DEBATE TEAM MEETS N. Y. U. NEXT FRIDAY

Friday evening of this week, March 26, University of New York will debate our Green negative team; Dudley Avery and Richard Spitzer. This debate will be held at the Senior High School. Monday evening, March 29, at Shattuck Hall by his friends and former students. It is also the occasion for the celebration of Prof. Moseley's birthday. At this time a large picture of the professor will be presented. The painter is R. H. McKelvey of Cortez, Florida, and a former student of Prof. Moseley's. A large number of speakers will be present and a musical program is planned. This dinner was planned for last fall, but due to Prof. Moseley's absence on a trip South at the time, it could not be given.

Glee Club Dance Tops Off Term

The climax of a very successful term for the Glee Club was the concert and dance given in the Practical Arts auditorium followed by the dance in the same room. This is the first time the auditorium has ever been used for a dance. The beautiful room with its droll green and white color was laid out on the floor and in the balcony. At the intermission of the dance, Marjorie Satter favored the group with her piano playing. The large ensembles, Mr. and Mrs. Fanly, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Young, and Mr. and Mrs. Hersey, Miss Minnie Scott, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Young, and Mr. and Mrs. Steller, Miss Litchfield, and Mr. and Dr. Williams.

Y's To Hold Sunrise Service

The Y. M. and Y. W. extended a cordial invitation to the students, faculty and friends to an Easter Sunrise Service, Thursday morning at 7:00. The program will consist of soloists and group singing with the Bible reading and an Easter message. Come out for this inspiring meeting before leaving for your vacation. In the will!
Constructive Criticism...

There has always been a great deal of grumbling and growing around concerning this publication and its shortcomings. But with the passage of time this dissatisfaction has become more concrete in the form of specific, constructive criticism. For this improved reaction, the STAFF is truly grateful.

We want you, fellow-students, to know that we realize our limitations, our journalistic inexperience, and our many failures to comply with good suggestions. On the other hand, we wish you to know also that we are conscientiously trying to improve and that we would appreciate your giving us the benefit of the doubt occasionally. Any suggestions or criticisms you have are cordially welcome; please be fair enough to realize that you should not censure us without a full understanding of our limitations.

Moreover, we would be glad to have any of you who are sincerely interested join us in our attempt to create a better paper. Perhaps you can teach us something, and perhaps you will be able to learn much. In any event, anyone is welcome to see how we operate. We meet next Tuesday night at 8:00 P.M., thereafter at 8:00 P.M. Monday night.

The Real "Suckers"...

P. T. Barnum's "There's a sucker born every minute," and Abe Martin's appendix to that remark, "and most of 'em live"...

The result of our observations upon this and other campuses is that we visited in Lima, if you will exchange places of residence with me, I am certainly glad we saw the blue hole; I live near here enough I could have told you. Did you notice when Ring missed the high note everybody looked up to the ceiling? "That driver, Avery, is a swell guy isn't he?"

Take care of your voices, we have three more concerts yet this season. "Is that Edison's home? Where he born here?" (Milan) "Long before you by the short-cut." (And such roads) Businger and Pfister missed the bus but they caught us by hiring two taxis. "Geil! that collegiate loyalty for Williams Hall girls to send us a telegram." We also appreciate the telegram from Treble Clef Club. Thanks.

Sandburg

(Coined from page 1, col. 3) The last part of his program was the reading of many passages as illustrations for his talk. These came from his book called The People, Yes; and they contained good morals and helpful truths.

In the third and concluding part, Mr. Sandburg sang several ballads and played the accompaniment on his guitar in a most pleasing manner. The songs he chose were from his collection of American ballads called The American Songbag. His final numbers were typical cowboy and negro songs of the United States.

"I'm sure the mental picture of Mr. Sandburg with his snowy white hair and keen, piercing com- mance, and the interesting morning spent with him, will never be forgotten by our English class."

CONTEST NOTICE

There is to be a Commercial contest at Bowling Green Uni- versity on May 8 of winners of the sectional of the surrounding country. The sectional contest will be held on April 15, at twenty-two different high schools. This will be the largest number represented yet. This is also the fourteenth contest of this type to be held here. The contest will be in shorthand, typing and book-keeping.

IN THE MAIL

A lot has been said about school spirit in your paper. But how can one show this all-important characteristic if one's school doesn't show pupil-spirit? To make myself clear, there is the matter of dancing. We are taught to folk dance, tap dance, and execute the modern dance. We go entirely unnoticed on the social dance floor. The one and probably only one box will be met at a later time.

Witness the stumbling around on the dance floor and the huge number of girls in the houses. If education is preparation for life, then teach us to dance as life demands it.

K. P. MEETS

The last meeting of the Kindergarten-Primary Club was held in the A.D. building March 16. The program committee planned an interesting program in recognition of the centennial anniversary of kindergartens, which were originated in Germany by Friedrich Froebel in 1837. Miss Ruth Oberholtzer, a K-P member, spoke on the subject, "Froebel and the First Kindergartens in the United States." This brought the discussion up to modern times in the kindergarten field. Miss Leashon Treir led the group in the singing of nursery rhymes and children's songs which the club members enjoyed immensly.

The Club has this year joined the national organization of Kindergarten-Primary. Miss Carolyn Schröerluke gave an explanation of the meaning and importance of this organization in the progress of the kindergarten.

The meeting was educational as well as interesting, instructing the members as to the development of the Kindergarten in general, but also enlightening them as to the progress of their own organization, the Kindergarten-Primary Club.

Mrs. Sheats, matron at Williams Hall, is spending Easter vacation with her son in Washington, D.C.

W. A. Hall is planning to spend Easter vacation in residence, working in the biology laboratory at Ohio State University.

Dr. Williamson is spending Easter vacation at her home town, Cedarville, Ohio.

The annual meeting of the Ohio College Association will be held in Columbus on April 11. Miss Williams and several members of the faculty plan to attend.

Dr. C. G. Swanson has been loaned this year to the State Department of Education to assist in the inspection of high schools. He will return to Bowling Green State University this summer.

Prof. Reese and wife are spending Easter vacation in Albuquerque, visiting his mother-in-law.

Dr. Waldo E. Steidtmann plans to visit Ann Arbor, Mich., this week-end. While there, he and Miss Williams attended the Michigan Academy of Science meeting.

Miss Oskey, who was vise president of this organization several years ago, is planning to go along.

Dr. Steidtmann gave an illustrated lecture before the club the evening of March 16, at a neighboring town by the name of Bicycle Tires . . . Parts Accessories

DELHIS

The fourth six-weeks' period is now a matter of history and upon checking the results of the Delhi members' grades we find that our fraternity is doing alright. We do not strive for the highest grades and yet we have several boys with averages that are well above the three point mark, but the fraternity's average is approximately a 2.5—which is very satisfactory when you consider that this includes grades of a large number of men in all colleges of our university.

The Delhi's do not claim to be the best students on the campus, we do not claim to be the best athletes, nor the best debaters, and so on, but we do strive to attain a desirable medium that promotes mutual interest in the campus activities. We do pride ourselves on our social activities, however, and our formal dinner-dance to be held in the executive of the Delhi Hall last Saturday night is always the outstanding event of the year.

News letters have been sent out to our Delhi alumni and we are planning on a large gathering of old members as well as a 100 per cent attendance of the actives at Headethedows.

WILLIAM S DINOH
Save your Easter basket dollars for this year's special. Thirteen teen girls were feted and they were surprised to find their names written on their ice cream!

Meet the Williams Hall Kit- ten Club, Inc. First, there is Mrs. Jacobs, "Airy," an efficient motherly person who produces all these pies and cakes. Then there is quiet, cheerful Mrs. Kuhn or "Anne," a good natured dependable "Pax" or Mrs. Hall, and last but not least—"Garovett" really Mrs. Sheppard—a good worker with an unusual sense of humor—a favorite here.

They're a grand staff and try hard to satisfy all the girls, so let's remember that they like to know when you especially enjoy something they make. After all, don't we all?

Aileen Badger came back to campus decorations of green and large clusters of balloons were ed under a white lattice. Three sides of the walls were draped with flowers around the edge in the center and a sunburst ef fect both scholastically and socially.

Grades certainly have been controlling facial expressions this week. Each class we notice smiles and frowns indicative (as a thermometer) of the rise and fall of grades. Then there was the lady who needed 5 We felt exempted. She hopes to get them all in the upper grade now. The new location of the Ideal Beauty Shop.

SIX SISTERS

Have you seen the new sign! It was just hung last week—we certainly think it is a d'ar.

Congratulations to the W. A. for a grand carnival and white. At the entrance to the dance floor, the dancers passed under a white lattice. Three large clusters of balloons were suspended from the center of the ceiling. From here to the sides of the walls were draped crepe-paper streamers of green and white forming a canopy over the room. The orchestra was enclosed in a lattice work with flowers around the edges and green grass at the base. Multi-colored spot lights shone down on the lovely setting. The programs were of black lacquered paper with a golden C in the center and a sunburst of shaded gold extended from the center. The beautiful favors to their guests of bronze book end were duplicates of the design on the program, the base was formed of a bronze log. Wayne Williams and his orchestra played for the occasion. Approximately 18 couples and the charpers were present. The winners were Dr. and Mrs. Zaugg, Mr. and Mrs. Singer, Mr. Kennedy and guest, Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Miss Lifchfeld and guest, and Mr. and Mrs. Williams Dunpace.

“Why not Mental Health?” says the Rio Grande Cardinal. Ten rules for mental health which are the result of the life-time experience of a physician are as follows:

1. Have a hobby
2. Develop a Philosophy
3. Shut out the same old routine
4. Face your fears
5. Balance Fantasy with Fact
6. Enjoy doing the same thing over and over
7. Exercise
8. Love but love wisely
9. Don’t become engulfed in a whirlpool of worries
10. Trust in God.

When the millenium copy of Margaret Mitchell’s “Gone With the Wind” rolled from the presses last month, a new and sensational record was established in American book publishing.

Toledo U. students prefer spinach above all other vegetables. Facts from the cafeteria say. The most popular sandwich there was a definite favorite college administrator. The instructor’s influence has been evident in the last few weeks with what the student and the instructor—now in the next few weeks—will be evident in the next few weeks.

—The Campus Collegian.

Judging by the following poem written by a chapel-goer at Baldwin Wallace College in Ohio, interested attitude toward chapel programs exists there as is prevalent on this campus.

“I wish I had an apple
To eat when I go to chapel
If only I had an apple
Tra-la, Tra-la, Tra-la
I wish I had an apple
To eat when I go to chapel
If only I had an apple

At a recent meeting of the Inter-collegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic states there was a decided reaction against attempts to censor the college press. The censorship was unanimous.

“...the changing concept of God and religion,” Dr. Walter J. Borden, secretary of the National Association of Deans of Women, said in his address before the Five Sisters association of the Middle Atlantic states. There was a definite interference to its editorial policy of providing an extra dormitory made for Health’s Sake
