When Bowling Green State University opened its doors in 1914, there were 15 faculty members and all 158 students were studying to be teachers. Since then, the range of educational opportunities has expanded to those of a large university while BGSU has retained the personalized small school atmosphere of its early years.

Today the University has nearly 750 full-time and 200 part-time faculty and 17,000 students on its main campus. It offers more than 170 undergraduate degree programs, 75 master's degree programs and has 12 departments granting doctoral degrees in more than 40 specialty areas.

The University's faculty members, 82 percent of whom hold the highest degree in their fields, include Fulbright Scholars, authors and internationally known researchers. The caliber of the faculty is reflected, too, in such recognition as the 1986 Eminent Scholar Award received by the chemistry department as part of the Ohio Board of Regents' Selective Excellence Program.

In addition to their scholastic achievements, the faculty provide a multitude of services to the northwest Ohio community. The Speech and Hearing Clinic, as well as the Psychological Services Center, annually assist hundreds of people from throughout northwest Ohio. A Reading Clinic and the Creative Arts Program serve a younger population, encouraging children's development in both basic skills and creative pursuits. The Management Center has helped hundreds of businesses improve their organization and productivity and, through Network BG, a wide range of faculty expertise is available for consultation and research.

The Bowling Green Falcons will end a three-game hiatus from the friendly confines of Doyt L. Perry Field this afternoon as they host Western Michigan University. Today is Youth/Team Day and Varsity BG Day and BGSU is proud to welcome youth teams from throughout the state who are attending this afternoon’s game.

The Falcons enter today’s game with a record of 1-3 overall and 1-2 in the MAC. Injuries have hampered the Falcons over the past several weeks and a few changes in the starting lineup are expected since the Falcons last played at home on September 6. The most prominent is expected to be at quarterback where starting line-up are expected since the Falcons last played at home on September 6. The most prominent is expected at quarterback where starting line-up are expected since the Falcons last played at home. Eric Smith played in the secondary where freshman Mike Holmes has replaced Ray Southard who is out for the season with a broken leg. Center Eric Helgesen is expected to miss his second straight game with a broken rib.

Scouting Western Michigan

The Broncos enter the game with an 0-4 record, three of the losses coming outside of the Mid-American Conference. The Broncos are coming off a 45-10 loss to 19th-ranked Michigan State last Saturday. The other WMU setbacks have come at the hands of Eastern Michigan (21-14), Temple (49-17) and Long Beach State (14-13). Bronco quarterback Chris Conklin completed four of 10 passes for 96 yards before leaving the MSU game with a hip pointer. His status will be evaluated on a day-to-day basis this week, and it is questionable whether he will be available for action on Saturday. Conklin’s replacement, Jon Van Slooten, completed seven of 14 passes for 59 yards against the Spartans. Western Michigan’s top rusher is runningback Joe Glenn (6-8, 207, Jr.) who has 306 yards on 85 carries this season. Tight end Kelly Spielmaker (6-2, 220, Sr.) is WMU’s top receiver with 19 catches for 250 yards while flanker Paul Sorce (6-0, 168, Sr.) has nine receptions for 90 yards. The WMU offensive line is anchored by four returners in tackles Chris Baar (6-5, 276, Sr.) and Gary VanderWeele (6-4, 261, Jr.) and guards Jim Lippe (6-3, 263, Sr.) and Sam Culbert (6-6, 247, Sr.). The Broncos have had to revamp their defensive unit that is very young. Denny Robinson (5-11, 167, Jr.) moves from cornerback to free safety, David Belle (5-10, 161, So.), moves from split end to cornerback, and Dan Cunningham (6-1, 184, So.) moves over from strong safety. Mark garliczyk (5-8, 268, Sr.) and Jim Kramer (5-6, 193, Sr.) return as the starting tackles and Denis Fitzgerald (6-3, 218, So.) will start at middle guard. The linebacker corps lost John Of dental from the Broncos, six of the last seven, and 13 of 15 since 1971. In games played at Doyt L. Perry Field, the Falcons are 7-2 against Western Michigan.

Last Meeting

Almost exactly one year ago (October 5, 1985) the Falcons erupted for their highest point total of the 1985 season in a 49-7 victory over Western Michigan at WMU’s Waldo Stadium. The Falcons turned six Western Michigan turnovers into five touchdowns on their way to the victory. The Broncos fumbled on their first play from scrimmage and less than a minute into the game, quarterback Brian McClure threw a 20-yard touchdown pass to Stan Hunter. The Falcons made the best of three interceptions and three fumble recoveries in rolling to their fifth win in as many games. Tailbacks Darryl Story and Bernard White added rushing yardage, and the Falcons held the Broncos to 167 yards on the ground.

Last Week

The Bowling Green defense continued its outstanding play last week as they held Miami to 247 yards of total offense and 14 points. The Falcons held senior tailback George Swann to 87 yards on the ground and the BG secondary, ranked the best against the pass in the nation entering the game, held Miami’s powerful pass attack to just 145 yards. The Falcon offense went through three quarterbacks on Saturday as starter Eric Smith dislocated his right thumb and left the game in the first quarter. Jeff Sandru relieved Smith before giving way to freshman Rich Deckin. Deckin completed his first 11 passes in the game and finished 15-of-20 for 130 yards. Bowling Green’s only touchdown came in the first quarter when senior tight end Paul Schubert intercepted a Miami pass and returned it 71 yards for a score.

TODAY’S GAMES

- Miami at Ohio
- Central Michigan at Kent
- Eastern Michigan at Toledo
- Ball State vs. Indiana State at Indianapolis
Going to school at Bowling Green State University is no longer an "8-to-5" job. For the first time this fall, students will be able to complete six undergraduate degree programs by attending classes only in the evening.

The Evening Credit Program has been expanded to serve an increasing number of "non-traditional students," those who have had a break in their education since high school, are working or caring for children and/or attending school only part-time, according to Joan Bissland, director of evening programs and adult learner services in the Office of Continuing Education.

Evening-only undergraduates may now pursue degrees in liberal studies, electronic technology, manufacturing technology, social work and executive secretarial studies (a two-year associate degree program), in addition to general business. The evening degree program in general business had been offered previously; the other five options are all new this fall. The programs are offered in four of the University’s undergraduate colleges — Arts and Sciences, Technology, Health and Human Services and Business Administration.

The five new evening programs are just part of the University’s effort to attract non-traditional undergraduates to Bowling Green. That effort began several years ago when University President Paul J. Olschamp announced his commitment to establishing evening degree programs at Bowling Green. The University’s new Role and Mission Statement, approved by the Board of Trustees in spring 1984, also includes a goal of attracting on a yearly basis an increasing number of non-traditional students and responding appropriately to their levels of preparation, experience, needs and interests. The availability of evening credit courses is cited as critical to meeting that goal.

The real emphasis in recruiting non-traditional students to the University is on service, Bissland said.

Bowling Green now offers free career advising and interest inventories, placement testing, counseling about admissions and financial aid, academic advising and special registration sessions in the evening for prospective students who have had some interruption in their formal education. The career advising and interest inventories are available to all community and area residents, regardless if they plan to enroll at Bowling Green.

And, for those who have hesitated in continuing their education because of a fear of math, the University offers an algebra course designed specifically for those who feel the need to brush up on their math skills. To further ease the transition into University life, there is an orientation class for adult students, offered for college credit to those who have been out of high school for several years or have had a break in their formal college training. All non-traditional students also are invited to a "New Student Orientation" program preceding each academic semester.

Although Bowling Green does not attract as many non-traditional students as urban universities, Bissland said the University is reaching the ever-increasing "new" student population — the more than 5 million adults who are now enrolled throughout the country in degree-credit programs on a part-time basis.

She noted that the National Center for Education Statistics reports that non-traditional students now represent more than 40 percent of the total enrollment in higher education. Some of these students are in a career transition — learning skills to get a new and better job or upgrade their status in their current job. Others are completing a degree they started years ago but never finished. Still others are enrolled in courses simply to have fun, learn new things and meet new friends.

Nationwide, increasing numbers of adult-age students are also enrolling in college degree programs for the first time, Bissland said. Most are studying on a part-time basis while working or caring for children, but some are pursuing a degree full time.

Non-traditional students are enrolling at Bowling Green for those same reasons, she said. Last spring, more than four students were identified as "evening students" — those taking most of their classes at 4:30 p.m. or later. And, nearly 1,800 non-traditional students over 25 years of age were enrolled at the University.

"We recognize that these people require different kinds of services at different times of the day than our traditional, residential student," Bissland said. "Our emphasis is on making it easy and comfortable for them to attend Bowling Green. Certainly, being able to obtain an undergraduate degree while working full-time is a necessity for most of these people."

To ensure that other needs are being addressed, Ramona Cormier, dean of continuing education and summer programs, has created an advisory committee with non-traditional students, faculty and staff as members. The non-traditional students are important members of the committee because they are particularly aware of the problems they and others in their positions encounter when they decide to continue their education.

In further efforts to serve the non-traditional student, the University recently approved an "Academic Forgiveness" Policy which allows a student returning to Bowling Green after at least a five-year absence the option to have his/her grade point average calculated from the point of readmission without losing credit for all previous course work with a grade of "S" or "C" or better. "We recognize that some students realize after a semester or two that they just are not ready for college. They drop out, work for a while and then come back to school with a completely different attitude," Bissland said.

"We don't want to hold their previous academic record against them. In essence, what our new policy does is allow them to re-enter with a 'clean slate'."

Sometimes that time on the job pays off with more than maturity. Bowling Green students may receive academic course credit for their work/life experience by taking an examination upon approval from the appropriate college dean and academic department.

Adults over the age of 60 also can take advantage of Bowling Green's SAGE program and enroll free in a credit course with permission from the instructor. Parking permits and library cards are free to SAGE program participants who must register for courses through Bissland in the continuing education office.

In fact, Bissland's office on the third floor of McFall Center is the place to visit for every adult considering entering or re-entering higher education. For more information on adult learner services or the evening credit program, contact her at 372-8181.

When Bowling Green Normal School opened its doors in 1914, there were 15 faculty members and all 158 students were studying to be teachers. Today the University has more than 725 faculty and 17,000 students on its main campus. Degree programs are offered through the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Allied Professions, Health and Human Services, Musical Arts, and Technology, and a Graduate College. Within the undergraduate colleges are Schools of Art, Mass Communication, Nursing, and Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The University offers more than 170 undergraduate degree programs, 75 master's degree programs and 12 doctoral degree programs with more than 40 specialty areas. In addition to courses on the main campus, the University's Firelands College campus, located in Huron, Ohio, offers 17 two-year associate degree programs, as well as courses which fulfill the first two years of a bachelor's degree requirement. Firelands College enrolls about 1,100 students.

Fully accredited at the highest state, regional and national levels, the quality of the University has been demonstrated recently by the decision of Phi Beta Kappa to establish a chapter of more than 2.5 million books, journals, periodicals, microforms, government documents and other materials. Special sections of the library include the Center for Archival Collections which houses materials relevant to northwest Ohio history, the Institute for Great Lakes Research containing materials on the shipping industry's past and present, and the Sound Recording Archives with 245,000 recordings. The University is continually refurbishing existing buildings and upgrading facilities to meet current needs. An example is the recently completed remodeling of West Hall, the former music building, to provide up-to-date facilities for the School of Mass Communication. Another is the recent addition of numerous computer facilities across campus, including microcomputer laboratories for student use in residence halls, to ensure that all Bowling Green students are familiar with the technology of the computer age in which we live.

The newest of the more than 100 campus buildings is the $7.2 million Physical Sciences Laboratory that opened in 1984. The 52,800 square-foot building is the most modern facility of its kind in Ohio and features 30 laboratories, a planetarium, roof-top astronomical observatory and state-of-the-art equipment for teaching and research in chemistry, physics and astronomy.

The Physical Sciences Laboratory is not for the sole use of students and faculty, however. Special programs are held at the planetarium for the public, the latest addition to a wide array of ways the University serves Ohio's citizens. Others include the Management Center which offers training, consulting and research assistance to business and industry; WBGU-TV, the University's award-winning public television station; the Creative Arts Program which provides instruction in music and dance for young people; Continuing Education courses and conferences for adults as well as children; the Speech and Hearing Clinic with its diagnostic and treatment services; NETWORK BG which utilizes University resources to assist business, industry and government, and cultural events ranging from public concerts and art shows to theatre productions and lectures.

The focal point of the 1,250-acre campus is the nine-story Jerome Library, with its collection of more than 2.5 million books, journals, periodicals, microforms, government documents and other materials. Special sections of the library include the Center for Archival Collections which houses materials relevant to northwest Ohio history, the Institute for Great Lakes Research containing materials on the world — where University faculty assist in supplying some 400 species of fruit flies to scientists involved in genetics and cancer research around the globe.

The University's students come from throughout the United States and more than 60 foreign nations. While most students are between the ages of 18-22, the number of those older than 25 is increasing. During the spring term of the 1983-84 academic year, there were 1,400 "non-traditional" adult students enrolled in undergraduate and graduate degree programs on a full- or part-time basis.

Since Dr. Paul J. Olscamp became the eighth president of Bowling Green State University in July 1982, several changes have been made to move Bowling Green into the ranks of nationally important universities.

Greater faculty involvement in governing the University, expanded resources for campus libraries and increased emphasis upon faculty research activities have all occurred at Bowling Green during the past four years.

And the University’s direction during the next decade has been clearly charted in a Role and Mission Statement, a 27-goal document aimed at improving the quality of undergraduate and graduate students, the University’s academic programs, the learning environment and the faculty and its resources.

However, Olscamp knows that very few of the University’s plans will materialize without adequate financing. While state appropriations can hopefully be counted upon for day-to-day operations, other kinds of resources must be tapped if Bowling Green is to enhance its position as a university.

During his tenure, Olscamp has presided over a quadrupling of the school’s endowment to nearly $4 million. Private contributions in 1984-85 reached a new high of $2.8 million.

And to mark its 75th anniversary, Olscamp in November 1985 announced plans for a $12.5 million three-year campaign that is the most ambitious in University history. In its first year, the 75th Anniversary Fund raised more than $7.8 million.

To further assure that the University will have funds to meet its academic goals, Olscamp initiated a plan to restructure debt service obligations that by the year 2000 should have a principal of nearly $35 million. Interest on that amount should provide about $3.5 million annually to the academic budget.

Olscamp called the plan, which has been approved by the Ohio Attorney General, a “once in a lifetime chance” to lay the foundation for future generations.

In addition, in 1984 the Trustees, at Olscamp’s request, created an internal endowment fund of $4 million from various University reserves. The balance of that fund currently exceeds $5.6 million and, if left untouched, is expected to reach $10 million in about five years at which point the annual interest of about $1 million will be used to support academic programs.

Increasing minority representation on campus has also been a major effort of Olscamp’s administration. In 1985, an Office of Minority Affairs was created to provide services to assist minority students and recruitment efforts were increased to attract more minorities to campus. In addition, the University is committed to increasing the number of minority faculty members.

Secretary to the Board
John C. (Jack) Gregory is in his fifth year as the director of athletics at Bowling Green State University. He was appointed to the position on July 15, 1982.

In Gregory's first four years at Bowling Green, the Falcons have enjoyed some of their finest moments in history, winning the 1984 national championship in ice hockey and claiming Mid-American Conference championships in numerous other sports, including two football championships, along with two trips to the California Bowl. In the last four years, Falcon teams have claimed league titles in ice hockey, football, men's basketball, men's golf, women's cross country and women's gymnastics. BG achieved another notable accomplishment this past year, finishing second in the Jacoby Trophy standings, its highest finish thus far. The Jacoby Trophy is in its fourth year, and tallies the overall records of women's Mid-American Conference teams.

Gregory came to Bowling Green at a time when BGSU and the Mid-American Conference were fighting to remain in college football's Division I-A upper echelon. Behind his leadership, Bowling Green became the frontrunner in helping to achieve that goal.

During his tenure here, BGSU has set school and conference attendance records in football and hockey. In 1983, 33,527 football fans packed Doyt L. Perry Field to witness the BG-Toledo game, setting school and MAC single game attendance marks.

The Falcons drew over 100,000 fans for five games at Perry Field, a first in the school's history. In 1985, the Falcons again went over the 100,000 mark in season attendance. Sell-out crowds for BG's hockey games have become the norm as well, making game tickets the hottest items in town during the winter. Gregory's leadership in the area of television has helped BGSU sports become a popular item in Northwest Ohio.

Gregory, 57, has also been instrumental in the record-breaking development of the Falcon Club, the University's official athletic department booster club. Recent membership drives have encompassed the Toledo, Cleveland and Lima areas, with financial contributions mounting to unequaled levels.

A 1952 graduate of East Stroudsburg State College in eastern Pennsylvania and holder of a master's degree in physical education from Temple University, Gregory came to Bowling Green from Yale, where he served for four years as associate athletic director. While at Yale, he was responsible for generating income, managing the university's 33-sport program and supervising staff operations.

Jack and his wife, Peg, are the parents of two sons, John and Bruce. Bruce is serving as a volunteer assistant coach on the 1986 BGSU coaching staff.
TEAMMATES

Old Milwaukee brings you two great players. Old Milwaukee, the beer that tastes as great as its name. And Old Milwaukee Light, the beer that got the taste of light right. Any way you play it, that's one great team.
Howard M. “Moe” Ankney became Bowling Green State University’s 13th head football coach on December 30, 1985 when he was appointed to the position by Athletic Director Jack Gregory.

For Ankney, it brings him back to his alma mater where he was a quarterback under the legendary Doyt L. Perry from 1961-63 before graduating in 1964. During his 15-year college coaching career, Ankney has made coaching stops at Ball State, Tulane and Arizona, coached in several major bowl games, and guided some of the nation’s top defensive units.

Ankney joined the Falcons from the University of Arizona where he served as the assistant head coach, defensive coordinator and secondary coach for the past six seasons. His defensive teams finished among the national leaders in defense each of the past four years. The 1985 Wildcat defense finished ninth in the nation in defense against the run, 13th in total defense, and seventh in scoring defense, allowing just over 12 points per game. The Pac-10’s leading tackler for each of the past four seasons has been one of Ankney’s defenders.

Ankney, 44, grew up in Xenia, Ohio before moving to Kettering before his senior year in high school. He graduated from Fairmont High School in 1960 as an all-state quarterback and four-year letterman. He was named the outstanding Dayton area athlete in 1959 and participated in the North-South All-Star game.

At BGSU, Ankney was a reserve quarterback on Doyt L. Perry’s 1961-62-63 teams that posted a three-year record of 23-5-1 and claimed two Mid-American Conference championships. He completed eight of 19 passes for 75 yards during his career and earned two letters. Moe’s decision to attend Bowling Green was heavily influenced by his cousin, Bob Colburn, quarterback and captain of Doyt Perry’s 1959 national championship team. Colburn was a senior at BGSU when Moe was a senior in high school. While an undergraduate, Ankney earned election to Omicron Delta Kappa, a leadership honorary, Phi Alpha Theta, a history honorary, and Kappa Delta Pi, an education honorary.

Ankney comes from a football family. His uncle Pete was his head coach at Fairmont High School. Pete Ankney also was a head coach at Canton McKinley High School and at the University of Dayton. Moe’s father Ben coached at Miami University and at Xenia High School.

“After I graduated from Bowling Green in 1964 and went on to become a high school coach, I always dreamed that I might follow in the footsteps of Doyt Perry and coach at Bowling Green,” said Ankney. “To be the head coach is a tremendous honor and I hope I can live up to the tradition of excellence of Bowling Green football.”

In becoming the head coach at Bowling Green, Ankney left not only Arizona, but a friend in Wildcat head coach Larry Smith. Like Ankney, Smith is a Bowling Green graduate and the two have coached together for the past 10 seasons. Smith says of Ankney, “He’s been my right hand and right arm for the last 10 years and a friend for much longer than that.”

Prior to joining the Arizona staff in 1980, Ankney was Smith’s defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Tulane for four seasons between 1976-79. Prior to that, he was the secondary coach at Ball State from 1971-75 under the late Dave McClain.

Moe and his wife Carlalee are the parents of three children: Angela, 22, Andy, 21 and Molly, 18. Ankney was born June 23, 1942 and his full name is Howard Milton Ankney.

You Are The Key To Success...

For Falcon teams. The Bowling Green State University Athletic Department depends on The Falcon Club to raise more than $225,000 annually to help fund athletic grant-in-aids, the recruiting of prospective student-athletes, and athletic facilities budgets.

Today marks the fourth annual Youth/Team Day sponsored by the Bowling Green State University Athletic Department. Hundreds of high school athletic teams from all over the state of Ohio as well as members of the Boy and Girl Scouts, Safety Patrol members, and the CYO are in attendance at today’s game, courtesy of sponsors from throughout Northwest Ohio.

“The whole purpose of Youth/Team Day is to enable youngsters, who might not otherwise be able to attend, to enjoy an afternoon of Falcon football as well as learn skills in their chosen sports,” said BGSU Associate Athletic Director Phil Goldstein.

“Most of the groups are here today through the courtesy of various merchants, both in Wood County, and in the hometowns of the groups.”

“All of these youngsters are our students of the future,” explained Goldstein. “We’re very pleased to have them on campus and to share the exciting atmosphere of Bowling Green State University. We are very proud of our teams, facilities, and personnel and we want to expose these aspects of the University to our guests.”

The youths’ parents, and coaches and their teams met with many of BGSU’s coaches this morning and had the opportunity to tour the fine facilities and attend a clinic on sport fundamentals and technique, or, in some instances, observe an open practice.

Conducting the clinics this morning were several of the finest collegiate coaches in the nation who are all members of the Bowling Green staff. Head basketball coach Jim Larranaga, who will enter his first season as BGSU’s head coach, gave a clinic in Anderson Arena along with his assistant coaches, Jeff Schneider and Brian Ellerbe. Each of the coaches touched on fundamentals of shooting, dribbling, passing, and defense. Women’s basketball coach Fran Voll and his assistant coach Jaci Clark, also demonstrated basketball tips this morning.

Hockey coach Jerry York has his icers working out daily as they prepare for their October 10 opening game at the University of Michigan. Coach York hosted an open practice and answered questions from youth players and parents after the workout. Track and cross country coaches Sid Sink, Lee Labadie and Tom Wright spoke at the Whittaker Track this morning on running fundamentals. Golf coach Greg Nye gave pointers to youngsters in a clinic at the golf clubhouse, soccer coach Gary Palmisano spoke at Mickey Cochrane Field, swimming coach Rich Draper hosted youths and parents in the Cooper Pool, and baseball coach Ed Platzer demonstrated techniques at Steller Field.

Tyler Sharp, son of BGSU Equipment Manager Joe Sharp and wife, Shelly, is one of thousands of youths expected to enjoy today’s Youth/Team Day match-up between the Falcons and Western Michigan.

Varsity BG Day

Varsity BG Day, the annual autumn reunion of BG letterwinners, takes place this afternoon and evening at Doyt L. Perry Field and at the Mileti Alumni Center.

The Bowling Green-Western Michigan game at 1:30 p.m. has also been designated by the BGSU Athletic Department as Youth/Team Day, in which Northwest Ohio youth groups and athletic teams attend morning instructional clinics before attending the football game in the afternoon.

If Varsity BG Day for 1986 can equal the excitement of Varsity BG Day for 1985, then former Falcon lettermen won't forget it!

A year ago, the Varsity BG Day contest between Bowling Green and Miami may have been one of the most exciting football games of all time. The Falcons, playing with their record-setting quarterback Brian McClure on the sideline with an injury, rallied for 14 points in the final 90 seconds to upend the Redskins, 28-24, before a large Perry Field crowd.

This year's Varsity BG Day clash between Bowling Green and longtime Mid-American Conference rival Western Michigan promises more of the same excitement.

Of special interest is the fact that the BG-WMU game features two head coaches who once played for the Falcons under Coach Doyt Perry.

Moe Ankney, '64, will guide the Falcons against the Broncos, coached by Jack Harbaugh, '61, in the first meeting of these two BG alums as head coaches.

Varsity BG Day is more than just football. It's a festive fall weekend packed with tradition and memories, a time when former teammates get together to re-live the grand old games of their past. After the game, lettermen and old can gather at a 4:30 p.m. reception at the Mileti Alumni Center on Mercer Road.

Honored before the start of today's game are three Falcon backers who stand out for their loyalty to Bowling Green: Howard Brown of Bowling Green, Ken Weber of Wayne and Tom Lyons of Toledo.

Brown, '51, president of the D.S. Brown Co. and an active supporter of Falcon athletics over the years, will be awarded an honorary letter. The Varsity BG Club's executive committee also will honor Kenneth Weber as the Golden Anniversary Letterman, and Tom Lyons, '61, as the Silver Anniversary Letterman.

Howard Brown has been a faithful Falcon fan for years, attending all home BG football and hockey games. He is a charter member of the BGSU Falcon Club, giving generously and being recognized at the Scholarship Donor level. A member of the President's Club of the BGSU Alumni Association, Howard has also been active in musical activities and the ATO fraternity.

A native of North Baltimore, Brown transferred to BGSU after one year at the University of Toledo and gained his degree in business in 1951. His son Dan became the first BG High School graduate to play hockey for the Falcons, winning three awards.

Moe Ankney and Tom Lyons both lettered in football and basketball. Ankney lettered twice in football and once in basketball, while Lyons lettered two seasons in basketball and three in baseball.

Ken Weber, a three-year lettermen, was named the 1935 Falcon baseball team captain and later that year won the Ohio Conference discus championship in track. He played under coaches Warren Steller (football) and Paul Landis (basketball and track).

Tom Lyons, one of the original planners of the Varsity BG Club, has served on the executive committee for 11 years and has been active in Varsity BG Club fund-raisers and receptions.

Lyons, assistant to the athletic administrator in the Toledo Public Schools, spent six years as assistant athletic director at Toledo Rogers High School. He coached baseball and golf at Rogers from 1964-70.

While at BGSU, Lyons lettered three seasons in baseball as a pitcher under coaches Warren Steller and Dick Young. In 17 games on the mound for the Falcons, the Toledo Central Catholic product posted a 6-7 record and a 4.74 ERA. His best season was in 1960, when he went 4-2 on the mound.

Some people set higher standards for themselves. They come out early. And stay late. Funny, how they’re usually the winners.

At Ricoh, we set higher product standards. And we put in that extra effort. Maybe that’s why Ricoh’s line of copiers, digital facsimile, laser printers, and shredders are setting new standards of performance in today’s modern office. And that’s why Ricoh cameras are winning the attention of amateurs and professionals alike in the world of photography.

Be a winner. Demand that extra effort. Ask for Ricoh. We Respond.

The race-winning Corvette of Rippie/Anderson Motorsports.
Tires: Goodyear Eagle VR S “Gatorback” street radials.

The fact that both of these Corvettes are on Goodyear Eagle street radials is no coincidence.

Every Corvette made since 1984 comes with just one make of tire: the Goodyear Eagle VR “Gatorback” street radial.
Which is no coincidence.
Because the Eagle VR “Gatorback” was developed specifically for the Corvette’s tremendous cornering, handling and speed capabilities.
Considering the performance of the Eagle VR “Gatorback,” it’s not surprising that successful SCCA Showroom Stock Endurance racing teams like Rippie/Anderson also choose an Eagle street radial.*
The Eagle VR S “Gatorback,” a version of the Eagle VR “Gatorback” made for ultimate grip rather than ultimate treadlife.
The success of both the Eagle VR and VR S “Gatorbacks” has a common source:
Goodyear’s ability to engineer better high-performance radials. For virtually every performance car.

So it’s really no coincidence that the Eagle VR is to be found on every Corvette made.
Or that the Eagle VR S is the favorite tire of people who race Corvettes in the SCCA Showroom Stock Endurance Series.
In fact, when you think of how the Eagles perform, it’s no coincidence at all.
*Tires shaved to racing depth. Before you race on Goodyear street radials, write the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, P.O. Box 9125, Akron, Ohio 44305 for preparation recommendations and procedures.

YOU EITHER HAVE GOODYEAR EAGLES. OR YOU NEED THEM.

Today’s Halftime Show

The Falcon Marching Band is always privileged to have student assistants as a part of the band staff and is honored to showcase their talents. Today’s halftime presentation was created and designed by graduate assistant William Bauer. Mr. Bauer is a second year Master’s candidate in Music Education and assists with the entire University Band program.

Today’s presentation begins with the ever-popular Earth, Wind and Fire hit, “In The Stone.” Following our opener, we feature our flags and twirlers, along with the musical prowess of the instrumentalists, in a fiery rendition of Chick Corea’s “La Fiesta.”

We close today’s presentation with a tune that is just another in a long line of many, sensational hits by the composer/singer Lionel Richie. It is our pleasure to present to you our version of “Say You, Say Me.”

Today's Halftime Show

By Kevin Cleary
Director of Athletic Promotion

Welcome to all who are here as part of today's Youth/Team Day activities. Among those who attended various sports clinics, lectures and tours are church youth groups, the CYO, the Safety Patrol, the Boy Scouts, and high school athletic teams from all over the state. Tickets were provided by the BGSU Athletic Department and various business sponsors.

Today also marks the occasion of Varsity BG Day. Three special men will be honored in a pre-game ceremony. This year’s Honorary Letterman is Howard Brown of Bowling Green ('51), while Ken Weber of Wayne ('36) and Tom Lyons of Toledo ('81) will receive the Gold and Silver Letter respectively.

Thank you and good luck to all our regulars to recruit new Falcon fans and get them in at a discount.

Parents Day is one of the biggest days of the year at BGSU. This year the Falcons face the Ball State Cardinals on November 8. Tickets can be ordered at the Memorial Hall Ticket Office or by calling 372-2762. Tickets for the traditional Parents Day Concert, this year starring the Fifth Dimension, can be had by phoning 372-2701.

PLEASE MAKE SPECIAL NOTE OF THE START TIME FOR THE NOVEMBER 8 GAME AGAINST BALL STATE — 12:15 P.M.

Reserve tickets for all remaining home games can be purchased at any of the Falcon Football Ticket Outlets throughout the area: The Chamber of Commerce, The Falcon House and Krogers in Bowling Green, The Kroger Sav-On and both Huntington Banks in Perrysburg, B&G Drugs in Findlay, and Dunn's Men's and Boy's Wear in Fostoria.

It's not too early to start thinking about those season basketball tickets. Make plans now to spend your winter nights in Anderson Arena, watching the new breed Falcons against a tough home schedule featuring traditional rivals Toledo, Miami and Ohio, as well as the stun and gun show of Cleveland State.

As hockey season gets underway, we are pleased to announce several new promotions to enable more people to get those always tough to get hockey tickets. For the first time, youth hockey teams will be given special discounts for tickets purchased as a group on designated Team Nights. Groups of 15 or more will get special discounts for tickets in a specially roped off section for a discounted price of $1 for youth and $3 for adults. If you know of a youth hockey team interested, call 372-7093 for details.

The second new hockey promotion is the Holiday Hockey Pass. It's good for five games; Nov. 28 vs. Michigan State, Jan. 2-3 vs. Lake Superior and Jan. 9-10 vs. Miami. It's good for general admission (the only way to get GA seats in advance of the season) and is offered at a discounted rate of $15 for adults and $7.50 for youth, a 25 percent savings. Call 372-7093 for more details.

Their names are familiar. Together, they dot the nation as football coaches at all levels of the game — in our high schools, colleges, universities and even the highly-competitive world of professional football.

They belong to the Falcon’s Nest of Coaches, an organization of coaches begun in 1984 to promote the proud tradition of Bowling Green State University Falcon football.

Through the development of student and graduate-assistant programs at BGSU, most of these fine coaches got their start at this Mid-American Conference institution. They’ve studied and matured under the coaching philosophies of men like Warren Steller, Doyt Perry, Bob Gibson, Don Nehlen, Denny Stolz and now Moe Ankney.

Today, these coaches are making a name for themselves and for their respective football programs around the country. Though they may be miles apart, they share at least one thing in common. They are members of a fine football coaching fraternity at BGSU, the Falcon’s Nest of Coaches. Here are but a few of the members:

By Dr. Pat Cleveland
Director of Academic and Regulatory Affairs

Q. What is your role within the Athletic Department?
A. It is my job to serve as a liaison for the athletic department between our coaches and our campus faculty and administration. I also help interpret the NCAA and Mid-American Conference eligibility rules. But perhaps most important, I work directly with our student-athletes, to care about everything that has to do with their academic careers at this University so that they have an opportunity to make the very most out of their college education. We want to see all of our student-athletes graduating when they’ve finished their eligibility. Everything that we can possibly do in supporting their academic roles as well as their athletic roles falls into my academic office in the athletic department.

Q. What is your objective when working with the student-athlete?
A. It is our goal that our student-athletes have the opportunity to become fully involved in their academic pursuits. We want to help them find the right major that will lead them toward a degree and a rewarding profession. At the same time that they are participating in athletics, we know that there are many pressures, that there are many time constraints involved with being a student-athlete. We want to reinforce what we hope are shared goals: to set high goals in academics and strive to achieve them the same way they do in athletics.

Q. You are beginning your third year at Bowling Green. Can you point to any tangible results of your work?
A. We’re really proud of our student-athletes here at BG. In the last year, we have gone from 20 percent of our athletes with 3.0 overall grade point averages to nearly 30 percent. We have higher standards than our sister schools in the MAC. We are the only school in the MAC that does not allow our student-athletes to participate while they are on probation.

Q. Where does the student-athlete's academic advisor fit into the picture?
A. The academic advisors are the most important people in the academic lives of our student-athletes, because they are professionals in the fields in which our students want to specialize. We expect all of our student-athletes to go away from Bowling Green as professionals, but very few will go away as professional athletes.

Their academic advisors may not be authorities on athletic eligibility rules. They may not be able to keep up with the ever-changing athletic eligibility rules or they might not be that interested in athletics. That means that our student-athletes have to realize their responsibility for their athletic eligibility. If there is a question about athletic eligibility, I urge them to call me. It is my responsibility to know what these rules are. If I don’t know the answer, I can get on the phone and call the NCAA so that we don’t make any mistakes.

Q. The NCAA has recently raised eligibility standards for incoming freshmen. Does this signal a renewed interest in the academic welfare of our student-athletes?
A. In the last couple of years we have seen some significant changes in NCAA regulations. Those changes were prompted in large part because of some embarrassment that a few universities have suffered. This is unfortunate and hopefully will change with the current generation of student-athletes. The intent behind the passing of the initial eligibility rule and the satisfactory progress rule which came in last year is to make sure that our student-athletes have an opportunity to graduate and that the universities fulfill on their obligations to the students at the same time they are participating in sports.

Q. If a student-athlete needs help in the classroom, you advocate tutoring. Why?
A. I have a philosophy about tutoring. I think that tutoring is NOT remediation. A lot of people feel really embarrassed about seeing a tutor. I used to teach business and sociology, and I coined a buzz word. I think of tutoring as “performance enhancement.” You want to improve your capabilities so that you get better and better and better. You improve your capabilities the same way that you do in your sport. That’s the attitude I would like to see our student-athletes take in getting help from our tutors in the athletic department.

Each year, we hold an academic skills workshop for all of our new students. We tell them all the kinds of things that lead to good work habits and good grades. That is followed by our walk-in tutoring facility in Hayes Hall, where we have tutors on duty in math, stats, accounting, economics, biology, chemistry and English. Our student-athletes can use these tutors at no charge as much as they want throughout the whole semester. As a matter of fact, the people who have made the best use of our tutors have been our best students. They want to maintain that competitive edge.

VARSITY BG CLUB SAYS
GO FALCONS!

ABOUT THE VARSITY BG CLUB
The Varsity BG Club is an exclusive organization open only to former Bowling Green State University varsity letterwinners, who for a non-tax deductible contribution of $10 per year can help operate the club and support BGSU athletics at the same time. Almost 500 former Falcon letterwinners were Varsity BG Club members last year, and that number is expected to climb even higher during the 1986-87 membership year. Again this year, the Varsity BG Club is offering a lifetime membership for $100; no other dues will ever be required. Lifetime memberships for those 65 and older are only $50.

The Varsity BG Club undertakes three major projects each year, the first of which takes place April 17 at the BGSU Ice Arena Lounge. It is the annual Recognition Reception honoring College Coach of the Year Jim McDonald of Kent State, High School Coach of the Year Russ Hepner of Grosse Pointe (MI) South, and Special Recognition Award Winner Jim Longnecker of Grove City (PA) College — all former BGSU athletes! This is one of the highlights of the year, so don’t miss it! Then on July 10, we will enjoy another Doyt Perry Golf Outing at the BGSU Forrest Creason Golf Course. More information will be forthcoming. On October 4, the annual Varsity BG Day festivities take place in conjunction with Bowling Green’s football game with the Western Michigan Broncos. It’s a great day to return to campus and visit with former classmates and teammates.

We’re looking forward to another big year for the Varsity BG Club and Falcon athletics, and all we need from you is your participation.

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS
All active members of the Varsity BG Club will receive:
- Membership in an exclusive organization open only to BGSU varsity letterwinners.
- A list of special activities and programs, such as the ones described above.
- Subscription to the quarterly newsletter.
- Personal satisfaction in contributing to BGSU athletics through your continued involvement.

The winningest team in I-A football the last five seasons? It depends on whether or not you include bowls. Without bowls, Nebraska has the edge over Brigham Young, as the table below shows. With bowls, BYU is on top with 54-10 for .844, then Nebraska 52-10 for .839. Each is averaging better than 16 wins per season. Here are the winningest teams in regular season, 1981-85, with each team's bowl record (not included):

Bowling Green's 1,250-acre main campus is ideal for the residential campus community. Nearly half of BGSU's students live in residence halls and can walk to classes through an attractive natural environment. Our students come from throughout the United States and nearly 60 other countries. They are active in more than 160 organizations and participate in all levels of University governance.

More than 100 campus buildings house modern facilities of every description which are continually being refurbished. Recent additions of microcomputer laboratories, for example, give every student and faculty member ready access to the technology of the computer age. The Physical Sciences Laboratory Building, completed in 1984, includes a planetarium and roof-top observatory which are used for both academic and public programs.
Support for the University's programs and facilities is generated from a variety of sources including more than 90,000 alumni. Alumni chapters throughout the state and nation actively recruit outstanding students and raise funds to support their alma mater. Their continuing interest has resulted in many scholarships, endowments and capital improvements which will enhance the University for generations to come.
