Falcons Host CMU In 1987 Season Finale

The Bowling Green Falcons will be playing for a share of second place in the final Mid-American Conference standings, today, when they host the Central Michigan Chippewas in a 1:30 p.m. game at Doyt L. Perry Field.

Coach Moe Ankney's Falcons were eliminated from the MAC Championship picture last week, losing 38-18 to the MAC Champion Eastern Michigan Hurons. Eastern clinched the outright title and a trip to the California Bowl with the win in Ypsilanti.

Bowling Green (4-6 overall, 4-3 MAC) can finish in a three-way tie for second place for the second straight year with a win over Central Michigan.

The Falcons, however, will be tested by a Central Michigan team (5-4-1 overall, 3-3-1 MAC) that has won or tied five of its last six games. A Central Michigan victory could drop the Falcons into a tie for fifth in the final MAC standings.

Today's game will be the final game at Doyt L. Perry Field for 16 BG seniors, including 10 starters - four on offense and six on defense.

THE BG-CMU SERIES: Bowling Green leads, 12-11. The series began in 1924 with a 21-0 CMU victory, before BG won the next five games. Since 1976, Central Michigan has posted an 8-3 record in the series, including last year's 20-10 win in Mt. Pleasant. In games played at Doyt L. Perry Field, BG has gone 2-4 against Central Michigan.

BOWLING GREEN OFFENSE: Bowling Green has developed one of the most feared passing games in the MAC this season, thanks to quarterback Rich Dackin (Cairo/Lima Bath) and a group of five pass-catchers, all with 16 or more receptions this season. Dackin has thrown for almost 700 yards the last two games, completing 57 of 88 passes for 689 yards and five touchdowns. He set personal high last week in completing 34 of 56 passes against Eastern Michigan. SE Reggie Thornton (Detroit, MI/MacKenzie) was on the receiving end of 11 Dackin aerials for 130 yards last week, while FB Mike Otten (Coldwater) hauled in 10 catches for 91 yards. The Falcons look to the air after falling behind 14-0 in the first quarter at Eastern Michigan. BG was down 24-3 at the half and couldn't climb back into contention, despite a pair of Dackin-to-Thornton TD tosses of 17 and 9 yards in the third and fourth quarters. BG's running game was shelved as the Falcons played catch-up the last three quarters. The Falcons rushed for just 54 yards, with TB Shawn Daniels (Montreal QUE/Snow JC) leading the way with 62 yards on 11 carries. The Falcons finished the game holding the advantage in total yards, 394-349. PK Jason Keller kicked a first-quarter field goal from 39 yards out, but later missed from 31 yards just before the half. As a team, the Falcons are averaging 97.6 yards rushing and 223.6 yards passing for 321.6 yards of total offense per game.

BOWLING GREEN DEFENSE: With five out of the top eight Falcon tacklers being seniors, there should be plenty of emotion backing Bowling Green's defensive effort against Central Michigan. BG's top two tacklers - SS Kyle Kramer (Dayton/Fairmont) with 130 stops and ILB Charles Dotson (Toledo/Waite) with 119 - will be back (Continued on page 19)

HEAD COACH MOE ANKNEY

Howard M. "Moe" Ankney, Bowling Green State University’s 13th head football coach, believes in Falcon football, its past, its present and its future.

"Bowling Green football is strong, and Bowling Green football is respected across the country. When our players put on the Bowling Green uniform, they are eager to go out and uphold that winning tradition.

Those are Ankney’s words as he enters the 1987 season at Bowling Green, his second at the successful Mid-American Conference school.

Ankney was appointed head football coach at Bowling Green on December 30, 1985. For him, it marked a return to his alma mater. He was a quarterback under the legendary Doyt L. Perry from 1961-63 before graduating in 1964. During his 15-year collegiate coaching career, Ankney has made coaching stops at Ball State, Tulane and Arizona, coached in several major bowl games, and developed a reputation for coaching excellent defensive teams.

Heading into the 1987 season at Bowling Green, Ankney continues to be a believer in strong defense. "The thing I like about our team is that I think we will be strong defensively. You need to have a good defense to win the championship."

Ankney’s Falcons relied on a big-play defense and an improving offense to get the job done in 1986. Bowling Green’s 5-6 overall record was only part of the story last season. Ankney had his Falcons in the race for the Mid-American Conference title.

"Last year, we had a 5-6 record," Ankney said. "That doesn’t live up to the winning tradition of Bowling Green football. Our coaches and our players are determined to get Bowling Green football back to where it should be."

Ankney joined the Falcons after serving six seasons as the assistant head coach, defensive coordinator and secondary coach at the University of Arizona of the Pacific-10 Conference. His defensive teams finished among the national leaders from 1982-85. He coached the Pac-10’s leading tackler in each of those years.

In returning to his alma mater, Ankney left a long-time coaching associate and friend, Arizona Head Coach Larry Smith. Like Ankney, Smith is a Bowling Green graduate, and the two coached together for 10 seasons. Smith, now head coach at the University of Southern California, said of Ankney, "He was my right hand and right arm for 10 years and a friend for much longer than that."

Prior to joining the Arizona staff in 1980, Ankney was Smith’s defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Tulane for four seasons between 1976-79. And before that, he was the secondary coach at Ball State from 1971-75 under the late Dave McClain.

At each stop, Ankney was instrumental in helping to rebuild struggling programs. While Ankney led the ’86 Falcons to a second-place tie in the MAC.

EVER LEARNING
BGSU Teachers Also Devote Time To Research And Discover

Bowling Green State University is not simply a place where knowledge is shared; it is also a place where knowledge is discovered.

In addition to teaching, the faculty members also conduct research. Many of these teachers/researchers are the very best in their areas of study. To keep learning about ourselves and our universe, during the last fiscal year, the University, state and federal agencies, and private foundations awarded more than $4.9 million to support more than 200 faculty research projects.

Two of the most prestigious of those awards were Fulbright grants which were presented to Drs. D.S. Chauhan, a professor of political science, and Ron Woodruff, a professor of biological sciences and director of the University's Mid-American Drosophila Stock Center.

Chauhan received a Fulbright Scholar Award to travel to the war-torn island of Sri Lanka to conduct training seminars for government officials at the National Institute for Development Administration and the Ministry of Education. Chauhan will also have time to conduct research on the politics of the region, specifically the current civil strife between Tamil separatists and the Sinhalese majority.

Specifically, Chauhan's teaching and research will focus on three areas: the management capabilities of public officials; human resource planning and development; and the role of public administration in economic development.

As a teacher, Chauhan will be trying to improve the work performance and productivity of public officials; as a researcher, he will be trying to understand the underlying political and cultural forces which created the current situation, which, in turn, should make him a better teacher.

In addition, he will be making two side trips for additional research. He will travel to Nepal, India, to study the area's economic planning and administration, and he will stop in Singapore to study how public administration officials are trained in that country.

Woodruff has received a Fulbright Research Award to travel to Kenya to study a special species of fruit fly called drosophila melanogaster.

As director of the University's drosophila center, which is home to more than 4,000 genetic varieties of fruit flies, Woodruff has a keen interest in the tiny insects. Because of its relatively large chromosomes, short life span and large number of progeny, the fly is perfect for a wide variety of genetics and cancer studies.

In addition, the fruit fly's chromosomes and sex cells are very similar to those of humans. "In a sense we are using drosophila as a model system to see if similar effects are going on in humans," Woodruff said, adding, "If something is causing genetic damage in the fruit fly, we can make a comparable study in humans."

Beginning his four-month research project in May, Woodruff will be based at the University of Nairobi, but will make numerous collecting trips into different areas of Kenya. After collecting the flies, he will transport them back to the University of Nairobi where they will be crossed with laboratory stocks previously sent from Bowling Green's stock center.

While in Kenya, he, like Chauhan, will be delivering lectures and seminars to both faculty and students.

explained

100 Years Old and still . . . Best in the Long Run

Buy an oil change, a set of tires or repairs with the Marathon credit card. Take up to six months to pay with no finance charge—you pay the same as the cash price.

Suppose you bought a set of tires costing $300.00 in March and charged them on your credit card. Your account is billed the first day of each month and you pay $50.00 by the 15th of each month in six equal installments. The difference between the Marathon credit card and another credit card which has an annual percentage rate (APR) of 18% and a monthly finance charge of 1.5% applied on an average daily balance is:

The 1987 football season at Bowling Green State University may not have brought a conference championship or a top 20 national ranking, but it did bring plenty of excitement. Coach Moe Ankney's Falcons close out the '87 season today against Central Michigan, so it seemed appropriate to remember a few of the good times Falcon fans have enjoyed the last 11 weeks. With the help of photographers Mark Thalman of the BG News and Gary Downey of the BGSU Sports Information Office, we can remember when (above) the BG-Toledo Football Peace Pipe was awarded to Coach Moe Ankney, Defensive End Joe Foley, Tight End Kyle Hockman and Athletic Director Jack Gregory following the Falcons' 20-6 win over Toledo; when (below) Penn State Coach Joe Paterno shook hands with BG Coach Moe Ankney before their teams met in front of a Mid-American Conference record crowd of 84,574 fans in University Park, PA; and when (far left) Linebacker Jon Rolwing celebrated one of Bowling Green's many defensive gems in a 24-0 victory at Ball State. All along, Bowling Green backers (left) have been wearing the orange and brown and following the Falcons.
Read about the results of this game and all the Falcons' major sports events in the Sentinel-Tribune. You'll also find coverage of teams in the Mid-American Conference, Big Ten, the pros and high schools.

Central Michigan defense: The Chippewas have been stingy against offensive threats, especially in a 21-5 victory over MAC Champion Eastern Michigan. Central Michigan opponents have averaged 129.7 yards diving and 219.8 yards passing this season. Only one opponent has reached 30 points, and that was Minnesota in a 30-10 win in Minneapolis. A pair of lieutenant and a free safety lead the Chips in tackles. ILB George Ricumstrict has the best numbers, with 32 solos and 53 assists for 85 tackles. F S Joe Kellogg and ILB Chris Wise are tied with 70 stops apiece. Kellogg has also picked off three passes.

Central Michigan offensive: The Chippewas will show a run-oriented offense, led by a pair of tailbacks—John Hood (180 carries, 941 yards and 8 TDs) and Rodney Stevenson (132, 515, 1). Hood can become only the fifth CMU sophomore to rush for 1000 yards if he rushes for 59 yards against BG. Quarterback Todd Winters has 15 completions (173) for one season. SE Reggie Thornton needs 12 catches and 66 yards receiving to crack BG's top five for receptions and receiving yards in a season. Thornton enters the CMU game with 45 catches for 679 yards...

ABOUT THE VARSITY BG CLUB
The Varsity BG Club is an exclusive organization open only to former Bowling Green State University varsity letterwinners, who, for a non-tax deductible contribution of $10 per year can help operate the club and support BGSU athletics at the same time. Almost 500 former Falcon letterwinners were Varsity BG Club members last year. Again this year, the Varsity BG Club is offering a lifetime membership for $100; no other dues will ever be required. Lifetime memberships for those 65 and older are only $50.

The Varsity BG Club undertakes three major projects each year, the first of which is the spring Recognition Reception honoring the College Coach of the Year, the High School Coach of the Year, and the Special Recognition Award Winner. Then in July we will enjoy another Doyt Perry Golf Outing at the BGSU Forrest Creason Golf Course. More information will be forthcoming. Each fall, the annual Varsity BG Day festivities take place in conjunction with a Bowling Green football game. It’s a great day to return to campus and visit with former classmates and teammates. We’re looking forward to another big year for the Varsity BG Club and Falcon athletics, and all we need from you is your participation.

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS
All active members of the Varsity BG Club will receive:
• Membership in an exclusive organization open only to BGSU varsity letterwinners.
• A list of special activities and programs, such as the ones described above.
• Subscription to the quarterly newsletter.

FALCONS IN THE PROS

More than 45 former Falcon football players have been drafted by or played for a team in the National Football League, American Football League, World Football League, United States Football League or Canadian Football League.

Among them have been several players who have made significant contributions to their professional team - players such as Bernie Casey, a wide receiver with the Los Angeles Rams and San Francisco 49ers in the 1960s; Bob Reynolds, an offensive tackle with the St. Louis Cardinals for more than a decade; Jamie Rivers, a linebacker for three pro teams for nine years; Bob Schnelker, an offensive end with the New York Giants; Phil Villapiano, an all-pro linebacker with the Oakland Raiders and Buffalo Bills; Mike Weger, a Detroit Lions defensive back and Dave Preston, an all-purpose back with the Denver Broncos.

Their names are familiar. Together, they dot the nation as football coaches at all levels of the game - high school, college, and professional football. They belong to the Falcon's Nest of Coaches, an organization created in 1984 to promote the proud tradition of Bowling Green Falcon football. Through the development of student and graduate-assistant programs at Bowling Green, most of these coaches got their start at this Mid-American Conference institution. They've studied and matured under the coaching philosophies of Warren Steller, Doyt Perry, Bob Gibson, Don Nehlen, Denny Stolz and Moe Ankney, to name a few. Today, they are making a name for themselves and for their respective football programs around the country. Though they may be miles apart, they share at least one thing in common. They are members of a fine football coaching fraternity at Bowling Green, the Falcon's Nest of Coaches.

BG Pair Awarded Regional Academic Honors

Bowling Green State University will be represented by two players on the national ballot for the GTE Academic All-America Football Team.

Kyle Kramer, a junior defensive back from Dayton, and Mike Often, a senior running back from Coldwater, were both named to the Academic All-District IV squad earlier this month. Members of the College Sports Information Directors of America annually select the Academic All-America teams to recognize student-athletes who excel on and off the football field.

For Mike Often, it is the second time around. Last year, he was named second team Academic All-America and first team Academic All-MAC and All-District IV after being the starting fullback for the 1986 Falcons.

A biology major in the College of Arts and Sciences, Often maintains a 3.47 cumulative grade point average. Now in his second season as BG's No. 1 fullback, Often has rushed for more than 400 yards and caught more than 60 passes for more than 500 yards in his BG football career. This season, he is BG's second-leading rusher with 218 yards on 57 carries. He is also BG's No. 2 receiver with 40 catches for 326 yards.

Kyle Kramer, like Often, is a biology major in the College of Arts and Sciences and maintains a 3.33 cumulative GPA.

As a strong safety for the Falcon football team, Kramer leads Bowling Green this season with 130 tackles, including 68 solo stops. He has also registered two interceptions.

Kramer was a second team All-Mid-American Conference selection in 1986 after leading the Falcons with five interceptions.

To All Falcon Fans:

You are the key to success for our Falcon teams! The BGSU Athletic Department depends on the Falcon Club to raise more than $234,000 in 1987. This money will help fund athletic grant-in-aids, assist in the recruiting of prospective student-athletes, and provide funding for athletic facilities budgets.

Members of the Falcon Club are alumni, parents, friends and fans who provide financial support, volunteer hours and advisory expertise to the BGSU athletic program and share in the many benefits the Falcon Club has to offer.

The Falcon Club has ambitious goals for 1987 and is eager to involve YOU in our activities. The need to support our program is at an all time high. Your financial contribution and BGSU’s athletic program are a winning combination.

We are very proud that Bowling Green’s athletic program, both men and women, is recognized as one of the best in the country. All of our 19 teams are highly competitive and very representative. Falcon Club membership offers you the opportunity to support these teams. Falcon Club donations have greatly aided our program, and to continue that winning tradition throughout the 1987-88 campaign will require another supreme Falcon Club effort.

I look forward to having you join the Falcon Club in 1987!

Sincerely,

Charles F. Nagle
Assistant Athletic Director/Development

I am interested in learning more about the Falcon Club and its activities.

Ham it up more often.

Dinner Bell ham is the all day meat.

Ham is about the only meat that appears regularly on breakfast, lunch and dinner menus. And ham is a favorite for picnics and snacks, too. So it's a good idea to keep it on hand. Make it Dinner Bell ham. Less waste. Easy to slice. And you get a lot for your money, so you can afford to be generous. That's important, because once your family gets a taste of Dinner Bell's gentle smoked flavor, they'll ham it up more often.

The Mark of a Champion

It's more than a decoration. It's a symbol representing the brand name responsible for innovative uniform design; a tradition culminating in the largest variety of fabrics, styles, and colors available anywhere.

It's also the sign of rugged construction and incomparable quality. But most of all, it's your guarantee—a seal that it is the finest team uniform money can buy.

Look for the “C.” It's the mark of a Champion. Contact the Champion Sales Representative listed for more information.

Bowling Green State University offers a range of educational opportunities expected in a large university, yet retains the personalized small school atmosphere of its early years.

When Bowling Green Normal School opened its doors in 1914, there were 15 faculty members and all 158 students were studying to be teachers. Today the University has nearly 750 full-time and 200 part-time faculty and 17,100 students on its main campus. Degree programs are offered through the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Allied Professions, Health and Human Services, Musical Arts, Technology, and the Graduate College. Within the undergraduate colleges are Schools of Art, Mass Communication, Nursing, and Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The University offers more than 170 undergraduate degree programs, 75 master’s degree programs and has 12 departments granting doctoral degrees in more than 40 specialty areas.

In addition to courses on the main campus, the University's Firelands College campus, located in Huron, Ohio, offers 17 two-year associate degree programs, as well as courses which fulfill the first two years of a bachelor's degree requirement. Firelands College enrolls about 1,100 students.

Fully accredited at the highest state, regional and national levels, the University has chapters of most national academic honor societies, including Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi. Bowling Green is also a member of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges.

The University's faculty members, 82 percent of whom hold the highest degree in their fields, include Fulbright Scholars, authors and nationally known researchers. The caliber of the faculty is reflected, too, in the number of academic programs which are regionally and nationally recognized, including the chemistry department which recently announced the appointment of an Ohio Eminent Scholar in Photochemical Sciences. The Ohio Eminent Scholar program was created by the Ohio Board of Regents to attract world class scholars to the state's universities.

Committed to teaching, faculty are scholars as well, generating new knowledge through independent research and involvement in University units such as the Population and Society Research center, the Center for Environmental Programs, the Center for the Study of Popular Culture, and the Social Philosophy and Policy Center. Bowling Green is also the site of the National Drosophila Species Center and the Mid-America Stock Center—the largest scientific facilities of their kind in the world—where University faculty assist in supplying some 400 species of fruit flies to scientists involved in genetics and cancer research around the globe.

The University's students come from throughout the United States and nearly 60 foreign nations. While most students are between the ages of 18-22, the number of those older than 25 is increasing. During the spring term of the 1986-87 academic year, there were more than 2,500 "non-traditional" adult students enrolled in undergraduate and graduate degree programs on a full- or part-time basis.

The focal point of the 1,250-acre campus is the nine-story Jerome Library, with its collection of more than 4 million items, including 1.4 million volumes plus thousands of journals, periodicals, microforms, government documents and other materials. Special sections of the library include the Center for Archival Collections which houses materials relevant to northwest Ohio history and the Sound Recording Archives with 400,000 recordings. The Institute for Great Lakes Research, located in Perrysburg, contains an extensive collection of materials on the shipping industry's past and present.

The University is continually refurbishing its more than 100 existing buildings and upgrading facilities to meet current needs. An example is the recently completed remodeling of West Hall, the former music building, to provide up-to-date facilities for the School of Mass Communication. Currently, Williams Hall, home to the history, sociology and political science departments, is undergoing major renovation. Also, numerous computer facilities have been installed and upgraded throughout campus.

A $3.65 million addition to the Business Administration Building is expected to be completed in 1988 and reflects the growth of the College of Business Administration in recent years.
ADMINISTRATION

President Paul J. Olscamp

The president of a university must provide the vision and inspiration if the institution is truly to become a place of learning, and that is exactly what Dr. Paul J. Olscamp has been doing since becoming the eighth president of Bowling Green State University in 1982.

With an announced goal to "move Bowling Green into the ranks of nationally important universities," one of Olscamp's first efforts was to work with the faculty in developing a Role and Mission Statement, a 27-goal document aimed at improving the quality of undergraduate and graduate students, the University's academic programs, the learning environment and the faculty and its resources.

However, Olscamp knows that very few of the University's plans will materialize without adequate financing. While state appropriations can be counted upon for day-to-day operations, other kinds of resources must be tapped if Bowling Green is to enhance its position as a university.

Steps have been taken to secure an additional endowment of nearly $50 million by the year 2000.

One plan, authorized by the University's Board of Trustees in 1986 and approved by the Ohio Attorney General, will restructure debt service obligations and is projected to yield $3.5 million of savings in less than 15 years. Interest on that amount should provide more than $3 million annually to the academic budget.

In addition, in 1984 the Trustees, at Olscamp's request, created an internal endowment fund of $4 million from various University reserves. The balance of that fund is currently $6.5 million and, if left untouched, is expected to reach $10 million in approximately five years at which point the annual interest of about $1 million will be used to further support academic programs.

Also, Bowling Green has recently completed its most successful fund-raising program in history. The 75th Anniversary Fund generated nearly $15 million for the University, topping the announced goal of $12.5 million by almost $2.5 million. These funds are being used for a variety of purposes, including graduate and undergraduate scholarships, faculty research, library holdings and special equipment purchases.

Improving and maintaining the physical facilities are a University priority and Olscamp has been instrumental in securing nearly $34 million in state capital improvement funds for renovation and new construction projects.

Students have always occupied an important place on Olscamp's agenda and several moves have significantly improved student life at Bowling Green. One has been the installation of computer labs in all University residence halls and other campus locations, reflecting Olscamp's desire to make it convenient for all students to have a background in computer usage.

An installment payment plan enabling students to defer fee payments over the course of a semester has been popular as has been a legal services program, the first in Ohio to employ an attorney for students.

Increasing minority representation on campus has also been a major effort of Olscamp's administration. A newly-created Office of Minority Affairs provides services to assist minority students and a director of minority student recruitment was added to the admissions staff to bolster efforts to attract more minorities to campus.

The Bowling Green president has made it a point to work closely with state government officials and legislators. He has testified about the needs of higher education before several legislative committees and has been a leading spokesperson for improved operating and capital budgets for higher education in the state.

Olscamp has continually emphasized the internationality of education and has made two trips abroad to further educational opportunities for University faculty and students. In 1983 he visited Bowling Green's study abroad programs in Spain, France and Austria.

In 1984 he traveled to China to strengthen existing exchange programs with universities in that country and to explore further opportunities for faculty and students to study in the People's Republic of China.

Olscamp brought further recognition to Bowling Green when, in 1987, President Ronald Reagan nominated him for a position on the board of the National Endowment for the Humanities, the federal agency designed to promote cultural programs and events in the United States. Other highlights of Olscamp's first five years at Bowling Green include:

- appointment of an Ohio Eminent Scholar in Photochemical Sciences, the result of a $500,000 grant from the Ohio Board of Regents. The Eminent Scholar Program is designed to attract world class scholars to Ohio's campuses.
- membership for Bowling Green in the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, the oldest university association in the country, comprising the nation's 143 best universities.
- creation of a Photochemical Sciences Center, which is rapidly becoming the country's top center for the study of photochemistry, a multibillion dollar growth industry.
- a record level of alumni support through 12 Ohio chapters and 20 in other states and an increase in alumni chapter scholarships from 2 in 1982 to 24 in 1987.
- creation of Bowling Green's first endowed professorships, one in management and the other in finance.
- the University's first $1 million gifts. The first, from Harold and Helen McMaster of Perrysburg, resulted in the McMaster Leadership Institute, which is expected to have a significant impact upon the ways that science-based industries maintain their position in business. The second was a challenge grant from the Stranahan Foundation of Toledo to the University's Social Philosophy and Policy Center.
- development of a Photochemical Sciences Center, which is rapidly becoming the country's top center for the study of photochemistry, a multibillion dollar growth industry.

Olscamp, a native of Akron, received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Western Ontario in 1958 and 1960, respectively. In 1962 he earned his doctoral degree in philosophy at the University of Rochester.

Later that year he accepted a position as an instructor of philosophy at Ohio State University. In 1965 he was promoted to assistant professor and in 1966 was awarded the rank of associate professor. He became executive assistant to the chancellor of Syracuse University in 1972 and later, vice chancellor for student programs.

At age 37, he was named president of Western Washington University in 1975 and guided that university for seven years before his appointment at Bowling Green.

He is married to the former Ruth Irene Pratt, a native of Akron.

A WEEK AT CAMP IS A GREAT BOWLING GREEN CHRISTMAS GIFT —
For Information Call 372-2401!
When, in the year 2000, historians look back upon 65 years of intercollegiate athletics at Bowling Green State University, they'll probably stop and take a second look at the 1980s. Bowling Green sports teams of the '80s have achieved a level of success matched by very few of their contemporaries.

In all, Bowling Green teams have won 70 conference titles in the last seven years. In the Mid-American Conference and four in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association. Thirteen teams have gone on to post-season play in the NCAA, NIT and in the California Bowl.

Bowling Green student-athletes distinguished themselves in numerous ways in the 1986-87 Conference. of the '80s have achieved a level of success that dates back to the years of World War I. Frederick Beyerman, considered at the time to be the founding father of Bowling Green athletics, was athletic director and coach when BG Normal College baseball and basketball teams were formed in 1915 and 1918, respectively.

The 1920s and 1930s brought victories and championships in the Northwest Ohio Athletic Association and later the Ohio Conference. Coaches Albert Whitaker (football) and Harold Anderson (basketball) made their contributions to the winning tradition beginning in the '40s, with Doyt Perry (football) and Sam Cooper (swimming) adding to the legend in the 1950s. Anderson's basketball team and Perry's football teams were widely known in the 1950s, with Falcon hockey just getting started as a club sport.

The 1970s saw Mel Brodt coach a golf-capped runner named Dave Wottes to a Gold Medal at the Munich Olympics, while Mickey Cochrane was busy leading his soccer teams to the NCAA Tournament. Women's athletic teams came on board in 1976-77, bringing the men and women together under one athletic administration for the first time. As the 1980s have shown, it's developed into a lasting union, and one that has given Falcon fans plenty of thrills.

Bowling Green student-athletes have played on some of the most challenging courses in the country. The BG men travel to Georgia and the Carolinas. Upon their return, the Falcons are well-prepared for tournament action in this region. BG has won four MAC Championships and made four NCAA Tournament appearances in the last 17 years. The Falcon women are one of this region's top teams. Last fall, BG won the Penn State Invitational.

Gymnastics - Year in and year out, Coach Charles Simpson fields a MAC title contender. With three MAC titles to his credit since 1980, Simpson, the MAC Coach of the Year in 1983, has coached the Falcons to more conference championships than any other member school. Last winter's team took second in the MAC and qualified for the NCAA Northeast Regional for the fourth consecutive time and for the fifth time in the last six years.

Hockey - Bowling Green's finest hour in athletics occurred in 1984 at Lake Placid, NY, where Coach Jerry York's Falcons won the University's first Division I national championship. Falcon fans have helped celebrate four CCHA regular season championships in the last six years, the most recent being the 1987 title. In all, the Falcons have won seven conference titles and have appeared in six NCAA Tournaments. Bowling Green has produced some of college hockey's greatest names in the '80s. Eight former Falcons currently hold positions on NHL rosters.

Soccer - Despite working with fewer than half of the athletic grants available to some of their nationally-ranked Division I opponents, Coach Gary Palmisano's Falcons have posted a winning record in all but one of the last seven seasons. They set a school record with 16 wins in 1983. Last fall, the Falcons won three in-season tournaments, including their own BGSU Soccer Cup. The 1985 season also included victories over the likes of Wisconsin, Notre Dame, North Carolina and Michigan State.

Softball - The first six years of intercollegiate softball at Bowling Green produced 70 victories. Since then, Coach Gail Davenport has guided the Falcons to a 1987 MAC title. She has coached the BG women to four CC titles in seven years. Now, she's out to work his magic on the men. The Bowling Green running programs have always been strong thanks to good coaching from Mel Brodt and Sid Sink.

Basketball - Bowling Green women's basketball. The volleyball team set a school record in numerous ways in 1986-87. Conference championships have been won more than 80 percent of its home games in the noisy BGSU Ice Arena. Cooper Pool is often the site of MAC Championship swimming and diving events, while Whitaker Track has been the site of numerous track and field meets. Stoller Field has 25,000 seats for baseball, and the forested Creason Golf Course is a championship facility located right on campus.

Baseball - Coach Ed Patzer's Falcons are constant contenders for the Mid-American Conference Championship. Playing at Stoller Field, one of the finest college baseball parks in the region, the Falcons are a MAC leader in producing future professional baseball players. Roger McDowell helped pitch the New York Mets to the World Series Championship in 1986, while Orel Hershiser has enjoyed a fine career with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Men's Basketball - Coach Jim Larranaga's Falcons made the nation's biggest jump last season under a first-year head coach on the Division I level. Picked to finish ninth in the pre-season, Larranaga instilled a disciplined approach to the game and coached the Falcons to a third-place finish in the MAC. It had Falcon fans flocking back to Anderson Arena, "The House That Roars." The Falcons have a history of success. BG leads the MAC in post-season appearances and victories.

Women's Basketball - In just three seasons at BGSU, Coach Fran Voll has led the Falcons to the MAC Championship. BG posted a perfect 16-0 MAC record and a school-record 27-3 overall mark in 1986-87. The Falcons won the MAC post-season tournament title and gained an automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament. Voll coaches some of the best players in the country. John C. (Jack) Gregory is in his sixth year as the director of athletics at Bowling Green State University. He was appointed to the position on July 15, 1982.

In Gregory's first five years at Bowling Green, the Falcons have enjoyed some of their finest moments in history, winning the 1984 national championship in ice hockey and claiming Mid-American Conference championships in numerous other sports, including two football championships, along with two trips to the California Bowl. In the last four years, Falcon teams have claimed league titles in ice hockey, football, men's basketball, men's golf, women's cross country and women's gymnastics. The women's basketball team is Bowling Green's latest MAC Champion, posting a perfect 16-0 conference record in 1986-87, winning the post-season MAC Tournament and participating in the NCAA Tournament.

Bowling Green achieved another notable accomplishment last year, finishing for the fourth time in the last five years third place or higher in the Jacoby Trophy standings. The Jacoby Trophy is awarded each year to the MAC school with the best overall record in women's sports.

Gregory came to Bowling Green during one of the most difficult periods in the school's 71 years of intercollegiate athletics, a time when BGSU and the Mid-American Conference were fighting for NCAA Division I-A status in college football. Behind his leadership, Gregory directed Bowling Green athletics through this period, making the Falcons one of the front-runners in achieving that goal.

During his tenure here, BGSU has proven to be a marketing and promotions leader in the MAC, as evidenced by record crowds in football and hockey. In 1983, 33,527 fans packed Doyt L. Perry Field under threatening skies to witness the annual college football classic between Bowling Green and Toledo. The school and MAC single game attendance marks fell that afternoon. The Falcon football team went on to set a season attendance record of 100,021, only to break that mark two years later, 1985, by drawing 112,110 for five home games.

Sell-out crowds for BG's hockey games have become the norm as well, making game tickets the hottest items in town during the winter. Gregory's leadership in the area of television has helped BGSU sports become a popular item in northwest Ohio. BG football, basketball and hockey teams all attracted live television coverage last year.

Gregory, 58, has also been instrumental in the record-breaking development of the Falcon Club, the University's official athletic department booster club. Recent membership drives have encompassed the Toledo, Cleveland and Lima areas, resulting in unparalleled growth in cash and pledges. The Falcon Club has more than doubled its income and grown to such an extent that it compares favorably with any athletic support organization in the country.

A 1952 graduate of East Stroudsburg State College in Eastern Pennsylvania and holder of a master's degree in physical education from Temple University, Gregory came to Bowling Green from Yale, where he served for four years as associate athletic director. While at Yale, he was responsible for generating income, managing the university's 33-sport program and supervising staff operations.

Gregory began his professional career in 1952 as a teacher and coach at William Penn High School in New Castle, Delaware, and later at PS. Dupont High School in Wilmington, Delaware. In 1959, he returned to East Stroudsburg as head football coach and assistant professor of physical education. One of the most successful coaches in the school's history, Gregory was inducted into the East Stroudsburg Athletic Hall of Fame in October, 1983.

After six years at East Stroudsburg, Gregory was named assistant football coach at the U.S. Naval Academy, and in 1967, he was named head football coach at Villanova University. In 1969, he moved to the University of Rhode Island, where he served as head football coach for seven years.

In his 25 years on the high school level and at East Stroudsburg, Villanova and Rhode Island, Gregory's teams compiled a record of 132-69, including four undefeated seasons and seven league championships. He was twice selected as NAIA Coach of the Year, twice selected as Pennsylvania Coach of the Year and was named NCAA District Coach of the Year.

He was lured away from coaching in 1976 by the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League. He served in Green Bay's player personnel department for three years before moving on to Yale.

Jack and his wife, Peg, are the parents of two sons.
Maybe it’s time you had one for your telecommunications system.

Imagine what it would look like if a football team decided to “wing it” out there on the field without a game plan. It would look pretty silly, wouldn’t it?

Well, that’s exactly what many companies do when it comes to planning and designing telecommunications systems. The results are costly.

That’s where we come in to play. You see, we can show you the most cost effective way to handle your information. No matter how unusual your needs are. In fact, we’re the telecommunications consultant to the Super Bowl and a number of NFL teams. We provide dozens of communication systems that enable the press to get their stories out, spotters to talk with their coaches, and stadium security to talk to each other.

If we can do all that, just think of what we can do for you.

Isn’t it time you had a game plan for your telecommunications system? Get in touch with us. Your GTE Account Manager will be glad to help you draw one up.

The Falcons flew to easy MAC victories over at West Texas State, 23-7, and their only that year. Tony Ruggiero passed for 393 yards and two touchdowns. Jay Cunningham was selected second team All-MAC.

The nickname took the campus and community by storm, and the fact that dark brown is both the color of the bird and one of colors of the school seemed all the more appropriate. There were other reasons behind Lake's suggestion. First, Falconing is a sport that dates back to 2000 B.C., and Lake felt it would make for a proper nickname for a sports team. Second, the Falcon is courageous, known to be the best fighter for its size of any bird. It is powerful, skillful, enduring and determined. It was born a fighter. It's now been 60 years since Doc Lake made his mark on Bowling Green history. If he were alive today, Lake, no doubt, would be proud to see that the Bowling Green Falcons have not only stood the test of time, they have been true fighters, powerful, skillful, enduring and determined.

Falcons flew to easy MAC victories over at West Texas State, 23-7, and their only that year. Tony Ruggiero passed for 393 yards and two touchdowns. Jay Cunningham was selected second team All-MAC.

The Falcons' only setback in 1962 came at Miami. Marshall (48-6), Toledo (28-13) and Kent State (45-6). BG edged Ohio University, 7-6, at University Stadium to clinch the MAC Championship.

Bowling Green placed five players on the 1962 All-MAC team, including big Bob Reynolds, a 6-6, 250-pound linemen. Also named All-MAC were Gary Sherman, Ed Bettridge, Don Lisbon and Asa Elsea. Jay Cunningham was selected second team All-MAC.

Assisting Doyt Perry that year was a fine list of assistants, all of whom went on to distinguish themselves as outstanding college coaches and/or administrators: Robert Dudley, Robert Gibson, William Mallory, James Ruehl and Richard Young.

For Perry, the 1962 MAC Championship was the fourth of five league titles his teams won during his 10 years as head coach at Bowling Green.

A reserve quarterback on the '62 Falcon football team was a 6-8, 160-pound Kettering native by the name of Howard Ancisky. Today, he's known as Moe Ancisky, second year head coach of the Falcons.

When the graduating class of 1979 planned its Senior Challenge fund-raising campaign, class leaders wanted to make a bold statement to interstate 75 travelers that they are passing by Bowling Green State University.

Today, eight years later, their statement has been made in big, bold orange and brown letters on the east side of Doyt L. Perry Field.

Last summer, $7,500 from the Senior Challenge program was used to help pay for the 6' x 8' "B G S U" letters and 10' x 10' Falcon emblem now positioned on the east side of the President's Box.

Larry Weiss, associate vice president for university relations and director of alumni affairs, explains, "The Class of '79 wanted to help promote the University to the people driving by on I-75. We were very happy to work with the Athletic Department on the project. Hopefully, it will be of some benefit to the entire University, as well as the Athletic Department."

Attention all former Freddie and Frieda Falcons! Make plans now to attend a 1988 reunion of past and present BGSU mascots here in Bowling Green. The reunion is currently in the planning stages, and any former mascots who wish to help plan the event are asked to contact Brad Browning, director of athletic marketing and promotions, at (419) 372-7093.

The 1986-87 women's basketball season at Bowling Green State University won't soon be forgotten. Not after Coach Fran Voll led the Falcons to their best record (27-3) in history and the Mid-American Conference Championship.

Bowling Green enjoyed a magical and marvelous season in 1986-87, stringing 16 wins to a row heading into their first appearance in the NCAA Tournament. Including in the win streak was a 63-62 come-from-behind win over Central Michigan in the MAC Tournament Championship Game.

Thanks to the Varsity BG Club, two white and orange banners now hang on the north wall of Anderson Arena to act as a vivid reminder of the 1986-87 season. The Varsity BG Club purchased the banners in keeping with the tradition started two years ago when the Varsity BG Club helped raise money to purchase the large orange and white banners which hang in Anderson Arena and tell of the many men's basketball championships.

1987 Falcon Marching Band

The 1987 Falcon football season draws to a close, and in just a few short hours, the sights and sounds of Doyt L. Perry Field will once again be but a memory.

The Falcon Marching Band closes this season with a potpourri of selections guaranteed to take the “chill” out of the late autumn air. We begin today’s show with a fiery, Spanish opener entitled “Aranjuez.” Listen carefully as we feature many of our sections during this tune.

Following “Aranjuez,” the Falcon Marching Band has its own rendition of the jazz classic “It Don’t Mean A Thing If It Ain’t Got That Swing.”

For added contrast, we have a beautiful ballad with a dynamic ending for your pleasure. The song is entitled “Maybe” and it came from the smash Broadway musical “Annie.”

Most importantly today, we would like to recognize the Falcon Marching Band and its members for their dedication and loyalty. We wish to, not only recognize them publicly, but also say a heartfelt “Thank You!” to each and every band member for a memorable 1987 performance season.

DATE TO REMEMBER: Join the Falcon Marching Band for its annual concert at Anderson Arena, Sunday, November 22, at 3 p.m.

ATHLETIC PROMOTIONS

by Brad Browning
Director, Marketing & Promotions

Hello FALCON FANS, and welcome to Bowling Green’s fifth and final home football game for the 1987 season. We hope that you have enjoyed our football season and are looking forward to following our winter and spring sports teams in action.

To our SENIORS, best of luck in your final home game and in your future endeavors. Thanks for the memories! Come back and see us and forever follow the Falcons.

I want to thank the Toledo Blade for its cooperation in sponsoring the third annual Blade Day.

As football comes to a halt, Falcon hockey continues on. Our men’s and women’s basketball teams are preparing for their regular season openers. The women’s season opener will be on Saturday, November 28, at Anderson Arena against Northwestern. Tip-off is at 1:30 p.m. The men will also open their season at home, and will host Findlay College on Monday, November 30, with game time at 8:00 p.m. Be there!

We are very excited about the upcoming basketball season. Head Women’s Coach Fran Voll, back for his fourth season, will attempt to guide his squad to a second consecutive MAC Title. With an overall record of 27-3 last year and the return of nine letterwinners this year, there is plenty of optimism and excitement for the 1987-88 season. Although Jim Larranaga’s squad had a slow start last season, a strong finish enabled them to claim 3rd place in the MAC. The return of eight lettermen and the arrival of a large and talented freshman class should make for an exciting season for Coach Larranaga’s men. With some magic, even just a little, the Falcons could be contending for the MAC Title.

Assure yourself of a good seat and a fun time this winter in “The House That Roars!” Order your season basketball tickets now by calling or stopping by the Memorial Hall Ticket Office (372-2762).

Keep in mind, also, Falcon Fans, that the Falcon swim teams’ seasons have begun. Both the men and women will be in action this afternoon at Cooper Pool, as they will host Wright State. The meet begins at 4:00 p.m. Admission is free.

In conclusion, and on the behalf of the BGSU Athletic Department, I would like to thank you for your attendance and support of Falcon Athletics.

among the MAC ERA leaders. Even more encouraging is the fact that all three return for the 1988 season.

SWIMMING - Success in swimming became synonymous with Bowling Green thanks to former coaches Sam Cooper and Tom Stubbs. Today's coaches are laying the foundation for a successful future. The Falcon women have made winning a habit. It began with the first MAC Championship in women's swimming in 1981. Ever since, BG has been the MAC runner-up. The men's team is working hard to make up ground on perennial MAC champion Eastern Michigan. They've finished in the top five at the MAC meet the last three years.

TENNIS - Robert Keefe Courts have been the site of many top Mid-American Conference tennis matches in the 1980s. And the Falcon tennis teams have benefited from the fine facility. Men's Coach Bob Gill, now in his 20th year at BG, has recruited some top young players for the Brown and Orange. The women's tennis program hopes to improve under a new head coach in 1987-88.

TRACK & FIELD - Bowling Green was represented at the 1987 NCAA Men's Track and Field Championship, thanks to distance runner Dave Mora. BG began the 1980s with at least one representative in the NCAA Championship for two consecutive years. Distance runner Sara Collas was Bowling Green's first NCAA qualifier for the women in 1986. The Falcons won the first MAC Championship for women's track in 1981. Sid Sink, coordinator of BG's track and cross country programs, and Tom Wright are both in charge of the men's team. Lee Labadie directs the Falcon women.

VOLLEYBALL - Coach Denise Van De Wall of Falcon volleyball is climbing toward the top of the conference standings. Last fall, Bowling Green was the most improved team in the MAC. Van De Wall, the MAC Coach of the Year, guided her squad to a third-place finish in the conference, a sparkling 26-8 overall record and the championship at the University of Louisville Tournament. Outside hitter Jolynn Williams was named first team All-MAC and setter Linda Popovich was the MAC Freshman of the Year.

Bowling Green holds the MAC record for single-game attendance (33,527).

Doyt L. Perry Field, with its 30,000-plus seating capacity, is celebrating its 21st year as the home of Bowling Green State University football.

Built in 1966 for approximately $3 million as a replacement for the 43-year-old University Stadium, Perry Field had a capacity of 23,272 until bleacher seats were installed in both end zones in 1982.

One of the largest and most attractive athletic facilities in the Mid-American Conference, Perry Field holds the conference records for single-game attendance.

On October 8, 1983, a huge crowd of 33,527 packed into Perry Field for the annual BG-Toledo game, establishing a school and MAC record for single-game attendance. The Falcons went on to set a season record, breaking the six-digit figure for five games with a total draw of 100,021. It marked the first time in history that Bowling Green averaged more than 20,000 fans for five home football games.

That figure was topped in 1985, when Bowling Green posted a perfect record (11-0) in the regular season and clinched the MAC Championship by shutting out arch-rival Toledo at Perry Field in November. More than 28,000 fans turned out that day, raising Bowling Green's season attendance to an all-time high 112,000, an average of 22,400.

Perry Field is more than just a football facility. The east side of the stadium includes dressing rooms, equipment and training rooms, along with the Athletic Department offices. The west side is in the process of receiving a face-lift. This fall, a new physical fitness center/weight room is scheduled to open its doors for all 19 intercollegiate athletic teams to use.

Sitting atop the press box on the west side of the stadium is the plush Stadium Club. Now in its eighth year of operation, the Stadium Club's 106 theatre-type seats, which are all sold, provide loyal BGSU fans with one of the finest places to view a game in all of the midwest. The President's Box, located on top of the east side of the stadium, provides luxury seating for President Paul J. Olscamp and other supporters of Falcon football.

Bowling Green won the first game ever played in Perry Field, defeating Dayton, 13-0, on October 1, 1966. Since that time, the Falcons have won more than 65 percent of their home games, compiling a 67-35-2 record in the 104 games played at Perry Field.

Bowling Green posted a 4-1 record at Perry Field last season. Over the last five seasons, Bowling Green is 23-2 in the friendly confines of Perry Field.

A multi-purpose facility, Perry Field has also hosted concerts, NFL exhibition games, and major soccer tournaments. Perry Field is named in honor of the man who led Bowling Green to a 77-11-5 record in his 10 years as the head coach of the BGSU students are among the most vocal fans in the MAC.
Doyt Perry was possibly one of the greatest football coaches of his day. His .855 winning percentage over 10 seasons in the 1950s and 1960s remains one of the highest in football history. In fact, according to James Van Valkenburg, director of statistics for the NCAA, only two on the Division I-A list are above that figure: Knute Rockne at .881 (Notre Dame) and Frank Leahy at .864, (Boston College and Notre Dame).

Perry, 77, is as popular as ever in Bowling Green. An avid golfer, he spends his winters with wife Loretta in Florida. Each summer, he entertains his friends and former players at a golf outing. Former players and coaches return for the "Falcon's Nest of Coaches" meeting.

Known for his well-organized practices and attention-to-detail meetings, Perry never stopped thinking of ways to succeed. He was a winner in football and as a high school basketball coach. His basketball teams were 161-35 over nine seasons and his high school track teams won 70 county titles in nine years.

"First, I always tried to get the best assistant coaches possible," Perry would say. "Then we sought to eliminate mistakes as far as possible."

After stepping down as Bowling Green's head football coach in 1964, Doyt Perry remained as the BGSU Athletic Director for almost seven years.
They Put BGSU In The Driver’s Seat

The Bowling Green State University Athletic Department recognizes and appreciates the efforts of the car dealers from Bowling Green, Continental, Findlay, Fremont, and Maumee pictured on this page. The generosity of these people and their support of Falcon athletics enables BGSU coaches to be on the road to recruit student-athletes, scout opponents, and represent the University.

Blueprint

The new tradition in traditional health care.

Someone had to draw the line against the rising costs of traditional health care. So Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Ohio did...with an innovative group health plan called Blueprint™.

The Blueprint plan, in cooperation with area hospitals, provides strict cost controls for the medical services you receive. Yet it doesn’t restrict your freedom to see the doctors of your choice.

Gymnastics
Over the last seven years, the Bowling Green Falcon women's gymnastics program has won three Mid-American Conference championships, finished runner-up three times and participated in the NCAA regionals five times.

It is an impressive record, one that Coach Charles Simpson hopes his 1987-88 squad will be able to build on this winter.

Simpson will have a relatively young but talented squad to work with this season as BGSU looks to improve upon the 8-4 overall record and second-place finish in the MAC a year ago.

Leading the way for the Falcons this year will be a solid contingent of veterans led by senior captain Kim Trost, sophomore Lisa Hillman and junior Suzanne Bell. Trost finished fourth in the all-around competition in the conference championships last season, while Bell and Hillman were All-MAC performers. Big seasons by this trio could be a key factor in BGSU's drive for a conference crown. They hope to pick up some of the slack left by the loss of Vicki Farrar, who is being red-shirted this year due to an injury.

Simpson also hopes to receive solid performances from seniors Lisa Shulman and Maria Dechiara, both of whom were injured a year ago, but who are ready to contribute this season.

A large and talented freshman class will make its impact felt on this year's team as a total of seven first-year performers comprise the 14-member roster. Three natives of Ohio—Meg Griffin from Rocky River, Kim Crawford from Troy and Nikki Condon from Inglewood—all have bright futures and should fit right into the lineup this season.

"While our shortcomings this year may be our lack of experience, we should have a better team than last year," says Simpson. "We will have better depth and that will come in handy because of a tough schedule."

The Falcons will open the dual meet portion of their schedule against Kent State on January 17 before hosting their first of four home meets on Jan. 23 against Ball State. BGSU will have formidable road tests with contests at Ohio State, Michigan and Pittsburgh.

The 1988 MAC championships are slated to take place on March 26 at Kent State University.

Swimming
A new era in men's and women's intercollegiate swimming is upon Bowling Green State University, as Brian Gordon assumes head coaching responsibilities in 1987-88.

Gordon comes to BGSU from the University of Alabama, where he served as an assistant coach since 1981. While at Alabama, Gordon coached under U.S. Olympic Team Coach Don Gambril and was responsible for on-deck coaching and recruiting, among other things. He helped the Crimson Tide claim three Southeastern Conference Championships and win 88 percent of their men's and women's dual meets. Alabama also was a regular Top 10 finisher at the NCAA Championships.

Gordon will be heading a Bowling Green swimming program that has established itself as one of the Mid-American Conference's best.

"There's the potential for success exists here because of the school, the faculty and the team," says Gordon. "There is a strong swimming tradition at Bowling Green, and I look forward to the challenge of continuing that tradition."

The Falcon women have been the MAC's second-best team since 1982, after winning the first conference championship for women in 1981. The 1987-88 women's squad will be led by senior diver Mary Pfeiffer and junior swimmer Andrea Szekely. Both were NCAA qualifiers in 1986 and both have won numerous MAC titles the last two seasons.

The Falcon men are out to crack the upper division of the MAC this winter. They have had an encouraging start to the 1987-88 season, posting a third-place finish at the BGSU/Tom Stubbs Relays and then swimming well in a dual meet loss to perennial MAC Champion Eastern Michigan.

Swimmers Tim Wagner and Tom Solomon both set school records last season and will be looked upon as team leaders this year.

The Falcon men and women host Wright State in a dual meet later today at Cooper Pool, and then host the BGSU Invitational, Dec. 4-5. Other home dates are listed below.

Bowling Green's women will host the MAC Championships, Feb. 25-27, at Cooper Pool. The BG men will travel to Ohio University for the MAC Championships, March 3-5.

Rod King

DB 5-11 193 Youngstown (South)

Rod closes out his football career at Bowling Green this weekend as a back-up cornerback on the Falcon defense. One of the most improved players in workouts last spring, King earned a spot as a Falcon regular through hard work. He’s seen action in several games this season, including the Arizona game, in which he made two solo stops and assisted on another. For the season, he has made nine tackles. Last season, Rod lettered as a back-up to Mike Holmes at cornerback. He was a two-year letterman at Youngstown South High School and earned all-city honors as a defensive back. An interpersonal communications major, Rod is the son of Elbert and Marilyn King.

Eric Lundgren

DL 6-4 254 Bloomington, MN (Jefferson)

Eric has seen quite a bit of action this season as a back-up to Jack Coppess at defensive guard. Through Bowling Green’s first 10 games, he has been in on 17 tackles, including three for losses of nine yards. Eric made four solo stops in the 30-20 win over Kent, one week after making four tackles against Miami. He lettered for the first time as a Falcon last season, contributing as a starter in three games. Eric transferred to BGSU from Normandale Community College, after helping Normandale win the Minnesota Junior College Championship. He earned All-America honors at NCC, as well. A business major, Eric is the son of Roger and Delores Lundgren.

Greg Studrawa
