12-6-1993

Monitor Newsletter December 06, 1993

Bowling Green State University

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor

Recommended Citation
https://scholarworks.bgsu.edu/monitor/303
DATEBOOK

Monday, Nov. 22

The BGSU School of Art Faculty will meet, 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m. by phone. Contact: 372-7990.

Deborah C. Groat, 79, professor emerita of English, died Oct. 31 at her Toledo home. She had taught at BGSU for 38 years. She had been named the 2003 Ohio University Distinguished Professor of English.

Deborah C. Groat joined the BGSU faculty in 1965, and in 1971 she was named the university's first Distinguished Professor of English. She had received many awards, including the Ohio Governor's Award for Outstanding Service to the Arts.

Groat was the first person to hold the Eliot Chair of English at BGSU, which was established in 1965 with a gift from the Eliot family, the descendants of T.S. Eliot.

Groat was known for her work in the field of English literature, and she was a prolific author. She had written many books and articles on literature, including a study of T.S. Eliot's poetry, which was published in 1970.

Groat was also a member of the Ohio Academy of Science, the Ohio Academy of Arts and Sciences, and the Ohio Academy of History.

Memorial services will be held at a later date.

Donald W. Bowman

Dr. Donald W. Bowman, 86, professor emeritus of physics, died Nov. 9 at the Swedih Green Mennonite Home, where he had been living for the past several months. Bowman had been a professor at the University of Michigan and the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Bowman was born on May 9, 1924, in Cleveland, Ohio. He received his bachelor's degree in physics from Oberlin College in 1945 and his doctorate in physics from the University of Michigan in 1949.

Bowman had been a member of the American Physical Society and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He had served as president of the American Physical Society and as vice president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Bowman was a member of the American Physical Society and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He had served as president of the American Physical Society and as vice president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Bowman was a member of the American Physical Society and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He had served as president of the American Physical Society and as vice president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Bowman was a member of the American Physical Society and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He had served as president of the American Physical Society and as vice president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.
Clark recipient of Friends Award, faculty and staff also honored at reception

Dr. Elaine E. Clark, vice president for academic affairs at Bowling Green State University, and her husband, Dr. William E. Clark, have received the Friends Award for their support and assistance to the University's Center for Academic & Learning Resources.

The award was presented at the annual Friends Awards Dinner on Monday, Nov. 15, in the Alumni Room in the Center for Business & Technology.

Dr. Edward Danforth, history, is director of the University's library and information network, Clarks has been an important advocate of Clarks from its inception and she is the chair of the new membership group.

Also, during the reception, 29 faculty and staff members were recognized for their literary or artistic achievements during the past year. Faculty authors, artists, composers and performers were honored for their work, and 12 students also were honored. Faculty authors are recognized for the University's commitment to the publication of a book; artists for a juried exhibition; composers for their arrangement of Ewals's "Hexagon"; for piano and Band; "Metallica" for their arrangement of Ewals's "Hexagon"; and "Metallica" for their arrangement of Ewals's "Hexagon".

According to the University's Non-Academic Faculty Senate, the award was presented at the annual Friends Awards Dinner on Monday, Nov. 15, in the Alumni Room in the Center for Business & Technology.

Also, during the reception, 29 faculty and staff members were recognized for their literary or artistic achievements during the past year. Faculty authors, artists, composers and performers were honored for their work, and 12 students also were honored. Faculty authors are recognized for the University's commitment to the publication of a book; artists for a juried exhibition; composers for their arrangement of Ewals's "Hexagon"; for piano and Band; "Metallica" for their arrangement of Ewals's "Hexagon"; and "Metallica" for their arrangement of Ewals's "Hexagon".

According to the University's Non-Academic Faculty Senate, the award was presented at the annual Friends Awards Dinner on Monday, Nov. 15, in the Alumni Room in the Center for Business & Technology.

Also, during the reception, 29 faculty and staff members were recognized for their literary or artistic achievements during the past year. Faculty authors, artists, composers and performers were honored for their work, and 12 students also were honored. Faculty authors are recognized for the University's commitment to the publication of a book; artists for a juried exhibition; composers for their arrangement of Ewals's "Hexagon"; for piano and Band; "Metallica" for their arrangement of Ewals's "Hexagon"; and "Metallica" for their arrangement of Ewals's "Hexagon".

According to the University's Non-Academic Faculty Senate, the award was presented at the annual Friends Awards Dinner on Monday, Nov. 15, in the Alumni Room in the Center for Business & Technology. The award was presented at the annual Friends Awards Dinner on Monday, Nov. 15, in the Alumni Room in the Center for Business & Technology.
Clark recipient of Friends Award, faculty and staff also honored at reception

Dr. Elaine E. Clark, vice president for academic affairs, was named the University’s 1993 Friends Award winner at a ceremony Wednesday evening in Celebration Hall. The Friends Award recognizes the most outstanding academic leader on campus. Also honored were members of the university faculty and staff for their contributions to the university and the community.

Dr. Clark is professor of English and coordinator of the Women’s Studies Program. She is known for her scholarly work in Russian literature and American women’s literature. She has published several books and articles on Russian literature.

Faculty and staff honored were
- Dr. David Bissland, director of the College of Communication and Information;
- Dr. Warren V. Jones, faculty consultant for the office of the provost; and
- Dr. Edmund Danziger, history.

The award was presented at the annual Friends Awards and Artists Reception held Dec. 1.

The Friends Award for her support and assistance to the University of Toledo is sponsored by the University of Toledo and the Friends of the University. The award was established in 1983.

OBERLIN, Ohio — The University of Toledo Foundation has announced its newly named board of directors for the 1994-95 fiscal year.

The 26-member board is comprised of representatives from the university, the community and the business community. The board is responsible for the long-term planning and direction of the university's financial affairs.

New officers elected to serve on foundation board

The foundation board is a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization established to receive and manage all contributions from present and former students of the University of Toledo.

The board members are:
- Dr. William L. Ward, president of the foundation board and professor of accounting; and
- Mr. Joseph A. Haines, executive director of the foundation board.

The board meets four times a year to discuss various philanthropic efforts and initiatives.

Russian art topic of final Tchakovsky event

"Russian Art and the Tradition of Liberty from 1900 to 1995" will be discussed on campus by noted Russian art critic and historian Dr. Robert E. Frank of the University of Michigan. The program will be held Thursday, Oct. 4.

The event will be held in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the death of Mikhail Tchakovsky, a prominent Russian art critic, art historian and writer.

Q & A ABOUT COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

A variety of questions have been raised about collective bargaining and its effect on the work environment. Here are some questions posed to members of the university community.

Question: What does the BGSU-FAA mean when they say in the Nov. 8

Answer: The BGSU-FAA is referring to the Teachers, Librarians, Clerks and Professional Employees Union, which represents teachers, librarians, clerks and professional employees at BGSU.

This is an ongoing collective bargaining process that involves negotiations between the university and the union over wages, benefits and working conditions.

Although the process is ongoing, it is important to note that the union and the university are working towards a mutually beneficial agreement that will benefit both parties.

Self defense class set

The self defense class is scheduled to begin Monday, Oct. 4, and will run for eight weeks. The class will be held at the University's Speech and Drama Center.

The class is designed to teach participants how to protect themselves from potential dangers, such as assault and self defense.

For more information, please contact the University's Speech and Drama Center at 372-9925.

Annual record and more sale to be held Dec. 9

The Music Library and Sound Recording Collection will host its annual sale on Dec. 9.

The sale will feature a wide variety of items, including classical and pop records, as well as other media.

All items are priced at 50 cents or less.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase new materials for the collection.

Mail in memberships

The Student Recreation Center will be accepting applications for the 1994-95 school year. Membership in the center will be available to all students, faculty and staff.

Applications are available at the center, 372-3677.

Students interested in joining should contact the center at 372-3677.

Order your poinsettias

SUNBURST poinsettias will be available for purchase starting Nov. 15.

Orders may be placed by contacting the University's Department of Horticulture at 372-3573.

Russian art topic of final Tchakovsky event

"Russian Art and the Tradition of Liberty from 1900 to 1995" will be discussed on campus by noted Russian art critic and historian Dr. Robert E. Frank of the University of Michigan. The program will be held Thursday, Oct. 4.

The event will be held in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the death of Mikhail Tchakovsky, a prominent Russian art critic, art historian and writer.

Q & A ABOUT COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

A variety of questions have been raised about collective bargaining and its effect on the work environment. Here are some questions posed to members of the university community.

Question: What does the BGSU-FAA mean when they say in the Nov. 8

Answer: The BGSU-FAA is referring to the Teachers, Librarians, Clerks and Professional Employees Union, which represents teachers, librarians, clerks and professional employees at BGSU.

This is an ongoing collective bargaining process that involves negotiations between the university and the union over wages, benefits and working conditions.

Although the process is ongoing, it is important to note that the union and the university are working towards a mutually beneficial agreement that will benefit both parties.

Self defense class set

The self defense class is scheduled to begin Monday, Oct. 4, and will run for eight weeks. The class will be held at the University's Speech and Drama Center.

The class is designed to teach participants how to protect themselves from potential dangers, such as assault and self defense.

For more information, please contact the University's Speech and Drama Center at 372-9925.

Annual record and more sale to be held Dec. 9

The Music Library and Sound Recording Collection will host its annual sale on Dec. 9.

The sale will feature a wide variety of items, including classical and pop records, as well as other media.

All items are priced at 50 cents or less.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase new materials for the collection.

Mail in memberships

The Student Recreation Center will be accepting applications for the 1994-95 school year. Membership in the center will be available to all students, faculty and staff.

Applications are available at the center, 372-3677.

Students interested in joining should contact the center at 372-3677.

Order your poinsettias

SUNBURST poinsettias will be available for purchase starting Nov. 15.

Orders may be placed by contacting the University's Department of Horticulture at 372-3573.

Russian art topic of final Tchakovsky event

"Russian Art and the Tradition of Liberty from 1900 to 1995" will be discussed on campus by noted Russian art critic and historian Dr. Robert E. Frank of the University of Michigan. The program will be held Thursday, Oct. 4.

The event will be held in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the death of Mikhail Tchakovsky, a prominent Russian art critic, art historian and writer.

Q & A ABOUT COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

A variety of questions have been raised about collective bargaining and its effect on the work environment. Here are some questions posed to members of the university community.

Question: What does the BGSU-FAA mean when they say in the Nov. 8

Answer: The BGSU-FAA is referring to the Teachers, Librarians, Clerks and Professional Employees Union, which represents teachers, librarians, clerks and professional employees at BGSU.

This is an ongoing collective bargaining process that involves negotiations between the university and the union over wages, benefits and working conditions.

Although the process is ongoing, it is important to note that the union and the university are working towards a mutually beneficial agreement that will benefit both parties.

Self defense class set

The self defense class is scheduled to begin Monday, Oct. 4, and will run for eight weeks. The class will be held at the University's Speech and Drama Center.

The class is designed to teach participants how to protect themselves from potential dangers, such as assault and self defense.

For more information, please contact the University's Speech and Drama Center at 372-9925.

Annual record and more sale to be held Dec. 9

The Music Library and Sound Recording Collection will host its annual sale on Dec. 9.

The sale will feature a wide variety of items, including classical and pop records, as well as other media.

All items are priced at 50 cents or less.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase new materials for the collection.

Mail in memberships

The Student Recreation Center will be accepting applications for the 1994-95 school year. Membership in the center will be available to all students, faculty and staff.

Applications are available at the center, 372-3677.

Students interested in joining should contact the center at 372-3677.

Order your poinsettias

SUNBURST poinsettias will be available for purchase starting Nov. 15.

Orders may be placed by contacting the University's Department of Horticulture at 372-3573.

Russian art topic of final Tchakovsky event

"Russian Art and the Tradition of Liberty from 1900 to 1995" will be discussed on campus by noted Russian art critic and historian Dr. Robert E. Frank of the University of Michigan. The program will be held Thursday, Oct. 4.

The event will be held in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the death of Mikhail Tchakovsky, a prominent Russian art critic, art historian and writer.

Q & A ABOUT COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

A variety of questions have been raised about collective bargaining and its effect on the work environment. Here are some questions posed to members of the university community.

Question: What does the BGSU-FAA mean when they say in the Nov. 8

Answer: The BGSU-FAA is referring to the Teachers, Librarians, Clerks and Professional Employees Union, which represents teachers, librarians, clerks and professional employees at BGSU.

This is an ongoing collective bargaining process that involves negotiations between the university and the union over wages, benefits and working conditions.

Although the process is ongoing, it is important to note that the union and the university are working towards a mutually beneficial agreement that will benefit both parties.

Self defense class set

The self defense class is scheduled to begin Monday, Oct. 4, and will run for eight weeks. The class will be held at the University's Speech and Drama Center.

The class is designed to teach participants how to protect themselves from potential dangers, such as assault and self defense.

For more information, please contact the University's Speech and Drama Center at 372-9925.

Annual record and more sale to be held Dec. 9

The Music Library and Sound Recording Collection will host its annual sale on Dec. 9.

The sale will feature a wide variety of items, including classical and pop records, as well as other media.

All items are priced at 50 cents or less.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase new materials for the collection.

Mail in memberships

The Student Recreation Center will be accepting applications for the 1994-95 school year. Membership in the center will be available to all students, faculty and staff.

Applications are available at the center, 372-3677.

Students interested in joining should contact the center at 372-3677.

Order your poinsettias

SUNBURST poinsettias will be available for purchase starting Nov. 15.

Orders may be placed by contacting the University's Department of Horticulture at 372-3573.
Monday, Dec. 6
The BGSU School of Art Faculty Exhibition, 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m. weekdays and 2-5 p.m. on Sundays through Dec. 10, Dorothy Uber Bryan Gallery, Fine Arts Center. Exhibition, "A San Show: Wearable Indian Wonders," 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m. weekdays and 2-5 p.m. on Sundays through Dec. 10, BGSU School of Art Gallery, Fine Arts Center. Free.

Italian Film Series, "Voler E Vancare." (1963), 3:30 p.m., Gash Film Theater. Free.

International Film Series, "Pushing Hands." (Chinese), 8 p.m., Gash Film Theater. Free.

Tuesday, Dec. 7
People for Racial Justice Meeting, 10-11 a.m., Taft Room, Union.
Faculty Senate Meeting, 2:30 p.m.
Assembly Room, McFaul Center.
Economics Colloquium Series, "Optimal Tax Policy for the Long Term" by Dr. Timothy Fuerst, 3:30 p.m., 4000 Business Administration Building.
Coalition for Transcultural Enhancement Meeting, 9 p.m., main lobby, Pratt Hall.

Wednesday, Dec. 8
Lambda Lunch, gay/lesbian faculty, staff and graduate students meet for lunch and conversation. Call 372-7565 for location and time.
Student Open Forums, with President Oslamp noon-1 p.m., Chart Room, McFaul Center.
Women's Basketball, vs. Michigan State, 7:30 p.m., Anderson Arena.

Thursday, Dec. 9
Arts & Sciences Forum Lecture Series Luncheon, "Culture and Geography: Connecting Life to Earth" by Dr. John M. Hunter, professor of geography at Michigan State University, noon, Towers Inn, McDonald Wadsworth Center of the clinic is $65 per player or $20 per family for families with more than one participant or who have a family member who is a BGSU employee. All participants will receive a t-shirt.

To register, contact Danny Schmitz at 372-7065 or Mark Nell at 372-7095. The deadline for registration is Dec. 22.

Saturday, Dec. 11
Men's Basketball, vs. Wisconsin-Green Bay, 12:30 p.m., Anderson Arena.
Hockey, vs. Alaska-Fairbanks, 7 p.m., ice arena.

Sunday, Dec. 12
Tchakovskiy and the Russkiy Series, a lecture-recital on "The History of the Russian Violin School" by faculty member Evgeni Belov. 3 p.m., Bryan Recital Hall, Moore Musical Arts Center. Free.

SFC sets holiday hours
The Student Recreation Center will be open the week between Christmas and New Year's. It will be open from noon to 6 p.m. Monday, Dec. 27, through Thursday, Dec. 30.

For those purchasing a '94 spring membership, they will be available in the SRC main office beginning Monday, Jan. 3. Office hours are noon to 7 p.m. Jan. 3-14 and 8 a.m.-7 p.m. Jan 17-21. Regular office hours of 8 a.m.-5 p.m. will resume Monday, Jan. 24.

Baseball clinic planned
Winter weather may be here but thoughts of baseball are still on the minds of some of the University’s coaches. The Falcon baseball coaches will be holding a baseball spring training session for area kids ages 8-17 (due to NCAA rules, high school seniors are not eligible) Dec. 27-30. The training sessions will run each day from 9 a.m.-noon at the Field House.

Special guest at the clinic will be Cincinnati Reds infielder Brian Koebling, a former Falcon player.

Cost of the clinic is $65 per player or $60 per family for families with more than one participant or who have a family member who is a BGSU employee. All participants will receive a t-shirt.

To register, contact Danny Schmitz at 372-7065 or Mark Nell at 372-7095. The deadline for registration is Dec. 22.

Box office to be closed
The Moore Musical Arts Center box office will be closed from Dec. 11 through Jan. 18.

Regular hours, which are noon to 6 p.m. weekdays, will resume on Jan. 18 when tickets will be on sale for Marian Field's performance in Elementary School Festivals. To reserve tickets, call 372-8171 or 1-800-589-2224.

Photo schedule set
Photo identification cards will be prepared for all faculty and staff during the next several weeks. To receive your card, come to the Photo ID Office (rear-entrance of Commons) between 9 a.m.-3 p.m. on any day during your department's scheduled week.

On the schedule for Dec. 6-10 are all areas within the vice president for operations area.

For the week of Dec. 13-17 (the Photo ID Office will be closed Dec. 14), all persons within the vice president for student affairs area and the vice president for planning and budgeting area should have their pictures taken.

For more information, call the Photo ID Office at 372-6581.