Believe it or not, you've already prepared your office for OMNI before we invented it.

GTE introduces Omni. The voice and data communications system that hooks up to your existing wiring. And will virtually never become obsolete.

GTE has made complex telecommunications easy.

You see, the GTE Omni is a totally digital communications system for both voice and data that utilizes your existing wiring. This eliminates the problem of costly rewiring every time you add, delete or modify your system. The GTE Omni meets the needs of large and small offices alike. For today. And tomorrow.

As your single source for an entire system, GTE custom-tailors it to your needs. We provide all components from telephones, to terminals, to transmission equipment, to packet-switching.

GTE can offer the expertise needed to build you a system that will serve you effectively today and grow as you grow. And we have the experienced service organization that will be there when you need them.

So put GTE to the test. Call or write GTE, Meridian Mark I, Suite 400, 11611 N. Meridian St., Indianapolis, IN. 46032-9487.

Ticket Information

General admission ticket prices for the 1985 Bowling Green football season will remain the same as last year. Reserved chair seats for single games remain $7.00, individual reserved bench seats on the east side of the stadium are $6.00, and BGSU student general admission seats are $2.00. Any group of 15 or more people may purchase group reserved bench seats in advance of game day on the east side of the stadium for $3.50 each (with the exception of the Toledo game). Also, a group of 15 or more BGSU students may purchase group reserved bench seats in advance of game day on the east side for $2.00. In addition to the chair seats and BGSU student general admission seats there are two additional general admission price ranges on the west side. Adult general admission is $3.50 and youth (high school age and younger) general admission is $2.50. A general admission ticket for the 5,000-plus end zone seats in both the north and south end zones costs $2.50.

The Memorial Hall Ticket Office is open from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. each game day for ticket purchases. Also, advance sale tickets for all remaining home games are on sale in the advance sale ticket booth on the east side of the stadium.

Serving as ticket outlets for BGSU tickets this year are The Falcon House in downtown Bowling Green, Bill’s Men’s and Boy’s Wear in Fostoria, B & G Drugs in Findlay, and both Huntington Banks branches in Perrysburg.

2-0 Falcons Open at Home vs. Miami

By Steve Shutt
BSU Sports Information Director

A big win over Southeastern Conference foe Kentucky will provide the momentum for the Bowling Green Falcons as they resume their Mid-American Conference schedule this afternoon with the home opener vs the Miami Redskins.

The Falcons drove 76 yards in the last three minutes of Saturday’s contest at Kentucky to erase a 26-21 deficit. Brian McClure threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to Greg Meehan with just 23 seconds left in the game to give Denny Stolz his 100th career victory. A safety on the ensuing kickoff secured the 30-26 win.

The Falcons have beaten Miami each of the last two seasons after going ten straight years without a victory.

Coaches

Denny Stolz secured his 100th career win last Saturday at Kentucky. The ninth year coach now sports a career record of 100-73-2. For his nine years at Bowling Green, Stolz is 47-44-1 while his BGSU record in MAC contests stands at 41-26-1. Stolz led the Falcons to the 1982 MAC Championship. His career winning percentage of .573 places Stolz 12th on the list of MAC coaches.

Tim Rose is in his third year as head coach and has posted a record of 9-14. Rose served as defensive coordinator for the Redskins from 1978-82.

Series

Miami is the only MAC school that has a series lead vs. Bowling Green. The Redskins have a record of 28-11-3 vs. the Falcons. BGSU has won the last two meetings, defeating Miami 17-14 in 1983 and 41-10 last season.

Last Meeting

Never had a Falcon football team so thoroughly defeated a Miami University squad than last year when the Falcons posted a 41-10 victory in front of 21,935 Redskin fans at Yager Stadium. Brian McClure completed 27 of 40 passes for 302 yards and two touchdowns. Joe Boxley was McClure’s favorite target, grabbing eight passes for 115 yards and one score. Bernard White covered 127 yards on 24 carries. The Falcon’s defense limited Miami to just 213 total offense yards.

Scouting Miami

The Redskins are 1-0 this year after a 17-13 win over Ball State last Saturday. Miami’s run-oriented attack focuses on tailback George Swam (6-0, 205). Swam is the top returning rusher in the MAC with 1,282 yards on 270 carries for an average of 116.4 yards per game. Swam ranked sixth in the nation last year in the final NCAA statistics for both rushing and all-purpose running.

Senior Al Marlow (6-4, 207) is Miami’s quarterback, earning the position after leading the Redskins to victories in the last two contests of the ’84 season. Marlow was just five of 13 Saturday vs. Ball State. Other top returning offensive players include: sophomore placekicker Gary Gussman, who kicked 15 field goals last season; senior receivers Tom Murphy (6-0, 183) and Glen Hirschfeld (6-7, 235), who caught a combined total of 62 passes for 844 yards; and tackle Bob Smith (6-4, 278). Senior Steve Fitzhugh (6-0, 199) anchors the defense from his free safety position where he is the top returning tackle with 110 stops last season. Also returning is inside linebacker Jeff Anderson (6-1, 220) who had 84 tackles last season.

Last Week

The Falcons overcame a 26-21 deficit in the last 2:52 of the game to defeat Kentucky 30-26 in Lexington. The Falcons tallied just once in the first half, that coming on a one-yard plunge by tailback Bernard White in the first quarter. Trailing 17-7 at the half, the Falcons came back and played inspired football in the second half. Brian McClure threw a pair of third quarter touchdown passes, going 17 yards to tight end Gerald Bayless (Dayton/Belmont) and 11 yards to split end Stan Hunter (Dayton/Northmont). The final drive started at the Falcon 24 with 2:52 remaining in the game. McClure completed seven of 11 passes for 81 yards during the drive including a big fourth-and-eight pass to Bayless which covered 15 yards. The final tally came from 11 yards out when McClure threw to Meehan with just .23 left on the clock. The Wildcats tried a cross field lateral on the ensuing kickoff but the toss went out of the end zone, resulting in a BG safety and a 30-26 victory.

8,000 Yard Mark

McClure became only the eighth Division I-A quarterback to surpass the 8,000 yard mark in career passing yardage. McClure’s passing total now stands at 8,132 and he trails Doug Flutie’s NCAA career record of 10,579 by 2,448 yards. McClure needs to average 272 yards passing per game in BG’s nine remaining games to eclipse Flutie’s mark.

Cunningham, Marino Trail McClure

McClure now ranks seventh on the all-time passing yardage chart. Against Kentucky, McClure passed former Pitt Panther Dan Marino (7,905), former Las Vegas and current Philadelphia Eagles QB Randall Cunningham (8,020), and former NE Louisiana signal caller John Holman (7,827). Joe “747” Adams, of Tennessee State, is sixth on the NCAA list at 8,649 yards, 517 yards ahead of McClure.

McClure is Miami’s Vice

Brian McClure has been a thorn in the side of the Miami Redskinks for the past three seasons. In those three games, McClure has thrown for 845 yards, more than any other Mid-American Conference opponent. McClure’s stats vs. Miami include 82 completions in 118 attempts, six interceptions and four touchdowns. Five of the six interceptions came in his freshman year. His 69.5 completion percent vs. Miami is also his best vs. any team. Brian threw 312 yards vs. the Redskins in ’82, 231 yards in ’83, and 302 yards last season.

What's in a name?

What’s in Bowling Green’s name is a story of growth and maturity. The school began in 1910 as Bowling Green Normal School, a place to develop teachers. In 1929, the year of the stock market crash, it became Bowling Green College and seven years later, in 1936, the name changed to Bowling Green State University.

With each change, Bowling Green could boast of being bigger and better. In that first year of classes, Bowling Green had 15 faculty members and 158 students and classes were held in the Bowling Green Armory and in the basement of the Methodist Church.

By 1929, 48 faculty members were teaching 957 students, and the physical plant included eight buildings. A total of 1,069 students celebrated Bowling Green becoming a University. That year, Bowling Green could boast of three colleges—liberal studies, education and business administration—and a graduate program.

Today the University has more than 16,000 students taught by more than 700 faculty members. More than 150 degree programs are offered by the six undergraduate colleges, and an additional 50 master's degree and nine doctoral degree programs are available.

Although the creation of what is now Bowling Green State University occurred in 1910 with an act of the state legislature, Bowling Green did not get its first president until 1912. He was Dr. Homer B. Williams.

At the time of his appointment, Dr. Williams was superintendent of schools at Sandusky, Ohio. Well qualified for the job, he had baccalaureate degrees from Ohio Northern and Baldwin Wallace colleges and master's degrees from Baldwin Wallace and Columbia University.

Known as a deeply religious and conservative person, President Williams established weekly chapel service at the school. He also took pride in spending less money than appropriated and returning a substantial surplus to the state at the end of each biennium.

He was also hard working, never taking a vacation during the 25 years he served as president. And his hard work paid off. Beginning with no faculty, no students, no curriculum, no buildings and no official name, Williams retired in 1937, leaving a full-fledged university, complete with three colleges, a graduate program, 1,300 students and 10 buildings.

Bowling Green State University was almost a victim of the depression. In 1933, Ohio's state colleges were supported by funds derived mostly from excise taxes on corporations. Because business was terrible, state income was equally as bad.

In the state legislature, a plan was bandied about to save money by converting Bowling Green into a mental institution, thereby saving the cost of building a badly needed facility. Private colleges saw an opportunity to help their own survival and supported the idea.

But in northwest Ohio, opposition to the plan was almost unanimous. The Northwest Ohio Educational Protective Association was formed and an all-out campaign, complete with pamphlets and letter writing, was launched against the legislators. After much debate, the idea died in committee. Two years later, Bowling Green was granted University status, a reaffirmation by the legislature of its commitment to keeping Bowling Green as an institution of higher learning.

Also dying with the committee vote was a seemingly nonstop series of jokes by faculty and students. One argued that nothing would change if the college became a mental institution—except that doors would be locked at night. Another claimed that after conversion, the faculty would be invited to stay—as patients.

Bowling Green has always had a proud athletic tradition. Conference championships have come often and individual athletes have distinguished themselves in world and Olympic competitions. But twice Falcon sports teams have been the best the NCAA has to offer.

Bowling Green's first national championship came in football in 1959, when the Falcons, under the direction of head coach Doyt Perry, finished 9-0 and were voted the number one small college team in America.

The title was won in the last two games of the season as the Falcons crushed the highly ranked University of Delaware team 30-8 and then came from behind to beat Ohio University 13-9 to win the conference title and the national championship.

The second championship came 25 years later in Lake Placid, N.Y., as the Falcon hockey team beat the University of Minnesota-Duluth 5-4 in four overtimes. The heart-stopping game was the longest in collegiate championship history, lasting 97 minutes and 11 seconds of game time before then-sophomore Gino Cavallini backhanded the puck between the goalie's legs and into the net.
Selecting a college is one of the most important decisions you will make. If you're deciding where to attend school, Bowling Green would like to introduce you to our campus. Take a campus tour, meet with an admissions counselor, and learn what BGSU can offer you. We'll tell you about our 150 undergraduate programs, our 160 clubs and activities, and the advantages of living in our residence halls.

Come and see for yourself.

PREVIEW DAYS are special campus events for prospective students. Academic programs, clubs, and admissions and financial aid all have representatives present to give you information. Preview Days are Saturday, October 19, 1985 and Saturday, December 7, 1985. Both days' events begin at 9:30 a.m. in the University Union.

CAMPUS TOURS leave the Office of Admissions daily at 11:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m., and Saturdays at 11:00 a.m.

Head Coach Denny Stolz

In 17 years of coaching collegiate football, Denny Stolz has proven himself a winner. And in 1985, Stolz will undoubtedly surpass a major milestone with his 100th career coaching victory in the college ranks.

The dean of Mid-American Conference coaches, Stolz is among the top 20 active coaches in America for the second year in a row. With an overall record of 98-73-2 and a winning percentage of .572, Stolz ranks 18th on the active coaches list compiled by Elmore "Scoop" Hudgins, vice president of the College Sports Broadcasting Company.

Stolz, with previous head coaching spots at Alma College and Michigan State, has won Coach of the Year honors at all three institutions including being named MAC Coach of the Year following Bowling Green's 1982 MAC Championship season.

Stolz has built a reputation of breathing new life into each college football program. He accomplished that both at Alma and Michigan State before coming to Bowling Green in 1977. His teams were undefeated in back-to-back seasons at Alma in 1967 and 1968. The 7-3-1 record his 1974 Michigan State team compiled was the best in seven years in East Lansing, and earned Stolz Big Ten Coach of the Year honors.

Stolz again rejuvenated the BGSU football program, leading the Falcons into contention for the MAC title in 1980. In 1981, the Falcons overcame a slow start to win five consecutive games, ending up with a 5-5-1 overall record and a fourth place finish in the MAC with a 5-3-1 league record. In 1982, the Falcons were on top of the MAC with a 7-2 conference record and a narrow one-point defeat in the California Bowl. In 1983, the Falcons were again one of the top teams in the MAC, finishing second with an 8-3 overall record and a 7-2 league slate.

Last season, the Falcons posted a second straight 8-3 overall record with a 7-2 MAC mark. Over the last three seasons, Stolz' Falcons have the best MAC record with a 21-6 ledger. In addition, Falcon teams are 14-1 at home over the last three years.

Through his first eight seasons at Bowling Green, Stolz has led the Falcons to a 45-44-1 overall record. Against MAC competition, the Falcons are 40-26-1 under Stolz.

Stolz is a native of Lansing, MI and grew up in Mason, MI. Stolz and his three brothers all attended Alma College and Denny earned a bachelor's degree in 1955. He played quarterback for the Scots, and upon graduation became the head football coach at Haslett (MI) High School, where he led the Falcons into contention for the MAC title in 1967. By the time he left Alma in 1971, Stolz had compiled a 34-16 record and led the school to two outright Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association championships, and one co-championship.

His next stop was Michigan State, where Stolz served for two years as defensive coordinator for Duffy Daugherty before being named the Spartan's head coach in 1973. Again, Stolz turned around a struggling program and within two years, Michigan State had climbed to 7-3-1 overall and 6-1-1 in the Big 10 for its best finish since the 1966 team went unbeaten. The Spartans finished twelfth in the Associated Press poll and eighteenth in the United Press International rankings, and Stolz was named Big 10 Coach of the Year.

Michigan State finished 7-4 the next year, beating Notre Dame 10-3 at South Bend. Stolz resigned from Michigan State in 1976, with a 19-13-1 record, the only winning record in the Big 10 outside of Ohio State or Michigan during the preceding three years.

Born September 12, 1934, Denny and his wife, Cena, have a son, Doak, 25, and two daughters, Dawn, 24, and Denise, 18.

Denny Stolz
Since Dr. Paul J. Olscamp became the eighth president of Bowling Green State University in July, 1982, several changes have been made that will bring Bowling Green into the ranks of nationally important universities.

Upon his arrival from Western Washington University, where he spent seven years as president, Olscamp announced plans to greatly expand the faculty's role in the operation of the University. "The best planning is when those being affected are included in the planning process," Olscamp reasoned.

Since then, more than 30 percent of the faculty and a large number of staff and students have participated in decisions that will have a profound impact upon the future course of Bowling Green.

In rapid order came the first major revision of the Faculty Charter, the school's primary governance document, and the development of a Role and Mission statement, dramatically changing the course for Bowling Green over the next decade. Clear indication of support was the Faculty Senate's 60-1-1 endorsement of the plan.

Faculty now have greater control over the curriculum and participate directly in the formulation of the budget. They also share authority with the University president in interpreting the charter. The chair and vice-chair of the Faculty Senate sit with all Board of Trustee committees and represent faculty concerns to them.

Olscamp also moved quickly to strengthen the collections and services of the Jerome Library and set the goal of joining the Association of Research Libraries, comprising the country's top 100 research libraries. Admittance to the ARL should come much sooner than originally planned.

In 1983 Olscamp was instrumental in Bowling Green's being approved for membership in the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, the oldest university association in the country, comprising the nation's 143 best universities.

Students have always occupied an important place on Olscamp's agenda and several moves during the past two years have significantly improved student life at Bowling Green. In May, 1984, the Board of Trustees approved a student legal services program, the first of its kind in Ohio to employ an attorney. Both the program and the attorney are financed by a special voluntary fee that, so far, has drawn support from more than 80 percent of the student body.

Since August, 1982, the student government presidents have met with Trustee committees the night before regular board meetings, as well as in public meeting.

An installment payment plan was developed enabling students to defer fee payments over the course of a semester. From its beginning in September, 1983, the plan has been popular with students, resulting in more young men and women being able to attend the University.

Another student benefit has been the installation of computer labs in the University's nine major residence halls, reflecting Olscamp's desire to have all students who graduate from Bowling Green to have a background in computer usage.

As a state university president, Olscamp has made it a point, as he did in Washington, to become familiar with the workings of state government and its legislators.

He is married to the former Ruth Ilene Pratt, a native of Akron. A practicing speech pathologist who is currently coordinator of clinical services in the University's School of Speech Communication, she is a graduate of Heidelberg College and Ohio University.
As Bowling Green State University approaches the 75th anniversary of its founding, the personalized small school atmosphere of its early years remains while the range of educational opportunities available to students is that expected of a large university.

When Bowling Green Normal School opened its doors in 1910, there were 10 faculty members and 304 students, all of whom were studying to be teachers. Today the University has more than 700 faculty; 16,000 students on its main campus, and undergraduate Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, Health and Community Services, and Musical Arts; a School of Technology, and a Graduate College. Within the undergraduate colleges are Schools of Art, Journalism, Nursing, Speech Communication, and Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

In all, the University offers more than 150 undergraduate degree programs, 17 associate degree programs, 60 master's degree programs, 9 doctoral degree programs, as well as courses which fulfill the first two years of the bachelor degree requirement. Firelands College enrolls about 1,200 students.

The University's faculty members, 75 percent of whom hold doctorates, operate in all academic programs. Middle-level leaders in the University are those who have been appointed by the president and the senior vice president for academic affairs.

The University is continually refurbishing existing buildings and upgrading facilities to meet current need. An example underway is the remodeling of West Hall, the former music building, to provide up-to-date facilities for the School of Music and the radio-television-film program. Another is the recent addition of numerous computer facilities across campus, including microcomputer laboratories for student use in residence halls, to ensure all Bowling Green students are familiar with the technology of the computer age.

Commitment to teaching, however, is reflected in the number of full-time faculty members, 17 percent of whom hold doctorates and 27 percent of whom hold master's degrees. Middleton level leaders in the University are those who have been appointed by the president and the senior vice president for academic affairs.

The newest of the more than 100 campus buildings is the $7.2 million Physical Sciences Laboratory that opened in 1984. The 52,800 square-foot science building is the most modern facility of its kind in Ohio, and features state-of-the-art equipment for teaching and research in chemistry, physics and astronomy.

The Physical Sciences Laboratory is not for the sole use of students and faculty, however. Special programs are held at the planetarium for the public, the latest addition to a wide array of ways the University serves Ohio's citizens.

Others include the Management Center which offers training, consulting and research assistance to business and industry; WBGU-TV, the University's award-winning public television station; the Creative Arts Program which provides instruction in music and dance for young people; Continuing Education courses and conferences for adults as well as children; the Speech and Hearing Clinic with its diagnostic and treatment services; NETWORK BG which assists business and industry in utilizing University resources, and cultural events ranging from public concerts and art shows to theater productions and lectures.

Bowling Green is an all-American city. It encompasses all of the fine qualities that Americans expect of a wholesome Midwestern city. And Bowling Green State University is the quintessential all-American university, with ivy-covered buildings, pretty coeds and handsome males strolling along Ridge Street as they change classes each day.

With all of these great qualities, it is only natural that BGSU would become the “College of Champions,” with NCAA and Mid-American Conference championships being won on what would seem to be a daily basis.

Football has done more than its share to build the winning tradition that Bowling Green is so proud to claim. A national championship in 1959, a Mid-American Conference championship in 1982 and another title on the horizon are just three reasons why the students, faculty and alumni are so proud to claim affiliation with BGSU.

All-Americans and football seem to go hand in hand and when the multi-colored leaves have left the branches, and the football teams begin thinking of bowl games, that is when the coaches and sports writers around the nation begin to announce the best: the annual all-America teams. Many have been named to first, second, or third all-America team.

Fred Durig, a hard-hitting fullback for Coach Robert Whittaker back in 1952 was the first BGSU all-American. Interception artist Martin Bayless, a stalwart on BG’s 1982 MAC Championship team, was the most recent.

As we honor former Bowling Green let-terms today on Varsity BG Day, let’s take a look back at the 12 Falcon players who have been named to the all-American teams.

Martin Bayless: Bayless’ BGSU career started innocently enough; he was a recruited walk-on candidate whose desire was more towards basketball than football. Being named second team all-MAC as a freshman was just the first of many awards to come to the Dayton native who graduated from Belmont High School. Bayless would go on to earn first team, all-MAC honors for three straight years. He set the MAC career record for interceptions with 27, a total that is currently the third highest by a major college player. Twice named honorable mention all-American as a sophomore and junior, Bayless earned third team honors from the Associated Press as a senior. He was also selected to play in the Blue-Gray game where he picked off two more passes and was named the defensive player of the game. As a senior, Martin led the nation in interceptions and his 264 yards of returns on interceptions stands as a BGSU record. Drafted by the United States Football League in the first round, Bayless eventually signed with the St. Louis Cardinals from where he was dealt to the Buffalo Bills. Martin earned a starting position late last season and was challenging for a starting berth this fall as the NFL training camps came to a close.

Bernie Casey: Perhaps the best known of Bowling Green’s all-American football players, Casey turned his football cleats in for a paintbrush and a career in television and motion pictures. Casey was an all-MAC halfback in 1959 when he led the Falcon team in scoring with 66 points. He was named a Little All-American in 1960 when the San Francisco 49er’s made him a first round draft choice, the first Mid-Am player so honored. Casey played in the East-West Shrine game and the College All-Star game in Chicago. Casey’s talents knew no boundaries: he was an outstanding track athlete, winning the MAC high hurdles championships, finishing fourth in the NCAA track meet, and just missing a berth on the Olympic team in 1960. Bernie completed his art education degree in 1961 and had an outstanding pro career, leading the 49ers in receiving for three seasons. Casey returned to Bowling Green during the off-season and received a Master of Fine Arts degree while serving as a graduate assistant and teaching fellow in the art department.

Fred Durig: Durig was the first Falcon ever named to an all-America team earning Little All-America honors in 1952. However, Durig’s finest year came in 1951 when he rushed for 1,444 yards, a BG record that is yet to be broken. As a junior, Durig surpassed the 100-yard mark in all but one contest, and finished the year with 206 yards against Bradley to rank second in the NCAA. As a senior, Durig rushed for 853 yards and nine touchdowns and earned all-America honors. A member of the class of ’53, Durig was inducted into the BGSU Athletic Hall of Fame in 1975.

Jack Giroux: “Jarring Jack” they called him at the Blue-Gray game as a senior where he was a starting defensive back, even though he was touted as a highly skilled offensive player. Giroux was BG’s starting fullback for three seasons, running out of Doyt Perry’s split-T formation and leading the squad to an undefeated but once-tied season as a senior. Jack gained 1,046 yards as a senior and performed equally well as a ball carrier, line backer, and blocking back for Vic DeOrio. The Toledo Walleye graduate scored eight touchdowns as a senior in earning all-America honors. He was also selected as the most valuable player on the 1956 Falcon team, an all-Ohio selection, and a first team all-MAC fullback. After receiving several offers of professional football, Giroux entered the service and then began a successful business career after his discharge.
Jack Hecker: Jack Hecker was the third Falcon player ever named to the Little All-America team, earning the honor in 1955. He was also the first BGSU player to participate in the Blue-Gray game, preceding Doyt Perry by one year. An outstanding all-around athlete, Hecker won nine letters at Bowling Green, three each in football, basketball, and track. Twice named first team all-MAC, Hecker was captain of Doyt Perry's first team in 1955 and also earned all-Ohio honors as an offensive and defensive end. His 11 catches for 163 yards vs. Marshall in 1955 stood as a Falcon record for more than 10 years. Still active in coaching, Hecker is an assistant coach at West Point, working with fellow BGSU graduate Jim Young.

Jim Ladd: Ladd was named a Little All-America in 1953 as he set a new NCAA pass receiving record with 11 touchdown catches, a record that still stands in the BGSU record books. His 43 catches that season was unheard of during the "three-yards and a cloud of dust" period. His BG career receiving record of 90 catches for 1,341 yards stood for 14 years. Another multi-sport standout, Ladd was also a member of the 1953-54 NIT basketball team and won a track letter as a shot put and discus thrower. The Put-in-Bay native eventually played with the Chicago Cardinals but his career was cut short by a leg injury.

Mark Miller: Bowling Green's all-America quarterback in 1977, Mark Miller was to Falcon football what Brian McClure is today. Named to the all-America teams of the Football News and Argosy Magazine, Miller owned all the BGSU passing records that stood until the past two seasons. Taking over the starting QB reins in the second game of his freshman season, Miller guided the Falcons to wins over Syracuse, Brigham Young and Southern Mississippi during his four-year career. Named BGSU's most valuable player as a junior and senior, Miller holds the MAC record for the longest pass completion for a touchdown, a 96-yard toss to Richard Green as he tutors BG's talented group of receivers. Miller remains in coaching as he tutors BG's talented group of receivers.

Dave Preston: If you tried to list all the awards and accomplishments that Dave Preston earned while wearing the brown and orange, we'd have to add a few pages to fit them all in. Named to the Churchman's All-American second team in 1975, Preston, like Miller, was an all-American both on the field and in the classroom. Named to the Academic All-America second team in 1976, Preston was also awarded an NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship. Dave rushed for 1,414 yards as a sophomore, at the time the second highest ever by a second year player. He finished fifth in the nation in scoring and rushing in 1974, and was second in the major-college ranks in scoring in 1975. Twice named MAC Player of the Week during his career, Preston was the loop's scoring and rushing champion in 1974. Eighteen times the Defiance, Ohio native rushed for over 100-yards, including a top performance of 191 yards vs. Marshall in 1974. Many of his records still stand, including his marks for touchdowns, points scored and rushing attempts. He is also the Falcons' all-time leading rusher with 3,423 career yards. Drafted by the New England Patriots, Preston eventually became a regular with the Denver Broncos and enjoyed better than a half-dozen seasons in the NFL.

Mike Weger: Mike was Bowling Green's first major-college all-American, earning second team honors from the Associated Press in 1965. An outstanding defensive back, Weger also saw action on offense, gaining nearly 500 yards his last two seasons. Twice named first team all-MAC, Weger finished his BGSU career with eight interceptions. Mike captained the 1966 Falcon team and earned his all-America honors during the MAC Championship year of 1965. He was a seventh round draft choice of the Detroit Lions and from 1967 to 1973, he was a steady defensive back, missing just three games. He intercepted three passes in one game in 1968 against the Chicago Bears. Born and raised in Oklahoma, the Sooners' Bud Wilkinson actively recruited the Bowling Green High School graduate whose loyalty to BGSU is still evident. Interviewed by the Daily Sentinel-Tribune this summer, Weger said "If I had to make the choice again, I'd go to BG in a second."

Andre Young: Andre Young became an all-American in 1982 and was a standout on the Falcons' most recent MAC Championship team. His all-America honors were accorded by Kodak as he was a member of their 24-Player Division I-AA team that is selected by the American Football Coaches Association. Not large by current standards for defensive linemen, Young used his outstanding quickness and pursuit to terrorize opposing offenses. As a fifth-year senior, Young was nominated by Bowling Green for the Jefferson Award, emblematic of the league's most valuable player. He was named the team's most valuable player in '82 and also a defensive captain. Drafted by the Denver Gold of the USFL and the Cincinnati Bengals Young wound up playing for the Calgary Stampers of the Canadian Football League in 1983. He spent this past summer in the Buffalo Bills training camp before being released in the final roster cut.

Bob Zimpfer: Bob captained the 1959 national title team and earned Little All-America honors as a senior. Named to the all-Ohio and all-MAC teams as both a junior and senior, he played in the North-South Shrine All-Star game and was at the All-American Bowl in Tucson, Arizona. An outstanding tackle, Zimpfer was picked as one of the top tackles in the Midwest by a national publication prior to his senior season. Bob was also named to William- son's Mid-Bracket All-America team. One of the finest offensive linemen to play at BGSU, he was inducted into the BGSU Hall of Fame in 1974.

A mere 1/8" of rain could float your car off the road.
Hence the reason for Vector, Goodyear's superb handling all-season radial.
Vector's aggressive criss-cross tread actually pumps water away. To help your car maintain traction, even when the elements become hostile.
And Vector's performance advantages are enduring. Even after thousands of miles of wear, Vector's deep tread and double-steel belts continue to give you outstanding traction and performance.

Vector

It simply performs like no other tire in the world.

Today's Halftime Show

The Falcon Marching Band welcomes all returning BGSU athletic letterwinners to Varsity BG day.

Movies, Movies, Movies! America is experiencing a rebirth of the cinema with new stars being discovered and box office records being broken. The Falcon Marching Band salutes the World of Cinema. Our show opens with the theme from one of the year's hottest movies: Beverly Hills Cop, The Heat Is On. From Tom Mix to Luke Skywalker, the movies have always kindled our imagination. The Broadway stage has given many epics to the silver screen. One of the most memorable and successful is West Side Story. With thoughts of the Sharks and the Jets, and Tony and Maria, we close our show with Tonight.

Senior Falcon tailback Bernard White has his sights set on another 1000 yard season in 1985. White carried for 67 yards in the opening game against Ball State, with 48 yards coming on this carry.

Be A Part Of It!

by Kevin Cleary
Asst. Director, Athletic Promotion

Welcome to all students and teachers in attendance today as part of Welcome Back to School Day 1985. We hope you like what you see and become regulars. Thank you’s go out to those members of the business community who made this 4th annual day possible. A partial list of major donors available at press time is listed below. Also, thanks to Superintendents Richard Cummings and Dallas Gardner for all their help and support.

Parents Day is traditionally one of the biggest days of the year at BGSU. This year’s will be no different. The Akron Zips invade next weekend, 1:30 p.m. kick-off, and tickets are available but going fast. Mom and Dad, don’t just send money, come spend a day on campus. Tickets are available at Memorial Hall Ticket Office (372-2762) or at the gate on the day of the game.

Gary Palmisano’s Falcon soccer team plays that day at 4:00 p.m. vs. regional foe Akron. Make a day of it! Oct. 19 is Youth/Team Day, in which youth groups, high school and junior high athletic teams from all over Northwest Ohio are invited to attend morning instructional sports camps before attending the Central Michigan game. Anyone who would like to sponsor a team or group from their neighborhood or town can contact me at 372-2401.

A plaque commemorating the 75th Anniversary of the two schools will go to the victor of the Kent State/Bowling Green game on a yearly basis. The schools will face off in this year’s Homecoming game, Oct. 26. Be there to witness the start of a tradition between the two “sister schools.” Bowling Green holds a 35-12-6 series edge, having won the last 11 in a row.

A tip of the hat to our friends at Acme Beverage for providing the thumb shakers and sky divers at today’s game and to Moore Business Forms Inc., Imperial Clevite, Jim Navarre Oldsmobile-Cadillac and Ball Plastics, all of whom have groups at today’s game.

The BGSU Athletic Department would like to thank the following for their participation in Welcome Back to School Day 1985:

- Wood County Sunoco Dealers
- TO’s Campus Corner
- Henry Filters
- Rocky Rocco’s Pizza
- Kentucky Fried Chicken
- Century Tag and Label
- Foodtown

A busy day is in store for our sports information office today. Sid Sink’s men’s cross country team hosted a five-miler vs. Ball State this morning and Denise Van De Walle’s volleyball team plays host to Ohio U. tonight at Anderson Arena, 7 p.m. Remember to support all Falcon Athletic teams.
By Steve Shutt

When the call went out, the troops responded. Some more reluctantly than others, but in the end, the soldiers all obeyed their sergeant.

The troops in this instance refer to Bowling Green's outstanding corps of defensive backs. Led by last year's All-Mid-American Conference cornerback Melvin Marshall, the Falcons are using the same secondary that started the season last year. Marshall is joined by fellow senior Sean Dykes, and juniors Dean Bryson and Ray Redd.

Their exploits on the field have been well documented. In the season opener vs. Ball State, Marshall tied an NCAA record by intercepting a pair of passes and returning them for touchdowns. Those two thefts by Marshall pushed him into the statistical spotlight as he was the leading scorer in the MAC after the first week of action, and he also led the nation in interceptions.

The secondary also allowed just 104 yards through the air to Ball State and was ranked eighth in the nation in pass defense. The entire defense was the third best in the NCAA, allowing just 189 yards vs. the Cardinals.

However, the secondary's off the field exploits have not been as well documented. The story of Ray Redd and this "hair-raising" adventure will change that.

Redd, a 5-10 183 lb. junior, is a four-year veteran of the United States Army who enrolled at Bowling Green in 1983. He was a walk-on candidate for the football team who earned a starting berth last season at cornerback. However, a knee injury in the opening game sidelined Redd until late in the season. This fall, Ray reported to pre-season camp fully healthy and has regained his starting position.

With four years of experience as a member of the 101st Airborne, Redd learned the discipline that he was lacking upon graduation from high school in 1978. He went through desert training in the Mojave Desert and then spent two and one-half years in Garlsted, West Germany, rising to the rank of sergeant.

Nicknamed "Sarge" by his Falcon teammates, Redd is the oldest BGSU player on the squad. He turned 25 on August 28.

Redd's discipline and Army training have carried over to the football field. A hard-nosed player who is respected by all, he recently enticed the entire corps of defensive backs to shave their heads, military-style.

"When I came in this summer, I spoke with (tight end) Gerald Bayless and we decided that it would be a good idea to develop motivation and inspiration," said the soft-spoken Redd who still addresses many as "sir".

"We talked to all the defensive backs and slowly, they all had their heads shaved. Some of them didn't want to do it at first," said Redd.

The hair-cutting took place on August 16 in the bathroom of the BGSU dorm that housed the football team during its pre-season camp. With "Sarge" wielding the clippers, 15 defensive backs had their heads shaved, as well as another dozen players on the squad.

The most prominent casualty was defensive back coach Jon Hoke who had promised to shave his head if each and every defensive back did the same. Hoke has been adorned with an ever-present cap at recent Falcon practices. Hoke is a former all-Mid-American Conference defensive back while playing for Ball State. He also spent one year with the Chicago Bears.

Redd attended Dayton Wayne High School where he was an honorable mention all-league wide receiver. But Ray admits that grade problems and a lack of discipline were reasons for joining the Army upon his graduation. Following his military enlistment, Redd played football in the Army, again as a wide receiver and flanker, and was named most valuable player of his Deutschland team while averaging 19 yards per catch. Redd spent two and one-half years in Germany, starting as a private first class and rising to the rank of sergeant and commanding a platoon of 14 soldiers. Following his release from the Army, Redd considered attending Wisconsin-Superior but because he knew Shawn Potts, then a Falcon wide receiver, Redd decided to attend Bowling Green.

Ray is not the only Dayton native among the backfield starters. In fact three starting secondary members are from Dayton, the lone exception being Sean Dykes, a New Orleans, Louisiana native. Marshall, who starts at cornerback opposite Redd, is a graduate of Dayton's Stebbins High School while safety Dean Bryson is a Colonel White alumnus. Among the reserve defensive backs, Kyle Kramer and Fred Turner are both Dayton natives. Kramer attended Fairmont and Turner is a Chaminade-Julienne graduate.

Between Redd, Marshall, Bryson and Dykes, the Falcon secondary has 13 career interceptions to its credit. With the way they have played thus far this season, that career total could double before the end of the year.

Whether Falcon opponents decide to try to move the football either by land or by air, you can be sure that Sarge's troops will be waiting for them.

VARSITY BG CLUB SAYS
GO FALCONS!

ABOUT THE VARSITY BG CLUB
The Varsity BG Club is an exclusive organization open only to former Bowling Green State University varsity letterwinners, who for $10 per year can help operate the club and support BGSU athletics at the same time. Five hundred former Falcon letterwinners joined the Varsity BG Club last year, and the number is expected to climb even higher during the 1985-86 membership year. Again this year, the Varsity BG Club is offering a lifetime membership for $100; no other dues will ever be required. Lifetime memberships for those 65 and older are only $50.

The Varsity BG Club undertakes three major projects each year, the first of which takes place each spring in Rossford. It is the annual Recognition Dinner, and honored that night are the College Coach of the Year, the High School Coach of the Year, and the Special Recognition Award Winner. Each July, the Varsity BG Club hosts the popular Doyt Perry Golf Outing in Bowling Green, and in the fall, the Club celebrates Varsity BG Day at a Falcon football game. This year, Varsity BG Day is Sept. 21 with the Falcons playing the Miami Redskins.

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS
All active members of the Varsity BG Club will receive:

- Membership in an exclusive organization open only to BGSU varsity letterwinners.
- Special activities and programs, such as the ones described.
- Subscription to the quarterly newsletter, and a Varsity BG Club membership card that entitles the holder to one free reserved bench seat ticket for each of BGSU’s five home football games in 1985. Just show your 1985-86 membership card at the east side ticket booth on game day for free admission.
- A 10 percent discount on BGSU football, basketball and hockey season tickets.
- Personal satisfaction in contributing to BGSU athletics through your continued involvement.

Soccer

The Falcons haven’t had a losing season since Gary Palmisano took over as head coach in 1978. The Falcons return eight lettermen, including four of the top five scorers for 1984. However, BG will be young in the backfield and in goal. Of the eight lettermen back, forwards Mark Jackson, Gary Mexicotte and Steve Aleric will play leading roles, along with midfielders Bert Westin, Nan Chul Shin, and Drew Dawson.

Highlighting the season has been an appearance in three different tournaments, each of the last three weeks. BGSU has played in the Akron Holiday Tournament over Labor Day weekend, and at the Red Rebel Classic at the University of Nevada-Las Vegas last weekend. On September 7 & 8, the Falcons hosted the Toledo Trust/BG Soccer Cup for the first time and BG finished second with a win and a tie. At press time, the Falcons were 1-2-1 in action. This afternoon the Falcons are playing at Marquette.

Volleyball

For a team that had as many freshmen members as veterans, the 1984 Falcon volleyball team surpassed its expectations in finishing fifth in the MAC with an 8-10 record and a 14-16 overall mark. BG opened its season last week and they are hosting Ohio University this evening at 7 p.m. in Anderson Arena.

The 1985 Falcons, coach Denise Van De Walle’s third BG team, will be more experienced throughout the roster, with seniors Debbie Hopkins and Sue Scott providing the leadership. Hopkins earned all-MAC honors in 1984.

During the off-season, coach Van De Walle signed a group of fine recruits, three of whom will see action as middle blockers: Susanne Reid of nearby Anthony Wayne High School, Jane Plantz of LaPorte, IN, and Kelley Ellott of Kanata, Ontario. They join several outstanding returning players including Lisa Berardinelli and Jo Lynn Williamson.

Cross Country

The Sid Sink years as women’s cross country coach have been filled with success. Four-time MAC Champs since 1980, the Falcons were narrowly edged out for the 1984 title by Western Michigan last fall.

The Falcons are off to a good start in 1985, holding a 1-0 record at press time. Four seniors who lettered a year ago are gone, but enough talent returns to keep the Falcons in the hunt for another conference championship in 1985. Veterans JoAnn Wegert and Sara Collas are expected to lead the way. Collas was a silver medalist in the Macabbiah Games in Israel over the summer.

Sink will be in charge of the men’s team for the first time, and it should prove to be a challenge. Six seniors in 1984 were lost to graduation, leaving Sink with a decidedly young squad to coach. Good things are expected from senior Tom Franek, junior Scott Wargo and sophomore Todd Nichols.

The men hosted Ball State this morning at 11 a.m. and the women are participating in the Miami Invitational today.

Women’s Golf

The Falcon women are coming off a fine season in 1984 when they were top-five finishers in three different tournaments: the Ferris State, Michigan State and Michigan Invitational. BG also finished third in the MSU Spring Invitation. The women started their season two weeks ago with a fifth place finish at the Illinois State Invitational, a 14-team field.

Coach Greg Nye has plenty of veterans back in 1985, so his hopes are high for continued success. Leading the way will be senior Claire Batista and junior Geralyn Repasky, the top two golfers on the 1984-85 squad. The Falcons lost only one letterwinner from last year’s team, Susanne Ohlsson. This weekend the Falcons are playing at the Lady Northern Intercollegiate just up the road in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

What the new rules say

Major rules changes in the college football season:

BLOCKING:
1. Offensive players can extend their arms on run and pass blocking. They may legally block with shoulder, open hands, outer surface of the arm or any other part of the body. Hands must be in advance of the elbows and inside player and opponent's bodies. They must also be at or below player and opponent's shoulder and cannot be extended more than one-half of full extension.
2. There is no longer an exception for blocking below the waist on field goals and point-after-touchdown attempts.

TOUCHBACKS:
- Ball will be placed at the 20 instead of the 30 for kickoffs that land beyond the end zone and are untouched by the receiving team.

FLAGRANT FACE-MASK:
- Automatic first down added to penalty for flagrant face-mask out of bounds.

Falcons Halt Cardinals in Opener

Ball State University running back Carlton Campbell is stopped cold in his tracks by a trio of Falcon defenders, Mike Foor (96), Vince Villanucci (44) and Joe Foley (41). BG's defense scored three touchdowns and extended their streak of not allowing a touchdown to 10 straight quarters with a 31-6 win over BSU on September 7. (Photo by Steve France)
