BOWLING GREEN STATE UNIVERSITY

AUGUST 21, 1995

Veteran University architect honored

The architect of numerous campus buildings, centenarian John (Jack) Raney is expected to attend a ceremony officially naming 111 Hayes Hall in his honor at 10 a.m. Wednesday (Aug. 23).

Raney, 105, a resident of Bowling Green, originally designed Hayes Hall in 1930. His mark also is found in the design and/or plans of Shatzel Hall, Memorial Hall, the Administration Building and the original Fine Arts Building, among other structures on campus and in the Bowling Green community, including the Clazzel Theatre and Ridge Street School.

A 1915 graduate of Ohio State University's School of Architecture, Raney joined the Bowling Green faculty in 1939 as a part-time instructor in engineering and drawing. The following year he became a full-time staff member and also directed the civilian pilot training program.

Members of the campus and Bowling Green communities are invited to join Raney, his family and friends and attend the dedication festivities.

Those planning to attend are asked to RSVP by contacting Kathy DeBouver no later than today (Aug. 21) at 2-2424.

Mel Torme is weekend headliner; many tickets are still available

Mel Torme, a jazz vocalist whose popularity spans several generations, will be the headliner for the annual Parents Weekend concert on Oct. 7.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in Anderson Arena. Opening for Torme will be The Real Deal barbershop quartet, which comprises current and former University students and which won the 1994 Collegiate Barbershop Quartet National Championship.

Torme began his entertainment career 65 years ago as a four-year-old singer with the Coon Sanders Orchestra on a weekly Chicago radio broadcast. But he hasn't slowed down. Earlier this year, he completed a 36-city national tour, performing to standing-room-only crowds at some of the largest concert venues in the country.

In 1994 he performed at both Carnegie Hall and the Hollywood Bowl for the 18th consecutive year; released a new album, "Mel Torme: A Tribute to Bing Crosby"; released his first video, "Mel Torme: Live from Ambassador," and published his fifth book, My Singing Teachers.

Torme has also appeared in movies, such as Higher and Higher with Frank Sinatra, and on countless television programs, most recently as a frequent guest star on the long-running sitcom "Night Court." As a writer, his books have included an autobiography titled It Wasn't All Velvet.

It is his voice, however, which has sold millions of records. He has twice won a Grammy Award, first in 1983 for the album "An Evening with George Shearing and Mel Torme" and the next year for the album "Top Drawer."

Members of The Real Deal are Gary Lewis, a graduate, and Eric Kauffman, Justin Oxley and Dave McCutcheon, all senior music students.

Collectively, they are The Real Deal, the best collegiate barbershop quartet in the country. They earned that honor last July in Pittsburgh by winning the America Collegiate Quartet Contest.

The four first sang together as members of the University's Men's Chorus. In March of 1994 they formed a quartet to compete in a regional barbershop competition; five months later they were crowned national champions.

The concert is being sponsored by the University's Office of Student Life. Tickets, priced at $8, $12 and $16, are now on sale. They can be purchased at the Student Activities Office, third floor of the University Union, or by mail. All seats are reserved.
