

Mar 5th, 12:00 AM - Mar 6th, 12:00 AM

Ray Browne Conference for Popular Culture Studies 2021 Poster

Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/rbc>

Bowling Green State University, "Ray Browne Conference for Popular Culture Studies 2021 Poster" (2021).
Ray Browne Conference on Cultural and Critical Studies. 1.
<https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/rbc/2021conference/01/1>

This Event is brought to you for free and open access by the Conferences and Events at ScholarWorks@BGSU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ray Browne Conference on Cultural and Critical Studies by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@BGSU.

RAY BROWNE CONFERENCE FOR POPULAR CULTURE STUDIES

CONSIDERING CONCLUSIONS:

What Do We Learn When We Unpack the Popular?

MARCH 5-6, 2021

KEYNOTE SPEAKER:

Dr. Jeremy Wallach

Jeremy Wallach is a Professor of Popular Culture in the School of Cultural and Critical Studies at Bowling Green State University. A cultural anthropologist specializing in popular music and globalization, he has written or co-written more than thirty research articles; co-edited, with Esther Clinton, a special issue of Asian Music (2013); and authored the monograph Modern Noise, Fluid Genres: Popular Music in Indonesia, 1997-2001 (Univ. of Wisconsin, 2008; Indonesian Ed., Komunitas Bambu, 2017). In 2011, he co-edited, with Harris M. Berger and Paul D. Greene, the collection Metal Rules the Globe: Heavy Metal Music around the World (Duke). In 2013, he chaired the organizing committee for the landmark BGSU Heavy Metal and Popular Culture International Conference. A co-founder and former chair of the Society for Ethnomusicology Popular Music Section, Dr. Wallach has given research presentations around the world.

KEYNOTE PRESENTATION:

Failures of Popular Culture Studies

Popular culture studies has spent so much time either defensively justifying its existence or celebrating itself that fundamental contradictions in the field remain unaddressed more than half a century into its existence. Dr. Wallach's presentation outlines his own 25-year intellectual journey navigating a course between the Scylla of critical arrogance and the Charybdis of uncritical fannish enthusiasm. He concludes by asserting that he has found the only way forward to be to acknowledge fully the political context in which popular culture scholars work in which most forms of popular culture are openly and mercilessly derided, and their own subject positions as both scholars and active participants in popular culture broadly defined.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The Ray Browne Conference for Popular Culture Studies is an annual graduate student organized conference that invites participants to consider the study of popular culture as an approach, proposal, and practice.

To our guests with disabilities, please indicate if you need special services, assistance or appropriate modifications to fully participate in this event by contacting Accessibility Services at access@bgsu.edu or 419-372-8495. Please notify us prior to the event.