APRIL 22

The State's plan to curb spending, which was proposed by President James C. Gee last week, is being considered by the state Board of Education. The plan calls for a 5 percent cut in the state's education budget.

The plan was proposed in response to a $1 billion deficit in the state's education budget. The governor has asked the Board of Education to recommend a plan to manage the predicted state budget deficit.

The Board of Education will meet Wednesday to discuss the plan. The board will then forward its recommendations to the governor.

The plan includes a proposal for state aid to local schools that do not have the ability to raise funds through property taxes. The proposal would allow local schools to use a portion of their state aid to cover budget shortfalls.
