TODAY: The Bowling Green State University football team will battle in-state foe Cincinnati today for bragging rights in the state. The two teams are meeting for only the second time in their histories despite the proximity of the schools. What makes it even harder to believe is the fact that Cincinnati has had a program since 1885 and BG since 1919.

BG PLAYERS AMONG NATIONAL LEADERS: According to the latest NCAA statistics, two BG players and a special teams unit are among the national leaders. The punt return team is ranked 19th in the nation after the first three weeks of the season averaging 13.0 yards per return. Individually, tailback LeRoy Smith’s average of 111.5 yards per game is 19th best in the nation while junior safety Dave Bielinski is tied for third in the country averaging one interception per game.

BG GAMES BY PHONE: All BGSU games this season can also be heard by telephone through a service provided by TRZ Sports, Inc. in Kent, Ohio. By dialing 1-800-232-3396 and entering a VISA or Mastercard number a person can listen to the live radio broadcast of the game over the phone. The broadcast includes everything, including commercials, from the pre-game show to the post-game show. A listener is charged on a sliding scale that decreases the longer a person listens. For example, a three-hour game would cost $38.95. The Gary Blackney Show is also carried by TRZ and can be heard by calling the same telephone number on Monday evenings.

THE GARY BLACKNEY SHOW: Every Monday evening throughout the season, the Gary Blackney Show will be held at Kaufman’s (downtown location) Restaurant. The show will begin at 7 p.m. and be broadcast live on WFOB radio (1430 AM). Fans can talk to Coach Blackney at the restaurant or by calling (419-352-4200 or 419-435-5555) the station.

HEAD COACH

GARY BLACKNEY

Gary Blackney got quite a birthday present this year - a present he had paid his dues to receive. Five days prior to his 46th birthday, December 5, 1990, Blackney was named the 14th head football coach in the 72-year history of the program at Bowling Green State University.

Blackney has more than paid his dues having made stops at seven different universities from one side of the map to the other covering 24 years of coaching on the collegiate level. All 24 years were spent as an assistant until BGSU Athletic Director Jack Gregory changed that in early December.

The new BGSU mentor has helped get some of the top programs in the country to where they are today including UCLA, which played in the Fiesta Bowl in Blackney’s first season there, Syracuse and Ohio State.

Blackney comes to the Falcon program after spending the last seven seasons at Ohio State where he coached the defensive backs for one season (1984), was the defensive coordinator for three seasons (1985-87) and coached the inside linebackers and the special teams the last three seasons. During Blackney’s coaching tenure the Buckeyes played in four bowl games, including the 1985 Rose Bowl, and compiled a 53-27-3 record. OSU earned the Big Ten title in 1984 and shared the league crown with Michigan in 1986.

Blackney’s 1986 defensive unit led the Big Ten in scoring defense and was fourth in the nation in turnover margin. OSU was ranked in the top 10 of both wire service polls in 1986.

The Plainview, New York native began his coaching career at his alma mater, Connecticut, in 1967 where he spent three seasons. Blackney earned his undergraduate degree in education from Connecticut in 1967 and one year later received his master’s in physical education while also coaching. He was a running back for head coach Rick Forzano at Connecticut during his playing days starting as both a junior and senior.

In 1970 he moved to the Ivy League where he coached the defensive backs for three seasons at Brown. From there he spent two seasons as the defensive coordinator while coaching the quarterbacks and running backs at Rhode Island. In 1975, he began a three-year stay at Wisconsin where he coached the defensive backs for two seasons (1975-76) before being named the defensive coordinator for the 1977 season.

The next stop for Blackney was the West Coast where he worked with the defensive backs at UCLA. Kenny Easley earned consensus All-American honors at defensive back under Blackney’s tutelage. Following his stint at UCLA, Blackney joined Dick MacPherson at Syracuse in 1980 where he spent four seasons coaching the defensive backs while helping get the Syracuse program back in the national limelight. Blackney also served as the recruiting coordinator for one season while at Syracuse.

Gary and his wife, Lauretta, have four children, Debbie, 24, David, 23, Kyle, 16 and Gary Jr., 12.

Founded in 1946, the Mid-American Conference is one of the nine Division I-A conferences in the country along with the ACC, Big 10, Big Eight, Big West, PAC-10, SEC, SWC, and WAC.

The MAC consists of nine state-supported institutions in the midwestern states of Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. The nine current members—Ball State University, Bowling Green State University, Central Michigan University, Eastern Michigan University, Kent State University, Miami University, Ohio University, the University of Toledo and Western Michigan University—have all been members of the conference for 16 or more years.

For the first time since 1986, the configuration of the MAC will change next season as the University of Akron becomes a league member and will vie for conference titles in 13 sports. The Akron football program is under the guidance of former Cincinnati Moeller and Notre Dame coach Gerry Faust. The Zips play their home games at the Akron Rubber Bowl.

Throughout its existence, the MAC has been in the forefront of national legislation that has enhanced the academic integrity of intercollegiate athletics. The MAC has had an academic progress rule, strengthened admittance standards and qualitative grade point average requirements for its student-athletes long before the NCAA adopted or discussed implementing such academic standards.

The MAC currently sponsors 18 championships. In men's sports, the MAC has sponsored championships in football, baseball, cross country, golf, tennis, and track and field since its founding, and added swimming and wrestling championships five years later.

In 1980, the MAC Council of Presidents voted to bring women's athletics into the conference structure. The MAC currently sponsors women's championships in basketball, cross country, field hockey, gymnastics, softball, swimming, tennis, track and field, and volleyball.

In the 45-year history of the conference, numerous MAC football teams and players have received national recognition. Bowling Green was recognized as the national college division champion in 1959, and Ohio won similar honors in 1960. After MAC teams achieved major college status, Toledo compiled a 35-game winning streak from 1969-71, the second longest such streak in modern major college football history. Miami beat Florida, Georgia and South Carolina in the 1973, 1974 and 1975 Tangerine Bowls. In the last few years, among the non-conference victims of MAC teams are opponents from the Big 10, Big Eight, SEC and WAC.

The 1991 MAC Champion will represent the conference against the champion of the Big West Conference in the California Raisin Bowl on December 9 in Fresno, CA.

MAC schools have a reputation for developing outstanding coaches. In the 1989 Fiesta Bowl, which pitted Notre Dame against West Virginia for the national championship, it was Kent graduate Lou Holtz against Bowling Green graduate Don Nehlen. On the same day in the Rose Bowl, Miami graduate Bo Schembechler directed his Michigan team to victory over Southern Cal coached by Bowling Green graduate Larry Smith. Among other current or former head coaches who played at and/or coached at MAC schools are Woody Hayes, Ara Parseghyan, Don James, Paul Brown, Bill Mallory, Dave McClain, Don McCafferty, Weeb Ewbank, Frank Lauterbur, John Pont and two of the three 1988 inductees into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame: Doyt Perry and Jack Mollenkopf.

Among current NFL players from MAC schools, Dolphins' linebacker John Offerdahl (Western Michigan) was the 1986 Rookie of the Year, Rams' center Doug Smith (Bowling Green) is a Pro Bowler and 14-year veteran; and defensive lineman Brent Williams (Toledo) is a rising star with the Patriots.

After concluding successful NFL careers, Bernie Casey (Bowling Green) and Tim Brown (Ball State), two former standout at current MAC schools, went to Hollywood and have made numerous television and movie appearances.

MAC student-athletes are regularly selected to the GTE Academic All-America teams. In the last seven years alone, MAC student-athletes have received Academic All-America honors 98 times. Since the Academic All-America program was established 21 years ago, MAC football players have earned that distinction 47 times.

THE BIG, UGLY ONES

It's a bird, it's a plane, it's a BUO. A BUO!
A BUO has nothing to do with an extra-terrestrial being that goes by almost the same initials. Instead, the moniker is what the Bowling Green State University defensive linemen call themselves.

And the way this group of players fly around the field on Saturday afternoons, opposing coaches might think they have unhuman characteristics. They've caused more problems for opposing coaches than E.T. did to Elliott.

Tongue in cheek, senior defensive lineman Paul Harris said you have to go no farther than looking at the members of the line to figure out where the name came from.

The name evolved from many late nights spent together by Harris and the other two senior members of the group, nose guard Mark Ross and lineman Steve Wilbourne. A sure signal that you are in the presence of a BUO member is a towel wrapped around their neck underneath their letterman's jacket.

"Many late nights, that's how it got started," said Ross, a first team All-MAC selection last year.

"There's not much reason to why we do it, but, then again, there's not much reason for the Big, Ugly Ones," said Harris, who has almost 150 tackles in two years at BG since transferring from Slippery Rock.

Part of the reason for coming up with a name was to add some humor to the practices that take place in the spring and the fall during hot weather.

"After being out there in the heat practicing, we came up with the name as a way to try and lighten it up and have some fun," Harris said.

The members of the BUO fraternity have been known to mess up the calls of the offensive lineman with their own chant.

"Last year we would get down in our stance and there would be a call word," Ross said. "Then one of us would say "big", one of us would say "ugly", and one of us would say "ones." Then the lineman would look at us funny trying to figure out what we were talking about."

Maybe more than any other sport, football players can develop a strong comraderie among themselves. Wilbourne, who has over 200 tackles in his career, thinks that is the main reason the BUOs developed.

"This whole thing came about because of the amount of time we spend together associated with football, whether it is a practice, a meeting, or lifting. The reason why this ever came about was the comraderie that has developed among the guys at our position."

The tradition looks like it will not die when the trio of seniors complete their careers Nov. 16 against Ball State in the final game of the season. Sophomore lineman Bob Dudley will be asked to carry the torch.

"Bob is really the #1 substitute for all of us which makes him one of us," Wilbourne said. "We even let him make big, ugly calls on the field once and a while."

"I hope to be able to carry on the BUO tradition, but losing these three seniors, who are the whole personality of the thing, will be hard," Dudley said.

If it's up to the BUO's, the Falcons will have an impact in the MAC this season.

"I think we have shown that we can play with anybody," Wilbourne said. "I still don't think we've played our best game together. We should get better and better each week."

"As long as we keep playing hard and sticking together as a team we'll continue to improve. I realistically think we can be in contention in the MAC for the top spot."

"It's our last chance, our last dance as seniors," Harris said. "We would certainly like to go out as winners."

After the first two games of the season, Paul Harris had 14 tackles, four of those for minus yardage.
George Johnson was the second freshman in as many seasons to lead the team in rushing carrying the ball for 427 yards last season. Junior LeRoy Smith led the 1989 team in rushing yards.

LAST YEAR: Behind the play of tailbacks LeRoy Smith and George Johnson, both of whom gained over 100 yards, the Falcons took a 34-20 decision at Riverfront Stadium in the first-ever meeting of the two schools. Smith rushed for 112 yards in a little over a quarter before suffering an ankle injury which ended his day. Enter Johnson, who carried 14 times for 107 yards, including 30 on the go-ahead touchdown run. Nose guard Mark Ross forced a fumble in the fourth quarter to set up Johnson's clinching TD. The game was first in which two BG backs had run for over 100 yards since October, 1978. BG's 286 yards rushing as a team were the most since 1979 while the Falcons earned 250 rushing yards. BGSU compiled a 33-9-3 (.766) record in its last 45 home games while the record improves to 31-6-3 (.813) in home MAC contests. The Falcons have split their last 10 non-conference games played at Perry Field, including wins in four of their last six games.

HOME SWEET HOME: BGSU has enjoyed a great deal of success in home contests over the last few seasons. BGSU has compiled a 33-9-3 (.766) record in its last 45 home games while the record improves...

Two of the leaders of a veteran defensive unit will be linebacker Kevin O’Brien (#48) and lineman Paul Harris (#53). Harris was sixth on the team in tackles last year while O’Brien was ninth.

THE FALCON CLUB NEEDS YOU!

To All Falcon Fans:
You are the key to success for our Falcon teams! The BGSU Athletic Department depends on the Falcon Club to raise more than $265,000 in 1991. This money will help fund athletic grants-in-aid, assist in the recruiting of prospective student-athletes, and provide funding for athletic facilities budgets.

Members of the Falcon Club are alumni, parents, friends and fans who provide financial support, volunteer hours and advisory expertise to the BGSU athletic program and share in the many benefits the Falcon Club has to offer.

The Falcon Club has ambitious goals for 1991 and is eager to involve YOU in our activities. The need to support our program is at an all-time high. Your financial contribution and BGSU’s athletic program are a winning combination.

We are very proud that Bowling Green’s athletic program is recognized as one of the best in the country. All of our 19 teams are highly competitive and very representative. Falcon Club membership offers you the opportunity to support these teams. Falcon Club donations have greatly aided our program, and to continue that winning tradition throughout the 1991-92 campaign will require another supreme Falcon Club effort.

I look forward to having you join the Falcon Club in 1991!

Sincerely,
Charles F. Nagle
Associate Athletic Director

I am interested in learning more about the Falcon Club and its activities.

Nick Sims started nine games last season at an offensive tackle position. He will be one of the offensive leaders on an offensive line that has a good mix of youth and experience this season.

Senior Scott Lindsey is returning to the fullback position, which he played his freshman season. The last two years Lindsey has been a defensive back.
LeRoy Smith is coming off an injury-plagued sophomore campaign but is one of the most dangerous players in the MAC combining the ability to catch the pass with a slashing running style.

Their names are familiar, because they have made an impact on football at all levels of the game — high school, college, and professional.

They belong to the Falcons’ Nest of Coaches, an organization created in 1984 for the purpose of promoting the proud tradition of Bowling Green Falcon football. Through the development of student and graduate-assistant programs at Bowling Green, most of these coaches got their start at this Mid-American Conference institution. They’ve studied and matured under the coaching philosophies of Warren Steller, Robert Whittaker, Doyt Perry, Bob Gibson, Don Nehlen, Denny Stolz and Moe Ankney, to name a few. Today, they are making a name for themselves and for their respective football programs around the country. Though they may be miles apart, they share at least one thing in common. They are members of a fine football coaching fraternity at Bowling Green State University, the Falcons’ Nest of Coaches.

For the last ten years, the Mid-American Conference has been sending its champion to the California Raisin Bowl in Fresno, California. Hosted by Fresno State University in its 40,552-seat Bulldog Stadium, the Cal Bowl pits the MAC Champ against the Big West Conference Champion.

The 1991 Cal Raisin Bowl is scheduled for December 14.

Bowling Green is one of two MAC teams to have made the trip to Fresno twice, with Toledo being the other. The Falcons appeared in Cal Bowl II on December 19, 1982 and lost a 29-28 heartbreaker to Fresno State. BG had a 21-0 third-quarter advantage in that game.

The Falcons met Fresno State again in Cal Bowl V, but this time the Bulldogs rolled to a 51-7 victory on December 14, 1985. BG also lost its head coach, Den- ny Stoltz, who announced earlier in the week he was leaving to coach at San Diego State.

More than just a bowl game, the California Raisin Bowl is a community happening for San Joaquin Valley citizens, whose support benefits the Valley Children's Hospital. The benevolence of the Greater San Joaquin Valley Sports Association is displayed as every aspect of the Cal Bowl revolves around the well-being of the young patients of the Valley Children's Hospital.

Fund-raising activities include a 10K run, bike rally, and a coronation ball, in addition to the bowl game. The Cal Bowl has generated more than $300,000 for hospital equipment and services.

Twenty years and 3 million calls later
Campus Fact Line is still a know-know

Sometime before noon on April 28, 1971, the phrase “Campus Fact Line, may I help you?” was spoken for the first time. The newly formed telephone information service was designed to control rumors and give students accurate information about anti-Vietnam War protests on this and other campuses.

The service was the brain-child of then-public relations student Neil Olsen ’72. Twenty-seven students took advantage of his idea that day.

Then, sometime around 2 p.m. the next day, a student called and asked, “What is the difference between ice cream and custard?” Fact Line’s other mission—as a general information service—was born.

Today, as Campus Fact Line begins its 20th full year of operation, its mission has not changed—but its work load has.

Instead of answering 27 calls a day, today’s operators answer 27 calls in about one-half hour.

In all, about 200,000 calls are received each year and in 20 years, the total has topped the three-million mark. In those two decades, there have been some memorable moments—both large and small. Following are some of them:

Snow job. The most calls Fact Line has answered in one day is 2,532—the first day of the blizzard of 1978. During the first four days of the blizzard, operators talked to more than 9,000 persons. The day before the National Guard arrived to dig out the town, operators were in hourly contact with grocery store managers so they could inform callers about what types of foodstuffs remained, and where.

A worldwide network. Since the mid-1980s, an unidentified alumnus has called Fact Line every Saturday and Sunday during hockey season to see how the Falcons have fared. But that doesn’t surprise the operators: they regularly get calls from alumni and students from as far away as South America and Europe.

One recent graduate was about to enter a business meeting when he realized he needed a specific fact about the U.S. economy; his first thought was to call Fact Line. Before hanging up, he thanked the student operator for finding the information so quickly and warned her of the frustrations of trying to find a pay phone in downtown Tokyo.

Helpful even when closed. When not in operation, callers receive a tape recorded message. Information on the message is updated daily and about 120 students call each day to listen to the tape.

The rumor that refuses to die. Most rumors are easily put to rest, but one resurfaces during each exam period. About 10 students call each finals week to ask, “Is it true that if my roommate dies, I get an automatic four-point?” No, put that knife away, it’s only a rumor.

My what is what?! One fall evening in 1971, operator Patrick Boyle ’76 received a call from a student wondering why fire trucks were in front of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity house. Boyle did some investigating and found that firemen had just put out a fire in his room.

Dumbest question. No operator has heard a question that tops this one received in the mid-1980s. In all seriousness, the student asked, “What time does the midnight movie start?”

Strangest question asked each and every year. It’s “What are the steps in the Library made of?” It appears to be part of an assignment for a geology class. Oh, they’re made of granite.

Say what?! Expected to answer two phones, operators greet callers with either “Fact Line, may I help you?” or, if another call is in progress, “Fact Line, will you hold please?” After three hours and 180 questions, an operator sometimes confuses those phrases and asks either, “Fact Line, will you help me?” or “Fact Line, may I hold you?”

The night the lights went out. During a severe thunderstorm in the spring of 1983, the campus lost electrical power, but not phone service. For the next two-and-one-half hours, two operators answered more than 500 questions—in the dark. Their only source of light in the windowless room was one shared flashlight.

Nicest thank you. As each graduation approaches, many seniors call to express their thanks for the help Fact Line has given during their years here. But the nicest thank you may have come via postcard in 1976. A picture of Wood County Hospital was on one side and this message was on the back: “I wanted to thank you for your prompt service. Because of you I made the proper connections with the infirmary and my appendix has now been properly disconnected. Thanks for being there. Love, Jane.”

Campus Fact Line. Same number (372-2445). Same place. Different students. Senior Chris Hibbitt is one of about 150 students who have worked for the telephone service since it began operations 20 years ago. While the phones have become a little sleeker and much of the information is now stored in computers, the job still requires the operators to be prepared for any question.

BGSU IN THE NEWS
A LOOK BACK

VILLAPIANO NOW ATTACKING LIFE LIKE HE DID QUARTERBACKS

Trivia question.
Other than Los Angeles Rams center Doug Smith, a 14-year veteran, what former BGSU player had the next longest career in the National Football League?
If you guessed Dave Preston, Jeff Groth, Bob Schnelker or Fred Sturt you’re wrong. If you guessed Bob Reynolds you’re partially right.
Of BGSU’s football alumni one of the least recognized as that is Phil Villapiano, who enjoyed a 13-year career in the NFL, which along with Reynolds, is the second longest tenure of any former Falcon player.
The Asbury Park, N.J. native played for the Oakland Raiders in what could be termed their glory years, 1971-79. The Raiders made six consecutive postseason appearances between 1972 and 1977 with Villapiano, a second round pick, playing a major role in the success.
The former BGSU defensive end earned a spot in four Pro Bowls (1973-76) and was twice an All-AFC selection as an outside linebacker.
The highlight of his career came in 1976 when the Raiders captured the Super Bowl with a convincing 32-14 win over Minnesota in front of over 103,000 in the Rose Bowl.
“Out of all the things I was lucky enough to be a part of in pro football, without question the best thing was winning the Super Bowl,” said Villapiano, who played the final four years of his career with Buffalo. “For the rest of my life I will have a Super Bowl ring and all the memories that go along with it. It is something that many very, very good professional football players never got to experience.”
Villapiano played a big role in sending the Raiders on their way to victory in the Super Bowl putting one of his patented big hits on Viking running back Brent McClanahan near the goal line as they were heading in to score. The Raiders recovered the fumble and drove the length of the field for a touchdown and the rest is history.
“I loved pro football,” he said. “There is no better occupation for a person of my mentality. I never thought I was working for a day.”
Villapiano was highly thought of coming out of BGSU after earning first team All-MAC honors as a junior and senior. As a senior, Villapiano had 17 tackles for a loss totalling almost 100 yards. His senior year was the first season in which tackles were compiled and Villapiano was third on the team with 90. He was named the Defensive Player of the Year in the Mid-American Conference as a senior.
“The four years I spent at BG were the best of my life,” Villapiano said. “It was a tremendous educational experience while also being a springboard for the NFL. BGSU fit my personality, not to big and not to small, and had so many good people.”
His coach at BG, current West Virginia head coach Don Nehlen, has nothing but praise for Villapiano.
“I coached at BGSU for 12 years and I would have to say that Phil was the best player to go through the program during my tenure,” Nehlen said. “He loved to play the game and played it with an intensity that very few other players have. He had tremendous speed and made up for his lack of size with all the intangibles that make players great.”
Villapiano began his current career with Independent Container Line while he was still in professional football. His last five off-seasons he prepared for life after football by working for the company that now employs him full-time.
Based in Union, N.J., Villapiano works with importers and exporters in Europe shipping containerships back and forth overseas. Phil has two children, Andrea, 12, and Philip, 10 and is married to wife, Susan.

THANKS, B.G.!

We're not the most conspicuous copier store in the area. Which is why your business means so much to us. You see, we know that you know that story: while the big universities get the attention, BGSU just does its job... and develops programs, academic and athletic, to rival any in the Midwest! So... thank you, BG, for letting Goodremont's and Minolta to help you in "reproducing" your very considerable accomplishments.

In large measure, Bowling Green State University's success has centered on its ability to offer its students the educational diversity and excitement of a large university, while maintaining the caring and camaraderie of a small college.

As the University completes the first year of the new decade, it continues to build on that past while preparing students for the challenges of the fast approaching millennium.

Bowling Green's history began in 1910 when it was created by the Ohio legislature as a Normal School for the training of teachers. In 1914, when Bowling Green opened its doors, 15 faculty members and 158 students were present. Today, the University has nearly 1,000 full- and part-time faculty and 18,000 students on its main campus. Degree programs are offered through the colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Allied Professions, Health and Human Services, Musical Arts, Technology and the Graduate College. Within the undergraduate colleges are schools of Art, Mass Communication, Nursing, and Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

In all, the University offers more than 170 undergraduate degree programs, 13 master’s degrees in 69 fields of study and doctoral degrees in 14 departments with more than 60 specializations.

In addition to courses on the main campus, the University's Firelands College campus, located in Huron, Ohio, offers five associate degree programs, as well as courses which fulfill the first two years of a bachelor's degree requirement. Firelands enrollment tops 1,500 students.

Fully accredited at the highest state, regional and national levels, the University has chapters of most national academic honor societies, including Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi. Bowling Green is also a member of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges.

The University's faculty members, 78 percent of whom hold Ph.D's, include Fulbright Scholars, authors and nationally known researchers. The caliber of the faculty is reflected, too, in the number of academic programs which are regionally and nationally recognized. Three academic departments—chemistry, philosophy and industrial/organizational psychology—are home to Ohio Eminent Scholars. The scholar program was created by the Ohio Board of Regents to attract world-class educators and researchers to the state's universities.

While committed to teaching, faculty are researchers as well, generating new knowledge through independent research and involvement in University units such as the Population and Society Research Center, the Center for the Study of Popular Culture and the Social Philosophy and Policy Center.

Bowling Green is also the site of the National Drosophila Species Center and the Mid-America Stock Center—the largest scientific facilities of their kind in the world—where University faculty assist in supplying some 400 species of fruit flies to scientists involved in genetics and cancer research around the globe.

The University's students come from throughout the United States and nearly 60 foreign nations. While most students are between the ages of 18-22, the number of those older than 25 is increasing. Each academic year, more than 1,100 "non-traditional" adult students enroll in undergraduate and graduate programs on a full- or part-time basis.

The focal point of the 1,177-acre campus is the nine-story Jerome Library, with its collection of more than four million items, including 1.6 million volumes plus journals, periodicals, microforms, government documents and other materials. Special sections of the library include the Center for Archival Collections which houses materials relevant to northwest Ohio history and the Sound Recording Archives with 400,000 recordings. The Institute for Great Lakes Research, located in Perrysburg, contains an extensive collection of materials on the shipping industry's past and present.

The University is continually refurbishing its more than 100 existing buildings and upgrading facilities to meet current needs. In the past 10 years, nearly $116 million has been allocated for new construction and remodeling projects.

The University is also meeting the challenge of tomorrow's high-tech education. It currently has 19 computer labs, including one in every residence hall complex, for use by students. And this year, computers are being put into the rooms of Chapman Hall as part of a pilot program which may eventually lead to a computer in every residence hall room.

"An Environment for Excellence" Dr. Paul J. Olscamp adopted that slogan for his administration when he became Bowling Green State University's eighth president in 1982.

To create that environment, he charted a course that has moved Bowling Green into the ranks of the country’s most important colleges and universities. The effort focuses on teaching, research and service and involves a University-wide commitment to excellence.

Since arriving on campus, everything the president has done has been aimed at fulfilling that vision. Early in his administration, Olscamp and the faculty outlined the task ahead in a 27-goal document called the Role and Mission Statement. Most of the goals centered on improving the quality of incoming undergraduate and graduate students, the academic programs, the learning environment and the faculty and its resources.

Now, as Olscamp begins his 10th year at Bowling Green, many of those original goals have been met and new priorities have been established, including the recruitment of minority faculty and students, and greater emphasis upon research production.

One of his most important accomplishments has been to fully involve the faculty in University governance. Faculty now have a key role in developing the annual budget and share authority with the president in interpreting the University's Academic Charter. The faculty also have greater control over the curriculum and development of new academic programs.

While always a concern, finances have taken center stage in recent years. With a tightening state budget, Olscamp has directed efforts to increase private giving. During his tenure, the school's endowment has increased to nearly $32 million from $1.9 million when he arrived. Private contributions in 1990-91 exceeded $4 million.

In 1985, in an effort to increase minority representation on the campus, Olscamp ordered the creation of the Office of Multicultural Affairs to provide services to assist minority students. Recruitment efforts also were increased, with the Office of Admissions adding a director of minority recruitment. In addition, the University has increased the number of minority faculty, with the assistance of a special minority hiring fund.

Olscamp also brings a personal touch to his presidency. He frequently hosts both students and faculty as his home. He also holds periodic forums with students wanting to discuss campus issues.

A great deal has happened at Bowling Green since 1982. Here are some of the highlights:

Academic Programs

Creation of Bowling Green's first endowed professorships, in management, finance, chemistry and philosophy.

Development of the Center for Photochemical Sciences, the only one of its kind in the country. Photochemistry is a multibillion dollar growth industry and some key research for that industry is being conducted at Bowling Green.

Development of the Center for Quality, Measurement and Automation, the only center of its kind in the state designed to assist manufacturing and other businesses in the design and production of products.

The appointments of three Ohio Eminent Scholars in photochemical sciences, moral philosophy and industrial/organizational psychology; the positions are the result of three $500,000 grants from the Ohio Board of Regents.

The addition of doctoral programs in applied philosophy and photochemical sciences; the 13th and 14th Ph.D. offerings at Bowling Green.

In 1991, 52 freshmen who are also National Merit scholars enrolled at Bowling Green; in the past four years, more than 180 scholars attended the University, a total which places Bowling Green among the top 25 universities in the country.

Establishment of the University's first major scholarships for minority students.

Creation of a network of computer labs throughout the campus, including labs in each residence hall. This year computers are being installed in each room of one residence hall, part of a pilot project which could result in a computer being placed in every residence hall room on campus.

Development of a plan to restructure debt service obligations which is projected to result in a $35 million principle in 11 years. Interest on that amount, which could approach $3 million annually, will go toward the academic budget.

Completion of the most successful fund raising drive in University history. With the assistance of the development and alumni offices, the 75th Anniversary Fund raised more than $15 million in three years; well above the $12.5 million goal. Donations included the University's first two $1 million gifts—from the Stranahan Foundation of Toledo for the Social Philosophy and Policy Center and from Harold and Helen McMaster of Perrysburg for the McMaster Leadership Institute. In 1988 the Stranahan Foundation awarded a $3 million grant to the Social Philosophy and Policy Center.

Securing more than $5 million from the Board of Regent's Selective Excellence Programs, which are designed to attract top scholars, conduct pioneering research and develop centers of excellence. Grants have been awarded in both the sciences and the humanities.

Expansion of the library's holdings to more than four million items, including 1.6 million books, plus journals, periodicals, microforms, government documents and other materials.

Development of the Student Telephone Accessed Registration system which enables students to schedule their classes from a touchtone telephone. The STAR system has made long registration lines a part of University history.

Physical Plant

More than $116 million has been spent in the past 10 years for the construction of new buildings and upgrading existing buildings.

Completion of the $7.2 million Physical Sciences Laboratory Building in 1984 and a $3.65 million addition to the Business Administration Building in 1988.

Work is now underway to construct a $9.1 million addition to the Fine Arts Building.

Major renovation and refurbishing of existing campus buildings including Williams, Overman, Hayes and Shatzel halls, and Eppler Complex. construction of a $2 million office building to house faculty and staff temporarily displaced by renovation projects and later to be used for permanent offices.

University Finances

Creation of an internal endowment fund of $4 million from various University reserves. The balance is more than $8 million and is expected to reach $10 million in two years. Interest on the $10 million principle will be used to supplement the academic budget.

Development of a plan to restructure debt service obligations which is projected to result in a $35 million principle in 11 years. Interest on that amount, which could approach $3 million annually, will go toward the academic budget.

*Completion of the most successful fund raising drive in University history. As we move further into the final decade of the 20th century, the Bowling Green State University athletic department continues to maintain its status as one of the top programs in the country.

Bowling Green sports teams of the 1980s achieved a level of success matched by few and the 90s seem headed in the same direction.

Bowling Green claimed 23 conference titles during the 1980s, 19 in the Mid-American Conference and four in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association. Twenty-one teams were involved in postseason play in the NCAA, NIT and California Bowl.

The first year of the 90s yielded two BGSU teams that earned spots in postseason play.

Each of the 19 Falcon sports teams has helped build and maintain the “Winning Tradition” at BGSU.

BASEBALL—The program has a young, energetic leader in second-year head coach Danny Schmitz who will be looking to develop one of the top programs in the region. Schmitz, who played eight seasons of professional baseball, coached in the minor leagues at the AAA level. Many former BGSU players have gone on to play professional baseball including two of the top pitchers in the game today—Roger McDowell of the Philadelphia Phillies and Orel Hershiser of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

MEN’S BASKETBALL—Coach Jim Larranaga’s Falcons have accomplished something the last two years that hasn’t happened at BG since the early 60s. Last year’s NIT team made it consecutive postseason appearances for the basketball program for the first time since the 1962-63 season. The Falcons, who have beaten Big 10 power Michigan State each of the last two seasons, have been ranked among the top 20 teams in the country in the USA Today computer rankings each of the last two years. Historically, BGSU leads the MAC in postseason appearances (23 games) and victories (eight).

WOMEN’S BASKETBALL—Coach Fran Voll, a two-time MAC Coach of the Year, has led the Falcons to four MAC Tournament Championships and four NCAA Tournament appearances. Certainly one of the premier teams in the MAC, BG has ruled the conference compiling a 67-13 league record the last five years. The success of the program has attracted large crowds to Anderson Arena, including an MAC-record crowd of 4,100 for BG’s NCAA Tournament victory over Cincinnati in 1989.

CROSS COUNTRY—Bowling Green began the 1990s with Sid Sink in charge of the men and Steve Price directing the women. Sink, a former track and cross country All-American at BGSU, coached the BG women to four CC titles in the 1980s. Now, he’s out working his magic with the Falcon men. Price, an experienced coach on the national and international level, is in his second year as the head coach.

FOOTBALL—Bowling Green’s football program will take a “new direction” in 1991 as former Ohio State assistant coach Gary Blackney begins his first season heading the program. The program has renewed enthusiasm under Blackney, who will have 38 returning letter winners, including eight on defense. The BG defense was among the top 15 in the country last season in scoring defense. BG has a rich tradition having won two MAC titles and two trips to the California Raisin Bowl in the 1980s, while also setting the MAC single-game attendance record of 33,527 at Doyt Perry Field.

GOLF—Coach Greg Nye’s men’s and women’s golf team play on some of the most challenging courses in the country and in some of the most prestigious tournaments on the collegiate level. The Falcon men’s program has won four MAC Championships and made four NCAA Tournament appearances while the women’s program is annually among the best in the region.

GYMNASTICS—Year in and year out, Coach Charles Simpson fields an MAC title contender. With three MAC titles since 1980, the Falcons have qualified as a team for postseason competition five of the last eight years, including last season. In each of the last three seasons, his teams have consistently increased the school record for team score, led by Mary Beth Friel, who has qualified for the NCAA regional meet each of the last two seasons.

HOCKEY—A winning tradition is what the Falcon hockey program is all about. One of only five teams in the country to earn 20 or more wins every year between 1981 and 1990, BGSU will be looking to make its fifth NCAA Tournament appearance in the last six years this season. In all, the Falcons have appeared in nine NCAA Tournaments winning the 1984 national title. Coach Jerry York ranks among the best collegiate coaches of all-time with 421 career wins having led the Falcons to four CCHA regular season championships and one league playoff title. In all, the Falcons have won seven conference titles. BGSU has produced some of college hockey’s greatest names, including 15 players who currently play in the NHL or with an NHL affiliate.

SOCCER—Coach Gary Palmisano’s Falcons posted a winning record in all but one year of the 1980s and his teams in the 90s will look to continue that tradition. Perennially one of the top teams in the region, the Falcons should have one of their strongest teams in years this season. The BGSU schedule annually includes perennial NCAA power Indiana and other top teams in the region. BGSU also hosts the Kwik Goal/BGSU Classic having won the title in four of the six years the tournament has been contested.

SOFTBALL—Head coach Jacquie Joseph begins her fourth year in charge of the Falcon softball program. Four strong recruiting classes should produce a BG team that will be ready to challenge for the MAC title. The Falcons last won the MAC Championship in 1988, a year that ended with BGSU playing host to the NCAA Midwest Regionals.

SWIMMING—Coach Brian Gordon, MAC Co-Coach of the Year in 1988, is back for his fifth year with the Falcon men and women hoping to reap the benefits of his work recruiting during that time. The Falcon women have made winning a habit. It began with the 1981 MAC Championship and continued with second-place finishes in each of the next seven seasons. The Falcons train at beautiful Cooper Pool, one of the midwest’s top swimming and diving facilities.

TELENS -The Falcon tennis teams have the advantage of playing and practicing at one of the finest facilities of its kind in the region—Robert Keefe Courts. The men’s team, under the guidance of fourth-year coach Gene Orlando, is continuing to improve and will have three veterans returning this season. The women’s program is under the guidance of Penny Dean, who is beginning her second year.

TRACK & FIELD—Bowling Green, long associated with success in track and field, is fast becoming a regional power in field events. The Falcon men have claimed an MAC champion in the shot put or discus in three of the last four years, while the Falcon women have produced the last four MAC discus champions, including two-time All-American Beth Manson. Sid Sink heads the men’s track team, while Steve Price directs the women’s program.

Volleyball—Seven years of hard work by head coach Denise Van De Walle paid off in 1989 as the Falcons captured the regular-season MAC title breaking Western Michigan’s seven-year stranglehold and the Broncos 98-match league winning streak. Van De Walle, three times named the league Coach of the Year, has a chance to repeat the 1989 season this year as she will have all 10 players returning from a team that compiled a 26-7 record last year. BG has won 20 or more matches four of the last five years.
BASEBALL’S LOSS IS BG’S GAIN

The dream of many kids growing up is to have a shot at playing professional sports, especially the national pastime - baseball.

For Bowling Green State University senior safety Terry Wilson that chance came and went by his own doing.

Wilson was drafted by the Toronto Blue Jays following his senior season at Clintondale High School in Mt. Clemens, Mich. and spent that summer playing in the organization. But, by August he had decided he wanted to turn his full attention to football honoring the National Letter of Intent he had signed with the Falcons in February.

"I was one of those kids who thought about a professional baseball career growing up," Wilson said. "And I consider it an honor to have been drafted, but the game got to monotonous for me. In baseball, you go to the park and the routine is the same everyday - take batting practice, take some balls defensively and play the game. You don't get that monotony in football."

Ever since Wilson made the decision to go with football, he has been a fixture in BG's defensive backfield. After sitting out the 1987 season, he moved into the lineup as a red-shirt freshman the following season starting all 11 games finishing third on the team in tackles with 97 stops.

As a sophomore, Wilson started nine games while developing into one of the best special teams players in the MAC as a kickoff returner. Last season, Wilson was second on the team with 104 tackles and was third in the conference in kickoff returns with a 22.9-yard average on 11 returns. He also further developed his special teams skills blocking five extra point/field goal attempts.

Possibly the best all-around athlete on the team, Wilson uses those skills to block kicks.

"A lot of my success last year in blocking kicks has to go to the lineman in front of me who did a great job of getting penetration allowing me to get closer to the kicker," Wilson said. "At that point, I rely on my athletic abilities, especially my jumping ability, to block the kick."

Wilson, along with senior lineman Steve Ross, Steve Wilbourne and Paul Harris, anchor a veteran defense which returns eight starters from 1990 when they finished 15th in the nation in scoring defense. But, Wilson, a first team All-MAC selection last season, believes they can't live on their accomplishments of last season.

"We have to play like we did not have a good year last season and continue to improve as a unit," Wilson said. "If we do that, Coach Blackney believes we should have a very good defense this season."
Since his appointment 10 years ago as director of athletics at Bowling Green State University, John C. (Jack) Gregory has set a standard of excellence designed to place Falcon men’s and women’s teams on equal terms with today’s elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

To reach these goals, Gregory challenges his staff of administrators, coaches and classified personnel to settle for nothing less than the very best. His challenge has resulted in some of the finest moments in the history of intercollegiate athletics at BGSU:

- the 1984 NCAA Division I Ice Hockey Championship;
- 13 Mid-American Conference regular season championships in football, men’s and women’s basketball, softball, women’s cross country, gymnastics, men’s golf, and volleyball;
- two California Bowl appearances;
- four MAC postseason tournament championships;
- three Central Collegiate Hockey Association regular-season championships;
- one CCHA postseason tournament championship;
- 15 NCAA Tournament appearances in hockey, basketball, softball and gymnastics, including 11 in the last five years, the most of any MAC school over the period;
- three home NCAA Tournament berths in hockey, softball and women’s basketball;
- and the 1987-88 Jacoby Trophy, awarded annually to the MAC school with the best overall record in women’s sports.

Postseason appearances by the men’s basketball and the women’s gymnastics teams highlighted the 1990-91 year. The appearance of the men’s basketball team in the NIT for the second consecutive year marked the first time since the early 60s that the program had earned back-to-back postseason invitations.

The 1989-90 school year was highlighted by three Falcon teams advancing to postseason play. Hockey and women’s basketball returned to the NCAA Tournament, while men’s basketball played in the NIT. In 1989-90, Bowling Green was the only school in the country that sent teams to national postseason tournaments in those three sports.

Gregory came to Bowling Green during one of the most difficult periods in the school’s 73 years of intercollegiate athletics, a time when BGSU and the MAC were fighting for NCAA Division I-A status in football. Behind Gregory’s leadership, the football program attained I-A status.

Record crowds have attended Falcon football, hockey and women’s basketball games during Gregory’s tenure. Soccer, volleyball, gymnastics and softball are drawing larger crowds, too.

Another “first” during Gregory’s tenure occurred in the fall of 1989 when more than 25,000 fans turned out for the first night game in Perrymans Field history.

In 1983, 33,527 fans packed Perry Field to witness the Bowling Green-Toledo football clash, one of college football’s best rivalries. BGSU and MAC single game attendance marks fell that afternoon. Two years later, the Falcons drew a record 112,110 fans for five home games, giving BGSU the second-largest average attendance (22,422) in MAC history. In 1987, Bowling Green set still another MAC attendance record by playing in front of 84,574 fans at Penn State.

Sell-out crowds for BGSU hockey games are a tradition. The 1988-89 season featured the addition of 1,700 seats to the BGSU Ice Arena, and all attendance records were broken, including single game (5,005) and season (79,376) marks.

With the world of college athletics changing constantly, it is important for Gregory to be as active on the national level as he is. Gregory has served on numerous NCAA committees including the Executive Committee and is one of the most active athletic directors on a national level in the MAC. He has also served in many different capacities on the conference level, in both the MAC and CCHA.

Gregory, 63, has also been instrumental in the development of the Falcon Club, the University’s official athletic department booster club. Recent membership drives have encompassed all of northern and west central Ohio, resulting in unparalleled growth in cash and pledges. The Falcon Club has more than doubled its income and grown to such an extent that is compares favorably with any athletic support organization in the country.

Still, Gregory understands the integrity of college athletics depends on the continued emphasis of the “student” in student-athlete. In that regard, he appointed an academic coordinator in 1984, the first such appointment in the MAC.

Many BGSU student-athletes have excelled in the classroom. Volleyball’s Linda Popovich became the MAC’s first female to receive the Byers Scholarship in May, 1990. There were more than 170 BGSU scholar-athletes with grade point average of 3.0 or better in 1990-91, including one who was named an Academic All-American, raising the total to 15 Academic All-Americans in the last five years.

A 1952 graduate of East Stroudsburg State College and holder of a master’s degree from Temple University, Gregory was a teacher and coach at William Penn High School in New Castle, Delaware, and later at P.S. Dupont High School in Wilmington, Delaware. In 1959, he returned to East Stroudsburg as head football coach and assistant professor of physical education. One of the most successful coaches in the school’s history, Gregory was inducted into the East Stroudsburg Athletic Hall of Fame in October, 1983.

In 1965, Gregory was named assistant football coach at the U.S. Naval Academy. Two years later, he was named head football coach at Villanova University. In 1969, he moved to the University of Rhode Island, where he served as head football coach for seven years.

In his 25 years as a head coach, Gregory’s teams compiled a record of 132-69, including four undefeated seasons and seven league championships. He was twice selected as NAIA Coach of the Year, twice selected as Pennsylvania Coach of the Year and twice named NCAA District Coach of the Year once.

Gregory joined the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League in 1976 and served in the personnel department for three years, before becoming associate athletic director at Yale University from 1978-82.

Jack and his wife, Peg, reside in Bowling Green and are the parents of two sons and two grandchildren.
During the last decade, no one composer has had the impact on the motion picture industry that John Williams has. Also known as the present conductor of the world-renowned Boston Pops Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Williams has created a virtual "gold mine" of stirring melodies and themes for blockbuster movies.

Today, the Falcon Marching Band presents their "John Williams Spectacular" for you. From an extensive list of possible titles that include such movies as: "Jaws", "The Cowboys", "1941", and "Close Encounters of the Third Kind," we have selected to begin with themes from "Superman."

The success of the original "Superman" spurred an additional three sequels, all of which included movie scores of Williams'. Following the "man of steel," we move light years ahead to the "Star Wars" trilogy. From the original movie, we present the title theme.

Audience recognition and remembrance, often times, belies the success of a composer. Such in the case for today's first two selections. Our third segment, though not as familiar as the others, comes from the Indiana Jones sagas. From the final film, "The Last Crusade — The Search for the Holy Grail," we change the mood away from hard, driving energies to a more reverent, sonorous and lyrical melody.

The Falcon Marching Band salutes the musical contributions of John Williams. In hope that his creativity and talents enjoy continued success, we close this afternoon's halftime presentation with various themes from the smash motion picture, "E.T. — The Extra-terrestrial."

Good afternoon and welcome to Perry Field and today's game between the Bowling Green Falcons (1-1) and Cincinnati Bearcats (0-2). The game has been denoted Wood County Schools Day (formerly Welcome Back To School Day) in which all Wood County students, grades one through 12, have received a ticket for free admission. The event is co-sponsored by the Sentinel-Tribune and we appreciate its continued support. We also appreciate the support and assistance of Wood County school superintendent Delbert Brown and all Wood County school administrators for making this event a success.

The next home Falcon football game will be in two weeks when the Falcons host Central Michigan beginning at 1:30 p.m. The Chippewas were the Mid-American Conference preseason favorites. And, if that didn't get your attention, then certainly last week's victory over Michigan State did. The series between Bowling Green and Central Michigan started in 1924 and has been very competitive ever since — Bowling Green currently leads it, 14-13. Get your tickets today during halftime at the Will Call Ticket Booth located in the eastside concourse or during regular working hours at the Memorial Hall Ticket Office. Also, don't forget that the Toledo Rockets come to town October 19 during BGSU's Homecoming.

Attention hockey fans — the Falcon Icers will open their 1991-92 home season on Saturday, October 26 against the rival Ohio State Buckeyes. Ticket applications are now available. For more information contact the Memorial Hall Ticket Office at 372-2762.

Finally, just a reminder that tickets for all home Falcon football games can now be purchased at the Memorial Hall Ticket Office or at any of the nine area Ticket Outlets (listed below). Discounts are available for groups of 15 or more.

Alma Mater

Alma Mater hear us,
As we praise thy name
Make us worthy sons and daughters
Adding to thy fame.

Time will treat you kindly
Years from now you'll be
Ever dearer in our hearts,
Our University.

From your halls of ivy
To the campus scene,
Chimes ring out with gladness
From our dear Bowling Green.

When all is just a mem'ry
Of the by-gone days,
Hear our hymn dear Alma Mater
As thy name we praise.

Frieda & Freddie Falcon

Frieda Falcon and Freddie Falcon are the official mascots of the Bowling Green Falcons. Together with the BGSU Cheerleaders, Frieda and Freddie boost spirit at intercollegiate athletic events. Tryouts are held each spring, and the winners remain anonymous to the student body until each is beheaded at the last home hockey and basketball games. The Freddie Falcon tradition began in 1950 while Frieda Falcon was added in the 1979-80 athletic year.

Why The Falcons?

The 1989 season marks the 62nd anniversary of Bowling Green's nickname, Falcons. Before 1927, BG teams were called the Normals or Teachers. Ivan Lake '23 suggested the nickname, Falcons, after reading an article on falconry. Lake, managing editor and sports editor of the BG Sentinel-Tribune at the time, proposed the name change because it fit headline space and because falcons were "the most powerful bird for their size and often attacked birds two or three times their size."

Why Orange and Brown?

Burnt Orange and Seal Brown have been the school colors at Bowling Green State University since 1914, the first year of classes. Legend has it that Leon Winslow, an industrial arts faculty member, got the idea from watching a woman's hat on a bus trip to nearby Toledo, OH. He liked the brown and orange color combination.

DOYT L. PERRY FIELD

Bowling Green holds the MAC record for single-game attendance (33,527).

Doyt L. Perry Field, with its 30,000-plus seating capacity, is celebrating its 26th year as the home of Bowling Green State University football.

Built in 1966 for approximately $3 million as a replacement for the 43-year-old University Stadium, Perry Field had a capacity of 22,722 until bleacher seats were installed in both end zones in 1982.

One of the largest and most attractive athletic facilities in the Mid-American Conference, Perry Field holds the conference record for single-game attendance.

On October 8, 1983, a huge crowd of 33,527 packed into Perry Field for the annual Northwest Ohio rivalry between Bowling Green and Toledo, establishing a school and MAC record for single-game attendance. The Falcons went on to set a season record, breaking the six-digit figure for five games with a total draw of 100,021. It marked the first time in history that Bowling Green averaged more than 20,000 fans for five home football games.

That figure was topped in 1985, when Bowling Green posted a perfect record (11-0) in the regular season and clinched the MAC Championship by shutting out arch-rival Toledo at Perry Field in November. More than 28,000 fans turned out that day, raising Bowling Green's season attendance to an all-time high 112,000, an average of 22,400.

Perry Field is more than just a football facility. The west side includes dressing rooms, equipment and training rooms, along with the Athletic Department offices. The west side received a face-lift three years ago. A physical fitness center/weight room opened its doors for all 19 intercollegiate athletic teams in the summer of 1988.

Also situated on the west side of Perry Field are the Falcon Club offices and clubhouse, the academic affairs office, the track and cross-country offices, as well as maintenance and storage areas.

Sitting atop the press box on the west side of the stadium is the plush Stadium Club. Now in its 12th year of operation, the Stadium Club's 106 theater-type seats, which are all sold, provide loyal BGSU fans with a fine view of the game. The President's Box, located on top of the east side of the stadium, provides luxury seating for President Paul J. Olscamp and other supporters of Falcon football.

Bowling Green won the first game ever played in Perry Field, defeating Dayton, 13-0, on October 1, 1966. Since that time, the Falcons have won almost 65 percent of their home games, compiling a 76-42-5 record in the 123 games played at Perry.

BGSU students catch the spirit of Falcon football.
Field. Over the last eight seasons, Bowling Green is 27-9-3 at home for a .731 winning percentage.

A multi-purpose facility, Perry Field has also hosted concerts, NFL exhibition games, and major soccer tournaments.

Perry Field is named in honor of the man who led Bowling Green to a 77-11-5 record in his 10 years as the head coach of the Falcons. Doyt L. Perry was simply one of the greatest football coaches of his day. His .855 winning percentage over 10 seasons in the 1950s and 1960s remains one of the highest in football history. In fact, according to James Van Valkenburg, director of statistics for the NCAA, only two coaches on the Division 1-A list are above that figure — Knute Rockne at .881 (Notre Dame) and Frank Leahy at .864 (Boston College and Notre Dame).

Perry, 81, known for his well-organized practices and attention-to-detail meetings, never stopped thinking of ways to succeed. He was a winner in football and as a high school basketball coach. His basketball teams were 161-35 over nine seasons and his high school track teams won 70 county titles in nine years.

"First, I always tried to get the best assistant coaches possible," Perry said of his success. "Then we sought to eliminate mistakes as much as possible."

After stepping down as Bowling Green's head football coach in 1964, Doyt Perry remained as the BGSU athletic director for six years.

DOYT PERRY

1988 College Football Hall of Fame Inductee

The year 1988 will be fondly remembered by Doyt Perry, the former player, coach and administrator at Bowling Green State University.

In January of ’88, he learned that he would be an inductee into the National Football Foundation’s College Football Hall of Fame.

In October, when Bowling Green hosted Miami at Doyt L. Perry Field, the man in whose honor the stadium was named was there for a special on-campus presentation by the National Football Foundation.

In December, Perry was in New York for the Foundation’s Hall of Fame Dinner. He was officially enshrined into the College Football Hall of Fame at Kings Island, OH, the following June.

Perry’s association with BGSU dates back 60 years when, as a student he lettered nine times in three sports (football, basketball and baseball). The Croton, OH, native received his degree in 1932 and began coaching on the high school level before becoming an assistant football coach at Ohio State University in 1951.

Perry returned to his alma mater as head football coach in 1955. The next 10 years, he led the Falcons to a 77-11-5 record for a winning percentage of .855, topped only by Knute Rockne and Frank Leahy of Notre Dame. His teams won five MAC Championships and the national college division championship in 1959.

Perry, who retired from coaching in 1964 to become BGSU’s athletic director for six years, developed such outstanding coaches as Jim Young of Army, Bill Mallory of Indiana, Don Nehlen of West Virginia, Larry Smith of Southern California, and the late Dave McClain of Wisconsin.

HEAD COACH JERRY YORK
OPTIMISTIC FALCONS TAKE AIM ON CCHA TITLE AND NCAA BERTH

It’s not often that Bowling Green State University’s hockey team enters a season looking to rebound from a below .500 campaign. In fact, the Falcons have only endured four losing seasons in their storied 23-year history. However, BG will face such a task in 1991-92 as it looks to return to the upper echelon of the Central Collegiate Hockey Association.

The Brown and Orange has the man-power to make its mark in 1991-92 as it returns 18 of 23 lettermen from last year’s unit which finished 15-23-2 overall and sixth in league play with a ledger of 13-17-2.

BG welcomes back six of its top eight point producers including its top three goal scorers, six talented defensemen, a veteran goaltender and a promising freshmen class.

Their return should help ease the loss of backstop John Burke and forwards Matt Ruchty, Pierrick Maia and Braden Shavchook.

The Falcons may have showed a glimpse of the future last year when they rolled to an 11-5-2 record, a share of first-place in the CCHA in early December and a national ranking of eighth after posting an impressive sweep of Western Collegiate Hockey Association foe North Dakota. Head coach Jerry York is hoping for more of the same this year on a consistent basis.

“Our goal is to finish in the top four in the standings for home ice in the playoffs, advance to Joe Louis Arena for our league tournament and secure a berth in the NCAA playoffs at one of the two regions,” said York who enters his 13th season behind the BG bench.

The backbone of any team lies between the pipes and BG hopes that junior netminder Angelo Libertucci can return to the form of his rookie campaign of 1989-90 when he racked up 16 wins. Libertucci struggled at times last year compiling a 12-15-1 mark with a 4.67 goals-against average and an 83.4 saves percentage.

“I think Angelo brings more experience and more poise to the position this year than he has ever had,” said York, the NCAA’s eighth winningest coach.

“We expect an improved Libertucci in all areas. We think his save percentage will go up, his goals-against average will go down and we expect his leadership to be a vital part of our team.”

Incoming freshmen Nathan Cressman and Will Clarke, a walk-on, should provide BG with depth and solid competition for Libertucci.

The one area in which BG may have shown the greatest improvement as the season progressed last year was in its defense.

Anchored by veteran blueliner Otis Plageman, who led BG’s rearguards in goals scored a season ago with 10 (30 points) as a junior, and five other backliners from last year’s entourage, the Falcons should still be strong defensively despite the loss of their leading point producer from the blue line—junior Ken Klee (7-28-35).

Klee, an honorable mention All-CCHA pick last year, most likely will be sidelined for the entire 1991-92 campaign after sustaining a knee injury while touring with the U.S. Olympic team last month. If his rehabilitation effort from reconstructive surgery on Sept. 5 proves successful, Klee could possibly rejoin the team in March. His offensive production and experience from the point would be a valuable commodity for the Falcons during the team’s playoff drive.

Sophomores Glen Mears, Todd Reirden, Aris Brimanis and Jeff Wells, who York feels was BG’s most improved player in any area, were all thrown into the fire last season especially down the stretch when Klee and Plageman went down with injuries, but gained a great deal of playing experience which should benefit the team tremendously this year.

“We will look for real contributions from Harkins, Jiranek and Holmes. I think our other forwards are capable of having solid years too.”

The Falcons’ home opener is Oct. 26 vs. long-time rival Ohio State.
