B. G. U. STANDARDS ARE APPROVED

We have in this country reputable standardizing agencies such as the North Central Association, the American Association of Teachers Colleges, and the Ohio College Association. These associations rate and classify institutions of higher education after a thorough examination by experts. Bowling Green has been admitted to membership in these organizations, a fact which is convincing evidence that we are a standard institution in respect to plant, faculty, admission requirements, standards of graduation, and other details which characterize approved institutions.

The purpose of the recent legislation advancing this institution to university rank was to place it on the same basis as the older schools in Southern Ohio. We have no intention of offering advanced graduate work or highly technical courses because the state has already made such provisions at our great central university. The Master's degree today is as common in the high schools of Ohio as the Bachelor's degree was twenty years ago. This means that the Master's degree is coming to be regarded as an extension of undergraduate work. There is absolutely no reason why students in Northern Ohio should not have the same advantages as are now being offered to students in other parts of the state.

The demands of the standardizing agencies to offer the Master's degree in respect to faculty, buildings, libraries and laboratories are already fully met by this institution. Graduate instruction leading to the Master's degree was inaugurated at Bowling Green this summer and is well organized for the future.

President Williams Welcomes Old and New Students

Twenty-two years ago it was my pleasure to welcome a group of some seventy-five students here in Bowling Green and about an equal number in Toledo at the first regular session of the institution. We had conducted a summer session in the year 1914. We opened here in the state armory and in the old central high school of Toledo. Then we had a faculty of some fourteen instructors including four critic teachers. With the meager facilities that we had then it was a joyous occasion to see a small student body responding. How different the conditions are today. The institution has developed throughout the intervening years and recently attained university ranking. With a beautiful campus, commodious buildings, modern equipment, and superior faculty, it is prepared to render service within the academic and professional fields that it has marked out for itself as satisfactorily as the same advantages may be secured anywhere. Through the years of its expansion it has been the aim to keep the necessary expenses of students down to the lowest limit consistent with approved standards of living and thorough scholarship. It has also been the conscious purpose to so minister to the social needs of students that college life may be enjoyable and inspiring.

While the University is still comparatively young, it is confidently believed that wholesome traditions have become established which will be helpful to the college community now and hereafter. Important among these traditions are high standards of scholarship, honorable conduct, good sportsmanship, and serious purpose. To all these advantages we cordially welcome old and new students with the hope that the academic year of 1935-36 may be outstanding in its contributions to the abiding satisfactions of life.

H. B. WILLIAMS

GRADUATE COURSES

The University will offer this academic year twenty-two courses which will be credited toward the degree of Master of Arts. Twelve of these courses will be offered the first semester and ten the second. Five courses each semester will be offered on Saturday mornings. It is the policy of the University to offer at this time only those courses which can be conducted in accordance with the best standards of graduate work with the facilities now at hand; but...

New Faculty—Welcome

The Bee Gee News extends to each and every new faculty member and family its most cordial welcome. When a student reporter calls upon you for news of interest, do not hesitate to give it. It is the sincere wish of the News that every new person on the faculty may be happy in class, in all University social life, and in the city.
WHY SHOULD STUDENTS GO TO CHURCH!

When young people break home and community ties for the first time to go away to college, one important job they have to do is to establish the position they wish to occupy in the new environment. The acceptance of a new member by any social group is pretty largely determined by his possession of those traits of character and personality thought desirable by the social group. The task before the individual who seeks entry to a new social group, then, is the making of contacts thru which may be advertised the fact that the candidate possesses such traits.

Various means are available to the individual seeking entry to a new social situation through which the desired contacts may be made. The one universal means available in a society mainly Christian is church membership and attendance. Church membership and attendance is one of society's generally accepted labels of character. More important to the student is the fact that the church is one of the agencies of society for the development of character. Since strong character and pleasing personality are sure keys to the more desirable organizations of human society, the contribution that the church can make to the development should not be neglected.

Finally, the most important reason for going to church is belief in the existence of a Supreme Being and the desire to acknowledge that fact and to render homage through worship.

National Youth Administration

One hundred and eight students of B. G. U. are to profit by the N. Y. A. this year. They will work not over fifty hours per month at thirty cents per hour with maximum pay fifteen dollars per month. These young people will be assigned to campus projects.

There are fifty nine men and forty-nine women given employment. This is a great help; the only regret is that more could not be given work as only one in three of the applicants could be placed.

WANTED!

Bee Gee News needs students for the staff. Give your name, Bowling Green address, and telephone number to any of the following:

Dale Kellogg, Linda Dill, Harley Barnett, Sue Holman, G. W. Beattie, or leave your name in the Bee Gee News box. You will find this box on the floor in front of the University office in the Administration Building.

We hope for a generous response in order to make the News better than ever.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR MEN

It is customary for all men at Bowling Green State University to engage in some form of physical activity whether it be recreative or athletic. The Department of Physical Education for Men endeavors to maintain a "club" atmosphere in and about the gymnasium. Every man is a member of the 'club' once he enrolls in the university and is eligible to make use of its many facilities during his class and leisure hours. The department exists primarily to serve the physical education needs of the individual student, and it is earnestly desired that each one will avail himself of the opportunity to discuss health and physical education problems with members of the teaching staff.

The door of the Physical Education office is always open, and students will find members of the staff genuinely interested and eager to assist in bringing adjustments to individual problems.

DEBATING AT BOWLING GREEN STATE UNIVERSITY

Since 1919, Bowling Green students have engaged yearly in intercollegiate debating. During that year, there was a small group of seven men making two teams. Last year, about thirty men and women carried on a program of around eighty debates. One men's team met a team from Kent State University in a demonstration discussion before the National Association of Teachers of Speech convention at New Orleans during the Christmas vacation.

Besides individual debates with various colleges and universities, our men and women meet many opposing teams at tournaments. Such meetings were held last year at Hiram, Kent, Ypsilanti, Heidelberg, N. Manchester, Indiana, University of Iowa, Otterbein College, and Toledo. A women's team made a trip into Kentucky.

Our Eta Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta is looking forward to the national convention to be held at Houston, Texas the latter part of March, 1936. At the last convention, held at Lexington, Kentucky, there were over seven hundred delegates assembled. There are chapters in over 150 universities and colleges in the United States.

Students who wish to debate should have training in English 75. Those who have had the course should enroll in English 88, known as intercollegiate debate. Freshmen who enroll in English 75 will be given a chance to make the varsity teams if their classroom work is of a satisfactory nature.

Those interested in college oratory should enroll in English 85. This course is open to those who have studied English 76.

Those in study groups of debate, oratory, and extempore speaking have the opportunity of meeting men and women from a large number of colleges and universities in all parts of the United States in open and frank discussion of topics of current public interest. The emphasis has shifted during the last few years from winning contests to the open forum type of discussion with few if any decisions. Each student has ample opportunity to study a topic carefully and to formulate his own opinions. There is strong emphasis on courtesy and fair play and the creation of real college friendships with those of other institutions. In this respect, Bowling Green has developed an enviable reputation.

Building Program Is Promising

The prospects are favorable for an extension of the auditorium, a concrete stadium, and a combined recitation building and swimming pool.
Detailed plans were filed with the PWA Sept. 4, 1935. There is good reason to expect a favorable action because of the unique position of Bowling Green University to meet immediately the financial requirements of the PWA for institutional betterments.
B. G. U's ability to satisfy the demands of fifty-five per cent of the cost of construction reflects great credit upon President Williams and the Board of Trustees.

each department now offering or getting ready to offer graduate work is planning a unified field of study to meet major and minor requirements.

The extent of expansion will depend upon the generosity of the state. Some provision has already been made for the coming year. Several new members of the faculty have already been added with a view of using their superior training and achievements in graduate instruction. The departments now offering graduate courses have very considerable equipment for a year's advanced work, and the other departments have staffs which can readily assemble it when conditions permit. Those who have known the history of Bowling Green College realize that it was built steadily and soundly; it is now beginning as a University with the same deliberate policy.

It has already been demonstrated that the demand for the year of graduate study warranted the action of the General Assembly in granting the right to confer the Master's degree. More than thirty students pursued graduate study at the University last summer term, and this in spite of the fact that the bulletin for graduate courses was not published until three weeks before the opening date of the term. The number of inquiries now coming shows a rapidly growing interest. The increase in the requirements in all the professions and the expanding desire on the part of thoughtful people to continue study in adult life will probably in the next twenty years result in a graduate student body at the University numbering two hundred or more. It is highly probable that the Master's degree will be required in Ohio for teaching in first-grade high schools; several states already require it.

The Bee Gee News welcomes the graduate student body and wants a member from it on its Editorial Staff. The presence on the campus of research students and professional people will add life and new interests to undergraduates, faculty, and the city.

University Band To Rehearse Wednesday

The University Band will have its first meeting Wednesday afternoon of this week, according to Mr. Church, the Director.
All men students who play band instruments are urged to attend this rehearsal.
New students should see Mr. Church before that time, if possible, to arrange for tryouts.
The Band has an interesting year before it, and it is hoped that the membership will continue to grow. The Music Department owns a number of instruments which are available to players who may need them.

The 1936 Key Is Assured

Seniors, juniors, sophomores, freshmen, special students, and faculty. Get busy with a bang. Hop to it now, for we want a 1936 Key. We must have one. There is no reason for fooling around, just go after a Key at once. You Seniors, the rest of the crowd will tag along.
You can make the grade easily, being blessed with literary ability, enthusiasm, and many capable leaders.
The 1936 Key is an assured product right now. It will be a beauty too. Every one plan to have a 1936 Key.
Note: The Key is the university annual.

How To Do It
If I would smile a little more,
And I would kinder be,
If you would stop to think before
You speak of faults you see;
If I would show more patience, too,
With all with whom I'm hurled,
Then I would help—and so would you
To make a better world.

Varsity Cross Country

After a lapse of several years, Bowling Green is again reviving this sport. It is an excellent conditioner and developer of distance runners.

If Bowling Green is to make its mark in Ohio Conference track circles, we must improve our distance running. This is the one sport that will be a big factor in reaching our goal.

Experience is not essential. All upperclassmen interested in track report to Coach Landis as soon as possible.

The schedule is still incomplete but several very interesting meets have been arranged.

Men’s Intramural Sports

The objective of the department of Physical Education is to have all men in the institution participate more or less regularly in some form of physical activity. The equipment and facilities are furnished, and all the individuals needs to furnish is the desire and willingness to take part in some type of physical recreation.

Every effort is being made to realize the highest possible development of the intramural program. Intramurals offer to every student an opportunity for recreation in a wide range of sports, many of which can be played in later life, an opportunity for healthful exercise with the fun and zest of friendly competition, and wide social contacts with other students.

Training School

The Training School pupils and possibly the faculty are rejoicing because of their extra three days vacation over the city schools.

Friend: “What are you grouching about?”

Memory Prof.: “I gave that young man two courses in the cultivation of the memory and he’s gone away and forgot to pay me, and I can’t for the life of me remember his name.”

John: “The person who tells us our faults is our best friend.”

Bill: “You’re right. But he won’t be long.”

An expert is a fellow who draws a big salary for telling other people how to do things he can’t do himself.

The difference between a restaurant and a coffee shoppe is five cents a cup.

Brain Truster: “Do you think the automobile has contributed anything to your prosperity?”
Contractor: “I know it has. Last year I built a new hospital for the town and this year they have given me a contract to build an addition to it.”
