The dancing pictures given as part of a machine demonstration in the Science Department, April 20, 22 and 24, attracted a number of students and faculty. One of the machines demonstrated will be purchased for use by college classes.

Several films were shown and whole classes attended many of them. Among the films were on the life cycle of the ameba, the structure of the symphony orchestra, sound waves and their sources. Dr. G. R. Wentling appeared for the first time as a film maker.

Fellowship is head of the new Plantarium connected with the American Museum of Natural History, New York City.

If you believe in the slogan "See Ohio first", don't miss this last opportunity of the year to see these great subterranean wonders—certainly one of the great attractions of the year. See W. P. Holt today (Science building), in regard to trans- portation if you desire. So. Greatly reduced admission fee to all going with this B. G. S. U. group.

WESLEY LEAGUE SPONSORS PLAY

The Wesleyan players will present "Our American Co- sin" tomorrow night, Monday, May 4 under the sponsorship of the Wesley League. The three-act comedy by J. C. Barker entitled "Cracking Society." The play starts at 8:15 and there will be no admission charge. The production is under the direction of Miss Francis Byrne.

We have a very beautiful campus—in spots. While the land is flat, there are parts of our campus that compare favorably with any in northern Ohio. Why, then, do we choose the safest, most conventional part of it as our site for traditional dances and ceremonies? When one visits other college campuses, and is shown the various points of interest, he is usually led to some spot of natural beauty, tall trees, and spreading lawns, and the student guide remarks, "And this is where we crown our May Queen."

Perhaps the most beautiful place in a location, apart from its inappropriate structure, is too much-traveled to admit of any sentimental attachments. The circle is an impressive place to drive around in a car, but it is not compatible with the spirit of May Day. The queen walks out of the Ad. Building doors, onto the windiest corner of the campus—where two previous queens (a little slender) have nearly been swept away when their trains were caught by the wind. Then she crosses a structure that, if not ornamental, is at least out of place, and, when the circle is crossed, there is only a strip of field, and the queen herself on a throne, accompanied by the flag pole. After that, she is surrounded by the really best modern dance groups in northern Ohio coming out of the library, however, either of which could be used effectively as a site for the May Queen's throne. The dances could take place outside the library, however, which would be a real improvement.

Spring is a time when driving in a car is most enjoyable, let's put our students on a list of safe drivers.—N. K.

Dances Entertain

Eight-five faculty members and a resident officer in charge of the Dorms at an informal benefit meeting at the Women's Club, April 19, the handkerchief of the Dorm, single faculty men, and the Faculty Women's Club were entertained in the common room of the Dorm for the entertainment, presented by Mrs. W. A. Zeigler, Mrs. W. C. Moors, Mrs. W. C. Rice, Margaret Warrig, and Mrs. M. C. McEwen.

DANCE SYMPOSIUM (Continued from page 1, col. 1) the Dorm University contribution, which consisted of tap dances and modern dance numbers, was demonstrated by Bowling Green students. "Dancing Green" demonstrated "folk dancing and modern dances," and "cultural dancing" and "taught dancing exhibition of modern dancing to be developed in this country by the Board of Education in Ohio. It was present in the Dorm and the Circle, outside of a few other libraries.

PRO

I'm glad to see that our campus is finally getting by. Perhaps most of you do not realize how dead we have become, but those of us who have attended other universities cannot do the same.

It is strange that even with one thousand students here, we couldn't detect any fewer harmless pranksters. April first is coming and we must keep on the lookout. In eastern Ohio, student demonstrations can be viewed with deference by the administration.

Whether this is due to the fact that most of the students of our University almost all new, or to the thousands of tourists that pass by our University do not know the Wooster St. side of the school's traditions, let us make it (Mi year.—A Student

TO THE EDITOR

During the two years that I have attended the University I have walked along the walk of Howeier St., the open part of the campus many times. During these walks I have noticed many tourists, out of state as well as a number of Ohioans, that enter our University and take a glance and then merely go on their way. This seems to take a good look at our campus. Without a doubt many of the students of Ohio who visit us pass by our University do not know what the many buildings there are. I feel sure that if I were to suggest that the men of the Ohio State University would stop and go by the side of the road, as they go driving by, it would be suggested by the people of Ohio that we do not have open house. I feel that we should at least have open house in the South West of the campus.

This sign could be built that it wouldn't mar the beauty of the campus in any way. Besides letting the people know what the group of buildings represent it would act as an advertisement for the University.

New Series Opens

"Are we ready for life?" will be the topic of another one of the series for young people which will open as successful as the First Presbyterian Church. The first of these "Sunday evening events" will be given on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock on the subject, "Does Mansfield Need a Religion?". Dr. A. R. Sieben will be the speaker.

Naturalists Meet

Over one hundred members of the Ohio Naturalists Association were entertained at the annual revival dinner held at Shat well hall, April 24. The members are persons of this region who are interested in the various branches of nature study.

Dr. Dano presented a paper, "Some Years of Evolution." Other famous members who belong to the organization are Prof. Moody and Dr. Otis.

Training School News

A demonstration program was given by various musical groups under the direction of Prof. Facley in the Auditorium A, April 24. The band under the direction of Lester George, assisted by Orvetta Westling played several spirituals. Three part singing was demonstrated by the boys' club under Clyde Brown and two-part singing was the contribution of the Fourth and the Junior classes. Mrs. Alvers Kreuse also gave a splendid performance.

Prexy Makes Gift

Dr. Williams has recently donated to the literary, personal files of the Ohio Edu cational Monthly, March, 1939. This publication was for many years the organ of the State Teachers Association. The Ohio School published by the Association has now ab strayed from the former paper. Three volumes will be invaluable for the study of the development of education in Ohio. It would be placed as a gift outside of a few other libraries.

Ye Olde Five Brothers

The Five Brothers Fraternity organized Ye Honorable Neophytes during their Second Meet. On Sunday, the Five Brothers were chosen for the gala affair, as the scene of the Toledo Naturalists Society's dinner when some seventy-five members were entertained by our versatile Mr. Holt.

We were sorry to hear that Miss Margarette Weibel was called to her home in Willard Friday because of the illness of her mother. Miss Mary Ellen Wittenbrink and Miss Vera Shaffer were welcomed back as our weekend guests.

If you have been observing the growth of our new Elm tree? With due respect to Arbor Day, Shadetown planted a tree in front of the west wing of the dormitory. Miss Virginia Bates beautifully sang "Trees" by Joyce Kilmer and every girl in the dormitory showed off dirt of dirt. Even a penny was dropped in the pot to aid in its cultivation and growth.

Attend Concert

An excellent program of music was presented in the Creblok Concert and Singing Concert under the direction of Miss Margarette Scruggs in Recital Hall P. A. April 26. A large gathering enjoyed the program which is growing in interest and popularity. The following performers also sang during the past year. The program was well-suited both to the season and to the voices. Especially delightful were the numbers, "The Little Dustman" and "Cock-A-Doodle-Doo."

Four representatives of the local W. Y. C. A. attended the Spring concert held at Kent University April 25. Those who made the trip were Mrs. Grey- ing, Jeanette Haas, Doris Lane, and Ruth Howell. The morning was taken up in a round-table discussion of campus problems followed by a luncheon of faculty advisors and $tudents. Mrs. Goehne, who entertain us in the production of a fine program, spoke on "Being a Good Neighbor in the Dormitory."

The officials divided into groups and discussed their various problems. A tea-dance and then a banquet finished the program.

Seven Sister Flashes

Pharae Phrases

Our annual formal dance was held Saturday evening at the American Legion Hall. The ball was sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary and decorated with Green and Yellow balloons. Joe Miller's Rockband, Ray G. Green, played for the dancing.

At intermission the Pharae sung their usual song and sang their song round.

Among our guests were some of the old familiar faces. It seemed good to have these alumni with us again.

Final Meeting

Last week Emerson Literary Society held its annual meeting for the year. Plans were made for a science room which will be Emerson's, excluding gift to its members. Committee on the program take care of necessary details.

The Senate resolved itself into executive. President's meeting with Ruth Filek providing as chairman. Discussion of the cooperation of providing school equipment was held.

Howard Fitch argued the affirmative and Mary Mooney the negative. Other parents and teachers joined heartily in the discussion. Merlin Hower's model came to the fore and was given in favor of his four left-handed students. A vote finally came to a close and was lost, possibly due to a dearth of participation in the plan. A motion was then brought to discontinue school lunches for the rest of the year. The plan was ably argued by Ruth Danielson, also by M. McElhaney. The subject of the talk was "Psychological Analysis." He clearly illustrated the psychological factors of people in reaction to their personal Mr. Black. McElhaney expertly sketched a profile of Michael Johnson in three minutes, revealing his subject traits of character at the finish.

PICNIC

The annual Spring picnic of the Emerson Literary Society will be held Monday May 4th at 3:30 p.m. The food committee reports that adequate refreshments will be served to satisfy the hunger of Emersonians. Pay your dues to Bad Susan and make yourselves ready for the picnic. Sign up on the cork bulletin board.

INTRAMURAL OBSERVER
BY DONALD E. McCiORY

Today's Games
Three games, scheduled for this afternoon at 4:15 p.m., by Manager O. Thomas, will wind up the week's play. The schedule includes:
- Baldwin vs Bluffton: 4:15 p.m.
- Lima Beans vs Lemon Drops: 4:15 p.m.
- Independent Teams to Be Organized: 4:15 p.m.

An independent softball team is to be organized for the benefit of the many fellows who have not secured berths on any of the house teams. Those interested in signing up for this team should register at the Intramural bulletin board as soon as possible. At the present time there are 121 campus men signed up for participation in this sport.

New Archery Equipment Ready For Use
The Athletic Department has recently been supplied with new archery equipment which can be used by any student body. Archery may be promoted by the Intramural department in the form of a tournament if enough interest is manifest in this sport.
