Music Dept.

Confer at N. Y. City

Seven faculty members and students of the Music Department attended the Music Educator's National Conference held in New York City March 30-April 2. Mr. Tunidiffin, Mr. McEwen, and Mrs. Perry were the students who were the party.

Six thousand music educators from all over the country were present.

The days were filled with meetings of various sections interested in the different phases of music education. Mr. McEwen presented a paper in one of the sectional meetings.

DR. WILLIAMS DISCUSSES COURTESY

Piano and vocal solos and an informal talk on courtesy comprised the assembly program April 1. Edna Riley, as pianist, and the American Oratorio Chorus under the direction of Mr. Kolhoff gave the program. The assembly theme was the courtesy and friendliness of music, and the impression it makes of our sociability. Miss Riley played six numbers from her program's "Scenes from Child-hood" in a skilled and characteriastic manner. Mrs. Kolhoff sang of her music, Sullivain with fluency and ease. Dear Editor

I have been very much disturbed lately, to hear that St. John's College will close for the remainder of this term. Fearing that a fate may befal our own fair campus, I have taken the time, upon a little leisure, to try and throw light on the subject of our beloved university. I believe a hungry wolf may be kept from the beautiful portals of the educational center of Northern Ohio.

Casting about for some undeveloped resource we might possess, I found a beautiful posy garden in the central portions of our western campus. The inspiration struck me that a beauty spot here was certainly undeveloped resource, since the walks are all rods and roads away from the students. I fear that we are going to let this mess finally slip away on the grass.

Perhaps I am wrong about this, in order to convert the resource into CASH! I see two alternatives: firstly, we might put in a few nicely curved cinder paths, with benches conveniently located, and charge for a "campus-cut-crossers" for using the paths which at the same time would beautify our campus; secondly, an agreement might be reached where a small sum, students might view the beautiful posies from far, via an "on the watch-tall." Either plan might reasonably be expected to be of benefit to us, and to keep the vertical wolf from our proverbial door.

Back in the nineties many more to be kept out west to escape the law, but I can assure you that out-of-town students do not consider B. G. S. U. as a place of refuge, but as a place to continue their college education. Our campus will only develop what is sent to them.

You have stated that Bowling Green High School students receive far better grades than non-local students. As to that statement I am in the dark. Your statement based on statistics from your University!

I would admit that Bowling Green High School has trained teachers as have many other schools, even some rural schools. Do you realize that Bowling Green consists largely of retired farmers, is considered a rural community, and if it were not for those enrolled from the farm that B. G. S. U. would not have enrollment that has enjoyed so far. Dear Editor, I agree with you, we ought to put a lot to those students of rural communities.

The advantage that the local circles referred to was to point out the injustice that is being done to them, to continue. May I further add that the main issue was, "Is B. G. S. U. a local institution?" Please tell us why it is or is not. B. W.

Y. M. C. A. Elects

The last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was devoted to a election of officers for the coming year. The results of the election were as follows:

President—Earl Cryer
Vice-President—Walter Guth
Secretary—Verdon Leatherman
Treasurer—Lawrence Ringer
Bursar—At-Arms—Frank McCausley

In Appreciation

The men's glee club is to be commended for a very fine concert Thursday night. But especially, we wish to speak of the new club which they introduced. The glee club certainly made what we wish the school to continue this year. We wish the students to have the news of the song to the students, perhaps in assembly. Could this be arranged?

A Student

The Voice of The People

With elections of more or less importance occurring almost every week, the local student body finally has awakened to its responsibilities as "citizens" of the campus. When the time comes, we should elect a few students who will speak for all of us. In the past few weeks, almost half of the students decided that the erection of a body of "yes men" under that name, was not important enough to warrant the effort necessary to get their names on the ballot. In spite of this apparent indifference, the Student Council was inaugurated, and under the spell of Kellogg's enthusiasm, we began to believe that maybe a construction committee of that type would? With this in mind we circulated petitions, and entered more whole-hearted into the election of student members.

The die is cast! The Student Council and elected victories, of who in turn appointed committees, in a very business like method. The student body sat back and waited for the first official move of the Council. It came—and we found the Council to be the "rubber stamp" we had feared.

Then, the Y. M. C. A. was about to have a May Queen. In a sense the young lady chosen for this honor will be representative of the University. In any other college, this position will elect a queen, the students can pay to character, achievement, scholarship, and popularity. In Bowling Green the nominees are picked by a board governed by instructor's prejudices, and sorority politics! How can any honor go to the "rubber stamp" we had feared.

The men's glee club is to be recognized in any election but our Council denied us this chance to voice our real opinions. The women's glee club is to be recognized in any election but our Council denied us this chance to voice our real opinions.

The faculty advisor for the coming year was, "Is B. G. S. U. a local institution?" and the only charter members of the organization who have kept up their membership. Prof. Moseley is the only remaining active charter member and has served for some years as president and as secretary of the group.

The Y. M. C. A. has been made by the students of special papers, and the Ohio Journal of Science, the latter published jointly with Ohio State University.

Prof. Moseley, the President of the Student body and the Y. M. C. A. Elect, are the only ones who signed the above-mentioned mem-

WE SEE BY THE PAPERS

Notre Dame has instituted a two-year course in graduate apologetics—The Campus Col- legium.

Things are buzzing at T. U. these days: closing of their Smoking room is arousing protest! Alpha Phi Omegas place pheges into the stone wall of our admissional warehouse. The first week of the semester was filled with head and head-hug dancing, as students will do, were declared "blasé" and unromantic by Israel Kremer, supervisor of Toledo's Park Town Club.

Roe Town Club.

The Quill-Type met Wednesday April 1 in the usual campaign was as follows: Sue Bellows, talk on "Radio Advertising"; Betty Myers, reading "The Cremation of Sam McGee"; Michael Jackson, talk, "My Trip Abroad."

The Commercial contest will be held May 9 this year, and commercial students are requested to assist in the grading of papers.

All duxes of new members must be paid by April 15. If not paid, the members will be automatically dropped from the organization. They may be paid to Dr. Knepper or the treasurer.

All members must be present six times during a semester. This is a reminder.

Officials at Findlay

Dr. Hisong and Mr. Jordan will represent the University at the College Day activities at Findlay High School, April 8. The purpose of the conferences held on this date is to give the students an opportunity of considering any educational motivation that offers work along their lines. All the classes in the high school are allowed to go to considering what they learn in the course of the day.

Upper Sandusky and Kenton also hold College Day on the last day of April.

George Rozzelle, a Frosh, who was piling up 50 9-10 and the locals as a strong favorite in the conference meet to be held in May.

Along with Spring comes the popular game of softball, and the game predictions this is going to be the biggest season B. G. University has ever witnessed. Already many house teams have been formed for the intramural league which will get under way just as soon as the weather permits. House managers should sign entry cards on or before Wednesday, April 8.

The Intramural Staff may promote an outdoor intra-house meet if the various house teams stamp their vote of approval on the movement. A minimum of at least three houses will be set in order to assure the most success.
