BG, UT Wage War For Football Peacepipe

It seems every school has an arch-rival, and for Coach Moe Ankney’s Bowling Green Falcons, the arch-rival Toledo Rockets cometh.

Bowling Green hosts Toledo, today at 1:30 p.m. at Doyt L. Ferry Field. Today’s contest marks the 52nd game in the series, dating back to Bowling Green’s first football season in 1919. The Falcons lead the series, 27-20-4.

However, Toledo won the 1986 BG-UT game, 22-3, in UT’s Glass Bowl. To the victor, went the spoils, specifically the BG-UT Football Peacepipe, a traveling trophy which has resided in UT Coach Dan Simrell’s office since last November.

Bowling Green enters the Toledo game with some momentum gained in last Saturday’s 28-7 victory at Ohio University. The win pushed the Falcons back into the Mid-American Conference title chase with a 2-1 record. BG is 2-4 overall.

BG and three other MAC teams (Eastern Michigan, Western Michigan and Toledo) all trail 3-1 Miami, the defending MAC Champion, by a half-game this week. The Falcons will get their shot at Miami, Oct. 31, in Oxford.

Toledo enters the Bowling Green game with a 2-1 MAC record and a 2-3 mark overall. The Rockets have lost their last two games at Western Michigan (21-14) and at Northern Illinois (41-5). UT is 0-2 on the road this season.

THE SERIES: Bowling Green leads 27-20-4, thanks in large part to a perfect 10-0 record during the Doyt Perry era from 1955-64 and an 8-2 mark in games played from 1972 to 1981. The BG-UT series began with a 6-0 UT win in 1919, BG’s first season of football. The series was halted for 13 years following a 63-0 Toledo win in 1935. The series has been renewed every year since 1948. Toledo has won four of the last five meetings, including last year’s 22-3 victory in UT’s Glass Bowl.

BOWLING GREEN OFFENSE: The Falcons are showing signs of straightening out their offensive difficulties after posting a 28-7 victory last week at Ohio University. In capitalizing on several key Bobcat turnovers, the Falcons showed a balanced offensive attack of run and pass. Shawn Daniels is proving to be a durable and dependable runner in his new role as starting tailback. He had his best game as a Falcon last week, rushing 20 times for 57 yards and two touchdowns. Mike Otten gives BG a second brawny running back to use as both a rusher and blocker. He gained 38 yards on 11 carries at OU. The Falcon offense got a much-needed lift from QB Rich Dackin, who started against OU after showing his coaches during pre-game warm-ups that he could play despite a bad ankle. Dackin completed 14-of-23 passes for 125 yards and one TD at OU, the TD pass going for 26 yards to FL Ron Heard for a 14-0 Falcon lead in the second quarter. Heard, SE Reggie Thornton and TE Kyle Hockman are all averaging more than two receptions per game, with Thornton leading the way (22 catches, 363 yards).

BOWLING GREEN DEFENSE: For the second straight MAC road game, the BG defense showed that it could control the outcome of the game. BG quieted Ball State (24-O) (Continued on page 19)

Howard M. "Moe" Ankney, Bowling Green State University's 13th head football coach, believes in Falcon football, its past, its present and its future.

"Bowling Green football is strong, and Bowling Green football is respected across the country. When our players put on the Bowling Green uniform, they are eager to go out and uphold that winning tradition."

Those are Ankney's words as he enters the 1987 season at Bowling Green, his second at the successful Mid-American Conference school. Ankney was appointed head football coach at Bowling Green on December 30, 1985. For him, it marked a return to his alma mater. He was a quarterback under the legendary Doyt L Perry from 1961-63 before graduating in 1964. During his 15-year collegiate coaching career, Ankney has made coaching stops at Ball State, Tulane and Arizona, coached in several major bowl games, and developed a reputation for coaching excellent defensive teams.

Heading into the 1987 season at Bowling Green, Ankney continues to be a believer in strong defense. "The thing I like about our team is that I think we will be strong defensively. You need to have a good defense to win the championships."

Ankney's Falcons relied on a big-play defense and an improving offense to get the job done in 1986. Bowling Green's 5-6 overall record was only part of the story last season. Ankney had his Falcons in the race for the MAC title from a season-opening win over Ohio University to a season-ending loss at Toledo. The Falcons finished 10-3-1 in the MAC, tied for second, only one game behind conference champion Miami.

"Last year, we had a 5-6 record," Ankney said. "That doesn't live up to the winning tradition of Bowling Green football. Our coaches and our players are determined to get Bowling Green football back to where it should be."

Ankney joined the Falcons after serving six seasons as the assistant head coach, defensive coordinator and secondary coach at the University of Arizona of the Pacific-10 Conference. His defensive teams finished among the national leaders from 1982-85. He coached the Pac-10's leading tackler in each of those years.

In returning to his alma mater, Ankney left a long-time coaching associate and friend. Arizona Head Coach Larry Smith. Like Ankney, Smith is a Bowling Green graduate, and the two coached together for 10 seasons. Smith, now head coach at the University of Southern California, said of Ankney, "He was my right hand and right arm for 10 years and a friend for much longer than that."

Prior to joining the Arizona staff in 1980, Ankney was Smith's defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Tulane for four seasons between 1976-79. And before that, he was the secondary coach at Ball State from 1971-75 under the late Dave McClain.

At each stop, Ankney was instrumental in helping to rebuild struggling programs. While Ankney was Smith's defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Tulane for four seasons between 1976-79, the team's overall record improved from 4-5-1 in 1976 to 9-2 in 1977. The Arizona Wildcats were 5-6 in 1980 and improved their record to 8-3-1 in 1985, including a 13-13 tie with Georgia in the Sun Bowl.

Among his former players now in the National Football League are Denver Broncos' linebacker Ricky Hunley and Cleveland Browns' defensive back Al Gross. More than 20 of his former players have gone on to professional football.

Ankney began coaching on the high school level. He was an assistant football and wrestling coach at Eaton High School for the 1964-65 seasons and then became head coach at Dayton Northridge in 1966. He moved on to Dayton Wayne High School as head coach in football and tennis in 1967 and stayed until 1971 when he joined the Ball State staff. His five-year head coaching record in the high school ranks stands at 24-21-5. While coaching in the Dayton area, Ankney earned his master's degree from Miami University in 1969.

Ankney, 45, a native Ohioan, grew up in Xenia before moving to Kettering as a high school senior. A 1960 Fairmont High School graduate, he was an all-state quarterback and a participant in the Ohio All-Star game.

At BGSU, Ankney played on two MAC Championship teams as a reserve quarterback under Coach Doyt Perry. The Falcons went 23-5-1 from 1961-63. Ankney completed eight of 19 passes for 75 yards and earned two letters at Bowling Green.

While an undergraduate, Ankney earned election to Omicron Delta Kappa, a leadership honorary, Phi Alpha Theta, a history honorary, and Kappa Delta Pi, an education honorary.

He has said that his decision to attend Bowling Green was heavily influenced by his cousin Bob Colburn, quarterback and captain of Coach Perry's 1959 national championship team.

Raised in a football family, his uncle Pete was head coach at Fairmont High School. Pete Ankney also was a head coach at Canton McKinley High School and at the University of Dayton. Moe's father, Ben, coached at Miami University and at Xenia High School.

Moe and his wife, Carlalee, are the parents of three children: Angela, 23, Andy, 22 and Molly, 18. Howard Milton Ankney was born June 23, 1942. Ankney led the '86 Falcons to a second-place tie in the MAC.

Bruce Gregory
Bruce Gregory is in his second season as a volunteer coach for receivers at Bowling Green. He served as the interim director of concessions from January through August 1987. He has worked as an assistant in the BGSU summer football camp the last two years.

Gregory, 25, was a football letterman at Western Maryland College where he was a wide receiver. He graduated from WMC in 1984 with a bachelor's degree in physical education. A 1979 graduate of South Kingstown High School in Rhode Island, Bruce is the son of BGSA Athletic Director Jack Gregory.

He and his wife Tracy reside in Bowling Green.

Steven Feyrer
Steven Feyrer joined the Falcon football program as a graduate assistant in June. A 1986 graduate of Ripon College in Wisconsin with a bachelor's degree in physical education, Feyrer was a four-year letterman in football and a three-year letterman in track. He earned All-America honors as a wide receiver and was named all-conference three times. He owns Ripon's single game receiving record and is the school's all-time leading receiver.

Feyrer, who turned 23 on August 25, was just as successful on the track, where he earned all-conference honors and set school records in the long jump, 400 and sprint medley relay.

Jay Hood
Jay Hood is in his second year as a graduate assistant coach at Bowling Green and is working toward a master's degree in physical education.

Hood, 24, was a three-year starting quarterback at Ohio Wesleyan University, where he was team captain for three years and established seven school passing records. He was also an officer in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and president of the Student Physical Education Board.

Hood graduated from Ohio Wesleyan with a degree in health and physical education. He later served as a student assistant at Ohio Wesleyan.

COMMUNITY SERVICE
BGSU Students Devote Time & Effort To Worthwhile Charities

College students are hedonistic, egotistical, overgrown children who think only of themselves, their only reason for attending a college or university is to learn the skills necessary to land a high-paying job so they can indulge themselves with their own money.

Accurate assessment? Don’t you believe it. College students are concerned with others and with the well-being of their home and university communities. And they prove it daily by volunteering their time and donating their money to support charity projects.

While no exact figures are known, it is estimated that nationally, one in every five students volunteers his or her time to some public service activity. At Bowling Green, that figure could be as high as one in every four.

Several thousand students are members of the University’s four major service organizations: Volunteers in Progress, Alpha Phi Omega, Circle K, and Mortar Board. These students donate time to projects such as painting houses, picking up trash, planning Easter egg hunts, visiting with the elderly, as well as a variety of other philantropic events.

Volunteers in Progress, for example, was created in 1972 and serves as an umbrella organization which coordinates six individual volunteer programs. These programs—campus friends, adopt-a-grandparent, charities board, campus brothers, campus sisters and Filling Memorial Home of Mercy—enable students to get involved in a variety of activities, including one-on-one and group projects.

The Filling Memorial Home is a home for physically and mentally handicapped children in the city of Napoleon. Through the program, students regularly go to the home to play with and entertain the children. As one student volunteer says, “Even though we don’t do that much for the kids, they still depend on us and they really enjoy our company. It gives them a chance to see new faces.”

Another successful program that works with handicapped children is the Health, Physical Education and Recreation department sponsored Saturday Morning Clinic for the Handicapped. Every other Saturday morning during the school year, several dozen handicapped children come to the University to learn and to test their physical skills. Each child is paired with at least one university student, and the pair go bicycle riding, skating, swimming, bowling or just tumbling on mats in an effort to allow these children to be active and to improve their physical skills.

But this is only the tip of the proverbial iceberg. In all, approximately 160 student groups and 40 Greek organizations provide some kind of volunteer service to the community during the year.

Greek organizations at the University last fall combined to raise approximately $13,000 for local charities. They also donated approximately 7,500 hours of community service time.

A list of non-Greek fund-raising activities is not kept; however, if the efforts of Charities Board, an all-campus charity organization, are any indication the amount equals or exceeds the Greek totals. Conducting three events last year—a Halloween pumpkin sale, a winter Mardi Gras celebration, and a spring bike auction—Charities Board raised more than $1,800 and distributed the money to approximately 40 charities.

And, as has often been said, the students get as much as they give. Beyond the joy derived from the simple act of freely helping another person, Gregory DeCrane, assistant vice president for University student activities, said that he has learned that “when students volunteer, they learn just as much about themselves as they do about the people they are helping. “Volunteer work also increases a student’s communication skills and creates empathy for other people’s problems.”

The volunteer work also has a larger impact, DeCrane believes. “The work done by volunteer groups gives people in the community more of an understanding about the students and the University. It helps to destroy stereotypes—and that’s good.”

THE BG-TOLEDO GAME

BG-Toledo Game
A Spectacle In College Football

Each year, it seems the Bowling Green-Toledo football game becomes more and more of a spectacle for the fans. Regardless of pre-season forecasts and post-season expectations, the Falcons and Rockets continue to provide exciting football for the fans.

Over the years, the Falcons and Rockets have met 51 times, with Bowling Green winning 27 times and Toledo 20. There have been four ties.

Last year, Toledo posted an impressive 22-3 victory at UT's Glass Bowl, giving the Rockets the right to own the Peacepipe for a year. The Peacepipe is a traveling trophy awarded annually to the winner of the BG-UT game.

BG and Toledo first met on the gridiron in 1919, and in the early years, Toledo went 10-6-3 against BG. Coach Doyt Perry changed the complexion of the series when he returned to his alma mater as head coach in 1955 and began a string of 12 straight wins for the Falcons.

Today's game features a pair of BG and UT graduates on opposite sides of the field - Falcon Coach Moe Ankney (BG '64) and Rocket Coach Dan Simrell (UT '65). They, no doubt, have told today's players all about some of the great BG-UT games in the past.

So for a little history lesson, here are just a few of the highlights in this long-standing rivalry.

- 1959 -

BOWLING GREEN 51, TOLEDO 21

University Stadium, BGSU - Coach Doyt Perry's Falcons scored touchdowns on their first six possessions en route to a 43-0 halftime lead and an eventual 51-21 win over the Rockets. BG's offense rolled up 336 yards rushing and 494 total yards, while the Falcon defense held the Rockets to 10 yards on the ground.

Led by All-American running back Bernie Casey, the Falcons went on to post a 9-0 record that season and won the NCAA small college championship.

- 1963 -

BOWLING GREEN 22, TOLEDO 20

University Stadium, BGSU - Toledo quarterback Dan Simrell led the Rockets to a 20-0 halftime lead. Simrell, a junior quarterback, ran for one score and passed for another.

But Bowling Green battled back under Coach Doyt Perry's leadership. Jay Cunningham led the charge by scoring two touchdowns and a two-point conversion. He also intercepted a pass. With 13 seconds left in the game, Jerry Ward tossed a 37-yard touchdown pass to Jim Going for the 22-20 victory.

BOWLING GREEN 22, TOLEDO 0

The Glass Bowl, UT - Eight turnovers and three missed field goal attempts led to the third scoreless tie in the series, the first in 38 years.

A crowd of 18,236 watched under ideal weather conditions. BG kicker Al Silva missed on a 24-yard field goal attempt before halftime.

The Rockets came up empty on two fourth-quarter drives. Ken Crots missed a 35-yard field goal early in the quarter. An interception set up a second chance, but the time Crots missed from 22 yards out as time expired.

Crots, however was to redeem himself a year later.

- 1969 -

TOLEDO 27, BOWLING GREEN 26

University Stadium, BGSU - Behind a 17-0 halftime, Bowling Green rallied to take a 20-17 lead with 8:56 left in the game. The lead, however, would change hands three more times, as 20,920 fans watched in disbelief.

Dick Seymour ran two yards to give the Rockets a 24-20 lead with 4:30 left. A Vern Wireman-to-Steve Lanning TD pass of five yards pushed the Falcons back on top with 49 seconds left, but Roger Shorb's extra point kick was no good. With two seconds on the clock, UT's Ken Crots kicked a 37-yard field goal into the wind for UT's fourth victory in a streak that would climb to 35 by the end of the 1971 season.

- 1976 -

BOWLING GREEN 29, TOLEDO 28

The Glass Bowl, UT - In yet another great comeback victory, the Falcons rallied from a 21-6 deficit to post a 29-28 win in the final minutes.

Two big plays, a 60-yard Jeff Groth punt return for a touchdown and a 47-yard Steve Holovacs TD run, closed the Toledo lead to 21-20 early in the fourth quarter. Robin Yocum's 36-yard field goal pushed BG on top 23-21 with 2:52 left.

- 1979 -

Toldeo forged ahead 28-23, with a nine-play, 75-yard scoring drive. BG's Mark Miller then took over. Following Steve Kuehl's kickoff return to the BG 48, Miller passed 37 yards to Groth. On the next play, Miller hit Willie Matthews on a six-yard scoring pass for the win.

- 1985 -

BOWLING GREEN 21, TOLEDO O

Perry Field, BGSU - The Falcons celebrated their second Mid-American Conference Championship in four years on this afternoon. With 28,110 fans looking on, BG charged to a 14-0 first quarter lead on a 29-yard scoring pass from Brian McClure to Stan Hunter and a 22-yard interception return for a touchdown by Chris Hartman.

Bernard White closed out the scoring with a six-yard run in the third quarter. White went on to rush for 104 yards, while McClure passed for 143 more.

in Muncie last month, then turned in a fine effort against Ohio University (28-7) last week. The Falcons kept Ohio's stable of rushers out of the end zone on all but one occasion. OU did rush for 321 yards, but the Bobcats couldn't make up enough ground after falling behind 21-0 at the half. SS Kyle Kramer and ILB Charles Dotson registered 15 and 16 tackles, respectively, to maintain their position as BG's No. 1 and No. 2 tacklers. Kramer caused a fumble and broke up a pass, as well. Just as impressive was FS Mike Holmes, who earned BG's Defensive Player of the Week Award with 11 tackles and a pair of big plays. His first period fumble recovery set up BG's first score of the day. He then scored late in the first half when Michael Jackson blocked a punt inside the Bobcat 10. Holmes was there to catch the ball and run it in for the score. OLB John Hunter added to his team-leading totals for tackles with a fumble recovery and a TD. He made two TFLs for 12 yards at OU, raising his season totals to seven TFLs for 30 yards.

TOLEDO OFFENSE: The Rockets were the pre-season pick by the media to win the MAC because of UT's strong finish in 1986, a roster full of veterans and the prospects for a good defense. The Rocket offense was believed to be the question mark, and thus far in 1987, that is exactly the case. Toledo is 2-1 in the MAC, but the Rocket offense is struggling to establish consistency. TB David Rohrs (128 carries, 496 yards, 3 TDs) is UT's top running back, with FB John Perry (27, 108, 1) right behind. As a team, the rockets are averaging just under 100 yards rushing and 130 passing. These quarterbacks have taken snaps this season. Mark Melfi (27-of-63 for 407 yards and 2 TDs) ranks as UT's No. 1 passer, but he missed last week's game at Northern Illinois with an injured throwing hand. Steve Keene (20-of-48 for 194 yards) or Bill Bergan (6-of-7 for 54 yards) could be in the starting lineup this week if Melfi can't play. UT's top pass-catching threat is Mark Marquard (6-of-7 for 84 yards) as a basketball tradition during the 1947-48 season, At the time, the teams exchanged a six-foot long wooden peacepipe. Today, a smaller version of the peacepipe rests atop a trophy that displays the score of each football meeting since 1980. BG and UT have been meeting on the gridiron since 1919, and thus far in 1987, that is exactly the case. Toledo is 2-1 in the MAC, but the Rocket offense is struggling to establish consistency. TB David Rohrs (128 carries, 496 yards, 3 TDs) is UT's top running back, with FB John Perry (27, 108, 1) right behind. VAR­SITY BG CLUB SAYS
GO FALCONS!

ABOUT THE VARSITY BG CLUB
The Varsity BG Club is an exclusive organization open only to former Bowling Green State University varsity letterwinners, who, for a non-tax deductible contribution of $10 per year can help operate the club and support BGSU athletics at the same time. Almost 500 former Falcon letterwinners were Varsity BG Club members last year. Again this year, the Varsity BG Club is offering a lifetime membership for $100; no other dues will ever be required. Lifetime memberships for those 65 and older are only $50.

The Varsity BG Club undertakes three major projects each year, the first of which is the spring Recognition Reception honoring the College Coach of the Year, the High School Coach of the Year, and the Special Recognition Award Winner. Then in July we will enjoy another Doyt Perry Golf Outing at the BGSU Forrest Creason Golf Course. More information will be forthcoming. Each fall, the annual Varsity BG Day festivities take place in conjunction with a Bowling Green football game. It’s a great day to return to campus and visit with former classmates and teammates.

We’re looking forward to another big year for the Varsity BG Club and Falcon athletics, and all we need from you is your participation.

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS
All active members of the Varsity BG Club will receive:
• Membership in an exclusive organization open only to BGSU varsity letterwinners.
• A list of special activities and programs, such as the ones described above.
• Subscription to the quarterly newsletter.
• Personal satisfaction in contributing to BGSU athletics through your continued involvement.

More than 45 former Falcon football players have been drafted by or played for a team in the National Football League, American Football League, World Football League, United States Football League or Canadian Football League. Among them have been several players who have made significant contributions to their professional team - players such as Bernie Casey, a wide receiver with the Los Angeles Rams and San Francisco 49ers in the 1960s; Bob Reynolds, an offensive tackle with the St. Louis Cardinals for more than a decade; Jamie Rivers, a linebacker for three pro teams for nine years; Bob Schnelker, an offensive end with the New York Giants; Phil Villapiano, an all-pro linebacker with the Oakland Raiders and Buffalo Bills; Mike Weger, a Detroit Lions defensive back and Dave Preston, an all-purpose back with the Denver Broncos.

Currently, several former Falcons dot the rosters of professional teams. They include defensive back Martin Bayless with the San Diego Chargers, center Doug Smith with the Los Angeles Rams, and John Park with the British Columbia Lions (CFL). Two members of Bowling Green's Class of '87 were in NFL training camps this summer. Tight end Gerald Bayless was vying for a spot on the Cleveland Browns' roster, while offensive lineman Mike Estep was invited to the New York Jets' pre-season camp.

A list of former Falcons and their professional experience follows:

Their names are familiar. Together, they dot the nation as football coaches at all levels of the game – high school, college, and professional football.

They belong to the Falcon’s Nest of Coaches, an organization created in 1984 to promote the proud tradition of Bowling Green Falcon football. Through the development of student and graduate-assistant programs at Bowling Green, most of these coaches got their start at this Mid-American Conference institution. They’ve studied and matured under the coaching philosophies of Warren Steller, Dayt Perry, Bob Gibson, Don Nehlen, Denny Stolz and Moe Ankney, to name a few. Today, they are making a name for themselves and for their respective football programs around the country. Though they may be miles apart, they share at least one thing in common. They are members of a fine football coaching fraternity at Bowling Green, the Falcon’s Nest of Coaches.

JIM WRIGHT

OT 6-4 282 Wheaton, IL (Central)
Mike has been Bowling Green's starting offensive right tackle in all six Falcon games this season. He entered the 1987 season as the No. 1 candidate at right tackle after a good showing last spring. A red-shirt his first year at Bowling Green, Mike played behind two-time All-Mid-American Conference selection Mark Nelson in 1986. He came to Bowling Green from the College of DuPage in 1985. At DuPage, he played both tackle positions on a pair of junior college bowl teams in 1983 and 1984. He started for the 8-3 DuPage team that won the Like-Cola Bowl and was ranked No. 3 in the national junior college polls. Mike was an all-conference tackle in football at Wheaton Central High School in Illinois. He is a communications major at BGSU and is the son of Mike Sr. and Shirley Joyce. His father is a former pitcher for the Michigan Wolverines and Chicago White Sox.

OG 6-2 242 Toledo (St. John's)
Neal comes into the Toledo game after having one of his best games as a Falcon last week at Ohio University. He was named Bowling Green's Offensive Player of the Week, helping the Falcons rack up 229 yards of total offense and a 28-7 victory. Neal had a good spring and came to pre-season camp as BG's leading candidate at offensive left guard in 1987. He hasn't let his coaches down, as he's been a starter since the season-opener at Penn State. A two-year letterman, Neal saw some starting duty last season. He lettered on BG's 1985 MAC Championship team. Before Bowling Green, he played football at Toledo St. John's High School and was a member of that school's city championship and state runner-up team in 1982. He was twice named all-city and was an honorable mention all-state pick. The son of Dr. Daniel and Judith Mahoney, Neal is a liberal arts major at BGSU.

FRED

DB 5-10 176 Dayton (Chaminade)
Fred has worked his way into a contributing role in his final season on the 1987 Falcon football team. He entered pre-season camp as the likely back-up to Rod King at weak corner, but has since been moved to free safety behind Mike Holmes. Last Saturday, Turner registered his first career interception at Ohio University, stepping in front of an Anthony Thornton aerial in BG territory to end the game. Thus far in 1987, Turner has been in on 10 tackles, including four solos. Though he did not letter in 1985, Turner was a member of BG's Mid-American Conference Championship team that posted an 11-0 regular season record. Fred lettered four years at Dayton Chaminade-Julienne High School before coming to Bowling Green. He is a member of the Minority Business Student Association and is a business administration major at BGSU. Fred is the son of Fred Sr. and Betty Turner.

FALCON FINDERS
BGSU Football Recruiting Hostesses
The Falcon Finders assist the Bowling Green coaching staff in its continuing effort to make the visit of a recruit as pleasant and informative as possible. The Falcon Finders meet and greet football recruits upon their arrival, show them the campus, accompany them during games and events, and generally try to make their visit to BGSU a positive one.

To All Falcon Fans:

You are the key to success for our Falcon teams! The BGSU Athletic Department depends on the Falcon Club to raise more than $234,000 in 1987. This money will help fund athletic grant-in-aids, assist in the recruiting of prospective student-athletes, and provide funding for athletic facilities budgets.

Members of the Falcon Club are alumni, parents, friends and fans who provide financial support, volunteer hours and advisory expertise to the BGSU athletic program and share in the many benefits the Falcon Club has to offer.

The Falcon Club has ambitious goals for 1987 and is eager to involve YOU in our activities. The need to support our program is at an all time high. Your financial contribution and BGSU's athletic program are a winning combination.

We are very proud that Bowling Green's athletic program, both men and women, is recognized as one of the best in the country. All of our 19 teams are highly competitive and very representative. Falcon Club membership offers you the opportunity to support these teams. Falcon Club donations have greatly aided our program, and to continue that winning tradition throughout the 1987-88 campaign will require another supreme Falcon Club effort.

I look forward to having you join the Falcon Club in 1987!

Sincerely,

Charles F. Nagle
Assistant Athletic Director/Development

I am interested in learning more about the Falcon Club and its activities.

Ham it up more often.
Dinner Bell ham is the all day meat.
Ham is about the only meat that appears regularly on breakfast, lunch and dinner menus. And ham is a favorite for picnics and snacks, too. So it's a good idea to keep it on hand. Make it Dinner Bell ham. Less waste. Easy to slice. And you get a lot for your money, so you can afford to be generous. That's important, because once your family gets a taste of Dinner Bell's gentle smoked flavor, they'll ham it up more often.

The Mark of a Champion
It's more than a decoration. It's a symbol representing the brand name responsible for innovative uniform design; a tradition culminating in the largest variety of fabrics, styles, and colors available anywhere.

It's also the sign of rugged construction and incomparable quality. But most of all, it's your guarantee—a seal that it is the finest team uniform money can buy.

Look for the “C.” It's the mark of a Champion. Contact the Champion Sales Representative listed for more information.

BOWLING GREEN STATE UNIVERSITY

Bowling Green State University offers a range of educational opportunities expected in a large university, yet retains the personalized small school atmosphere of its early years.

When Bowling Green Normal School opened its doors in 1914, there were 15 faculty members and all 158 students were studying to be teachers. Today the University has nearly 750 full-time and 200 part-time faculty and 17,100 students on its main campus. Degree programs are offered through the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Allied Professions, Health and Human Services, Musical Arts, Technology, and the Graduate College. Within the undergraduate colleges are Schools of Art, Mass Communication, Nursing, and Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The University offers more than 170 undergraduate degree programs, 75 master's degree programs and has 12 departments granting doctoral degrees in more than 40 specialty areas.

In addition to courses on the main campus, the University's Firelands College campus, located in Huron, Ohio, offers 17 two-year associate degree programs, as well as courses which fulfill the first two years of a bachelor's degree requirement. Firelands College enrolls about 1,100 students.

Fully accredited at the highest state, regional and national levels, the University has chapters of most national academic honor societies, including Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi. Bowling Green is also a member of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges.

The University's faculty members, 82 percent of whom hold the highest degree in their fields, include Fulbright Scholars, authors and nationally known researchers. The caliber of the faculty is reflected, too, in the number of academic programs which are regionally and nationally recognized, including the chemistry department which recently announced the appointment of an Ohio Eminent Scholar in Photochemical Sciences. The Ohio Eminent Scholar program was created by the Ohio Board of Regents to attract world class scholars to the state's universities.

Committed to teaching, faculty are scholars as well, generating new knowledge through independent research and involvement in University units such as the Population and Society Research center, the Center for Environmental Programs, the Center for the Study of Popular Culture, and the Social Philosophy and Policy Center. Bowling Green is also the site of the National Drosophila Species Center and the Mid-America Stock Center—the largest scientific facilities of their kind in the world—where University faculty assist in supplying some 400 species of fruit flies to scientists involved in genetics and cancer research around the globe.

The University's students come from throughout the United States and nearly 60 foreign nations. While most students are between the ages of 18-22, the number of those older than 25 is increasing. During the spring term of the 1986-87 academic year, there were more than 2,500 "non-traditional" adult students enrolled in undergraduate and graduate degree programs on a full- or part-time basis.

The focal point of the 1,250-acre campus is the nine-story Jerome Library, with its collection of more than 4 million items, including 1.4 million volumes plus thousands of journals, periodicals, microforms, government documents and other materials. Special sections of the library include the Center for Archival Collections which houses materials relevant to northwest Ohio history and the Sound Recording Archives with 400,000 recordings. The Institute for Great Lakes Research, located in Perrysburg, contains an extensive collection of materials on the shipping industry's past and present.

The University is continually refurbishing its more than 100 existing buildings and upgrading facilities to meet current needs. An example is the recently completed remodeling of West Hall, the former music building, to provide up-to-date facilities for the School of Mass Communication. Currently, Williams Hall, home to the history, sociology and political science departments, is undergoing major renovation. Also, numerous computer facilities have been installed and upgraded throughout campus. A $3.65 million addition to the Business Administration Building is expected to be completed in 1988 and reflects the growth of the College of Business Administration in recent years.
ADMINISTRATION

President Paul J. Olscamp

The president of a university must provide the vision and inspiration if the institution is truly to become a place of learning, and that is exactly what Dr. Paul J. Olscamp has been doing since becoming the eighth president of Bowling Green State University in 1982.

With an announced goal to "move Bowling Green into the ranks of nationally important universities," one of Olscamp's first efforts was to work with the faculty in developing a Role and Mission Statement, a 27-goal document aimed at improving the quality of undergraduate and graduate students, the University's academic programs, the learning environment and the faculty and its resources.

However, Olscamp knows that very few of the University's plans will materialize without adequate financing. While state appropriations can be counted upon for day-to-day operations, other kinds of resources must be tapped if Bowling Green is to enhance its position as a university.

Steps have been taken to insure an additional endowment of nearly $50 million by the year 2000. One plan, authorized by the University's Board of Trustees in 1986 and approved by the Ohio Attorney General, will restructure debt service obligations and is projected to result in a $35 million principal in less than 15 years. Interest on that amount should provide more than $3 million annually to the academic budget.

In addition, in 1984 the Trustees, at Olscamp's request, created an internal endowment fund of $4 million from various University reserves. The balance of that fund is currently $6.5 million and, if left untouched, is expected to reach $10 million in approximately five years at which point the annual interest of about $1 million will be used to further support academic programs.

Also, Bowling Green has recently completed its most successful fund raising program in history. The 75th Anniversary Fund generated nearly $15 million for the University, topping the announced goal of $12.5 million by almost $2.5 million. These funds are being used for a variety of purposes including graduate and undergraduate scholarships, faculty research, library holdings and special equipment purchases.

Improving and maintaining the physical facilities are a University priority and Olscamp has been instrumental in securing nearly $34 million in state capital improvement funds for renovation and new construction projects.

Students have always occupied an important place on Olscamp's agenda and several moves have significantly improved student life at Bowling Green. One has been the installation of computer labs in all University residence halls and other campus locations, reflecting Olscamp's desire to make it convenient for all students to have a background in computer usage.

An installment payment plan enabling students to defer fee payments over the course of a semester has been popular as has been a legal services program, the first in Ohio to employ an attorney for students.

Increasing minority representation on campus has also been a major effort of Olscamp's administration. A newly-created Office of Minority Affairs provides services to assist minority students and a director of minority student recruitment was added to the admissions staff to bolster efforts to attract more minorities to campus.

The Bowling Green president has made it a point to work closely with state government officials and legislators. He has testified about the needs of higher education before several legislative committees and has been a leading spokesperson for improved operating and capital budgets for higher education in the state.

Olscamp has continually emphasized the internationality of education and has made two trips abroad to further educational opportunities for University faculty and students. In 1983 he visited Bowling Green's study abroad programs in Spain, France and Austria.

In 1984 he traveled to China to strengthen existing exchange programs with universities in that country and to explore further opportunities for faculty and students to study in the People's Republic of China. Olscamp brought further recognition to Bowling Green when, in 1987, President Ronald Reagan nominated him for a position on the board of the National Endowment for the Humanities, the federal agency designed to promote cultural programs and events in the United States.

Other highlights of Olscamp's first five years at Bowling Green include:

- a record level of alumni support through 12 Ohio chapters and 20 in other states and an increase in alumni chapter scholarships from 2 in 1982 to 24 in 1987.
- creation of Bowling Green's first endowed professorships, one in management and the other in finance.
- the University's first $1 million gifts. The first, from Harold and Helen McMaster of Perrysburg, is used to establish the McMaster Leadership Institute, which is expected to have a significant impact upon the ways that science-based industries maintain their position in business. The second was a challenge grant from the Stranahan Foundation of Toledo to the University's Social Philosophy and Policy Center.
- development of a Photochemical Sciences Center, which is rapidly becoming the country's top center for the study of photochemistry, a multimillion dollar growth industry.
- appointment of an Ohio Eminent Scholar in Photochemical Sciences, the result of a $500,000 grant from the Ohio Board of Regents. The Eminent Scholar Program is designed to attract world class scholars to Ohio's campuses.
- membership for Bowling Green in the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, the oldest university association in the country, comprising the nation's 143 best universities.
- creating NETWORK Bc, a public service program using University expertise and facilities to aid area businesses, industries and organizations.

Born in Montreal, Olscamp received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Western Ontario in 1958 and 1960, respectively. In 1962 he earned his doctoral degree in philosophy at the University of Rochester.

Later that year he accepted a position as an instructor of philosophy at Ohio State University. In 1963 he was promoted to assistant professor and in 1966, was awarded the rank of associate professor. In 1969 he was named associate dean at Ohio State and a year later became vice president for academic affairs, dean of faculties and professor of philosophy at Roosevelt University.

He became executive assistant to the chancellor of Syracuse University in 1972 and later, vice chancellor for student programs.

At age 37, he was named president of Western Washington University in 1975 and guided that university for seven years before his appointment at Bowling Green.

He is married to the former Ruth Ilene Pratt, a native of Akron.

Bowling Green Sports Teams Are A 1980s Success Story

When, in the year 2000, historians look back upon 85 years of intercollegiate athletics at Bowling Green State University, they'll probably stop and take a second look at the 1980s. Bowling Green sports teams of the '80s have achieved a level of success matched by very few of their contemporaries.

In all, Bowling Green teams have won 90 conference titles the last seven years. 15 in the Mid-American Conference and four in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association. Thirteen teams have gone on to post-season play in the NCAA, NIT and in the California Bowl.

Bowling Green student-athletes distinguished themselves in numerous ways in 1986-87. Conference champions were crowned in ice hockey and women's basketball. The volleyball team set a school record for wins in a season, while the men's basketball team made the nation's biggest jump in conference play under a first-year Division I head coach.

For the third straight year, Bowling Green placed third or better in the standings for the Jacoby Trophy, awarded annually to the MAC school with the best overall record in women's sports. BG also produced three Academic All-Americans in football, basketball and women's track - an uncommon distinction for any MAC school in just one year. This kind of success didn't just happen overnight. Bowling Green has enjoyed a long history of success that dates back to the years of World War I. Frederick Beyerman, considered at the time to be the founding father of Bowling Green athletics, was athletic director and coach when BG Normal College basketball and baseball teams were formed in 1915 and 1918, respectively.

The 1920s and 1930s brought victories and championships in the Northwest Ohio Athletic Association and later the Ohio Conference. Coaches like Whittaker (football) and Harold Anderson (basketball) made their contributions to the winning tradition beginning in the 1930s, with Dorothy Perry (football) and Sarah Cooper (swimming) adding to the legend in the 1950s. Anderson's basketball teams and Perry's football teams were widely known in the 1960s, with Falcon hockey just getting started as a club sport.

The 1970s saw Mel Bridot coach a golf-capped runner named Dave Wottle to a Gold Medal at the Munich Olympics, while Mickey Cochrane was busy leading his soccer teams to the NCAA Tournament. Women's athletic teams came on board in 1975-76, bringing the men and women together under one athletic administration for the first time. At the 1980s have shown, it's developed into a lasting union, and one that has given Falcon fans plenty of thrills.

Bowling Green student-athletes compete in state-of-the-art facilities. Dorothy Perry Stadium seats 30,600 for football. While not large, Anderson Arena is an intimidating place for a visiting team. The Falcon hockey team has won more than 80 percent of its home games in the noisy BGSU Ice Arena. Cooper Pool is often the site of MAC Championship swimming and diving events, while Whittaker Track has been the site of numerous track and field meets. Stoller Field has 3,500 seats for baseball, and the Forest Creekman Golf Course is a championship facility located right on campus.

BASEBALL - Coach Ed Patzer's Falcons are consistent contenders for the Mid-American Conference Championship. Playing at Stoller Field, one of the finest college baseball parks in the region, the Falcons are a MAC leader in producing future professional ballplayers. Roger McDowell helped pitch the New York Mets to the World Series Championship in 1986, while Orel Hershiser has enjoyed a fine career with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

MEN'S BASKETBALL - Coach Jim Larranaga's Falcons made the nation's biggest jump last season under a first-year head coach on the Division I level. Picked to finish ninth in the pre-season, Larranaga instilled a disciplined approach to the game and coached the Falcons to a third-place finish in the MAC. It had Falcon fans flocking back to Anderson Arena. "The House That Scores." The Falcons have a history of success. BG leads the MAC in post-season appearances and victories.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL - In just three seasons at BGSU, Coach Fran Voll has led the Falcons to the MAC Championship. BG posted a perfect 16-0 MAC record and a school-record 27-3 overall mark in 1986-87. The Falcons won the MAC post-season tournament title and gained an automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament. Voll coaches some of the best players in the conference, like Stephanie Coe and Jackie Motycka. Coe was the MAC Tournament MVP last winter and later earned a spot on the Academic All-American first team. Motycka was named the MAC Player of the Year.

CROSS COUNTRY - Cross country at Bowling Green has been marked by the changing of the guard, as highly-respected Mel Bridot handed over the coaching duties to Sid Sink, Sink, a former track and cross country All-American at BGSU, has coached the BG women to four CC titles in seven years. Now, he's out to work his magic on the men. The Bowling Green running programs have always been strong thanks to good coaching from Mel Bridot and Sid Sink.

FOOTBALL - Bowling Green has earned the reputation of the MAC's winningest team of the 80s with a first or second place finish the last five years. The Falcons have won two MAC titles and made two trips to the California Bowl since 1980. BG also holds the MAC single game attendance record of 33,527. First-year Coach Nick Chubbey is trying to get BG in second-place finish the conference last season. The 1987 schedule includes a game at Penn State, the defending national champion.

GOLF - Coach Greg Nye's men's and women's golf teams play on some of the most challenging courses in the country. The BG men travel to Georgia and the Carolinas. Upon their return, the Falcons are well-prepared for tournament action in this region. BG has won four MAC Championships and made four NCAA Tournament appearances in the last 17 years. The Falcon women are one of the region's top teams. Last fall, BG won the Penn State Invitational.

GYMNASIUMS - In year and year out, Coach Charles Simpson fields a MAC title contender. With three MAC titles to his credit since 1980, Simpson, the MAC Coach of the Year in 1983, has coached the Falcons to five conference championships and 12 tournament appearances in the last 17 years. Last winter's team took second in the MAC and qualified for the NCAA Northeast regional for the first time.

The Bowling Green running programs have always been strong thanks to good coaching from Mel Bridot and Sid Sink.

SOCCER - Despite working with fewer than half of the athleti grants available to some of their nationally-ranked Division I opponents, Coach Gary Palmisano's Falcons have posted an average record in all but one of the last seven seasons. They set a school record with 16 wins in 1983. Last fall, the Falcons won three conference titles and four NCAA Tournaments, including their own BGSU Soccer Cup. The 1986 season also included victories over the likes of Wisconsin, Notre Dame, North Carolina and Michigan State.

SOFTBALL - The first six years of intercollegiate softball at Bowling Green produced 76 victories. Since then, Coach Gail Davenport has topped that total in just four seasons, including three straight 20-win campaigns. The 1987 season saw the Falcons past a near-500 record with a relatively young roster. Pitching was the key, as three Falcon hurlers were ranked all season.
John C. (Jack) Gregory is in his sixth year as the director of athletics at Bowling Green State University. He was appointed to the position on July 15, 1982.

In Gregory's first five years at Bowling Green, the Falcons have enjoyed some of their finest moments in history, winning the 1984 national championship in ice hockey and claiming Mid-American Conference championships in numerous other sports, including two football championships, along with two trips to the California Bowl. In the last four years, Falcon teams have claimed league titles in ice hockey, football, men's basketball, men's golf, women's cross country and women's gymnastics. The women's basketball team is Bowling Green's latest MAC Champion, posting a perfect 16-0 conference record in 1986-87, winning the post-season MAC Tournament and participating in the NCAA Tournament.

Bowling Green achieved another notable accomplishment last year, finishing for the fourth time in the last five years third place or higher in the Jacoby Trophy standings. The Jacoby Trophy is awarded each year to the MAC school with the best overall record in women's sports.

Gregory came to Bowling Green during one of the most difficult periods in the school's 71 years of intercollegiate athletics, a time when BGSU and the Mid-American Conference were fighting for NCAA Division I-A status in college football. Behind his leadership, Gregory directed Bowling Green athletics through the period, making the Falcons one of the front-runners in achieving that goal.

During his tenure here, BGSU has proven to be a marketing and promotions leader in the MAC, as evidenced by record crowds in football and hockey. In 1983, 33,627 fans packed Doyt L. Perry Field under threatening skies to witness the annual college football classic between Bowling Green and Toledo. The school and MAC single game attendance marks fell that afternoon. The Falcon football team went on to set a season attendance record of 100,021, only to break that mark two years later, 1985, by drawing 112,110 for five home games.

Sell-out crowds for BG's hockey games have become the norm as well, making game tickets the hottest items in town during the winter. Gregory's leadership in the area of television has helped BGSU sports become a popular item in Northwest Ohio. BG football, basketball and hockey teams all attracted live television coverage last year.

Gregory, 58, has also been instrumental in the record-breaking development of the Falcon Club, the University's official athletic department booster club. Recent membership drives have encompassed the Toledo, Cleveland and Lima areas, resulting in unparalleled growth in cash and pledges. The Falcon Club has more than doubled its income and grown to such an extent that it compares favorably with any athletic support organization in the country.

A 1952 graduate of East Stroudsburg State College in Eastern Pennsylvania and holder of a master's degree in physical education from Temple University, Gregory came to Bowling Green from Yale, where he served for four years as associate athletic director. While at Yale, he was responsible for generating income, managing the university's 33-sport program and supervising staff operations.

Gregory began his professional career in 1952 as a teacher and coach at William Penn High School in New Castle, Delaware, and later at P.S. Dupont High School in Wilmington, Delaware.

In 1959, he returned to East Stroudsburg as head football coach and assistant professor of physical education. One of the most successful coaches in the school's history, Gregory was inducted into the East Stroudsburg Athletic Hall of Fame in October, 1983.

After six years at East Stroudsburg, Gregory was named assistant football coach at the U.S. Naval Academy, and in 1967, he was named head football coach at Villanova University. In 1969, he moved to the University of Rhode Island, where he served as head football coach for seven years.

In his 25 years on the high school level and at East Stroudsburg, Villanova and Rhode Island, Gregory's teams compiled a record of 132-69, including four undefeated seasons and seven league championships. He was twice selected as NAIA Coach of the Year, twice selected as Pennsylvania Coach of the Year and was named NCAA District Coach of the Year.

He was lured away from coaching in 1976 by the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League. He served in Green Bay's player personnel department for three years before moving on to Yale.

Jack and his wife, Peg, are the parents of two sons.
Maybe it’s time you had one for your telecommunications system.

Imagine what it would look like if a football team decided to “wing it” out there on the field without a game plan. It would look pretty silly, wouldn’t it?

Well, that’s exactly what many companies do when it comes to planning and designing telecommunications systems. The results are costly.

That’s where we come in to play. You see, we can show you the most cost effective way to handle your information. No matter how unusual your needs are. In fact, we’re the telecommunications consultant to the Super Bowl and a number of NFL teams. We provide dozens of communication systems that enable the press to get their stories out, spotters to talk with their coaches, and stadium security to talk to each other.

If we can do all that, just think of what we can do for you.

Isn’t it time you had a game plan for your telecommunications system? Get in touch with us. Your GTE Account Manager will be glad to help you draw one up.

BGSU Athletes Will Benefit From New Training Center

There is a strong sense of pride in the unparalleled growth of the Bowling Green State University Athletic Department in recent years.

The Falcon football team has won two conference titles, appeared in two California Bowls, played before MAC and school record crowds, and played against the defending national champions at Penn State earlier this season.

The Falcon hockey team won the NCAA Championship at Lake Placid, NY, in 1984 to go along with four league championships in the 1980s. Falcon basketball teams have won MAC titles and appeared in both the NCAA and NIT in recent years. And all along, the Falcon women's cross country, women's gymnastics and men's golf teams have combined for five conference titles since 1982-83.

Yet, even with all the success, there is also a realization that Bowling Green has outgrown some existing facilities. One such facility is the weight room.

Bowling Green has lacked a physical fitness center and weight room comparable to those at other NCAA Division I-A institutions. The present weight room on the ground floor of the east side of the stadium is limited in size and equipment. Its deteriorating condition has become a serious detriment to recruiting efforts. Additionally, no other weight training facility on campus exists to serve as a cost-efficient alternative.

"If there is a major need in our athletic program," BGSU Athletic Director Jack Gregory said, "it is for a weight room for our student-athletes. We're proud of the Ice Arena, Perry Stadium and the proud history of Anderson Arena. However, until this year we have had no fitness facility that can compare to others around the United States."

BGSU is now involved in one of the most ambitious Athletic Department facelifts in the 1980s with a $200,000 Physical Fitness Center/Weight Room, planned for the west side of Perry Stadium, scheduled to open in the near future.

The 5,800 square foot fitness center will be striking in appearance, functional in implementation, and instrumental in helping BGSU's student-athletes become the strongest, fastest, quickest and most skillful athletes possible. Located where four neglected handball courts previously stood, the center will service the more than 500 BGSU student-athletes. It will be large enough to accommodate full team workouts or multi-team use.

The facility will offer a room for free weights, a room of Nautilus and various exercise machines, and an open mat area for general fitness, agility exercises, indoor practices and rehabilitation programs. Office space, a staff locker room and storage space are also planned.

Its design, covering approximately 1/3 of the west side of Perry Stadium, will provide optimum security and supervision. It will be esthetically pleasing, as well. The facility will feature an entrance of glass and a reception area that will display a large Falcon head, symbol of Bowling Green's winning tradition in athletics. The school colors of brown and orange will be used throughout the facility, while the lighting will be bright and appealing.

The goal is to have nothing but the best and that includes the best and safest equipment available.

The $200,000 price tag remains an obstacle. Jack Gregory said that recent fund-raising efforts have covered more than half of the expense, but more help is needed. Anyone interested in contributing to the project should contact the Athletic Department at 372-2401.

"We are one of only 105 schools in the country that can claim to be a NCAA Division I-A institution," Gregory said. "It's a mark of distinction, one that we're prepared to work hard at maintaining in the years to come.

"We believe our fitness center and weight room will provide us with a great tool for success in college athletics. We hope our friends and supporters share that belief and will help us cover the cost of equipping Bowling Green State University with a first rate Physical Fitness Center/Weight Room."

"HI, BOYS AND GIRLS!!" These four simple words have rung soundly through the ears of many youngsters over the past fifty years. Who could ever forget that lovable little rodent whose persona, still, is going strong worldwide and who agelessly, remains in vogue? You guessed him... Mickey Mouse! Through the cartoon character, the world has grown to love and cherish the genius of his creator, Walt Disney. The name Disney is synonymous with cartoons, films, entertainment, recreation and relaxation, and it is with great pride that the Falcon Marching Band presents for you today, A DISNEY SHOWCASE!!

Today's performance opens in non-traditional manner silhouetting a celestial body and based upon the immortal theme "WHEN YOU WISH UPON A STAR." From the animated motion picture "Songs of the South", the band will march and play a lively, spirited rendition of "ZIP-A-DEE-DOO-DAH."

Today's performance opens in non-traditional manner silhouetting a celestial body and based upon the immortal theme "WHEN YOU WISH UPON A STAR." From the animated motion picture "Songs of the South", the band will march and play a lively, spirited rendition of "ZIP-A-DEE-DOO-DAH."

Though the Falcon Marching Band does not have any dwarfs to add to the merriment of today's performance, the tuba section would like to do their part and create a little joviality with "HI-HO! HI-HO!" from "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Following this selection, we welcome to the field, The BGSU Pommerettes, who will join us and dance to a jazz version of the "Jungle Book's" "BARE NECESSITIES"!

During the late 1950s and early 60s and even now in syndication, the Mickey Mouse Club captivated the afternoons of many children in front of the television. Even now the escapades of Annette, Tommy, Cubby, and all the rest are as fresh as they were then. And we're sure that everybody here today will remember the lyrics to the closing theme... "M-l-C... K-E-Y M-O-U-S-E!"

And if this is not enough for you, hold on for one more tune. Walt Disney believed that his idea of entertainment was much farther reaching than the boundaries of the United States. Walt believed that our world was one of laughter, cheer, hopes and fears, and that mankind, regardless of doctrine and creed, shared many mutual bonds... enough to say... "IT'S A SMALL WORLD!!"

FALCON FANS, it is RIVALRY, RITUAL AND REVENGE at its best today, right here at Perry Field. Welcome to the Bowling Green State University campus and today's game. I hope you enjoy your stay.

Our next home football game will be Saturday, November 7 against Kent. It will be Parents Day, and that means a big day on the BGSU campus. Plan to come out and share the day with us.

This year's Blade Day will again be the Falcons' final home game on November 21 against the always-tough Chippewas of Central Michigan. The outcome of this game could very well determine the 1987 MAC Champion and our conference's representative for the California Bowl. Don't miss it! Order your tickets now at 372-2762.

Tickets for our two remaining games will be on sale at halftime of today's game at the white ticket booth located on the east side of Perry Field. Tickets can also be purchased throughout the week during regular working hours at the Memorial Hall Ticket Office and at the following ticket outlets: BG Chamber of Commerce, Falcon House and Kroger in Bowling Green; Huntington-Downtown, Huntington-Three Meadows and Kroger in Perrysburg; Bill's Men and Boy's Wear in Fostoria; B & G Drugs in Findlay; and the Sports Gallery in the Promenade Shop in Toledo.

All groups of 15 or more persons interested in coming out together and enjoying a GREAT TIME at Perry Field are encouraged to call me at 372-7093 to learn more about our special group rates.

Well folks, the 1987-88 BGSU hockey season is well under way, and that means Falcon basketball is right around the corner. Both the men's and women's teams will open with an exhibition game against DENMARK SISU on Thursday, November 12 at Anderson Arena. Tickets for the upcoming basketball season are available at the Memorial Hall Ticket Office.

Students interested in seeing some exciting hockey and basketball should still consider purchasing the All-Sports Pass at only $24. It's not too late to reserve your place for what promises to be another great winter of Falcon Sports! Charge the All-Sports Pass to your bursar's account.

In conclusion, I would just like to point out that on pages 59-60 of this program are complete Fall and Winter sports schedules. THINK ORANGE and follow your favorite Falcon teams all the way!

Alma Mater hear us,
As we praise they name
Make us worthy sons and daughters
Adding to thy fame.
Time will treat you kindly
Years from now you'll be
Ever dearer in our hearts,
Our University.
From your halls of ivy
To the campus scene,
Chimes ring out with gladness
From our dear Bowling Green.
When all is just a mem'ry
Of the by-gone days,
Hear our hymn dear Alma Mater
As thy name we praise.

among the MAC ERA leaders. Even more encouraging is the fact that all three return for the 1988 season.

SWIMMING - Success in swimming became synonymous with Bowling Green thanks to former coaches Sam Cooper and Tom Stubbs. Today's coaches are laying the foundation for a successful future. The Falcon women have made winning a habit. It began with the first MAC Championship in women's swimming in 1981. Ever since, BG has been the MAC runner-up. The men's team is working hard to make up ground on perennial MAC champion Eastern Michigan. They've finished in the top five at the MAC meet the last three years.

TRACK & FIELD - Bowling Green was represented at the 1987 NCAA Men's Track and Field Championship, thanks to distance runner Dave Mora. BG began the 1980s with at least one representative in the NCAA Championship for two consecutive years. Distance runner Sara Collas was Bowling Green's first NCAA qualifier for the women in 1986. The Falcons won the first MAC Championship for women's track in 1981. Sid Sine, coordinator of BG's track and cross country programs, and Tom Wright are both in charge of the men's team. Lee LaBaile directs the Falcon women.

VOLLEYBALL - Coach Denise Van De Walle's Falcon volleyball is climbing toward the top of the conference standings. Last fall Bowling Green was the most improved team in the MAC. Van De Walle, the MAC Coach of the Year, guided her squad to a third-place finish in the conference, a sparkling 26-8 overall record and the championship at the University of Louisville Tournament. Outside hitter Jolynn Williamson was named first team All-MAC, and setter Linda Popovich was the MAC Freshman of the Year.

After the game, head over to Bob Evans. It's a smart move if you have the drive to win.

Grounds Crew

Doyt L. Perry Field, with its 30,000-plus seating capacity, is celebrating its 21st year as the home of Bowling Green State University football.

Built in 1966 for approximately $3 million as a replacement for the 43-year-old University Stadium, Perry Field had a capacity of 23,272 until bleacher seats were installed in both end zones in 1982.

One of the largest and most attractive athletic facilities in the Mid-American Conference, Perry Field holds the conference records for single-game attendance.

On October 8, 1983, a huge crowd of 33,527 packed into Perry Field for the annual BG-Toledo game, establishing a school and MAC record for single-game attendance. The Falcons went on to set a season record, breaking the six-digit figure for five games with a total draw of 100,021. It marked the first time in history that Bowling Green averaged more than 20,000 fans for five home football games.

That figure was topped in 1985, when Bowling Green posted a perfect record (11-0) in the regular season and clinched the MAC Championship by shutting out arch-rival Toledo at Perry Field in November. More than 28,000 fans turned out that day, raising Bowling Green's season attendance to an all-time high 112,000, an average of 22,400.

Perry Field is more than just a football facility. The east side of the stadium includes dressing rooms, equipment and training rooms, along with the Athletic Department offices. The west side is in the process of receiving a face-lift. This fall, a new physical fitness center/weight room is scheduled to open its doors for all 19 intercollegiate athletic teams to use.

Also situated on the west side of Perry Field are the Falcon Club offices and clubhouse, the academic counselor's office, the track and cross country offices, as well as maintenance and storage areas.

Sitting atop the press box on the west side of the stadium is the plush Stadium Club. Now in its eighth year of operation, the Stadium Club's 106 theatre-type seats, which are all sold, provide loyal BGSU fans with one of the finest places to view a game in all of the midwest. The President's Box, located on top of the east side of the stadium, provides luxury seating for President Paul J. Olscamp and other supporters of Falcon football.

Bowling Green posted a 4-1 record at Perry Field last season. Over the last five seasons, Bowling Green is 23-2 in the friendly confines of Perry Field.

A multi-purpose facility, Perry Field has also hosted concerts, NFL exhibition games, and major soccer tournaments.

Perry Field is named in honor of the man who led Bowling Green to a 77-11-5 record in his 10 years as the head coach of the football team.
Falcons. Doyt L. Perry was simply one of the greatest football coaches of his day. His .855 winning percentage over 10 seasons in the 1950s and 1960s remains one of the highest in football history. In fact, according to James Van Valkenburg, director of statistics for the NCAA, only two on the Division I-A list are above that figure—Knute Rockne at .881 (Notre Dame) and Frank Leahy at .864, (Boston College and Notre Dame).

Perry, 77, is as popular as ever in Bowling Green. An avid golfer, he spends his winters with wife Loretta in Florida. Each summer, he entertains his friends and former players at a golf outing. Former players and coaches return for the “Falcon's Nest of Coaches” meeting. Known for his well-organized practices and attention-to-detail meetings, Perry never stopped thinking of ways to succeed. He was a winner in football and as a high school basketball coach. His basketball teams were 161-35 over nine seasons and his high school track teams won 70 county titles in nine years.

"First, I always tried to get the best assistant coaches possible," Perry would say. "Then we sought to eliminate mistakes as far as possible."

After stepping down as Bowling Green's head football coach in 1964, Doyt Perry remained as the BGSU Athletic Director for almost seven years.

Blueprint

The new tradition in traditional health care.

Someone had to draw the line against the rising costs of traditional health care. So Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Ohio did... with an innovative group health plan called Blueprint.

The Blueprint plan, in cooperation with area hospitals, provides strict cost controls for the medical services you receive. Yet it doesn’t restrict your freedom to see the doctors of your choice.

To learn how Blueprint measures up for your company, contact Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Ohio. In the Toledo area, call 473-BLUE; out-of-town, call 1-800-472-1740.

Falcons Begin Phase II of Larranaga’s Master Plan

The 1987-88 season marks Phase II of Coach Jim Larranaga’s plan for rebuilding the Bowling Green Falcons into a Mid-American Conference title contender. Phase I of Larranaga’s master plan was a major success, as the Falcons rebounded from a slow start in 1986-87 to post a winning record and finish third in the MAC. The experts picked BG ninth in the nine-team MAC. That’s where the Falcons finished in 1986-87.

But Larranaga began by building a new foundation. He stressed aggressiveness on offense and defense. As BG’s 15-14 overall record and 10-6 mark in the MAC indicate, it paid off, especially in Anderson Arena. BG was 10-3 at home last season, with wins over Ohio University, Toledo, Kent State and Miami. The Falcons posted some impressive road wins, as well, beating Toledo, Ohio and Miami on their own court. In all, Bowling Green was 8-2 against the four other Ohio MAC schools.

And for the first time in history, the Falcons swept Toledo, Ohio and Miami. In addition, BG led the conference with a 9-1 record in games decided by four points or less.

Bowling Green looks ahead to 1987-88 with eight lettermen returning. Gone is scoring leader and All-MAC guard Frank Booker (a seventh-round draft pick of the NBA’s New Jersey Nets). Gone, too, is 6-9 center Avon Davey, who toiled as a relative unknown for much of his time at Bowling Green before playing in 28 games (starting 10) as a senior.

Of the returning players, four were starters at the end of last season; guards Anthony Robinson and Joe Gregory and forwards Lamon Pippin and Steve Martenet. Three others — guard Scott Kalish and forwards James Tyler and Pop Jennings — appeared in more than 20 games apiece.

The veterans will be pushed by a large and talented freshman class. Larranaga and his assistants were busy in the off-season, bringing in some of the top high school talent in Ohio and Michigan.

We’ll have four starters back who have a knowledge of the system and of the talent in the league.

-Jim Larranaga

We’ll have four starters back who have a knowledge of the system and of the talent in the league. We also have a solid recruiting class. Our new players should add considerable depth to our program,” said Larranaga. “We’ll be a very young team. We lost considerable experience in the backcourt with the graduation of Frank Booker. We have to identify a player or two to pick up where Frank left off.”

Below is a positional breakdown of the 1987-88 Falcons:

POINT GUARD
Junior Joe Gregory (9.7 ppg/2.2 rpg) became Bowling Green’s top playmaking guard last season. The 5-10 Redford, MI, native also showed that he can score from the outside. Gregory led the Falcons in assists last season with 112 and finished second on the team with 29 three-point field goals.

Scott Kalish (10.0/0.2), a 5-9 junior out of Fairview Park, provides BG with some experience at the playmaking spot. Newcomer Billy Johnson (24.9/8.3) of Romulus, MI, will also vie for playing time at the point position.

OFF-GUARD
Senior Anthony Robinson (13.4/4.8), a Street & Smith’s pre-season honorable mention All-American, will be BG’s top returnee at the off-guard spot. He enters his senior season needing just 14 points to become the 22nd Falcon to score 1,000 points in his career. Senior James Tyler (3.3/2.2) is back after starting in 14 games last season. Tyler’s seven blocked shots ranked second on the ’86-’87 squad.

Derek Kizer (14.4/10.9) of Toledo and Joe Moore (18.0/10.0) of the Bronx, NY, a pair of quick and agile newcomers, may get some playing time at the off-guard spot, as well.

FORWARD
Coach Larranaga’s two starting forwards are back this season. Seniors Steve Martenet (11.0/4.3) and Lamon Pippin (9.9/4.8) give the Falcons a pair of experienced starters, both capable of leading the team in scoring and rebounding on any given night. Sophomore Pop Jennings (1.8/10) should see more playing time after lettering in his first season at BG.

Boosting BG’s forward corps are freshmen Brad Morrison (16.6/10.9) out of Oregon Clay High School and Juan Street (20.2/12.7) from Romulus, MI.

CENTER
Bowling Green’s starting five for the MAC Tournament was minus a center. Coach Larranaga opting instead to use three guards and two forwards.

This season, 6-8 junior Dan Raupp (11.4), a two-year lettermen, and 6-8 freshman Dale Turner (26.1/10.9) out of Alliance Marlington High School will vie for court time. Freshman Ed Colbert (10.0/8.0) will bolster the position when he gains his eligibility next semester.

SCHEDULE
The Falcons will face a demanding non-league schedule with road games against Top 20 opponents Michigan and Cleveland State. Also on the road will be Davidson College, Eastern Kentucky and the Siena College Tournament, where BG joins Siena, Wagner and Vermont.

BG hosts five non-league opponents in Anderson Arena, beginning with Findlay College in the November 30 season-opener. Boston University, Wright State, Detroit and Defiance College will also be on hand.

The Falcons will be out to continue their climb up the MAC ladder this season. They’ll play another challenging 16-game MAC schedule that begins with two road games at Ball State and Eastern Michigan.

BG opens its MAC home schedule Jan. 13 against Miami.
