GSU Smartcard: the GSU Smartcard (or "Smartcard") is a small, blue plastic card that provides access to university facilities and services for all students, staff, and faculty. It is used to access buildings, classrooms, libraries, and other campus resources. The Smartcard also functions as a充值卡for dining services, parking, and other university services. The GSU Smartcard program is administered by the Office of Information Technology.

Faculty/Staff Positions

The following administrative staff positions are available:

1. Assistant Director of Student Services
2. Assistant Director of Athletics
3. Assistant Director of Information Technology
4. Assistant Director of Budget and Finance

Contact information for each position can be found on the university’s website.

Student Activities

The Student Activities Office is responsible for coordinating and funding student groups and activities on campus. The office provides funding for student organizations to host events and programs, as well as organizing special events and programs for the university community. The office is located in the Student Union.

Employment Opportunities

The university offers a wide range of employment opportunities for students, staff, and faculty. Positions are available in administrative, academic, and student affairs departments. Information about current job openings can be found on the university’s website.

Summer Courses

The university offers a variety of summer courses for students who wish to continue their education during the summer months. Courses are offered in a range of subjects and can be taken for credit or audit. Information about summer courses can be found on the university’s website.

Athletic Events

The university sponsors a variety of athletic events, including football, basketball, volleyball, and soccer. Information about upcoming events can be found on the university’s athletics website.

Government Affairs

The university has a government affairs office that works to represent the interests of the university to state and federal government agencies. This office is responsible for advocating for the university’s priorities and interests in the legislative process.

Continued page 3
Administrative Staff Council hears Mason, approves Section 125 plan

Dr. Philip Mason, vice president for University relations, addressed the Administrative Staff Council meeting Jan. 30, talking about a new Section 125 plan. The plan, which has been in the works in University relations is to allow the campus to partner resources to help accomplish University goals. Employees in the area have contact with Foundation staff and speak to donors about Mason. Mason said that the goal is to give employees the amount they wish to withhold.

Voinovich names Rodgers to state council

Dr. Michael A.J. Rodgers, Ohio University vice president for University relations, was appointed to the newly created Ohio State Council on Higher Education. Geo. Voinovich appointed the council which will bring together leaders in Ohio's public, private and independent higher education institutions. The council will meet periodically to exchange ideas and assess technology and service needs in the state. The council will also evaluate existing and future state and federal policies, and recommend policy changes to the governor.

Two student art exhibits to open

Art and design works of numerous Ohio University students will be featured in two upcoming exhibitions. The shows are free and open to the public.

The first exhibit, "Up and Coming," will feature the work of 20 students who will be on display in the 2Chi.5th annual Student Cultural Center Exhibition. The exhibition will run from 2:30-4:30 p.m., March 5, in the McFarland Center.

The second exhibition, entitled "Freedom Bound," will feature the work of 26 students who will be on display in the Lenhart Black Mamba Gallery. The show will run from 2:30-4:30 p.m., March 5, in the Lenhart Grand Ballroom. University relations.

Research grants available to faculty, students

The Faculty Research Committee recently announced the small research grants program. Faculty and students can apply for research and creative activities of modest scale. The awards are intended to encourage undergraduate research, development and to support creative writing endeavors to pursue small internal projects. Faculty and department leaders are encouraged to submit two sections, Guidelines and application forms for both programs are available from the research services office.

Ladymash, Underground Railroad celebrate African-American history

Two seminar events are scheduled this week as part of the University's celebration of African-American History Month, Ladymash Black Mamba, the most popular singing group on the continent of Africa, will perform at 8:30 p.m., Feb. 25 in the Lenhart Grand Ballroom, University relations.

Two student art exhibits to open

Art and design works of numerous Ohio University students will be featured in two upcoming exhibitions. The shows are free and open to the public.

The first exhibit, "Up and Coming," will feature the work of 20 students who will be on display in the 2Chi.5th annual Student Cultural Center Exhibition. The exhibition will run from 2:30-4:30 p.m., March 5, in the McFarland Center.

The second exhibition, entitled "Freedom Bound," will feature the work of 26 students who will be on display in the Lenhart Black Mamba Gallery. The show will run from 2:30-4:30 p.m., March 5, in the Lenhart Grand Ballroom. University relations.

Research grants available to faculty, students

The Faculty Research Committee recently announced the small research grants program. Faculty and students can apply for research and creative activities of modest scale. The awards are intended to encourage undergraduate research, development and to support creative writing endeavors to pursue small internal projects. Faculty and department leaders are encouraged to submit two sections, Guidelines and application forms for both programs are available from the research services office.

Ladymash, Underground Railroad celebrate African-American history

Two seminar events are scheduled this week as part of the University's celebration of African-American History Month, Ladymash Black Mamba, the most popular singing group on the continent of Africa, will perform at 8:30 p.m., Feb. 25 in the Lenhart Grand Ballroom, University relations.
Administrative Staff Council hears Mason, approves Section 125 plan

Dr. Philip Mason, vice-president for University advancement, also explained the rules contained in the newly adopted Staff Council Administrative Staff Council meeting: June 17, which may be available for work in University relations is to look out for its members to accomplish support goals. Employees in the area have contact with Mason said that the importance of 2:30-4:30 with Mason who oversee the amount of detail and, on the few others who are in a position to assist

University relations inquires into issues in the area of communication. Employers who have contact with the amount of detail and, on the few others who are in a position to assist

University relations inquires into issues in the area of communication. Employers who have contact with work in

also explained the five areas contained better job at ees for their service and dedication.

tained for health

help

He said an

University.

"the

There is some risk behalf is being about and

and fee

said

updated the application component. Qualifying students are announced a professional development donors who have contributed more than permit year-round use, including housing accessibility. Kaplan

Kaplan

said

be replaced by Greg Jordan, ice entitled "The Positive

Africa,

Ladysmith, Underground

Railroad, a network

with

and

Research grants available to faculty, students

The Faculty Research Committee recently announced the small research grants program (for 1992) recently acquired by the University. The awards are intended to encourage undergraduate and master's level students. The award is $2,000 per student. Guidelines and application forms for both programs are available from the research services office.

Voinovich names Rodgers to state council

Dr. Michael A.J. Rodgers, Ohio University provost, has been appointed to the newly created Ohio State University Board of Trustees. "He is a man of great integrity and dedication," said the university's board chairman. "He has devoted himself to Ohio University and its mission, and we look forward to his contributions to the State University system."

Two student art exhibitions to open

Art and design works of numerous University students will be featured in two upcoming exhibitions. The March 9 opening will be open to the public.

University students will be featured in two upcoming exhibitions. The March 9 opening will be open to the public.

University students will be featured in two upcoming exhibitions. The March 9 opening will be open to the public.

Library acquires poetry collection

The new acquisition also contains more than 900 individual poems. The collection includes a number of works in progress by other poets. Among the poets represented are Alice Walker, who won a Pulitzer Prize in 1992 for her novel "The Color Purple," and Ishmael Reed, who won a Pulitzer Prize in 1986 for his novel "Mumbo Jumbo.

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."

Pezoff recently retired after teaching 35 years at the University of California at Berkeley. He is perhaps best known for some works as how," "Stalker" (nominated for the "Book of the Year" by the National Book Critics Council), "and "The Code of the Woosters."
The Role and Mission of Bowling Green State University

Editor's Note
Editor's note: The material that follows is the content of the brochure produced by the Office of Communications and Marketing. The Role and Mission of Bowling Green State University is a statement that outlines the goals, values, and priorities of the university. The mission statement is updated periodically to reflect the evolving needs and goals of the institution.

The brochure itself will be distributed within and adjacent to our institution in cooperation with the Office of Communications and Marketing. The material that follows will be used to provide an overview of the mission and values of the university.

The Mission of the University and its Goals

Bowling Green State University (BGSU) is a community of faculty, staff, and students who are engaged in the pursuit of excellence in teaching, learning, research, and scholarship. As a public university, BGSU is committed to serving the needs of the region, the state, and the nation through its programs, services, and partnerships. The mission of BGSU is to prepare students for successful lives, communities, and careers.

BGSU is a community of faculty, staff, and students who are engaged in the pursuit of excellence in teaching, learning, research, and scholarship. As a public university, BGSU is committed to serving the needs of the region, the state, and the nation through its programs, services, and partnerships. The mission of BGSU is to prepare students for successful lives, communities, and careers.

I. Students

By expanding its comprehensive admissions practices, the University augments the quality of its student body. For example, since 1986, admission requirements of the University's graduates have been increased. As a result, the University has been able to recruit more talented and motivated students. The University's average ACT scores for entering undergraduates have remained steady for the last 15 years, and in recent years an increasing proportion of students have scored three or higher on the ACT.

Bowling Green is committed to providing a learning environment for the next several years to come. This includes upgrading computer labs, including one in every residence complex, as well as a hookup for the local telephone company. These efforts include providing organisms with the necessary resources to continue our emphasis on recruitment and retention of high-caliber students, as well as the high-quality instruction required to retain them at BGSU.

II. Academic Programs

Bowling Green's success in recruiting superior students at the undergraduate and graduate levels is based primarily on the University's academic program. BGSU's academic program is designed to prepare students for successful careers in the fields of their choice. The University offers a wide range of programs and degrees, including those in the arts and sciences, business, education, health sciences, and engineering.

The University-wide curriculum is designed to provide students with a broad-based education and to prepare them for success in the job market. The curriculum is flexible and can be tailored to meet the needs of individual students. The University also offers a variety of opportunities for students to participate in extracurricular activities, such as clubs, organizations, and sports teams.

The University-wide curriculum is designed to provide students with a broad-based education and to prepare them for success in the job market. The curriculum is flexible and can be tailored to meet the needs of individual students. The University also offers a variety of opportunities for students to participate in extracurricular activities, such as clubs, organizations, and sports teams.

III. Development

The University's development office is responsible for raising funds to support its programs and services. The office is responsible for identifying potential donors, developing strategies to solicit their support, and coordinating the solicitation process. The office is also responsible for maintaining records of donor contributions and reporting on the progress of fundraising efforts.

The University's development office is responsible for raising funds to support its programs and services. The office is responsible for identifying potential donors, developing strategies to solicit their support, and coordinating the solicitation process. The office is also responsible for maintaining records of donor contributions and reporting on the progress of fundraising efforts.

The University's development office is responsible for raising funds to support its programs and services. The office is responsible for identifying potential donors, developing strategies to solicit their support, and coordinating the solicitation process. The office is also responsible for maintaining records of donor contributions and reporting on the progress of fundraising efforts.

IV. External Constituencies

As a public university, BGSU has an obligation to serve the public and the state of Ohio. BGSU's academic programs and services are designed to meet the needs of the community and the state. The University's primary goal is to provide quality education and opportunity to all students, and to promote research and scholarship.

Through the provision of such services, the University not only contributes to the society in which it exists, but also promotes the development of new knowledge and understanding. Through a variety of institutions and organizations, the University also plays an important role in the nation's economy and society.

Increasing the number of graduate students by approximately 500 and increasing the number of graduate degrees by 500 will have a significant impact on the University's ability to provide quality education and research.

V. Planning and Budgeting

The University's planning and budgeting process is a critical component of the University's strategic planning efforts. The process is designed to ensure that the University's resources are used in the most effective and efficient manner, and to provide a framework for decision-making and resource allocation.

VI. Alumni Relations

Alumni relations plays an important role in the University's fundraising efforts and in the development of the University's reputation. The University's alumni relations office is responsible for identifying potential donors, developing strategies to solicit their support, and coordinating the solicitation process.

The University's alumni relations office is responsible for identifying potential donors, developing strategies to solicit their support, and coordinating the solicitation process.

The University's alumni relations office is responsible for identifying potential donors, developing strategies to solicit their support, and coordinating the solicitation process.

VII. Reaccreditation

The University is currently undergoing reaccreditation as part of the process of maintaining its accreditation with the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The process is designed to ensure that the University is meeting the standards established by the accrediting agency and to identify areas for improvement.

The University is currently undergoing reaccreditation as part of the process of maintaining its accreditation with the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The process is designed to ensure that the University is meeting the standards established by the accrediting agency and to identify areas for improvement.

The University is currently undergoing reaccreditation as part of the process of maintaining its accreditation with the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The process is designed to ensure that the University is meeting the standards established by the accrediting agency and to identify areas for improvement.
The Role and Mission of Bowling Green State University

Editor's Note

Editor's note: the material that follows is the content of the brochure "The Role and Mission of Bowling Green State University" that the University has developed in conjunction with the North Central Association for accreditation. One of the four NCA criteria for accreditation involves a "demonstration of a widely published and role mission statement." It was felt that the University has a responsibility to keep the public, students, and faculty informed of the mission and role of the University. It was felt that BGSU should publish a statement of its mission and role as laid out in the "1986 Mission and Role Statement.""

Bowling Green has choose to produce and publish such a statement in the form of a brochure. This brochure is a description of the mission and role of the University.

The Message of the President

As an itinerant 10th president of BGSU, I am happy to take this opportunity to review the achievements of the decade since my inauguration.

In many ways, Bowling Green is a model of success.

Our student population has been growing at an average rate of 4 percent per annum. The growth rate in state aid has been even more impressive, amounts to $1 million per year. Stated another way, our per capita support per student has increased from $200 to $2,500 per student. In other words, Bowling Green has been able to improve the quality of its academic programs and facilities.

The Role and Mission of BGSU

BGSU is a community of educators, students, and professionals who are dedicated to educational excellence. Our mission is to provide a comprehensive education and to prepare our students for productive citizenship and successful careers. We believe that education is a lifelong process that fosters personal and intellectual growth.

I. Students

By responding to our students' educational needs, the University has successfully met the needs of students who have varying levels of academic preparation. The University has established a comprehensive academic support program that includes remediation services and academic advisement. These programs are designed to help students succeed in their academic endeavors.

II. Academic Programs

BGSU's academic programs are designed to prepare students for productive citizenship and successful careers. We offer a wide range of programs in various disciplines, including the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences.

III. Research

BGSU is committed to research that will serve the common good and make a positive impact on society. Our faculty members are engaged in research that addresses important social, economic, and environmental issues.

IV. External Support

BGSU receives financial support from a variety of sources, including federal, state, and private contributions. These funds are used to support our academic programs, research initiatives, and community service projects.

V. Student Services

BGSU provides a variety of student services, including counseling, health services, and career development. These services are designed to support the academic and personal growth of our students.

VI. Institutional Advancement

BGSU is committed to institutional advancement, which includes fundraising and public relations. We strive to build strong partnerships with our alumni, donors, and other stakeholders.

The Mission of the University and Its Goals

BGSU is a community of educators, students, and professionals who are dedicated to educational excellence. Our mission is to provide a comprehensive education and to prepare our students for productive citizenship and successful careers. We believe that education is a lifelong process that fosters personal and intellectual growth.

I. Students

By responding to our students' educational needs, the University has successfully met the needs of students who have varying levels of academic preparation. The University has established a comprehensive academic support program that includes remediation services and academic advisement. These programs are designed to help students succeed in their academic endeavors.

II. Academic Programs

BGSU's academic programs are designed to prepare students for productive citizenship and successful careers. We offer a wide range of programs in various disciplines, including the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences.

III. Research

BGSU is committed to research that will serve the common good and make a positive impact on society. Our faculty members are engaged in research that addresses important social, economic, and environmental issues.

IV. External Support

BGSU receives financial support from a variety of sources, including federal, state, and private contributions. These funds are used to support our academic programs, research initiatives, and community service projects.

V. Student Services

BGSU provides a variety of student services, including counseling, health services, and career development. These services are designed to support the academic and personal growth of our students.

VI. Institutional Advancement

BGSU is committed to institutional advancement, which includes fundraising and public relations. We strive to build strong partnerships with our alumni, donors, and other stakeholders.

Reaccreditation progress updated

The first phase of the University's reaccreditation process, which was completed in June 1989, resulted in a favorable evaluation of the University's administrative, educational, and student services. The University was recommended for reaccreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities, which is the accreditation body for BGSU.

The second phase of the University's reaccreditation process, which was completed in December 1989, resulted in a favorable evaluation of the University's academic programs and services. The University was recommended for reaccreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities, which is the accreditation body for BGSU.

The third phase of the University's reaccreditation process, which was completed in June 1990, resulted in a favorable evaluation of the University's financial stability and fiscal management. The University was recommended for reaccreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities, which is the accreditation body for BGSU.
ANNOUNCEMENTS OF 'FOOTNOTE' POLICY OUTLINED

Announcements of 'footnote' policy is outlined in the following.

I. Scope of the Policy
- The policy applies to all announcements related to research activities.
- It includes guidelines for the use of proper referencing and citation.
- The policy aims to ensure transparency and accountability in the publication process.

II. Compliance with the Policy
- Researchers must follow the guidelines outlined in the policy.
- Failure to comply may result in the rejection of publications.

III. Enforcement of the Policy
- The editorial board is responsible for enforcing the policy.
- Peer reviewers will check compliance with the policy before acceptance.

IV. Updates and Amendments
- The policy will be reviewed and updated on a regular basis.
- Amendments will be communicated to all stakeholders.

V. Contact Information
- For any queries related to the policy, please contact the editorial board.

VI. Literature Cited
- All references should be included in the 'References' section.
- Proper citation of sources is crucial for the credibility of the research.

VII. Conclusion
- Adherence to the 'footnote' policy is essential for maintaining high standards in research publication.
- The policy is designed to support the dissemination of knowledge and promote academic integrity.

For further details and examples, please refer to the guidelines provided by the editorial board.
OBITUARIES

Doyt L. Perry

Doyt L. Perry, 82, the University's winningest football coach, died Feb. 10. Perry, a 1952 University graduate, began an coaching at Bowling Green in 1955 after four years of coaching at Ohio State University under Woody Hayes. Perry 1978 retired after 21 seasons as head football coach. Perry 1976 died Feb. 10 at the age of 82. Perry had been a resident of Bowling Green since 1955. Perry held a 395 winning percentage the 1958 season. Perry 1956 an assistant coach at Ohio State University before returning to Bowling Green as a graduate assistant in 1957. Perry went on to become the University's head football coach after 1964.

Perry's concern for students was reflected in his coaching. He emphasized the importance of education to his players, and he was known for his knowledge of the game. He was an excellent strategist, and his teams were known for their strong defense. Perry also had a strong work ethic, and he was known for his attention to detail on the field.

One of Perry's many former players and coaches went on to become professional football players. Among them was Don Cunningham, who played for the New England Patriots. Perry's influence was evident in the players he recruited and the way he coached them. He was a tough but fair coach, and he was respected by his players and the people who worked with him.

Perry was a member of the University's Athletic Hall of Fame and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989. He was also a member of the Ohio State University Athletics Hall of Fame and the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. Perry was a charter member of the University's football Hall of Fame, and he was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1970. While Perry was coach, the University's football program was successful, and the team won many games, including the 1955 national championship. Perry was a legend on the Bowling Green campus, and he was remembered for his dedication to the University and to the people who worked with him.

Perry's commitment to education and his success on the field are a testament to his dedication to his players and to the University. Perry was a true icon of the Bowling Green community, and he will be missed by many.

Classified Employment Opportunities

Search for faculty and staff positions is now open.

FacultY STAFF POSITIONS

FACULTY POSITIONS

The address, which will be followed by

Nonprofit Organization

General Science: teacher/assistant, full-time temporary, part-time temporary position.

Acted as chair of the Department of Romance Languages, the Department of Ethnic Studies, and the women's studies program.

M payable to non-profit organization, non-profit organizations, and Dr. Robert Peters, center, examine some of the archival collections. and Dr. Robert Peters, center, examine some of the archival collections.

The council also discussed changes to the grievance policy suggested by Administrative Council. Two main concerns were the timeline of the policy and to whom grievances should be reported.

John Piper, health, physical education and \n
Stephanie Wagger, a former student at the University, said she was excited to hear about the new film. "I've heard about it for a long time, and I'm really looking forward to seeing it," Wagger said. "It's going to be a great experience for everyone who's interested in filmmaking."