Falcons Host Defending MAC Champion Eastern Michigan

After 10 weeks of battle, the end is at hand. The Bowling Green Falcons take a 2-7-1 overall record into today’s 1988 season finale, a special 12:30 p.m. game with the Eastern Michigan Hurons at Doyt L. Perry Field.

The early starting time is due to television, as the Mid-American Conference TV Game of the Week returns to Perry Field for the second time this season. (BG lost to Ball State 34-10 in a September 10 TV game). Master Video Productions will produce the broadcast. It will be available in 40 million homes throughout the Midwest and in other parts of the country.

The BG-EMU game pits the Falcons (1-5-1 in the MAC) against the defending MAC Champion Hurons (5-3-1 overall, 4-2-1 in the MAC). A win could lift the Falcons into seventh place in the MAC, should Miami beat Kent on Saturday. Meanwhile, EMU can finish as high as second in the MAC, depending on how well Central Michigan and Ball State finish.

Last week, BG dropped a 31-19 decision in a driving rain at Kent State. Eastern Michigan rallied from 12 points down with seven minutes left to defeat Toledo, 20-19, before the Master Video Productions’ cameras.

Barring injuries, thirteen seniors will suit up for their final game at Bowling Green today.

The Falcon upperclassmen are:

TV WORTH WATCHING!
Now in his third year as head football coach at Bowling Green State University, Howard M. (Moe) Ankney believes in Falcon football, its past, present and future. “Bowling Green football is strong, and Bowling Green football is respected across the country,” Ankney says. “When our players put on the Bowling Green uniform, they are eager to go out and uphold that winning tradition.”

Hanging on his Doyt L. Perry Field office wall is a framed list of five objectives. Meet these goals, Ankney tells his players, and Bowling Green will maintain its reputation as the winningest Mid-American Conference football program of the 1980s.

—BOWLING GREEN FOOTBALL GOALS—
1. Each player earn a college degree.
2. Continue the winning tradition
3. Beat Toledo
4. Win the California Bowl
5. Each player become the best that he can be as a student, as an athlete and as a person.

Appointed as the University’s 13th head football coach on December 30, 1985, Ankney has coached the Falcons to two successive second-place finishes in the Mid-American Conference. His teams have compiled a 10-6 record in conference play in the last two seasons. Each year, the Falcons have finished just one game shy of first place and a trip to the California Bowl.

Ankney has a 10-12 record overall at BGSU, a record that reflects the challenging non-conference schedule Bowling Green has played the last two seasons. In 1986, the Falcons visited Minnesota and Washington; In 1987, BGSU visited Penn State and Arizona. The 1988 season promises to be equally difficult for Ankney and his staff.

Besides eight games in the competitive MAC, the Falcons visit West Virginia, a 1987 Sun Bowl participant, and Texas Christian, out of the Southwest Conference. BG will host Youngstown State.

Ankney, a 1964 BGSU graduate, returned to his alma mater after serving six seasons as the assistant head coach, defensive coordinator and secondary coach at the University of Arizona of the Pacific - 10 Conference. In leaving Arizona, he left a long-time coaching associate and friend, Arizona Head Coach Larry Smith. Like Ankney, Smith is a Bowling Green graduate, and the two coached together for 10 seasons.

Prior to joining the Arizona staff in 1980, Ankney was Smith’s defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Tulane for four seasons between 1976-79. And before that, he was the secondary coach at Ball State from 1971-75 under the late Dave McClain. In all, he has spent 16 seasons coaching football at the collegiate level.

At each stop, Ankney was instrumental in helping to rebuild struggling programs. While at Ball State, the Cardinals improved their record from 4-5-1 in 1971 to 9-2 in 1975. At Tulane, Ankney helped the Green Wave from a 2-9 record in 1976 to a 9-2 mark and a berth in the Liberty Bowl in 1979. The Arizona Wildcats were 5-6 in 1980 and improved their record to 8-3-1 in 1985, including a 13-13 tie with Georgia in the Sun Bowl. His Arizona defensive units finished among the nation’s statistical leaders from 1982-85.

Among his former players now in the National Football League are Denver Broncos’ linebacker Ricky Hunley and Cleveland Browns’ defensive back Al Gross. More than 20 of his former players have gone on to careers in professional football.

Ankney entered the coaching profession at the high school level. He was an assistant football and wrestling coach at Eaton High School for the 1964-65 seasons and then became head coach at Dayton Northridge in 1966. He moved on to Dayton Wayne High School as head coach in football and tennis in 1967 and stayed until 1971 when he joined the Ball State staff. His five-year head coaching record in the high school ranks stands at 24-21-5. While coaching in the Dayton area, Ankney earned his master’s degree from Miami University in 1969.

Ankney, 46, a native Ohioan, grew up in Xenia before moving to Kettering as a high school senior. A 1960 Fairmont High School graduate, he was an all-state quarterback and a participant in the Ohio All-Star game.

While a student at BGSU, Ankney played on two MAC Championship teams as a reserve quarterback and lettered twice under legendary Coach Doyl Perry. The Falcons went 23-5-1 from 1961-63.

While an undergraduate, Ankney earned election to Omicron Delta Kappa, a leadership honorary, Phi Alpha Theta, a history honorary, and Kappa Delta Pi, an education honorary.

Reared in a football family, his uncle Pete was his head coach at Fairmont High School. Pete Ankney was also a head coach at Canton McKinley High School and at the University of Dayton. Moe’s father, Ben, coached at Miami University and at Xenia High School.

Moe and his wife, Carlalee, are the parents of three children: Angela, 25, Andy, 23 and Molly, 20. Howard Milton Ankney was born June 23, 1942.

Rural Schools Often Turn Out Good Citizens

by MARILYN BRAATZ
College of Education and Allied Professions

When it comes to preparing good citizens, nobody does it better than small, rural schools.

That is the finding of three University researchers who recently completed a two-year study to determine why rural schools seem to foster characteristics that mark a good citizen.

“Our country’s form of government is dependent on a citizenry with a sense of civic responsibility and a commitment to work for the common good,” Dr. Joanne Martin-Reynolds, the leader of the research group, says. “Our study demonstrates that those characteristics are successfully developed and nurtured in rural school settings.”

The project was partially funded by a $100,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Education.

Three northwest Ohio school districts, each with a total student population of about 1,000, were selected for the study. They surveyed students, teachers, administrators and community residents, and examined school policies, curriculum, home-school communication and community values.

Statistical data in such areas as school attendance, graduation rate and participation in extracurricular activities, was compared to results of a 1980 national study, which surveyed 58,000 high school sophomores and seniors from rural, urban and suburban school districts.

“The 700 rural high school students involved in our study exhibited extremely high rates of school attendance (95-98 percent per day) and a 95 percent graduation rate,” Martin-Reynolds says.

She also notes that 35 percent of the students in the three rural school districts missed no days of school, compared to 30 percent of the students in the national sample, while 63 percent of the rural students said they had not been late to school all year, compared to 40 percent in the national sample.

The study also showed that a larger percentage of rural students are enrolled in college preparatory courses — 59 percent of the students in the three rural school studied, as compared to 35 percent in the national sample.

Rural students also spend more time on their homework, and cut class less often. The Bowling Green study showed that only 14 percent of students in rural schools reported cutting classes, as compared to 34 percent in the 1980 national sample.

“These figures are in dramatic contrast to the ‘culture of cutting’ recently reported for large urban districts such as New York and Los Angeles,” Martin-Reynolds says. “The latest Carnegie Foundation report on the plight of urban schools noted that nearly 40 percent of students in these cities are cutting classes.”

The Bowling Green study also indicated that, outside of the regular school day, rural students work fewer hours for pay, and are more likely to participate in extracurricular activities like athletics and band.

According to Martin-Reynolds, student participation in extracurricular activities appears to be one way in which schools influence students' personal-social characteristics such as self-esteem, academic achievement, a sense of satisfaction and responsibility.

“Rural schools and their communities may make their greatest contribution to student character development because of their small size,” she says. “The visibility of the individual student is accentuated in a small school. Participation by a high percentage of students is vital to the success of nearly all school activities, therefore it is strongly encouraged by the parents, as well as the school.”

Among rural students, parental influence was rated second only to self-motivation as the reason for student selection and participation in extracurricular activities. The Bowling Green study indicated that 82 percent of the parents in the three rural school districts believe that participation in extracurricular activities is a valuable part of a young person's education.

The study also revealed that 69 percent said they monitored their child's homework, 81 percent gave tangible or intangible rewards for good grades, and 88 percent established curfew hours for their children.

She concludes that “rural schools and their students are an educational success story.” How can this success story be translated to urban schools. That's a question for Martin-Reynolds and her research colleagues, Dr. Bill Reynolds and Dr. Robert Yonker, all faculty members in College of Education and Allied Professions, hope to answer in a future study.

(Third In A Series)

MICHAEL JACKSON
FS  6-4  205  Detroit, MI

Michael Jackson is an exceptional athlete who is regarded as a hard hitter in the defensive secondary. As a back-up to Kyle Kramer at free safety, Michael has still contributed defensively by being in on 30 tackles, 17 of them solos, in BG's first 10 games. Michael was an all-city quarterback at Murray Wright High School, where he threw for more than 1,000 yards under Coach Earl Moore. A two-year letterman at BGSU, he is an industrial training major. Michael is the son of John and Junetta Jackson.

DAVE KINZIE
DG  6-4  240  Mississauga, ONT

Dave Kinzie has really come into his own as both a defensive guard and tackle for the Falcons in 1988. A two-year letterman, Kinzie was BG's only returning starter on the defensive line this season. In BG's first 10 games of 1988, he has registered 65 tackles and seven tackles for losses. He has also caused two fumbles. A Peel West All-Star Team selection in 1984, Dave is one of two Canadians on this year's team. (Shawn Daniels is the other). Dave studies aerotechnology at BGSU and plans to become an airline pilot. He is the son of Peter and Glenda Kinzie.

TONY MCCORVEY
CB  5-10  170  Toledo, OH

Tony McCorvey has developed into one of the Mid-American Conference's most notable defensive backs this season thanks to his league-leading six interceptions. McCorvey had two interceptions in BG's win over Ohio University. A good man-to-man coverage player, McCorvey is a three-year letterman and has 55 tackles, including 41 solo stops, this season. He has also caused one fumble and broken up four passes. An all-city selection under Coach Dick Cromwell at Toledo St. Francis High School, Tony is an interpersonal communications major at BGSU. He is the son of Lewis and Kay McCorvey.

MIKE MCGEE
TB  6-1  230  Dayton, OH

Mike McGee is a two-year starter at tailback and a three-year letterman for the Falcons. He leads BG in rushing this season with 463 yards and six touchdowns. He has rushed for nearly 1,000 yards in his career. Among his collegiate highlights is a 93-yard scoring dash against Central Michigan in the 1987 season finale. He had run 89 yards for a score earlier last season against Ball State. An all-city tailback for Coach Tom Lurz at Dayton Belmont High School, McGee is an electronics technology major at BGSU. He is the son of Edward and Wilma McGee.

KEN RANKIN
SE  6-0  160  Columbus, OH

Ken Rankin is an inspirational leader on the Falcon football team. A three-year letterman, he sat out all last year with a knee injury. That he is even playing football again is a testament to Ken's desire to succeed. Before the injury, Ken was one of the MAC's top punt returners. He was an all-state pass receiver under Coach Andy Powell at Beechcroft High School. At BGSU, Ken is an interpersonal communications major and is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Minorities in Legal Professions. Ken is the son of Robert and Joenita Lynch.

JEFF SANDRU
TE  6-4  235  Reynoldsburg, OH

Jeff Sandru is a versatile athlete who has given a solid effort on the special teams for the Falcons this season. Jeff has played numerous positions since his freshman season including long snapper, tight end, quarterback, linebacker, defensive back and punter. He took snaps in the Miami, Washington, and Toledo games in 1986. Jeff was an all-district quarterback at Martins Ferry High School, where he was coached by Dave Bruney. At BGSU, he is a sport management major and is a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. Jeff is the son of Eleanor Sandru.

ERIC SMITH
QB  6-3  210  Alma, MI

Eric is an example of a patient and persistent college athlete. BG's starting quarterback for part of the 1986 season, he was Rich Dackin's back-up before an injury to Dackin earlier this season made Smith a starter again! An ankle injury vs. Kent last week may have sidelined him for today's game, but not before Eric completed 104 of 184 passes for 1,306 yards and six touchdowns. Eric was a four-year letterman in football, basketball, baseball, and track at Alma High School. At BGSU, Eric is a marketing major and is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He is the son of Gordon and Shirley Smith.

half, widened their lead to 31-3 in the third quarter, before running out the clock for a trip to the 1987 California Bowl. EMU’s Bob Foster ran for two touchdowns, Ron Adams passed for one TD and ran for another. BG’s Rich Dackin threw all day long, trying to rally the Falcons. He finished with four catches for 53 yards (11.5 ypc) in his last four games (4.75 cpy).

— BG —

BOWLING GREEN OFFENSE: The Falcons may rely on their third quarterback of the season against Eastern Michigan. QB Eric Smith left last week’s game at Kent with an ankle injury and was replaced by STEVE SPRAY. Spray, a junior who has seen little action the last two seasons, responded by completing 14-of-26 passes for 151 yards in less than two quarters of action. He also bootlegged five yards for a score, pulling BG to within a touchdown and a two-point conversion of the Flashes, 21-13, with 3.10 left in the third quarter. Spray directed another scoring drive late in the game, setting up a one-yard TD run by TB CHARLES EDGERTON. Edgerton paced all BG rushers with 47 yards on 18 carries. FB RON VISCOUNTE added 39 yards on seven rushes and 26 yards on six receptions. Before his injury, Smith passed 12 yards to REGGIE THORNTON for BG’s first score of the day, making it 14-7 with 1:28 left in the first half. Smith left the game, having completed eight-of-14 passes for 67 yards and one TD. While Thornton finished the day with four catches for 53 yards, TE KYLE HOCKMAN continued his team-leading pace with five catches for 36 yards. That makes 19 catches for 219 yards (11.5 ypc) in his last four games (4.75 cpy).

— BG —

BOWLING GREEN DEFENSE: For the first time all season, the Falcons had a full contingent of defensive players for last week’s Kent game. And although BG yielded 338 yards rushing, the Falcons recorded a rare “shutout” in pass defense. Kent attemped 101-of-186 passes (.543). His favorite targets are wide-outs Craig Ostrander (31 catches, 623 yards) and Mark Ziegler (19 catches, 341 yards). Defensively, the Hurons are led by ILB Scott Wyka and FS Tom Menard with 79 and 60 tackles, respectively.

— BG —

FALCON FOOTNOTES: The Falcons have gone 22 quarters without losing a fumble, dating back to the Oct. 1 Western Michigan game. Kyle Kramer moved into fourth place on the BG career tackles list with 380 stops. Jeff Sandru added another position to the long list of positions he’s played at BGSU. A wrist injury sidelined long-snapper Scott Beckley early in the Kent game, so Sandru stepped in as Beckley’s replacement. Sandru, currently a reserve tight end, has also played quarterback, linebacker, defensive back and punter for BG. Terry Wilson was BG’s primary kickoff return man against Kent. He returned two kicks for a 30-yard average. Falcons listed atop the MAC statistical charts this week include CRS SHALE with his 41.5-yard punting average and Tony McCory with his six interceptions. Reggie Thornton, RON HEARD and Kyle Hockman still rank among the MAC’s 10 best receivers this week with averages of 3.8, 3.4 and 3.3 catches per game.

VARSITY BG CLUB SAYS
GO FALCONS!

ABOUT THE VARSITY BG CLUB

The Varsity BG Club is an exclusive organization open only to former Bowling Green State University varsity letterwinners, who, for a non-tax deductible contribution of $10 per year can help operate the club and support BGSU athletics at the same time. Almost 500 former Falcon letterwinners were Varsity BG Club members last year. Again this year, the Varsity BG Club is offering a lifetime membership for $100; no other dues will ever be required. Lifetime memberships for those 65 and older are only $50.

The Varsity BG Club undertakes three major projects each year, the first of which is the spring Recognition Reception honoring the College Coach of the Year, the High School Coach of the Year, and the Special Recognition Award Winner. Then in July we will enjoy another Doyt Perry Golf Outing at the BGSU Forrest Creason Golf Course. More information will be forthcoming. Each fall, the annual Varsity BG Day festivities take place in conjunction with a Bowling Green football game. It's a great day to return to campus and visit with former classmates and teammates. We're looking forward to another big year for the Varsity BG Club and Falcon athletics, and all we need from you is your participation.

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

All active members of the Varsity BG Club will receive:
- Membership in an exclusive organization open only to BGSU varsity letterwinners.
- A list of special activities and programs, such as the ones described above.
- Subscription to the quarterly newsletter.
- Personal satisfaction in contributing to BGSU athletics through your continued involvement.

FALCONS' NEST OF COACHES

Moe Ankney
Bill Mallory
Don Nehlen
Larry Smith
Denny Stolz

Their names are familiar. Together, they dot the nation as football coaches at all levels of the game—high school, college, and professional football.

They belong to the Falcons' Nest of Coaches, an organization created in 1984 to promote the proud tradition of Bowling Green Falcon football. Through the development of student and graduate-assistant programs at Bowling Green, most of these coaches got their start at this Mid-American Conference institution. They've studied and matured under the coaching philosophies of Warren Steller, Doyt Perry, Bob Gibson, Don Nehlen, Denny Stolz and Moe Ankney, to name a few. Today, they are making a name for themselves and for their respective football programs around the country. Though they may be miles apart, they share at least one thing in common. They are members of a fine football coaching fraternity at Bowling Green, the Falcons' Nest of Coaches.

DOYT PERRY
To Be Inducted Into
College Football Hall of Fame

Doyt Perry

The year 1988 will be fondly remembered by Doyt Perry, the former player, coach and administrator at Bowling Green State University.

Last January, he learned that he would be a 1988 inductee into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame. In May, he was in Toledo, OH, for his induction into the Mid-American Conference Hall of Fame.

This fall, when the Bowling Green Falcons host Miami in an October 29 football game at Doyt L. Perry Field, the man in whose honor the stadium was named will be there for a special on-campus presentation by the National Football Foundation.

Then, on December 6, Perry will be in New York for the Foundation's Hall of Fame Dinner. Perry will be officially enshrined into the College Football Hall of Fame at Kings Island, OH, in the spring of 1989. Perry's association with BGSU dates back almost 60 years when, as a student, he lettered nine times in three sports (football, basketball and baseball). The Croton, OH, native received his degree in 1932 and then began coaching on the high school level before becoming an assistant football coach at Ohio State University in 1951.

Perry returned to his alma mater as head football coach in 1955. Over the next 10 years, he led the Falcons to a 77-11-5 record for a winning percentage of .855, topped only by Knute Rockne and Frank Leahy. His teams won five MAC Championships and the national college division championship in 1959.

Perry, who retired from coaching in 1964 to become BGSU's athletic director for six years, developed such outstanding coaches as Jim Young of Army, Bill Mallory of Indiana, Don Nehlen of West Virginia, Larry Smith of Southern California, the late Dave McClain of Wisconsin and Bowling Green's own Moe Ankney.

Ironically, Perry will enter the College Football Hall of Fame with another Bowling Green graduate, the late Jack Mollenkopf '31. Mollenkopf coached the Purdue Boilermakers to a record of 84-39-3 in 23 seasons.

Bowling Green State University became a member of the Mid-American Conference in May of 1952. That was 36 years ago, and in the interim, the Falcons have won eight MAC football titles, two of those coming in 1980s (1982 and 1985).

Entering the 1988 season, the Falcons led the MAC with the best league record (51-19-1) in the 1980s. In fact, Bowling Green has finished either first or second in the MAC standings six years in a row.

The MAC consists of nine state-supported institutions in the Midwest. Located in the states of Ohio, Michigan and Indiana, the MAC schools have enrollments that range from 14,000 to 26,000.

Founded as a five-team conference in 1946, the MAC expanded to 10 schools in the early 1970s. With Northern Illinois' withdrawal in 1986, the nine current members are Ball State, Bowling Green, Central Michigan, Eastern Michigan, Kent State, Miami, Ohio, Toledo and Western Michigan.

A competitive league, balanced programs, a commitment to the NCAA Division I level, an excellent academic reputation and a tradition of athletic success are all appropriate descriptions of the MAC and the institutions which comprise it.

One of the nine Division 1-A conferences in the country along with the Big West, ACC, Big 8, Big 10, Southwest, Southeast, WAC and PAC 10, the MAC is as balanced and competitive as any other.

While playing competitive Division 1 schedules, MAC institutions have maintained their high ethical and academic standards. No MAC team has ever been put on NCAA probation for rules violations, nor has any MAC team ever been seriously investigated for rules infractions. A total of 53 MAC student-athletes have earned Academic All-American recognition in the last four years. Bowling Green has proudly contributed seven Academic All-Americans to the MAC's total in the last two years, alone.

In the 42-year history of the conference, many MAC teams and athletes have received national recognition. In football, Bowling Green was recognized as the national college division champion in 1959, and Ohio won similar honors in 1960. After the MAC joined the list of Division 1 institutions, Toledo compiled a 35-game winning streak from 1969-71, and Miami beat Florida, Georgia and South Carolina in the 1973-74-75 Tangerine Bowls. This year, the MAC enters its eighth year of an agreement that matches the MAC Champion against the champion of the Big West (formerly known as the PCAA) in the California Bowl.

The MAC currently sponsors 18 championships. In men's sports, the MAC has championships in football, cross country, basketball, swimming and diving, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and outdoor track and field. The nine MAC women's championships are volleyball, cross country, field hockey, basketball, swimming and diving, gymnastics, softball, tennis and outdoor track and field.

Re-live The Past At The BGSU Athletic Archives

by Clif Boutelle
BGSU Public Relations Director

In February 1963, the nation's top basketball team, Loyola of Chicago, paid a visit to Anderson Arena. It was no contest as the Harold Anderson-coached Falcons, led by Nate Thurmond and Howard Komives, pounded Loyola 92-75 before a screaming, jam-packed crowd that gave birth that night to the arena's nickname, "The House That Roars."

This is one of the highlights from Bowling Green's successful athletic past, and thanks to the efforts of Mickey Cochrane and Don Cunningham, this event and many others will always be more than a fading memory. Both men have a strong sense of history and have begun an athletic archives where nearly 70 years of the University's rich sports history is preserved.

In doing so, Cochrane and Cunningham have turned their lifetime interest of accumulating mementos, records and documents into an unpaid retirement assignment of developing a collection of University sports records, documents, scorebooks, schedule cards, posters, scrapbooks, game balls, equipment, uniforms and other tangible evidence of the Falcons' successful athletic heritage.

The Athletic Archives was established a year and a half ago when Cochrane was getting ready to step down after 21 years of teaching and coaching at the University. "Don and I had talked about the need for some kind of formal archives and we figured now was the time to quit talking and do it," Cochrane remembers.

Cochrane is more into artifacts, especially those associated with lacrosse and soccer, the two sports he founded and coached for many years at Bowling Green. Visitors to the archives who recall the appearance of Cochrane's former office in the stadium will notice little difference at first glance. In fact, many people might think Cochrane simply moved his office from the stadium to Memorial Hall and called it the archives.

Cochrane smiles at the suggestion and admits that it might appear to be the case, but he quickly points out that the archives encompasses all of Bowling Green's athletic history, not just lacrosse and soccer.

Both are now into collecting with a zeal, "We're especially looking for materials from those tracks and fields, on a club and intramural level. Women's competition is relatively new at the intercollegiate level, but women at Bowling Green have been playing sports since the school began," Cochrane says.

Among the most prized possessions of the archives are some clay models of athletes that belonged to the late Carolyn Shaw, director of the women's physical education program from 1923 until the mid-1970s. "The figures were made around 1940 by a student and given to Shaw," says Cochrane, adding that the archives also has a collection of Shaw's rule books for different sports.

Cochrane and Cunningham are relying on donations from former students and athletes and people connected with the University to bolster the collection. "For example, we have a banner from the early 1920s with the initials 'BGCN' — Bowling Green Normal College, the school's first name — that is in perfect condition. It was given to us by Scot Bressler who works in the athletic department ticket office," says Cochrane.

Football pants belonging to Herb Troyer, who played on Bowling Green's first grid squad in 1919, have been loaned to the archives by Troyer's daughter, Peg Dowlney of Bowling Green. Mark Miller, now an assistant football coach at Bowling Green and a star quarterback during his University undergraduate days, dropped by the archives one day with the game balls from victories over Brigham Young and Purdue.

Other gifts have included a baseball autographed by all the players on the 1959 team, the last squad coached by Warren Steller, from his widow Marian Steller; a collection donated by Doyt Perry of photos from his coaching career; a warm-up jacket used by the swimming teams of the early 1950s from Roger Metz, a swim team manager; a scrapbook highlighting the 1948-51 basketball seasons from Eli Joyce, who played on those teams; and a 1934 letterman's award certificate from Willard Schaller, who captained the 1932 football team.

Cunningham said the Sharp family, father Glenn and son Joe, have been of particular help in uniform collecting. As the athletic department's equipment managers, they have been outfitting Bowling Green sports teams for nearly 30 years. "We think we have Nate Thurmond's uniform from his playing days," said Cochrane.

Also, when record-breaking events occur, Cochrane and Cunningham are likely to be there. They retrieved the puck that Jamie Wansbrough shot for his 119th career goal, breaking the former record of 118 held by Mike Bartley. Also, the puck from hockey coach Jerry York's 100th Falcon win is displayed in the archives.

Also on Cochrane's agenda is a taped interview with Cunningham. "I'm amazed at the knowledge of this place he carries around in his head. We've got to get some record of that information," he says.

Cochrane is living history himself. He is a consultant to the Soccer Hall of Fame in Oneonta, N.Y., and has been asked to set up the intercollegiate soccer display there. Very few people are more highly regarded among soccer peers than Cochrane.

To All Falcon Fans:

You are the key to success for our Falcon teams! The BGSU Athletic Department depends on the Falcon Club to raise more than $242,000 in 1988. This money will help fund athletic grants-in-aid, assist in the recruiting of prospective student-athletes, and provide funding for athletic facilities budgets.

Members of the Falcon Club are alumni, parents, friends and fans who provide financial support, volunteer hours and advisory expertise to the BGSU athletic program and share in the many benefits the Falcon Club has to offer.

The Falcon Club has ambitious goals for 1988 and is eager to involve YOU in our activities. The need to support our program is at an all time high. Your financial contribution and BGSU’s athletic program are a winning combination.

We are very proud that Bowling Green’s athletic program, both men and women, is recognized as one of the best in the country. All of our 19 teams are highly competitive and very representative. Falcon Club membership offers you the opportunity to support these teams. Falcon Club donations have greatly aided our program, and to continue that winning tradition throughout the 1988-89 campaign will require another supreme Falcon Club effort.

I look forward to having you join the Falcon Club in 1988!

Sincerely,

Charles F. Nagle
Assistant Athletic Director/Development

I am interested in learning more about the Falcon Club and its activities.

Ham it up more often.

Dinner Bell ham is the all day meat.

Ham is about the only meat that appears regularly on breakfast, lunch and dinner menus. And ham is a favorite for picnics and snacks, too. So it’s a good idea to keep it on hand. Make it Dinner Bell ham. Less waste. Easy to slice. And you get a lot for your money, so you can afford to be generous. That’s important, because once your family gets a taste of Dinner Bell’s gentle smoked flavor, they’ll ham it up more often.

Invest in SOMEbody special.

Bowling Green State University offers a range of educational opportunities expected in a large university, yet retains the personalized small-school atmosphere of its early years.

When Bowling Green Normal School opened its doors in 1914, there were 15 faculty members and all 158 students were studying to be teachers. Today the University has nearly 720 full-time and 200 part-time faculty and 17,300 students on its main campus. Degree programs are offered through the College of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Allied Professions, Health and Human Services, Musical Arts, Technology, and the Graduate College. Within the undergraduate colleges are Schools of Art, Mass Communication, Nursing, and Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The University offers more than 170 undergraduate degree programs, 75 master's degree programs and has 14 departments granting doctoral degrees in more than 44 specialty areas.

In addition to courses on the main campus, the University's Firelands College campus, located in Huron, Ohio, offers 17 two-year associate degree programs, as well as courses which fulfill the first two years of a bachelor's degree requirement. Firelands College enrolls about 1,200 students.

Fully accredited at the highest state, regional and national levels, the University has chapters of most national academic honor societies, including Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi. Bowling Green is also a member of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges.

The University's faculty members, 82 percent of whom hold the highest degree in their fields, include Fulbright Scholars, authors and nationally known researchers. The caliber of the faculty is reflected, too, in the number of academic programs which are regionally and nationally recognized, including the chemistry department which hosts an Ohio Eminent Scholar in Photochemical Sciences. The Ohio Eminent Scholar program was created by the Ohio Board of Regents to attract world class scholars to the state's universities.

Committed to teaching, faculty are scholars as well, generating new knowledge through independent research and involvement in University units such as the Population and Society Research Center, the Center for the Study of Popular Culture, and the Social Philosophy and Policy Center. Bowling Green is also the site of the National Drosophila Species Center and the Midwest America Stock Center—the largest scientific facilities of their kind in the world—where University faculty assist in supplying some 400 species of fruit flies to scientists involved in genetics and cancer research around the globe.

The University's students come from throughout the United States and nearly 60 foreign nations. While most students are between the ages of 18-22, the number of those older than 25 is increasing. During the spring term of the 1987-88 academic year, there were more than 2,700 "non-traditional" adult students enrolled in undergraduate and graduate degree programs on a full- or part-time basis.

The focal point of the 1,250-acre campus is the nine-story Jerome Library, with its collection of more than four million items, including 1.5 million volumes plus thousands of journals, periodicals, microforms, government documents and other materials. Special sections of the library include the Center for Archival Collections which houses materials relevant to northwest Ohio history and the Sound Recording Archives with 400,000 recordings. The Institute for Great Lakes Research, located in Perrysburg, contains an extensive collection of materials on the shipping industry's past and present.

The University is continually refurbishing its more than 100 existing buildings and upgrading facilities to meet current needs. An example is the recently completed $3.65 million addition to the Business Administration Building. Currently, Williams Hall, home to the history, sociology and political science departments, is undergoing major renovation as is Overman Hall, which houses chemistry, physics and astronomy and geology programs. Also, numerous computer facilities have been installed and upgraded throughout campus.
When Dr. Paul J. Olscamp became Bowling Green State University’s eighth president in 1982, he charted a course that would move Bowling Green into the ranks of the country’s most important educational resources. The effort, he said, would be an unrelenting commitment to excellence in teaching, research and service at the University. Indeed, he adopted the slogan “An Environment for Excellence” to describe his hopes for Bowling Green.

Since then, everything the energetic Olscamp has done at Bowling Green has been aimed at fulfilling that vision. Early in his administration, Olscamp and the faculty outlined the task to be done in a 27-goal document called the Role and Mission Statement. Most of the goals centered on improving the quality of undergraduate and graduate students, the academic programs, the learning environment and the faculty and its resources.

Now, as Olscamp begins his seventh year at Bowling Green, many of the Role and Mission Statement’s original goals have been met. Last year, the

Highlighting The Olscamp Administration

A great deal has happened at Bowling Green since Dr. Olscamp arrived on campus seven years ago. Some of the accomplishments include:

Academic Programs
- Creation of Bowling Green’s first endowed professorships, one in management and the other in finance.
- Appointment of an Ohio Eminent Scholar in Photochemical Sciences, the result of a $500,000 grant from the Ohio Board of Regents. The Eminent Scholar Program is designed to attract world class scholars to Ohio. Dr. Michael A. J. Rodgers, one of the country’s foremost photochemical scientists, is Bowling Green’s Eminent Scholar.
- Addition of doctoral programs in applied philosophy and photochemical sciences; the 13th and 14th Ph.D. offerings at Bowling Green.
- Increasing the number of National Merit Scholarship winners entering Bowling Green to 41 finalists and 23 semifinalists, the most ever in University history and more than doubling the goal set in 1987.
- Establishing the University’s first major scholarships for minority students.

Physical Plant
- Nearly $48 million in state capital improvement funds for renovation and new construction projects.
- Completion of $7.2 million Physical Sciences Laboratory Building in 1984.
- A $3.65 million addition to the Business Administration Building completed in 1988.
- A $9.1 million addition to the Fine Arts Building scheduled to get underway in the next few years.
- Major renovation and refurbishing of existing campus buildings including Williams, Overman, Hayes and Shatzel halls.

University Finances
- Growth in the University endowment from $1 million in 1982 to more than $8 million in 1988.
- Creation of an internal endowment fund of $4 million from various University reserves. The balance is approaching $7 million and is expected to reach $10 million in four years. Interest on the $10 million principle will be used to supplement the academic budget.
- Developing a plan that restructures debt obligations and is projected to result in a $35 million principal in 12 years. Interest on that amount, which could approach $3 million annually, will go toward the academic budget.
- Most successful fund raising drive in University history. With the assistance of the development and alumni office, the 75th Anniversary Fund raised more than $15 million in three years; well above the $12.5 million goal. Donations included the University’s first two $1 million gifts—from the Stranahan Foundation of Toledo for the Social Philosophy and Policy Center and from Harold and Helen McMaster of Perrysburg for the McMaster Leadership Institute.

Bowling Green Is A 1980s Success Story

When, in the year 2000, historians look back upon 85 years of intercollegiate athletics at Bowling Green State University, they'll stop and take a second look at the 1980s. Bowling Green sports teams of the '80s have achieved a level of success matched by few.

In all, Bowling Green teams have won 21 conference titles the last eight years, 17 in the Mid-American Conference and four in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association. Sixteen teams have gone on to post-season play in the NCAA, NIT and California Bowl.

Bowling Green student-athletes distinguished themselves in numerous ways in 1987-88. MAC champions were crowned in women's basketball and softball. The Falcon hockey team added to the BGSU honor roll by capturing the CCHA Playoff title. The volleyball team set a school record for winning percentage in a season. In the end, Bowling Green laid claim to the Jacoby Trophy, awarded annually to the MAC school with the best overall record in women's sports. BG also produced four Academic All-Americans in football, volleyball, men's basketball, and hockey—an uncommon distinction for any MAC school in just one year.

Each of the 19 sports at Bowling Green has enjoyed success in the 1980s. Here is a brief look at the "Winning Tradition" of the Bowling Green Falcons...

BASEBALL — Coach Ed Platzer's Falcons are annual contenders for the MAC Championship. Playing at Steller Field, one of the finest college baseball facilities in the region, the Falcons are a MAC leader in producing future professional ballplayers. Roger McDowell helped pitch the New York Mets to the World Series Championship in 1986, while Orel Hershiser is a stand-out pitcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

MEN'S BASKETBALL — Coach Jim Larrañaga has built a solid foundation that should produce a MAC championship contender in 1988-89. Two strong recruiting classes and an exciting up-tempo brand of basketball have made Anderson Arena once again "The House That Roars." BGSU is one of six MAC teams which have qualified for the MAC Tournament the last two years. Historically, BGSU leads the MAC in post-season appearances and victories.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL — Coach Fran Voll has led the Falcons to a pair of MAC Championships and NCAA Tournament appearances the last two years, as well as an overall record of 51-8. Voll coaches some of the best players in the conference, like two-time MAC MVP Jackie Motycka. With Motycka and four other starters back in 1988-89, the Falcons will be an early favorite to repeat as MAC Champions.

CROSS COUNTRY — Bowling Green cross country in the 1980s has been marked by a changing of the guard, as highly-respected Mel Brott handed over the coaching duties to Sid Sink. Sink, a former track and cross country All-American at BGSU, has coached the FG women to four CC titles in eight years. Now, he's out working his magic on both the Falcon men and women.

FOOTBALL — Bowling Green is the MAC's winningest team of the 1980s with a first- or second-place finish the last six years. The Falcons have won two MAC titles and made two trips to the California Bowl since 1980. BG also holds the MAC single-game attendance record of 33,527 at Doyt Perry Field. Coach Moe Ankney has guided the Falcons to two-straight second-place finishes. Taking the next step to the top is the goal for 1988.

GOLF — Coach Greg Nye's men's and women's golf teams play on some of the most challenging courses in the country. The BG men travel to Florida and the Carolinas, BG has won four MAC Championships and made four NCAA Tournament appearances in the last 18 years. The Falcon women are one of this region's top teams. Last fall, the Falcon women won the BGSU invitational and contended for the Ferris State Invitational title.

GYMNASTICS — Year in and year out, Coach Charles Simpson fields a MAC title contender. With three MAC titles since 1980, Simpson's Falcons share the league lead in conference championships. The Falcons have qualified as a team for post-season competition four of the last five years. Last winter, Kim Trost was an individual qualifier for the NCAA Regionals. This year, BGSU will host the MAC Championships.

HOCKEY — National Champions! The year was 1984. The site, Lake Placid, NY, where Coach Jerry York's Falcons won the University's first NCAA Division I championship. It was Bowling Green's finest hour. BGSU has won four CCHA regular season championships and one league play-off title. In all, the Falcons have won seven conference titles and appeared in seven NCAA (Continued on page 49)
Since his appointment seven years ago as athletic director, John C. (Jack) Gregory has set a standard of excellence designed to place Bowling Green State University on equal terms with today's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

In his first six years at Bowling Green, Gregory has challenged his staff of administrators, coaches and classified workers to settle for nothing less than the very best. His challenge has resulted in some of the finest moments in the history of intercollegiate athletics at BGSU—moments such as:

- the 1984 NCAA Division I Ice Hockey Championship;
- 11 Mid-American Conference regular season championships in football, men's and women's basketball, softball, women's cross county, gymnastics, and men's golf;
- 2 California Bowl appearances;
- 2 MAC post-season tournament championships;
- 3 Central Collegiate Hockey Association regular season championships;
- 1 CCHA post-season Tournament championship;
- 9 NCAA Tournament appearances in hockey, basketball, softball and gymnastics;
- and the 1987-88 Jacoby Trophy, awarded annually to the MAC school with the best overall record in women's sports.

Gregory came to Bowling Green during one of the most difficult periods in the school's 72 years of intercollegiate athletics, a time when BGSU and the MAC were fighting for NCAA Division I-A status in football. Behind Gregory's leadership, the football program attained I-A status, making the Falcons one of the front-runners in achieving that goal.

During his tenure here, BGSU has proven to be a marketing and promotions leader. Record crowds have attended Falcon football, hockey and women's basketball games. Crowds have swelled, too, in sports like soccer, volleyball, gymnastics and softball. In 1983, 33,527 fans packed Doyt L. Perry Field to witness the annual college football classic between Bowling Green and Toledo. BGSU and MAC single game attendance marks fell that afternoon. Two years later, the Falcons drew a record 112,110 fans for the five home games, giving BGSU the second-largest average attendance (22,422) in MAC history. Last year, Bowling Green set still another MAC attendance record by playing in front of 84,574 fans at Penn State.

Sell-out crowds for BGSU hockey games are also a tradition, making game tickets the hottest item in town each winter.

With the growing interest in TV sports programming, Gregory has aggressively negotiated for live television coverage of BGSU sports events. Last year, Falcon football, basketball and hockey all attracted live TV coverage. The 1988-89 year promises more of the same. Falcon football and basketball will be seen around the country as part of the MAC Game of the Week on Master Video Productions, while Falcon hockey will continue to play in front of a national TV audience as part of the CCHA Game of the Week on Pro-Am Sports.

Gregory, 60, has also been instrumental in the record-breaking development of the Falcon Club, the university's official athletic department booster club. Recent membership drives have encompassed the Toledo, Cleveland and west central Ohio areas, resulting in unparalleled growth in cash and pledges. The Falcon Club has more than doubled its income and grown to such an extent that it compares favorably with any athletic support organization in the country.

Still, Gregory understands the integrity of college athletics depends on the continued emphasis of the "student" in student-athlete. In that regard, he appointed a director for academic and regulatory affairs in 1984, the first such appointment in the MAC. Today's student-athlete is offered every opportunity for a fulfilling educational experience at BGSU. Many student-athletes have earned academic honors, such as the 122 BGSU scholar-athletes with grade point averages of 3.0 or better in 1987-88. In just the last two years, seven BGSU scholar-athletes have been named Academic All-Americans, an uncommon distinction among MAC schools.

A 1952 graduate of East Stroudsburg State College and holder of a master's degree from Temple University, Gregory came to Bowling Green from Yale, where he served for four years as associate athletic director.

Gregory began his professional career in 1952 as a teacher and coach at William Penn High School in New Castle, Delaware, and later at P.S. Dupont High School in Wilmington, Delaware. In 1959, he returned to East Stroudsburg as head football coach and assistant professor of physical education. One of the most successful coaches in the school's history, Gregory was inducted into the East Stroudsburg Athletic Hall of Fame in October, 1983.

An assistant football coach at the U.S. Naval Academy for two years, Gregory was named head football coach at Villanova University in 1967. In 1969, he moved to the University of Rhode Island, where he served as head football coach for seven years. In his 25 years on the high school level and at East Stroudsburg, Villanova and Rhode Island, Gregory's teams compiled a record of 132-69, including four undefeated seasons and seven league championships. He was twice selected as NAIA Coach of the Year, twice selected as Pennsylvania Coach of the Year and was named NCAA Regional Coach of the Year.

He was lured away from coaching in 1976 by the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League and served in the personnel department for three years before moving on to Yale.

Jack and his wife, Peg, reside in Bowling Green and are the parents of two sons.

BGSU ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

Tournaments. BGSU has produced some of college hockey’s greatest names, including nine players who currently hold positions on NHL rosters.

SOCCER — Coach Gary Palmisano’s Falcons have posted a winning record in all but one year of the 1980s. Last fall, BGSU showed a fine 4-2-6 record that included wins over Penn State and Cleveland State. The Falcon booters also captured the 1987 BGSU Soccer Cup for the second-straight year. BG players have earned All-America honors seven times, the most recent being Jon Felton last year.

SOFTBALL — Former Coach Gall Davenport saw five years of hard play pay handsome dividends in 1988, as the Falcons won the MAC Championship and hosted the NCAA Midwest Regional. Davenport was also named MAC Coach of the Year. Spearheaded by senior centerfielder Amy Lienhardt, a first team All-American and a first team Academic All-American, the 1988 Falcons shattered a number of seasonal records for BGSU softball.

SWIMMING — Coach Brian Gordon, MAC Co-Coach of the Year in 1988, is back for his second year with the Falcon men and women. The Falcon women have made winning a habit in the 80s. It began with the 1981 MAC Championship and has continued with second-place finishes ever since. Last winter, the women hosted the MAC Championship at beautiful Cooper Pool, one of the midwest’s top swimming and diving facilities. The men’s team has finished in the top five at the MAC meet the last four years.

TENNIS — Robert Keefe Courts have been the site of many top MAC tennis matches in the 1980s. And the Falcon tennis teams have benefitted from the fine facility. The men’s team, guided ably by Bob Gill the last 20 years, will see Gene Orlando at the helm in 1989. The women’s tennis program, under the tutelage of first-year Coach Sheila Chiricosta, showed signs of new life in 1988, as the Falcons recorded the most wins in a season since 1983.

TRACK & FIELD — Bowling Green was again represented at the NCAA Track and Field Championships, thanks to All-American discus thrower Beth Manson. Meanwhile, Coach Lee LaBadie guided the Falcon women to a second-place finish at the 1988 MAC Championship. Sid Sink and Tom Wright, co-head coaches of men’s track, coached the Falcons to within seven points of fourth place at the MAC meet.

VOLLEYBALL — Coach Denise Van De Walle’s Falcon volleyball team has entrenched itself as one of the top programs in the MAC. Last fall, Bowling Green carved out an overall record of 24-6, the highest winning percentage in school history, while posting a second-place finish in the MAC. Van De Walle, MAC Co-Coach of the Year, also guided her squad to a championship at the West Virginia Tournament.

Falcon Athletes Prove To Be Academic Champions

Several Bowling Green State University student-athletes garnered key awards in their academic pursuits for the 1987-88 school year, according to Dr. Pat Cleveland, director of academic and regulatory affairs at BGSU.

Among the most-decorated of BGSU's scholar-athletes were Steve Martenet (Mansfield, OH/Malabar) of the men's basketball team and Alan Leggett (Wainwright, Alberta) of the men's ice hockey team. Martenet was recognized as the top senior in the College of Business Administration, while Leggett distinguished himself as the most outstanding upperclassman in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Cleveland said, "It is a tribute to intercollegiate athletics at Bowling Green that we can recognize these scholar-athletes as not only the top people in our athletic program, but as the top students in some of the most prestigious departments in the University."

Martenet was named the recipient of the Karl E. Vogt Award for being the outstanding graduating senior in the College of Business Administration. The recipient is selected on the basis of superior scholarship and participation, leadership, and excellence in campus and community activities.

Martenet maintained a 3.83 GPA in business/pre-law before graduating Cum Laude in May. A third-team GTE Academic All-American in 1988, Martenet was a three-time Mid-American Conference All-Academic Team selection and a four-year letterman. He entered his name in the Bowling Green record books as the top field goal percentage shooter in school history, converting 404 of 772 attempts (.523).

Leggett received the Outstanding Senior Award in Arts & Sciences, the Dennis R. Whitmore Memorial Scholarship and the University Achievement Scholarship. A biological science major, Leggett maintains a 4.00 GPA while also being a key member of the Falcon hockey team. He is a three-year letterman who has twice been named to the Central Collegiate Hockey Association All-Academic Team. Last winter, he helped the Falcons qualify for the NCAA Tournament for the second consecutive season.

Also recognized by the College of Business Administration were Brett Landman (Wooster, OH/Triway) of the football team and Kim Eddings (Pinckney, MI) of the gymnastics team. Last spring, Landman and Eddings earned their place among the top 12 freshmen entering the business college.

In the College of Arts & Sciences, individual awards went to Linda Popovich (Battle Creek, MI/Lakeview) of the volleyball team and Tom Shehab (Grosse Pointe, MI/North) of the football team. Popovich, a two-year volleyball letterwinner and all-conference standout, was named Distinguished Undergraduate Political Science Major, while also receiving The Honors Student Association J. Robert Bashore Scholarship. Shehab, a freshman in 1987-88, was named a Biology Alumni Scholarship winner.

The College of Education and Allied Professions recognized Suzanne Deters (Minster, OH) of the track and cross country teams, and Michael Teets (Urbana, OH) of the tennis team. Deters, the 1987 cross country team captain and a letterwinner in track and cross country since her freshman season, was named Outstanding Senior in Sport Management. She was also one of two winners of the Jane Shoemaker Smith Award for maintaining the highest academic average (3.65) in the School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. Deters graduated Cum Laude last May.

Teets, a singles and doubles contributor as a freshman on the Falcon tennis team last spring, earned the Shelton Computer Science Education Scholarship.

Many of these athletes are among the 37 BGSU scholar-athletes who were recognized last spring for maintaining grade point averages of 3.5 and above. In all, almost 125 BGSU student-athletes have a 3.0 or better GPA.

Linda Popovich and Alan Leggett were among student-athletes who were tapped for membership in the BGSU chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa national leadership honor society. Joining them were Julie Eckloff (Swanton, OH) of the track team and Michael McKenna (Youngstown, OH/Austintown Fitch). Denise Van De Walle, BGSU volleyball coach, was also among the 1988 ODK initiates.

A total of 52 BGSU student-athletes were graduated by the University in December, 1987, and May, 1988, commencement ceremonies. In addition to Steve Martenet and Suzanne Deters, three other BGSU student-athletes graduated with honors. Amy Warner (Independence, KS) of the women's track team graduated Summa Cum Laude with a degree in special education. Football's Mike Otten (Coldwater, OH) graduated Cum Laude with a degree in biology and pre-medicine, while track's Cheryl Landin (Toledo, OH/Central Catholic) graduated Cum Laude with a degree in psychology.

1988 Falcon Marching Band

To close the 1988 Falcon football season, the Falcon Marching Band wishes to say thank you to the fans, friends, parents, and members of the marching band for their continued support this year that started in the heat of August and continued to these chilly days of November.

Today’s halftime presentation, in some ways, takes us south below the “Mason-Dixon” Line. Beginning with “Ol’ Man River”, the band moves and plays to that ageless melody from the Broadway musical “Showboat.”

Appropriately enough, our next selection makes reference to the days of the minstrel show and fashionable travel by riverboat down the mighty Mississippi. With a little Dixieland flavor, the band performs to “Waiting for the Robert E. Lee.”

From Dixieland to New Orleans Jazz... though closely related, these two musical styles are indigenous to American culture. In keeping with our “southern/home-style flavor”, the BGSU trumpets are featured in a snappy rendition of “Up a Lazy River.”

In the days of Mark Twain and Stephen Foster, religion played a significant part in the daily lifestyle of the people. The Falcon Marching Band closes the 1988 season with their version of the contemporary gospel hymn “Rise Again”!

1988-89 BGSU CHEERLEADERS

Q: Who is an “athletic representative?”
A: ■ One who has made financial contributions to the athletic department (i.e., Falcon Club members).
■ One who has been asked by the athletic department, in the past, to assist in recruiting student-athletes.
■ One who has assisted or is assisting in providing benefits, such as providing job opportunities, to enrolled student-athletes.
■ One who is or has been involved in promoting the athletic program.
■ One who is a member of any agency or organization which is promoting the institution’s intercollegiate athletics program (Varsity BG Club, etc).

Q: Once an individual has been identified as an “athletic representative,” how long does he/she retain this identity?
A: Forever.

Q: Is Bowling Green State University responsible for the acts of athletic representatives and booster support groups?
A: Yes. Athletic representatives are governed by the same NCAA and University rules and regulations as those placed upon all institutional athletic staff members.

Dictionary-makers agree on the definition of representative. However, of late, the word has been interpreted differently at many colleges and universities across the United States. To ensure that confusion does not reign, especially in the matter of recruiting prospective student-athletes, the National Collegiate Athletic Association has set hard-and-fast rules for: 1. Who athletic representatives are, and 2. What they can and cannot do.

As of August 1, 1987, the NCAA has banned athletic representatives (see box to left) from any involvement in the recruiting of prospective student-athletes. That involvement includes on- or off-campus contacts by 1. personal visit, 2. correspondence, or 3. telephone calls.

Bluntly, the answer to all questions regarding the involvement of athletic representatives in the recruiting process is an unequivocal “NO.”

The new legislation does not prohibit “unavoidable incidental” contacts with prospects, their parents or friends. The contact would be “legal” provided that: 1. it is not pre-arranged by the representative or a member of the athletic department, 2. it is not made for the purpose of recruitment, and, 3. it is in the course of “normal civility.”

Bowling Green intercollegiate Athletics urges all athletic representatives to comply with all NCAA regulations. If questions arise, please call the Bowling Green State University Athletic Department at (419) 372-2401.

Doyt L. Perry Field, with its 30,000-plus seating capacity, is celebrating its 22nd year as the home of Bowling Green State University football.

Built in 1966 for approximately $3 million as a replacement for the 43-year-old University Stadium, Perry Field had a capacity of 23,272 until bleacher seats were installed in both end zones in 1982.

One of the largest and most attractive athletic facilities in the Mid-American Conference, Perry Field holds the conference record for single-game attendance.

On October 8, 1983, a huge crowd of 33,527 packed into Perry Field for the annual BG-Toledo game, establishing a school and MAC record for single-game attendance. The Falcons went on to set a season record, breaking the six-digit figure for five games with a total draw of 100,021. It marked the first time in history that Bowling Green averaged more than 20,000 fans for five home football games.

That figure was topped in 1985, when Bowling Green posted a perfect record (11-0) in the regular season and clinched the MAC Championship by shutting out arch-rival Toledo at Perry Field in November. More than 28,000 fans turned out that day, raising Bowling Green’s season attendance to an all-time high 112,000, and average of 22,400.

Perry Field is more than just a football facility. The east side of the stadium includes dressing rooms, equipment and training rooms, along with the Athletic Department offices. The west side just received a facelift. This year, a new physical fitness center/weight room opened its doors for all 19 intercollegiate athletic teams to use.

Also situated on the west side of Perry Field are the Falcon Club offices and clubhouse, the academic affairs office, the track and cross country offices, as well as maintenance and storage areas.

Sitting atop the press box on the west side of the stadium is the plush Stadium Club. Now in its ninth year of operation, the Stadium Club’s 106 theater-type seats, which are all sold, provide loyal BGSU fans with one of the finest places to view a game in all of the midwest. The President’s Box, located on top of the east side of the stadium, provides luxury seating for President Paul J. Olscamp and other supporters of Falcon football.

Bowling Green won the first game ever played in Perry Field, defeating Dayton, 13-0, on October 1, 1966. Since that time, the Falcons have won more than 65 percent of their home games, compiling a 70-37-2 record in the 109 games played at Perry Field.

Bowling Green posted a 3-2 record at Perry Field last season. Over the last five seasons, Bowling Green is 25-5 in the friendly confines of Perry Field.

A multi-purpose facility, Perry Field has also hosted concerts, NFL exhibition games, and major soccer tournaments.
Perry Field is named in honor of the man who led Bowling Green to a 77-11-5 record in his 10 years as the head coach of the Falcons. Doyt L. Perry was simply one of the greatest football coaches of his day. His .855 winning percentage over 10 seasons in the 1950s and 1960s remains one of the highest in football history. In fact, according to James Van Valkenburg, director of statistics for the NCAA, only two on the Division 1-A list are above that figure — Knute Rockne at .881 (Notre Dame) and Frank Leahy at .864 (Boston College and Notre Dame).

Perry, 78, is as popular as ever in Bowling Green. An avid golfer, he spends his winters with wife Loretta in Florida. Each summer, he entertains his friends and former players at a golf outing. Former players and coaches return for the "Falcons' Nest of Coaches" meeting. Known for his well-organized practices and attention-to-detail meetings, Perry never stopped thinking of ways to succeed. He was a winner in football and as a high school basketball coach. His basketball teams were 161-35 over nine seasons and his high school track teams won 70 county titles in nine years.

Welcome to Doyt L. Perry Field

- Doyt L. Perry Field celebrates its 23rd anniversary as the home of Falcon football this season. Widely-regarded as the finest facility in the Mid-American Conference in which to watch football, Perry Field seats 30,599.

To make it on our team, you have to hit the books just as hard.

Our team is the GTE Academic All-America® Team as selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). And our recruiting standards are the toughest around.

Like any other team, we want to know how many passes you've completed. Or, the number of quarterbacks you've sacked. But we also want to know what your cumulative grade point average is. And it better be at least a 3.20.

Getting drafted by the GTE Academic All-America Team isn't easy. That's what makes it such an honor for those who do.
1988-89 WOMEN'S BASKETBALL OUTLOOK

Voll’s Falcons Hungry For Third MAC Title

After winning the last two Mid-American Conference Championships and making two straight trips to the NCAA Tournament, the Bowling Green State University women's basketball team continues to set its sights at the top.

“Our kids have a goal of winning the conference,” says Fran Voll, looking ahead to his fifth season as head coach at BGSU. “It’s realistic for us, based on our past performances. If we in fact do that, then a lot of other things can unfold — the MAC Tournament, the NCAA Tournament, whatever.”

Bowling Green has ruled the MAC for the last two years, posting regular season championships with a 16-0 league record in 1986-87 and 14-2 last winter. BG went on to win the MAC Tournament both years for the right to represent the league in the NCAA Tournament.

BGSU was among the vote-getters in the national polls last season. Both AP and USA Today included the Falcons in their final Division I rankings. In addition, the Falcons were ranked seventh in the nation in rebound margin (+9.2) and 20th in scoring offense (80.1 ppg).

Four players are gone from the 1987-88 squad, but the cupboard is hardly bare for Voll and assistant coach Jaci Clark, as they look ahead.

Eight letterwinners return, headed by all five starters. Five players return with at least two years of experience, three of the five are seniors and members of Voll’s first recruiting class at BGSU.

“It’s a special season,” Voll says. “My first recruiting group is now ready for its fourth year. I would expect that Jackie Motycka, Megan McGuire and Paulette Backstrom would want to have no less than a good season.”

Forward Jackie Motycka (Convoy, OH/Crestview) figures to attract national attention after finishing among the top 50 scorers in the country last season with a 20.2-point average. Twice honored as MAC Player of the Year, Motycka is already the MAC’s second-leading scorer with 1,656 points.

Steady and experienced Paulette Backstrom (Flint, MI/Northwestern) was a first team All-MAC player at power guard last season. She’ll be back for her senior season, as will forward Megan McGuire (Lakewood, OH), an honorable mention All-MAC choice as a junior. McGuire can do it all, as was indicated by her ranking in six of the nine MAC Individual stat categories last season.

Center Angie Bonner (Canton, OH/Timken) is fast developing into one of the MAC’s best low-post players. She finished second on the team in scoring (12.1 ppg) and rebounding (7.2 rpg) and earned second team All-MAC honors as a sophomore. Traci Gorman (Van Wert, OH/Delphos St. John’s) cracked the starting five as an off-guard mid-way through her freshman season and eventually earned a spot on the MAC All-Freshman team.

Outside the 16-game MAC schedule, the 1988-89 Falcons will be challenged by a non-league schedule that includes 1988 NCAA Tournament participants Ohio State, Villanova and Eastern Illinois.

A closer look at the two-time defending MAC Champions follows:

POINT GUARD: While senior Paulette Backstrom returns with two years of starting experience, she will be backed by a pair of promising newcomers. Sophomore Wanda Lyle (Detroit, MI/Martin Luther King) and freshman Cathy Koch (Toledo, OH/Central Catholic) enter the picture this season as likely back-ups to the veteran Backstrom.

A key player in BG’s high-powered offense, Backstrom controls the tempo and flow of the Falcons’ offense. She has been the team’s assist leader the last two years, averaging 5.8 assists in 1987-88. Lyle sat out last season for academic reasons, but she will add great quickness and leaping ability. Koch, a former Toledo City League Player of the Year, possesses all of the skills needed to run the offense.

OFF-GUARD: Megan McGuire first made her mark as Bowling Green’s “Sub Super” during the 1986-87 campaign. Pressed into a starting role as a junior, McGuire responded with flying colors. She averaged 11.5 points and 7.2 rebounds in 1987-88. Beyond that, she ranked among the MAC leaders in blocked shots (1.2 bpg), steals (2.2 spg), field goal shooting (.487), and assists (3.4 apg).

Sophomore Erin Vick (Maumee, OH) figures to challenge McGuire for playing time at the off-guard spot, after playing in 13 of BG’s final 16 games last season.

SMALL FORWARD: It didn’t take Traci Gorman long to adjust to the college game last year. Just 15 games into her freshman season, she earned the starting nod at small forward and held her position the remainder of the season. The 6-1 Gorman averaged 6.0 points and 3.6 rebounds as a starter.

Junior Tecca Thompson (Mansfield, OH/Malabar) provides BG with a hard-working reserve, who played in every game and averaged almost 12 minutes of court time last season.

POWER FORWARD: Jackie Motycka has been the premier player in the MAC for the last two years, and her individual honors reflect her pre-eminence on the court; two-time MAC Player of the Year; MAC Freshman of the Year; three-time first team All-MAC: MAC Tournament MVP; and Washington State Tournament MVP. Motycka begins her senior season as Bowling Green’s career scoring leader (1,656 points), one of 11 school standards that bears her name.

Sophomore Heather Finrock (DeGratt, OH/Riverside) combines a physical style of play with a good shooting touch. She shot .535 from the floor as a freshman and played in 27 games.

CENTER: Angie Bonner took her place among the MAC leaders last season and earned second team All-MAC honors in the end. Quick for her size (6-2), Bonner set three school records in 1987-88, including field goal shooting (.573) and blocks in a season (44).

Bonner’s understudy in 1988-89 will be freshman Katie McNulty (Lima, OH/Ladywood), a two-time all-state selection who averaged 16 points and 12 rebounds last season.

Newcomer Liann Shick (Lima, OH/Bath) could also help at center and forward.

Falcons Ready To Make A Move In The MAC

While the 1988-89 basketball season starts in November for the Bowling Green Falcons, Coach Jim Larranaga prefers to look a few months beyond the season-opener.

Larranaga's Falcons are fast becoming recognized as a second-half team. In 1986-87, Larranaga guided the Falcons to a 6-2 record in the second half of the Mid-American Conference schedule. Bowling Green was 5-3 down the stretch a year ago.

Furtheing his team's reputation of being a strong finisher is Larranaga's game plan for 1988-89. "Our goal is to be playing our best ball when February rolls around," he says.

The Falcons are coming off a 12-16 campaign in 1987-88, one in which BGSU tied for fifth in the MAC with a 7-9 league record. BGSU has made the MAC postseason tournament both years under Larranaga, an achievement matched by only four other league teams.

Bowling Green loses three players to graduation off the 1987-88 squad. Anthony Robinson, a 6-6 guard, was BG's scoring (14.5 ppg) and rebounding (5.0 rpg) leader, the team's most valuable player, and an All-MAC pick. Steve Martenet, a 6-6 forward, was not only BG's second-leading scorer (12.9 ppg) and rebounder (4.8 rpg), he was also the most accurate shooter in the school's history with a .533 career field goal percentage. Martenet was the top three-point field goal shooter (.563) in the MAC, and a third team Academic All-American. Both Robinson and Martenet were 1,000-point career scorers. They combined to take scoring honors in 19 of 28 games last season.

A third senior, James Tyler, closed out his collegiate career by earning a starting forward position during BGSU's stretch run for the postseason tournament.

This year's squad features a good blend of veterans and newcomers. While BGSU will be without a proven offensive star or a dominating big man, the potential is there to develop both.

There are only three Falcons with two or three years of collegiate experience. Of them, just two return after making significant contributions last season.

So, as he has done in his first two years here, Larranaga will experiment with his personnel throughout the non-conference and even the early conference schedule, before settling in for a furious finish.

The Falcons will be one of the smallest teams in the conference. But then, Larranaga is used to a lineup of very few players above 6-6.

To compensate for their size, the Falcons have had success with an up-tempo, pass-oriented offense and an aggressive, trapping defense. This year, Bowling Green will show more team speed and jumping ability. The result will be a fast-breaking, high-scoring team sure to excite Falcons fans in Anderson Arena.

The 1988-89 schedule features another challenging slate. The MAC's games face a dominating big man, the potential is there to develop both.
