TODAY'S GAME

It doesn't get any better than this.

For those of you in attendance this afternoon, you are in for a game that has as many things riding on it as any in quite some time.

Winner-take-all, for all the marbles, the whole enchilada. It's all on the line. As good a season as both Bowling Green and Central Michigan have had in 1994, the loser of today's game goes home with nothing more than memories of the season. The winner takes home the MAC trophy and lives for another day - Thursday, Dec. 15 against the Big West champion in Las Vegas Bowl III.

How special is today's game for the fans? The last time a winner-take-all game took place in Bowling Green was the 1962 season when Doyt Perry's squad entered a game against Ohio with a 4-0-1 record while the Bobcats were 5-0. The Falcons won that day by a 7-6 count earning the league title. That game is tailback Brian Pruitt, the leading running back in the nation, who wouldn't be one-dimensional.

Certainly at first look, the Chipewas of Central Michigan may look like a one-dimensional offense. And that may be true, but when your one dimension is tailback Brian Pruitt, the leading running back in the nation, who wouldn't be one-dimensional.

Pruitt begins the game today as the national leader in both yards rushing, 174.9 yards per game, and all-purpose (rushing, pass receiving, and kick return yardage) yards, 208.7 yards per contest. In both cases he ranks right ahead of Colorado's Rashaan Salaam. Pruitt is also tied for the national lead with 114 points, the same number as Salaam.

All Pruitt did last week in the Chips win over Toledo was carry 39 times for 356 yards, tied for the sixth-highest rushing total in NCAA history, while piling up an eye-popping 435 all-purpose yards. He has topped the century mark in eight games this season and 17 times in his career. He has already set school and MAC marks with 1,749 rushing yards this season and 2,047 all-purpose yards. He is averaging 6.7 yards each time he carries the ball and has had a hand in 19 touchdowns, 18 of those rushing.

But, if the Falcons are successful in slowing down Pruitt, they have a number of other weapons. Senior quarterback Erik Timpf is mobile and athletic and can take over games himself, as he did in CMU's last-minute drive against Miami three weeks ago which netted a scoring pass on the last play of the contest to pull out a 32-30 victory. His numbers put him in the middle of the pack in the MAC, but there are deceiving.

His favorite target is junior split end Terrance McMillan who has 27 receptions for a 13.5-yard average. Slot back Andy Korytkowski and tight end Jeremy Dunlap have 17 catches apiece to account for over two-thirds of the Chips receptions this season.

A big, veteran offensive line has blown open the holes for Pruitt this season. They average 288 pounds per man and are led by A big, veteran offensive line has blown open the holes for Pruitt this season. They average 288 pounds per man and are led by seniors Matt Nastally and Chris O'Brien, who comprise the right side of the Chippewas line.

The special teams have played a vital role in the success the Falcons have enjoyed this season. Junior defensive back Steve Ayers is captured attempting to block a Ball State field goal try. Since 1991, BG has blocked 23 kicks by the opposition.

On defense, Central Michigan has a very athletic secondary, which consists of three of the top four tacklers on the team, and a tough, physical front seven. Sophomore free safety Quincy Wright leads the team with 103 tackles while seniors Tim Banks and Tom Creguer are three-four in tackles with 76 and 73 stops, respectively. Senior inside linebacker Brandon Bruce leads the front seven with 80 tackles while sophomore Bubba Hester has nine tackles for loss.

The Chips are running for their fourth MAC title and first outright championship since 1980. CMU did tie with Toledo for the title in 1990 and was the league's representative in the California Bowl. Head coach Dick Flynn is in his first season at the helm. Central Michigan has 21 seniors on its roster.

FALCON FAST FACTS: To get an idea of what today's game could be like, it might be best to take a look at the recent series between the two programs...the winner of the last four series meetings has scored 17 points in each instance while the loser has managed to score 14 or more points each week and is coming off a fifth field goal performance against Kent, which breaks the school record and equalled the MAC record for conference games...only two kickers in...

Grades high despite missing teammate Hammoud

PETERS STALWART ON OFFENSIVE LINE

By Jack Carle
Sentinel Sports Editor

Jason Peters is carrying a big burden this season.
The 6-6, 295-pound senior offensive right tackle is the veteran of Bowling Green's offensive line and has the responsibility of being the leader of that group.

In addition, Peters' best friend, Norm Hammoud, was sidelined with a knee injury in fall drills and has yet to see action in BG's first 10 games. Peters and Hammoud have been roommates for four years and were expected to play side-by-side on the line this season. To that end the two remained in Bowling Green over the summer, working out every day.

"I think he has really taken on a role of being a leader among the guys," said Terry Malone, Peters' position coach. "I'm not sure if it's because Norm got hurt, but I think it had something to do with it. Somewhere the reality of every game being a last game hit Junior (Peters) when Norm got hurt.

"I really noticed a change in him. I think it affected him more than anybody else because those two guys were so close. I do think Jason is playing for Norm as well as himself."

In an interview last August, Peters said Hammoud was "like a brother." Peters wears Hammoud's number 73 on his wrist pad during games.

In addition to the mental adjustment of not having Hammoud on the field, Peters had to learn to play with Bob Johnson, who moved from left guard to right guard to fill Hammoud's spot.

"In the beginning it was real hard," Peters said. "Norm and I were really in sync. We depended on each other - all of a sudden he was gone.

"Bob and Norm are two different type players; they play different styles," Peters continued. "It was really hard for me at first to adjust to the way Bob played. As the season has gone on... we are playing well together... I feel a lot more comfortable with him now."

Peters must be doing something right, especially during Bowling Green's 59-36 win over Ball State earlier this season.

"Maybe I'm getting softer as I get older, but I have never graded a lineman as well as Jason graded in that game," said Malone, who is in his 12th season as an assistant coach. "That was not an easy team to play either, those guys were just not going to stand still and get hit.

"You hope that a kid is going to play his best football as a senior," Malone added. "Sometimes that doesn't happen. Sometimes guys play their best as juniors and their senior year they get distracted and don't play as good as they can. But Junior has really improved."

Peters says work in the weight room led to his improvement.

"I'm a lot stronger than I was last year and I'm learning to play with the strength," Peters said. "I was strong last year, but I really didn't know how to play with it. This year, I'm working hard at staying low and using leverage. That's helped me use the strength that I have.

"Norm and I worked a lot this summer on foot speed and quickness and I think that's a little bit better than last year."

When it comes to winning games, few have done it better than Bowling Green State University head coach Gary Blackney.

Blackney has resurrected a once-proud football program, guiding the Falcons to back-to-back Mid-American Conference titles, going undefeated in league play to win the titles, and a third-place finish last season in which the Falcons were in the hunt for another title to the last weekend. This comes on the heels of five straight years when 5-6 was the program's best record.

In just three short seasons, Blackney has accomplished what some have not in a lifetime. He was the first, and only, BGSU coach to win a bowl game. He was the first BGSU coach to lead his team to back-to-back seasons of at least 10 wins. He tied the NCAA record for "rookie" head coaches winning 11 games in 1991. And, he led the program to a MAC record 19 consecutive conference wins and a 22-game unbeaten streak to begin his tenure.

The 1994 season will present some new challenges for Blackney and his staff as they look to add a third title. In order to achieve what they have set out to, they will have to overcome the loss of one of the top lineman in the MAC (Joe Wyse), the sixth-leading rusher in school history (Zeb Jackson), and the loss of the entire defensive front. Nonetheless, he believes BGSU will be a factor again. But, overcoming obstacles is something Blackney, as a coach and person, has grown accustomed to.

All Blackney did, not only his first season at BGSU but his first season as a collegiate head coach, was take a 3-5-2 team and turn them into a 11-1 squad, which won their last 10 games. The Falcons clinched the MAC title with two weeks of the league schedule still remaining, which is believed to be the earliest any team has ever wrapped up the title. The final standings showed BG with a perfect 8-0 mark while the second place team finished at 3-1-4.

The top first-year coach in the country, Blackney was just the fifth coach in MAC history to lead his team to an outright conference title in his first season. He is also the winningest first-year head coach in BGSU history equalling the NCAA record for most wins by a coach in his first season in the top spot. The 11 wins by the 1991 team tied the school record.

For an encore, with the Falcons no longer an unknown as they were in 1991, the 1992 favorites gladly accepted that role and again won the league title with a perfect record. The Falcons earned the right to represent the MAC in the first Las Vegas Bowl and backed up the program's first bowl victory in 1991 over Fresno State in the California Bowl with a thrilling...

35-34 win over Nevada.

Needless to say, the success that Blackney has brought to the program has also meant some prestigious honors along the way.

He became only the second coach in league history to earn Coach of the Year honors in back-to-back seasons earning the award in 1991 and 1992. He was also named the Coach of the Year in region 3 by his peers, the American Football Coaches Association, the same two seasons. The region included all I-A schools in the states of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Big Ten member schools Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. The BGSU mentor was also the 1992 Ohio Collegiate Coach of the Year.

A little less than four years ago, Blackney realized his dream of becoming a collegiate head coach. He certainly paid his dues serving as an assistant the previous 21 years at such programs as Wisconsin, UCLA, Syracuse and, most recently, Ohio State. The list of coaches he served under ranks among the best in the collegiate game - coaches such as Dick MacPherson, Terry Donahue, Earle Bruce, Rick Forzano and John Cooper.

The Plainview, New York native began his coaching career at his alma mater, Connecticut, in 1968, where he spent two seasons as a graduate assistant on a staff that included, in addition to Forzano, current Notre Dame head coach Lou Holtz, former Cleveland Browns head coach Sam Rutigliano, and Dave Adolph and Dan Sekanovich, both NFL assistant coaches.

That was followed by stops at Brown and Rhode Island, in addition to the aforementioned schools, with all but two of those seasons spent on the defensive side of the ball. In seven of the last 10 years, Blackney has helped a team to a bowl bid.

His success story is certainly one the makes all people feel thankful.

In March, 1986, Gary’s wife, Lauretta, suffered a basilar artery aneurysm which has led to her need for 24-hour care.

Forced to take over the duties of running the household, which were previously handled by Lauretta, Blackney made the necessary changes and still keeps up with the demands of being a head coach and a father. “I look at Lauretta’s situation and know she could call it quits. But she keeps competing to get better and better. If you want to talk about endurance and courage look at her - not me.”

The MAC is one of the 10 Division I-A conferences in the country, along with the Atlantic Coast, Big Ten, Big East, Big Eight, Big West, Pacific-10, Southeastern, Southwest and Western Athletic conferences.

Entering its 48th year of existence, the MAC consists of 10 state-supported institutions in the midwestern states of Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. Of the 10 current members - the University of Akron, Ball State University, Bowling Green State University, Central Michigan University, Eastern Michigan University, Kent State University, Miami University, Ohio University, the University of Toledo and Western Michigan University - nine schools have been members of the conference for 15 or more years. The University of Akron is the newest member having joined the league in 1992.

The 10 member institutions have a total enrollment of better than 220,000, with individual enrollments ranging from 16,000 to 30,000, and have produced more than one million alumni. The MAC is the fourth-largest conference in the country in terms of undergraduate enrollment.

Throughout its existence, the MAC has been in the forefront of national legislation that has enhanced the academic integrity of intercollegiate athletics. The MAC had an academic progress rule, strengthened admittance standards, and qualitative grade point average requirements for its student-athletes long before the NCAA adopted or discussed implementing such academic standards.

The MAC currently sponsors 19 championships, 10 in men's sports and nine on the women's side. For men, the MAC has sponsored championships in football, baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, tennis, and track and field since its founding, and added swimming and diving and wrestling championships five years later. Men's soccer was added as a MAC-sponsored sport in 1993.

In 1980, the MAC Council of Presidents voted to bring women's athletics into the conference structure. The MAC currently sponsors women's championships in basketball, cross country, field hockey, gymnastics, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field and volleyball.

The MAC is the only Division I conference with its own Hall of Fame. A total of 52 individuals have been inducted into the MAC Hall of Fame in its first six years of existence, including 21 inductees with football backgrounds. Some of those include Ara Parseghian (Miami), Doyt Perry (Bowling Green), Bo Schembechler (Miami), Jack Lambert (Kent) and Phil Villapiano (Bowling Green).

Numerous MAC football teams and players have received national recognition during the MAC's 47 years. Bowling Green was recognized as the national small college champion in 1959, and Ohio won similar honors in 1960. After MAC teams achieved major college status, Toledo compiled a 35-game winning streak from 1969-71, the second-longest streak in modern major college football history. Miami beat Florida, Georgia and South Carolina in the 1973, 1974 and 1975 Tangerine Bowls. In the last few years the non-conference victims of MAC teams include opponents from the Big Ten, Big Eight, SEC and WAC.

For the third straight year, the MAC champion will play the Big West champion in the Las Vegas Bowl. This year's game is scheduled for Dec. 15 at 6 p.m. This is the 14th season the winners of the MAC and BWC have battled in a bowl.

The Falcon Club Needs You!

To Our Falcon Fans:

You are the key to success for our Falcon teams.

Our fine student-athletes greatly depend on the Falcon Club to raise more than $270,000 of income to help fund the athletic grants. The Falcon Club also assists in other athletic areas including the funding for facility budgets.

Your help and support does make a difference for the continued success of our outstanding teams. Falcon Club members are proud alumni, parents, friends and fans that provide financial support, volunteer hours and give their advisory expertise to the BGSU athletic program in order to share in the many benefits the Falcon Club has to offer.

The pride and tradition of Bowling Green has enabled the Falcon Club to once again set high goals for 1994. Your support is needed so participants and fans alike can continue to enjoy the winning combination provided by one of America's premier athletic programs.

Please give to our fine athletic program and its 19 very competitive teams as we look forward to you joining the Falcon Club in ’94.

Go Falcons!!!

Sincerely,

Fran Voll
Associate Athletic Director

Senior offensive lineman Norman Hammoud is one-half of the right side of the offensive line. He will team with senior Jason Peters to give the Falcons two players at 295 pounds on the right side.
Go Falcons!
conference history had kicked more field goals in one game... on his way to scoring 16 BG's 22 points in the win over Kent, Leaver wiped out the MAC record for points by a kicker in a season boosting his total to 100, 10 more than any kicker in league history... he is now just four points shy of the BG career record for points of 246 set by Dave Preston (1973-76)... he already holds BG season marks for field goals (20), PAT attempts (41) and his 40 PATs ties him for the top spot... his 43 career field goals ranks second on the BG list, one shy of equalling the record... Leaver is tied for third in the country in field goals per game and tied for third in points behind Salaam and Pruitt... it has certainly been a season to remember for Falcons fans... the Falcons will also be looking to continue their steady climb up the national polls with a win today... this week they were 28th in the USA Today/CNN poll with 43 points while they sit in the 31st position in the Associated Press poll with 19 points... the passing game will certainly play an important role in today's game for the Falcons as it does in every contest... Junior Ryan Henry remains third in the country in passing efficiency while his favorite targets, seniors Ronnie Redd and Rameir Martin, continue to rack up numbers as good as any receiver in school history... the duo both caught passes for over 100 yards in the Kent game, the first time that has happened since 1988 and only the fourth time in school history, with Redd becoming only the sixth BG player to top 2,000 yards in receptions for a career and Martin moving to within seven catches of the 100-reception club... maybe the best attribute of the "Dynamic Duo" is the fact that one or both of them have a touchdown reception in 17 of the last 21 Falcon contests... Redd's 27 career touchdowns is third-best in school history, bettered only by two running backs... the Falcon rushing game has been much better than one would think... the 1,853 yards on the ground this season make the 1994 campaign the most successful year running the ball since the 1980 team piled up 2,010 yards... and how about redshirt freshman inside linebacker Kevin O'Neill... getting his first career start against Miami two weeks ago, he responded by leading the team with 14 tackles... last week he was credited with 16 stops in the win over Kent to earn MAC Defensive Player of the Week honors... BG is looking to record the sixth perfect season in Perry Stadium history, and the third 5-0 mark in the last four years... remember, Bowling Green is the league champion and Las Vegas Bowl III participant with a win or a tie this afternoon, while CMU extends its season only if it wins... a special thanks to all BGSU fans who have made the 1994 season one of the most successful in school history... a crowd today of 21,372 or more pushes the Falcons over the five-game record for attendance at Perry Stadium of 112,100 set in 1985... a quick look ahead, the Falcons open the 1995 season at home against Big West foe Louisiana Tech on Sept. 2 and play Missouri (Sept. 9) and Temple (Sept. 30) on the road in non-league games... BG opens league play Sept. 16 at home against Akron.

Junior tight end Trevor Stover might be the most improved player on the team this year. Also known for his blocking, he has become a complete tight end this season making several key receptions. He is averaging better than 15 yards per reception in 1994.

1994-95 BGSU POMMERETTES

Junior quarterback Ryan Henry returns after throwing for 2,243 yards in 1993 finishing third in the MAC in total offense.

CSP program celebrates 25 years of preparing administrators to be teachers too

EDUCATING FOR A LIFETIME

Sometime after the invasion of Normandy but before the invasion of The Beatles, the idea of what comprised an American college education and the role of college administrators began to change.

By 1969, the college catch-phrases included “Fifty percent of what a student learns in college will be learned outside the classroom” and “It takes more than a degree to make an educated person.” That same year, Bowling Green State University began its college student personnel program to prepare these new-type administrators to manage this newly defined college experience.

Today, CSP, which has become part of the Department of Higher Education and Student Affairs within the College of Education and Allied Professions, is celebrating its silver anniversary.

It has grown into one of the finest programs of its kind in the country. Led by seven top-notch faculty members, the program now offers degrees on both the master’s and doctoral levels, and more than 250 students compete for one of the 40 openings each year, making it one of the most competitive programs for admission at the University.

Dr. Patricia King, an associate professor of education and chair of the department, added that no fewer than 30 universities have Bowling Green CSP graduates in their top student affairs post.

A number of other organizations are celebrating the anniversary by honoring the program and its founder, Dr. Gerald Saddlemire, who taught at the University from 1969 until his retirement in 1989; he died in 1991.

Recently, the University’s Board of Trustees voted to name the Student Services Building for Saddlemire.

And even more recently, the Ohio Association of Student Personnel Administrators presented the program with its top award, The Gerald L. Saddlemire Leadership Award. Named for Saddlemire after his death, the award was presented to the program this year to honor “its tradition of providing an acclaimed educational foundation to an outstanding number of quality professionals serving the student affairs profession.”

(In addition to the building, an undergraduate student scholarship and an annual lecture are also named for Saddlemire.)

A series of lectures, workshops and conferences also was held this fall in celebration of the anniversary and soon the department will begin a $25,000 fundraising campaign to provide professional development opportunities to the students in the program.

In looking at CSP’s educational mission, King said the goal of higher education today is to develop a complete, well-rounded adult who not only has the classroom skills to be successful in the workplace, but also the life skills that enable the graduate to be a productive, positive member of a complex, modern society.

Creating this all-campus atmosphere for learning, King said, takes trained and dedicated student affairs professionals. These professionals, whether they work in admissions, financial aid, the residence halls, student activities, alumni affairs, counseling, career development or placement, to name a few, must see one of their responsibilities as being an educator, as well as an administrator.

This idea of administrators being educators was at the core when Saddlemire, who was the dean of students at the State University of New York at Geneseo, came to Bowling Green and founded the program in 1969.

He also believed that classroom instruction should be mixed with practical experience and to that end, an extensive internship program was developed.

That first year, eight students enrolled in the program. By the next year, the number of students had doubled to 17.

Throughout the 1970s the program continued to grow. It grew on the strength of Saddlemire’s reputation and on the reputations of the program’s graduates, who began to make their mark in the student affairs area.

By 1983 a nationwide survey of student affairs professionals revealed that Bowling Green’s CSP program was considered to be one of the top five in the country. In 1990 a doctoral program was added.

Says:

GO FALCONS!
Arts, Technology and the Graduate College has chapters of most national universities - Ohio State and Cincinnati - have more of these prestigious positions than BGSU.

While committed to teaching, faculty are researchers as well, generating new knowledge through independent research and involvement in University units such as the Center for Pharmaceutical Sciences, the Population and Society Research Center, the Mid-American Center for Contemporary Music, the Center for Quality, Measurement and Automation, the Canadian studies program, the Center for the Study of Popular Culture, and the Social Philosophy and Policy Center.

Bowling Green is also the site of the National Drosophila Species Center and the Mid-America Stock Center - the largest scientific facilities of their kind in the world - where University faculty assist in supplying some 400 species of fruit flies to scientists involved in genetics and cancer research around the globe.

The University's students come from throughout the United States and nearly 60 foreign nations. While most students are between the ages of 18-22, the number of those older than 25 is increasing. Last year, more than 4,000 "non-traditional" students enrolled in undergraduate and graduate programs on a full- or part-time basis.

The focal point of the 1,338-acre campus is the nine-story Jerome Library, with its collection of more than four million items, including 1.8 million volumes plus journals, periodicals, microforms, government documents and other materials. Special sections of the library include the Center for Archival Collections, which houses materials relevant to northwest Ohio history, and the Sound Recording Archives with one million recordings. The Institute for Great Lakes Research, located in Perrysburg, contains an extensive collection of materials on the shipping industry's past and present.

The University is continually improving its more than 100 existing buildings and upgrading facilities to meet current needs. This fall, a $13.5 million classroom building, Paul Olscamp Hall, was opened and dedicated. The new building features state-of-the-art telecommunications capabilities which open unlimited possibilities for classroom instruction.

Also, a $9.5 million renovation of Eppler Hall is nearing completion.

In the past two years, a $9.8 million addition to the Fine Arts Building was completed. Hayes Hall was converted into a computer center, an $8.7 million field house for intramurals, physical education classes and intercollegiate sports was opened, and a $15 million renovation of Founders Quadrangle was completed, creating one of the finest and most modern residence halls in the state.

In the past dozen years, more than $174 million has been allocated for new construction and remodeling projects. The University has also accomplished its goal of making computers a vital part of each student's education. There are currently 20 computer labs, including one in or near every residence hall complex, for use by students. In addition, nearly a half dozen departments have created computer labs for their students.

As Dr. Paul J. Olscamp begins his 13th and final year as president of Bowling Green State University this fall, those who are already beginning to review his tenure are finding a president who has charted an unaltered course in the development of a consistently strong faculty and academic program.

(Olscamp, the University’s eighth president, will retire June 30, 1995. At that time, only Homer B. Williams, the University’s first president who served from 1912 until 1937, will have spent more time in the University’s top office.)

Under Olscamp’s direction, Bowling Green has moved into the ranks of the country’s most important colleges and universities. His efforts have focused on teaching, research, and service, and he has led a University-wide commitment to excellence in all aspects of University life.

He adopted the slogan “An Environment for Excellence,” a clear indication of the vision he had for Bowling Green.

Early in his administration, Olscamp and the faculty outlined the task ahead in a 27-goal document called the Role and Mission Statement. Most of the goals centered on improving the quality of incoming undergraduate and graduate students; academic programs; learning resources, particularly computing and the library; and the faculty development, including recruitment of minority faculty.

Today, many of those original goals have been met and new priorities have been established, including additional scholarships for academically gifted students; academic programs; learning resources, particularly computing and the library; and the faculty development, including recruitment of minority faculty.

One of his most important accomplishments has been to fully involve the faculty in University governance. Faculty have a key role in developing the annual budget and share authority with the president in interpreting the University’s Academic Charter. The faculty also have greater control over the curriculum and development of new academic programs.

While always a concern, finances have taken center stage in recent years. With a tightening state budget, Olscamp has directed efforts to increase private giving. In 1993-94, private giving topped $4 million for the third straight year. During his tenure, the school’s endowment has increased to nearly $45 million from $1.9 million when he arrived.

Olscamp brings a personal touch to his presidency. He frequently hosts both students and faculty at his home. He also holds periodic forums with students wanting to discuss campus issues.

A great deal has happened at Bowling Green since 1982. Here are some of the highlights:

Academic Programs

- Creation of Bowling Green’s first endowed professorships, in management, finance, chemistry and philosophy.
- Development of the Center for Photochemical Sciences, the only one of its kind in the country. Photochemistry is a multibillion dollar growth industry and some key research for that industry is being conducted at Bowling Green.
- Development of the Center for Quality, Measurement and Automation, the only center of its kind in the state designed to assist manufacturing and other businesses in the design and production of products.
- The appointments of three Ohio Eminent Scholars in photochemical sciences, moral philosophy and industrial/organizational psychology; the positions are the result of three $500,000 grants from the Ohio Board of Regents.
- The addition of doctoral programs in applied philosophy and photochemical sciences; the 13th and 14th Ph.D. offerings at BGSU.
- More than 315 students are National Merit Scholars, one of the highest numbers on any campus in the country, over the last seven years.
- Establishment of the University’s first major scholarships for minority students.
- Creating a Canadian studies program emphasizing Canada-U.S. trade relations and economic development in the northwest Ohio region.
- Securing more than $5 million from the Board of Regent’s Selective Excellence Programs, which are designed to attract top scholars, conduct pioneering research and develop centers of excellence. Grants have been awarded in both the sciences and the humanities.
- Expansion of the library’s holdings to more than four million items, including 1.8 million books, plus journals, periodicals, microforms, government documents and other materials. Also, the library is among the first to be part of OhioLINK, an advanced computer network that enables users to have access to all holdings of state university, community college and selected private libraries in Ohio.
- Development of the Student Telephone Accessed Registration system which enables students to schedule their classes from a touch-tone telephone. The STAR system has made long registration lines a part of University history.

Physical Plant

- More than $174 million has been spent in the past 12 years for the construction of new buildings and upgrading existing buildings.
- Completion of the $7.2 million Physical Sciences Laboratory Building in 1984, a $3.65 million addition to the Business Administration Building in 1988, a $9.8 million Fine Arts Center and an $8.7 million field house.
- Most recently, the opening of Paul Olscamp Hall, a $13.5 million multi-faceted classroom building featuring a high-tech teleconferencing system.
- Major renovation and refurbishing of existing campus buildings including Williams, Overman, Hayes and Shatzel halls, the Epler complex and Founders Residence Hall. Construction of a $2 million office building to house faculty and staff temporarily displaced by renovation projects and later to be used for permanent offices.

University Finances

- Creation of an internal endowment fund of $4 million from various University reserves. The balance is expected to reach $10 million in 1994. Interest on the $10 million principle will be used to supplement the academic budget.
- Development of a plan to restructure debt service obligations which is projected to result in a $32 million principal in 10 years. Interest on that amount, which could exceed $2 million annually, will go toward the academic budget.
- Completion of the most successful fund raising drive in University history. With the assistance of the development and alumni office, the 75th Anniversary Fund raised more than $15 million in three years; well above the $12.5 million goal. Donations included the University’s first two $1 million gifts—from the Stranahan Foundation of Toledo for the Social Philosophy and Policy Center and from Harold and Helen McMaster of Perrysburg for the McMaster Leadership Institute. In 1988 the Stranahan Foundation awarded a $3 million grant to the Social Philosophy and Policy Center.
- Completion in 1993 of a $1.825 million Campaign for the Arts to benefit the theatre, music, art, dance and Arts Unlimited programs.

FOR MANY HOSPITALS, CONSOLIDATION IS A BOLD NEW TREND.

FOR US, IT’S A 20 YEAR TRADITION.

Collaboration. Joint ventures. Mergers. Those are the buzz words sweeping hospitals across the nation as health care reform begins.

Mercy and St. Charles Hospitals applaud this way of thinking. In fact, right here in Toledo, we’ve been practicing this “new” philosophy for more than 20 years.

To us, it makes good sense for hospitals, and for the community. Because when administrative services, technology and staffing are shared, costly duplication can be greatly reduced or even eliminated.

At Mercy and St. Charles, we share a single source for gerontology services, purchasing, computer services, rehabilitation services and more than 15 other operations. Which has helped save tens of millions of dollars over our two decades of working together.

The savings are reward enough for doing business this way. But it’s also nice to know we’ve been a trend-setter for all these years.

BETTER HEALTH, TIMES TWO.
The 1994-95 athletic year marks the beginning of new leadership in the Bowling Green State University athletic department as former University vice-president Ron Zwierlein was named the new athletic director on July 6, 1994.

Zwierlein replaced Jack Gregory, who retired in July after 12 very successful years of leading the athletic department.

Zwierlein is more familiar with the BGSU athletic department, its operation, and the people, than one would expect of a person just appointed to a position. A 1968 graduate of BGSU who also has his master's from BGSU and a doctorate degree in athletic administration from Ohio State, Zwierlein has been associated with the athletic department in many different capacities over the years.

The new athletic director, the 10th in the history of the department, spent the 1993-94 academic year as the interim vice-president for student affairs. In that capacity, he oversaw all student related activities, which included residential life, financial aid, recreational sports and the health center to name just a few of the areas.

Zwierlein comes from a diversified background in athletics that includes everything from being a collegiate athlete himself, to coaching, to administration.

He returned to BGSU to head the men’s and women’s swimming and diving teams at BGSU in 1981 while also serving on the faculty at the university.

After three years as the head coach, during which his women’s teams finished second in the Mid-American Conference all three seasons, Zwierlein accepted the position as the associate director of the Student Recreation Center on campus.

While still working as a director of the Student Recreation Center, Zwierlein was appointed to direct the planning and oversee the construction of the $8.7 million Bowling Green University Field House in 1991.

In 1992, he accepted the position as director of recreational sports, which included supervision of all facilities, staff, programs and financial resources associated with recreational sports. He was also responsible for the operation of the Field House.

Zwierlein was also involved in the athletic department at John Carroll University in University Heights, Ohio, near Cleveland. While at JCU, Zwierlein served as the head swimming and diving coach (1975-81) and athletic director (1977-1981). In his six seasons heading the men’s swimming and diving program, Zwierlein led JCU to the Presidents Athletic Conference title once while they placed seventh in the NCAA meet in 1980-81. During his tenure as JCU’s swimming and diving coach, Zwierlein helped develop 28 swimmers who earned All-America honors.

Zwierlein’s collegiate swimming and diving teams combined to compile a 92-37 record while he had a career mark of 171-50, including his time spent coaching at the high school level.

During his tenure as the athletic director at JCU, he also served as chair of the physical education department, which included overseeing all aspects of both areas.

A native of Rochester, N.Y., Zwierlein earned three letters as a member of the Falcon swimming and diving team serving as team captain in 1967-68 as a senior. Zwierlein was a diver, finishing among the top four in the one-meter event at the MAC Championships as a junior and senior.

During his undergraduate days, Zwierlein also served as BGSU mascot Freddie Falcon.

After graduation from BGSU, Zwierlein served as head swimming and diving coach at Monroe High School in his hometown and in the same capacity at Fremont (Ohio) Ross High School.

Zwierlein and his wife Cindy, a 1969 BGSU graduate, have three children, Heidi, Heather and Chad. Heidi and Heather are both students at BGSU.
Today's Halftime Show
BGSU FALCON MARCHING BAND
November 12, 1994

Today's home finale includes the anticipation of postseason play and the sentiment of a Good Bye to Doyt Perry Stadium for another year. Today, we remember the seniors, who perform for the last time on the stadium turf—as fighting Falcons, cheerleaders, and members of our own Falcon Marching Band.

The Band's final show of 1994 contains medleys from the best of Chicago Transit Authority, now known simply as Chicago. The classic Chicago excerpts included in today's show are Free, Saturday in the Park, Just You and Me, Does Anybody Know What Time It Is, Beginnings, Hard to Say I'm Sorry, and Make Me Smile. We hope that these tunes bring a smile to your face and that the presentation by the Falcon Band brings a sense of pride in that which is special about Bowling Green.

The annual Band-O-Rama concert, featuring the Falcon Marching Band, will take place in Kobacker Hall in the College of Musical Arts next Sunday, November 20 at 4:00 PM. Tickets are available in advance at the Kobacker Hall ticket office. Come revisit the excitement of the 1994 season with the Falcon Marching Band! Thanks to all for continued support of the Falcon Marching Band! See you next year!

The tradition of excellence that is Bowling Green State University athletics continued in 1993-94 as both the Falcon men's and women's athletic programs earned the top award from the Mid-American Conference, the Reese Trophy by the men and the Jacoby Trophy by the women, for overall athletic excellence. Bowling Green was the first school to sweep the award since 1983.

In addition, by winning the Jacoby Trophy last season, the BGSU women's programs continued its run of dominance over the rest of the MAC earning its third consecutive Jacoby Trophy and fourth in the last seven years.

As we move further into the final decade of the 20th century, the accomplishments of BGSU's coaches and student athletes solidify BGSU's place as one of the top athletic programs in the country.

Bowling Green sports teams of the 1980s achieved a level of success matched by few and, based on the performance of Falcon teams as we approach the midway point of the 90's they are maintaining their place among the elite in collegiate athletics.

Bowling Green claimed 24 conference titles during the 1980s with twenty-one teams earning berths in post-season play. In the first four years of the 90s, BG teams have already won nine league titles with nine teams making appearances in post-season action.

The following is a brief synopsis of each program in the BGSU Athletic Department...

BASEBALL - The program has a young, energetic leader in fifth-year head coach Danny Schmitz who has developed one of the top programs in the region. Schmitz, who played eight seasons of professional baseball, led BG to a 29-18 record in 1994, the program's best winning percentage in 11 years. Many former BGSU players have gone on to play professional baseball including two of the better pitchers in the game - Roger McDowell and Orel Hershiser - who play for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

MEN'S BASKETBALL - The Falcons have 10 letterwinners, including all five starters, and seven seniors returning from a team which placed second in the MAC last season. Coach Jim Larranaga's ninth team has all the ingredients to make a run at the league title. BG made back-to-back post-season appearances for the first time in 30 years in 1989-90 and 1990-91. Historically, BGSU leads the MAC in post-season appearances (22 games), victories (eight) and number of All-Americans (eight). Former NBA standouts Nate Thurmond and Al Bianchi are among BGSU's alumni. Thurmond and coaching great Harold Anderson were inducted into the National Basketball Hall of Fame in 1985.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL - The tradition-rich program made a sixth NCAA Tournament appearance last season hosting Creighton. BGSU's 189-51 record over the last eight seasons is the 10th best record among the almost 300 schools in Division I. The Falcons are the winningest team in MAC history having captured six league tournament titles and five regular season championships. The success of the program has attracted large crowds to Anderson Arena, including 4,408 for BG's NCAA Tournament game against Florida in 1993.

CROSS COUNTRY - The program is in good hands with Sid Sink in charge of the men and Steve Price directing the women. Sink, a former track and cross country All-American at BGSU, coached the BG women to four CC titles in the 1980s. Now, he's working his magic with the men. Price, an experienced coach on the national and international level, is in his fifth year as the head coach.

FOOTBALL - Two MAC titles and a run at a third championship last season has put the program back among the elite. BG won 19 straight league games over the last three years setting a MAC record while head coach Gary Blackney has yet to lose a game in Perry Stadium over the same time period. BG's 27-6-2 record over the last three seasons is among the best marks in the country. With five bowl games and 10 MAC titles in its history, BGSU alumni have included former NFL all-pros Phil Villapiano (Oakland), Mike Weger (Detroit), Doug Smith (Los Angeles Rams), and 12-year veterans Bob Reynolds and Jamie Rivers.

GOLF - Coach Todd Brunsink's men's and women's golf teams play on some of the most challenging courses in the country and in some of the most prestigious tournaments on the collegiate level. The Falcon men's program has won four MAC Championships and made four NCAA Tournament appearances while the women's program is annually among the best in the region.

GYMNASTICS - Year in and year out, Coach Charles Simpson fields a MAC title contender. With three MAC titles since 1980, the Falcons have qualified as a team for post season competition five of the last 11 years. In each of the six seasons, his teams have consistently increased the school record for team score.

HOCKEY - A winning tradition is what the Falcon hockey program is all about with new head coach Buddy Powers now leading the program. One of only five teams in the country to earn 20 or more wins every year between 1981 and 1990, BGSU will be looking to make its fifth NCAA Tournament appearance in the last nine years this season. In all, the Falcons have appeared in nine NCAA Tournaments winning the 1984 national title. In all, the Falcons have won 11 conference titles. BGSU has produced some of college hockey's greatest names, nine of which who currently play in the NHL, including defensemen Gary Galley and Rob Blake and forward Nelson Emerson.
The program posted a winning record in all but one year of the 1980s and the success has continued in the 90s with the team compiling a 41-11-3 record the last three seasons. BG was the top team in the Great Lakes Region in 1992 posting a sparkling 15-2-1 record on their way to a NCAA Tournament berth. The BGSU schedule annually includes perennial NCAA power Indiana along with the Kwik Goal/BGSU Classic. BG has won 12 or more matches in five of the last eight years, a 65.3 winning percentage.

SOFTBALL - Second-year head coach Rachel Miller saw her 1994 team win seven of their last nine games to finish fourth in the MAC. The top four hitters and both pitchers return for what should be a banner 1995 season. The program earned league titles in 1993 and 1988.

SWIMMING AND DIVING - Coach Brian Gordon returns for his eighth year with the men and women hoping to continue to make winning a habit. Thirteen dual meet wins in 1991-92 by the women's program established a school record while they have never finished lower than fourth in 13 MAC meets. The Falcons train at beautiful Cooper Pool, one of the midwest's top swimming and diving facilities.

TENNIS - The Falcon tennis teams have the advantage of playing and practicing at one of the finest facilities of its kind in the region - Robert Keefe Courts. The men's team under the guidance of MAC Coach of the Year Dave Morin, has never finished lower than fourth. The women's program is under the guidance of Penny Dean, who is in her fifth season.

TRACK & FIELD - Bowling Green, long associated with success in track and field, have had eight athletes compete in the NCAA meet the last three seasons. Among the track alumni is six-time NCAA All-American and 1972 Olympic gold medalist Dave Wottle. Sid Sink, a seven-time All-American at BGSU, heads the men's track team, while Steve Price directs the women's program.

VOLLEYBALL - Denise Van De Walle has steadily built the Falcon volleyball program into one of the best in the country. The 1992 team won a school-record 30 matches on its way to a third MAC title in four seasons. BG has won 20 or more matches seven of the last eight years. Van De Walle, three times named the league Coach of the Year, has led the Falcons to 191 wins over the last six seasons or a victory three out of every four times they've played.

VARSITY BG CLUB SAYS
GO FALCONS!

ABOUT THE VARSITY BG CLUB
The Varsity BG Club is an exclusive organization open only to former Bowling Green State University varsity letterwinners, who, for a non-tax deductible contribution of $20 per year, can help operate the club and support BGSU athletics at the same time. Almost 600 former Falcon letterwinners were Varsity BG Club members last year. Again this year, the Varsity BG Club is offering a lifetime membership for $200; no other dues will ever be required. Lifetime memberships for those 65 and older are only $100.

The Varsity BG Club undertakes two major projects each year. In July we will enjoy another Doyt Perry Golf Outing at the BGSU Forrest Creason Golf Course. Each fall, the annual Varsity BG Day festivities take place in conjunction with a Bowling Green football game. It’s a great day to return to campus and visit with former classmates and teammates. We are looking forward to another big year for the Varsity BG Club and Falcon athletics, and all we need from you is your participation.

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS
All active members of the Varsity BG Club will receive:
• Membership in an exclusive organization open only to BGSU varsity letterwinners.
• A list of special activities and programs, such as the ones described above.
• Subscription to the quarterly newsletter.
• Personal satisfaction in contributing to BGSU athletics through your continued involvement.

Doyt L. Perry Stadium, with its 30,599 seating capacity, is celebrating its 29th year as the home of Bowling Green State University football.

Built in 1966 for approximately $3 million as a replacement for the 43-year-old University Stadium, Perry Stadium had a capacity of 23,272 until bleacher seats were installed in both end zones in 1982.

One of the largest and most attractive athletic facilities in the Mid-American Conference, Perry Stadium holds the conference record for single-game attendance.

On October 8, 1983, a huge crowd of 33,527 packed into Perry Stadium for the annual Northwest Ohio rivalry between Bowling Green and Toledo, establishing a school and MAC record for single-game attendance. The Falcons went on to set a season record, breaking the six-digit figure for five games with a total draw of 100,021. It marked the first time in history that Bowling Green averaged more than 20,000 fans for five home football games.

That figure was topped in 1985, when Bowling Green posted a perfect record (11-0) in the regular season and clinched the MAC Championship by shutting out Toledo at Perry Stadium in November. More than 28,000 fans turned out that day, raising Bowling Green’s season attendance to an all-time high of 112,110, an average of 22,422.

The Falcons begin the 1994 season looking to extend a 15-game unbeaten streak at home as head coach Gary Blackney has never lost a game during his three-year tenure with his teams compiling a 14-0-1 record.

Perry Stadium is more than just a football facility. The east side of the stadium includes dressing rooms, equipment and training rooms, along with the Athletic Department offices. The west side received a face-lift six years ago. A physical fitness center/weight room opened its doors to all 19 intercollegiate athletic teams in the

They Put BGSU In The Driver's Seat

The Bowling Green State University Athletic Department recognizes and appreciates the efforts of the automobile dealers from Bowling Green, Maumee, North Baltimore, Marion and Findlay pictured on this page. The generosity of these people and their support of Falcon athletics enables BGSU coaches to be on the road to recruit student-athletes, scout opponents, and represent the University. Please show your support by patronizing our “Wheels of the Falcons” automobile dealers.
SPIRIT & TRADITION

Alma Mater
Alma Mater hear us,
As we praise thy name
Make us worthy sons and daughters
Adding to thy fame.
Time will treat you kindly
Years from now you'll be
Ever dearer in our hearts,
Our University.
From your halls of ivy
To the campus scene,
Chimes ring out with gladness
From our dear Bowling Green.
When all is just a mem'ry
Of the by-gone days,
Hear our hymn dear Alma Mater
As thy name we praise.

Fight Song
Forward Falcons, Forward Falcons
Fight for victory,
Show your spirit, make them fear it
Fight for 'ol Bee Gee
Forward Falcons, Forward Falcons
Make the contest keen
Shout out the fame of our mighty name
And win for Bowling Green!

Retired Jersey
The only football jersey ever retired at Bowling Green is #29. It was worn by Paul Miles from 1971-73. Miles rushed for 3,239 yards and 25 touchdowns in his career and was a three-time first team All-MAC selection. He was just the third back in NCAA history to rush for 1,000 or more yards in three consecutive seasons.

Ay Ziggy Zoomba
Ay Ziggy Zoomba Zoomba Zoomba
Ay Ziggy Zoomba Zoomba Ze
Ay Ziggy Zoomba Zoomba Zoomba
Ay Ziggy Zoomba Zoomba Zi
Roll along you BG warriors
Roll along and win for BGSU
Ay Ziggy Zoomba is Bowling Green's unofficial fight song (the official fight song is "Forward Falcons"). No one knows who wrote "Ay Ziggy Zoomba," but it became famous nationally when former Falcon All-American and Detroit Lion All-Pro halfback Mike Wegner sang it in the film "Paper Lion." The Falcon football team traditionally sings "Ay Ziggy Zoomba" after each victory.

Frieda & Freddie Falcon
Frieda and Freddie Falcon are the official mascots of the Bowling Green Falcons. Together with the BGSU cheerleaders, Frieda and Freddie boost spirit at intercollegiate athletic events. Tryouts are held each spring, and winners remain anonymous to the student body until each is "beheaded" at the last home basketball and hockey game. The Freddie Falcon tradition began in 1950 while Frieda Falcon was added for the 1979-80 athletic year.

Why Orange and Brown?
Burnt orange and seal brown have been the school colors at Bowling Green State University since 1914, the first year of classes. Legend has it that Leon Winslow, an industrial arts faculty member, got the idea from watching a woman's hat on a bus trip to nearby Toledo, Ohio. He liked the brown and orange color combination. So, too, did former Cleveland Browns' head coach Paul Brown. Following a trip to BGSU in the 1940s. Brown used the colors for his All-America Conference team.

Why The Falcons?
The 1994-95 season marks the 67th anniversary of Bowling Green's nickname, Falcons. Before 1927, BG teams were called the Normals or Teachers. Ivan Lake '23 suggested the nickname, Falcons, after reading an article on falconry. Lake, managing editor and sports editor of the Sentinel Tribune in Bowling Green at the time, proposed the name change because it fit headline space and because falcons were "the most powerful bird for their size and often attacked birds two or three times their size."
FALCON ALL-AMERICANS

Punter Cris Shale became the most decorated player ever at BGSU in 1990 earning a spot on five All-America teams while establishing four MAC records, including season (46.77) and career (43.09) average. Shale, a 10th round pick of the Washington Redskins in 1991, led the nation in punting in 1990.

The NCAA—Common Ground of College Athletics

By Debbie Harmison Byrne, Assistant Athletics Director, Old Dominion University

To many people, the National Collegiate Athletic Association is a building in Overland Park, Kansas, from which legislation is enacted and enforced upon its member institutions.

Yet to more than 1,000 colleges, universities, conferences and related organizations, the NCAA is the organization through which its members speak. It is a voluntary association devoted to the sound administration of intercollegiate athletics.

Through the NCAA, member institutions consider an athletics problem that has crossed regional or conference lines and has become national in scope. The Association, through its members, strives to maintain intercollegiate athletics as an integral part of the educational program and the athletes as an integral part of the student body.

The NCAA also stands for good conduct in intercollegiate athletics and serves as the colleges' national athletics accrediting agency.

The organization and its members recognize that creating an equitable college environment for its student-athletes is among their highest priorities. Working together to enact rules, policies, procedures and organizational goals, its members strive for the common goal of the academic integrity of their programs.

Just as integrity is a key in the academic program, it is also a component in the competition between the NCAA's members. The NCAA and its staff are charged with enforcing the rules and regulations that the institutions vote on and impose upon themselves.

While enforcement proceedings involving member schools seem to grab most of the headlines, they represent only a small part of the NCAA's total program.

The NCAA administers 79 championships in 21 sports for its member institutions, involving nearly 21,000 men and women student-athletes. There are 23 championships on the Division I level, 23 on the Division II level and 24 for Division III members, along with nine sports that have National Collegiate Championships for which all divisions are eligible.

Beyond its annual championships, the NCAA also places a high priority on honoring its members and student-athletes, evident in its honors program and postgraduate scholarships program. The honors program recognizes accomplishments of current and former outstanding student-athletes, while the postgraduate scholarship program annually honors 125 high-ranking college student-athletes who are in their last year of intercollegiate competition by providing them scholarships of $5,000 each.

The Walter Byers Scholarship Program recognizes a top male and female student-athlete each year, separate from the postgraduate program. In addition, the NCAA recognizes the need to assist its members in career development in collegiate athletics and has addressed this area through its women's and ethnic minority enhancement programs.

The NCAA's members form a diverse group ranging from large state institutions to small, privately funded colleges. Their common goal, however, is the same—working for the advancement and achievement of the student-athletes and for the common good of higher education.
Peters learn to play with his strength.

"Coach Ward is awesome," Peter said. "He's done a great job; he doesn't look at it to just make you stronger. He wants to make you the best player you can be."

Peters, Johnson, Chad Bukey, Shawn George and Cal Bowers have been BG's starters on the line since the beginning of the season. The five along with the tight ends have played a major role in BG's offensive success. The Falcons are averaging 35.8 points and 410 yards per game while going 9-1 overall and 7-0 in the Mid-American Conference.

"Most of the time there are not accolades for the offensive line. What you have to get is satisfaction out of the team doing well," Malone said. "You can't walk off the field and say how many catches you had or how many tackles or anything like that. It's strictly what the group does; that's how you gain personal satisfaction.

"It's sure a lot easier to be a good offensive lineman when you've got Ryan Henry and the running backs and receivers we've got," Malone added. "I don't care how good an offensive line you have, you need some guys back there to make plays."

Peters enjoys BG's offensive success - "The biggest thrill for me is coming off the field at the end of the game with a big victory, knowing that I played as hard as I could."

By playing hard, Peters is working toward his major goal - "I want to win the conference so bad, I'm doing everything I can as an individual to make the team better. I think I've become a better player because I want the team to do so well."

Dr. Narbeth Emmanuel, who is a 1974 graduate of the University and the vice president for student affairs at Ferris State University, agrees that the program continues to be a leader in the field.

"In recent years, the faculty has grown and the quality has gotten stronger. I am impressed with the number of journal articles being written by the faculty.

"Today, Bowling Green has the leading program in the country."

The department continues to offer new and innovative changes. As an example, a special "Adult Learner" focus has been added to the traditional master's degree. This focus is designed to prepare students to work with the ever-increasing numbers of older persons who are returning to school.

"Most people attend college when they are going through some transition in their lives," King says, adding that for traditional-age students those issues and concerns center around "coming of age" themes, while older students are usually dealing with issues such as career changes, divorce, single parenting or lifestyle changes.

"The adult learner focus offers a special understanding of these returning adult students," King adds. To date, 40 students have graduated with this focus and an additional dozen students are currently studying within the specialty.

With all of this activity, it only seems natural that the University would serve as the clearinghouse and archives for the professions. In conjunction with the University libraries, the department serves as the National Student Affairs Archives, maintaining the official records of 17 professional organizations, including the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, the American College Personnel Association, the National Association of College Admissions Counselors and the National Association of College and University Residence Halls.

If you're a long-time Falcon football fan and things haven't seemed quite right this year, perhaps it's because for the first time in 28 years you haven't heard: "Please stand for the national anthem. It will be conducted by Mark S. Kelly, director of bands."

After almost three decades of service to the University, Kelly retired in May as a professor of music and director of the college's instrumental music program.

To honor his accomplishments, the University Board of Trustees earlier this month named the instrumental rehearsal hall within the Moore Musical Arts Center for Kelly. In honoring Kelly, the board waived its rule of waiting for two years after a person retires before naming a facility in his or her honor.

Under his direction, Bowling Green bands, especially the Falcon Marching Band, have earned national reputations for excellence.

In 1974 Kelly was selected as one of the Ten Most Outstanding Music Directors in the U.S. by "School Musician Magazine." In 1981 he was presented the Edwin Franko Goldman Award by the American School Band Director's Association in recognition of his contributions to the advancement of school bands.

Most recently he was presented a Citation of Excellence from the National Band Association. He is a past officer in more than a half-dozen honorary and professional organizations, including the American Bandmasters Association, the National Band Association and the College Band Director's National Association.

In nominating him to the board, Jody Bryan, a senior music education major from Youngstown and president of the college's Student Advisory Committee, wrote, "Mr. Kelly has touched thousands of lives in the field of music education and will most assuredly be remembered as an incredible man by each and every one of these people.

"He has dedicated his life to music and to his students. Consider the number of students who have walked into the instrumental rehearsal hall as freshmen and, under his leadership and inspiration, walked out to become some of the finest music educators in America."

Mark S. Kelly—as he will always be remembered. After 28 years as director of the Falcon Marching Band, Kelly retired this past May. Earlier this month, he was honored by the University Board of Trustees by having a room in the Moore Musical Arts Center named for him.
BGSU Looks To Defend Title

The top women's basketball program in the Mid-American Conference over the last eight seasons, Bowling Green State University, will be counting on more inexperienced players than ever as they look to maintain their lofty status on a conference, regional and national level.

But, fourth-year head coach Jaci Clark, the Women’s Basketball Coaches Association District 4 Coach of the Year last season, thinks there will be many factors motivating her players this season. But, one in particular, which she thinks will keep the Falcons among the elite teams in the MAC.

“We have a new group of players who are very eager for their chance to show their basketball skills in more than a reserve role,” said Clark, who has compiled a sterling 75-14 record in her first three seasons. “The players on the team this year want to prove they can be an outstanding team, also. They’re excited about the season despite the fact there will be some changes and some players will have to take on new roles.”

Clark also realizes the season will not pass without some growing pains.

“Most of the players who have been in the program still have to establish themselves as basketball players while at the same time be pulling along some of the younger players.

“It is a situation this program has not faced for some time. It always seemed we had a good blend of experience and youth.”

If coming into a program with a history of success is any help to an inexperienced team, then there are not many places any better than Bowling Green.

Over the last eight seasons, the program is the 10th highest in the country compiling a 189-51 record, a 78.8 winning percentage; over the same period, BG has compiled a record of 115-17 in Mid-American Conference play, an 87.1 winning percentage; in addition, the program has made six NCAA Tournament appearances, won six MAC Tournament titles and five MAC regular season titles; and they have won 20 or more games in seven of those seasons.

Clark does think there will be an adjustment period.

“We’re still very talented and deep, but we have a unique situation in that we are not young, but we are inexperienced,” Clark said. “Because this year’s team has not played together as unit very much we will need all the time we can get to work out those problems. We will have to be patient during the nonconference schedule, improve as we go along, and find out what we do well so we are ready for the MAC season.”

But, Clark said the things that have made the program successful, despite the inexperience, will not change this season.

“Not a lot is going to change,” Clark said. “We are going to have very good speed, good height, good athletic ability and you might see us run and press even more.”

As has been the case the last few seasons, the women’s basketball program plays some of the top teams in the country in non-league games in order to get ready for league action.

“It may not be the toughest non-league schedule the program has ever faced, but considering what we have lost, it is a challenging schedule,” Clark said.

Among the opponents for the Falcons in non-league play is a trip to Arizona State to play in their tournament which includes Iowa State and Colgate. BG also plays at Nebraska, Xavier and Illinois State while the highlight of the home schedule is a meeting with perennial national power Georgia at Anderson Arena on Dec. 19.

BGSU lost four starters from a year ago, including forward Lori Albers, who averaged 13.0 points and was the top rebounder averaging 7.8 per game, steady point guard Susie Cassell, who started the last 105 games of her career, and forward Talita Scott, one of the top all-around players ever in the program and the runner-up for Player of the Year honors in the MAC. Frontcourt players Tangy Williams and J.J. Nuesmeyer provided solid leadership and experience. Scott and Albers ended their careers second and third, respectively on the BG career scoring list and ranked among the career leaders in at least six categories.

This year’s team, especially early, will lean heavily on senior forward Michelle Shade, the most experienced player on the team. Shade, the league tournament MVP last season and second team All-MAC selection, averaged 15.9 points. Senior Sharleen Hooper will “run the show” from the point guard spot while as many as seven or eight other players are vying for playing time at the other three positions.
THANKS, B.G.!

We're not the most conspicuous copier store in the area. Which is why your business means so much to us. You see, we know that you know that story: while the big universities get the attention, BGSU just does its job... and develops programs, academic and athletic, to rival any in the Midwest! So... thank you, BG, for letting Goodremont's and Minolta to help you in "reproducing" your very considerable accomplishments.
