to recruit prospective student-athletes. The remaining 10 percent supports the athletic equipment and facilities budget, helping Bowling Green to maintain its athletic physical plant as one of the best in the Mid-American Conference.

Membership in the Falcon Club offers the Bowling Green athletic booster an invitation to luncheons, post-game parties, preferred parking at the football, basketball and hockey games, golf outings, and many other social activities. Please take time to study the information below, and if you would like further information, call the Falcon Club offices which are located right here in the west side of the stadium. Director of Athletic Development Jim Harris and secretary Jan Kiehl are there to serve you.

50-50 Drawing

One of the most popular money-raising techniques employed by the Falcon Club is the 50-50 drawing at each football, basketball and hockey game. All Falcon fans are invited to participate in today's 50-50 drawing.

Tickets are $1.00 each and may be purchased on either side of the stadium from Falcon Club members. The winner of the drawing will be announced during the third quarter, and will take home half the money that was taken in today. The other half goes to the grant-in-aid fund to support all varsity sports at Bowling Green.

JOIN THE FALCON CLUB

Dear Falcon Fan:
We share with you an enthusiastic desire for winning athletics at Bowling Green. In order to sustain a winning program, however, we must meet the financial challenges of athletic excellence.

Falcon Club membership offers you an opportunity to get behind our teams and coaches. Falcon Club donations have been the salvation of our program, and to win in 1983 will require a supreme Falcon Club effort.

I am interested in learning more about the Falcon Club and its activities.

Receivers Up For Grabs

By Steve Shutt

Quarterbacks always grab the limelight. They are the ones who usually receive the blame or the credit for a team’s wins and losses.

But quarterbacks are only as good as their offensive lines that block for them, the running backs who carry the ball for them, and the receivers who catch the passes.

At Bowling Green, the Falcons are very fortunate to have three of the top receivers in college football in tight end Mark Dowdell, split end Stan Hunter, and flanker Greg Meehan. All three combine with quarterback Brian McClure to give the Falcons the third ranked passing offense in the nation.

The relationship between the quarterback and his receivers is a mutually beneficial one: McClure is an outstanding quarterback who does a fine job of getting the ball to his receivers, and the pass catchers run sharp routes and always find themselves open.

At press time, Bowling Green had more receivers in the top 20 in the nation than any other university in the NCAA. Meehan, through six games, was the fourth leading receiver in the nation based on average number of catches per game. Meehan had caught 42 passes for 474 yards, an average of 7.0 catches per game. Hunter was tenth in the nation with 36 receptions for 567 yards, a 6.0 per game average. Dowdell, the Falcon tight end, has caught 31 passes for 286 yards, an average of 5.2 grabs per game.

What makes McClure such a good passer is generally agreed upon by his receiving corps.

“He puts the ball right on the mark,” said Dowdell. “He has a good insight. He can put the ball to you in a crowd.”

“Brian’s strength’s are his physical features,” said Meehan. “He has a strong arm for a slender guy at 6’6”. He’s learned a lot (about defenses) and you can tell by his few interceptions”.

Dowdell, Hunter and Meehan form a triumvirate that many defenses find hard to stop. Dowdell, a junior, had caught just 13 passes in his career until moving into the starting line-up this fall. Hunter, used only as a back-up last year, has proven that he can replace Shawn Potts at split end. And Meehan, a junior college transfer from Scottsdale, Arizona Community College, has proven he can play major college football.

Unlike Hunter and Meehan, whose primary responsibilities are to catch the ball, the 6’3”, 205 Dowdell must also dig into the trenches and do some blocking as the tight end.

“Usually my job is to secure the end,” said Dowdell. “On the pass routes, my job is just to get open and catch the ball. For my size, I’ve got a little bit of speed. I’ve always been taught if the ball hits you in the hands, you should catch it. I think I can catch it.”

Injured as a senior in high school, Hunter received few college football offers. A broken collarbone drove away recruiters from Pitt, Clemson, Indiana and Michigan State. He played just the first two games of his senior year at Dayton Northmont, and the last.

“I think Brian reads the defenses well,” said the 6’1” 180 Hunter. “We put a stretch on the defense, putting more pressure on their deep backs.”

Hunter learned quite a bit from his year as an understudy to Potts and flanker Greg Taylor, last year’s starting duo.

“They taught me the types of moves to make on your route,” said Hunter. “I had to take my time and learn to do things. They also taught me to relax when I got in the game.”

“We’re confident of our ability,” said Hunter of this receiving trio. “We know we’ll catch the ball. Even if we drop the ball, we shake it off. We’re expected to catch the ball and if we don’t, it means ten other people did their job and we didn’t.”

Hunter, a sophomore, hooked up with McClure for a 76-yard touchdown reception against Brigham Young in the second game of the year. It was the longest reception ever for Hunter, and the longest completion of McClure’s short but so far very productive career at BGSU.

Meehan, possibly the most experienced of the receivers with two years of junior college football under his belt, is a question mark for today’s game. He suffered a knee injury on the artificial turf at Western Michigan on October 15 and at press time, it was not known whether he would be back in action by today.

Ironically, it was the first time Meehan had ever played on an artificial surface.

“I think (artificial surface) is a waste,” said the 6-1, 190 junior. “I just can’t see how somebody can put it down knowing it’s going to shorten player’s careers. It was kind of a scary feeling. I always thought I had good knees, I still do. You just think that something like that won’t happen to you.”

Meehan gives credit to receiver coach Mark Miller, former BGSU and pro quarterback who is working with the Falcons this year on a full-time basis.

“Coach Miller throws the ball real well,” said Meehan. “It’s a good effect because now you’re working with a quarterback. You’re not catching the ball soft. He drills it in there all the time.

“I think a lot of people’s hands have improved this year just working constantly with Coach Miller.”

All the hard work is paying off now as the Falcons are again in the hunt for the MAC championship and the Falcon offensive unit is enjoying an outstanding year.

But don’t overlook the obvious. This high powered passing game is not a flash in the pan. Meehan and Dowdell are the oldest members of this talented crew and are only juniors. McClure and Hunter are just sophomores, and a trio of freshman receivers in Tom Ragland, Dean Rutan, and Wayne Rositano, are all bidding for playing time.

Keep your eyes on the Falcon aerial show, not just this year, but for several more to come.

CIMARRON '84
THIS ONE’S GOT THE TOUCH.

The Cadillac touch. It’s everywhere. You can feel it when you put Cadillac’s road-hugging Touring Suspension to the test. You can see it … inside and out. From leather-faced front buckets with lumbar support to aluminum alloy wheels. It’s attention to detail, too. Like push-button air. And tungsten halogen fog lamps. You’ve got to drive this car… and experience the Cadillac touch. Cimarron ’84.

BEST OF ALL… IT’S A CADILLAC.
Let’s Get It Together… Buckle Up.

Preview Day Offers College Insight

If you see some new faces on campus today, they no doubt belong to visiting high school students, their parents and teachers, who are here participating in the Office of Admissions' ninth annual Preview Day Program.

Display booths featuring information on academic programs and student services and activities were viewed this morning in the Grand Ballroom. Campus tours were conducted throughout the morning and special open houses and demonstrations were offered by various departments. Over 200 faculty and staff members and 100 students lent a hand in making our visitors feel particularly welcome. The Office of Admission hosts Preview Day each year in order to provide prospective students with an opportunity to view many segments of college life.

Special recognition is given to the Bowling Green State University Alumni Association, whose financial support helped make today's program a success.

We hope that you have found Preview Day to be a meaningful and enjoyable experience.

BGSU Band Welcomes All Visitors on Preview Day

This afternoon the Falcon Marching Band welcomes and salutes the many visiting high school students and their parents with us today. Our show begins this afternoon with a fiery selection from the famous Broadway musical about youth, Mambo from West Side Story. The music of Al Jarreau is next featured, along with the Falcon twirlers, as we perform Boogie Down. The Falcon Marching percussion selection is next spotlighted with the popular Latin song, Tico-Tico. For those of you whose teenage memories include swinging big band jazz, we present Elk's Parade. Our show closes today with the beautiful Softly As I Leave You. Don't forget the Falcon Marching Band concert Sunday, November 20 at 3:00 p.m. in Anderson Arena.

Band Staff

Directors: Mark S. Kelly and Glenn C. Hayes
Graduate Assistants: Vicki Cindea and Douglas Brokaw

Parent's Day Next Saturday

The parents of Bowling Green State University students will be spotlighted next week when the Falcons host Ball State University in the annual Parent's Day contest which begins at 1:30 p.m.

This year's event will be the 36th consecutive year that Parent's Day has been celebrated at BGSU and it has been a day of celebration in recent years for the Bowling Green Falcons. BG has won the last four Parent's Day games and ironically enough, Ball State has been the opponent in two of the four games: 1979 - BG 31, Southern Mississippi 27; 1980 - BG 24, Ball State 21; 1981 - BG 13, Kent State 7; and 1982 - BG 28, Ball State 7. The Falcons and Cardinals have met nine times since 1942 (the rivalry is older than the Parent's Day tradition!) and BG holds a 6-3 edge.

Parent's Day on the Bowling Green State University campus is a full day of activities for all taking part. Beginning with residence hall receptions and individual gatherings in fraternity and sorority houses and continuing with pre-game tailgate parties, the mornings prior to the football game are filled with things to do. The game, of course, is of great significance as it draws everyone to a central location where the festivities and excitement can continue. The day doesn't end with the final score at Perry Field as many seek post-game parties, quiet family dinners or a chance to rest prior to the evening show.

The Parent's Day show, now in its eighth year, offers big-name entertainment in Anderson Arena, home of the defending MAC Champion Basketball Falcons. (Basketball tickets are currently on sale for the season which opens on Nov. 26). The featured performer this year is David Brenner, widely recognized comedian and talk show host. Brenner carries on a distinguished list of Parent's Day performers that includes Bob Hope, Gabe Kaplan, Doc Severinsen, Susan Anton, Red Skelton, Rich Little and Victor Borge. As of press time, some seats remain available for the 8:00 p.m. show. Call the Alumni Center, 372-2701 for ticket information.

All in all, Parent's Day at Bowling Green is a day to look forward to and a day to enjoy! It is a great opportunity for students and parents to spend a relaxing day together and combine all the elements that make college exciting. Football tickets, both general admission and reserved are available daily in the Memorial Hall Ticket Office (372-2762). The Athletic Department looks forward to Parent's Day 1983 and we hope you do to!

* MAC Record + Pre-MAC Era
At least 31 former Falcon football standouts have been drafted by or played for a team in the National Football League, United States Football League, or the old American Football League. Among the most prominent Falcon alumni who played starring roles in professional football are Bernie Casey, a wide receiver with the Los Angeles Rams and San Francisco 49ers in the 1960's; Bob Reynolds, an offensive tackle with the St. Louis Cardinals for more than a decade; Jamie Rivers, a linebacker for three pro teams for nine years; Bob Schnelker, an offensive end with the New York Giants in their prime; Phil Villapiano, an all-pro linebacker with the Oakland Raiders, and now the Buffalo Bills; and Mike Weger, a standout defensive back with the Detroit Lions.

Two members of the 1983 Falcon championship team were in pro training camps this summer. Defensive lineman Andre Young was drafted in the twelfth round by the Cincinnati Bengals, and wide receiver Shawn Potts signed a free agent contract with the Cleveland Browns. CLEAN—TYPED, DOUBLE—SPACED.

Students know this requirement. It's the way most professors expect to receive assignments. This year, Parents Club will make this demand a bit easier to manage. Donations to Parents Club will help create a typing room at the Jerome Library to provide all students access to high-quality typewriters for typing term papers and other class assignments. The third annual California Bowl, pitting the Mid-American Conference Champion against the Pacific Coast Athletic Association (PCAA) Champion, will be held on Saturday, December 17 in Fresno, California.

The third annual California Bowl will be hard pressed to duplicate the excitement generated by the first two bowl games. In 1981, the University of Toledo upset a heavily-favored San Jose State, 27-25, on a last second field goal. Last year California Bowl II saw Fresno State erase a 21-point deficit to beat Bowling Green, 29-28. The outcome of both games thus far has been decided within the last 15 seconds of the fourth quarter.

This year's spectacle again will be televised throughout the nation by the Mizlou Television Network and it will also be aired on ESPN. The California Bowl is one of six bowl games being produced by Mizlou this season. The other bowl games are the Independence Bowl, Florida Citrus (formerly Tangerine) Bowl, Holiday Bowl, Bluebonnet Bowl, and the Senior Bowl.

The California Bowl, sponsored by the Greater San Joaquin Valley Sports Association, is played in Fresno State's new 30,000 seat stadium. The "closed end" bowl agreement between the MAC and the PCAA is one of only two such bowl pacts linking participants from specific conferences. The other is the Rose Bowl.

The football game caps a spectacular week of cultural and sporting activities that are designed to include people from all over the San Joaquin Valley as well as the area served by the MAC and the PCAA. Valley Children's Hospital in Fresno is a direct beneficiary of the California Bowl.

Seven members of the PCAA will vie for the 1983 football championship. The members are Cal State Long Beach, Fresno State, Cal State Fullerton, Pacific, Utah State, and Nevada-Las Vegas. New Mexico State is the newest member of the PCAA but will be ineligible to compete for the football title because of scheduling conflicts.

Long Beach is the favorite to win the PCAA this year, according to balloting conducted by the PCAA football media association. Fresno State is picked to finish second. Bowling Green is picked to win the MAC according to the MAC football media.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association is currently in its 78th year of serving higher education. Through its annual Convention, the NCAA speaks for the nation's colleges and universities. The NCAA is the voice of college athletics.

A call for stricter control of college football by President Theodore Roosevelt because of the violence in the game brought together 13 institutions in 1905, forming the original communication base for college athletics. This initial body called itself the Intercollegiate Athletic Association and was officially constituted March 31, 1906. In 1910, the name was changed to the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

More than seven progressive decades have molded this original 13-member body into a membership today of more than 900 colleges, universities, conferences and affiliated organizations.

Administration and rules interpretation occupied early efforts of the organization. Shortly after World War II, the NCAA adopted legislative and executive powers, changing its function into one dealing with virtually all issues concerned with intercollegiate athletics.

Many things have become associated with the NCAA during its colorful history. Highest priority goes to the service it provides to its members, acting as the true "voice" of college athletics today.

Each January the NCAA membership comes together at the annual Convention to review, propose and amend legislation. The Convention presents the opportunity for the nation's institutions of higher learning to speak and act on athletic matters on the national level.

Acting in the best interests of its membership, the NCAA strives to perform these specific functions among its many other responsibilities:

- Conducts 41 annual National Collegiate Championships in 19 men's sports for three separate divisions. Three championships (Division I, Division II and Division III) are held in baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, ice hockey, soccer, swimming, tennis, outdoor track and wrestling. Two championships are staged in gymnastics and lacrosse. Fencing, indoor track, volleyball and water polo hold single National Collegiate Championships, while football is contested in Divisions I-AA, II and III. The NCAA is conducting 31 women's championships in the 1983-84 academic year in addition to the 41 held for men.

Women's championships are held in all three divisions in basketball, cross country, field hockey, softball, swimming, tennis, outdoor track and volleyball. Two championships (Division I and Division II) will be staged in gymnastics, while fencing, golf, lacrosse, soccer and indoor track will hold single National Collegiate Championships. In addition to the aforementioned events, coeducational rifle and skiing championships are conducted, crowning one national champion.

- Maintains 39 men's and women's sports committees for the administration and conduct of championships for the respective divisions, including 16 men's and women's rules committees to formulate, copyright and publish rules of play for the governance of collegiate sports. Members of the sports and rules committees are elected by representatives of NCAA members at the annual Convention. In addition, the NCAA Council appoints the members of 25 general committees and a number of special committees as well as delegates to other organizations.

- Publishes a tabloid newspaper 46 times per year, rules books in 12 sports, record books in football and basketball and various other publications.

- Collects, compiles and distributes the official statistics of college football, basketball and baseball in men's sports, and basketball and softball in women's sports.

- Conducts studies as a means of developing solutions to athletic problems.

- Represents the membership in legislative and regulatory matters on the state and Federal levels.

- Annually selects the College Athletics Top Ten and the Theodore Roosevelt ("Teddy") Award—the Association's highest honor.

- Administers an honors program which annually awards 90 postgraduate scholarships to recognize outstanding senior student-athletes who have excelled in the classroom as well as athletics. This scholarship is for $2,000. The program has provided $1,854,000 to 1,399 recipients since its inception in the 1964-65 academic year.

- Promotes and participates in international sports planning and competition through membership in the United States Olympic Committee, Amateur Basketball Association of the USA, Track and Field Association of the USA, and the United States Baseball, Gymnastics and Wrestling Federations.

- Maintains more than 90 full-time staff members at its national headquarters in Mission, Kansas, under the supervision of Executive Director Walter Byers.
