Dr. Williams represented the University at the installation of Dr. Herman G. James as 12th president of Ohio University at Athens, O., on Friday, Nov. 15. Delegations from about 240 institutions scattered all over the country were present.

At ten thirty o'clock the delegations gathered in Memorial Auditorium and formed an academic procession in the order of the date of founding of the institutions which they represented. This was the first time in the history of this custom and is one of Dr. Williams' achievements as president of the University. The ceremony lasted until the first hour of the afternoon.

Before coming to Ohio University President and Mrs. Scott taught in Shortridge High School of Indianapolis, and the University High School of the University of Chicago. He is the author of two books in Latin and recent work in another interesting treatise on the history of language. Prof. Scott, like Dr. Williams, is a native of Noble county and is a brother of the late J. C. Scott, one of the founders of the publishing house of Scott, Farmers and Company.

Y. M. C. A. Tri-State Conference

The Y. M. C. A. second annual Tri-State Conference, held Friday, Saturday and Sunday of last week was attended by delegates from or- ganization on this campus: John Bisher, Paul Inbrock, and Prof. Failey. Discussions dealt with present day world problems and the relationship of the organization to such problems as the Ethiopian situation. Thirteen colleges from the three states of Michigan, Ohio and Indiana were represented. It is imperative that all students be present at such conferences to meet and hear the address of Dr. Williams while passing the university.

At one o'clock a luncheon was given to the delegations at Hotel Berry. At four o'clock a reception for delegates in the University library. Ohio University was founded in 1804 and is one of the oldest institutions of higher education west of the Allegheny moun- tains. It received its first char-

PUPILS PERFORM

A student recital was given Nov. 13 in Studio B of the P. A. building. The program consisted of vocal solos by Arline Gill, Eleanor Riley, Margaret Koch and piano numbers by Virginia Betts, Arlene Gill, Alva Burk, Anna May Scott, Kathie Croxall, Charlotte Kratzer. Only the performers were present, for the purpose of the recital was to give the students opportunity to perform in a small group and achieve stage con- fidence before facing a large group.

Napoleon Teachers Hear Dr. McCain

Dr. Mc Cain spoke before the teachers meeting at Napoleon, Nov. 19. Her subject was "My travels in Italy."
Yes? No. -

There are two ways in which an organization may be form-med— it may be formed through the interest and "drive" of several able leaders or it may be formed because of a hand-felt need and a consequent demand of all the individuals concerned. The former type of organization will die or prove entirely ineffectual because of the indifference of all except the leaders. If, however, the demand has arisen from a common need, the organization will grow and develop.

There has been an attempt for several months to organize a Student Council on this campus. The motives of the leaders of this movement are admirable and praiseworthy, yet, there is always some very marked difference on the part of majority of the student body towards such an organization. And indifference is many times harder to fight than opposition.

If you as students feel the need for such an organization as the Student Council, manifest some enthusiasm and help put the movement forward, for the organization will react with the same force as you show a real desire for the organization. But if the majority of the students are not interested it is far better to end the whole affair now, before you have it prove ineffective or do a painful death from indifference.

Introspection -

Bowling Green State University is a Training School, and as such should be a model of all things desirable in a model school. Are we doing our part to make it that? Let's take ten steps away from ourselves and see what we really look like from the outside.

There is always some worth while movement on foot, but so many of them are killed in infancy by our cold blooded indifference. In the Training School, the University mind during Homecoming was as sensational as the football game. Much favorable comment arose from the alumni concerning that feature. But what was the reaction on the part of the maj-eral able leaders or it may be formed because of a hard-felt

Ye Olde Five Brothers Present
'Minstrel Flashes'
A John B. Rogers Production

Good! It's got to be good when coached by the John B. Rogers Co. Mr. Ship, who is the director, has certainly shown those with whom he has been in contact what energy and pep can do.

The material for the play has been entirely chosen. The material being a superabundance of men who would like to sing, all selections were made from the actual tests on the song under consideration. Costumes are all home format and suit the occasion. We hope to see them.

The care and decision with which this play has been directed has earned the entire cast that this play will be all that we say it will be and more! And if Monday is not the perfect evening for a Minstrel, Nov. 25 and 26, Ye Olde Five Brothers urge you to come to it. Good school auditorium and with them a couple hours of laughter, side-splitting jokes, poppy songs and nappy music. You'll never regret it!

COMMIONERS

Congratulations, football men, we knew you could do it! It is a real treat for us to enthrall you. Although the Falcons are not the poorest team in the conference this year, the football spirit have indicated as much from time to time. We hope that victory will not be the only effect of the football team next year, much more frequently than it has this year. However, it has never come to our attention that the cheerleaders were anything but good sports. After all, good sportsmanship is more important than victories at this point in time.

We are quite sure that our men have been helped in the high school and got us through the game Saturday? Do you know why we won? Because Williams Hall girls went out and cheered and cheered! By the way did you know that Miss Fern Sharp may be our new cheerleader? The topic of discussion now is the future of the ladies in the Student Council. DeWawon gave a very inspiring talk at the Rally Friday night, explaining how it would carry on from the girls who have prepared at schools where the system has proved successful. Come out and help us boost!

We were so sorry to hear that Miss Genevieve Stevens was called home to Lorain by the death of her grandmother, Mrs. C. C. Stevens.

We had as guests during the weekend, Miss Geraldine Miles, Findlay and Miss Roberta Burger, Lorain.

Las Amigas

The highlight of the week for the members of the Junior American was a dinner given for the rushes on Tuesday night at the Nookers. After the dinner, which was played at seven tables, Mary Alice Hoover received honors for high score. After the scores were tallied the girls went to the security house which proved to be a theatre featuring the Gay Nineties Revue. Among the numbers in the show were the Floradora Girls, a mediocre reading, a bicycle Built for Two and a song sung by one of the belles. The decorations on the walls and the costumes of the belles were a treat to the eye.

Following the review, refreshments were served from the grill in the dining room.

After dinner everyone returned to the sorority house, 130 South Prospect St., where the guests were entertained by the members who gave a Major Bowens program. The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing, bridge, and other games. Prizes were won by Mildred Ziegler and Melva Rhettig. At the close of the party light refreshments were served.

The guests of the evening were Janet Riek, Ruth Gay, Margaret Zouge, Jeanette Fike, Mary Alice Hoover, Margaret Siegler, Margaret Russell, Dorothy Robertson, Melva Rhettig, Orange Linder, Dorothy Sundaram, Grace Ern Smowhalter, Norma Lehnert, Betty Rettig, Betty Roberts, and Ruth Reitman.

Dean Dorm Flashes

The Dorn Dorm Dashes had an enjoyable weekend. We made a jar of punch, popped ears, ate apples, drank apple cider, and played "don't wake up until morning". The punch table was attractively decorated with flowers and was the Parisian bar and a very amusing floor show. Johnny Draper proved to be a one man band! Have you heard the squirrel story? Ask Judy.

Skol Skrols

The Skols entertained their rushes with the novel idea of a formal dance. The activities seemed to be well thought out. We hope the rushes did too. A corsage of yellow baby mums and tulipans was given to many of the rushes as a favor.

The punch table was attractively decorated with flowers and candy. The buffet table contained all the essentials.

Before the last dance the members with their advisors joining hands in a circle and singing the Skol Love Song. Skol girls may have rather long faces this week. We miss our Jeni Wiley at the house, but we have been sent home for two months complete rest by doctors orders. She will be back with us in February, however. Do hurry and get strong again Jeni—we miss you!!

Three Kay News

Sixty-three and rushers enjoy the formal rush party Saturday evening. The party was a formal dinner at the Woman's Club. The attractively appointed tables were presided over by Miss Margaret Young, the chapter president, and by the faculty sponsor, Miss Margaret Yeomans.
