The subject of domestic violence to be explored through dance/opera

Art is often an effective means to explore complex emotional issues which defy interpretation through mere words.

Such a method will be used to address the issue of domestic violence in a dance/opera conceived and written by renowned avant-garde composer Dr. Burton Beerman, music.

Jesus' Daughter will debut at 8 p.m. April 19 at Kobacker Hall of the Moore Musical Arts Center. The performance is free and open to the public.

In addition to Beerman, other members of the faculty and staff will be participating in the program and in a panel discussion on domestic violence to be held at 2:30 p.m. the same day in Kobacker Hall.

In Jesus' Daughter, Beerman uses the language of dance, music and video to speak about abuse and to look at the themes of denial, trust, betrayal and the perception of truth.

"What do we consider as truth, the dramatic protestations of the accused or the wounded plea of the womankind?" asks Beerman.

True to his background in advanced technology, the composer has created a performance that uses many electronic effects, a method he calls "intermedia." Beerman will play the electric clarinet during the program and has wired the instrument so that its music can generate computer images and electronic sounds.

Dancer Celesta Haraszi has choreographed and will perform the dance portion of the program. She will depict a victim and the abuser using various props such as masks and interaction with computer-generated images.

The other performers include University staff members Tina Bunce, music, who will sing and perform; and Dr. Steven Cornelius, music composition and history, who will provide percussion.

The entire effect will be strongly emotional.

"You can't look passively at the opera and leave — you will be drawn into it actively," Beerman said.

The title, Jesus' Daughter, is not literal — it is a metaphorical reference to a father figure who considers himself "godlike."

The first of five sets of the performance is titled "The Crucifixion," a metaphor for any horrifying event during which a person is rendered totally helpless.

Preparing for the upcoming performance of Jesus' Daughter are (from left) composer and musician Burton Beerman, vocalist Tina Bunce and percussionist Steven Cornelius.

The other sets, titled "Small Talk," "Silent Rage," "Illusions" and "Crucifixion Revisited," explore the victim's reactions to the dehumanizing event and follow her as she begins to heal.

Final candidates in presidential search were ranked high in evaluations

Both of the candidates selected by the Board of Trustees as finalists for the University presidency are well liked by the three campus constituent groups and were ranked high in evaluations.

Dr. Sidney Ribeau and Dr. Lee Jones also received "very strong endorsements from the Presidential Search Committee" said Judge C. Ellen Connally, chair of the search committee and president of the Board of Trustees.

The board selected Ribeau and Jones following a special meeting April 3.

The finalists were chosen from a field of six, all of whom were on campus in March for two days of interviews and meetings. Ribeau visited March 15-16. Jones was on campus March 27-28.

Both candidates were expected to return to campus last weekend for additional discussion with the trustees. Jones is the executive vice president and provost at the University of Nebraska and Ribeau is the vice president for academic affairs of California State Polytechnic University at Pomona.

The "qualifications" of the two and "their long-range plans for the University" are what made them stand out from the other four candidates, Connally said.

In a three-hour meeting March 30 the Presidential Search Committee shared with the board all of the feedback received from faculty, staff, students, the community and others regarding the six candidates. This feedback included more than 100 evaluation forms submitted by interested individuals on and off campus.

Evaluations were submitted by each of the campus constituent groups that had time alone with the candidates and information provided by members of groups who called colleagues at the universities where each candidate works, Connally said.

"I think they both have excellent qualities," said Pat Green, chair of Administrative Staff Council. "Each of the candidates listened to our concerns and were responsive to them." She added that Ribeau and Jones both seemed open to the shared governance concept and saw the need to develop a strategic plan for the University — two ideas which many members of Administrative Staff Council hope the president will endorse.

Dr. Dorothy Behling, chair of Faculty Senate, said that she has heard "very positive things" about the two finalists from her fellow senators.

Kathy Eninger, chair of Classified Staff Council, said CSC members came away from their meetings with Ribeau and Jones with positive comments. "I think Classified Staff Council could work well with both of them," she said.
Syndicated columnist Jack Anderson to speak at spring commencement

Syndicated columnist Jack Anderson will be the keynote speaker at the University's spring commencement ceremonies May 6.

Known for his skill in investigative journalism, Anderson was among the first to bring such stories as the savings and loan scandal and the Iran-Contra arms for hostages deal.

His column, "Merry Go Round," appears in more than 1,000 daily newspapers and is the most widely distributed in the world.

Anderson has also hosted his own daily radio program, "Jack Anderson: Watch over Washington," for six years.

The University's student newspaper published several syndicated television documentaries and was host of "Insiders With Jack Anderson" on the Financial News Network.

He is a regular contributor to "Good Morning America" and has written two books of fiction and non-fiction, including "Zero Time, Control, Storani, Norman, Confessions of a Muckraker and Alice Blandenland."

In addition to his writing, Anderson is active in two programs which he helped develop, the Young Astronaut Program and Citizens Against Government Waste.

Board of Trustees voice support of campus computerization efforts

At the annual Firelands College meeting on March 31 the Board of Trustees approved a motion voicing its support of efforts to increase computerization of the University.

The trustees requested the administration to "continue the discussions in this regard and to explore all other available avenues to accomplish this goal as soon as possible" but agreed that use of the University endowment for these efforts is "inappropriate," responding to a suggestion made by an ad-hoc task force regarding financing.

The cost of computerization, including the leasing of 3,350 microcomputers, has been estimated at $3.6 million per year. Running fiber optic cable to all campus buildings to increase the effectiveness of the new computers has been estimated to cost $2 million.

Trustee David Bryan called this a "very important issue" and recommended continued feedback on it from the University's constituent groups.

Judge C. Ellen Connally, president of the Board of Trustees, said she also agreed with the importance of computerization and has received a great deal of e-mail from people regarding it.

In other business, the board unanimously approved an amended contract for President Olscamp and gave him the titles "trustee professor," to be effective immediately and "president emeritus" effective upon his retirement.

Following his retirement June 30, Olscamp will receive a $25,000 consulting fee for one year in return for his agreement to be available "for certain special projects" after his contract as president expires. The fee was awarded "in light of President Olscamp's extensive experience with the University and his expertise regarding educational issues."

The contract also allows Olscamp to assume his position as a tenured full professor in the University's Social Philosophy and Policy Center at a salary of $91,118 of his current salary as president and permits him a one-year, leave of absence, to be paid at his current rate of salary, beginning July 1. If Olscamp moves within Bowling Green before June 30, the University has agreed to pay his moving costs. If he moves outside of Bowling Green by Sept. 1, 1999, the University has agreed to pay for moving costs up to $10,000.

Olscamp was on vacation and was not in attendance during the meeting.

The board also:

- Approved salary increases for Gary Blackey, head football coach and assistant athletic director, and his assistant coaches.
- Approved the appointment of Jennifer Washington, an employee of Delco Chassis Gm, to Firelands Advisory College Advisory Board.
- Approved a $25,000 allocation for a feasibility study of a redesign of the University bookstore.
- Approved a recommendation by Faculty Senate extending membership on college councils to administrative and classified staff, at the discretion of the council.

IN BRIEF

CSC nominations needed for committees

Classified Staff Council is asking for self-nominations from classified staff interested in serving on the University Parking Committee and on the Equal Opportunity Compliance Committee.

Both positions are three-year terms. Self-nominations should be sent to CSC, campus P.O. Box 91 by April 14.

CSC election ballots to be returned April 25

Ballots for the election of Classified Staff Council will be mailed out Thursday (April 13). They should be filled out and returned by April 25.

The following candidates have been nominated for seats on the council:

Academic affairs: Tamii Thomas, Faith Olson, Barb Garr, Janet Willem; Planning and budgeting — Dave McCoy; Auxiliary support services (food) — Jay Samelski, Fran Weiss; Auxiliary support services (non-food) — Theri Long; Operations/physical plant — Sharon B. Baggs, Kimberly Ault; David Matthews; Operations/management support services — Pat Kitchen, Stacie Schroeder, Dave Weekley.

Retirement seminars free to faculty and staff

Employees who are planning to retire within the next 10 years or those who like to plan even further ahead are encouraged to attend two free pre-retirement seminars April 18 and April 25.

Both sessions, organized by Jim Morris, benefits, will be from 4-6 p.m. in 113 Ooscamp Hall and will be transmitted live to Firelands.

The first session on April 18 will deal with financial planning for retirement and will cover such topics as sources of income after retirement, health insurance considerations and the effect of post-retirement employment on Social Security and/or PERS/STRS benefits.

The second session on April 25 will look at emotional and social aspects of retirement, including physical fitness, recreation and travel activities and group discussion.

To register for either or both sessions, call Marica Buckingham at 2-2558.

Personnel files updated; old items to be deleted

The official personnel file for administrative and classified staff is retained in Personnel Services.

File cabinet space is limited in this office and many of the files are bulky because of length of service.

On May 1 and as time permits, personnel records staff will begin to review the contents of each active employee's file and remove documentation according to the Records Retention Manual for Public Colleges and Universities in Ohio.

All documentation removed from the file will be mailed to the employee via campus mail in an envelope marked "confidential," and "to be opened by addressee only."

ASC nominations needed for officers

Administrative staff members are encouraged to make nominations for chair-elect and secretary for the 1995-96 year.

Nominees for officers are to be drawn from the membership of Administrative Staff Council. Those nominated to serve as chair-elect will be required to give a three-year commitment — as chair-elect, chair and then past chair.

Call any nominations to Barb Keeley at 2-7771 by April 14.

Funds for Speed Grants depleted for 1994-95

Norma Stolker, director of academic services, has announced that no funds remain for Speed Grants for the 1994-95 fiscal year.

New grants will be issued only for projects occurring after July 1.

Seminars will explain use of temporary service

Manpower Temporary Services is being used to fill all temporary vacancies at the University.

Toiform departmental/areas on utilization of this service, Personnel Services will hold a seminar from 1:30-3 p.m. April 20 in the Personnel/Career Development/Training Center. To register call Yolanda Patton at 2-8421.
Staff will be recognized for their many years of service to the University.

Approximately 290 employees who have worked at the University for five years or more are being honored. Employees with 15, 20, 25, 30 or more years of service will be recognized at the annual Staff Awards Banquet April 12 in the Lenhart Grand Ballroom of the University Union.

Faculty Senate hears request from students regarding increased computing capacity

Computerization of the campus has been a discussion item in many places at the University in recent weeks. Last week it headed the agenda of Faculty Senate. Senate members addressed the need for increased computerization of the University and running fiber optic cable to all campus buildings.

Senators who view the computerization of BGSU as a critical component to our education," read the document they presented to the Senate. "They are by no means just fancy typesetters. More and more, our instructors are expecting and requiring us to use computers on a daily basis. Unfortunately, many of us find ourselves waiting in lines to gain access to a computer. We believe this must be given the utmost priority."

The Computerization Task Force has prepared a box containing signatures and e-mail responses to a petition regarding computerization.

There was some discussion regarding the student proposal but Faculty Senate Chair Dr. Dorothy Behling asked that details of the提案 be tabled until the May meeting so the senate could have the time needed to conduct its election and other items on last week's agenda.

Dr. Eloise Clark, vice president for academic affairs, commented that the task force's proposal would dramatically enhance access to computer resources and staff and agreed that the concepts behind the proposal "are ones that the administration and faculty in cooperation with students regard as priority for the University." However, she noted, "the necessary resources for funding such a highly desirable Universi- ty need to be computed of the campus have not been identified."

In other business...

* Senate adopted new officers for 1995-96. Dr. Harold Lunde, management, was named vice-chair/chair-elect and Dr. Keith Bernhard, visual communications, was named secretary.

* Dr. Fiona MacKinnon Stanley, higher education and student affairs, the current vice-chair, will be Faculty Senate chair in 1995-96.

* Approved a resolution supporting a recommendation of the Ohio Faculty Council that the Governor appoint two faculty members to serve on each of the board of trustees of all Ohio's state-owned universities and that they be given full voting rights.

* Approved a framework for the tenure and promotion review process to be sent to the Council of Deans for possible implementation.

* Approved a change in the Academic Honesty Policy which would appeal to the president's office only when a procedural error has been committed.
