CROWDS ATTEND ANNUAL HOMECOMING

LARGE NUMBER RALLY FOR HOMECOMING

Under the auspices of the Inter-Sorority and Inter-Fraternity councils, one of the largest social functions in the history of the college occurred Friday night in the men's gymnasium, when the student body and faculty welcomed the alumni and former students. It is reported by reliable authorities that over 1200 students and alumni were present. The main attraction of the evening was a series of tableaux, representing the Colleges of Arts and Education and departments, presented by the Inter-Fraternity and Inter-Sorority Councils, and announced by Wayne Champion. The gym was decorated in the college colors, and the dance programs were also carried out in the same color scheme. The large crowd refreshed themselves with cider and doughnuts between dances. Much appreciation is due the chairman of the various committees in charge of the dance: Mildred Lantz, entertainment; Mason Thompson, publicity; Lenna Contaln, decorations; Lucille Clague, refreshments; Hope Conrad, orchestra; Irene Knapp, doormen; Yvonne Michaels, checkroom; and George Lutman, programs.

Over 1500 fans attended the Capital-Bowling Green game Saturday afternoon, where they saw the two evenly matched teams play a scoreless tie game. On Saturday evening the men's gymnasium was the scene of another party when the alumni organization, under the presidency of Mr. Lyle Willhite, sponsored a dance for alumni, and their husbands, wives and sweethearts. The guests enjoyed dancing to the strains of Ted Bennet's orchestra.

Three days of frenzied activity marked the 12th Annual Homecoming of Bowling Green State College. Beginning Friday evening, the schedule did not have a vacant period, for when there was not an actual event on the program, there were group meetings for breakfasts, luncheons, dinners and banquets.

OVERHEARD AT A FOOTBALL GAME

"Aren't those new football suits simply gorgeous! I just love brown and gold together. Don't you, Jane? Oh, look at number 40! Hasn't he got the most perfectly divine shoulders you ever saw? He was voted the handsomest end of the conference last year. Sh-h-h, I'm not supposed to tell this to anybody, but I'll tell you if you promise not to breathe it to a soul. Mary told Ruth that she saw him Wednesday night sitting in the park with Anne. I don't see how Anne dates a big shot like that. Do you? I'm not conceited, but I really think I'm better looking than she is.

"What's all that shouting about? Why, I do believe we made a home run. I mean a touchdown. Isn't that what you call it? No, I guess it was the other team. Which is our goal anyway? I never can remember. Some day I'm going to read all about football. Look quick; number 61 is kicking the ball. Why, girls, he's the blond who used to go with Kate. I'll bet she's sorry now that she threw him over. I wish I had a boy friend on the football team.

"See that cute hat, two rows in front of us, third from the right? Don't you think I'd look sophisticated if I had one like it? What's the score? I wonder if we're winning or not. I hope we do, because then we'll have a snake dance. I just adore snake dances. They're so romantic. Did you say we were losing? Oh, dear!"

"Don't you look now, but that new boy from Chicago is sitting just two rows up. For my part, I'm not interested the slightest bit he's too studious; I never could stand a boy who was more interested in making grades than in anything else. Give me a handsome athlete any time!"

"Let's cheer, girls, and show our school spirit. Oh, I guess that's the other cheerleader. No, that's our side, because the cheerleader has red hair. Don't you think he looks darling? I wonder why we're cheering so loud. They just marked a seven up on the scoreboard. Is that how much you get for a touchdown? Didn't I tell you we'd make a touchdown pretty soon? You can't beat dear old Bee Gee. I always did say that.

"Why does that man in white shoot off that gun every once in a while? It's enough to scare a person to death. I always hold my breath for fear he'll kill someone in the audience. They ought not to let him carry it. Now, if I were the police chief—"

"I guess the game must be over. Everyday, people seems to be leaving. Did we win? Yes? Hurrah! Now for a snake dance. That was a swell game, wasn't it, Jane? Weren't you thrilled to pieces? Football always was my favorite sport."

SHATZEL SNITCHES

When the dorm was closed over the week end everyone went home. The main question was, "How are you going home." Now editor, no, "When in doubt do nothing."

One Wednesday the Shatzel Hall girls whose birthdays were in October or September were honored by a birthday dinner. Is this getting serious between Dot and Rusty?

Nora Silva, aren't you ashamed of yourself bringing a mouse in the dorm. Well girls, back to the old routine after a hilarious week-end.

Students have you seen the boys who have been nicknamed Clark Gable, Doug Fairbanks Jr., Buddy Rogers, Robert Montgomery, etc. by the girls of Shatzel Hall.

Costumes of all the nations of Europe appeared at the W. A. A. Foreign Festival, on Wednesday, Nov. 1, in the women's gym. Dutch girls, Russians, Chinese, Japanese, Frenchmen joined in the stunts, dancing, and games of the evening. They played hopscotch in the Scotch booth, and their fortunes told and learned Danish, German and Swedish folk dances.

In the course of the evening the girls joined in a Grand March. The four prize-winning costumes of the party were selected and announced immediately afterward. The first prize went to Mary Ellen Kyle, who was dressed as "Mrs. Mahatma Ghandi in Alaska". Frances McElaney, Evelyn Wentz and Ruth Andrews won second, third and fourth prizes.

W. A. A. members took a few minutes out to vote on a new Head of Basketball for the coming season. Mary Silva was elected.

The evening ended with dancing.
WISE AND OTHERWISE

Only dead fish float with the stream. Live ones swim against it.

When Denison News Bureau statisticians figured last year that the average Denison date cost the male 10 cents, a rival at Miami University claimed the same distinction for that school. New Denison claims the low-rate record alone, for restaurant owners in Oxford, seat of Miami, have set a minimum charge on all booths. What does the average Bowling Green date cost?

DELHI BANQUET

Not in accordance with previous announcements the Delhi Fraternity held its Annual Homecoming banquet at the house. Fifty men, including the faculty advisors of the fraternity, the alumni members, Dr. H. E. Whitaacre and Dr. T. O. Whitaacre, mayor of Bowling Green, were present. The usual plans were carried out and arrangements were made for the coming year. Among the many enjoyable guests to take place during the ensuing year, there is one to which the boys are especially looking forward to. A chicken supper through the welcome arrangements of a particular kind of a friend of the fraternity, will be given at a convenient time in the very near future.

The members of the fraternity took particular delight in welcoming the boys to share their quarters with them and in making them feel at home at all times during their stay here. The fraternity acted in accordance with other organizations of the college and city and believes that the members of the alumni took notice of the wholehearted hospitality and welcome that was extended to them by their various hosts.

COMMONERS

The Commoners' Fraternity held their annual Homecoming dinner at Harvey's restaurant at midnight Saturday with about twenty-five members and guests in attendance. The outstanding feature of the gathering was the total absence of speeches of any kind, a truly noble precedent.

The Commoner's House on E. Wooster street was crowded to its capacity during the festive week-end by former friends and associates formed six participating. The Athletic Committee is now organizing a basketball team, and has started a Handball Tournament.

Last Thursday the group had Dr. Overman and Dr. Hisongs as guests, while Prof. Powell gave a stimulating talk on "Entelechy". The speaker aptly demonstrated the Biblical axiom, "as ye sow, so shall ye reap", and earnestly warned his listeners to beware of seed oats of the "wild" variety.

The organization meets in Room 104-A at 7:00 P.M. every Thursday night. The officers are: Max Dunipace, president; Stanley Fisher, secretary; and Burton Beards, treasurer.

LAS AMIGAS

"Well! Well! Hello! How are you? Are you teaching? Isn't that fine. Do you like it? Is it anything like practice teaching?" These are a few of the many remarks which greeted each individual upon her arrival.

The "would be" teachers entertained their "school-marm" sisters Saturday evening after the football game. Amidst much conversation and laughter, tea was served to everyone's delight. Oh, it did taste as good when one was half frozen.

In place of laughter, the departure of these alumni brought tears. Homecoming is over once more. Next year, we will be members of the outgoing group—the alumni.

3-K PLEDGES

Gosh! Wasn't it fun? Our Homecoming dinner at the Woman's Club brought us together once more and of course, "remember when" was the topic of every conversation.

"The Big Hunt" on Saturday night was certainly a test of our acquisitive powers—imagine being told to bring back a horse shoe and an old picture frame.

The following girls were given the third degree at our last meeting: Nedra Reed, Helen Mae Park, Yvonne Michaels.

"Topsy," said the mistress to the maid, "just look at this table. Why, I can write colored maid, "Ah wishes ah was educated."

"It must be wonderful," commented the colored maid, "Ah wishes ah was educated."

The Falcons proved themselves to be far superior to this strong Capital team in punting, passing and ouplayed them in general, but their being unable to score is no discredit to them. Keep up the good work fellows and beat Hircm next week.

SPORT FLASHES

Carl Stephens played a wonderful brand of football on the line Saturday.

Pemberton did not play up to par game he played at Ohio Northern where he tore the line to pieces and hit the Polar Bears for losses.

Next Saturday will be the last Varsity event till Jan. 6, 1934, when the Falcons will open their local cage season with Findlay.

We have lots of fine material for basket ball and are expecting to be high in the conference standing.

Let’s all be out for that Hirzm game Fri.
