BOWLING GREEN ENTERS KENT STATE MUSIC FESTIVAL

Dr. Howard Hanson Will Direct

Kent, O., May 7—Dr. Howard Hanson, noted American composer and director of the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y., will direct the Ohio Intercollegiate Symphony orchestra at the Ohio College Orchestral festival at Kent State College, Saturday evening, May 12.

The first half of the program will be aired on the National Broadcasting company's blue network, through WGAR, Cleveland, from 8 to 8:30 p. m.

During the broadcast, the orchestra composed of musicians from 15 Ohio colleges, will play "The Romantic Symphony", a composition by Dr. Hanson.

Over 100 Musicians

The orchestra is composed of more than 100 musicians from various institutions. The colleges and the number of individuals placed are as follows: Akron university, 12; Bowling Green, 5; Baldwin-Wallace, 9; Dana Institute, 17; Denison, 2; Heidelberg, 1; Hiram, 1; Cleveland Institute of Music, 5; Kent State, 23; Mount Union, 3; Ohio Northern, 2; Ohio Wesleyan, 3; Ohio university, 10; Toledo, 1; and Wittenberg, 8.

Rehearsals will be held at Kent in three sessions beginning Friday afternoon, May 11. A concert by three individual college orchestras will be given in the college auditorium Saturday afternoon. Akron university, Dana Institute of Music, Warren, and Kent State college will present full orchestras.

The program will consist of the best numbers, of their particular kind given at the College of the Practical Arts building, May 23, 1934.

Men's Glee Club Gives Evening Concert

The Men's Glee Club sang a very interesting and varied concert in the college auditorium Tuesday, May 1st. This was their third annual formal concert.

The personnel of the club consists of twenty-four members—college men outside the music department.

The program started with two college songs—the first one "Hail, Dear Alma Mater," words and music by Leon E. Faubey, the director. The second college song was sung to the music of "Finlandia" by Sibelius with words by Prof. Carmichael. The Club continued with a group of three songs from the older composers, "Echo Song" by di Lasso, the echo was sung by the college quartet, Purcell's, "Passing By", and "Danse Macabre" by St. Saens.

Lawrence Ringenberg and Donald Picketing gave a trumpet duet, Minuet in G by Beethoven. The Varsity Quartet, consisting of Alden Allenworth, Owen Callin, Howard Haise, and Erich Koop sang two outstanding groups of songs, Bar and Negro. The program ended with two negro songs "Why Adam Sinned" and "Listen to the Lamb" by the Glee Club.

Quill Type News

The members of Quill Type presented a mock trial at their regular meeting last Wednesday night. The trial was entitled, "The Slander Case", and John Davidson, an alumnus, sat on the bench. The trial was under the direction of Marjorie Sterling, who was assisted by Naomi Curtis.

Those participating in the case were Charlotte Clingaman, Lucille Windle, Gaynette Fillers, Melvin Smith, Paul Shafer, Kenneth Doehring, Fern Kaiser, Grace Myers, Howard Bricker, Lucile Leidy, Edgar Emerson, Mary Frazier, Florence Duffield, Wanetta Daniels, Donald MacDonald, Ruth Nachtrieb, Mabel Sowers, Don Badertscher, and Winifred Dunipace.

The Quill Type members will present their annual program in the auditorium of the Practical Arts building, May 23, 1934. This program will consist of the best numbers of their particular kind given at the meetings this year. The features which are to be presented are:

Ernestine Barckert, paper.
Mary Frazier, Piano Solo.
Lyle Beck, Oration.
Naomi Curtis, Violin Solo.
Marjorie Sterling, Reading.
Mabel Sowers, Geneva King, Piano Duo.
Grace Myers, Parliamentary Drill.
Donald MacDonald, Yachting.
Kenneth Doehring, Accordian Solo.
Evelyn Baker, Events.
NEW PLAN!
Do You Like It?

Keeping up with the latest developments in modern education, Hiram College embarks on a new plan of procedure. Students, instead of carrying five subjects simultaneously (as under the time-honored custom of most schools, including B. G. S. C.), will spend nine weeks on one subject with physical education added. The year will be divided into four of the nine-week periods.

This new method of learning without benefit of clocks or bells would have both its merits and faults. Students, instead of carrying five subjects simultaneously, will spend nine weeks on one subject with physical education added. The year will be divided into four of the nine-week periods.

One of the best of these columns is "Daily Washington-Merry-Go-Round" by Pearson and Allen, appearing in the Toledo News Bee and associated papers. Another worthwhile daily column is Paul Mallon's "News Behind the News" in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, which analyzes the purposes behind official actions at Washington.

Paul Y. Anderson contributes a bi-weekly commentary on current political trends to the Nation, Christian Century, and Review of Reviews. The magazine Time is also a great aid towards the understanding of what is occurring at Washington.

MAY DAY

The almost amazing lack of interest in school affairs and activities is about to characterize this year. The alumni are ashamed of us, and we are ashamed of ourselves. We have permitted a year of golden opportunities to pass uneventfully. However, consolation presents itself in giving us one more chance by which to remember our college days of 1933-34.

On May 14, 15, or 16 (depending on weather conditions) May Day will be held. This is an event for all, not just girls, sororities, or frats. It is a gay festival in which we should take pride. It is not a personal affair where we can display our whims and fancies. It is a purely aesthetic endeavor to show that we have some culture and appreciating qualities. It's a grand chance to come out and see how the other fifty per cent of our fellow students and teachers feel about functions that are typical of big, well-known schools.

To those who revolt at formals, come informally; to those who dislike niceties, come and see what the rest of us like; to those who want to criticize, come and hunt for something to say; to those who are real, alive college men and women, come and support this last big event of the year.

If you fail to cooperate or turn out, it will be your fault May Day fails, and it will be you who will have to take the blame instead of giving it for a change. Let's see if May Day of 1934 won't exceed all others in splendor and spectators. If you can't get a date, come anyway.

Slang From Shakespeare

Done me wrong.
She falls for it.
Go hand yourself.
How do you talk.
Dead as a doornail.
Beat it.
Not so hot.
I hope to frame thee.
If he fall in, good night.

—The Golden Book

Silver River

A silent river and a wide river
That leads never to the sea—
That is the meaning of existence
Temporarily in life to me.

I am weary of towns and cities
When I see no light beyond;
For I think of a ship in a whirlpool
Quickly disappearing 'fore dawn.
Then I think of those stagnant waters
Of that silent and wide river
That never reaches its great goal—
Never is to the sea, a giver.

I am that silent river and wide river
That never reaches the sea;
And the world is that raging whirlpool
That is always destroying me.

EMERSON PICNIC

"Run! Run!" was the Emerson war-cry Wednesday, as a score of Emersonians fled from snakes, spattered bacon-grease, burnt marshmallows, and played "flying Dutchman" at the great spring picnic on Wednesday, May 2.

The fun began with a short hike led by Professor Schwarz, and enlivened by an impromptu ball game, which revealed promising material for baseball teams. A business session was held at the site of the picnic, closing the activities of the semester. Each member was his own cook and bottle-washer during the dinner hour. At sunset the Emersonians held a singing school about the campfire, followed by "party games," such as "two deep." This proved somewhat disastrous to the less athletic participants, who tumbled about in the grass, but lost none of their enthusiasm.

SPECIAL MUSIC PROGRAM GIVEN IN ASSEMBLY

The Music Department of the college presented an unusually fine program in assembly Tuesday, May 1. Solos by Arlene Gill, Elvira Krause and Alfred George entertained the students and faculty.

Students Entertain High School

Students from the college accompanied Prof. E. G. Knepper to Pioneer high school last Thursday morning, where they entertained at chapel with musical numbers. The entertainers were Owen Callin, Alden Allenworth, Howard Haise, Erich Koep and Kenneth Doehring. Following the program, Mr. Knepper interviewed seniors who were interested in Bowling Green State college.

Five Brothers News

At a recent meeting the following men were elected to office for the ensuing year: President, James Deter; Vice President, Tom Sears; Secretary, Audrey Stevenson; Treasurer, Franklin Keil; G. A. F., Robert McKee; Chaplain, Royce Hutchinson; Loyal Brother, Virden Crawford.

Plans are rapidly being formulated for the Five Brothers Annual Spring Picnic to be held, May 26, 1934. The picnic this year will be one of the outstanding social events of the year. Many alumni members are planning to attend.

On Wednesday night of last week the following neophytes were given the first degree: Cleo Allen, Paul Baumgardner, William Foster, Darl Fry, Norman Fry, James Greetham, Howard Haise, Bill Jansen, Darrel Lowell, Robert McKnight, John Park, Earl Roth, and Maurice Stearns.

Has everyone heard Greetham's fish story?

ALUMNI NOTES

Mrs. Robert Younkin, formerly Miss Bertha Hays, directed the production of Barrie's "Quality Street" in Delta, Ohio, where her husband is superintendent of schools. Mrs. Younkin was graduated from B. G. S. C. in 1922, and was an outstanding student in dramatic work.

Those who are skeptical of the possibilities in small town dramatic productions may note this success. Because they presented a good, high class play that the people would support, they were able to pay the high royalty.

Dean Dorm Famous Last Words

As I opened the door a babble of voices met my ear. "What do you think?" quips Ruth. A lull, then, "You'd be surprised," from Herma. The insistent tones of Mary follow with, "Now, tell me!" A hushed quiet with a faint murmur of voices governs the upstairs of this abode. "Well, now isn't that cute," says Marie breaking the silence. "And me with six lessons to do," laments Betty. A scrambling after some one is heard and, "I'll scream", is heard in Kate's shrill voice. In still louder tones Helen demands, "What did you say?" Amy in impatient tones cries, "Wait a minute! Wait a minute! I'll be ready in a minute."

W. A. A. Holds Meeting

Reports on the National Athletic Convention at Dennison were features of the W. A. A. meeting Wednesday evening, May 13, in the women's gym. The five delegates to the convention, Ione Blessing, Geneva King, Mary Ellen Kell, Mabel Grauer, and Wanda DeMongeot, each described a part of the activities.

A discussion of plans for the W. A. A. annual banquet began the meeting.
