STATE COLLEGE
BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Our college has always been under the supervision of a board of five trustees. The first board was appointed in 1911 by the governor of the state. In the roster of nineteen different trustees receiving appointment, 6 have been educators, 4 lawyers, 2 farmers, 2 newspaper men, 2 bankers, 1 business man, 1 physician and a lady member of the board. Fremont is the only city that has ever been represented by more than one trustee. Nine Democrats and ten Republicans have had membership on the board.

D. C. Brown of Napoleon has the honor of the longest period of service. He has served 15 out of the twenty-two years the Board has been established. Mrs. Myrtle Edwards of Leipsic is the only woman that has ever had membership in this body. A tabulation of the trustees is listed below:

J. E. Collins, Educator, Fremont, Democrat, 1911-1922.
D. T. Davis, Banker, Findlay, Republican, 1911-1914.
D. C. Brown, Banker, Napoleon, Democrat, 1911-15; 1918.
John Begg, Farmer, Columbus Grove, Republican, 1911-1915.
J. D. McDonel, Business Man, Fostoria, Democrat, 1911-1929.
W. B. Guittleau, Educator, Toledo, Republican, 1915-1926.
J. E. Shatziel, Lawyer, Bowling Green, Republican, 1915-1926.
H. J. Johnston, Physician, Tontogany, Republican, 1921-.
E. T. Rogers, Newspaperman, Tiffin, Democrat, 1925-1929.

The College and What A College Student Should Acquire Before Graduating

Throughout the world thousands of young men and women are enrolled in the institutions of higher learning. It is an age of progressive education on which future generations will either rise or fall. Man being resolved not only to continue his kind, but to make it greater, must utilize the forces of higher education in a true economic sense, rather than a social dogma which points to a man and says, "He is a college graduate. He has his degree."

True, the future of man lies in the hands of college graduates but which kind of college graduates? There may be many kinds of college students who are not known as general, but it is an assumed fact that they would all come under two divisions, and these two will be dealt with in this article.

But first let us examine the interior of the college teaching staff. Therein are found professors of wide and various views. These may include the conservative, idealist, atheist, teacher of facts, human psychologist, non-human psychologist, teacher of progressive thinking and many others. These are what the beginning college student must acquaint himself with. Analytic judgment is his only solution to understanding.

BIG DAMAGE CAUSED BY INSECTS IN U. S.

Washington—Total losses from insects in the United States annually amount to about $2,000,000,000 says Dr. Henry G. Knight, of the department of agriculture.

The annual damage to growing plants, he says, is 10 per cent of their value, the loss to forest trees is $100,000,000, to livestock $100,000,000 and to stored grains, feeds and foodstuffs, $200,000,000.
THE COLLEGE STUDENT

In the first place, we admit the college spirit in Bowling Green is different from every other college. It can not help being different, for we have been different from the very first. Bowling Green and Kent are practically the only teachers' colleges ever built in the U.S. from the ground up. Most others were made over and carry some of the spirit of the former institution. Student life is different here; thus the spirit or atmosphere on the campus can not be the same as in other colleges. As for possessing sufficient vim and vigor, perhaps there is some truth in this. Possibly there could be more originality and activity that would make the student body admire the college more intensely.

Leaders are developed through a period of stress and strain. Bowling Green has had no hardships up to the little episode of last spring. No one has had any fighting to do and no hardships up to the little episode of last spring. No one has had any fighting to do. But when the editor makes a mistake—

NEW DEAL

The past year has been the most momentous since this review was inaugurated in 1929, and it may prove to be one of the most eventful in the annals of country life and of agriculture in the United States. The new administration began economic planning in vigorous fashion, and started boldly to carry out a policy calculated to bring about a better balance between agriculture and urban industry. The rural communities are absorbed with these developments and it is generally agreed that no matter what the outcome may be, the social, ethical and religious implications of the efforts being made are tremendous.

During the year there was, in both urban and rural communities, perhaps the most extensive discussion of the national policy in relation to agriculture and rural life that has ever taken place in the United States. This began during the months of March, April, and May, while the farm relief legislation was being debated in Congress. The hearings held on the proposed law were lively, and some disagreement among farm leaders developed at an early stage. The urban press gave considerable attention to the issues of farm relief, although it is difficult to make any generalization in regard to its attitude. The mind of the public is still apparently much confused in regard to matters agricultural and great newspapers and journals still fail to interpret rural affairs in a trustworthy way.

A Farmer-Labor Government

The main support for the notable experiments inaugurated by the Roosevelt administration seems to come from farmer and labor sources. This in itself is a novel spectacle in America and gives rise to much speculation in regard to the probabilities of its continuance. The South and West made possible the election of Mr. Roosevelt. The unusual combination of events at the time of the inauguration made possible a much more radical administration than had been anticipated. The country became willing to have "bold, persistent experimentation" in national affairs. The objective of obtaining a better rural-urban balance was at once tackled, but a whole series of other projects, including the NRA, was made possible by the changed temper of both the rural and urban community. The NRA has apparently had its most enthusiastic support from labor sources, and up to the present time the country has witnessed the unusual situation of having a President skillful in conciliating rural and urban interests, capable of finding middle ground for experimentation. However, experiments with the currency illustrates the difficulty of bringing about a concert of farm and urban interests. The President has promised a higher and a stable price level for commodities. An experiment in managing the currency has been begun in order to attain that end. A certain degree of inflation has been promised to the agricultural states. Yet inflation must not be carried on too rapidly because of its dangers for wage earners as consumers. The President faces therefore the problem of keeping advances of commodity prices in line with the earnings of urban labor and the professional classes generally.

The farmer-labor government thus established is greeted without enthusiasm in ultra-conservative and many radical circles. The credit class is apprehensive of the New Deal because the administration is avowedly a debtors' government. Industrial radicals tend to scoff at what they call the "middle-of-the-road" efforts.—Information Service.

In the City

Amid the man-made canyon walls Shadows lengthened; night gently falls Upon the city.

Then lights flash with brilliance gay. Man's vain attempt to bring back day Into the city.

But, looking up from the motor cars, We know its site; we see the stars Above the city.

UNUSUAL DRIVE ACCOUNTS FOR VICTORY

Before a capacity crowd at Westerville Saturday night, the Bee Gee cagers defeated one of the toughest teams in the Ohio Conference. There was a radical change in the starting lineup. Coach Landis knew that the opponents were a bunch of huskies, so he started the heaviest and tallest lineup he had. The winning of this game meant much to the B. G. S. C. It put us well up to the top on the Conference standing. The Falcons are justified and well deserve all the support the student body can give them in the next games.

One of the outstanding things in the Otterbein game was the drive and fight our cagers possessed. The victory was due to this quality. Our centers had a 6' 6" man to jump against. Naturally a man of this height controlled the tip-off, but every man on the B. G. quintet was in there fighting and received their opponents tip-off most of the time. Their ability to make the break was unexcelled. The game at times became quite rough but B. G.'s dead-eye shooting and passing placed them in a lead which the Cardinals could not overcome.

Shafer, Shupe and Johnson each made a free throw to open the scoring and the lat-come. Weber tallied a beautiful goal. Holland then sank the free throw good. Weber converted two free throws and Thomas netted a long one. Worstell rang up a point and Shafer did likewise. Worstell caged a long one and Phillips looped a short one. During the last four minutes Furness replaced Cheek. Wallace, Murray, Albon and George relieved Johnson, Phillips, B. Thomas and O. Thomas. Worstell chalked up four points and Holland two as the game ended, 35-27 with the driving Falcons on the long end of the score.

The B. G. cagers followed in and took the ball from the backboard like pros'. With this brand of ball we should stand a fine chance of winning the next games. Marietta will be here Friday night. Let's be out there 100 per cent. We have a fine standing now so let's keep it and make it better.

Otterbein expects to have a fine team in the future composed of many six footers. Snively, Rutter and Davies of Toledo Waite, Lucks and Elliot of Canal Winchester and Martin of Westerville lead the list of promising varsity material.
