STUDENT ACTIVITY SURVEY

The actual value attached to campus extra-curricular activity has never been definitely determined but college administrators and teachers have been generous in their efforts to afford it a prominent place in student college life. In the past, this outside activity has been estimated by some to include three-fourths of the value of the general college training. Others have not been so enthusiastic about this phase of college life. It is true, however, that the social graces, personality and the spiritual life of the individual must be developed simultaneously with the intellect or the balance and poise of the individual will be disturbed.

A survey of organization life for the semester just closed in Bowling Green State College has been made and the figures indicate rather extensive participation in extra-curricular activity. Out of the 16 men electing the elementary course in the College of Education, 5 participated in but one extra-curricular activity, and 1 in two activities. Of the 330 girls in this same course, 78 affiliated themselves with one activity, 33 with two, 5 with three and 6 with four. Of the total of 346 elementary students, 128 or 37 per cent of the entire group enjoyed the extra-curricular program of one or more activities.

Of the 388 degree students in the College of Education, 68 per cent were lined up with one or more campus activities. Thirty-seven of the 170 men in this group were interested in one extra-curricular activity, 26 in two, 11 in three, and 8 in four. Of the 218 girls enrolled in this degree course, 62 entered one activity last semester; 47, two; 23, three; 23, four; and 1 was a member of six organizations.

The College of Liberal Arts students line up in much the same way.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Dean Clyde Hissong and Dr. W. C. Höppes attended Kiwanis Convention at Toronto, Canada recently. Kiwanis at Toronto exemplified in an inspiring way the idealism of American and Canadian business and professional men. Scores of concrete suggestions for activities in citizenship, boys' and girls' work, vocational guidance, service to the under-privileged, etc. were brought from the corners of the continent. There was of course a judicious amount of fun and entertainment provided. The ladies were shown a good time everyday and at night joined their husbands at dinners, dances or other social amusements.

THE SUMMER RECEPTION

Thursday evening ushered in the social events of the summer session with a delightful reception and dance. In the lovely setting of the rock garden students, old and new, were cordially welcomed to our college.

The dance, held in the Men's Gym was the high-light of the evening and the second attraction surely must have been the punch. Orchids to the makers of the punch.

THE LIBRARY

Below we give some information regarding the operation of our Library. A careful study of these points will aid students and Librarians in the receiving and rendering of more efficient service.

Hours of the Library

Mon., Tues., Wed., Thurs.—Second Floor (Main Desk and Reading Room): 8:00 A. M. to 8:45 P. M.; Reserve Room: 7:00 P. M. to 8:45 P. M.

Friday—Second Floor: 8:00 A. M. to 4:45 P. M.; Reserve Room: 7:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M.

Saturday—Second Floor: 8:00 A. M. to 11:45 A. M.; Reserve Room 7:00 A. M. to 11:45 A. M.

How to Get a Book

1. Look in the card files in front of the Main Desk for the book you want. Books are filed there by author, title, and subject—look for any one of these.

2. Copy the number in the upper left-hand corner of the card exactly as it is given on a slip of paper from the table.

3. Present this slip to one of the student assistants at the Main Desk.

Pink Charges

If the book is to be used in the Reading Room only, a pink charge is made out, to be signed by the person borrowing the book. Books on pink charges cannot be taken from the Library.

White Charges

If the book is wanted for a week, a white charge is used. Books on white charges except in special cases may be kept seven days.

Periodicals

All bound volumes of magazines (to Jan. 1934) are to be asked for on a slip of paper at the Main Desk. Current issues (since Jan. 1934) kept at the desk in the Reading Room. Many of the last numbers are to be found in holders on racks in the east end of the Reading Room.

An index to periodical literature can be found to the right of the desk in the Reading Room.

pulses to the personal level.

This personnel development takes a long time but one can change this part of himself known as his personality.
Forty-three of the 103 men, or 41 per cent of this student group, go in for extra-curricular activity. Twenty-cent of this student group, 17 for two, 2 for three, and 1 for five.

On an average, these figures show less than half of the college students on this campus confining their training to the classroom only. If the once popular idea that most of the values received in college life are obtained on the campus outside of the classroom, is at all sound, then Bowling Green State College is ministering to but half of the students she is supposed to serve. However, it is not at all certain that the above assumption is as conclusive as may be supposed. In fact, the trend of thought seems to indicate recently that scholarship is one of the very first prerequisites to successful service. All other training, wherever gained, is perhaps more valuable because of its scholastic foundations. Even though evaluations of these different means of education must be more or less subjective, it would seem that an institution which provides extra-curricular activity in some form to at least one-half of its student body is rendering a reasonable service to its constituents. Methods and morale within these campus grounds may need improvement but as far as numbers go, Bowling Green is, indeed, measuring up very well.

Surely everyone who attended will agree with me that any one who did not attend missed a jolly good time. Let that be a lesson to you. Be out the next time and laugh and dance your troubles away. We're all here so why not get acquainted?

PARLIAMENTARY GROUP MEETS

About 25 enthusiastic students met Wednesday, June 20, to learn parliamentary practice. It was decided to form a loose organization for the summer session—a study and discussion group.

Mr. Lougheed was elected chairman for the evening, while Miss Masters served as secretary. During their selection and the nomination of officers for the regular organization which followed, a large amount of parliamentary drill was encountered (1) and mastered (2). An insurgent uprising in connection with the nomination for Sergeant-at-Arms was suppressed by a large majority. Fortunately, this and the other complicated entanglements in which the group itself were dispelled before the expiration of the hour.

The group, which is being sponsored by the Emerson Literary Society, plans to meet each Wednesday from 7:00 to 8:00 P.M. for practice in parliamentary procedure under the tutelage of Prof. Schwarz. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested students to join the group. One or two of the meetings will be devoted to open forum discussions on questions of popular interest.

The meeting tonight will be of only 45 minutes duration because of the Lecturc course program. Everybody is urged to attend.

VACATION TOURS
Miss Nellie Ogle, Miss Elsie Lorenz, Miss Margaret Robson, and Miss Helen Henderson motored approximately eighteen hundred miles to Canada. They spent a day in Quebec visiting the interesting French quarters and other places of note. They watched the Empress of Britain come in. Part of a day was also enjoyed in Montreal.

SHORTS
Dr. Kohl spent the greater part of the week on his farm ten miles from Bowling Green. He enjoyed the vigorous exercise he received working about his farm.

Mr. Biery also had a very pleasant vacation. He visited interesting parts of Canada. He also reported seeing quite a number of deer.

Miss Alma Leedom attended commencement exercises at Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio, Wednesday, June 13. A class reunion was held. Miss Leedom is a graduate of Heidelberg College.

We should try to remember that what is sacred and enduring about universities is the spirit in which they do their work, the high mission with which they are charged. Administrative devices, teaching methods, curricula content, these things are temporary and pragmatic.—Chancellor Harry Woodburn Chase, New York University.
ATHLETIC PROGRAM

Physical Education 89, class in Administration and Method in Physical Education is sponsoring a summer athletic program. The schedule will consist chiefly of the following sports: softball, ping pong, tennis, dicktenies-horseshoes. Tournaments are being arranged in these sports and lists have been posted for those desiring to enter, to sign. Prizes are being arranged for the different winners. Enter one or all as you so desire by adding your name to the lists on the “bulletin” board. “The Men's Gym” is open this summer and the apparatus is at your disposal. Come in and help yourself.

Men in charge of the different sports have been appointed by Coach W. E. Steller and are as follows:

- Ping-pong—J. M. Fretz
- Horseshoes—Les Figgens
- Deck tennis—Clif Olds
- Tennis—Erwin Price
- Softball—Harry Gwynn

SOME THINGS WE NEED

After reading the heading you are perhaps looking for a list of items, but I will let that rest until some future time and just mention one or two.

One evening last summer session, I wandered towards home from the library through the engineer's present oats field. Here and there I could see dim figures in the beams of moonlight through the trees. Desiring to satisfy my curiosity I walked by one of them and lo and behold I saw people studying out there at least they all had their heads down to books when I passed. They were so thick that two sat on one stump. Well, anyway, last fall the CWA took the stumps out, so why not get some benches.

That's one thing and here's the other. Before we buy benches may be we should talk it over, as somebody might want a hamock. So write up your ideas about this or anything else and put them in the little brown box just around the corner and under the post office window. Let's have the Emersonian debate on this.
