TO THE EDITOR,

FOR IRONICUS

Far be it from my intentions to stage a word-combat with reincarnated Ironicus. I simply wish to express my regret that there are so many manifestations of the sort of distortion that afflicts him. Obviously, he has a good brain, an above average I. Q., and a fortunate appreciation of values. But why must we think that, because he has (probably recently) experienced an "intellectual sunrise," he is the only one who has had this awakening!

There are many people—on our campus and elsewhere—who have this same feeling. Only recently awakened, and with vision still somewhat obstructed by the shades, they lament the ignorance of all others. "I am the only one who sees the light!" they cry, "Alas for the rest of you!"

But there are others, Ironicus. There are others who read books, appreciate music, and enjoy pictures. Sometimes they even think about these things, just as you apparently do. Sometimes, though rarely, I admit, they help others to the light by writing such a column as D. C. K.'s "Food for Thought!", or an attempt, even if mistaken, like K. S.'s "Letters to a Friend", in the Bee Gee News.

Myst they stand on a soap-box and wave their arms madly, in order to make themselves realized? Must they hold mass meetings and spread so-called "educational" propaganda? Must they even show that they are disturbed by your assault?

No, they probably are more discerning and far-seeing than I. When they read of an attack like yours, they merely hold an aloof and dignified silence, and hope that you will really SEE some day, while I want to reform you.

I do not object to your purpose—it is your method that is offensive. If you are really "enlightened", Ironicus, you will understand this.

E. I.
(Embryonic Intellectual)

Activity—lively, constructive activity with originality and initiative bursting out at surprising intervals. Then a few pinches of loyalty and enthusiastic support for dear old Alma Mater. This will make your school spirit get hot. They tell us that Ironicus said last week that we are in a stupor but is that so bad when psychologists say six-sevenths of our brains lie dormant? Even Ironicus must be a little fuzzy for did he not condemn only? What do you want, Ironicus, and who do you want to do it? Do you want parades, bonfires and stump speeches to express college spirit? A local fraternity tried something like this recently and the police department immediately began to keep the peace. Perhaps you want to organize to participate in the big movements of the day! Suppose we DO take up the "juices of rock-ribbed Republicanism" or attempt to dispel a "befuddled pre-historic lore." May it not be that such vague generalities are causing more or less of our inactivity? If Ironicus really wants the school to wake up, why not suggest leaders or formulae to start the thing along? It would seem that when an emergency occurs, the usual procedure is to utilize the material in hand and not suggest wild theories and general principles. The Y. M. C. A. has been struggling along for several years barely surviving from one meeting to another. Check up on this organization this year, Ironicus, for the key to the revival of interest that can be aroused. College spirit is simply students at work for the parent school through one or more of its constituencies. A hubaloo is not college spirit. It comes as an expression of spirit. Put students to work where they find an interest and then break precedents as fast as you can with good, constructive activity and the college spirit thermometer will rise with a bang. Don't try to force us with bell-smiling methods, Ironicus; lead us and if your methods are worthy, we will follow.

The hour from 3:00 to 4:00 is to be set off for registration.

B. G. FOR SPORT'S AFFAIR

Hallowee’n celebrations were the outstanding social events the last week in October at the Training School. The First grade popped corn, some of which they passed on to the Third grade as a gift in the form of a Jack Horner Pie. The Second grade had a Hallowee’n party and program at which fifteen parents were present. The theme of the program was “How We Can Have a Better Second Grade.” The children served cider and ginger cookies they had made themselves. The Third grade treated the school to a very interesting Masked Parade, headed by Mickey Mouse himself. After the parade, the group returned to a surprise party in their room.

Other festivities occurred in the Kindergarten and Sixth grade. Perhaps the biggest surprise this time, a birthday party, in the Kindergarten. Marjorie Polland celebrated her fifth birthday on Nov. 2nd. Marjorie’s mother provided the refreshments—she sent the birthday cake, fruit, and individual cakes for all the children in the Kindergarten. The Sixth grade had a party and program also on November 10th. The newly-elected class officers put on the party for the entire grade. Some of the children played musical numbers. Miss Erckman told a ghost story. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the program and the refreshments served at the close.

However, the Training School has not been neglecting work for fun. The First grade has made a big step forward in the process of learning to read—they are beginning to read from books. The Second and Third grades have been making studies and maps of the Campus, and have made trips through the buildings in order that they may become better acquainted with the geography of their immediate surroundings. The Fourth grade has been making an intensive study of precious stones, having become interested in the subject in connection with the history of the trips of Marco Polo. The Fifth grade is very proud of the records made by its members the past week in spelling, in improvement and in the increased number of perfect records.
SORORITIES

PHRATRA PHASES
The Phratra sorority entertained the following guests at the Nookery Tuesday evening: Lois Liggett, Naomi Curtis, Lois Kindinger, Alene Vickers, Dorothy Pace, and Maurene Jellison. Dinner was served at an attractive table decorated in the sorority colors. The remainder of the evening was spent in the enjoyment of a program arranged by Marie Waterman.

FIVE SISTER NEWS
On Saturday evening, Nov. 18, the Five Sisters entertained a group of rushees at a buffet supper. The House was attractively decorated. Red and white balloons added much to the festivity of the occasion. Our dining-room table was resplendent with a beautiful banquet of red roses and white mums.

Shortly after six-thirty, the Sisters and their guests seated themselves at tables for four. Small shields, emblems of our sorority, were used for place-cards. Each guest was presented with a lovely corsage of red roses and white mums. After the bountiful meal had been consumed, tallies were distributed and bridge tables formed. A couple of hours of card playing and visiting followed. With the singing of the Five Sister song, the evening was brought to a close.

LAS AMIGAS SORORITY
Las Amigas Sorority entertained seven rushees at a formal dinner Friday evening, November the seventeenth at 6:30 o'clock. The tables were appropriately decorated with white chrysanthemums and candles. After dinner was served, the girls were entertained by games. Some proved very apt at drawing turkeys. Prizes were given as incentives for better work.

Edna Arn, Alice Becker, Margaret Heleigh, Jane Mercer, Betty Miller, Martha Schaub and Dorothy Pace, were the guests of the evening.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Organizations

Y. M. C. A.
The Y. M. C. A. meeting of last Thursday night was a social party with a score or more couples in attendance. The guests danced or sat at the tables and played cards, checkers, and chess. During the evening, readings were given by Robert Bender and Frances Byrne. Earl Cryer sang for the group, and "Dr." Kenneth Skinner operated on John Gaeth. At the close of the evening, refreshments were served.

The next meeting of the organization will be held in Room 104A, on Thursday night, with Dr. Whitacre as the speaker. All college men are invited.

Two basketball teams have been organized by the Y. M. I. C. A.: the "Comets" with Robert Ruth as manager, and the "Knights" under Dale Kellogg. In their first contest, the Comets defeated the Knights, 28-17, but later lost to the "House of Scoop" 21-9. The Knights won their second game from "Brown's Independents" 28-20. More games are scheduled for this week.

Emerson Literary Society
"In the Football World" was the theme of the program at the meeting of Emerson Literary Society on Nov. 15. Arthur Wohlers summarized the football season of the Bowling Green squad. Linda Dill told of the outstanding football players of the country.

Meltha Carter presided over parliamentary drill. The group practised the principles of reconsideration and committee of the whole.

Elwood Ikes was voted into the society. The next meeting will be on Dec. 13.

SEVEN SISTER NEWS

The Seven Sisters and their rushees enjoyed the picture "Christopher Bean" at the Valentine in Toledo on Friday evening. After the show they returned to the house, which was festively decorated with Japanese cherry trees and lanterns and where refreshments in keeping with the oriental plan were served by Japanese waitresses to thirty people.

W. A. A. Dues Payable
Old W. A. A. members are to pay their dues for the semester in the hall of the Ad building Tuesday, Nov. 23. No points can be awarded to any girl whose dues are not paid.

FRATERNITIES

DELHI
The Delhi fraternity held another one of the periodic parties at the house Saturday night. Everyone danced to the rhythm of nationally famous orchestras and enjoyed the light luncheon with the same. Considerable debate took place as to which orchestra or orchestras were furnishing the music at a particular time. Mrs. Davis, the congenial and obliging housemother, chaperoned the party. Needless to say, her presence added to the desirable lively spirit which has been characteristic of all the parties sponsored by the fraternity. The boys are only too sorry that the house, however large, will only accommodate a generous, but limited number of guests.

LOSING SOCCER TEAM TO AID IN GIVING DINNER
The losing hockey team, whether it may be the Tanners, Bobs, or Orioles, will not give the W. A. A. Sport's Supper to be held the Wednesday after Thanksgiving Vacation without assistance. The hockey team will share that honor with the losing team in soccer and speedball which have been combined this season into one program of games. Speedball games are played on Tuesdays, and soccer games on Thursdays at 4:00 p.m.

Two teams, a Town Team, captained by Ann Rimelspach and a Dorm Team captained by Lillian Hankel take part in the soccer and speedball games. The Town Team is in the lead having won 5 games to 1 game won by the Dorm Team and it is probable that the Dorm Team will be the one to aid in giving the Sports Supper since there are only 3 more games to be played.

Miss Hartman is faculty sponsor for the soccer and speedball program which is coached by Vivian Sharp. Members of the Dorm Team are: Hankel, captain, Myrice, manager, Duffy, Boyer, Haberman, Her- rit, Shelles, Trawaths, L. Silva and Dunson. Members of the Town Team are: Rimelspach, captain, DeMangeat, manager, Batterson, Keil, Swain, Lehman, Pierce, Hoffman, Armbruster, Rissel and Zieg.

Orioles Beat Tanagers

The Orioles hockey team defeated the Tanagers in a brilliantly played game Monday, Nov. 13. The Orioles were in the lead the whole game and at no time was their victory endangered.

The Orioles have not been defeated this season. They have five victories and one tie to their credit.

The game Monday night ended 4-1. In the last few minutes of play the Tanagers came through for their single goal and before play was resumed the game was over, much to the chagrin of the now enthused Tanagers.
