NEARLY 50 GRADUATES HAVE JOBS

Tickets Available

Each senior and graduating sophomore will receive two reserved tickets for both the Baccalaureate and Commencement. Tickets will be distributed some time during the week of May 24 and will be handed out at the door. There will be bleacher seats for those not possessing tickets.

GRADUATES!

Ticket Information

The honorary society of Book and Motor met for its annual Spring banquet Saturday evening, May 26th, at the Woman's Club. After a three-course dinner, Miss Ruth Flaker, the president, introduced the five newly-elected members—Dorothy Robertson, Edna Siewart, Margaret Billings, Harald Frum, and Professor J. D. Crowley—and presented them with their membership certificates.

Miss Flaker then introduced Mrs. Anna C. Conn who closed the evening with a review of Coughman's "You Can't Take It With You." Between acts, Miss Dorothy Robertson and Miss Max Brillhart sang groups of selections, the program was ended with Prof. R. T. Munchii's leading the group in singing the College Hymn.

Freshwomen Sing For P.T.A. Group

At Ridge Street

A special project of Ana- nielle Short, senior in the Music Department, was the training of a group of Freshmen girls interested in music. They presented two numbers, "A House on the Dragon's Back," and "Amazilis," by Louis XVI, at the annual meeting of all the city P.T.A. groups, which met together at Ridge Street School on Wednesday evening, May 26.

The girls who sang in the chorus were: D'Nelle Mason, Virginia Frances, Marie Fritchen, Frances Story, Esther Katterheinrik, Grace Stahl, and Mildred Hall.

Attention of all NYA students is requested to the following announcement: NYA work will end June 4, and supervisors will be expected to turn in time slips on Saturday morning, June 6. Students are urged to report on time on Friday, June 4. The officials are extending the working time of the students to the latest possible date. This makes it impossible to get checks back from Columbus before students leave for their homes. A box properly labeled will be placed on the lid front of the business office.

All NYA student must leave your self-addressed stamped envelope for the forwardance of checks. If this is not done, the office cannot guarantee prompt delivery of checks.

Y.M. BOOK STORE

OPEN TODAY, TOMORROW

The Y. M. C. A. book store will be open to take in books on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of examination week from 2 to 5 p.m. This is being done as a service to those who will not be here for the summer session. Only books being used during the summer session will be taken in. The policy will be that if the books are sold the money will be mailed to you. However, if the books are not sold it will not be mailed. An attempt will be made to keep the books until next fall but the "Y" absolves itself of all responsibility in case they are lost or stolen from the book store. The policy for people who are in school this summer will be the same as always.

Dance Completes Memorial Day influenced the decorations making them red, white, and blue. Little American flags were presented at the door in keeping with the scheme.

Despite the more than usual week-end trek home of students, the dimly lit hall was well filled but with just enough space left between couples for a good slide now and then. (The floor was smooth.)

Besides President Williams, the other professors present were Mr. Church, Dr. and Mrs. Mayfield, and Mr. Kennedy.

M.I.T. High Speed Films Shown Friday

Last Friday at the general session there were shown two reels of specially photographed high speed motion pictures taken in the Laboratory of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. These show, among other things, the bursting of a soap bubble, the formation of drops of water, the motion of a mosquito, the flight of a homing pigeon, the wing flutter of a humming bird.

I cannot write an editorial now. What can I say at this late date which would be of any help to those who will never return, or who are going out to join some further battle? What can I advise to those who are still another straggling atom in a wilderness of whirling particles.

Thus dies the editorial year. All year has been used to advise, inform, berate, heckle, salve, stir, and amuse students, faculty, administrators, administration, and the talking of the typewriter. He has been there all year, but I never saw him before. He has been tremendously abused at the barracks of words which rattle uselessly on the plates. "No!" I say to him, they're all wrong. He is all wrong...and I throw a bottle of ink at him. He is all wrong. The national PWA means a big step forward in bettering our educational facilities and will help give our school an even higher standing. True, because of this, Chapels were less frequent, but additional entertainment was afforded by the birds in the sky.

"Chuck" Taylor, recognized authority on basketball, gave his final talk of the year last fall in the Gym at a basketball exhibition to which attendance was limited to about 1200 coaches and students.

While the nation was preparing to vote on a President, the University voted on the Local Option Liquor question which would have given the town such an upsurge in population. In case you don't remember, students voted DRY, 505-32.

Meanwhile, throughout the first semester, a long debate was waged through the News Review. There were enough seats in the auditorium to enable everyone to obtain his quota; the debate was finally proved sufficient.

A gala Homecoming was held tonight with President Alonzo D. Harper, Jr., with Daug as homecoming chairman. Every college in this state was represented, and works towards greater celebration fitting its alumni each fall. In case you don't remember, students voted DRY, 505-32.

The same week, the Trustees approved the Building Projects which had been in progress since the last fall. In case you don't remember, the national PWA means a big step forward in bettering our educational facilities and will help give our school an even higher standing. True, because of this, Chapels were less frequent, but additional entertainment was afforded by the birds in the sky.
DELHI

Monday night in place of the way the House at the House we held a party; in automobile this dinner is as the activity held a party for the the entertainment. Of course, we did all of the entertaining by ourselves as it was a pre-planned "stag" party.

The cats—hats, dogs, horses, various assortments and selections—aided tremendously in making the "fling" a success. The fellows really did a splendid job of participating and there were quite a few Delhis who can "take it".

Allen Bishop, our president for the past year, was at last a position in the school system at Cridenbrone, O. We are more than glad for you, Al—it helps us with a special program next Thursday.

Miss Neva West gave a Spring Festival Friday, May 6, based on the story of "The Sleeping Princess." Mothers of the pupils were invited. This festival ended with a May Pole Dance.

Professor—Gentlemen, I am submitting you ten minutes early today. Please get out early so as not to waste the other classes.

Professor D. J. Crowley has made an announcement to the effect that the 1937 Key will be out the week before graduation.

Another week gone! How the Bee is flying!—Only four more weeks of school, but we dislike the thought of not seeing each other so often. Perhaps we can keep the post office busy this summer, Nineteen of our girls graduating next six months. The graduants were presented with little loots as favors and were written in the members of the alumnae chapter upon their graduation.

Another alumnae note, we have word that Mary Ellen Keil will be back to graduate (officially) with her class in June. She has been working on an M. A. in history at State.

Last week several of our members, Catherine Beck, elected vice president of the Inter-sorority Council. Congratulations, Katie!

By the way—why does Rita Snyder need glasses so she can get to meetings on time? How about it, Rita?

SEVENS

We do not have much news this week of any of our formal dances which was given this week end. We all certainly did have a grand time. Ask any Seven and they'll tell you the results of the evening. For further details see page one.

Did you know we have a Seven Sister orchestra? We certainly do! Last week several of the girls celebrated and others helped them celebrate because their practice teaching was near an end. The members are as follows: Uke, V. L.; Combs, R. G.; and Dinsmore, L. C.

The sorority wishes to extend a special program next Thursday.

There is to be a W. A. M. meeting Wednesday, May 12, in the form of a picnic at the Ursell apartment.

Co-ed: Why didn't you find out who he was when the professor called the roll?

Another Co-ed: I did try to but he answered to four different names.

WILLIAMS HALL

Minnie Roode and Kathleen Lowery spent their spare moments in exciting games of Parcheesi. If you notice Marie Medearis, red face—and don't accuse her of blushing—it's just fun. But, if you really want to see someone blush—ah, Madge Kline what her mental ability is.

Guess we'll sign off now and enjoy a stroll in our lovely rear garden. If you haven't seen it lately—you'd love it! The flowers are beautiful.

COMMENORS

Just a few lines from a letter:

Dear Commomers:

We are happy to accept your invitation to this spring's most complete event. We will be there at 6:30 to enjoy your food, games, odities and dance. Until this Friday evening we live in constant anticipation.

Last Wednesday, May 5, the frosh track team held a track meet next to the men’s gym. The Big Brother Poets, under the direction of F. W. Fichter, is doing right well by the way. Intramural softball and baseball are holding forth with lots of enthusiasm to their credit. Intramural enthusiasts are forced to find other courts than those behind the gym to play on, due to the building of the stadium. It would be nice if we had a new scoreboard to take the place of the old wooden one on the football field. John Parks must have a lot of endurance to run the mile, half mile and the two mile run and place in them all; incidentally the track team making a fine showing this spring. Engineering and a curator were seen on the field next to the men’s gym yesterday, could it be that it is considered time for a new building? The University Football Coaching school is attracting a lot of attention and is far from closed. A fine enrollment is expected.

K-F CLUB

The annual Spring Banquet of the Kindergarten-Primary Club will be held on May 15 in the Woman’s Club. The committee in charge consists of Lillian Laye, Martha Withrow, Roberta Bode, and Madelyn Bitzel. Guests from the Kindergarten-primary clubs from Kent and Oberlin will be present to tell about their activities. President Williams will give the welcome on behalf of the faculty. Miss Betty Geis, incoming president, will welcome the guests on behalf of the student body. Miss Devets will play her violin and there will be informal singing led by Alice Irwin and Lemonie Trues. Miss Margaret Billings, outgoing president, will act as toastmistress. Individual potluck dishes will add to usual spring atmosphere.

A large group is expected and the Freshman girls, who are planning all of things, will enjoy coming a never-to-be forgotten memory.

THE NEW CONCRETE STADIUM is rapidly taking form. One section has been poured and the forms for the second section have been set up and part of it has been poured. It should be completed by the week. The remaining sections should be completed by July 1st.

It is unique to watch the crew of men working on the stadium. The forms are easily torn down and set up as they move up to a new section. The construction used to keep cement for paving on rudders and can be moved along.

The stadium being built to seat 3,000 people, is being erected by the Baker-Schindler Co. of Defiance. It is to be modern in all details. A modern press box will be installed. Rest rooms for both men and women will be underneath, and also rooms for storage of equipment.

The critic teachers of Ridge School and Miss Adeline Hallock, Public Librarian, went to see the Peach Orchard at the Garishipond Wednesday morning, May 5. The occasion for the visit was in honor of Miss Hallock whose efficient and helpful service is appreciated by those who use the library.

In the new concrete stadium all conveniences, the athletic department is attempting to have the Ohio Conference track meet held here next spring.

Last week opened the spring intermission for softball and baseball with several teams all pep-up to go. The Five Bows, led by Coach Blythe, and the Delhi, and Swatters both won, while the Dining Room Diners and the Gosapotgics have both won one game and lost one game, and at the bottom are the Commodores and the Red Tails both having lost both their games. Any spectator with a whiff for soft ball will have an exciting time each Tuesday and Thursday at 4:15 watching these boys play.

Do you know who holds the B. G. U. record for the shot-put? Do you know who holds the B. G. U. record for the high jump? If you have the idea that all our track team holds all records you are mistaken. Mrs. Beatrice Hunter Cahill of Boston University’s department of student counseling is that less than 20 per cent of the students are fully aware of the program of Emta taught in a speech course at the University. If you have the idea that all our track team holds all records you are mistaken. Mrs. Beatrice Hunter Cahill of Boston University’s department of student counseling is doing this in their extra-curricular activities.

A recent University of Florida survey shows that dormitory students maintain the highest scholastic average of any other school group. The catch is that less than 20 per cent of the university’s enrollment of 3,000 is housed in the dormitories.

What is your P. Q.? It should be higher than your I. Q. P. Q. 8,000 is housed in the dormitory department of student counselors. According to Mrs. Beatrice Hunter Cahill of Boston University’s department of student counseling, is doing this in their extra-curricular activities.
