Monitor Newsletter August 31, 1992

Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor/244

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the University Publications at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Monitor by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@BGSU.
Moore and McFillen explain rules and process involved in unionization

All public employees have the right to unionize under the Ohio Freedom to Organize Act, passed in 1964. The law requires the State Board of Education to take certain actions after a petition is filed.

If a majority of employees sign a petition, the Board must hold an election to determine whether the employees want to unionize. If the employees vote to unionize, the Board must recognize the union, negotiate a contract, and enforce it.

In the process, employees must work with their union representatives to negotiate a contract. The contract sets forth the terms and conditions of employment, including wages, hours, and other working conditions.

If an employer does not agree to the contract terms, the union may file a complaint with the Board, which will conduct a hearing to determine the validity of the complaint and issue a decision. The decision may be appealed to the court.

If there is a dispute between an employer and an employee, the employee may file a complaint with the Board, which will conduct a hearing to determine the validity of the complaint and issue a decision. The decision may be appealed to the court.

If a majority of employees sign a petition to unionize, the employer must negotiate with the union to determine the terms and conditions of employment. If the employer does not agree to the contract terms, the union may file a complaint with the Board, which will conduct a hearing to determine the validity of the complaint and issue a decision. The decision may be appealed to the court.

If an employer does not agree to the contract terms, the union may file a complaint with the Board, which will conduct a hearing to determine the validity of the complaint and issue a decision. The decision may be appealed to the court.

The Board of Education will not intervene in any disputes between the employer and the employees, but it will monitor the process to ensure that the employees' rights are protected.

In summary, the Board of Education has a responsibility to ensure that the employees' rights are protected, and it will not intervene in any disputes between the employer and the employees, but it will monitor the process to ensure that the employees' rights are protected.

---

Moore and McFillen explain rules and process involved in unionization

All public employees have the right to unionize under the Ohio Freedom to Organize Act, passed in 1964. The law requires the State Board of Education to take certain actions after a petition is filed.

If a majority of employees sign a petition, the Board must hold an election to determine whether the employees want to unionize. If the employees vote to unionize, the Board must recognize the union, negotiate a contract, and enforce it.

In the process, employees must work with their union representatives to negotiate a contract. The contract sets forth the terms and conditions of employment, including wages, hours, and other working conditions.

If an employer does not agree to the contract terms, the union may file a complaint with the Board, which will conduct a hearing to determine the validity of the complaint and issue a decision. The decision may be appealed to the court.

If a majority of employees sign a petition to unionize, the employer must negotiate with the union to determine the terms and conditions of employment. If the employer does not agree to the contract terms, the union may file a complaint with the Board, which will conduct a hearing to determine the validity of the complaint and issue a decision. The decision may be appealed to the court.

If an employer does not agree to the contract terms, the union may file a complaint with the Board, which will conduct a hearing to determine the validity of the complaint and issue a decision. The decision may be appealed to the court.

The Board of Education will not intervene in any disputes between the employer and the employees, but it will monitor the process to ensure that the employees' rights are protected.

In summary, the Board of Education has a responsibility to ensure that the employees' rights are protected, and it will not intervene in any disputes between the employer and the employees, but it will monitor the process to ensure that the employees' rights are protected.
BGSU as the assistant to the director of University Division and while working at the University earned a master's degree in educational administration. In 1961 she became a counselor and advisor of Southwest Michigan State University and remained in that position until 1986, when she accepted her current position.

Council of Administrative Staff

The Ferris Council of Administrative Staff was created in 1989 by the University's Board of Trustees as a result of a recommendation by the Faculty Senate on behalf of the Ferris students. The council of administrative staff is a liaison between the administrative staff of the University and students. The council meets at least twice a semester to discuss issues and concerns relating to the welfare of the administrative staff. The council also serves as a forum for the exchange of ideas and the sharing of information among its members.

The council is made up of representatives from various departments and units on campus. The representatives are elected by their respective departments or units, and they serve a term of two years. The council meets on a regular basis, typically on a monthly or quarterly basis, to discuss issues and concerns relating to the welfare of the administrative staff. The council also serves as a forum for the exchange of ideas and the sharing of information among its members.

The council's focus is on improving the working conditions and opportunities for administrative staff on campus. The council has worked to address issues such as compensation, professional development, and work-life balance. The council has also been involved in negotiations with the administration to improve working conditions and to address concerns raised by the administrative staff.

The council has made several recommendations to improve the working conditions of the administrative staff. These include increasing the compensation for administrative staff, improving professional development opportunities, and addressing work-life balance issues. The council has also advocated for the establishment of a more transparent and democratic decision-making process within the university.

The Ferris Council of Administrative Staff is an important voice for the administrative staff on campus, and it continues to work towards improving the working conditions and opportunities for all administrative staff on the Ferris campus.
Trustee Medfam answers CSC's questions about unions and the budget

Penny Nemitz honored as recipient of Ferrari Award

The top student advisor at the Bowling Green State University is this year's recipient of the Michael F. Ferrari Award, administered by the University's Campaign Council.

e (University of Mississippi, Abilene Christian University, and Virginia Commonwealth University, among others. In addition, he also worked with the University of Texas at Austin, serving as an assistant with the university's mathematics department.

But in order to understand the significance of Nemitz's achievement, it is necessary to comprehend the history of the Ferrari Award. Established in 1984, the award has been given annually by the Campaign Council to recognize outstanding achievement and leadership.

The criteria for the Ferrari Award are based on the following qualities:

- Academic excellence: The recipient must have achieved an outstanding academic record.
- Leadership: The recipient must have demonstrated exceptional leadership qualities.
- Community service: The recipient must have contributed significantly to the community through service activities.

Penny Nemitz, a senior at Bowling Green State University, has been chosen as this year's recipient of the Ferrari Award. She is a member of the Honors Program, the National Honor Society, and the Alpha Chi Omega sorority. Nemitz has also been involved in various community service projects, including volunteering at a local hospital and working with underprivileged children.

The Ferrari Award ceremony will be held on May 1st, and Nemitz will be presented with a plaque and a monetary award. She will also have the opportunity to speak at a commencement ceremony later in the year.

The Campaign Council is proud to announce the selection of Penny Nemitz as this year's recipient of the Ferrari Award. We congratulate her on her outstanding achievement and look forward to seeing her contributions to the community in the future.
Registration and records office no longer to provide staff in off-campus mailroom

Due to recent budget cuts, the Office of the Registrar must no longer provide space to staff in the off-campus mailroom. All University departments and offices are requested to forward all mail to the main campus. This includes mail from University deans, directors, and chairs, and Professor Judith A. Arrington, assistant professor in the Department of History at the University of Toledo.

Four mainframe computers to be moved this fall

Four mainframe computers are to be moved to Hayes Hall on Sept. 30. These computers include the IBM 4341, 4331, and 4321.

OBITUARY

Brenda McCullar, 45, popular culture major, died Aug. 31 in Riverside Hospital in Toledo.

McCullar, a daughter of John and Ann McCullar, was a senior majoring in the department of English and American culture.

Prior to coming to Bowling Green, she worked at the Mary Sue Hartford Center.

Brenda McCullar is survived by her parents, John and Ann McCullar; her sister, Susan McCullar; and her brother, David McCullar.

McKinnon Memorial”。

CLASSIFIED EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Five positions are available.

Postings expiration dates for employees to apply: Noon, Friday, Sept. 4.

1-4-1 Secretary 2

2-3-1 Office Assistant 2

1-3-1 Secretary 1

Department and other organizations wishing to advertise for the off-campus mailroom have two options: either hire their own personal staff to insert mail into the boxes or mail correspondence to the off-campus mailroom.

The mailroom in Hayes Hall is open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Employees can still participate in non-paid leave program

Employees wishing to take additional time off without reducing their salary may do so by taking advantage of the non-paid leave program that will be held Tuesday through Thursday, Oct. 7-9.

Administrative Staff Convocation is set for Tuesday

All members of the classified staff and students working in the classified staff will be held Tuesday, Oct. 7 through Thursday, Oct. 9.

Finding materials at the campus library is going to be a whole new experience thanks to a sophisticated electronic information system that was unveiled to the public Sept. 7. President Ronald W. Smith of the University of Toledo and Governor John R. Kasich of Ohio conducted the opening dedication ceremony.

CAMPUS SERVICES

System gives access to state's resources

Campus libraries join 'information revolution' with connection of BG LINK

Finding materials at the campus library is going to be a whole new experience thanks to a sophisticated electronic information system that was unveiled to the public Sept. 7. President Ronald W. Smith of the University of Toledo and Governor John R. Kasich of Ohio conducted the opening dedication ceremony.

CAMPUS SERVICES

System gives access to state's resources

Campus libraries join 'information revolution' with connection of BG LINK

Finding materials at the campus library is going to be a whole new experience thanks to a sophisticated electronic information system that was unveiled to the public Sept. 7. President Ronald W. Smith of the University of Toledo and Governor John R. Kasich of Ohio conducted the opening dedication ceremony.

CAMPUS SERVICES

System gives access to state's resources

Campus libraries join 'information revolution' with connection of BG LINK

Finding materials at the campus library is going to be a whole new experience thanks to a sophisticated electronic information system that was unveiled to the public Sept. 7. President Ronald W. Smith of the University of Toledo and Governor John R. Kasich of Ohio conducted the opening dedication ceremony.

CAMPUS SERVICES

System gives access to state's resources

Campus libraries join 'information revolution' with connection of BG LINK

Finding materials at the campus library is going to be a whole new experience thanks to a sophisticated electronic information system that was unveiled to the public Sept. 7. President Ronald W. Smith of the University of Toledo and Governor John R. Kasich of Ohio conducted the opening dedication ceremony.

CAMPUS SERVICES

System gives access to state's resources

Campus libraries join 'information revolution' with connection of BG LINK

Finding materials at the campus library is going to be a whole new experience thanks to a sophisticated electronic information system that was unveiled to the public Sept. 7. President Ronald W. Smith of the University of Toledo and Governor John R. Kasich of Ohio conducted the opening dedication ceremony.